City, school board seats up for spring election

Jan. 22 filing deadline approaches, but so far no filings in county

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

Anyone interested in running for public office in the local area will have until noon Tuesday, Jan. 22, to file for election on the Garnett city commission or local school boards.

One seat on the city commission and various seats in each of the local school boards will be up for election in the spring. The general election will be April 2; if a primary is needed, the primary election will be Feb. 26. A primary will only be needed if more than four people file for a school board seat.

City Elections

In the City of Garnett, the position held by Mayor Greg Gwin will be up for election. Gwin has served the position since 2007. City commissioners receive $450 per month, the sitting mayor receives $500 monthly.

It remains to be seen if high interest in a recently vacated commission post will translate to high interest in the seat up for election. Seven people submitted applications to be appointed to an open city seat when commissioner Dan Morgan moved to Texas; Gordon Blackie was picked by the two remaining commissioners and took office Dec. 26.

So far, no one has filed for Gwin's seat, city clerk Kristie Kinney said. However it's typical for potential candidates to wait until closer to the deadline to file. There is a $5 filing fee, and anyone who is interested in filing must be 18 years of age, a city resident, and file by the deadline at City Hall, Currently, three people serve on the city commission in Garnett. Commissioner Preston Peine last year asked city staff and his fellow commissioners to consider expanding the commission from three to five, but his request was met with mixed enthusiasm and the matter has not been discussed for several months.

In addition to the race in Garnett, all third class cities in the county will elect a mayor and five council members. That includes Colony, Greeley, Kincaid and Westphalia.

School Board Races

Three school board seats each are up for grabs in USD 365, Garnett, and USD 288, Central Heights. Four seats, one of them a vacancy, are up for election in USD 479, Crest.

In USD 365, seats held by Pat Rockers (Position 4), Mike

Snow Day

Melanie Smith takes a ride with her son, Aksel Smith, while sledding with family members just off the Prairie Spirit Trail path to Garnett Elementary School on New Year's Day, Tuesday, Jan. 1. Although the area received just an inch or so of snow, it was enough to satisfy sledding needs.

Meyer remembered for fun, compassion

Longtime cheerleading sponsor, volunteer dies at the age of 91

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — For the cheerleaders especially, Mabel Meyer was like a second mom.

"She took care of us," Diane Doran, who was a cheerleader at Garnett High School until she graduated in 1962, recalled of Meyer. "She was a lot of fun and a good example. She was just that way with everybody." Meyer, wife of longtime Garnett High School coach Ray Meyer, died Dec. 29, 2012, at the age of 91. Funeral services were Saturday in Garnett.

Meyer is remembered by many as a strong community supporter who, along with her husband, were guiding forces to many youth who attended school in Garnett. Ray Meyer taught physical education and coached in Garnett from 1949 to 1983, and a gymnasium at the site of the former high school is named after him. And while her husband taught and coached, Mabel Meyer was there working with teachers and cheerleaders. She was a longtime cheerleading sponsor.

USD 365 already has next year's Christmas present for kids - more days off

Wednesday holidays mean longer winter break, schools find

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — Students who attend USD 365 schools will get a special Christmas present next year — six more days off school.

School board members in USD 365 already have approved a calendar for next year, and it includes an extended winter break — 17 days in a row without school, compared to 11 days this year. Two Wednesday holidays — Christmas and New Year's — made a big difference in determining how the calendar will play out.

Students and staff must attend school a specific number of hours in order to qualify for state funding. For the 2013-2014 school year, there are 187 school days for contracted staff members such as teachers, although that number could change

District offices, speed zone changes likely ahead for gym

School speed zone to be removed on Oak,
but kept on Walnut

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — Although an official decision has not yet been made, USD 365 is inching closer to moving its district offices to the Ray Meyer Gymnasium.

Board of education members heard a report from Superintendent Don Blome Thursday, Jan. 4, about possible improvement projects this summer. Although all the projects depend on having enough money available to pay for them, they included such things as driveway repairs and a new heating and cooling system at Anderson County Jr./Sr. High School. Blome also mentioned the possible cost of renovating three classrooms at the Ray Meyer Gym for conversion to district offices.

Such remodeling costs would be minimal, Blome said. It's likely the district would need only paint to complete the move, but it's possible they would need to add a sheetrock wall in one area, Blome said. The district presently pays $350 per month for its office rent at the location in the former Garnett Church Furnishings building, now owned by East Kansas Agri Energy.

In addition to the changes required to convert the rooms to district offices, school and city officials also discussed possible changes to the speed limit around the Ray Meyer Gym.

The gym previously was part of the former Garnett High School/Garnett Elementary School, but most of the building was demolished last summer after classes moved to the newly constructed Garnett Elementary School. The gymnasium and a handful of buildings behind the school, including a maintenance building and an alternative school, still remain.

Because it was a school, roads surrounding the building were part of a 20-mph school zone speed limit. City Manager Joyce Martin said she talked with Blome, who recommended the city no longer require a 20-mph zone on Oak Street to the east of the site. But Blome recommended the city maintain the 20-mph zone on Walnut Street, which runs between the gym and the additional buildings because at least one building — the alternative school — still regularly is used for students. The district has discussed moving the alternative school to the site of the former Irving Primary Center, but officials are pursuing options to bring a vocational program to the district and could use some of the facilities near the Ray Meyer Gym. If that happens, a school speed zone still will be needed on Walnut Street.

ANDERSON COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS DECEMBER 17

Chairman Dudley R. Feuerborn called the meeting of the Anderson County Board of Commissioners to order at 9:00 a.m. on December 17 at the County Commission Room. Attendance: Dudley R. Feuerborn, Present; Eugene Highberger, Present; James K. Johnson, Present. The pledge of allegiance was recited. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Road and Bridge

Lester Welsh, Road Supervisor, met with the commission. Lester gave the commission information that Dan Harden has sent concerning striping roads. It will cost about $1,000 per mile to paint markings on the road. The road would have to be repainted every three years when a new coat of chip seal is laid. Commission approved offering the Kincaid/Selma United Methodist Church free dumping at the landfill for construction/demolition while they remodel a house for a parsonage. Discussion was held on the landfill supervisor position. One application was received by a county employee. Commission would like to advertise locally and statewide before making a final decision.

Year End Transfers

Commissioner Johnson moved to approve Resolution 2012,1217:1, Resolution 2012,1217:2, Resolution 2012,1217:3, Resolution 2012,1217:4, and Resolution 2012,1217:5, authorizing year end transfers to the Special Highway Improvement, Special Machinery, Equipment Reserve, Rural Fire Improvement, and Multi-Year Improvement Funds. Commissioner Highberger seconded. Approved 3-0.

Jail

Head Jailer Bob Wedel and Keith Finney, Jailer, met with the commission. Bob reported on the shortage of the jail budget due to the medical bills of a prisoner. Rodney Burns, Auditor, was present and he informed the commission that since the jail is in the general fund there is no need to do a budget amendment as long as the total general fund has enough to cover it. Bob also reported that they are still having electrical problems at the jail. Lighthouse Electric has prepared a report showing what needs to be done to correct problems that were not addressed when the jail was built. They are having problems with the foundation of the building and the floors cracking. Bob informed the commission that his last day at work will be the 21st. Keith Finney has accepted the position of Head Jailer.

Fence

Dan and Loretta Coltrane met with the commission. They want to put a fence in on their property line. However, their neighbor is opposed to the fence. There used to be a fence there and a previous neighbor removed it but left the corner posts.

Emergency Management

Marvin Grimes, Emergency Management Director, met with the commission. Commissioner Highberger moved to approve the list Local Emergency Planning Committee Members for 2013. Commissioner Johnson seconded. Approved 3-0.

Lake Region

Commissioner Johnson moved to approve Resolution 2012,1217:6 authorizing the Lake Region Solid Waste Management Plan. Commissioner Highberger seconded. Approved 3-0.

Department Head Meeting

Marvin Grimes, Emergency Management, had nothing to report. Sheriff Elect Vern Valentine was present and reported he had attended the New Sheriff's Academy and has learned a lot of things that will assist him when he takes over. Sandy Baugher, Register of Deeds, questioned what the county was going to do about severed minerals. She has received an e-mail stating that everyone should be taxing severed minerals. The county passed a resolution in 2003 abolishing the taxing of severed minerals if they were not being produced. James Campbell, County Counselor was present. He will check on it. Dena McDaniel, Treasurer, questioned if the courthouse could close to the public at 11:00 on the 31st to close out the offices for the year. Commission approved.

Fence

Vicki Smart met with the commission. She is concerned about the fence her neighbor wants to put in as she has grandchildren and doesn't want to see them get hurt.

Executive Session

Commissioner Johnson moved to recess into executive session for 5 minutes to discuss attorney client privilege with James Campbell, County Counselor, in attendance. Open meeting to resume at 12:05. Commissioner Highberger seconded. Approved 3-0. No action after executive session.

MEYER

February 22, 1920-December 29, 2012

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW
Published January 8, 2012

Mabel D. Meyer was called home by our Lord December 29, 2012. She was a lifelong active Christian serving through the Lutheran faith.

Meyer

Mabel was born February 22, 1920 near Palmer, Kansas, to William and Lucy (Keller) Meyer. She lived near Olpe, Ks through her school years and attended Brown-Mackie Business College, Salina, Kansas.

She married Raymond Meyer January 11, 1941 in Hiawatha, Kansas. Mabel delighted in every aspect of her children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren. She was a member of Faith Lutheran Church Ottawa, Ks from 1949-84; a charter member of Trinity Lutheran Church, Garnett, Kansas; past church council treasurer; Sunday school teacher; hospice volunteer; conservator for mental health patients; and, furnished cheerleader transportation for over 20 years. Mabel loved working with the public as deputy Anderson County treasurer, and bookkeeper for Warner Manufacturing Co. and Richmond Co-op.

She was a lifelong, rabid fan of almost all sports. Mabel played softball and was an accomplished bowler. She and Ray bowled in week-end tournaments and she participated in 24 consecutive national tournaments. Her hobbies included crossword puzzles, card games from Bridge to Rook, crocheting, hand quilting, baking Christmas cookies by the hundreds of dozens and, most of all - fishing. She and Ray were inseparable teammates, taking day trips to Arkansas's White River well into their eighties.

Mabel was preceded in death by siblings Paul Meyer, Frieda Hinrichs, Dorothy Schade, and Arleen Wallace.

She is survived by her husband of 70 years, Raymond Meyer, of the home; sons, Raymond Jr. (Judy), Ottawa, Kansas. And Duane (Janis), San Antonio, Texas; grandchildren: Ryan (Santee) Meyer, Derek (Chandria) Meyer, Megan (Tom) Hixson, and Jenni Meyer; great grandchildren: Sydney, Abigail, Caleb, Lily, Connor, Chloe, Joshua, Mikayla, Paige, and Annalynne; and sister, Berniece Merkel, Cocoa Beach, Fla.

slightly depending on negotiations between the district and teachers.

But it's the Christmas and New Year's holidays that will make the most difference in determining the calendar for next year. Since the holidays each fall on a Wednesday, that makes it difficult to schedule school days in the same week, Superintendent Don Blome told board members. Because of that, winter break for students will begin at the end of the school day Thursday, Dec. 19, and classes won't resume until Monday, Jan. 6, 2014. Teachers will have in-service days Friday, Dec. 20, and Friday, Jan. 3.

That translates to 17 days in a row without school (including weekends) for local students, compared to 11 days for the 2012-2013 school year when Christmas and New Year's fell on a Tuesday.

It also means students will have to start school a little earlier in the year to compensate for the extra time, and still allow school to end before the Memorial Day weekend holiday.

The first day of school will be Thursday, Aug. 15, just two days earlier than 2012. The last day of school is expected to be Thursday, May 22, 2014. Spring break will be from March 17-21.

This year, the last day of school is expected to be Wednesday, May 22, 2013. So far, the district has used just one snow day and will not need to extend the school year. The district has about three or four days worth of extra hours built-in to the calendar to avoid having to add "make up" days to the end of the school year.

TRIBUTE...

Mabel Meyer was cheerleading sponsor during the years Doran attended high school. Doran remembers having a lot of fun with Meyer at the helm, but it was Meyer's compassion during difficult times that stands out the most. On the way to a game at Yates Center, Meyer's car full of cheerleaders came upon a wreck. Meyer recognized the car as belonging to the parents of a player; yet she handled the situation and sought help without upsetting the girls in her car.

"She handled it well. She could just handle about anything," Doran said.

Survivors include five sons, Ron D. Carriger of Greeley; Jimmie C. Carriger of Denver, Colo.; Don R. Carriger of Osawatomie; Thom L. Carriger of Canon City, Colo.; Arthur P. Carriger of Canon City, Colo.; one daughter, Lillie Marie White of Corpus Christi, Texas; 14 grandchildren; 26 great grandchildren; and 14 great great grandchildren.

Funeral services were Thursday, January 3, 2013, at the Feuerborn Family Funeral Service Chapel in Garnett.

Melanie was preceded in death by her parents, George and Sandra Hawkes.

Survivors include her husband, James Waddell, of the home; brother, Shawn Cox of Wausau, Wis.; numerous in-laws and other relatives; numerous nieces and nephews; a great niece and nephew; and foster daughter, Crissy Houk, and her three children of Ft Scott.

Memorial services will be held at a later date.

Even as Ray and Mabel Meyer aged, they continued to stay active in the community. When a group formed to support converting an old railroad line to the recreational Prairie Spirit Trail, Mabel Meyer stepped up by baking 30 dozen cookies for an event to support the trail.

When the Ray Meyer Gymnasium was dedicated in 2011, the city proclaimed "Ray and Mabel Meyer Day" in their honor.

Ray and Mabel Meyer were married Jan. 11, 1941, and moved to Garnett in 1949. Ray Meyer survives.

A full obituary for Mabel Meyer is printed on this page.

Stop disconnect in local business

More business closings point out problems, beckon for answers

The recently announced closings of two additional downtown businesses in Garnett point to a certain disconnect between some local businesses and their customers amid the noticeably growing number of empty downtown storefronts as the Great Recession continues.

EDITORIAL

by Dane Hicks,
PUBLISHER

The 'disconnect' is apparent in poor communication by some local businesses, in the changing markets and technology that are morphing our communities and in passions that overspent reality. Garnett's Star Video, for example, fell heir to the curse of burgeoning online and satellite movie rental over recent years, and also more recently to the drop in downtown traffic occurring since USD 365 built the new Garnett Elementary School north of town on U.S. Highway 59. That move, while supported by school board members for numerous other reasons, closed two in-town schools and drew several hundred parents' cars and childrens' footpaths a day out of downtown during the school year. Reducing traffic in downtown areas, no matter the justification, is never healthy for retail businesses residing there.

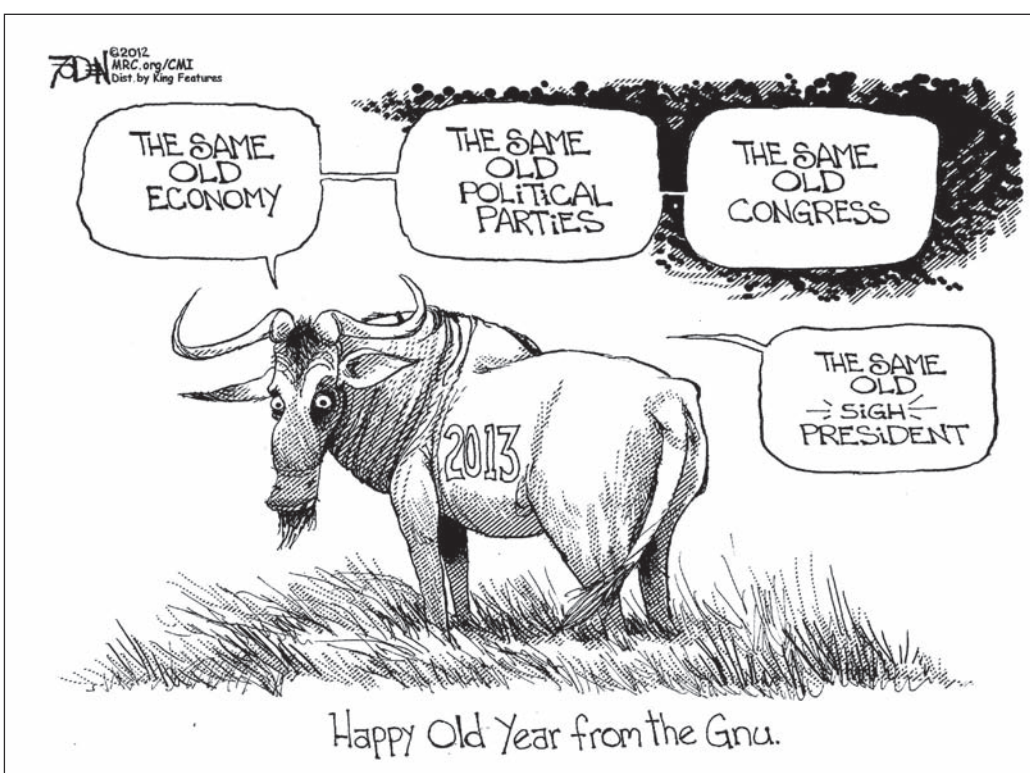

The Coffee Loft was an ambitious gem for downtown but a hard business model to comprehend from the beginning. The razing and reconstruction of a vintage-era building with modern conveniences mid-block in a historic downtown is almost unheard of in small towns these days, and its proprietors, if nothing else, guaranteed that their building will be a legacy for the town and probably, barring catastrophe, one of its last buildings standing. But such upfront costs combined with the low margin of the retail food business as well as its location in a rural hamlet should have spelled out the telltale signs before the first hammer struck. It's hard destiny was fulfilled, but the passion of its proprietors has to be acknowledged.

And as these dynamics were playing out so too was a disconnect of another kind, illustrated recently when a conversation at a city government meeting included a profession from the city manager and economic development official that there was no place in town to find zippers, and that an effort was underway to try to identify such missing links and convince other local businesses to carry those product lines, so customers didn't have to go out of town to find them.

The conversation, recounted in The Review's story on the meeting, was much the surprise to owners of Country Fabrics in downtown Garnett, which indeed stocks a number of styles, colors and types of zippers.

But to the defense of the city staff - Country Fabrics rarely if ever advertised its wares to local customers or otherwise marketed itself. How are customers, busy with their everyday lives, supposed to remember a store if that store can't be bothered to ask for customers' business? So too was this the case for Star Video, which had no marketing efforts save the traffic from its location, and for The Coffee Loft, which opted to concentrate all its marketing online. To disconnect from customers by ignoring needed attention to the four classic academic aspects of marketing: advertising, promotion, public relations and personal selling; has been the death knell of many business startups in our community.

Our county's remaining businesses owe it to themselves to reconnect to the common sense principles of commerce that have served successful companies and turned many into household names. Entrepreneurs willing to take the plunge should make a studied approach and take advantage of myriad free resources out there at the university and government level to aid them in a successful venture. And our community should be embracing the challenge represented by those closed storefronts, recession or not.

Gerard Depardieu, tax refugee

BY RICH LOWRY

NATIONAL REVIEW

French actor Gerard Depardieu has learned how to go from a beloved symbol of a nation to enemy of the state in one easy step. All it takes is wanting to keep some meaningful portion of his income.

Depardieu is a quintessentially French figure. Appearing in more than 150 films, he has played Cyrano and Obelix. He is a Chevalier du Legion d'honneur. He eats and drinks -- a lot. He rides a scooter. It would take a diagram to follow his romantic entanglements with models and actresses. It's all very French, except for the fact that he has earned too much money.

Lowry

At least he has according to the accounting of the Gradgrind socialists who govern France. Elected earlier this year, President Francois Hollande has imposed a 75 percent marginal income tax on top earners. To this prospect, Depardieu said, "Non, merci." He announced his intention to move to a little village over the border in Belgium, where the government imposes plenty of taxes but doesn't aim to impose a punishing tax rate on the wealthy as a matter of justice.

For his offense, Depardieu has been denounced from the commanding heights of the French state. The prime minister called him "pathetic." The budget minister sniffed that his move would be a boom to Belgian cinema. Hollande urged "ethical behavior" on the part of French taxpayers. They all agree that it's wrong of Depardieu not to stand still so that the government can drastically lighten his wallet.

The "temporary supertax" applies to incomes of more than 1 million euros (roughly $1.3 million). It is said to be no big deal since it hits only about 1,500 people and is set to last for only two years. But it comes on top of an already-onerous tax burden and is shocking in "Depardieu is a quintessentially French figure. ... He announced his intention to move to a little village over the border in Belgium, where the government imposes plenty of taxes but doesn't aim to impose a punishing rate on the wealthy as a matter of justice."

The tax is less fiscal policy than confiscatory policy motivated by unabashed disdain for the wealthy. Hollande is on the record saying, "I don't like the rich." For a career politician like Hollande, the natural order of things is that he gets to live off the government and Depardieu gets to fund it. That's the definition of "fairness."

Depardieu's critics bash his patriotism. But why is it patriotic to accept financial chastisement by a government headed by someone who is avowedly driven by animus toward you as a member of a targeted class?

It's not as though Depardieu is a scofflaw. He claims he has paid 145 million euros in taxes during the course of his career, and paid an 85 percent rate in 2012.

The French constitutional court just ruled against the supertax on technical grounds. The government promises to make adjustments and forge ahead. It can shame Depardieu all it likes, but that won't stop the flow of other, less-famous tax exiles. Hollande doesn't like rich people, and he will duly rule a country with fewer of them.

Gerard Depardieu wrote the prime minister to say he's leaving "because you believe that success, creation, talent -- difference, in fact -- must be punished."

He's right. May he -- dare we say it? -- prosper in his new home.

Get ready for Kansas Chamber vs. Kobach

Well, it's always fun to hold a couple guys' coats while they fight.

It appears that situation is coming up for the 2013 Legislature, a fight over immigration law, or at least the pieces of immigration law that the state can deal with. Immigration is basically a federal issue, of course, and Kansas doesn't have a border with any foreign nation...unless you want to count Oklahoma.

The scrap? It is shaping up between the Kansas Chamber of Commerce and Secretary of State Kris Kobach, who doesn't want any accommodation of not-legally-here residents of Kansas. Kobach has made a nice sideline job out of writing bills for cities and states to deter illegal immigration and expel illegal immigrants.

So, whose coats are we holding? Those of national conservative political icon Grover Norquist, chief of Americans for Tax Reform, and of Kobach, who says he'll wear his American citizen coat, not his official Kansas Secretary of State garb, when the immigration issues surface in the upcoming Legislature.

Norquist? His trip to Kansas next week is sponsored by the Chamber, which with several other special interest groups is seeking accommodation for not-legally-here Kansas workers whom businesses and agriculture depend on as a source of labor. "We are bringing Mr. Norquist to Kansas so legislators can hear what real immigration reform should look like,"

by Martin Hawver
KANSAS STATEHOUSE COLUMNIST

said Mike O'Neal, now President & CEO of the Kansas Chamber—and outgoing Speaker of the Kansas House.

So, it's a Chamber vs. Kobach scrap that begins at that legislative breakfast next week.

Now, at least on the issue of illegal immigration, we may get to see how conservative the Legislature is on what is almost a bright-line issue among social conservatives. The House in recent years has passed bills (ignored in the moderate-led Senate for several years) that would require employers to prove that their workers are legal American citizens. And the House passed a (Senate-ignored) bill that would require non-legal youngsters who have completed at least three years of high school in Kansas to pay out-state tuition at Kansas universities so many times we believe that the bill was laminated for better wear.

With the new more conservative Senate and a House that is probably Jesus and firearm safety for our kids? At what point did our Love of Christ have to get coupled with a love for firearms? Guns are designed to kill. Killing is counter to God's law. I resent this idea from the gun nuts that it's God, guns and country and if you don't like it, leave it. In our home we love Christ. We do not love guns.

KanCare: State launches new Medicaid program

TOPEKA - With the Jan. 1 launch of the state's new Medicaid program known as KanCare, officials with the State of Kansas announced the state continues efforts to ensure Kansans who depend upon Medicaid and Healthway continue to receive all the care they need and have come to expect.

"We continue to work diligently to improve the coordination and quality of care for Kansans on Medicaid and Healthway. During this transition we are very aware of the accessibility concerns brought up by consumers, advocates and providers, and we will continue to be responsive to those concerns," Kansas Department of Health and Environment (KDHE) Medicaid Services Director Susan Mosier, M.D. said.

KanCare is Kansas' innovative new system to provide Medicaid services through an integrated care model that achieves measurable goals and focuses on wellness and care coordination. In addition to current program benefits, KanCare also adds services such as heart and lung transplants, bariatric surgery and adult preventive dental care at no cost to the state.

Dr. Mosier stressed the state's KanCare Continuity of Care Plan includes a number of protections the three managed-care organizations (MCOs) contracted by the state must meet in order to preserve KanCare consumers' existing health care services.

"The most important fact KanCare consumers and their families need to know is that their medical care and the services they receive will continue - uninterrupted - when KanCare launches on January 1st," Dr. Mosier said. "We cannot stress this enough - the three MCOs must honor all existing plans of care, prior authorizations and established provider/member relationships - even if the established provider is not in the MCO network."

The KanCare Continuity of Care Plan also provides:

- MCOs must pay Medicaid fee-for-service rates to established providers through the first 90 days - even if the provider is not in the MCO network.

- MCOs must pay Medicaid fee-for-service rates to residential providers for the first year for KanCare consumers currently living in a Medicaid-reimbursed residential setting, such as a nursing facility - even if the residential provider is not in the MCO network.

- MCOs must pay Medicaid fee-for-service rates to Home and Community Based Services (HCBS) providers up to an additional 90 days for KanCare consumers with existing plans of care if a new plan of care is not in place within 90 days of Jan. 1, 2013 - even if the HCBS providers are not in the MCO network.

- All KanCare consumers have until April 4, 2013, to switch their MCO to one of the other two. Any changes made after Jan. 1, 2013, will take effect the first day of the following month.

- MCOs must make sure specialty care is available to all members. They are required to meet distance or travel time standards. If the MCO does not have a specialist available to members within those standards, it must allow members to see out-of-network providers. If the MCO is unable to provide medically-necessary services in its network, it must cover those services out-of-network and must have single-case arrangements or agreements with non-network providers to make sure members have access to covered services. The rate will be negotiated between the plan and the provider. Providers cannot bill members for any difference.

- MCOs cannot limit emergency services to in-network hospitals. As required by federal law, the state's KanCare contract requires each MCO to cover and pay for emergency services, including services needed to evaluate or stabilize an emergency medical condition—regardless of whether the provider that furnishes the service has a contract with the MCO.

- For other out-of-network services—after the transition—MCOs will pay out-of-network providers that choose to serve Medicaid members 90 percent of the Medicaid rate. Under federal law, the KanCare consumer cannot be made to pay the difference in standard rates and those paid by the MCO.

"The MCOs continue to build their provider networks—and they won't stop on January 1st when KanCare launches," Dr. Mosier said.

The Administration also began daily KanCare Rapid Response calls this week. Kansas Department for Aging and Disability Services Secretary Shawn Sullivan said the calls allow consumers, providers and stakeholders to ask questions about their individual concerns about the transition to KanCare.

"Of course when starting down any new path, there are occasional bumps along the way. We take these very seriously and have built into the system ways to remedy these situations quickly and fairly," Sec. Sullivan said.

Sec. Sullivan encouraged Kansans with any questions or concerns about KanCare health plans, providers or services, to join the KanCare Rapid Response call held Monday - Friday at 9:00 a.m. CT at 1-877-247-8650 and use ID code 79687456.

If Kansans are unable to join the daily call, they also can call the KanCare Consumer Assistance Line at 1-866-305-5147.

Tongy edges AC 66-64

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Everything matters in a close basketball game. And whatever it was, Anderson County came up two points short.

Tonganoxie took a hard-fought come-from behind win from the Bulldogs Friday night 66-64, after Garnett pumped in free throw after free throw in the second period to notch a 33-28 lead at the half.

Bulldog shooters missed only two out of 17 freebies in the contest, but Tongy was solid from the stripe as well with 11 for 13. Tongy built its margin in the third period, when they outscored Garnett 24-19, and then held on to 52-all third period draw.

Garnett's Zach Hilliard drilled two three-pointers in the critical fourth period, but Tongy came up with an extra bucket to take the win.

Hilliard led AC with 20 points. Eric Tastove had 14, Tanner Lickteig 12. Drew Mechnig 10, Spencer Walter, Jack Rickabaugh and Tyler Woodard all had 2. Tongy's Dale led his squad with 20.

Crest coach lukewarm on win over MV, 57-37

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

COLONY - The Crest boys beat Marmaton Valley Friday night 57-37, but head coach Travis Hermreck isn't pleased.

"We got out to a sizeable lead in the 2nd quarter and then we just put everything on cruise control," Hermreck said. "I'm not happy about our performance. To get where we want to be we must be able to maintain focus on a daily basis. It is simply a matter of mental toughness."

"We did this last year coming out of Christmas break and it ended up costing us about five losses. We don't want history to repeat itself."

Marmaton Valley never gained their footing to make an offensive run at the Lancers. Lancer defense held MV to only 3 points in the 2nd quarter. Lead scorer Kyle Hammond went on a 2 and 3-pointer shooting spree that ended up earning him 34 points on the night. The Lancers were 50 percent from the free throw line, but they never really needed the points. MV's Becker managed to notch 18 points on Crest's defense, but was the only player in double figures.

Brock Ellis had 10 for Crest. Jesse Boone had 7 points and 4 blocked shots. Jordan Morton and Landon Stephens had 3 each.

Anderson County High School Drama Club is proud to present its annual 2013 Student-Directed One Act Plays featuring five short one-act comedies, "The Two Halves of Andrew's Brain," "Bad Auditions by Bad Actors," "Squeak!," "Speed Dating Nightmare," and "Blind Date."

In "The Two Halves of Andrew's Brain" by Alex Micelli, the Right half of Andrew's Brain (Heather Kropf) feels left out of his (Devin Katzer) life, and with the help of the Left half (Asa Young), she tries to convince the other members of the Brain to involve her more. A macho Gland (Wesley Wolken), a really bad vampire book, and an overactive imagination stand in the way of this lobe's dream.

"Bad Auditions by Bad Actors," by Ian McWethy, depicts casting director (Payton Feuerborn) who has one day to find the leads for a community theater production of Romeo and Juliet. But what seems like a simple task proves impossible when the pool of actors includes extreme method actors (Asa Young), performers who just don't know what to do with their hands (Kori Pitts), and one particular woman who may or may not think she's a cat (Vicki Markham).

"Squeak!," written by Aleksas A. Barauskas, focuses on Adam (Tyler Woodard), a teenager who is hearing squeaks in the walls of his room, so much squeaking, in fact, he's losing sleep. How can he get rid of the problem? He consults with two rats (Bel Sibley, Gwen Sibley) who advise him to use everything from a chain saw to a Barbie doll dressed to look like a rat, to the ultimate solution, playing Michael Bolton CDs! But will any of these ideas really get the rats out, or make Adam's problem worse? Just what are these squeaks anyway? It doesn't look good, and time is running out as the lovely Rachel (Mercedes McLeod) will be stopping by at any moment!

"In Speed Dating Nightmare," by Scott Haan, the audience discovers speed dating is a great way for singles to meet other people. Each "date" only lasts a few minutes, and if it doesn't work out, you can hope the next one will be better. For Cindy (Melissa Kropf), those minutes feel like an eternity as she is subjected to a seemingly endless parade of jerks and losers. First there's Marcus (Tyler Wolken), whose questions seem more like an interrogation; then Trevor (Kaylen Peine), whose career motivation extends only to getting the next new video game. Third is Scissor (Miranda Woosley), an artistic man with an inflated sense of ego, followed by Ernest (Devin Katzer), a socially awkward guy who thinks sharing his Tums is a nice gift. Then there's Dale (Eliza Sibley), loud, rowdy and more than ready to move on to the next little filly. To make matters worse, Cindy can't help but imagine what their children would be like, as, in inset scenes, they all display the worst qualities of their fathers. Will Cindy find a good match, or resign herself to staying single forever?

Finally, there is "Blind Date" by Samara Siskind. Love is blind...or is it? Marcia (Tana Benton) is looking for love; Ted (Chandler Betts) taps in. Will it be a match made in heaven, or a case of the blind leading the blind?

The plays are directed by Marcus Marmon, Nicole Stifter, Chandler Betts, Paige Theisman, Amanda Barcus, Bailey Weide, Carlee Leinweber, Mercedes McLeod, Alicia Bell and Vicki Markham.

The cost to attend is $5. Performances will take place at 7 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 12, at the Anderson County High School Auditorium.

Greeley Recognized for Excellence on State Tests

USD 365 Board of Education president Dwight Nelson, far left, presents an award to Greeley Grade School staff members for the school's outstanding performance on standardized tests in 2012. The school received several honors, including scoring in the top 5 percent of the state.

Morgans receive 2012 Extension Appreciation Award

Henry and Mary Morgan were recognized with the 2012 Extension Appreciation Award by the Anderson County Extension Council on November 8, 2012, for their involvement in local Extension programs.

Henry has regularly attended Extension informational meetings and participated in educational programs for well over 50 years. Henry's nearly perfect attendance at the field day for the East Central Experiment Field near Ottawa was noted this August by Keith Janssen who was Agronomist-in-Charge and/or stationed at the field for 33 years. Henry explained that producer meetings are a great way to keep up to date with production practices and research. He has learned and implemented a lot of strategies with much success over the years.

Henry laughingly characterized how much production agriculture had changed over the years and how important it is to keep up to date by sharing that Gene Cleavinger, well-respected Extension Crops Specialist, once said that "It would never pay to fertilize corn in this part of Kansas as it was too inconsistent of a crop."

Henry and Mary Morgan had 29 years of continuous 4-H participation in Anderson County with their 8 children. In 2006, they were selected by the Dynamite 4-H Club to be Grand Marshals for the Anderson County Fair parade as part of our local celebration of 100 years of Kansas 4-H. Henry's 4-H involvement began in 1944 when Henry sold his 4-H calf to purchase two heifers. Henry was an active 4-H member of the Brea Boosters 4-H Club of Richmond. Henry's 4-H leader, Virginia Cuttingham, made sure Henry completed his 4-H records and encouraged him to complete an essay that won him a trip to Milwaukee's Minnetonka Leadership Camp with four other Kansas 4-Hers in 1948. When Virginia Cuttingham was asked to help Juanita and Austin Moody begin the Dynamite 4-H Club at Greeley, she brought two of her older active 4-Hers, one was Henry, to help organize and answer questions. Henry went to Round-Up (Discovery Days) in 1946 when all delegates were bused to Rock Springs Ranch for the first picnic and mortgage burning ceremony for Rock Springs Ranch.

All eight Morgan children, Tom, Tim, Peg, Sue, Ann, Jim, Jan and Dan were members of the Dynamite 4-H Club and worked hard in their 4-H livestock projects. Henry and Mary believed that their children should do their own work with 4-H projects. Care for their 4-H livestock provided an opportunity for quality family time every evening, particularly between Henry and the kids, which resulted in family closeness still obvious today.

Henry laughs about the families' experiences while showing at the American Livestock and the Kansas Junior Livestock Show. Henry and his kids stayed at the Royal with their animals for 10 days.

Henry served as a beef project leader for approximately 20 years.

Henry also is a firm believer in the value of how to run a meeting with parliamentary procedure and public speaking that 4-H teaches.

Henry Morgan accepts the 2012 Extension Appreciation Award from Anderson County Extension Agent Shannon Blocker.

Mary was not a 4-H member but learned quickly as a 4-H Mom. She was a 4-H foods leader for the Dynamite 4-H Club and was always with her children through their various projects and activities in addition to livestock - fashion revue, foods, crops, County Club Day, 4-H Camp, etc.

Mary passed away in June 2012.

Henry and Mary owned and operated H&M Farms, a purebred Angus cattle operation. Henry also sold Pioneer Seed. Gene Cleavinger also advised at an Extension event to "pick out a farming operation and stick with it." Henry and Mary did just that and held a total of 40 annual Angus production sales beginning in 1967. Henry is especially proud of the Blackcap Empress genetics involved in his breeding program. The American Angus Association recognized them as a Historic Herd award winner in 1995.

The Dynamite 4-H Club served the meal at all 40 H&M Angus production sales. The Morgan's allowed the club to share in their success, as it was the only fundraiser they needed over all those years.

Today his children own the cattle at the farm, but he is still out every day feeding and taking care of them.

Henry served many years on the Anderson County Extension Council and Executive Board. He also served on the Anderson County Fair Board and helped build the livestock show and stall barns on the fair grounds.

The Morgans have met friends throughout the State of Kansas and the nation through their 4-H and Extension involvement. Henry and Mary are very proud of the K-State Alumni Center's paver their children gave them for a recent Christmas - Henry and Mary Morgan Parents of 8 K-State Cats!

Library to discuss 'One of Ours' book

The Garnett Public Library will hold a book discussion on Wednesday, January 23rd at 2 p.m. "One of Ours" by Willa Cather was the title chosen. The discussion will be led by Jane Feuerborn. Please take note of the time change. For the months of January and February we will have the discussions in the afternoon.

One of Ours is a novel by Willa Cather that won the 1923 Pulitzer Prize. It tells the story of the life of Claude Wheeler, a Nebraska native around the turn of the 20th century. The son of a successful Midwestern farmer and an intensely pious mother, he is guaranteed a comfortable livelihood. Nevertheless, Wheeler views himself as a victim of his father's success and his own inexplicable malaise.

The novel is divided thematically into two parts: the first half in Nebraska, where Claude Wheeler struggles to find his life's purpose and is left ultimately disappointed; and in France, where his pursuit of purpose is vindicated. A romantic unfulfilled by marriage and an idealist without an ideal to cling to, Wheeler fulfills his romantic idealism on the brutal battlefields of 1918 France.

One of Ours is thus a portrait of a peculiarly American personality: it is the story of a young man born after the American frontier has vanished, yet whose quintessentially American restlessness seeks redemption on a frontier far bloodier and more distant than that which his forefathers had already tamed.

Books are available for check-out at the library. The discussions are typically held the fourth Wednesday of each month at 7 p.m. in the Archer Room at the library; however, this January and February we are trying the 2 p.m. time change. Notification is posted in case of cancellation.

Old-fashioned punishment

This week let us take a look at early day home and church punishments.

The forms of punishments that we use today are, on the whole, far more simple and humane than those formerly used. The practice of inflicting corporal punishment has been discontinued, except in extreme cases and where individuals inflict punishment on others outside the law.

In the homes, youthful offenders were punished by taking them behind the woodshed or out behind the barn and applying a vigorous right hand or a strap, belt, paddle, switch, stick or other instrument to the individual's backside. Would you believe spankings are still administered in some homes, but the place of punishment now is in the basement or bedroom because so few families have woodsheds or barns.

Other household punishments consisted of boxing the ears of the culprit if he or she was impudent or disobedient, washing out his or her mouth with soap and water if they told a lie or uttered a naughty word, slapping their face if he or she made faces at one of their elders, or sending them to their room. If the punisher was female, she sometimes tapped the head of the errant child with a thimble. In extreme cases, a split stick was put on their ear, tongue or nose and others were put on a temporary diet of bread or water or even to go without a meal.

The modern tendency is to replace these punishments with persuasive reasoning or with reprimands.

The early churches had their own special forms of punishment, usually for sexual offenses, drunkenness or dishonesty.

One punishment consisted of requiring the guilty party to stand during the service on a repentance stool, which was about one foot higher than an ordinary seat, thus placing the individual in full view of the congregation.

Church members who were morally culpable were compelled to appear in church on the Sabbath wrapped in a white sheet or wearing a white robe, sometimes holding a white rod or staff. In some places, sackcloth was substituted for the white robe, thus adding the discomfort to humiliation.

Another form of punishment consisted of having a guilty party stand up and confess their sin before the congregation. Individuals who made a habit of drinking to excess were subjected to strong criticism from their wives, their pastors, and town officials. It was not uncommon to see a frequent offender, under great pressure from friends and relatives, rise up in church and take the pledge, which meant voicing a promise to refrain from alcoholic beverages in the future. Some persons took the pledge numerous times before it stuck or they became discouraged.

There were also early day personal, school room and official punishments that I will write about later.

Relatives of Greeley city founders coming for visit

Mike Martinez, wife Tracey, and Aunt Becky Duchense, of Dayton, Ohio, and St. Louis area, contacted Dorothy Lickteig for family information on Jacob Benjamin. Of course, Dorothy got very excited as Jacob Benjamin was one of the founders of Greeley back in 1857.

Now the group is coming to Greeley on Jan. 28 and 29. They will arrive about noon on Jan. 28 and want to visit around Greeley, see the cemetery where relatives are buried, see the Gerth Cabin, the Museum, courthouse for records, etc., and at 5 p.m., Dorothy will host a reception for them.

Seeing the name Duchense, Dorothy asked if coming from the St. Louis area where St. Phillipine Duchense came to this area from, if possibly this Duchense family was related to her. And it is a relative of Becky Duchense's husband. So, on Jan. 29, the group plans to visit the shrine, then at 2 p.m. on Kansas Day they will visit with Greeley Elementary students.

Dorothy will have more specific details as to the reception soon, but everyone who would like to meet these fascinating guests are welcome to attend.

If anyone has a Greeley History book they would like to donate or sell, Dorothy would like to present the group with one. Also, any Greeley souvenir items would be appreciated.

1993: Garnett to get stoplight

Jan. 14, 2003

The Garnett Area Chamber of Commerce is asking the City of Garnett for a $5,000 financial subsidy to cover the revenue the chamber will lose after a recent change in the handling of the local county-wide economic development office. The chamber's board of directors voted to approach the city for the money after a review of its 2003 budget and revenue projections showed the organization likely wouldn't be able to replace the revenue it lost when the city and Anderson County Commission voted last fall to move the county's DEVANCO development office under city control.

Friends of Cats and Dogs, the Garnett-based organization that worked to find homes for strays and to spread the word about neutering and spaying of animals, went out of business officially Jan. 1 after its main supporter said the job was too big to be handled by volunteers.

Jan. 14, 1993

The City of Garnett paved the way for a mill levy increase for the Garnett Public Library in 1994, designed to augment what has been an overall decline in the library's budget over the past several years. Though no actual increase was effected, the commission agreed to pursue a charter resolution which

by Vickie Moss
Staff Writer

will allow the legal increase in tax funding after a public protest period. A one-mill increase in funding, which the library asked for, would produce about $7,500 in additional revenue.

After months of arguing with Kansas Department of Transportation officials, the City of Garnett recently received word that the go-ahead had been given for erection of a stoplight at the intersection of U.S. Highway 59 and Kansas Highway 31. The cost is projected at about $50,000 to design and construct the light, and it will take about eight months from start to finish to erect. The city has hounded KDOT for a stoplight at the intersection since construction began on USD 365's new junior-senior high school west of town on K-31.

The Anderson County Historical Society awaits a decision by USD 365 concerning a proposal to purchase the abandoned Longfellow Elementary building for an unspecified amount. The organization has submitted a proposal to use the new site for the county's historical museum.

Jan. 10, 1983

Water rates for Colony customers will increase soon because of an ordinance approved by the Colony City Council. The increase was necessary to retire a $451,300 debt because of a loan from the Farmer's Home Administration for the Colony water project. The project included replacement of existing water lines in Colony, the construction of a water tower, an eight-mile line to a water treatment plant that serves Colony and six other areas, and a community water building for Colony. The project's total cost was about $1.05 million, but part of the cost was financed by a grant.

Utility customers in the City of Garnett received a break for electricity usage in December. The fuel-adjustment charge, or that amount tacked on to the basic charge for natural gas and diesel fuel used by the city's electric generators, was lowered by 0.358 cents per kilowatt hour of use.

Does God hear your and my prayers?

In Psalm 66:16-20 David says, "Come and listen all you who fear God; let me tell you what he has done for me. I cried out to him with my mouth; his praise was on my tongue. If I had cherished sin in my heart, the Lord would not have listened; but God has surely listened and heard my voice in prayer. Praise be to God, who has not rejected my prayer or withheld his love for me!"

The verse I want to bring out of this Psalm is "but God has surely listened and heard my voice in prayer." David is confident God has heard his petition. If you are a believer there is great comfort in knowing this. I believe God answers all prayer even if the answer is no. Sometimes when what we pray for or about does not happen that is God's way of saying no, or not yet.

Such confidence was not the case for King Saul. In 1st Samuel 15:26 we read, "But Samuel said to him (Saul), I will not go back with you. You have rejected the word of the Lord, and the Lord has rejected you as king over Israel."

Samuel was a prophet of the Lord and the word of the Lord came to Israel through Samuel. When Samuel grew old and his sons did not follow his ways the people cried out for a king. The Lord had Samuel anoint Saul as king and he ruled for 42 years over Israel. Saul's reign was marked by disobedience to the word of God.

Near the end of Saul's reign Samuel died and the Philistine army assembled against Israel. Saul had reigned over forty years by now and had been in many confrontations yet this one was different. Samuel had died and God would not communicate with him and we are told he (Saul) was afraid.

We ask the question why would God not communicate with Saul? The answer is found in 1st Samuel 13:13-14; In an earlier confrontation Saul had been disobedient to the word of God and Samuel said. "You (Saul) have not kept the command the Lord your God gave you; if you had, he would have established you kingdom over Israel for all time. But now your kingdom will not endure; the Lord has sought out a man after his own heart and appointed him leader of his people, because you have not kept the Lord's command."

As Saul stood there looking at the Philistine army that message was no doubt foremost in his mind. The words "Your kingdom will not endure," are very descriptive. Because Saul had been willfully disobedient to God he had good reason to be afraid. As we progress through life we either live with God or without God. Sometimes it is kind of easy to think of God as a type of insurance agent. When we need him we will call. The problem with that is we don't see some things for what they are just as Saul didn't. Sooner or later we will find ourselves in a bad situation and no one to help. We read that "Saul inquired of the Lord but the Lord did not answer." If we take this literally it would seem that God ignored Saul's prayer. Saul lived his life with disregard for God's commands and God's voice grew fainter and fainter until it ceased.

In 1st Chronicles 9:29 we read a brief summary of Saul's life. "Saul died because he was unfaithful to the Lord; he did not keep the word of the Lord and even consulted a medium (fortune teller) for guidance, and did not inquire of the Lord. So the Lord put him to death and turned his kingdom over to David the son of Jesse.

Maintaining your New Year's Resolution for ideal health

Although 58 percent of American adults have resolved to make improvements in their health this New Year, more than half say they often find reasons not to exercise, according to an American Heart Association survey. Excuses range from too much stress at work, to having nothing to wear to the gym, to simple procrastination.

The American Heart Association suggests an easy two step approach to staying on track with your health focused New Year's Resolution: Step 1 - assess your current health; Step 2 - use free motivating tools to achieve your goals.

To help assess your health, the American Heart Association recommends scheduling yearly check-ups to increase your odds of catching preventable conditions early. And what better time is there to resolve to take control of your health than the New Year?

"The largest predictors of heart disease are conditions that you may not know that you have," said Cardiologist Jeffrey Bissing, DO with Shawnee Mission Medical Center in Shawnee Mission, Kansas. "High blood pressure and diabetes often have no associated symptoms, yet; if left untreated can have very significant consequences on your health and will put you at a very high risk of a heart attack and stroke. A routine health exam could assess these, start treatment and reduce your risk substantially."

The American Heart Association has defined "ideal cardiovascular health," identifying seven health factors and lifestyle behaviors that support heart health. Ideal cardiovascular health for adults is defined by the presence of these seven health measures, known as Life's Simple 7:

- Never smoked or quit more than one year ago
- Body mass index less than 25 kg/m²
- Physical activity of at least 150 minutes (moderate) or 75

minutes (vigorous) each week

• Four to five of the key components of a healthy diet consistent with current American Heart Association guideline recommendations

- Total cholesterol of less than 200 mg/dL
- Blood pressure below 120/80 mm Hg
- Fasting blood glucose less than 100 mg/dL

So back to step 1...Assess your current health by visiting your doctor and utilizing these measures so you can set a realistic New Year's Resolution. Take the American Heart Association's My Life Check, a short assessment to easily identify where you fall on the health spectrum. Visit www.MyLifeCheck.org to take this free simple survey. You'll gain a better understanding on your healthy priorities, and be armed with additional tools that offer specific action steps to improve the measurements and track personal progress.

Now onto Step 2...Once you know your area of weakness (diet, exercise, lack of sleep, etc.), put the My Life Check suggestions into action. The American Heart Association offers an online activity tracker, a FREE program that can get more Americans active and help them keep their health and physical activity resolutions. Nearly half of all Americans use online tools to track their health.

Adults spend 164 more hours per year at work than we did 20 years ago, and for many Americans that means lots of time on computers. The program allows you to keep log times and distances traveled, plot and save walking routes and enter daily meals and snacks.

Physically active people reduce their cardiovascular disease risk by 30 percent. The American Heart Association recommends 150 minutes of moderate intensity physical activity, like brisk walking, each week. Utilize the Online Activity Tracker at StartWalkingNow.org.

New Year

With the beginning of our new year 2013, this is something to ponder.

A community's sustainability depends on its long-term ability to meet residents' needs.

We all want our community to survive and prosper. A quote made by Henry Ford is "Coming together is a beginning, keeping together is progress; working together is success."

We wish much success to our new business "Colony Community Diner and Convenience", (CCDC) LLC. Thank you Ed and Nancy Ellington for the service you have given us the past 13 years!

Then and Now

In June 1957 my husband and I moved to Colony. Colony had a telephone office located in the building now occupied by Halfway House; Colony Café next building; a clinic located at present clinic site, a lumberyard was to the south of clinic on Pine (where buildings remain standing); two filling stations, one at triangle between Pine and Cherry Streets off Broad Street and other on South Pine and 7th Street, (just to south of present fire station; drugstore located in building now occupied by Rural Water District No. 5; general merchandise store (now torn down) to east of present post office; barbershop located at building east (also torn down); grocery store east of that in what now is occupied by diner and on to east a mechanic's garage. In west part of town across the first highway 169 bypass was a small grocery store at Broad and Beech Streets. Coming back across of first highway 169 bypass was the grain elevator on Depot Street to north of Broad Street; Café stood where bank is now located (no bank in '57) to east of it was the post office with the Masonic Hall in the upper story; an insurance office east of it (all three buildings stood where bank is presently located); large building east of that which was unoccupied.

There were four churches, Christian, United Methodist, Community and Catholic. Catholic is no longer here. A small city office with a small adjoining garage housed the city's only fire truck which stood only yards west of the present city office (flush with Cherry Street); funeral home was a two-story home, lower floor used for funeral services and upper story resided by funeral operator and family where present Chapel stands; Colony's depot stood on South Depot Street next to the bygone railroad tracks on which trains were operated in 1957; the three-story school building that housed eight grades and high school was located where the water tower now stands, between Maple and a Oak Streets facing Maple and across street to the east of that on Oak Street the school's shop building. That was Colony 55 years ago.

Cold temps, physical exertion hard on hearts

The American Heart Association says that for most people, shoveling snow may not lead to any health problems. However, the association warns that the risk of a heart attack during snow shoveling may increase for some, stating that the combination of colder temperatures and physical exertion increases the workload on the heart. People who are outdoors in cold weather should avoid sudden exertion, like lifting a heavy shovel full of snow. Even walking through heavy, wet snow or snow drifts can strain a person's heart.

To help make snow removal safer, the American Heart Association has compiled a list of practical tips.

- Give yourself a break. Take frequent rest breaks during shoveling so you don't over-stress your heart. Pay attention to how your body feels during those breaks.

- Don't eat a heavy meal prior or soon after shoveling. Eating a large meal can put an extra load on your heart.

- Use a small shovel or consider a snow thrower. The act of lifting heavy snow can raise blood pressure acutely during the lift. It is safer to lift smaller amounts more times, than to lug a few huge shovelfuls of snow. When possible, simply push the snow.

- Learn the heart attack warning signs and listen to your body, but remember this: Even if you're not sure it's a heart attack, have it checked out (tell a doctor about your symptoms). Minutes matter! Fast action can save lives — maybe your own. Don't wait more than five minutes to call 9-1-1

- Don't drink alcoholic beverages before or immediately after shoveling. Alcohol may increase a person's sensation of warmth and may cause them to underestimate the extra strain their body is under in the cold.

- Consult a doctor. If you have a medical condition, don't exercise on a regular basis or are middle aged or older, meet with your doctor prior to the first anticipated snowfall.

- Be aware of the dangers of hypothermia. Heart failure causes most deaths in hypothermia. To prevent hypothermia, dress in layers of warm clothing, which traps air between layers forming a protective insulation. Wear a hat because much of your body's heat can be lost through your head.

Heart Attack Warning Signs

Some heart attacks are sudden and intense — the "movie heart attack," where no one doubts what's happening. But most heart attacks start slowly, with mild pain or discomfort. Often people affected aren't sure what's wrong and wait too long before getting help. Here are signs that can mean a heart attack is happening:

- Chest discomfort. Most heart attacks involve discomfort in the center of the chest that lasts more than a few minutes, or that goes away and comes back. It can feel like uncomfortable pressure, squeezing, fullness or pain.

- Discomfort in other areas of the upper body. Symptoms can include pain or discomfort in one or both arms, the back, neck, jaw or stomach.

- Shortness of breath with or without chest discomfort.

- Other signs may include breaking out in a cold sweat, nausea or lightheadedness

As with men, women's most common heart attack symptom is chest pain or discomfort. But women are somewhat more likely than men to experience some of the other common symptoms, particularly shortness of breath, nausea/vomiting, and back or jaw pain.

Calling 9-1-1 is almost always the fastest way to get lifesaving treatment. Emergency medical services (EMS) staff can begin treatment when they arrive — up to an hour sooner than if someone gets to the hospital by car. EMS staff is also trained to revive someone whose heart has stopped. Patients with chest pain who arrive by ambulance usually receive faster treatment at the hospital, too. It is best to call EMS for rapid transport to the emergency room. If you can't access EMS, have someone drive you to the hospital right away. If you're the one having symptoms, don't drive yourself, unless you have absolutely no other option.
