Dry weather leads to unusual January grass fire problems

Fire officials urge caution when burning after a dozen area fires

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — Extremely dry weather conditions have led to an unusual increase in January grass fires, and emergency management officials urge people to be extra cautious when burning trash or other items, or even when throwing away cigarettes.

Rural fire crews have been called to at least a dozen out-of-control grass fires since the first of the year, Emergency Management Director J.D. Mersman said Monday. In a typical year, crews will be called to just three or four of those types of fires, he said.

Two of those fires damaged property, including one that destroyed five vehicles that were being recycled for parts. Another out-of-control grass fire Friday, Jan. 23, caused about $5,000 in damage to a vacant farm house.

The lack of rain and snow last year and into the first few weeks of 2015 have created very dry conditions that make it easy for fires to spread out of control, Mersman said.

"It's definitely picking up. We don't usually see an increase until February, March and April when regular burning begins," he said, referencing spring pasture burning that

Today is deadline to file for spring elections

Only contested race so far is in USD 479

Crest school board race

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

With a deadline looming at noon today, so far it looks like there will be just one contested race — in the USD 479 school board — in the coming spring elections. Numerous school boards and city council seats will be up for election Tuesday, April 7.

The deadline to file for election is noon today at Garnett City Hall for a Garnett city commission seat, and at the clerk's office at the Anderson County Courthouse in downtown Garnett for all other positions. Up for election this spring are four seats each on school boards for USD 365 (northern Anderson County schools) and USD 479 (Crest schools in southern Anderson County), as well as all mayor and city council seats in the cities of Colony, Kincaid, Westphalia and Greeley.

Two board members also will be elected for the Frontier Extension District, which added Anderson County's K-State Research and Extension office in July. At that time, four board positions were appointed. Two of those board seats will be up for election this spring, and two seats will be up for election in two years. Board members will serve four years from the election, with no term limits.

USD 479, the Crest school district, so far has the only race expected to be challenged. Incumbent David Milner and Richard Weber both have filed for the District 3 position on the school board.

The Crest district also is like-

LAB WORK

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 1-27-2015 / Vickie Moss

Brian Ward, a field engineer with New Jersey-based Ortho-Clinical Diagnostic, works to reassemble part of the Vitros chemistry analyzer machine that was moved Monday from the old Anderson County Hospital building to the new laboratory at the new hospital building. The three-year old equipment runs 40 different kinds of tests, and runs about 250 tests per day for the hospital, laboratory manager Margie Bunnell said. It was the largest piece of equipment to be moved to the new lab, and was expected to take about six to eight hours for readjustments after the move. Hospital staff kicked the hospital's equipment move into high gear last week as they prepare to move patients into the new building Thursday, Jan. 29. That will mark the official opening of the new hospital and closing of the old, although demolition and parking work remain. Pictured watching Ward are, from left, Shawn Blankenship with Ortho-Clinical Diagnostic, Bunnell and Michael McCullar of Garnett, who is regional manager for Ortho-Clinical.

City mulls variety of airport improvement issues

Mayor questions plans for future development as money matters arise

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — Plans to improve the Garnett Industrial Airport could get a boost from a federal aviation grant, and city leaders plan to review a possible proposal to sell some nearby land for industrial development.

City commissioners and staff talked about the airport during their regular meeting Tuesday, Jan. 13, and plan to schedule another meeting to consider a prospective buyer's plans for industrial land near the airport. Discussion in both areas was preliminary, and city commissioners had questions that will need to be addressed before either topic moves forward.

First, City Manager Joyce Martin asked commissioners to consider how to spend a $150,000 federal aviation grant that is available to the city. The grant would pay for 90 percent of the cost of improvements to the airport, with the city to kick in 10 percent. Martin suggested the city spend the money to resurface the tarmac, build another hangar, purchase a lawnmower and complete requirements to bring the airport building up to standards for the Americans with Disabilities Act. She estimated those four projects would cost about $140,000, and would need to be approved by the Federal Aviation Administration. If the city doesn't use the grant money, there's no guarantee the city will receive similar grants in the future.

But Mayor Preston Peine said he would rather see money spent on other airport needs, like land acquisition and runway extensions. Long-range plans for the airport include those types of projects, which the city has been working toward. Martin said stipulations for the grant wouldn't allow it to be used for such purposes.

City commissioners did not make any decision on the matter, and Martin said she would continue to examine the city's options.

The airport came back up later in the meeting when Dennis Arnold, economic development director, said he was working with a prospective buyer who was interested in land near the airport. Arnold wanted city commissioners to meet to discuss some important issues related to such a sale, such as what price the city would be willing to set for the property and a tentative schedule for improvements like

Business of the Year

The Scipio Supper Club is being recognized for its reputation as a social gathering spot and site of birthdays, anniversaries, class reunions and company parties for more than 60 years. It has served as the venue for occasional live music, including as a stop on the Second Saturdays circuit. The business also supports numerous charities including WINGS, Garnett Rotary Club Scholarship Program, American Legion Riders Scholarship Program, American Legion Baseball team, Spina Bifida Foundation and the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, and more.

Scipio Supper Club was opened in 1955 by Jerry and Loma Kipper at the site of the former 1916 "Scipio Telephone Company" location. Over the years, several owners ran the business until it ended up in the possession of Janet Alexander, who has worked for the business for more than 25 years — 14 of those as owner. In 2010, Alexander sold shares in the business to 21 stockholders.

The business is about a mile east of U.S. 59 at 32465 NE Neosho Road and is open Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays beginning at 6 p.m.

many farmers utilize to control weeds and improve nutrient quality.

"Everything right now is so dry, even the smallest cigarette or spark that reaches grass is a potential fire," Mersman said.

He recommends people be extremely cautious when burning. Many of the recent fires have been caused by someone burning trash in a container, when an errant spark ignited nearby grass.

Someone burning trash in a container with a mesh cover is not required to obtain a burn permit before burning, but most other types of outdoor burning require a burn permit. To obtain a permit, simply call Anderson County dispatchers at (785) 448-6823 and provide basic information like name, address and the type of burn. a road to the site.

The city has set aside 40 acres of land zoned for industrial use near the airport, in hopes of attracting businesses that would benefit from having easy access to the airport. The name of the airport was changed from the Garnett Municipal Airport to the Garnett Industrial Airport to reflect those intentions.

But Arnold said he discovered possible complications dating back to the airport's construction in 1940. He said because the airport was built using Federal Aviation Administration money, any use for the property other than the original use would require special permission from the FAA. He said the city's intentions for the land likely wouldn't be a problem, but he would need to continue to research the issue. He wanted to meet with city commissioners after he obtained more information about those restrictions, but also wanted to schedule the meeting soon enough to provide answers for the prospective buyer.

Peine said he was concerned about selling the land for industrial use, afraid it would limit the city's options for the airport's future development. He also didn't like that although the city could provide some utility services, it would not be able to provide electricity, because the location is under contract with Lyon-Coffey Electric. That means any new business would not be a new electric consumer for the city, and Garnett would lose that potential revenue.

Arnold and Martin said the industrial development plans were put in place years ago, long before Peine joined the commission, and the city already has invested in the site by providing some infrastructure with plans to do more. They said the city had few other options for available land to entice industrial development. Arnold said it would be very difficult and costly to reverse course at this point.

City leaders were expected to meet on the matter by the end of the month or early February.

ly to see at least one new face on the board after the April election. The District 1 seat on the board currently is vacant; Pam Adams has filed for that position.

Another incumbent, Tadd Goodell, has filed to keep his District 2 seat. The fourth position up for election is District 7, currently held by Terry Ellis. As of Monday afternoon, no one had filed for that position.

Voters in USD 365 also will select four board members. As of Monday afternoon, all incumbents had filed to retain their positions, and no one was challenging them. They are Gaylene Comfort, Dist. 1; Gary Teel, Dist. 2; Dwight Nelson, Dist. 3; and Cleon Rickel, At-Large (Dist. 7).

In city elections:

Garnett

So far, Preston Peine is unchallenged for his seat on the Garnett City Commission. Peine has filed for a second term on the commission.

Anyone interested in running for commissioner for the City of Garnett should file with the City Clerk at City Hall, 131 W. Fifth Ave., Garnett, by noon today, Jan. 27. For more information, call Kristie Kinney at (785) 448-5496.

Kincaid

Carolyn Whitcomb, Darlene Stewart and Cristin Fuller have filed for three of five council member positions in the City of Kincaid.

Westphalia

Ryan Tastove has filed for a city council position in Westphalia, and Merlin Carpenter has filed for mayor.

Typically, positions that no one files for are filled by the person with the most write-in votes during the election, if that person agrees to serve.

Anyone interested in filing for those council, mayor or school board positions should file at the county clerk's office at the courthouse in downtown Garnett by noon Jan. 27. For more information, call (785) 448-6841.

Frontier Extension District

Nancy Horn and Karen Gillespie have filed for two open seats on the Frontier Extension District board. Horn was appointed to the board when Anderson County joined the district in July; also appointed at that time was Robert Miller, who chose not to file for the position. Gillespie hopes to take Miller's seat, and likely will unless someone chooses to fight her for it.

The district also includes Franklin and Osage counties. Each of those counties also will elect two board members.

The State of Oblivion address

So, you're an average working stiff who wanted to send your kid to college. Dummy. You believed it when you heard over and over that education was an investment worth making in your child's future. Ding-bat. When he or she was barely able to walk, you followed the advice of all the smart people and started a payroll deduction for your kid's education fund. You just got used to never seeing that money – out-of-sight, out-of-mind – foregoing the Harley or the bass boat or the fishing cabin down on the river. You learned to live without it in exchange for knowing money was going to be there when your child needed it for college. The greatest thing you can give your kid, afterall, is an education, right?

DANE HICKS, Publisher

for people who actually saved their own hard-earned money for college. The Robin Hood of Redistribution sees only robbing the rich and giving to the poor – with no acknowledgment to the fact that many of us fall in between.

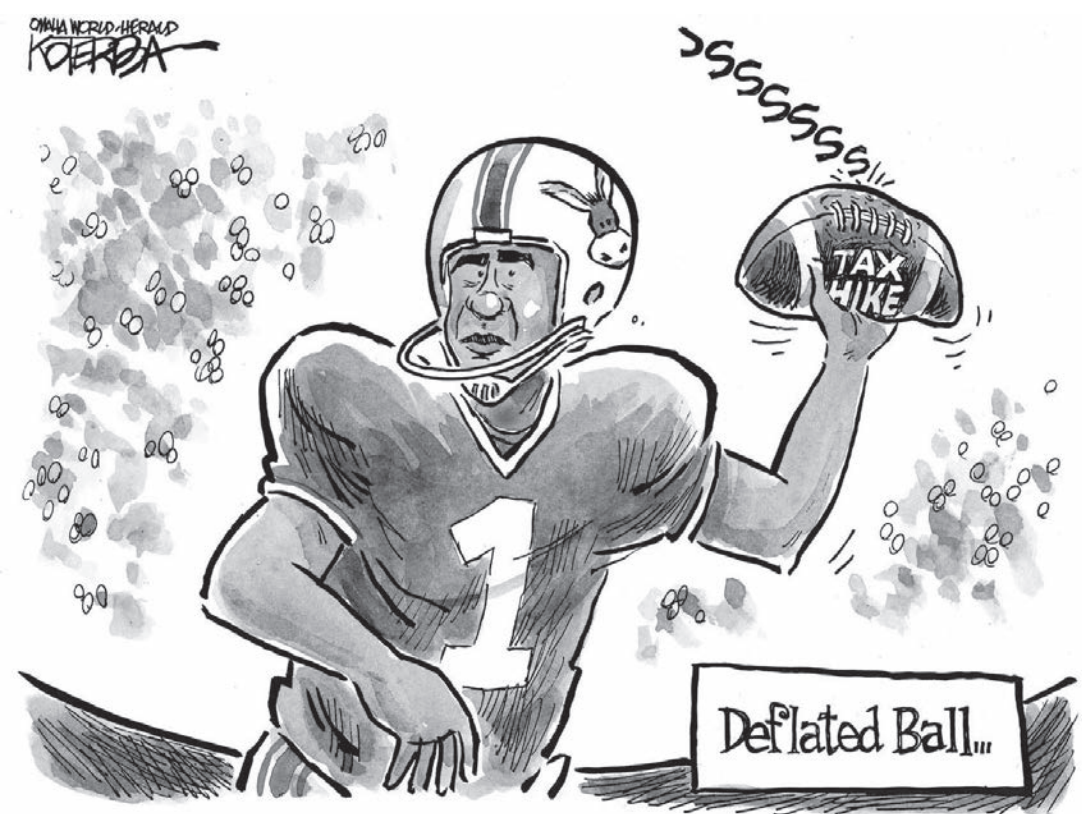

Republicans, of course, who recently swept congressional elections thanks to widespread disenchantment with the president and now have majorities in both the U.S. House and Senate, will never approve a plan that makes Joe Six Pack give up any of his college fund to Joe Five Pack.

In keeping with the tone of the rest of the president's State Of Oblivion address, this proposal shows the president still hasn't come to grips with the reality that his general philosophy of income redistribution and liberal cause has been repudiated by the country.

A Republican wave has swamped both houses of Congress – the same Congress Democrats controlled when he was elected. That didn't happen for no reason. Obama's overtures to working with Republicans in congress during last week's address never even mentioned the weight of the GOP now holding both houses.

In Obama's mind, he and his views still have relevance in both the public eye and in Congress. He has enlightened the Cro-Magnon small government folks with the academic worth of socialism. In his view, skewed by a full first term of celebrity worship sans substance, he's still the bride at every wedding and the corpse at every funeral.

It is the telltale cue of both what has been and what is to come. There will be no leadership for the country except what can be mustered by the House and Senate over the next two years. The president's State of Oblivion is sound.

The story of Pete and the Pope

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

BOB FRANKEN, King Features Syndicate

Back at the beginning of my TV career, in Cleveland local news, on-camera minority reporters were few and far between. Our business was just discovering the imperative of diversity. We had just one on our staff, a guy named Peter. Pete taught me a lesson that I've remembered through the decades.

The KKK was having a gathering in Cleveland, and, for some ridiculous reason, Pete was assigned to cover it. Pro that he was, he went to the event and ended up doing an interview with the grand dragon. Happily, the cameraman made sure to stay in a two-shot as the Klan guy described blacks as "beasts of burden" and "mules." Imagine the impact of the image on the screen: Pete's placid demeanor as he held the mike without outwardly reacting to the racist pig's spewed hatred. It was a profoundly effective condemnation of bigotry.

Sadly, it is not the way most of us usually react to deeply offensive attacks. Take the gratuitously malignant cartoons that the French magazine Charlie Hebdo routinely publishes ridiculing Islamic and other religions' sensibilities in the most juvenile, gross ways. Of course, we know that violent assassins presenting themselves as Muslim extremists launched a murderous attack in response to the cartoons depicting Muhammad. They killed a dozen people and spawned other fatal assaults.

Millions of us, to show our support for discussing ideas in an unrestricted way, quickly embraced the mantra "Je Suis Charlie" ("I Am Charlie"). But I want to change that to say "Je suis libre expression" ("I am free expression"). Pardon the cliche, but I can despise what they say while defending to the death their right to say it.

Predictably, Islamaphobes everywhere then used the unspeakable attacks to reinforce their long-held bigotry. They pointed out that millions of Muslims admit that they sympathize with the assailants or least understand what motivated them.

This is sad, because there is no justification for impeding the articulation of ideas, no matter how objectionable. Period. But the belief that somehow religion is set apart is not limited to Muslims. The pope himself has weighed in when he told reporters: "You can't provoke. You can't insult the faith of others. You cannot make fun of the faith of others. There is a limit." If, for instance, said the pontiff, "someone speaks badly of my mother, he can expect to be punched."

I've never publically contradicted a pope before, but, Your Holiness, you are flat-out wrong. In a free society, you can insult the faith of others. Without being punched or, by extension, killed. It may be juvenile, it may be crude, it may be outrageously anti-social, but it's allowed and in a perverse way celebrated even by those of us who, in our own conversation, try to adhere to loose rules of civilized discourse.

Cheap shots are the tactics of fools, but being a fool is not a capital crime. Unfortunately, there are those homicidal zealots who might get the wrong message from the pope's words, that violence is somehow justified, and frankly, he should have known that.

Usually, the most devastating response to obnoxiousness is no response. That's the lesson my colleague Pete taught me, and it should guide all of us.

The Return of the War Hero

Clint Eastwood's new movie, "American Sniper," marks the return of the American war hero.

Heroism on the battlefield had never gone away, of course, far from it (witness the Medal of Honors awarded for acts of extraordinary valor in Iraq and Afghanistan). But the classic war hero is more than just brave or fierce. He is famous and almost universally acclaimed. On top of his battlefield exploits, he is a cultural phenomenon.

That is what "American Sniper" unquestionably makes of Chris Kyle. The late Navy SEAL sniper had already written a best-selling memoir and was known as "The Legend" within the military for his record number of confirmed kills during four tours in Iraq. The success of the movie, where he is played by Bradley Cooper, also means he will be remembered as a larger-than-life figure. Such is the power of the silver screen.

"American Sniper" had the largest opening weekend ever in January. It is producing the kind of numbers usually reserved for mindless comic-book superhero movies. It has played especially well in Middle America, with its top-grossing theaters in places like San Antonio, Oklahoma City, Houston and Albuquerque.

All of this is profoundly disquieting to the left, which has so much sway in Hollywood. It hates and distrusts the idea of the war hero, believing it smacks of backwardness and jingoism. Its notion of compelling war movies were the tendentiously anti-war flops "Green Zone," "Stop-Loss" and "In the Valley of Elah." Its reaction to "American Sniper" has been to belittle the movie and smear Chris Kyle.

RICH LOWRY, King Features Syndicate

Actor Seth Rogen compared "American Sniper" to the Nazi propaganda film featured in the movie "Inglourious Basterds." Director Michael Moore tweeted that he'd been taught to consider snipers cowards. Kyle "was a hate-filled killer," according to The Guardian, which also deems him "a racist who took pleasure in dehumanizing and killing brown people." One member of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences -- "American Sniper" is up for best picture -- told the website TheWrap that Kyle "seems like he may be a sociopath."

One can only imagine, in this spirit, the criticisms that might have been made of past American war heroes. Why did John Paul Jones have such destructive urges toward British shipping? Did Joshua Chamberlain have to be so bloodthirsty when under assault on Little Round Top? What was wrong with Alvin York and Audie Murphy that they were so obsessed with killing Germans?

Despite the reaction against it in some quarters, "American Sniper" is hardly a simplistic glorification of warfare. It shows its terrible cost, in lost and broken lives. The New Yorker, accurately, calls it "a devastating pro-war movie and a devastating anti-war movie." Kyle himself is nearly consumed by the horrors of what he experienced in Iraq, and his tragic death at the hands of a disturbed vet is a heartbreaking coda to his service.

Chris Kyle, who had his flaws like anyone else, wasn't a saint. He was an exceptional warrior whose bravery and feats on the battlefield will now be remembered for a very long time. He is, in short, a war hero.

What were these Legislators thinking?

While we're waiting for Gov. Sam Brownback to decide just what he wants to do with property tax authority for school districts, there are some less fractious bills being introduced by Kansas legislators as they near the deadline for bills that they thought up themselves.

We have until Feb. 11 for those individually sponsored bills to be introduced, and they are starting to trickle in. Like the measure that someone should have thought of years ago, or some that probably...well, you wonder what was going on when they were thought of at all, let alone introduced into the Legislature.

Take a pretty bright idea, thought up by Republican Rep. Travis Couture-Lovelady, of Palco, whose district is mostly two-lane highways.

The bill: It allows you to exceed the speed limit on a two-lane highway with a speed limit of at least 50 mph, by 10 mph while passing a slower vehicle. Apparently Couture-Lovelady isn't the only one who has been trapped behind a cruise-controlled car doing a solid 63 mph in a 65 mph zone, and wondering whether you can pass it without getting in trouble...or staying in that opposite-traffic lane for longer than you want.

That brief 10 mph exemption from the speed limit gets you past the slower car quickly. Not a bad idea.

But then someone thought up—and we believe it was Secretary of State Kris Kobach—a straight-ticket ballot for general election voters. The concept? It's quick and convenient for voters who would otherwise spend time sorting out candidates of one party or another, voting for all of their favorite party's candidates, and then rechecking to make sure he/she didn't miss one somewhere along the way.

For those straight-ticket voters, the party choices would be Republican, Democratic and Libertarian and well, we're figuring that they would save enough time that some might just leave the kids in their car seats while the parents go inside the voting place to perform their duties as citizens. Might take less time than running into the convenience store to pick up a carton of milk...

Another of those ideas by someone elected to the House of Representatives is to prevent cities and counties from passing any regulations on sales, ownership, storage, carrying or taxing of guns or ammo. Oh, and if your city or county has any of those regulations, well, they disappear on July 1. Not sure whether that means you could buy a gun and that carton of milk from that convenience store on election day while your child is still strapped into the car seat while you straight-ticket voted or not, but that might be something we learn during hearings.

And that property tax issue? Whether by scrapping the state's admittedly complicated but constitutional—though under-funded—school finance formula Brownback intends to alter the property tax authority of school districts?

Well, it's still being worked out. Practically, the amount of state funding alone for local school districts isn't enough to operate the schools and teach the kids, but there's growing understanding that the plan will at least maintain property tax authority for local school boards.

How much local taxing authority? And how the proceeds from those local taxes can be used? How much authority are local boards going to get to make up for the reduction in state money with local property taxes?

And, will any additional local property tax increases trigger politically dangerous-at-the-ballot-box reaction either at the local or state legislative level, possibly derailing for some that convenience of straight-ticket voting?

No word yet.

Check out local shops

Dear Editor,
I would like to take this opportunity to thank my loyal and new customers for a strong holiday season. I've been in business for over 13 years, and it still surprises me how often shoppers will say it's their first time in the store. They also share these sentiments about other local venues. What a shame! There are many wonderful stores locally that offer great products and conveniences, not to mention paying tax dollars to help make Garnett a great place to live.

Please shop at some of the stores you've never been to, and revisit some of the ones where it's been awhile. With your support, Garnett will be a thriving community. Let's all work together to keep businesses healthy and avoid a future of going out of business signs and shuttered storefronts.

Thanks again for a great 2014, and in 2015 let's make Garnett a thriving – not a driving – community.

This Banthrico coin bank is a reproduction model of a 1920s Cadillac. Banthrico was known for its coin banks, which typically were given out by financial institutions when someone opened a new account.

Banthrico, 'The Coin Bank People'

How about this vintage 1920's Cadillac! Actually it's a reproduction model coin bank, made by Banthrico Company of Chicago, Illinois.

Banthrico Motto: "The Coin Bank People."

In 1931, Jerome Aronson and Joseph Eisendrath purchased the business and equipment of Banker's Thrift Corporation, creating a new company with the abbreviated name of Ban-thri-co. Both Banker's Thrift and its subsidiary, Stronghart, were well-known makers of coin banks.

Although Banthrico continued the Banker's Thrift and Stronghart name during the 1930's, most banks were clearly incised with the Banthrico name in the base and/or the trap door on the bottom of the bank until the company was sold to Toystalgia in 1985.

Banthrico made over 900 different metal banks, most were sold to financial institutions, who gave them out as "Free" gifts when opening new saving's accounts. Many of these bank designs included: famous politicians, actors, college mascots, fictional characters, animals, birds, fish, household items, food products, modes of transportation, and buildings, particularly those of the financial institution giving away the premium.

Most Banthrico banks were made of "white metal" consisting of 95% zinc, 5% aluminum and traces of copper, brass and lead. The production of the banks required a highly skilled work force, including a sculptor, mold maker, engraver, chemist and a metallurgist. The production was done by hand.

The castor poured the molten metal into each mold separately. Later, imperfections and burrs were removed with a belt sander and buffing wheel. The banks were then colored through an electroplating process and a clear lacquer was applied.

True Banthrico marked banks are becoming harder and harder to find, therefore the value keeps increasing.

Pricing for Banthrico banks can run from $10 to several $100 dollars - condition and rarity always being the deciding factors.

Note: Luckily I even have the Key to my bank.

2005: New sheriff plans changes

Jan. 25, 2005

Lt. Colonel William Walker, a Garnett attorney, was mobilized last summer with his Army Reserve JAG unit for legal service in the allied combat zone in Iraq. He provided an account of his experience in this week's Review.

Anderson County Sheriff Scot Brownrigg told county commissioners he wants to make a few changes in his department, but the immediate needs of the department will need to be addressed before any long-term changes are made. Brownrigg, who has been in office just two weeks, spoke to commissioners at their weekly meeting last Monday. He said the department was short one deputy, with Vernon Valentine being on active duty in Iraq. He said he could not hire a permanent replacement for Valentine, nor did he want to, but Valentine could be gone as many as 18 months, and the department needs somebody in the meantime. Commissioners agreed to hire someone with the understanding that the position belonged to Valentine, upon his return. Brownrigg said he had met with the staff and informed them that he wanted the department to be professional, accountable, accessible and involved. He said staff would be expected to justify their attendance at training events before they were granted permission to go, and would be expected to give a short report on their return to duty.

on a request by a county commissioner Thursday that ACED provide $1,000 to a county FFA project. Commissioner Dudley Feuerborn's request for funding of the Grand Finale Spring Beef Show came at a first-of-the-year meeting between him and commissioner Ann Calahan and the ACED committee. It was the only issue discussed between the two entities at the meeting. The tenor of ACED was that a cash grant to a local organization would open the door to more requests from county groups seeking donations in the future. Members said the committee, which receives about $19,000 per year in a county general fund tax levy, needed to preserve its funding for expenses directly related to economic development.

Anderson County Attorney Bryan Hastert told county commissioners Monday that they may not have anything to worry about concerning the new doctors building being planned in Garnett. The City of Garnett plans to sell bonds to fund the construction of the building and then pay the bonds off through lease payments from Anderson County Hospital, which would in turn sublet to area doctors. Commissioners have been concerned about what would happen if the county hospital were to close. One scenario that commissioners feared was the county being required to make the lease payments. But Hastert said the hospital carried insurance that would cover the lease payments should ACH go under.

The Garnett High School seniors who participated in the ACT Assessment Program this year and took its battery of tests for academic achievement rated one point better than the national level and six tenths of a point better than the Kansas state average. The average national score was 18.8, the average Kansas score was 19.2, and the average Garnett senior score was 19.8. During the school year, more than one million high school juniors and seniors across the nation will participate in the ACT Assessment Program.

The much discussed Steam Engine 8444 which is to arrive in Osawatomie Tuesday, Jan. 29, will pass through Garnett between 3-3:45 p.m. On the same day, the train will make one or two water stops on its itinerary when it departs Coffeyville; however, Garnett is not one of the water stops the train must make. For those interested in steam engines, this is one of the last models to be in service before it became a display item for the World's Fair in New Orleans. This may be one of the few opportunities left to see a steam engine rolling down the track.

Viking 3 pointers add distance to win

PLEASANTON - The Central Heights boys picked up a third place finish last week in the Pleasanton tournament with a solid win over their hosts 77-41.

The Vikes held a 56-27 lead at the end of the third period after the first period (16-15 Vikings) made it look like the BluJays had a win on their mind.

"After a close first quarter we really picked things up on both ends of the floor," said Viking head coach Doug North. "We knocked down open shots and got on a nice roll."

Merrick Brown scored 14 of his game-high 17 points in the second quarter, nailing 4 three pointers. Marcus Watson and Matt Percy each added a trey to give CHHS 6 in the period to pull away from the BluJays. Gavin Holler had 14, Jacob Pryor 12, Matt Percy 12, Zele Smith 7, Chase Brown 7, Marcus Watson 6, Cade Massingale 2.

SFT comes back to drop AC 62-51

CARBONDALE – Three pointers from Trey Ahring, Jake Rundle and Chase Ratliff boosted AC to a 30-26 halftime lead against Santa Fe Trail, but SFT blistered back with its own shooting display in the second half to take a 62-51 win over the Bulldogs.

SFT's defense held AC to 9 points in the third period and then poured on the steam to drain 20 with some top-notch free throw shooting in the final period. SFT's Weston Gloss hit six of 7 free throws in the fourth period and added four more on his way to a 28-point game high for the Chargers.

Ratliff led AC with 16 points, Derrick Nelson and Jake Rundle had 8 each, Nick Levy 7 Trevor Johnston and Trey Ahring 3 apiece.

Viking girls win Pleasanton tourney

PLEASANTON – The Central Heights girls took an early lead to top Pleasanton 39-23 in the final of the Pleasanton tournament.

The Vikings were in charge from the opening tip-off, holding the BluJays to 3 points in the first period and leading 14-5 at the half. "I thought our defense was fantastic tonight in the first half holding them to five points," said coach Scott Lane. "We played a great game all around and it was nice to see our offense more balanced."

Emilee Sheldon and Sydney Meyer led the Vikings with 10 points each. Regan Markley had 6, Sarah Bell and Tami Schaefer had 5 each, Tess Cotter had 2.

The Vikes nudged a win from Humboldt in the first round 49-46. A schedule game against Altoona-Midway was cancelled because only 4 of the 6 team members made it to school the day of the tournament game.

The Vikings held a 25-18 lead at the half and survived a final minutes scoring run by Humboldt. Meyer led with 22, Sheldon, Schaefer and Bell had 8 each, Markley 3.

Vikings dominate

RICHMOND – The Vikings jetted out to a 19-0 lead in the first period of the Altoona-Midway game, setting a dominating pace which would see Central Heights pick up its first win of the season 65-25.

The Vikes press opened up a slew of early turnovers but was at first unable to make the most of the AM foibles.

"Matt Percy was able to nail a few shots and that jump started us on the offensive end," said head coach Doug North. "We did not press after the first quarter and got to work on our half court defense, which we needed to do and get better."

Jacob Pryor scored 9 of his game high 16 points in the second quarter to help the Vikings pull away, holding a 40-15 lead at the half.

Percy had 14, Marcus Watson 10, Cade Masingale 6, Chase Brown 5, Merrick Brown 7, Wyatt Thompson 2.

Lancer 'all' falls short at Liberal

LIBERAL – The Crest Lancers powered back from a halftime deficit in the second round of the Tony Dubray Tournament at Liberal, Mo., last week, but fell 50-46 in double overtime to their hosts after losing an opener to Thomas Jefferson.

The Lancers took an overall 7th place finish, winning the final matchup against Golden City 47-44.

Crest was down 17-13 at half of the finale but came alive in the third period and tied it up at 38 at the end of regulation. It was an even 5-point trade in the first OT with a big three-pointer from Evan Godderz and a bucket from Brandon Brallier that kept the Lancers alive, but Liberal drilled 5 of 7 free throws in the second OT with a bucket to boot. Brallier added a deuce and Hunter Frazell pitched in a free throw, but it wasn't enough to beat Liberal's foul shots and Crest's turnovers.

"We couldn't have asked for more from our kids in terms of effort and will to win," Lancer head coach Travis Hermreck said. "We had a chance to put the game away at the end of regulation and in the first overtime but couldn't get it done. Six turnovers in the second overtime doomed us."

"We gave everything we had, and everyone was on the same page," Hermreck said.

Austin Green led the Lancers with 13 points, Godderz hit 9, Kellen Ramsey and Brandon Brallier each had 8, Frazell had 2.

Crest trailed 34-30 at the half of the Thomas Jefferson match-up and stayed within a couple of buckets for the entire second half, but still ended up two short at 61-59. Green banded 22 points in the contest followed by Frazell with 16, Garrett Sipe with 10, Godderz 6, Brallier 3, Ramsey 2.

Crest held Golden City to 9 points in the 4th period and rattled up 18 of its own to take the win. Green had 16, Frazell 11, Ramsey, Sipe, Brallier and Godderze each had 5.

Crest girls top AM, drop 2 at Liberal

LIBERAL, Mo. – Crest girls handled Altoona Midway 67-24 before falling in two games last week during the Lockwood, Mo., girls tournament, losing to Lockwood 63-33 and to Liberal 52-30.

Miranda Golden smashed the AM defense for 29 points and Laurel Godderz notched 21 in a contest that was all about the Lancer shooting show. Karlee Hammond had 11, Madison Covey 4 and Taryn Covey 2. Golden grabbed 15 rebounds and Godderz 7 as the Crest defense.

The Lockwood tournament was a tougher run however. Crest gave up a 10-point lead by the end of the first period and trailed 38-15 at the half. Golden earned 12, Hammond 9, Godderz 6, T. Covey 4 and M. Covey 2.

The Lancers lost ground

again with a cold first quarter in the game against Liberal, scoring only 4 points and trailing 24-12 at the half. Godderz led with 14 points, Golden had 8 and paced the boards with 10 rebounds, Madison Covey had 6, Hammond 2.

Turquoise tops Neon in 1-point OT win

GARNETT – It came down to a final seconds victory in overtime in the Neon Green and Turquoise Biddy Basketball matchup Saturday, with Turquoise taking a 15-14 win.

Neon Green was down at halftime but staged a comeback in the second half with solid defensive play by Carly Hicks, Mackenzie Kueser and Abbi Lickteig. Shooting from Kueser and Hailey Gillespie kept Neon in the game, while Aubrey Holloran and Riley Rockers powered the offense for Turquoise.

Holloran hit a basket to break a 10-all tie with 44 seconds left in the game, but Neon's Kaylyn Disbrow hit her first basket of the day to tie the score at 12 and push the game into overtime.

Riley Rockers hit a bucket in OT and Kameron Simpson hit a free throw, then Disbrow dumped another two for Neon to make it a one-point game. Neon ran out of time in a literal tipping match under its own basket fighting for the game-winning bucket.

Aubrey Holloran and Riley Rockers led Turquoise with 6 points apiece. Kameron Simpson had 3.

Hailey Gillespie, Kaylyn Disbrow and Mackenzie Kueser

each had 4 for Neon. Abbi Lickteig and Marla Campbell each hit a free throw.

Turquoise is coached by Brian

Rockers and Mark Simpson. Neon is coached by Shawn Campbell and Karen Gillespie.

AC boys dust Cair Paravel

BALDWIN – The AC boys notched a solid 83-67 win over Topeka's Cair Paravel in last week's Baldwin tournament but tumbled to Bishop Ward 52-34.

AC led 41-32 and dominated the shooting floor against Cair Paravel with three members in double digits. Chase Ratliff led with 24 points, Nick Levy had 18, Jake Rundle 10, D'Anthony Fredrecks 8, Derrick Nelson 7, John Rundle 6 and Trevor Johnston and Mason Skiles 5 each.

AC lost ground in the second quarter against Bishop Ward but trailed by a manageable 25-21 at the end of the half. But Bishop blistered the third period to score 20 points and held AC to only 8 to set the margin for the win.

Ratliff had 11, Levy 7, Rundle and Nelson both 5, Fredrecks 3, Skiles 2 and John Rundle 1.

Boy Scouts Troop 126 attends 'Trappers' Rendezvous' event

Troop 126 attended the 38th annual Trappers' Rendezvous on January 16-18 at Harvey County Park West near Newton, Kansas. The event is sponsored by the White Buffalo District in the Quivira Boy Scouts of America Council. More than 6,000 Scouts were in attendance from five states.

The tradition of the trappers' rendezvous was started by General William Ashley's men of the Rocky Mountain Fur Company in 1825. Mountain men and trappers would gather to trade, barter, re-connect, and compete in target shooting, tomahawk throwing, running, wrestling, spinning tall tales, singing and other "manly" feats.

The annual Scout event features period re-enactments of rendezvous activities including flint & steel fire starting contest, tomahawk and black powder contests, the John Colter Run, Dutch oven cook-off and snow snakes games.

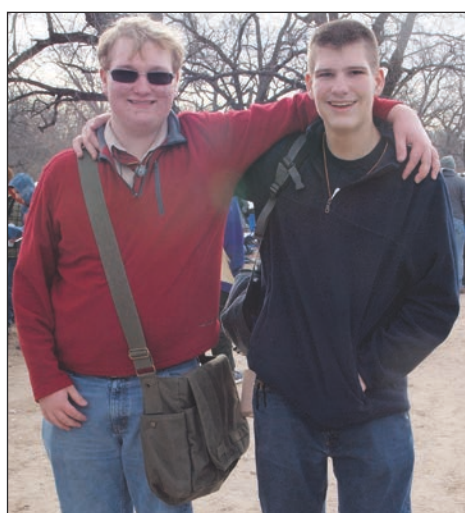

Scouts can also visit Trappers' Village, Buzzard's Gulch, Ark River Trading Co. and Red Dog Saloon. These outposts feature everything from blacksmithing, lumberjacking, and metal casting to branding and open pit cooking. Famous trappers and mountain men can be seen throughout the park and will spin a story for you. The biggest draw for the Scouts is the trading and patch-trading extravaganza, which is enjoyed by all.

Zachary Wilper and Stephen Callow start their day with high hopes of trading up their possessions.

Garrison Parks and Sam Wood set up their trading blanket alongside the main road in hopes of catching more trading business.

Isaac and Aaron Kubacka team up in their efforts to bring home the best trade.

Kyler Nilges and Bryar Wight enjoy the perfect trading weather.

Nathan Wiltsey carefully considers his trading options.

Hey, that smells like profit

Several years ago there was a T.J. Cinnamons franchise at the shopping mall in Columbia, Mo. They used to pump that fanatically delicious aroma of baking cinnamon rolls out into the mall, and you could watch shoppers' faces light up when they passed by.

Then there was the butcher shop I endured in the Russian city of Serpukov back in the early 1990s. It smelled like somebody ran over Yeltsin's favorite opossum the month before and hid it in one of the building's ventilation shafts. I breathed through my mouth and didn't buy anything.

Though the science seems to differ on just how much aroma can impact purchasing, one thing is for certain: aroma does impact mood, and mood impacts purchasing.

What also seems to be understood is this: If you're a business trying to enhance your buying atmosphere with a scent and you get it wrong, you'll probably do more damage than if you had no scent at all, i.e. my Russian meat market story.

Researchers seem to agree scent matters, and the more simple the better. Complex smells that aren't easily identifiable may still be pleasant but seem less effective in eliciting positive emotion, possibly because your brain has to work harder at figuring them out. A study at a home décor store in Switzerland showed customers spent on average 38 percent more when the store was infused with a simple orange scent than when a more complex mix of orange, basil and green tea was used - average sales were less, in fact, than no scent at all when the latter was used.

A study by Nike showed adding scent to their stores increased "intent to purchase" by 80 percent. A pina colada aroma in a British toy store allegedly attracted parents to linger in the store longer.

Researchers in Belgium noted that the scent of chocolate seemed to have a more pronounced effect on women, who tended to browse longer - particularly in categories like romance novels and cooking/recipe books. The chocolate aroma seemed to have less effect in other book categories. Convenience stores have seen increased sales of coffee when that aroma was enhanced in the store.

Fragrances that "fit" appear to put our brains on a faster track toward making a buying decision. A steakhouse should smell like charcoaled beef, not lilacs; an outdoor store would probably see better customer response with a rich smell like pine or cedar; a swim shop should go with an ocean scent over pumpkin pie.

So the jury seems to conclude that scent, just like the other senses, plays a part in warming or cooling a prospective customer. Done right, it can help you sell more stuff.

Gardner earns Eagle Scout honor

Dawson Gardner, son of Josh and Jeri Gardner of Overland Park, recently earned the Boy Scouts of America Eagle Scout Award. Dawson is a sophomore at Blue Valley High School and a member of Troop 222 in Stanley, KS. Dawson is the grandson of Mike Gardner and Valerie Gardner, formerly of Pittsburg, and Steve and Sandra Herynk formerly of Kincaid. Dawson is also the great-grandson of Joetta Gardner and the late Bill Gardner of Pittsburg, Lucy Pyle McFall and the late Jim Pyle of Girard, Tom and Frances Herynk of Kincaid, and Sam and Evelyn Harris of Kincaid.

For his Eagle Project, Dawson built three picnic tables for the Daniel Boone Home and Heritage Center in Defiance, MO. The historical site's request for picnic tables to support their tour groups, as well as Dawson's interest in history and family ties, were the catalyst for his decision. Two of the picnic tables were designed to be handicap accessible so as to accommodate all those who tour and enjoy the grounds. With generous donations from family and friends, Dawson not only raised the funds necessary to purchase the materials and transport the finished tables to Defiance, but was also able to present a generous check to the historical site for further improvements to their facilities. With the help of many volunteers, Dawson organized a work party for the building and transportation of the tables.

Dawson served his troop in leadership capacities such as Patrol Leader, Quartermaster and Historian. He has successfully earned 29 merit badges, earned a Conservation award, is the rank of Brotherhood in the Order of the Arrow (OA) national honor society of BSA, is the rank of Brave in the H. Roe Bartle Scout Reservation leadership program Tribe of Mic-O-Say, participated in a 10 day High Adventure Hike at the Philmont Scout Ranch in Cimarron, New Mexico, and attended countless weekend outings.

Dawson will receive his Eagle Scout award in a Court of Honor ceremony to be held February 8th at the troop sponsored Presbyterian Church of Stanley.

God has said, 'Call upon me and I will listen'

How does the Bible describe God? What are the attributes of God? We are told concerning God that he is compassionate, faithful, good, gracious, just and merciful. These are the moral or human like attributes of God. These attributes refer to the character and nature of God. These are attributes we as human beings can relate to. Most of us either know someone or can remember someone who displayed these type of character traits toward us. They either are or were easy to be around. Someone who made our life enjoyable. In return we treated these people in the same manner they treated us. This is how relationships are formed.

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

By David Bilderback

It is not possible for the finite mind of man to understand the infinity of God. Yet even though we cannot fully understand God, we still can know him. We can know him through a personal relationship of faith and through a study of what the Bible teaches about his nature.

One of my favorite texts is taken from the Old Testament passage of Jeremiah 29:11; "For I (God) know the plans I have for you, declares the LORD, plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future." God is speaking here to the exiles who had been taken away into captivity to Babylon from Jerusalem. The people had ignored God's warnings and had worshipped other gods. God speaks to the people to offer them hope in spite of their failure to obey. This is a promise for us today if we turn from our sinful ways.

Many times if we ignore God he will withdraw from us and allow us to pursue our own ways. This is when we really put ourselves in danger. The results of this can affect us the rest of our lives. However not all is lost. In Jeremiah 29:12-13 God says to the people, "Then you will call upon me and come and pray to me, and I will listen to you. You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart."

God can be found if we seek him. Running away from God is a lot harder than running to God. When we run away from God we exchange all the attributes God has for our own way. When we do that we will find out what the true cost of that is. When we call upon God he will listen to us and bring us back into a relationship with him. If you want to know where you stand with God examine your attributes and see where they are in relation to God's.

David Bilderback: A Ministry on the Holiness Of God.

Don't forget about Livestock Programs

Area livestock producers need to remember the livestock programs that were included in the 2014 Farm Bill. With spring calving season approaching and potential for extreme adverse weather conditions, don't forget about the Livestock Indemnity Program. If you owned and grazed livestock in 2011, 2012, and/or 2013 please be aware of the approaching deadline for the Livestock Forage Program.

Livestock producers who owned and grazed livestock in 2011, 2012, or 2013 should take note as they are likely eligible for benefits under the Livestock Forage Program (LFP). LFP provides compensation to eligible livestock producers that have suffered grazing losses due to drought on privately owned or cash leased land or fire on federally managed land. Eligible producers must physically be located in a county affected by a qualifying drought during the normal grazing period for the county. Many livestock producers have already submitted application for LFP as the sign-up began in April 2014. Producers who suffered eligible grazing losses who have not applied should submit a completed CCC-853 and supporting documentation by January 30, 2015.

The Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP) provides benefits on a calendar year basis to livestock producers who suffered livestock deaths in excess of normal mortality caused by adverse weather. Adverse weather events include tornados, floods, lightning, wildfires, winter storms, blizzards, extreme heat, and extreme cold.

To be eligible for LIP, a livestock producer must have legally owned the livestock on the date of death and the livestock must be maintained for commercial use as part of a farming operation. Applicants must provide adequate documentation to prove the eligible deaths occurred as a direct result of the adverse weather event.

A notice of loss must be filed within 30 calendar days after the death is apparent. When the application for payment is filed, producers must provide an acceptable proof of death. The death records must provide sufficient data to identify the quantity, kind, type, and weight range of the livestock. This may include veterinary records, private insurance documents, rendering truck receipts, dated photos, or contemporaneous producer records. Proof of death documents can be maintained by the livestock producer for non-weather related deaths so normal mortality is not reduced from the LIP payment.

Some of the death documents noted above require the livestock owner to also provide verifiable beginning and ending inventory records. If you suffer livestock deaths due to adverse weather, please contact our office as soon as the loss is apparent to receive additional details on filing a notice of loss and provide an acceptable proof of death.

Business of the Year - Scipio Supper Club

GARNETT: The Garnett Area Chamber of Commerce is proud to recognize the Scipio Supper Club as the 2015 Business of the Year.

If you were born and raised in Anderson County you probably remember the Scipio Supper Club's original name, "Jerry's", after its first owner, Jerry and Loma Kipper, who in 1955 turned the former rental property and what was once the 1916 "Scipio Telephone Company" location into a restaurant and bar. Now called the Scipio Supper Club, the establishment has had a few proprietors who kept the business going. Those included the likes of Barney and Margo Bell, Bob and Edna Davis, Mike and Angie Moore, Joe Donahue, Craig Brown and the "Burkdoll Brothers". Then it was sold to Barry and Gloria Rockers and Wesley Rockers, transferred to Denise Wheat and Gerrie Porter. Chad Burkdoll and Janet Alexander formed a partnership in which Chad later gave full ownership to Janet. In March 2010, Janet formed a new friendship and sold shares in the Scipio Supper Club to 21 stockholders. Janet Alexander has worked at the Scipio Supper Club for more than 25 years of which she has been a owner for the past 14 years.

Scipio Supper Club is considered a landmark, a social gathering place and home to many birthdays, anniversaries, class reunions and company parties for over 60 years. From steaks and seafood to Wednesday night Mexican food, Scipio Supper Club offers a variety of food as well as a full service bar where customer service is a plus. The club's location and atmosphere makes it a "bucket list" destination for people to experience from throughout the state and beyond. The club also is a venue for occasional live red dirt music and supports Second Saturdays entertainment by allowing fresh, new talent to perform there.

More than just a great place to grab dinner and drinks, the owner/manager of Scipio Supper Club Janet Alexander has utilized the business to help fundraise for a number of charities, including WINGS, Garnett Rotary Club Scholarship Program, American Legion Riders Scholarship Program, American Legion Baseball team, Spina Bifida Foundation and the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, just to name a few. Significant donations and support have also been given to area residents who have been afflicted with cancer and other life threatening diseases. Through motorcycle rides, fun runs, and Ladies Night WINGS events, Janet and the Scipio Supper Club have donated over $50,000 to charity within the last decade.

Scipio Supper Club is about one mile east of U.S. 59 at 32465 NE Neosho Road, (785) 835-6246. They are open Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sundays beginning at 6 p.m. Search for Scipio Supper Club on Facebook for updates on specials, events and entertainment.

George Clasen Memorial Community Service Award - Friends of the Prairie Spirit Trail

GARNETT: The Garnett Area Chamber of Commerce is proud to honor the Friends of the Prairie Spirit Trail with this year's George Clasen Community Service Award.

Since the early 1990's the Friends of the Prairie Spirit Trail have been more than just trail advocates. They've been a major community support group who has many times veered off the trail to help the Garnett area and communities along the Prairie Spirit.

The first phase of the Prairie Spirit Trail (Welda to Richmond) officially opened on March 30, 1996. The second phase (Richmond to Ottawa) followed on September 1, 1998. Phase III completed the trail's construction to Iola expanding the trail to more than 51 miles. On May 28, 2010 the Kansas governor officially name the trail the Prairie Spirit Trail State Park. Since then, volunteers from the Friends, along with a new force of volunteers created an extension from the south end of the trail all the way to Humboldt declaring it the "Southwind Trail", making more than 60 miles of continuous stretch of trails.

You may think the Friends of the Prairie Spirit Trail are somewhat "local", but its membership has just as huge a representation outside of this area as in. Volunteers have given of their time and expertise to help launch other trail development, such as the Flint Hills Nature Trail (Osawatomie to Herington). The Prairie Spirit Trail's history, yes controversy, and accomplishments have paved the way for trail development in other communities and corridors across the state. If not for the integrity and perseverance of many Friends of the Prairie Spirit Trail members and volunteers, much of the current trail movement in Kansas would not be realized today.

Today, thousands of bicyclists, runners, hikers, birdwatchers and nature lovers visit the Prairie Spirit Trail each year. As the midway point on the Prairie Spirit, Garnett is frequented by visitors who visit local restaurants, shopping areas, lodging establishments and the newest amenity they have requested, tent camping amenities along the trail. Also, a new pathway from Garnett Elementary School adorns a park bench for guardians to watch as children utilize the trail as a pathway to and from school.

Garnett Area Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet

Social Hour: 5:30 p.m. Dinner: 6:30 p.m.

'Southeast Kansas Living' magazine editor to speak

GARNETT - The Garnett Area Chamber of Commerce proudly presents the publisher and editor of Southeast Kansas Living Magazine as the featured speaker for this Wednesday's Annual Members' Banquet.

Kimber Wallace grew up in Girard, and graduated summa cum laude from the University of Arkansas with a bachelor's degree in news/editorial journalism and a minor in political science. During her time at the UA, she worked for two daily newspapers; served as editor, managing editor, assistant news editor, copy editor and senior staff writer for The Arkansas Traveler; and received writing and editing awards from the Arkansas College Media Association and Society of Professional Journalists. In spring 2010, she was inducted into Phi Beta Kappa and was chosen as a commencement speaker for the Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences.

After graduation, Kimber worked as a reporter for The Manhattan Mercury, a daily newspaper in Manhattan, Kansas. In 2011, she received four awards from the National Newspaper Association and five awards from the Kansas Press Association for her work at the Mercury. She was also one of eight journalists selected to take part in the Association of Health Care Journalists' Midwest Health

Wallace

Journalism Fellowship in 2010-11.

Approximately 3 years ago Kimber took over as the publisher and editor of Southeast Kansas Living, a quarterly magazine that has been celebrating the people, places and the spirit of Southeast Kansas for 10 years. In each issue you will find stories about Southeast Kansas' people, events, outdoors, history, homes and gardens, businesses, restaurants and more. She is also responsible for a very popular visitors' guide, Southeast Kansas Adventures and Day Trips.

Enjoy Wallace's presentation as she shares the best of what this region has to offer to visitors, residents and business owners during the Garnett Area

Notice of utilities agreement

(Published in The Anderson County Review, Tuesday, January 27, 2015)

ORDINANCE NO. 258

AN ORDINANCE, granting to Kansas Gas and Electric Company, a Kansas Corporation, doing business as Westar Energy, its successors and assigns, an electric franchise, prescribing the terms thereof and relating thereto, and repealing all ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with or in conflict with the terms thereof.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE GOVERNING BODY OF: Kincaid, Kansas

SECTION 1. That in consideration of the benefits to be derived by the City of Kincaid, Kansas (the "City"), and its inhabitants, there is hereby granted to Kansas Gas and Electric Company, a Kansas Corporation, doing business as Westar Energy, hereinafter sometimes designated as "Company," said Company being a corporation engaged in the business of selling and furnishing electric power throughout the state of Kansas and to the inhabitants of the City, the right, privilege, and authority for a period of twenty (20) years from the effective date of this ordinance, to occupy and use the several streets, avenues, alleys, bridges, parks, parking, and public places of said City, for the placing and maintaining of equipment and property necessary to carry on the business of selling and distributing electricity for all purposes to the City, and its inhabitants, and through said City and beyond the limits thereof; to obtain said electricity from any source available; and to do all things necessary or proper to carry on said business in the City.

SECTION 2. As further consideration for the granting of this franchise, and in lieu of any city occupation, license, or revenue taxes, the Company shall pay to the City during the term of this franchise two percent (2%) of its gross cash receipts from the sale of electric energy for use within the corporate limits of said City, such payment to be made monthly for the preceding monthly period. Gross cash receipts shall not include other operating revenues received by the Company, which are not related to the "sale of electric energy." Other operating revenues include, but are not limited to, delayed payment charges, connection fees, disconnection and reconnection fees, collection fees and return check charges. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to ensure the accuracy of its records and of the determination of the amount of gross cash receipts subject to the fee provided for in this Section 2. At the option of either the City or the Company and upon written notice given by one to the other sent at least (90) days before the fifth, tenth, or fifteenth anniversary of this franchise, the rate of compensation hereunder may be renegotiated. Any new rate of compensation that results from such renegotiation shall be effective on and after the fifth, tenth, or fifteenth anniversary of this franchise. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Franchise, the fee provided for in this Section 2 shall not become effective within any area annexed by the City until 30 days after the City provides the Company with a certified copy of the annexation ordinance, proof of publication as required by law and a map of the city detailing the annexed area.

SECTION 3. That Company, its successors and assigns, in the construction, maintenance, and operation of its electric transmission, distribution and street lighting system, shall use all reasonable and proper precaution to avoid damage or injury to persons and property, and shall hold and save harmless the City, from any and all damage, injury and expense caused by the negligence of said Company, its successors and assigns, or its or their agents or servants.

SECTION 4. After the approval of this ordinance by the City, Company shall file with the City Clerk, the Company's unconditional written acceptance of this ordinance. Said ordinance shall become effective and be in force and shall be and become a binding contract between the parties hereto, their successors and assigns, from and after the first day of the first month after such acceptance is provided by said Company to the City after its final passage, approval and publication as required by law, and acceptance by said Company.

SECTION 5. That this ordinance, when accepted as above provided, shall constitute the entire agreement between the City and Company relating to this franchise and the same shall supersede and cancel any prior understandings, agreements, or representations regarding the subject matter hereof, or involved in negotiations pertaining thereto, whether oral or written.

SECTION 6. This franchise is granted pursuant to the provisions of K.S.A. 12-2001.

SECTION 7. That any and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the terms hereof are hereby repealed.

SECTION 8. The Company will file this ordinance with the State Corporation Commission of Kansas. Should the State Corporation Commission take any action with respect to this franchise ordinance, which would or may preclude Kansas Gas and Electric Company, a Kansas Corporation, doing business as Westar Energy, from recovering from its customers any cost provided for hereunder, the parties hereto shall renegotiate this ordinance in accordance with the State Corporation Commission's ruling.

SECTION 9. A franchise shall be assignable only in accordance with the laws of the State of Kansas, as the same may exist at the time when any assignment is made. In the event of any assignment of this franchise, Company shall be released from all obligations which are assumed in writing by its assignee upon the signing by such assignee of an assumption of the franchise being assigned.

PASSED AND APPROVED this 12 day of January, 2015.

Colony/Crest Alumni

Mark your calendars - a change this year-Colony/Crest Alumni will return to the Crest Auditorium for their 108th annual meeting on May 30-Memorial weekend.

Let us all remember the Earl Clemans Memorial Scholarship. Help to keep this scholarship going for some well-deserved graduate. We all know the need for further college education in this world of technology, science, etc.

Earl Clemans was a long time shop teacher, coach and driver education instructor at Colony/Crest High School from 1942 until 1982 when he retired. His four children graduated here and his wife Mary, who recently passed away, taught here also. Earl inspired and motivated his students to succeed. One of his students, Kermit D. Hoffmeier, Chairman and CEO of Hoffmeier, Inc. Tulsa, OK was a former student of Clemans and credits him for the instigation he provided in developing his business. Let's all pitch in and keep this scholarship going for future graduates. Community members, graduates, everyone that understands the need in helping a graduate are invited to participate. You may mail your contribution to Arvin Clemans, treasurer of Colony/Crest Alumni Association, 705 N Kentucky, Iola, KS 66749. On check write "Earl Clemans Scholarship" on the MEMO line. It will be deposited at the Goppert State Service bank in Colony, in the Alumni Association's account, reporting it on treasurer's report to Scholarship funding.

Fire Dept.

Firemen attending a tour of the new Anderson County Hospital Jan. 13 were Scott Hendrix, Richard Webber, Eric Seabolt, Paul Stephens, Garry and Paula Decker. Paul, Garry and Eric also attended the Chief's meeting that night. Fire Department assisted with a house fire north and west of Garnett and also a grass fire north and east of Lone Elm Jan. 14.

Pop Tabs

The Kenton King family delivered the pop tabs to the Ronald McDonald House in Kansas City, MO Jan. 9. The community donated 26 pounds of tabs. Most of the tabs came from the Colony Lions Club aluminum can recycle building located at the triangle point of Pine and Cherry Streets on Broad Street in Colony. Everyone is encouraged to participate to drops off cans and/or tabs in this little building provided by the Lions.

A reminder that the Colony Lions Club is raising money with a gun raffle. Anyone wishing to purchase tickets (they are going fast) can contact any Lions member or Kenton King, president of the club at 785-448-4662. A drawing will be held every month from Jan. 21 (date of first drawing). The final drawing will be held in December 2015.

Stay tuned! The Lions are organizing an "Anderson County weight loss challenge."

Scouts tour newspaper office

Local scouts toured the offices of The Anderson County Review last week to learn about journalism and small town newspapers.

Review publisher Dane Hicks hosted the tour, noting the paper's roots dating back to 1865 and the celebration of the Review's 150th birthday this year.

The scouts learned about the newspaper's functions of publishing news and of chronicling the history of the local area for eras to come. Hicks showed the tour the administrative, production and advertising areas of the offices and recounted the Review's various transitions from the days of lead type to phototypesetting and more recent desktop publishing and Internet distribution.

Cold third period costs Vikes

HUMBOLDT - Central Heights stayed within striking distance of Humboldt in the first half but went cold in the third period to lose 81-53.

The Vikes were down 41-35 at the half, but Humboldt honed a defensive strategy for the second half that kept up the pressure on Central Heights.

"We played a good first half against a great defensive team, said Viking coach Doug North. "Once again the third quarter was our downfall, getting out-scored 28-12."

Matt Percy led the Vikes with 13, Merrick Brown had 12, Jacob Pryor 9, C. Brown 5, Gavin Holler 3, Marcus Watson 2.

Earl and Martha built Miller ACE Hardware in its current location in 1978. Mike and Amy Blaufuss, the current owners, bought the business in 2009 and renamed it Miller Hardware.
