Snow in April? It's no big deal

Trace of snow falls Monday; last year's last snow was in May

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Area residents may have been surprised to wake up to snow flurries Monday morning - unless they remember last year.

A trace of snow fell Monday, April 14, reminding area residents that Old Man Winter doesn't give up his grasp so easily. Last year, he held on through May with the last snow of the season, a trace, falling on May 2 and dropping temperatures to 32 on May 3 and 4, 2013.

Temperatures dropped to 30 degrees early Monday morning, and were expected to drop even lower overnight into this morning. Temperatures throughout the week are expected to be on the cool side, with high temperatures in the mid- to upper-50s today and Friday, in the low 60s Wednesday and Thursday, and mid-60s for the weekend. Temperatures could dip to the upper 30s most nights this week, with windy conditions and rain possible throughout the week.

Although this winter has been cold, it didn't bring much precipitation in either snow or rain form. In addition to the trace of snow Monday morning, the Garnett Industrial Airport collected 0.63 inches of rain

Auto shop move changes zoning rules

City's zoning rules didn't allow for special use permit

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - A Garnett businessman's plan to move his automotive repair business to the downtown square resulted in what could be the most significant change to the city's zoning plan in 20 years.

Don Millington, who owns Don's Automotive at 213 E. Sixth Ave., plans to move and expand his business to a large building at Fourth and Main streets. The location takes up most of the east side of the downtown Garnett square. The building originally was built as a grocery store and had various uses since then, including a video store, offices, auction house and even as an apartment in part of the structure.

Because of its location in the downtown business district, the building's zoning would not allow for an automotive repair shop at the location. In order to allow Millington to use the building as he wants, the city needed to change the rules and consider the case as a special use, city attorney Terry Solander said. He proposed an ordinance that would allow city commissioners to consider

City reorganizes, Peine named mayor

Blackie sworn in for first full term after April 1 election

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Although the faces stayed the same, city commissioners shuffled their positions during last week's city commission meeting. Preston Peine was voted mayor of Garnett, succeeding Greg Gwin who has held the post since 2012, and commissioner Gordon Blackie was sworn in for his first full term in office.

At the April 8 meeting, Gwin nominated Peine to serve as mayor, giving up the seat he has held for the past two years. Gwin then was elected mayor pro tem. The position of mayor is largely ceremonial, and traditionally rotates among the three-member board. This is the first mayoral appointment for Peine, who was elected to the commission in 2012.

Blackie was elected to his first full term during the April 1 election, bringing in 74 out of 86 votes in what is thought to be one of the lowest - if not the lowest - voter

Use your senses to stay safe.

Natural gas is a safe, clean and reliable energy source for your home. Kansas Gas Service reminds you to schedule regular appliance maintenance, follow manufacturer instructions and use the tips below to help keep you and your family safe.

SOUND

If you hear a hissing sound around your natural gas appliances or meter, this could be an indication of a natural gas leak.

If you see blowing dirt, persistent bubbling in standing water or unexplained discoloration of vegetation, these may be signs of a natural gas leak.

If you see yellow instead of blue flames from your natural gas appliance burners, have them serviced by a licensed professional. A yellow flame is a warning sign natural gas isn't burning efficiently, which can increase the potential for carbon monoxide poisoning.

SMELL

If you smell an odor like sulfur or rotten eggs in or around your home, this may be the warning sign of a natural gas leak.

If you suspect a natural gas leak, leave your home immediately and use a telephone away from the area to call Kansas Gas Service at 1-888-482-4950 or dial 911. Do not use any electrical devices, such as a light switch or wireless phone, in the area.

If you feel unexplained headaches, dizziness, excessive perspiration, fatigue or nausea, check your home's carbon monoxide levels. Improper combustion in your furnace or water heater can cause increased levels of carbon monoxide, which can result in serious injury or death.

If you need to dig, know what's below. Always call 811 at least two days before you dig, excavate, plant trees or set fence posts.

RICHARDS

February 4, 1947-March 26, 2014

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW
Published April 26, 2011

Barbara "Bobbi" Richards, age 67, of Garnett, Kansas, passed away on Wednesday, March 26, 2014, at Anderson County Long Term Care in Garnett.

Richards

She was born on February 4, 1947, in Topeka, Kansas, the second daughter of Robert and Althea (Robertson) Mattix. She grew up in Garnett, graduating from Garnett High School in 1965. In 1969, after graduating from the University of Kansas, she taught at the Boy's Reform School in Topeka. The following year, on May 31st, she married Steve Richards, also a Garnett native. They shared 44 wonderful years together, full of life, love and travel. In their free time, they enjoyed playing pitch, camping, going to casinos, attending KU football games despite the Jayhawks' perennial doormat status, and traveling frequently - having spent more than 60 days on Caribbean cruises amongst many other memorable trips.

On June 24, 1977, she gave birth to her son Kyle in Little Rock, Arkansas. The following year the family was transferred to Tokyo, Japan for two years where Bobbi wore out the tires on Kyle's stroller since they did not have a vehicle. After stints in Wilton, Connecticut and Shreveport, Louisiana, they returned in 1989 to the family residence in Garnett. Always energetic and upbeat, Bobbi was known by friends and family for her tireless work ethic managing the family budget, assisting others with projects, helping people move or cleaning relentlessly so they would get their full deposit back, as well as creating games (some more popular than others) for the family to play during special gatherings and holiday get-togethers. A lifelong Jayhawk fanatic, Bobbi would frequently drive Steve and Kyle crazy by also rooting vigorously for the KSU Wildcats (when the two teams were not playing) - where she studied for an undergraduate semester before ultimately graduating from KU.

She is survived by her husband Steve; son Kyle and his wife Briana of Alexandria, Virginia; her sister Debbie Haskins and brother-in-law Robert Haskins of Olathe, Kansas; three cousins the same as sisters - Patsy (Fagg) Spillman of Kincaid; Pam (Fagg) Holman of Welda; and Sherri (Robertson) Hanson of Minneapolis, Minnesota; her "other son", Jake Shipley of Lawrence, Kansas; as well as many nieces and nephews.

Memorial services will be held at 11:00 AM, Saturday, April 19, 2014 at the First Christian Church, Garnett. The family will greet friends following the services at the church. The family requests that in lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the First Christian Church or to the Kansas University Medical Center Oncology Clinic, and may be sent in care of the funeral home, Feuerborn Family Funeral Service, PO BOX 408, Garnett, KS 66032. Condolences may be left for the family at www.feuerbornfuneral.com

Milt preceded her in death on January 7, 1985.

After several years in LaMonte, they returned to the Knob Noster community, where she was baptized while living in the Walnut Creek District. They resided there until moving in 1983 to be near their daughter and her family at Garnett.

She enjoyed her grandchildren, great grandchildren, nieces and nephews. Her mind was centered on the Scriptures, and she spoke after of the lessons and hope there, along with always having a loving concern for others.

Alta was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Milton Garrison; a sister, Leanna Mahin; and brother-in-law Henry Mahin.

She is survived by her daughter, Eleanor Davison and husband Leonard; granddaughter Nicole Moore and husband Richard; grandsons Lynn Davison and wife Valinda; Jeff Davison and wife Melissa; twelve great grandchildren; Shanae, Hayden and Trevin Moore; Roman, Macy, Moriah, Rhett and Atley Davison; Cassie, Grant, Claire and Gabe Davison; nephews Dennis Mahin and wife Charlotte; Ed Mahin and wife Rachelle; six great nephews and nieces; Janell Bowman and husband Nathan; Norman Mahin and wife Shelly; Christy Brubaker and husband Mike; Kevin Mahin and wife Judie; Lisa Chupp and husband Bill; and Keith Mahin and wife Shonda; and thirteen great great nieces and nephews.

One of her last instructions was "Do not neglect your prayer life".

allowing a special use permit for the area.

"This does something very small but it can have a big impact," Solander said. "It changes the grid for how uses could be allowed - from not permitted at all to a special use permit."

Solander explained that current city zoning laws were put into place in 1994 after an extensive upgrade of 1973 zoning laws. Both Solander and City Manager Joyce Martin said the city first adopted a zoning plan in 1973 using a template for more metropolitan areas. The 1994 revision was an attempt to modify those rules in a way that better suited a smaller community, they said.

"I remember when zoning started and how they (city staff and officials) struggled and struggled," Martin said. "When it was decided to rework it in the 90s, it was a godsend. It was easier to understand and to follow"

"I don't think anyone would argue the zoning was such an abomination from 1973 to the early 90s," Solander said. "I think we were so pleased with many of the things we saw in the new (1994) ordinance, maybe we didn't look at it as hard as we should have."

the city. Owners who make at least $5,000 worth of improvements can qualify for a refund of new property taxes assessed because of the improvements for either five or eight years. Property owners in the downtown area, primarily businesses, are eligible for eight years worth of refunded property taxes; owners in other zones are eligible for the five-year benefit. The change would expand the five-year benefit to all property owners, and maintain the eight-year benefit to downtown property owners.

City Manager Joyce Martin said she has fielded several inquiries about the program since news of the expansion

In the 20 years since the zoning laws were revised, much has changed in the world and in the local community, commissioner Gordon Blackie pointed out. Solander's new ordinance would allow for more flexibility in zoning, but it would require city leaders to look more carefully at each situation in order to maintain stability in zoning, Blackie said.

Mayor Preston Peine disagreed, saying that although the change in some ways would allow for more flexibility, it actually gave city leaders more control of zoning. Under the 1994 zoning laws, city commissioners could not grant special use permits and in order to allow Millington's request they would need to rezone the property. If the property were rezoned to an industrial use and Millington sold it, a new owner could come in and build any type of industrial business. Under the special use permit, if Millington later sold the property, the business could remain automotive repair but any other industrial use would not be allowed.

Commissioners and city staff pointed out a similar change they made a few months ago to allow more flexibility in zoning rules at a property on West Seventh Avenue. The property, which had metal storage building, was sold and the new owner wanted to build a larger metal storage building. The storage building was not allowed in the area's current zoning, and the old shed was considered "grandfathered in" but the new shed would not be allowed unless the zoning was changed. Solander called that "spot zoning" and said he was opposed, and instead suggested changing the zoning rules to allow the storage use to continue with the new owner.

"In a smaller community with smaller areas within the zone, you often have situations arise that you don't really contemplate when you lay down hard and fast rules," he said.

Commissioners unanimously approved amending the zoning ordinance. Then they took up the issue of whether to allow a special use permit for Millington's shop. They asked him various questions about his intentions for the property, such as what type of equipment he planned to rent. Millington said he already rents large equipment like excavators, dump trucks and trailers that he keeps at a rural location. He plans to offer smaller items like tree pruning equipment and small cement mixers that will be kept inside the building.

Millington said he plans to tear down interior walls that were constructed as the building's use was modified over the years. He plans to open it up as one large space the way it was after it was first constructed as a grocery store, and will install an overhead garage door on the northeast side of the building.

Commissioners said they worried that Millington or a future owner would construct a fence, particularly a fence with unsightly barbed wire on top that could detract from the downtown area. Millington said that was unlikely.

Peine suggested the commission wait to vote on the issue until other residents in the community could learn about the plans and bring forward more concerns or suggestions. But Millington, Solander and the other commissioners said they had been working on the plans for several months and people who had an interest in the property already knew about the plans.

"The people who live in the area may have but the people who live in this community I don't think are necessarily aware of it," Peine said. "We're talking about putting an industrial use on a primary thoroughfare. Fourth Avenue is something we take a lot of pride in, in this community." Blackie and commissioner Greg Gwin voted to approve Millington's request, approving it despite Peine voting against it.

was announced two weeks ago. She said she has given applications for the program to one business owner and three residential property owners, who are waiting to see if the program is expanded before they apply. She said some of the calls came from people who purchased property in the recent delinquent personal property tax sale.

"People are anxious for this to happen so they can get on with repairs," she said.

The current agreement for the Neighborhood Revitalization Program expires this summer, which should be around the time the county and school board vote on the expansion proposal, Martin said. If those entities do not agree to expand the program, the property owner will be refunded only the city's portion of new taxes.

The program began as a way to encourage people to improve properties in blighted areas, Martin said previously. City leaders said recently they want to expand the program to encourage everyone to make improvements, and to take advantage of the momentum of various clean-up efforts the past couple of years, such as a massive community painting and porch repair project last summer.

In order to qualify for the program, a property owner must make at least $5,000 worth of improvements to a home or business, such as building a new addition, new construction or major remodeling.

Improvements like swimming pools, fences, parking lots and mobile homes do not qualify for the program. The property owner must be in compliance with city codes and regulations, and must be current on property taxes.

After a property owner's improvements have passed final inspection, the owner will receive a 95 percent rebate of the net "new" taxes paid resulting from the improvements. For example, if the improvements result in a $100 increase in property taxes over the previous year, the owner would receive a $95 rebate. The remaining 5 percent is retained by the county to cover administrative costs.

that fell over the area Sunday. So far for the month of April, the airport has reported a total of 2.65 inches of precipitation, still more than an inch shy of the average of 3.98 inches.

It's not unusual for snow to fall in April, although April snows typically don't add up to much more than a trace, according to state climatologist Mary Knapp. The last significant snowfall in April was seven years ago, when 4 inches fell on April 14, 2007. A trace of snow fell on other dates in April, but weather records do not show specifically when snow fell, Knapp said.

Historically, the biggest April snowfall was in 1926, when 8 inches of the powdery stuff blanketed Garnett. In 1938, 7 inches of snow was reported. Other measurable amounts fell in April in 1920 (3 inches), 1970 (2 1/2 inches), 1819 (2 inches), 1957 (1 inch) and 1937 (1/2 inch).

April also can be a cold month, Knapp said. Last year, the coldest temperature reported in April was 28 degrees on April 24. Cold weather continued into May 12, which hit a low of 35 degrees. Typically, the average last day of freezing temperature is April 14.

Kalamity Kate's last ride?

"Unfortunately, a page is missing."

Will those be the last publicly notable words of Kalamity Kate Sebelius, the most economically damaging governor in the history of Kansas and the hapless figurehead of the Obamacare debacle?

Don't bet on it. Like my grand dad used to say, a bad penny always comes back.

Surely you haven't already forgotten Kalamity Kate - who resigned last week as U.S. Health and Human Services Director after the comedy of errors that became Obamacare's national health insurance mandate continued with the botched sign-up website.

Remember? She's the same Democratic politico who, as Kansas Insurance Commissioner, blocked the owners' sale of Blue Cross/Blue Shield (that's the problem with a member-owned company; the members think they actually own the company!), then with her sidekick KDHE Secretary Rod Bremby blocked the $3 billion Sunflower Energy power plant upgrade at the company's Holcomb generation plant - the largest single private investment in Kansas ever to be derailed by a sitting Governor.

Her stellar career in public service was accented by her resignation last week, cut short during a heartfelt recap of the virtues of Obamacare to the uninsured when she realized she'd left a page out of her speech.

You know, you just can't make stuff like this up.

Of course her resignation was a foregone conclusion - it was just a matter of "when." Democrats sweating bullets over the upcoming U.S. Senate elections certainly didn't want Sebelius' face popping up on TV right at about the time the even-more-damning initial expense reports from Obamacare start showing up next summer. The hope among Democrats is that, in the Internet-distracted short-term memory of the American voter, all the old symbols of Obamacare will be gone come the midterm elections and there will be no competition for the inevitable stories of Republicans shooting themselves in the foot during the run up to those elections.

REVIEW COMMENTARY

DANE HICKS, Publisher

But fair warning, sports fans... just because she's down, don't count her out. Disgraced politicians tend to rise again like...

- New York's Anthony Weiner, whose sexting scandal cost him a congressional seat but it was forgive and forget with most NYC Democrats when he ran for mayor, until... oops- he did it again.

- New York Governor Elliot Spitzer, who resigned in 2008 after it was revealed he had spent thousands of dollars on prostitutes, now plans to run for NYC comptroller.

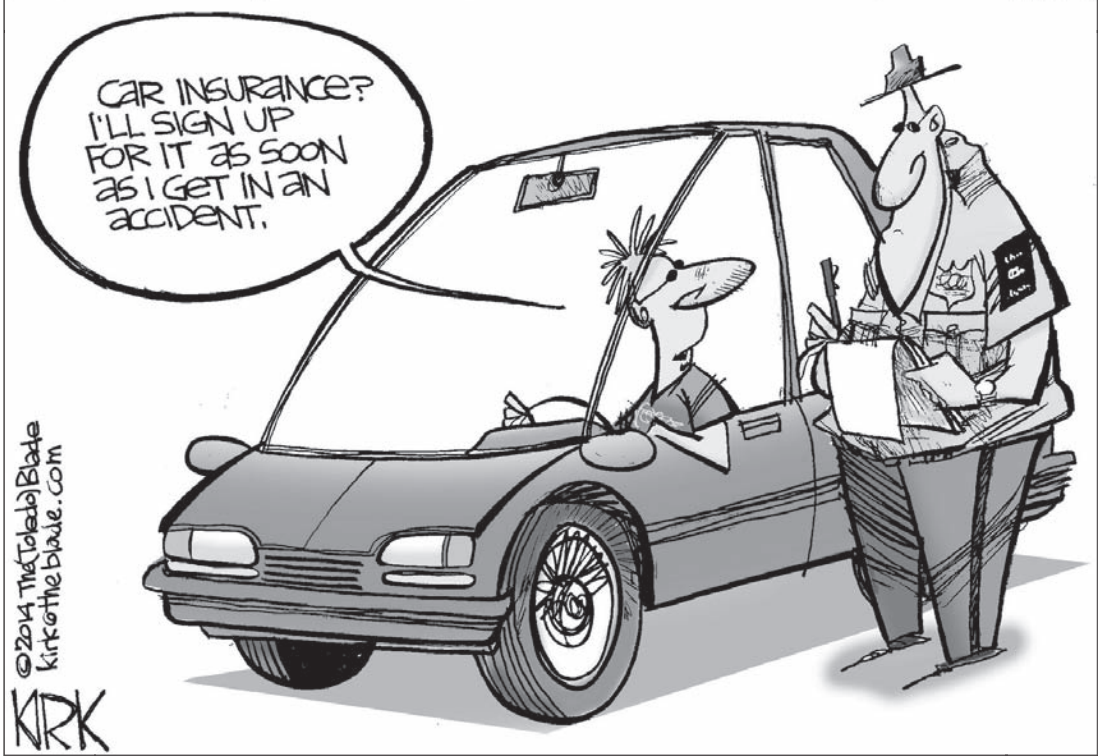

- Former Republican South Carolina governor Mark Sanford lasted to the end of his term but made great late-night joke fodder after admitting in 2009 that a 6-day supposed "hiking trip" on the Appalachian Trail had actually been spent in Argentina with his mistress.

- Congressional Republicans turned on House Speaker Newt Gingrich and defrocked him, just before word broke that he'd been having an affair with a staffer. But he ran for president in 2012 and is now considered a party elder statesman.

- The grand-daddy of them all of course is former President Bill Clinton, the only documented Oval Office fornicator in U.S. presidential history, impeached by the Republican congress but held up in modern times as the perennial patron-saint of the Democratic Party.

So when it comes to the damage, expense, pain and suffering wrought by Kalamity Kate Sebelius, maybe-just-maybe, we ain't seen the end of it yet!

Yeah, I think it's a shame that a staff member of USD 365 School District breaks up a happily married couple. How about it?

Ya, I would like to know how anybody would expect Holder to do anything about Warner with the IRS since he won't prosecute anybody else as a criminal. He doesn't prosecute the Black Panthers who are obviously in contempt on the voting. That he does not prosecute illegal aliens. So how can anybody expect him to prosecute anybody.

I wonder how all the people who will have a hospital in their backyard feel about it? Did it lower their home value? How is the large maintenance building allowed in a residential area? Regulations sure change for some selected few.

In regard to the comment last week about the woman being anti-family because she got divorced, how anti-family do you think it is to be a man who gets divorced with two small children and then who never pays any child support for them? Anti-family? I think so. Thank you.

Do any of the readers of the Phone Forum know what happened to Kelly Eckerman on the TV news. I used to watch her on there and now she's not there anymore. She was good. I liked her.

I thought every house in Garnett had to have a decent sidewalk? Has anybody noticed the rental apartment house owned by the city attorney on West Sixth? Not only doesn't have a decent sidewalk, there's no sidewalk at all. In front to 6th Street, none north of the house either. Is there different laws for different people?

The first amendment is such a nuisance

Every time the Supreme Court rules in favor of the First Amendment in a campaign-finance case, the left recoils in disgust.

The court's 5-4 decision in McCutcheon v. FEC is the latest occasion for the rending of garments and gnashing of teeth. The court struck down the limit on the aggregate amount a donor can give to candidates and political-party committees, ruling it incompatible with First Amendment protections for political expression.

The left pronounced itself outraged. The First Amendment is for strippers, flag burners, pornographers, funeral protesters and neo-Nazis, but not for people trying to give money to political parties or candidates.

In his decision for the court, Chief Justice John Roberts noted that contributing to a candidate is political participation just like volunteering for a campaign or urging others to vote. "Money in politics may at times seem repugnant to some," Roberts writes, "but so too does much of what the First Amendment vigorously protects."

The decision in McCutcheon should have been a slam-dunk. Campaign-finance law limits how much a single donor can give in an election cycle to $5,200 for a federal candidate and $64,800 for a party committee.

The court let these so-called base limits stand on grounds that under the landmark Buckley v. Valeo decision, direct contributions to candidates hold the greatest possibility for creating corruption.

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

RICH LOWRY, King Features Syndicate

But if you accept the base limits, the aggregate limits on the total anyone can give to candidates in a single cycle ($48,600) and to party committees and PACs in a single cycle ($74,600) make no sense. By the logic of the law, if a contribution to one candidate of $5,200 or less is not corrupting, there should be no fear that a donor giving a couple of dozen candidates that amount will be corrupting. Each of the candidates is receiving the proscribed amount or less.

Once a donor hits the aggregate limit, though, it functions as an outright ban on further donations to candidates or parties -- even though these donations aren't corrupting. This is an impingement of his political rights without any upside of preventing graft.

The critics of the decision object to it partly on egalitarian grounds: Very few donors have the resources to contribute enough to bump up against the aggregate limits, so the decision gives disproportionate influence to a few people.

A free political system always has such disparities.

At the root of the left's opposition to McCutcheon, and Citizens United before it, is that it reduces governmental control over the political process. That control is taken, ipso facto, to be a good thing.

Remember: The position of the Obama administration in oral arguments over Citizens United was that the government could ban books printed by corporations. Nancy Pelosi, the House minority leader, has proposed amending the First Amendment to give the government more latitude to limit political expression.

In his decision, Roberts writes "that the First Amendment 'is designed and intended to remove governmental restraints from the arena of public discussion, putting the decision as to what views should be voiced largely into the hands of each of us.'" For those lamenting the decision, that is precisely the problem.

Report will show if Brownback's plan works

While most Kansans with real lives are wondering whether the lawnmower will start this year, a bunch of us Statehouse habitués will be waiting to see what is happening to the Kansas tax base.

It's called the Consensus Revenue Estimate, and it will be released later this week and will predict just what the state is going to have in the way of tax income for the rest of this fiscal year—that's until July 1—and for the next fiscal year which we've cleverly named Fiscal Year 2015.

The CRE, as we call it, is compiled by the state's fiscal experts with some university help, and it will become the marker for figuring how much the state has to spend.

Now, there's no doubt that the state will have enough money to pay the bills that come due before July 1. The question is going to be how much money will be available for the next year, and that's tricky.

Gov. Sam Brownback, who had to swallow more income tax cuts than he was hoping for last year, knows that the tax cuts mean less state revenue for, well, everything the state spends money on or hands over to local units of government and schools for them to spend.

The concept was that if Kansans paid less income tax, they'll spend that money on other things that are subject to state taxes, ranging from the sales tax to liquor and cigarette taxes.

STATE COMMENTARY

But you never know the trends in spending and what that means to state revenues until the CRE looks at the tea leaves and makes the estimate on which the governor and the Legislature base spending decisions.

Is there an indication that Kansans are taking that income tax money they're saving and buying stuff? Or are the businesses that are now largely tax-free hiring workers who will pay income taxes and all?

Or, is it just too soon to tell? Has everyone adjusted their income tax withholding to account for lower tax rates, and are those businesses which aren't paying state income tax anymore expanding or are their owners just pocketing the money?

Or...did the massive income tax cuts actually put more money in Kansans pockets, but with the recession just over and the national economy not very healthy, are Kansans just afraid to spend it on those items that come with a "consumption" tax?

Because the fiscal experts who make the estimate are tied into many areas of the economy they'll be studying whether airplane sales are rising or whether there is enough rain for healthy crops or whether livestock diseases are likely to pare output—or increase prices, or both.

Yes, we'll get the best estimates of what state revenues are going to be for the end of this fiscal year and the predictions for the upcoming new fiscal year; there may well be more than just numbers to be read.

There may be a peek at whether the massive tax cuts are working.

Quilt guild plans programs for spring, summer

Minutes of the March 27, 2014 Meeting of the Pieces and Patches Quilt Guild

The Pieces and Patches Quilt Guild was called to order by President, Charlotte Lutz, at 9:30 AM in the meeting room of the K-State Extension Office. Roll call was answered by twenty-five members. Barbara Lee and Joleata Kent were guests. Guests are always welcome.

The February minutes were approved as printed in the Newsletter.

The Treasurer's report was given by Lynda Feuerborn.

Committee Reports
 • Block of the Month - Terrie Gifford showed this month's block in Gayle Metobo's absence. Anyone needing the instructions and picture contact Terrie.

• Programs - Bonnie Dieter handed out $5 coupons for the April 8 & 9 Rotary Radio Auction. Bryant from Country Fabrics donated a 1966 Singer Featherweight sewing machine for the auction.

• April 24 - regular meeting followed by a program on "Disappearing Pinwheel" by member Violet Holt

• May 10 - Square Fair and

Annual Quilt Show

• May 22 - regular meeting at the extension office

• June 26 - regular meeting (at the North Lake Park Community Building) followed by a Trunk Show by Ronnie Elmore called "Log Cabin Tales"

• July 24 - regular meeting (at the Archer Room at the Library) - $35.00 workshop - 1PM-4PM make a 2foot x 2foot barn quilt block

Because the Ronnie Elmore presentation is scheduled to be at the North Lake Park Community Building and the guild pays $50 to use the building, Bonnie asked the membership if they planned to charge. She said she has been to presentations sponsored by other guilds and they charge $5 with $2 off for anyone with a guild membership card. There was no decision. The Ronnie Elmore Trunk Show will be 11AM-1PM. Our regular guild meeting will be at 9:30 at the Community Building.

In the afternoon following our July 24 meeting, promoters of Quilt Block Barn Art will be here to help those registered make a 2 foot by 2 foot quilt barn block. Participants must register and pay $35.00. There is a maximum of 16 for this workshop. These positions will be filled by Guild members who have paid, then will be opened up to the public. For $35 we will get the primed board, tape, design drafted on the board and paint to complete a block. Our regular meeting is scheduled for the Archer Room at the library. Bonnie is checking to see if the library will allow painting in the Archer Room.

• May Quilt Show - Charlotte Lutz distributed the Opportunity Quilt ticket packets to members in attendance. The ticket price is 1 ticket for $1 or 6 tickets for $5. She will attempt to distribute tickets to those who were not in attendance. The Opportunity Quilt will begin to make its way around town. Terrie and Bonnie are taking it to the Heartland Quilt Network Annual Meeting and then will take the quilt to Lynn Wawrzewski at GSSB. Charlotte asked members to bring the purses we made at our February meeting to display at the Quilt Show.

• Scholarship - Chairman Ruth Theis reported that she received four applications from ACJSHS and two from Crest. She asked committee members to stay following the meeting to schedule a day to review the applications.

• Charity Quilts - Members asked what the best size would be for the Head Start program charity quilts. Recommendation was that 42" square would be okay.

• 2015 Opportunity Quilt - Judy Stuke reported that the next work day will be April 17. Nancy Kreibach showed two of the completed blocks.

• Anderson County Fair - Terrie Gifford showed the window cling picture for the theme "Country Pride County Wide". Fabric for the 2014 Anderson County Fair 12 1/2 inch block challenge will be selected soon and Country Fabrics will be selling the packets. Terrie and Ruth Theis showed the completed 2013 County Fair Challenge Block quilt top that was put together by five 4H members. Ruth, Carolyn Crupper and Terrie enjoyed working with these 4H members. The quilt will be delivered to Nancy Schuster, K-State Extension Agent, who plans to have it quilted by Brenda Weiens and auctioned off at the 2015 County Fair.

• 2014 Guild Challenge - Some members showed their completed challenge projects where they used the varying sizes of seven pieces of fabric from the challenge. Marlene Wahlburn showed a basket, a tablemat, and a purse. Marvella Harris showed a Tablerunner and a fabric house to hold Kleenex. Violet Holt showed a Kleenex holder, a table mat and a doll pillow. They were invited to select one of the excess pattern books from the Guilds Library.

• Old Business - There was no old business.

• New Business - Tammie Schaffer mentioned the Kansas Modern Quilt Guild Show April 5 and 6 at the Kansas City Star Pavilion. She is considering offering a beginning quilters workshop this summer with the target audience being 3rd - 5th grades and would welcome help.

• Secret Sister Gifts - Carrie Rulon received a Secret Sister Gift.

• Show and Tell - Several members showed their completed purses from the 18" quilted block lesson taught to us by our member Bonnie Dieter in February: Violet Holt, LouAnn Shmidl, Judy Stuke, Janie Paxton, Phyllis Gordon. Judy Stuke showed her completed Chain Quilt which had been the block of the month project several years ago led by Roberta Norman. Nancy Kreibach showed mug rugs she made from scraps and she donated them as prizes for the quilt show. Lynda Feuerborn showed a T-shirt quilt she made with her sister and she showed a quilt made of embroidered religious themed blocks made by Phyllis Mundell for the First Christian Church; it was quilted by Sandy Miller and bound by Lynda. Charlotte adjourned the meeting.

The "Shimmering Leaves" workshop by Donna Lynn Thomas followed our meeting.

City Commissioner Takes Oath

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 06-29-2010 / Photo Submitted

Gordon Blackie, City Commissioner, was sworn into office by Kristina Kinney, City Clerk, at the April 8, 2014 commission meeting. Commissioner Blackie was re-elected on April 1, 2014 for a 3-year term.

Tyson discusses education funding

The last week of regular session is always grueling and this one was no exception. One of the main topics of discussion was education funding. After the court ruling this spring, leadership chose to address the ruling by increasing K-12 funding and making changes to the Local Option Budget (LOB).

The first bill that was presented to the Senate, House Bill (HB) 2506, was not the final legislation that was passed. The Senate and House passed education bills and a conference committee was called to work out differences. On Sunday, the Senate passed the final conference committee report, HB 2506 on a vote of 22 to 16. The House later passed the bill and it was sent to the Governor.

The legislative process can be complicated, especially at the end of session when bills are bundled. This often happens and is something that myself and other legislators do not support but have to deal with until we can get the rules changed.

The final version of HB 2506 was several bills combined into one. The bill increases funding for K-12 and Higher Education, allows for bonding authority of construction projects at Fort Hays, K-State, and KU, requires a study commission for K-12 efficiencies, and makes changes to the Due Process (sometimes referred to as tenure).

The bill would allow local residents the option to increase the LOB from the current cap of $31 mil to $33. Any increase has to be voted on by local residents, unless your school district is already at $31. In that case the LOB automatically increases to $33. No school district in the 12th Senate district is above $30 mil. The only option in our school districts to increase the LOB is by a vote of the residents.

The bill also amends the Base State Aid Per Pupil (BSAPP) used in calculating the LOB from $4,433 to $4,490 until school year 2015-2016, reverting back to $4,433 June 30, 2017. As a result, most school districts will have to return the additional funds back to the property taxpayers unless they have a ballot initiative to determine an increase in the LOB allowing the school district to keep the increased funds.

The bill establishes K-12 commission to study more efficient use of taxpayer money. A main focus of the group would be in improving efficiencies in administrative functions. The Commission would have 9 voting members required to submit a report to the legislature by Jan. 9th, 2015.

The Due Process section of the bill would change the definition of "teacher" and make the due process procedures inapplicable to these professional employees. This would eliminate what is commonly referred to as tenure.

The bill would also create the Student Scholarship Program Act. An Act providing children with special needs or who come from low-income households scholarships to pay all or a portion of tuition to attend qualified nonpublic schools in Kansas. The program would be funded by donations from corporations who receive a tax credit for up to 70% of their donation. The total amount of credits allowed would be $10 million each year. A Scholarship Granting Organization (SGO) will be created to award scholarships. Scholarships would be capped at $8,000 per student. Qualified schools would be any nonpublic school that has notified the State Board of Education its intent to participate in the scholarship program.

A superintendent from our district came to Topeka to follow the process last week. As a result he wrote, "When the plan was first released this looked like a disaster... After having outstanding conversations with Representative Thompson and Senator Tyson they assured me they would do everything in their power to keep this from happening and they did. They listened and held to their word, that means a lot for our school in our community. They were looking out for our student's best interests and were already aware of the situation before I even communicated with them on the issue, that means a lot. I understand they did not agree with the entire bill in itself, but there was simply too much money on the table for them to take a chance of having this bill go back to its original form... I have a feeling from following these proceedings very closely; they were not far from that. I appreciate the efforts of the legislature, and especially the hard work of Representative Thompson and Senator Tyson on the funding piece of this school financing bill, as I said earlier, the other parts are not a huge concern in our school district at this time."

Legislators will return April 30th for Veto session. When we return, there will be a new Senator replacing Senator Apple as he resigned accepting an appointment to the Kansas Corporation Commission. It was a pleasure serving with Senator Apple and I wish him and his family all the best.

Please contact me with any questions or comments via phone 785.296.6838; email Caryn.Tyson@senate.ks.gov; or by mail, at Kansas State Capitol, 300 SW 10th St., Topeka, KS 66612.

Around Town

We welcome newcomers to our town. They are Roy Jones and family and John and Jessica Thompson and children. The Thompson's purchased the late Pearl Wells home on Gar Street.

Thelma Culler enjoyed her birthday when her husband took her to the Diner. Her son James Smart, LaHarpe, son Nathan, Manhattan, daughter Emily, LaHarpe visited. Phoning were Jerald Smart, Scipio (who later visited); Joseph Smart, Cincinnati, Ohio, and her granddaughter, Martie Irene Smart, Fairfax, VA. Others visiting were her sister and husband, Gurdon and Darlene Olsen, Greeley and friends Ron Cunningham and Darlene Hall who brought dessert.

Jane Ward celebrated her birthday Wednesday April 2 when Jeanie Ray hosted a party for her at the City Hall community room. Around 18 people brought a breakfast dish and birthday cake was also served. She received many cards.

Rain was welcomed April 2. High winds and large marble-sized hail along with a five-inch washing rain was received northeast of Colony. Roads were washed and in terrible shape, farm fences downed. The rain should give volunteer firemen rest, as there have been so many fires to fight lately. The barn of Ila Runner and the late Ronnie Runner burned April 2, allegedly was arson.

Sympathy is extended to area relatives and friends of Lawrence Herrmann, 85, (former Kincaid resident) who passed away March 31 at his home in Moran. Funeral services were Friday at the Kincaid Selma United Methodist Church. Burial followed at the Kincaid Cemetery.

Crest Celebrates Prom

Samples put you top-of-mind

A buddy of mine owned a convenience store several years ago and launched a new sandwich line with a sampling promotion I've remembered to this day - and stolen on occasion for myself.

C-stores don't make much money on gasoline - even at these prices - so their best bet to earn a profit is to sell you something when you come in the store, and to find something that makes you come in regularly. That's why just about every store you go in these days has a pizza counter, sandwiches, specialty coffees, not to mention all the other convenience store merchandise.

I don't recall the name of the sandwich franchise, but my friend Dave's launch idea was stellar. They made up a bunch of sandwiches of various types, sliced them all up into sample sizes, and just before lunchtime one day delivered free samples to all the businesses in town. It was free food right when we were all hungry!

Of course the sample included a handful of carry-out menus with the phone number prominently displayed for call-in orders. We kept those menus at every desk and pinned one to the bulletin board. I wonder how many dollars in sandwiches our small office bought from his store over the years until he sold it?

Sampling like that can be extremely effective, it's best with your own product but you can even use someone else's and still make a huge impression. Maybe you're a florist preparing for a big Valentine's Day promotion, and the first of February or so you buy some (or prepare them yourself) sandwiches from a local shop and follow Dave's route around town. Every woman in every office - as well as every man - is a possible sale for Valentine's flowers, and every one of them has a stomach.

Obviously it takes some time and there's the expense of the sample involved, but Dave probably fed me and my staff a few bucks worth of sandwiches that day and made customers out of us for years. Keep it in mind- sampling is a great way to sell stuff long after the sample is gone.

Heeling for Health set for April 26

Anderson County Hospital Foundation's 2014 Heeling for Health walk is scheduled for Saturday, April 26 at the ACJSHS track. The event will kick off at 6 p.m. with the introduction of teams. This year's walk will honor Everett Cox, Garnett, longtime Heeling for Health volunteer who has made sure for the last 13 years he was there to make announcements and call out prize winners. Everett has always donated his time and on one occasion made sure he found a substitute to work the event when he could not. He is an active volunteer in the community and always lends a hand to others when it is needed. Everett and his family will lead the first and last laps of the event. Sponsors for this year's event include: Zook Excavating, Garnett Rotary Club, Garnett Lions Club, Turner Construction, Auburn Pharmacy, Quality Structures Inc., WCNO, Central Mechanical Construction, Inc., Taylor Forge Engineered Systems, and Tom Adams Construction.

Sarah Holloran is organizing teams of walkers for the event. A team is made up of 10 friends, co-workers or family members. Teams are encouraged to have a team name and to wear a team "uniform" identifying their team. Each team has a captain to help organize the team effort. Team registration is $100 or $10 per member. Each team should have a member on the track walking at all times. Individuals can participate for a $10 fee.

1994: Trash builds up amid regulations

April 13, 2004

An Anderson County jury found a 17-year old not guilty of aggravated battery in connection with a stabbing during a fight at a teen beer bash in rural Anderson County last fall. He was accused of stabbing another 17-year-old at a rural location known as "the 45" in Monroe township last fall during a keg party alleged to have been a birthday party for an Anderson County High School football player.

Testimony gathered during the trial has boosted evidence law officers hope will lead to the conviction of the adults who purchased alcohol for the teen beer bash at which a teen was stabbed. County attorney Fred Campbell said testimony gained during the trial might give investigators leverage in prying from reluctant witnesses information about who supplied the alcohol to an estimated 40-50 teens.

April 14, 1994

A huge pile of trash that started to pile up at the Anderson County Landfill Tuesday forced the county commission into action Tuesday afternoon, and effectively closed discussion on the best way for the county to get rid of its solid waste. The county landfill was closed to municipal solid waste after the close of business Friday. The commission closed the landfill instead of complying with expensive new landfill requirements sent down from the Environmental Protection Agency. Instead of hiring a company to haul the trash, the county planned to haul its trash to a still-open Allen County Landfill near Iola using dump trucks the county road and bridge department uses to haul rock. But the dump truck method proved to be too slow to keep up with the incoming trash.

With the tearing in two of the curtain a new covenant was born

One of the texts used for Holy week is Matthew 27:50-53. This text at the time of Jesus death on the cross reads as follows. "And when Jesus had cried out again in a loud voice he gave up his spirit. At that moment the curtain of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom. The earth shook and the rocks split. The tombs broke open and the bodies of many holy people who had died were raised to life. They came out of the tombs, and after Jesus resurrection they went into the holy city and appeared to many people."

Christ's death was accompanied by four miraculous events, darkness, the tearing in two of the curtain in the temple, an earthquake and dead people rising from their tombs. At this time I will limit my discussion to the tearing in two of the curtain. In order to understand the significance of this event we must understand Jewish religious customs. The temple had three main parts; the courts, the Holy Place, where only the priests could enter and the Most Holy Place, where only the high priest could enter once per year to atone for the sins of the nation.

The tearing in two of the curtain symbolizes the end of the Old Covenant and the beginning of the New Covenant. No longer was direct access to God limited. The old system of sacrifice was temporary, was performed by a priest who ministered on earth, used the blood of animals, required many sacrifices of perfect animals and required a careful approach to the tabernacle. This system was also limited to Jewish people.

With the tearing in two of the curtain a New Covenant was born. The new system of sacrifice is permanent, Jesus is the high Priest, he ministers in heaven, he shed his blood one time and allows us to confidently approach the throne. The Schofield Study Bible states that, "The tearing of the curtain signified that a new and living way was opened for all believers into the very presence of God."

The key phrase is "A new and living way was opened for all believers." In 1st Timothy 2:5-6 Paul writes; "For there is one God and one mediator between God and man, the man Christ Jesus, who gave himself as a ransom for all men-the testimony given in its proper time."

Believe Jesus when he says that he is "the way, the truth and the life".

ACH 1 of 10 hospitals in Kansas to take part in life-saving program

KANSAS CITY (April 8, 2014) – Today the American Heart Association, in partnership with cardiovascular & EMS professionals across the state, announced 10 Kansas hospitals are actively participating in Project 10/30 – a statewide project designed to improve survival rates for those who suffer from the worst type of heart attack – STEMI. In Garnett, Anderson County Hospital participates as a STEMI-Referring hospital.

"Unfortunately, not all Kansans get equal access to heart attack care, therefore we set a goal to overcome the fact that where you live shouldn't determine the care you receive," said Jerilyn Rodgers, RN, MSN, CNL, chest pain program coordinator, The University of Kansas Hospital. "By using the tools and resources provided by Project 10/30, heart attack care across the state of Kansas can be viewed as an intricate connection between all hospitals and EMS systems so that every Kansan experiencing a heart attack has the best chance of survival."

An ST-Elevation Myocardial Infarction (STEMI) is a serious type of heart attack during which one of the heart's major arteries is blocked. Project 10/30 is specifically designed to improve the speed of recognition and treatment of patients experiencing this type of heart attack.

Project 10/30 is all about TIME. Geography should not determine whether you live or die," says Barbara Columbus, ACS program manager at Stormont-Vail HealthCare in Topeka, and co-chair of Northeast Kansas Mission: Lifeline. "People who live in rural areas, away from hospitals that can treat these emergencies, are especially at risk. By bringing together hospitals and EMS, we are closing the gap, increasing the ability of patients to reach treatment faster, which will ultimately save lives."

The "10" of Project 10/30 represents the 10-minute goal from the time a patient enters the facility to the time an EKG is performed. This 10-minute time goal has been established by the American College of Cardiology and the American Heart Association, and non-compliance of this time is still found to be a major cause of delay in patient treatment.

The "30" of Project 10/30 represents the time allotted from door-in to door-out, meaning once a patient enters their local healthcare facility, within 30-minutes a decision must be made to administer a clot buster OR they need to be transferred to a second-level healthcare facility.

"Essentially, our goal is to move Kansas patients through the system faster, so that they get the care they need in a timely fashion," said Kay Brown, Kansas quality improvement director, American Heart Association. "The faster you treat the STEMI, the better potential outcome a patient can receive."

American Heart Association studies show that in 2013, less than one percent of patients received treatment within the time parameters suggested by the association and the American College of Cardiology guidelines. These guidelines state that a treatment plan should be decided upon within 30 minutes of arrival of the first medical facility AND the patient should receive those treatments within 120 minutes of arrival.

Brown continued, "Because WHERE you live, shouldn't determine IF you live."

Project 10/30 was developed as part of the American Heart Association's Mission: Lifeline program establishing regional Systems of Care focused on STEMI and Sudden Cardiac Arrest Resuscitation. Through partnerships with the public, dispatchers, EMS providers & leaders, and hospitals, the association works to establish systems of care to improve the process and outcomes of cardiac emergencies.

For more information on Project 10/30, visit Kansas Mission Lifeline.

Bulldogs baseball striving for title

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - The Anderson County Bulldogs baseball team led by head coach Jeremy Ball and assistant coach Brad Huber will look to improve on last season's 2-16 finish in Ball's 5th year coaching the team.

Despite just two victories last season, the Bulldogs knocked off Prairie View for a regional play in game late last season. Coach Ball is banking on that victory to be a springboard for this year's team as he looks for the young players off of last year's squad to gain confidence going into the season.

The Bulldogs have seven returning letterman from last season. Seniors are middle infielder Ryan Alley, Tanner Lickteig will play all over the field as well as pitch, Bryce Dieker plays both corners on the infield as well as pitches and Zack Schroeder will find himself behind the plate catching as well as playing outfield.

The three underclassman that lettered are juniors Tyler Wolken and Vincent Trujillo and also sophomore Mason Skiles. Wolken will play first base as well as in the outfield. Trujillo will play the middle infield positions and Skiles will find himself all over the place defensively.

Ball stated that he feels his team will match up well with most league opponents as long as they play well. "Across the Pioneer League the teams should be pretty well evenly matched in terms of baseball talent," he stated.

Another key contributor will be junior Preston Emperley. Emperley transferred from Ottawa so he is new to the club, but he has an influential presence on the team by doing whatever is asked of him and playing where he is needed on any particular day.

With only two key contributors lost from a season ago, Weston Gilbreth and Steve

Dial, the Bulldogs return a solid nucleus that gained some much needed experience last season. "We have 10-14 guys who understand baseball and how it should be played. Everyone enjoys coming to practice every day to work," Ball said. "We lack depth though. We have three proven varsity pitchers that been effective. We will need to find the fourth and fifth pitchers in order for our team to be in good shape at the end of the season."

If everything works out as planned, Coach Ball feels his team goal of winning league is attainable.

Expectations high for AC track despite low numbers

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

Despite the lack of numbers for this year's ACHS Bulldog track teams, Coach Mike Sibley still has high expectations.

Coach Sibley is in his 13th season as a head coach and despite only having nine boys and 20 girls on the team he still stated, "Our number one goal is to get better each week but that is all focused on competing well and trying to win both league titles."

Coach Sibley went on to explain why this task will be especially difficult. "The Pioneer League continues to be more competitive and we will have to be at the top of our performance to compete for the league titles this year."

Last season the girls won the league title and the boys finished fourth overall. Key players lost from last year's team are boys Cale Hedges, Stephen Kaufmann and Tim Cornett. The girls squad lost Alexandra Garbarino and Amanda Moody. All of these athletes are competing in college this year.

Some of the key athletes to keep an eye on this coming season are Tanner Wilson and Zach Hilliard for the boys and Tayler Porter, Bailee Wilson and Gwen Sibley for the girls.

Wilson will be looking to make a return trip to state in the 800 meter run. Hilliard will lead the boys in the sprint events.

For the girls Porter looks to shine in the 2000 Meter Steeplechase, Wilson has worked hard in the off-season to be in top shape and Gwen Sibley who is returning as the pole vault record holder.

ACHS golf led by lone senior

GARNETT - The Bulldog golf team is young, but they couldn't ask for a much better tutor than senior Spencer Walter who is a three-year letter winner and three-year state qualifier. "Spencer will provide leadership and set a work ethic example," head coach Steve Lyon said. "We anticipate Spencer will qualify (for state) again this year."

Last season Walter picked up two wins, one at Osawatomie and the other on the home course in Garnett.

"Hopefully by the end of the year our sophomores will be very competitive and we will be able to compete for team medals," Lyons stated.

That challenge will be incredibly difficult with the loss of Jack Rickabaugh from last year's team. Rickabaugh was a four-year letter winner and also qualified for state all four years.

The squad consists of just two upper classmen. Walter, senior, and a junior Seth Wolken.

The team is sophomore laden as Bryce Feuerborn, Zack Miller, Quentin Sams, Isaac Kubacka and Andrew Johnson are all sophomores. The lone freshman on the team is Hunter Spencer.

ACHS Golfer finishes fourth twice

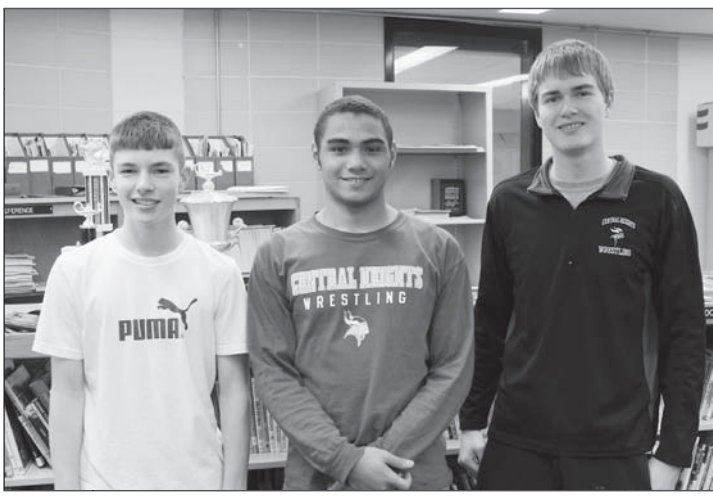

BURLINGTON - Spencer Walter competed in two different invitational golf events last Monday at Gardner-Edgerton and Tuesday at the Burlington Invitational and both times finished in fourth.

On Tuesday, Walter shot a

75 (+4) and finished in fourth place. There was a 3-way tie for first as they all shot a 72.

Wednesday the golf team traveled to Burlington. Walter, once again, was four strokes off the pace as he shot an 81 to finish in fourth place again.

Hunter Spencer and Seth Wolken both shot 95 and finished in 25th place. Not far behind were Zach Miller (98) and Quinton Sam (101) as they finished 28th and 31st respectively.

Vikings baseball looks to build on past success

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

Jason Brown's 12th season leading the Central Heights' baseball team will come with lofty expectations that will be tough to live up to with some key losses from last year's team.

The Vikings reeled off 17 wins to start last season as they got off to the first 17-0 start in school history. Unfortunately the team lost their final two games to finish the season 17-2, but it was still a great season.

It will be tough to repeat the success as lost from last season are several key contributors that were the heart of the team. The players that graduated are Trevor Burkdoll, Jordan Smith, Drew Beckwith and Adam Pryor.

The Vikings still return a solid nucleus to build on though. Senior Jordan Horstick will play shortstop and pitch. Tristan Davis, senior, will pitch and play centerfield. Coby Robertson is also a senior and will play third base and also pitch.

Three underclassman returning letterman will be relied on for key contributions as well. They are junior second baseman Chase Brown, sophomore catcher and pitcher Merrick Brown and sophomore first baseman and pitcher Jacob Pryor.

Coach Brown has big plans for this year's squad. His goals for the Vikings are to win the regular season title, league tournament, win Regionals and make some noise in the State tournament.

"Everyone in our league will be tough. I look for Wellsville and Iola to be towards the top," Coach Brown stated.

If the Vikings are to achieve their goals, all the returning letterman will have to contribute in a big way. It will also be vital for the newcomers to develop and help fill in the voids left by last year's seniors.

"Our philosophy is that you are only as good as your weakest player. We are one unit, not individuals," Brown said.

When talking about his teams' strengths, Brown feels his squad should be solid on defense. He is a little worried offensively though as he sees it as the biggest weakness heading into the season. He just hopes that his team will grow as the season progresses and turn the offense into a strength of the squad as well.

Bulldogs sweep doubleheader against Central Heights

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW
GARNETT - The Anderson County Bulldogs squared off against the Central Heights Vikings in baseball last Tuesday and swept a pair of games in a doubleheader. The Bulldogs won the first game 5-0 and followed that impressive performance with an 8-5 win in the nightcap. In game one, Preston Emperley started on the mound of the Bulldogs and pitched seven solid innings while shutting out the Vikings offense. Emperley allowed just three hits and walked three batters while striking out seven. "Preston threw well and gave our defense good situations to handle. We made the routine plays that good teams need to make in order to help out our pitchers," Bulldogs head coach Jeremy Ball said.

Offensively the Bulldogs didn't exactly light up the scoreboard but they did produce just enough offense to pull out the victory. Six different players accounted for the six hits, with two of them being doubles. Bryce Dieker led the team by driving in two runs. Coby Robertson was on the hill for the Vikings. Hill went 5 innings and only allowed one run, which was unearned.

The bullpen couldn't close the door on the Bulldogs though as they tacked on two runs in both the fifth and sixth innings to give themselves some breathing room. In the second game of the doubleheader, both teams fired up the offenses as the Bulldogs once again prevailed this time by a final of 8-5. "Central Heights came out this game and hit the ball well, putting pressure on our defense the last half of the game. Defensively we made the plays that we were able to make to keep us in the game and give us a shot at the end to win it," Ball stated. Offensively, Tanner Lickteig, Brady Rockers and Emperley all picked up two hits each. The Vikings head coach, Jason Brown discussed his teams' struggles early on this season. "We are struggling at the plate right now. We have some very inexperienced players who are just now learning the game. We have a lot of basic stuff to work on before we can get to where we want to be," he said.

Vikings fare well at track meet

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW
RICHMOND - Central Heights opened their track season at home as they hosted the Central Heights Invitational. The boys finished the meet in seventh place overall with 41 points and the girls finished with 51.5 points which was good for sixth place as a team. The host Cass-Midway High School won both the boys' and girls' with scores of 113 and 116 respectively. Winning first in their event for the Vikings was Regan Markley in both the shot put (33' 34") and discus (92'4 3/4"). Markley rounded out her impressive performance with a second in javelin. Other girls placing for the Vikings: Brianna Erhart - long jump (5th), 100m high hurdles (4th), 300m hurdles (4th), high jump (6th)

Kenzie Laird - pole vault (4th) On the boys' side, the only event they picked up a first place was in shot put as Tanner Erhart threw for 52'1". Other boys placing for the Vikings: Gavin Holler - pole vault (2nd) Tyler Hendron - discus (2nd) Chance Schooler - discus (4th) Jake Savage - javelin (2nd) Jones - javelin (4th) Cameron Hampton - 110m high hurdles (6th)

Eudora rallies late to down Bulldogs

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW
 A 9-7 advantage for the Bulldogs quickly turned into a 21-9 defeat at the hands of the Eudora Cardinals. The Cardinals and Bulldogs would go back and forth for the first three innings, but ACHS had no answer for the 10-run fourth inning that would eventually end all hopes at a victory. The Bulldogs led 3-1 after the first before the Cardinals answered with 5 in the top of the 2nd and one more in the top of the third to take a 7-3 lead. ACHS answered in impressive fashion with 6 runs in the bottom half of the third to take a 9-7 lead. Pitching and defense fell apart in the final two frames though as the Cardinals scored 10 in the fourth and four more in the fifth. "Defensively we had a handful of routine plays that we did not make that were greatly needed to end innings. When you give a good hitting team like Eudora extra chances, they well eventually make you pay," head coach Jeremy Ball said of his teams struggles to stop the big innings.

Vikings travel to Cass-Midway for track

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW
CLEVELAND, MO - In their second track meet of the year, the Central Heights' track teams traveled to Cass-Midway High School to take part in a meet with 14 other schools. The girls team finished in 3rd place overall and the boys finished in 6th place. A trio of girls led the Vikings team to the solid finish. Brianna Erhart placed 4th in the 300m hurdles, 2nd in the 100m hurdles and 5th in the high jump.

Emily Holloman ran her way into a first place finish in the 100m dash with a time of 13.64 and 4th in the 200m run. Regan Markley earned gold in discus with a launch of 94'7" and finished 2nd in shot put. Other girls placing were Kenzie Laird in pole vault with a 4th place finish. The 4x100 relay team of Erhart, Markley, Holloman and Alyssa Jones finished up in 4th place. On the boys' side, Tanner Erhart reigned supreme in shot put with a heave of 47'8" to finish first. Tyler Hendron showed his strength as well as he finished third in both discus and shot put. Cameron Hampton finished 6th in the 300m hurdles, Cole Sheldon finished 6th in both the 1600m run and 6th in the 800m run. Chance Schooler finished 2nd in the discus as well as being part of the 4x400 relay team that finished 4th. Gavin Holler finished 4th in pole vault.

Santa Fe jumped up early on the Bulldogs as they scored 2 runs in the first and 4 in the second to take an early 6-0 lead on their way to a 10-3 victory. The AC girls got their first run in the third inning. Magner led off the inning with a walk and was able to get around to score to cut the lead to 6-1. The Chargers responded by scoring two runs in the bottom half of both the fourth and fifth innings. The Bulldogs were able to plate a run in both the sixth and seventh inning, but it wasn't nearly enough. The final game of the day saw the Chargers control the game, 10-0. Santa Fe Trail took command in the bottom of the first. The first three batters reached and scored on their way to an early 4-0 lead. The Chargers put the game away by scoring 3 runs in the fourth and 2 more in the fifth.
