Lybarger sells to MFA Oil

Longtime local family business becomes 16th small oil, propane company acquired by MFA Oil

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — A 60-year institution in local business was sold last week when Lybarger Oil, Inc., became the largest of recent oil and propane company acquisitions undertaken by MFA Oil Company of Columbia, Mo.

Mark Fenner, CEO of MFA, said the company began searching for acquisition targets in Missouri and nearby states in the Midwest after it was subjected to a forced buy-out of its minority position in an oil refinery at McPherson, Ks. Lybarger Oil becomes the 16th small oil and propane company acquired by MFA under its expansion plan in the past 30 months.

Fenner said MFA was impressed by the Lybarger operation, noting it was the largest of the small oil companies MFA has acquired to date.

"Dave and his family have a wonderful reputation," Fenner said, "and their business focuses on fuel, lubricants and propane. That's what we do." The sale was effective Wednesday, Sept. 23.

"It was a great opportunity," Lybarger Oil President Dave Lybarger said. "It was the kind of opportunity you hope will happen but don't expect it to come this soon." Lybarger, 50, said he would remain on staff at the company for the next year to assist in the transition.

"I'm not going to retire. I have some other interests I want to pursue," Lybarger said.

Fenner said the company would continue to operate under the Lybarger Oil name as a division of MFA Oil, with retention offers made to all Lybarger's present employees.

Dave's parents Dale and Betty Lybarger launched Lybarger Oil, Inc., in 1981 after Dale worked as a local agent for Bradley

City looks to slow down school traffic

Speeding motorists on Park Road will be targeted for tickets

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — Most of the time, traffic in Garnett is relatively easy to navigate. But when the school day starts and ends, things get a little hectic.

Garnett police and city commissioners hope they can make driving a little easier in at least two out of three key school traffic areas. That means motorists better slow down and pay attention, or they could receive a ticket.

Police Chief Kevin Pekarek told city commissioners during their regular meeting Tuesday, Sept. 22, one of his primary traffic concerns is patrolling around schools. He personally monitored the areas around three Garnett schools in recent weeks to identify major problems. As a result, commissioners directed him to patrol Park Road near the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail more frequently and issue tickets to violators as often as possible, so that motorists learn to slow down. Flag retirement ceremony planned

Eagle Scout candidate offers formal ceremony this Saturday at stadium

BY VICKIE MOSS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — The "Stars and Stripes" flag is perhaps the most recognized and most meaningful symbol of freedom in the United States. And when a flag has reached the end of its life, it should be honored with dignity and respect.

That's what an Eagle Scout candidate has been planning for more than a year now. On Saturday, Oct. 3, at 3 p.m. Stephen Callow, 17 of Garnett, will offer a Community Formal Flag Retirement Ceremony at the old football stadium at Lake Garnett.

Most people know that proper flag etiquette calls for worn-out flags to be destroyed, preferably by burning. But a flag retirement ceremony also can include very detailed and

GARNETT — The city's second major live music concert of the fall season will tune up October 10, the same day vintage custom cars converge on Garnett for a track event reminiscent of the city's sports car races of the 1960s.

The Flat Iron Music Incident, sponsored by The Anderson County Review and the Garnett Area Chamber of Commerce, will feature two live bands and a beer garden at Garnett Stadium on October 10. The event is part of the Review's 150th birthday celebration, taking place all through 2015.

Atkins Rocks Cornstock

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 9-29-2015 / Vickie Moss

Despite a technical hiccup that delayed his performance after it started, Rodney Atkins performed in front of about 3,000 people at the annual "Concert on the Hill" at the annual Cornstock festival Saturday, Sept. 26. It was a near-perfect evening as far as the weather was concerned, and many people continued the party at a local bar in downtown Garnett after the concert.

Above, members of the Randy Rogers Band entertain the crowd as the second of three musical acts.

At right, local favorite Travis Marvin opened the "Concert on the Hill" at Cornstock. Here, Marvin gets up close and personal with some fans. He also took time to meet some fans after the performance, and offered downloads of a new song.

symbolic measures to honor the flag before it is burned. Callow said there are different types of retirement ceremonies, some which include cutting individual stripes off the flag. He has picked a simplified but formal flag retirement ceremony, which will feature a very old, very large, 6 ft. by 12 ft., flag that belongs to the local Boy Scout troop. Local scouts will serve as Color Guard during the ceremony.

Callow also plans to retire much smaller, worn flags previously used to mark veterans' graves at the Garnett Cemetery on Memorial Day. Veterans, military and emergency personnel who attend the ceremony will have an opportunity to take part in the retirement of those flags.

The event also will include a speaker, Jason Sjolund, and invocation from a local minister assisted by a Boy Scout chaplain's aide.

Callow initially planned his Eagle Scout project to collect old, worn out flags from the public, using collection boxes in various locations around Garnett, and disposing of all those flags at a public retirement ceremony. His initial plans haven't quite turned out as expected, though. He first proposed the project in September 2014 but was delayed and the collection boxes have not yet been completed. Instead, he'll have the public retirement ceremony first. He still plans to place the collection boxes at the Anderson County Courthouse, Garnett City Hall, Garnett Public Library and Garnett VFW after the ceremony, and dispose of any flags collected at a later date. He has until Oct. 21 to complete the project for his Eagle Scout rank.

Callow said previously he wanted his Eagle Scout project to honor and help the VFW because he often plays "Taps" during funerals for military veterans. During conversations with veterans throughout the community, he learned of the need in the community to honor old, worn out flags in need of disposal.

For more information about the ceremony, contact Callow at (785) 448-6517.

ANDERSON COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS SEPT. 14

Chairman Jerry Howarter called the meeting of the Anderson County Commission to order at 9:00 AM on September 14, 2015 at the County Commission Room. Attendance: Jerry Howarter, Present: Eugene Highberger, Absent: Leslie McGhee, Present. The pledge of allegiance was recited. Minutes of the previous meeting were approved as presented.

Citizens Comments
Jean Wood and Judy Highberger talked to the commission. They voiced their support of a fireman who has been asked not to drive fire vehicles.

Road and Bridge
Lester Welsh, Road Supervisor met with the commission. Lester presented a bid for a new dump truck from Westfall Truck Sales, who has the state contract. If he goes out for a bid truck he will probably be waiting until April to get one. Commissioner McGhee moved to purchase a 2016 Mack dump truck from Westfall Truck Sales at a cost of $150,692 with $54,500 out of the Road and Bridge Fund and $96,192 out of Special Machinery. Commissioner Howarter seconded. Approved 2-0. Discussion was held on the new shop building. Everyone is in agreement that it will be a metal frame building. Lester stated that once the building is erected his crews can build whatever is needed inside. Discussion was held on amending the road and bridge budget to include the money that was received from the stored gas decision last fall.

Rural Fire
Kenton Ludolph, Westphalia Fire Chief, Wyan Bowman, Captain, Mick Brinkmeyer, Rural Fire Director, and JD Mersman, Emergency Management met with the commission. Kenton has been asked not to drive the fire trucks due to his physical disabilities. He does not feel there is a problem with his driving, however, he knows he cannot drive at night and will not drive a fire truck at night. He would like the commission to reconsider the decision to not allow him to drive the fire trucks.

KCAMP Meeting
Commissioner McGhee moved to appoint Phyllis Gettler as voting delegate and Jerry Howarter as alternate for the KWORCC meeting at the KAC Convention on November 4th. Commissioner Howarter seconded. Approved 2-0.

Meeting adjourned at 12:20 PM due to no further business.

DRUM

OCTOBER 21, 1921-AUGUST 29, 2015

Aletha "Beryl" Drum, age 93, of Garnett, Kansas, passed away on Saturday, August 29, 2015, at Golden Heights Living Center in Garnett.

Beryl, as she was always known, was born on October 21, 1921, in McCook County near Spencer,

South Dakota, the daughter of Albert M. and Gertrude (Hunter) Goodwin. She grew up there attending grade school and graduating from Spencer High School with the Class of 1939. Her parents moved to Westphalia, Kansas, while she was a senior and she joined them there for the summer.

Beryl went to work in Arkansas, then Iowa, Maryland and the District of Columbia, where she attended George Washington University and worked for the Navy Department during World War II. During this time, she participated in Bond Rallies conducted by the Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau in the front of the White House.

Her treasured memories of Washington, D.C. included seeing President Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, standing beside the actor, Douglas Fairbanks and raking leaves with Gen. Hap Arnold, as well as attending the Easter Egg Rolls and Christmas Tree lighting at the White House and the Cherry Blossom Festivals.

She married Paul Drum in Kansas on May 6, 1946, and they lived in Chicago, Illinois for several years before deciding to return to Westphalia to make their home. They established a small, busy business, Paul's Plumbing and Heating, and he installed most of the plumbing in the town of Westphalia and installed rural water lines when rural water was made available. Beryl was business bookkeeper, household manager and later Postal clerk at the Westphalia Post Office. Beryl and Paul enjoyed their camper and belonged to the Ozark Travelers and Prairie Chicken Camper Clubs. Following Paul's death, she moved to Bella Vista, Arkansas, in 1990 to be near her sisters living there. In 2003, Beryl moved to Garnett to make her home and be near her family.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Paul Drum, in 1984, her parents, sister June Fite and husband Gil, sister Juanita Art and husband Don, brother-in-law Otto Rath, and nephew Jon Art.

Beryl is survived by her children, Nikki June Feuerborn and husband Glen of Topeka, Kansas; Rita Eileen Boydston and husband Bruce of Centerville, Kansas; Paula Jean Walter and husband John of Welda, Kansas; Lana Susan Falke and husband John of Larkspur, Colorado; and John Paul Drum and wife Tina of Independence, Missouri; sister, Ida Rath, Wanda Meyer and husband Ben, and brother Preston Goodwin and wife Jean; thirteen grandchildren; two step-grandchildren; twenty-two great grandchildren; and many friends.

Memorial services will be held at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, October 3, 2015, at the Feuerborn Family Funeral Service Chapel in Garnett, Kansas. Family will greet friends from 9:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. prior to the service at the funeral home.

As Beryl continually supported various Veteran's organizations, a memorial has been established in her memory to the Wounded Warriors and can be left in care of Feuerborn Family Funeral Service. Condolences may be left at www.feuerbornfuneral.com zone, city staff plan to work with school officials to change traffic patterns.

TRAFFIC...

Ultimately, commissioners said they'd like to revisit the idea of stationing a crossing guard at one problem area: The crossing zone on the rail trail on Park Road near Lake Garnett. That's where some elementary school students cross to walk home from school. Recently, city staff have fielded many complaints about motorists not stopping for pedestrians in the crosswalk, and speeding.

Pekarek focused on three schools within the Garnett city limits: Anderson County Jr./Sr. High School on K-31 on the northwestern edge of the city, Garnett Elementary School on U.S. 59 in the north part of the city, and St. Rose Phillip Duschene Catholic School on Fourth Avenue just east of downtown. All three schools are located on busy streets, but sometimes the traffic problems extend even further. For example, one problem area related to both ACJSHS and GES actually occurs several blocks from the schools, at the intersection of U.S. 59 and K-31/Park Road. Before and after school every day, it can be very difficult to make a left turn from almost any direction.

A summary of each school area follows:

ACJSHS

Although the parking lot at ACJSHS has its own unique problems, most of Pekarek's concerns with traffic from this school are located off campus. An alternate exit and related pickup/drop off zone funnel traffic onto Cleveland Street, which is a wide street with little traffic except before and after school. Pekarek noted most parents tend to drop kids off at the school in the morning and few walk to school, but as many as 100 students walk home via Cleveland Street after school. Police frequently monitor Cleveland before and after school to remind motorists to be careful.

Although few, if any, accidents have happened at the main entrance, Pekarek said he also is concerned because the entrance is located along a busy state highway, which includes semi-tractor traffic. Most school-bound motorists seem to assume traffic will turn into the school, and Pekarek said he's concerned that a driver who makes such an assumption will collide with an oncoming vehicle that isn't headed to the school.

Another key area of concern is at the intersection of U.S. 59 and K-31/Park Road several blocks east of the school. A recent traffic study by the Kansas Department of Transportation found no reason to make changes to the intersection, despite its busy status before and after school. Although it can be very difficult to make a left-hand turn from nearly any direction, most vehicles don't sit at the intersection for more than one or two cycles of the traffic light signal, the KDOT study found.

Parents learn to drop off kids at GES first, then go to the high school, Commissioner Preston Peine said, describing a path that would lead to a right-hand turn from U.S. 59 onto K-31. If you try it the other way, "you'll never make that left turn."

GES

Because of its location on the northernmost part of the city, traffic problems related to GES also tend to occur off campus. Park Road, in particular, bears the brunt of traffic problems related to GES. There are three routes parents can take to drop off or pick up students: From U.S. 59 onto Home Run Drive; exiting Park Road near Casey's to Home Run Drive and the city's ball complex; and exiting Park Road at Lake Garnett Park, using an access road from the lake road to the back of the school.

Because school-bound drivers also use Park Road en route to ACJSHS, that makes Park Road one of the busiest streets before and after school. Also complicating things: On Tuesday mornings, traffic is quite heavy to and from Anderson County Sales sale barn at U.S. 59 and Park Road. Another complication: Visibility often is reduced for eastbound drivers in the morning because of the rising sun, which is particularly dangerous for motorists trying to turn from Park Road onto the lake road.

Adding to the problem is the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail crossing, which is the primary walking route for students from GES to more southern parts of the city. Pekarek said he counted just 10-15 students using the crosswalk after school, and he clocked vehicles driving anywhere from 19 mph to 45 mph. But because he parked his patrol vehicle near the Garnett Recreation Center at Park Road and the Lake Road, traffic was too heavy for him to exit and issue tickets to speeding drivers.

"Something's just not right there," Pekarek said.

Problems at the crosswalk initially sparked the discussion about school traffic, and commissioners proposed a variety of potential solutions. Most agreed lowering the speed limit at the area probably wouldn't make much difference; years ago, the speed limit at the crosswalk was 20 mph but was increased to 30 mph. But commissioners didn't want to go back to that slower speed limit.

Many motorists tend to ignore the posted speed limit and flashing yellow lights, anyway, commissioners said. Enforcing the speed limit, even if it stays 30 mph, is more likely to get people's attention than simply changing the sign.

"I believe most people traverse that road so frequently, that flashing light doesn't exist," Peine, who lives on Park Road near the busiest school traffic areas, said.

Commissioners told Pekarek to increase patrol of the area before and after school, and to find a place to park that would allow officers to more easily enter traffic so they can actually pull over those who speed. Perhaps once word spreads and when drivers realize there's a good chance they'll get a ticket, people will learn to slow down, they said.

Commissioners also proposed new light signals that would be timed to coincide with busy periods, or that pedestrians could initiate by pushing a button, but they did not take action to pursue such things. All three commissioners said they favored adding a crossing guard to the area before and after school, but city staff would need to investigate the matter to address liability and other issues. City Manager Joyce Martin said crossing guards previously were used near Sixth Avenue when the current Anderson County Historical Society Museum was a school, and at First Avenue and U.S. 59 when ACJSHS first was constructed. It has been several years since crossing guards were used.

"To me, a crossing guard makes the most sense," Commissioner Gordon Blackie said. "It gets people's attention."

St. Rose

Parking is limited around St. Rose, with most staff parking in front of the school on Fourth Avenue. It's common for parents to pull up on the north side of Fourth Avenue - across from the school - to drop off students. But that means students typically exit on the opposite side and walk between parallel parked cars and cross the heavily traveled Fourth Avenue. There haven't been any accidents at the area, but Pekarek said it's a recipe for disaster. City clerk Kristie Kinney said she once had a very close call as a child darted between cars into the road in front of her.

Commissioners said they would like to talk to St. Rose officials about converting an alley behind the school into a one-way so that parents could drop off students there.

The ABC affront no one noticed

A great fictional philosopher once quoted his mother as saying "Stupid is as stupid does." There's no doubt Forrest Gump would have been able to see the stupidity in some of the media coverage last week of former CIA chief David Petraeus' meeting with U.S. Senators in Washington.

But what's worse is the indicator last week's incident provides to the knowledge base of the general populace - scandal-over-substance seems to be the rule in media/infotainment these days. Frankly, there's never been a time when so many people have been so in need of accuracy, and cared so little whether they got it or not.

In fact, going by ABC's radio news breaks last Tuesday, you'd have thought Petraeus came to the U.S. Senate to do no more than beg forgiveness from the Paula Broadwell affair, a 2012 2-day sound bite which everyone had pretty much forgotten about anyway. In the whopping 15 or so seconds the American Broadcasting Company gave to Petraeus' appearance before the Senate Armed Services Committee, the best it could muster was the segment in which Petraeus apologized to the committee for the extra marital affair which led to the four-star general's resignation as head of the CIA.

Did it mean nothing to the "journalists" at ABC that perhaps one of the country's most successful military commanders was giving his analysis of the U.S. involvement (or lack of involvement) in Syria? Does ABC fail to realize that the Syrian situation is not just the largest humanitarian crisis in the world right now, but also is drawing up to a head-to-head conflict with the Russians in their post-Soviet expansionism? Did ABC think perhaps the architect of the 2007 U.S. troop surge in Iraq might have some substantial observations on Syria worth listening to?

No, apparently what ABC thought was most important in boiling down the Petraeus' presentation to the Senate was his noted apology for an affair with his biographer which cost him his directorship of the Central Intelligence Agency.

REVIEW COMMENTARY

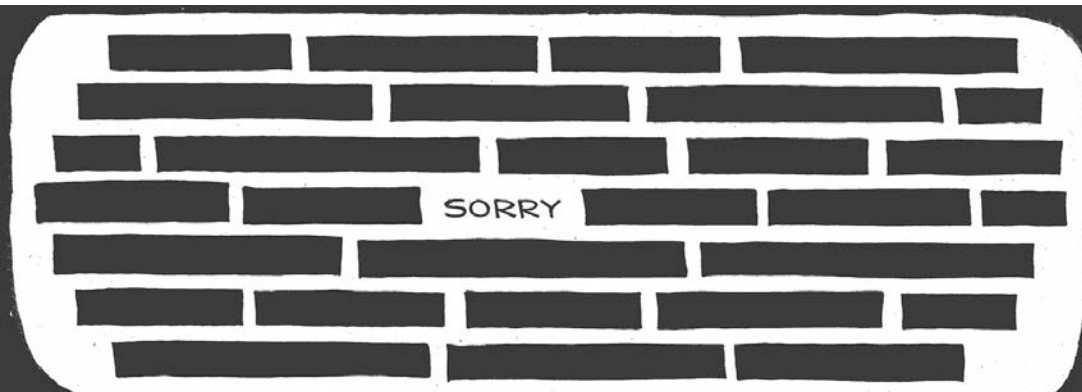

DANE HICKS, Publisher

Then, in what has become the modern rule of Internet news fashion, Yahoo News and other web news aggregators that scavenge so-called "legitimate" news sites (those published primarily by TV or newspaper companies as accessories to their primary products and regurgitate them to try to pull an audience) picked up ABC's misdirected minimalism and carried it as a mainstay in their newsfeeds.

Patraeus said things that mattered. He said the U.S. needs to play a wider role in Syria against Assad, because the population needs protection and because the mischief bred there, soon to or already involving the Russians, won't stay there. It is an analysis which has fallen on deaf ears in the Obama Administration, where foreign policy plays second fiddle to Papal visits and climate change concerns.

Not that too many of the 20-30 year-olds who use the Internet or social media as their sole source for news know who Petraeus is or what he brings to the realm of U.S. foreign intelligence, or for that matter why U.S. actions in Syria are even important. What's disturbing is that ABC News could make such a grievous attempt to sex up ratings on a story that has real consequence.

It's further evidence of the erosion of journalistic principal in the mega-media environment where entertainment is now the chief aspect of news delivery. More frightening is that Americans, so swaddled in the indulgence of their entertainment-focused lives, aren't paying attention anyway.

I don't see a problem with keeping the speed limit 30 mph at the crosswalk across Park Road. They have that flashing yellow light and some people just stand at the corner and you never know if they're going to cross or not. Maybe they should put a button there that would turn the light red on Park Road so they could push it when they're ready to cross. Maybe put some spike strips in conjunction with it, and if people don't stop that's their problem.

About the cross walk by the pool - they've got stop signs on that crosswalk for the people walking - it's not the fault of the people driving through there. They've got to stop. That's just the way it is. If the walkers and bikers are not stopping they ought to be ticketed for it. They ought to think of that before they lower the speed limit.

There's still a moron out there that thinks Obama's a Muslim? Are these guys still crawling out from under their rocks after all these years? Pathetic.

The guy complaining about the lawns being clean, you know what? Why don't you just mind your own business? Quit playing God and quit putting other people down and making people feel bad. Just keep it to yourself.

It was generous of you to offer the churches and civic groups to help with the lawns. Since this is obviously an important issue to you, I'm a little confused why you don't get off your duff, grab your lawn mower and offer to help? Or are you just too lazy? The bottom line is the people you complain about have as much right to live here and they're just as important as anyone else. I'd be proud to call any of them my neighbor.

On the front page of last week's paper was the article about the child rape case and the fact that the rapist made a plea deal in order to serve less prison time. Why is this even considered? Did the child have the opportunity to make a plea deal? I'm sure she had no opportunity to avoid her rape and she will serve a life sentence as this memory will be forever with her. The rapist should have no mercy shown to him. He deserves a life sentence for destroying her innocence. Hopefully the judge will agree.

I see where the commissioners are talking about reducing the speed limit on Park Road. I don't see how that's going to do any good. There's a posted speed limit there and they don't pay any attention to it.

lic and is an all-ages show. Review publisher Dane Hicks said the concert night was designed to entertain both local music fans as well as guests coming to town for the Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival, a driving and exhibition event comprised of classic sports cars and other custom cars popular during the Garnett Sports Car Races of the 1960s. Some 100 sports car entries are registered for the weekend's events.

The Flat Iron event is named after the lake track's "flat iron" curve, an unbanked curve at the south end of the lake track which was a potential danger in the track's old racing days because it was hard to navigate with straightaways leading to it from both sides.

Performing bands include opening act "Free Range Chicken" featuring locals Burt & Mackenzie Peterson, Adam Caylor and Ian Rocker and Paola's Glen Hager. Headlining the event will be "Atomic Possum" featuring Bush City's Leonard Louk. Atomic Possum's single "Counterfeit Money" has had airplay on local radio stations in recent months.

Flat Iron will also include a designated beer garden area with food vending by the Garnett Lion's Club. The event begins at 7 p.m.

Four Winds, VFW/Auxiliary posts honor Vietnam veterans

The Four Winds Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution teamed together with the Garnett VFW/Auxiliary Post 6397 to honor our Vietnam War Veterans on the 50th Anniversary on September 18th. The Post served a delicious dinner of lasagna, spaghetti, bread, and salad. The DAR provided the cookies for dessert and the reception after the awards ceremony.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 9-29-2015 / Photo Submitted

The welcome was given by Clarence Hermann, VFW, and Donna Roberts, Four Winds Regent. The opening prayer was read by Four Winds Chaplin, Agnes Carr. Entertainment followed the meal by Butch Rocker, Vietnam veteran, U.S. Navy. Everyone enjoyed the patriotic songs led by Butch.

September 18th is the National Day to Honor MIA's and POW's. There were 80 people attending this special event. The Missing Soldier Table was explained and it was a very touching and meaningful ceremony. A table is set for one person. It is round to represent everlasting concern on the part of the survivors for their missing loved ones. The white tablecloth is symbolic of the purity of their intentions to respond to their country's call to arms. The single red rose in the vase, signifies the blood that many have shed in sacrifice to ensure the freedom of our beloved United States of America. This rose also reminds us of the family and friends of our missing comrades who keep the faith, while awaiting their return. There is a red ribbon on the vase that represents our continued determination to account for them. The inverted glass symbolizes that they are not able to make a toast with us tonight. A slice of lemon is on the bread plate to represent the bitter fate of the missing. Salt is sprinkled on the bread plate to symbolize the countless tears of the loved ones as they wait. A lit candle is reminiscent of the light of hope which lives in our hearts to illuminate their way home, away from their captors, to the open arms of a grateful nation. The empty chair reminds us that the missing and fallen are not present. Those who fought beside them will not forget their sacrifice until the day they return home, or find eternal peace. We will remember!

The DAR then presented each Vietnam Veteran with the explanation of the project of DAR to recognize these veterans and thank them for their service to our grateful nation. Each man received a certificate from DAR, a letter of proclamation from President Obama, and a very striking pin with an eagle to represent courage, honor, and dedicated service to our nation. A circle shape and blue color field stand for the blue on the American flag and signifies vigilance, perseverance, and justice. The laurel wreath represents victory, integrity, and strength. The stripes behind the eagle represent the American flag. The six stars stand for the six allies who fought beside us. The message embossed on the back is closest to the veteran's heart and says "A Grateful Nation Thanks and Honors you." Fifteen veterans were present to receive this recognition and four others were recognized and will receive their awards at a later date.

The Missing Soldier Table symbolizes concern for soldiers who are Missing In Action or Prisoners of War. Steve Newland is shown with the table.

The names of all of the Kansas MIA's/POW's were read and a candle was lit as a bell chimed. The playing of taps followed. The program concluded with a closing prayer by the VFW/Auxiliary Post 6397. The attendees were all encouraged to view all of the displays around the room, to visit and get to know one another, and enjoy coffee and cookies. It was an evening that will be long remembered by all who were in attendance.

Big wins highlight Bulldog week

GARNETT – AC football players squeaked out a 2-point win over Santa Fe Trail Friday night while the Bulldog volleyball team took first place in the West Franklin Tournament to make for a smile on the faces of local sports fans last week.

AC's Chase Ratliff notched Garnett's first touchdown in the first quarter but Jacob Rundle's PAT kick was no good. SFT then massed a drive still in the first period to score and also fouled its PAT kick to make it 6-6 at the end of the first period.

Ratliff scored again in the second period and this time a two-point conversion attempt by Devin Katzer was good, but SFT matched another drive before the half to make it 14-11 at halftime.

The Trailblazers jumped up by a touchdown in the third period but failed the 2-pt conversion. Ratliff scored again from short yardage after a solid AC drive and picked up his own 2 pointer to set the score at the buzzer 22-20 for AC.

Ratliff notched 154 yards rushing on 31 carries on the night and caught 5 passes for 47 yards. Kyle Lamb was 15/6 and led AC's defense with 7 tackles. Katzer caught three passes for 46 yards. QB Jacob Rundle completed 8 of 12 passes for 93 yards with one interception.

AC volleyball moved to 14-4 on the season topping Lyndon (25-11, 25-9), West Franklin (25-14, 25-19), Central Heights (25-8, 25-16) and Osage City (25-11, 25-23) to take the West Franklin Title.

The final against West Franklin (25-13, 25-17) was AC's 8th match win in a row. Reagan Jirak had 13 aces on the day 27 kills. MaKayla Kueser notched 46 kills and was 30/32 in serving; Jasmine White led in defensive dig percentage at 94 percent; Katelyn Alley had 10 aces on the day and led AC in setting at 97 percent.

Vikes struggle at Pomona

POMONA – Central Heights struggled against Lyndon (25-12, 21-25, 20-25) and Anderson County (8-25, 16-25) but topped West Franklin (17-25, 25-21, 28-18) in the West Franklin Tournament last week.

Viking dig leader Shelbi Hettinger had a solid day on defense again for the Vikings. Seanna Hale and Tess Cotter led CHHS in kills. Cotter and Bell led the offense serving 9 aces each. Bell also led the team in assists.

"I was proud of the girls being scrappy and not giving up," said coach Cadi Marcum. "Our goal is to get better every day and to learn from each situation and find a way to get better and work well as a team."

Oil and later Mobil beginning in 1955. Dave bought the company from his parents in 1996, and in 2000 launched the company's propane division. In 2008, Lybarger Oil purchased the energy assets of New Horizons Cooperative when New Horizons agriculture interests were purchased by Beachner Grain of St. Paul. That move doubled Lybarger's customer base and operation in the area market for residential propane, various fuels and lubricants. The company presently serves some 4,000 customers in eight counties and employs 17 staff.

MFA Oil was formed in 1929 with the original Missouri Farm Association, a farmer-owned cooperative which still operates in Missouri although MFA Oil split off from the original organization in the 1980s. MFA has some 1,600 employees. It operates Break Time convenience stores in Missouri and Arkansas, Jiffy-Lube franchises in central Missouri and Big-O Tire stores in larger markets of 50,000 and more customers.

Fenner said the company plans to continue to evaluate acquisition opportunities in its existing market area and other states where it can expand its footprint.

Authors to help 'Celebrate the Book'

The Garnett Public Library and the Friends of the Garnett Public Library are hosting the event "Celebrate the Book... a story for everyone". This is a free event that will be held at Garnett Elementary School on Saturday, Oct. 24th from 10-2. There will be authors, illustrators, a Rare Book Roadshow, book character meet and greets and activities for all ages. Two of the featured authors are award winning christian fiction author Kim Vogel Sawyer and travel writer Diana Lambdin Meyer.

In 1966, Kim Vogel Sawyer told her kindergarten teacher that someday people would check out her book in libraries. That little-girl dream came true in 2006 with the release of Waiting for Summer's Return. Since then, Kim has watched God expand her dream beyond her childhood imaginings. With over 30 titles on library shelves and more than 1.5 million copies of her books in print, she enjoys a full-time writing and speaking ministry. Empty-nesters, Kim and her retired military husband, Don, live in small-town Kansas with their four feline companions. When she isn't writing, Kim stays active serving in her church's women's and music ministries, traveling with "The Hubs," and spoiling her quiverful of grand darlings.

During the past 20 years as a self-employed travel writer, Diana Lambdin Meyer has filled up two passports and worn out three sets of luggage. She has crisscrossed the world in a manner that the little farm girl from southern Illinois could never have dreamed as a child. She is the author of Day Trips from Kansas City and Myths and Mysteries of Kansas. She is also a regular contributor to online and print media outlets, including AOL Travel, the Los Angeles Times, the Dallas Morning News and numerous AAA publications. She and her husband Bruce, a professional photographer, are both members of the Midwest Travel Writers Association and the Society of American Travel Writers. Diana was recently recognized as Mark Twain Travel Writer of the Year by MTWA.

Walker Art Committee announces exhibit

It is with great pleasure the Walker Art Committee presents an exhibit featuring the Heartland Art Guild, from October 2 through November 30, in the Walker Community Art Gallery.

The Heartland Art Guild was founded in 1972 with the purpose to advance, support, and promote creativity in visual arts and cultural activities of interest in Miami County and the surrounding area.

The Guild members work in many different mediums. They furnish art to hang in the businesses of Miami County. Activities also include an annual member show at a local bank and the International Miniature Art Show each July. This show includes works coming from as far as South Africa, the British Isles, and Iran.

To further art education, the Guild sponsors workshops and field trips. They also provide a $500 scholarship to a Miami County senior majoring in visual arts.

The Walker Art Committee is honored to have two highly qualified judges who will select a "Best of Show" piece which will be purchased by the committee to add to our collection. Joe Summer, BS and MS from Pittsburg State University, is an art instructor at Prairie View HS with expertise in ceramics, clay, and pottery. Deanna Morgan, BS from Pittsburg State University, has expertise in two-dimensional art focusing on watercolors, colored pencils, and photography.

A reception for the artists and judges will be held at the Walker Community Gallery on October 10 from 10-12 noon. Come and enjoy refreshments and enjoy the exhibit.

After lunch, the Prairie Spirit Atelier will have life drawing in the Archer Room of the library. Bring your easel, paper, pencils, charcoal, or whatever medium you choose and enjoy camaraderie with local artists. A $10 donation for the live model is appreciated.

ACH auxiliary meets

Gold Award at the convention for our year of service.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 9-29-2015 / Melissa Hobbs

The Hobbs family of Colony named this garden spider "Charolotte" after the classic fairy tale, as it spins a web in front of salvia flowers. Female garden spiders typically mature between August and October. With cooler fall weather coming, some species of spiders may be making their way indoors.

Peters family has reunion

Family members of the Maurice and Ida "Benjamin" Peters family gathered for a reunion at the Richmond Community Building over Labor Day weekend.

Ida and Maurice were married Aug. 31, 1918, and raised seven children: Ellsworth, Maxine, Ralph, Floyd, Loyd, Wayne and James. Those in attendance from Ellsworth and Viola Peters' children: Janice Hodgson and husband Delton and Bonnie Beauchamp, all of Garnett. Grandchildren in attendance were Marcia and Ken Lickteig, Chanute; Stacy and Kevin Holloran, Garnett.

Grandchildren in attendance were: Corina Tonak, JJ and Sandy Peine, Keith and Ruana Brock, Tracy and Aaron Califton, and Christy and Ron Smith.

Family members from Loyd and Frieda Peters were: Dennis and Sarah Peters and Karen Peters, Richmond; Linda Peters Doha, Qatar; Earl and Sally Peters, Marion; Alvin and Gayle Peters, Garnett; Mary Peters, Olathe, and Diane Peters, Ottawa. Grandchildren who attended were: Paul and Tara Peters, Louisburg; Pam Peters, Jackson, Tenn.; and Mike and Jan Peters, Blue Mound.

Grandchildren who attended were: Lindsay Harris and Christine and Brendan Silva of Carson City, Nev.; Luann Meeker of Kansas City, Mo., daughter of Wayne and Mary Esther Peters.

There were many great grandchildren and guests who also attended.

A review of family history was given by Dennis Peters, which included a story of relatives who arrived on the Mayflower and one was later accused of the first murder in the U.S.

The next reunion is planned for 2017.

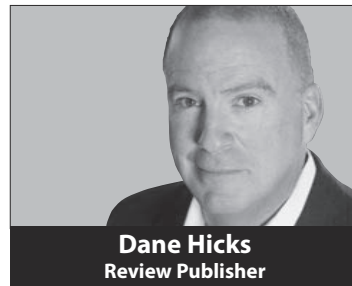

You can be your own event

Having your own business event is a lot like having your own birthday party - for a few hours and in front of some of your favorite people, you get to be the star of the show!

It's a great way to market yourself and your company, but you have to keep in mind that even though it's all about you, you have to convince your prospective attendees that it's all about them. No one wants to give up their time to show up to an event to be relentlessly hammered with sales pitches, so you have to be pretty meticulous in planning out your offering and your soft-sell approach to focus on the customer's benefit.

Focus: Through the entire process, keep in mind the problem that your company solves for your customers and the value you provide for them. Whether you're the cheapest, fastest, best, most convenient, etc., that primary selling point or group of selling points will be paramount to developing your event. Know what you want to say and who you want to say it to.

HOW TO SELL STUFF

Dane Hicks

Extra Value: Consider bringing in additional talent and expertise to your event that adds dimension to its content - if you're an auto mechanic presenting on basic auto maintenance to a group of college-age drivers, it might be a great idea to bring in one of your vendors from an auto parts store, or maybe a paint and body guy. You can even consider splitting costs and sharing the spotlight with these complimentary businesses in a cross promotion if you don't want all the cost and responsibility yourself.

Plan & budget: The specifics of your event will determine your plan and budget. Will you entertain your guests on your own property? Do you need a meeting room at a hotel or restaurant? Are you providing munchies and refreshments or something more substantial? How long will your event last (keep in mind the longer the time commitment, the less likely people are to attend)? If you're planning a major event you need weeks or months to plan; if your event is "spur of the moment" your budget and plan will likely be simpler.

Promote, dang it! If you don't tell people about your event, no one will show. Use your email list; use flyers in your mailed billing statements; use your social media options; use flyers and posters in places frequented by your target audience; put a signature line at the bottom of all your outgoing emails the month prior; run an add in your local newspaper or shopper; buy radio commercials; shoot a DIY promotional video with your smartphone and post to social media - and don't forget to ask your friends to share it.

Properly executed, your event can give you a captive audience that will give weight and staying power to your message, and that will help you sell stuff!

The restoration of Israel

In chapter 37 of the book of Ezekiel the prophet states that the hand of the LORD was upon him and brought him out into the middle of the valley and the valley was full of dry bones. The valley referenced here is probably the Kidron Valley east of Jerusalem. Ezekiel is once again shown a vision by the LORD. A valley full of bones bleached dry by the sun.

The LORD then asks Ezekiel. "Son of man can these bones live? And I (Ezekiel) answered O Lord God you know." Having had multiple visions from God Ezekiel knew that God was going to put life in these bones. God then tells Ezekiel to, "Prophesy over these bones." Ezekiel did as the LORD had commanded him. "And there was a sound and behold, a rattling, and the bones came together, bone to its bone. And I (Ezekiel) looked and behold, there were sinews on them, and flesh had come upon them, and skin had covered them. But there was no breathe in them."

God then has Ezekiel prophesy to the breathe and through the power of the Holy Spirit breathe came into them and they lived and stood on their feet, an exceedingly great army. Through this vision God shows Ezekiel how he will once again restore the nation of Israel.

After the death of Solomon the nation had split into the northern and the southern kingdom. The northern kingdom fell to the Assyrians almost a century and a half before the fall of the southern kingdom to Babylon. God then goes on to reveal to Ezekiel how he (God) will take the people from the nations which they have been exiled to and bring them into their own land.

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

By David Bilderback

God said he would make an everlasting covenant with the nation of Israel. This covenant was confirmed by the offering of Christ's blood on the cross. In looking to the future restoration of Israel God then states, "My dwelling place shall be with them, and I will be their God and they shall be my people."

The Exile of the nation of Israel came about as a result of the cumulative guilt of generations of Israelites who had lived in rebellion against God and his law. This pattern of sin, judgment and restoration is throughout the Old Testament. God is holy. Sin is contrary to his holiness and God will judge sin. God rules over the affairs and destiny not only of Israel but also all other nations. God uses judgment as a way to purge nations and individuals thus preparing them to live in obedience before him.

David Bilderback: A Ministry on the Holiness of God.

 Business at the Sept. 16

Lions Club meeting was reporting on fund raisers held at the Colony Day stand by President Sue Colgin and the hosting the Zone 4 meeting on Oct. 7 with 10 to 15 guests expecting to attend. Lion Bill Ulrich began a discussion on the aluminum cans members save. They will need to develop a plan to collect and redeem them. Guests Angie Black and Gerry Jones spoke to members concerning the ball field. The Colony Ball Association is working on upgrading the field. The infield work is being done at the current time and the cost is about $4,500. The association also wants to replace the fence around the field. To replace this with chain link will cost between $7,000 to $12,000. They are also looking at using nylon fencing instead of chain link. Lions members will examine possible ways that they can assist them in their project. Drawing for the Gun a Month raffle was held with Carletta Silvey winning a Baretta 22 pistol.

Nine members and two guests were in attendance. The United Methodist Women served the meal. Next meeting is Oct. 7 at the United Methodist Church basement.

 Bees were buzzing at the home of Douglas and Gina Geary recently. Douglas said "Largest honeycomb I ever saw". They had heard bees for sometime, then saw them partially from a window! They contacted Pastor Steve Bubna to catch the bees.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 9-29-2015 / Photo by Allene Luedke
 The buzzing is gone! Bubna arrived and took 25 gallon of honeycomb with him. The strip where it hung was about 2 1/2 ft. wide x 7 feet long. The Geary's were happy the bees were gone.
