City backs out of funding for 2017 carnival

City refuses to subsidize carnival that continues to lose money, but event will return to 2017 county fair

BY VICKIE MOSS

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - The show - or in this case Anderson County Fair Carnival - must go on; but not with financial support from the City of Garnett.

Garnett City Commissioners said at Tuesday's city meeting they weren't going to pay the $2,500 they had been kicking in in recent years to fund the carnival, because it continues to lose money year after year and they believe the city shouldn't subsidize a failing endeavor.

Driver in controversial chase sentenced

30-month sentence given to driver who led police on chase on citywide garage sale day

BY VICKIE MOSS

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - A man who led police on a car chase during one of the busiest days of the year in Garnett and sparked a discussion on police chase policy will spend the next 2 1/2 years in prison.

Bradlee W. Pratt, 24, was sentenced May 8 in Anderson County District Court to serve 30 months in prison for charges related to a Sept. 10, 2016, police chase that started in Osage County and ended with a wreck in Garnett. Pratt was convicted of aggravated assault on a law enforcement officer, felony fleeing and attempting to elude and felony theft of an automobile.

The police chase took place during Garnett's Fall Citywide Garage Sales day, considered to be one of the busiest of the years in terms of car and pedestrian traffic. Garnett city commissioner Gordon Blackie witnessed the chase and complained to police that officers pursued the vehicle at high speeds in the vicinity of children and others who were walking through neighborhoods because of the garage sales. At one point, he said, vehicles went airborne over a ditch. City Attorney Terry Solander said he reviewed video tape of the chase and believed the officers acted "very prudently," but Blackie said he still was concerned.

The chase began in Osage County when an officer checked the tag of a 2015 Toyota Corolla that came back as stolen. The chase entered Anderson County and Garnett on K-31 at about 11:30 a.m. Sept. 10. As the car was headed toward Garnett, a city police officer attempted to deploy "stop sticks" at the Pottawatomie Creek Bridge on K-31 west of Garnett, well before the vehicle would have entered the city limits. As the officer was attempting to deploy the device, Pratt swerved and nearly struck the officer.

The pursuit sped through city streets with speeds as high as 50 mph at times. The pursuit ended when the car clipped a truck driven by James Moyer at the intersection of Park Road and U.S. 59. Moyer was not injured.

It took authorities some time to identify Pratt, who was reported to be dressed as a woman when he was arrested.

Police said the chase was complicated by the fact that it was initiated by another agency and at least two other

4-year prison sentence likely for sex crime

48-year-old man pleads guilty to criminal sodomy against 14-year-old child

BY VICKIE MOSS

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - A 48-year-old man is expected to serve four years in prison for a sex crime with a 14-year-old child.

Steven R. Beals, Sr., 48, Garnett, entered a plea and was found guilty of criminal sodomy Monday, May 8, in Anderson County District Court. As part of a plea agreement, he is expected to be sentenced to serve 48 months in prison. A typical sentence for such crime calls for between 55 months to 247 months in prison.

The crime apparently took place in Garnett on March 1, 2015, with a 14-year-old child.

Beals remain in the Anderson County Jail awaiting sentencing which is scheduled for May 22, 2017, at 10:30 a.m.

DALTON-GRAHAM

MAY 18, 1938-MARCH 21, 2017

Patricia (Patsy) Ann Dalton-Graham of Garnett was born May 18, 1938. She died March 21, 2017.

Pat, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Deane P. (Marjorie King) Dalton, spent her early years in Wichita, before moving to California and graduating from St. Monica's High School of Santa Monica, California. Although greatly interested in theater arts, Pat nonetheless eventually married Dusty Graham, a California police detective. She became interested in issues of domestic violence and rape counseling and worked long hours in these fields to help victimized women and girls and their families before her divorce and retirement when she returned to her chosen hometown, Garnett.

An ardent soul, Pat was inveterate in her devotion to her families'and Garnett's history. Like so many Kansans her life story was inextricably bound in that of the State of Kansas and its interesting, but not always quite respectable, pioneers. One of her great-grandfathers was the first mayor of Garnett, another ancestor was one of the first Governors of Kansas at the time of Civil War; other relatives included the infamous Dalton Brothers as well as sturdy bankers and businessmen and women. She wrote Isabella, A Pioneer Battered Wife, the story of her great-grandmother Mary Isabella Wright King, who had the unenviable distinction of being tried twice for the alleged murder of her first husband, Andrew King, before finally being acquitted in 1912, remarrying, and going on to live out a quiet life in Garnett. Pat was proud of her relationship with the King and Dalton families and continued researching aspects of their involvement in the area and in its history.

Her parents having predeceased her, Pat is survived by her first cousins, Robert Dalton of Topeka, KS; Judy (Dalton) Farver of Goshen, IN; Arlene Dalton of Independence, KS; Allen Dalton of Bella Vista, AR; Beverly Dalton North of Colorado Springs, CO; and Kathleen King and her former husband of Piney River, VA.

Graveside memorial services will be held Friday, May 19, 10:30 a.m. at the Garnett Cemetery.

vehicle at the time; later, after he was reported missing, the car was found with the door opened. The car had no apparent mechanical problems. The day he disappeared, a cold front and snow blew into the area.

On Dec. 20, after more than two days of searching by nearly two dozen emergency personnel and volunteers, Long's body was found on top of some hay in a brush pile in what was described in the autopsy report as "a primitive prepared sleep arrangement" in the middle of a field about a quarter mile north of 1500 and Mitchell roads, or about a half mile from his vehicle. He was wearing a light jacket, a flannel shirt over a T-shirt, jeans, socks and heavy sneakers.

A laptop and cellular phone were found near his body, both broken into pieces. There were cuts to his hand that could have come from breaking those items or from a fight, the autopsy report said. He otherwise appeared to be uninjured.

The autopsy report said it's most likely Long died as a result of hypothermia because of environmental exposure. Traces of methamphetamine and THC (from marijuana) were found in his blood. Long had a history of psychosocial difficulties and self-destructive behavior, the report said. Drug use and depression may have been contributing factors, the report said.

The autopsy was conducted by Frontier Forensics Morgue in Kansas City, Kan., on Dec. 22, 2016. It typically takes a few months between the autopsy and its filing in district court.

Finally, a bright graduation picture

If you're graduating in these commencement weeks you truly have reason to celebrate. Thanks to last November's election, your hard work and accomplishment will gain traction faster and better now than at any time in the past decade.

To steal from another era of optimism born out of a previous and similar national malaise... "It's morning in America again."

Yes, despite all the continuing wailing, excuse-making and scandal baiting from the losing side who would have gifted you with a far gloomier graduation climate, you're going to enjoy a surging economy. You'll enjoy a more secure nation. You're witnessing a renaissance of American spirit which is woefully overdue and already leaving its naysayers behind yearning for Russian fairytales, safe spaces and uterus hats.

Most demonstrated of course after the long American winter is the blossoming economy. Companies, employers, financiers, innovators, risk takers - it turns out they've all been sitting on the sidelines waiting out the cold, dark skies of the Obama years and watching for the sun to come out. Trump's election kick started pent up initiatives and immediately brightened business prospects in the country to the point that investor markets bumped up literally in weeks to record-setting levels in response to the new mood of optimism. The proof is in the numbers, and it is undeniable.

That is critically important for the country in which you will be, as a new graduate, seeking employment after college or determining a future course of training or education after high school. It means your college investment fund is worth some 15 percent more than it was on November 7 last year, along with all the other retirement funds and investment accounts now being contributed to by your parents or grandparents. The value of those companies is increasing and their stock prices going up because their stockholders are optimistic that things are going to be better for business and they're going to make more money. It's a powerful sign.

It also means your chances of finding employment - either a summer job painting vintage furniture for some eclectic boutique, part-time in retail, in food service, or a full time job for a Fortune 500 company anywhere across America - is better than when businesses were depressed and pinching pennies over most of the past decade. And make no mistake: A job equals empowerment.

The reason for all that? It's because business believes a Donald Trump presidency will be more appropriate for making money than the previous administration. Remember: "making money?" That's important. If you're graduating and you haven't figured that out yet, then you need to hand the diploma back.

REVIEW COMMENTARY

DANE HICKS, Publisher

Other national morale boosters executed by the new president: Trump froze federal hiring and reduced the federal deficit by $100 billion in his first 100 days as president (Obama increased federal spending 560 billion in his first 100 days, and later hired an additional 1,600 Internal Revenue Service agents to help ensure compliance with mandatory health insurance requirements - neither resounded well with taxpayers).

In Trump's first three months on the job the U.S. economy created 312,000 new jobs. Industries, saved from the choking "climate change" regulations championed by the previous president, are hiring. The U.S. manufacturing index (yes, we DO still manufacture things in this country) has skyrocketed to its highest mark since 1983 when Reagan was president. Housing sales are red hot. Unemployment nationally is at 4.4 percent. Newspapers like this one and job websites are teeming with vacant positions seeking workers.

The new president has set a tone of America First, and he shows a love for our nation and its interests the likes of which many of you haven't seen since your childhood. He has pledged himself to the security of our own borders - illegal immigrant crossings from Mexico now down 67% - and against the world's bullies and terrorists with deadly use of our military. He has re-established an American presence in power and in wealth on the world stage.

This is a time when graduates - as well as the rest of Americans - can thrive. That opportunity is what we want from a president, after all.

Hopefully, you'll never again know a time like we've endured most of the past 10 years. Hopefully you'll never see a time when your country was nothing but a shell of itself and weakened by interests that shame America for what it is and what it can be, rather than embracing and celebrating it.

A bright picture for our graduates? Indeed, and long overdue.

Hi friends and neighbors. If you all missed the wonderful community band performance on the 7th of May you really missed a treat. I encourage all of us to spend more time with this group when they play because they really are wonderful and they put a lot of hard work and a lot of heart into their performances. Thank you.

I hope that this new city manager has the guts to stand up to send our pathetic street department to pothole school to teach them what a pothole is and what a pothole looks like.

Wow, now that lasted a long time. What was it, maybe a year ago that we got black top going to the boat docks there at Cedar Valley Reservoir. Has anybody noticed the potholes lately? My land, it's falling apart. I don't know, it doesn't look like they put any ditches in the ground. That might have helped.

Are some of you people just plain stupid? How many times do you have to hear and see the regulations that say wind farms don't pay any taxes before you get it through your thick skulls that wind farms don't pay any taxes? They used to pay none at all, now it's for 10 years. There was an article in the Iola paper the other day that said their wind farm has now said instead of paying $500,000 in payment in lieu of taxes, they've decided they'll just pay $200,000, because competition is driving the cost of their power down and their tax exemption is only good for 10 years. That's mighty nice of them, isn't it? I wonder what the excuse will be after 10 years? I'd sure like to be the one to decide how big a check to write to the county every year. Thank goodness Anderson County had better sense.

The pre-existing lie about the health care bill

If you've only followed coverage of the Republican health care bill loosely in the media, you might believe that House Republicans, after much effort, passed legislation to deny people with pre-existing conditions health insurance.

The issue of pre-existing conditions has dominated the debate over the GOP health care bill out of all proportion to the relatively modest provision in the legislation, which is being distorted - often willfully, sometimes ignorantly - into a threat to all that is good and true in America.

The perversity of it all is that the legislation is properly understood as doing more to preserve the Obamacare regulation on pre-existing conditions than to undermine it. The legislation maintains a federal baseline of protection in such cases, and says only that states can apply for a waiver from it, provided that they abide by certain conditions meant to ensure that no one is left out in the cold.

Since these provisions only involve the individual insurance market, a small slice of the overall insurance picture (about 18 million are on the individual market), and merely make possible state waivers, they are inherently limited.

You're not affected if you get insurance through your employer (155 million people), or through Medicaid or Medicare. You're not affected if you live in a state that doesn't

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

request the waiver (many won't). Even if you buy insurance on the individual market and live in a state that gets a waiver, you're not affected if you've maintained insurance coverage continuously and not had a gap in coverage longer than 63 days.

By this point, we're talking about a tiny fraction of the population. If you do have a pre-existing condition in a waiver state and haven't had continuous coverage, you can be charged more by your insurer only the first year. The state will have access to $8 billion in federal funds explicitly to ease the cost of your insurance, and must further have a high-risk pool or similar program to mitigate insurance costs for the sick.

Clearly, if Republicans set out to recklessly endanger the well-being of people with pre-existing conditions, they didn't do a very good job of it. The purpose of these provisions isn't to punish the sick, but to create an incentive for people to buy insurance while they are healthy. (The Obamacare exchanges are failing because the its tangle of regulations drove up costs and made insurance economically unappealing to the young and healthy.)

It takes all of five minutes to understand the basics of the House bill on pre-existing conditions, yet it has been subject to wildly ill-informed and deceptive attacks. Rep. Frank Pallone of New Jersey said the bill would hurt 129 million people with pre-existing conditions, an exaggerated figure that assumes every single one of them would be harmed by the House bill.

There are certainly legitimate criticisms to be made of the House bill, and ample room for the Senate to improve it, especially by boosting its coverage numbers. But it is not an act of heedless cruelty against the sick. As for its critics, their reflex to demagogic dishonesty isn't a pre-existing condition, just an ingrained habit.

Anderson County Safety Poster Program winners announced

According to Cindy Ecclefield, County Coordinator Anderson County Farm Bureau, preventable injury is the leading cause of death for Kansas children. More children die annually from preventable, unintentional injuries than from all childhood diseases combined. This year, one child in four will suffer a preventable injury serious enough to require medical attention. The great tragedy is that most of these injuries can be prevented.

In an effort to reduce accidents by developing "safety minded" youth, Kansas Farm Bureau has sponsored a Safety Poster Program since 1950. Every year, several thousand youth in the first through sixth grades participate statewide.

Posters are judged on the county level and the top poster from each division is submitted for judging at the state level. Those posters were narrowed down to the top 10 in each division then judged by a team of volunteers to determine the winning posters.

There were 237 entries from Anderson County.

• Winners in Division I (Grades 1-2) were: first place, Emma Good, Garnett Elementary; second place, Madilyn Reichard, Garnett Elementary; third place, Wyatt Whitham, St. Rose and honorable mention, Bryston Barnes, Garnett Elementary.

• Winners in Division II (Grades 3-4) were: first place, Teagan Wolken, St. Rose; second place, Bryar Self, Garnett Elementary; third place, Sophia Jones, Garnett Elementary and honorable mention, Matthew Beckmon, Garnett Elementary.

• Winners in Division III (Grades 5-6) were: first place, Andrew Peine, Garnett Elementary; second place, Braden Blaufuss, Garnett Elementary; third place, Ty Hedrick, Garnett Elementary and honorable mention Avery Blaufuss, Crest.

Cindy is proud to announce that Emma Good was awarded 5th Place in the state for Division I. She will receive $50, one of their accurate ag books and a certificate of achievement featuring her poster. Emma is the daughter of Chris & Dawn Good, Garnett and is a 2nd grader at Garnett Elementary. Her poster was about grain bin safety.

On the county level, first, second and third place winners will receive a personalized medallion & certificate and honorable mention will receive a ribbon & certificate.

Greeley KofC to Host 2018 State Convention, 'Love Your Life'

The Greeley Knights of Columbus Council #1901 was chartered by 51 members on April 1, 1918. Since then they have grown to over 140 members. At the Kansas State Convention in 2015 hosted in Topeka, the Greeley Knights partnered with the St. Aloysius at St. Paul in Olathe #1913, to co-host the 117th Annual State Convention May 3rd thru May 6th 2018. Council #1913 was chartered May 13, 1918 and both councils will be celebrating their 100th anniversary next year.

At this year's convention held in Topeka May 4th thru 7th, they held a hospitality room promoting the convention next year. Attending was Past State Deputy George E. Miller, Grand Knight Tony Hermreck, Council Deputy Grand Knight Ed Miller, Chancellor Ed Miller, Advocate Tom Rockers and member Dale Franks all attended from Greeley. The Olathe Council had six members at the convention as well.

During the close of the business meeting on Sunday the 7th, the State Deputy of Kansas, Vincent P. Melvin III called upon Convention Co-Chairman and Deputy Grand Knight Ed Miller to invite the delegates, members and families to the 2018 State Convention.

During his speech, Ed talked about the history of both Councils as well as a few "spoilers" about next year's convention. He also announced what the theme was, "Love your Life."

The theme for the convention next year is, "Love your Life." When Fr. McGivney founded the Knights of Columbus, he wanted an order of men to help the widows and the persecuted Catholics in our great country. He loved his life and the life of others to where he founded such an organization. This theme comes from the daughter of one of Greeley's members, a sister, niece, cousin and a friend to all, who loved her life and lived by that motto. She loved it so much that on

Good Friday this year, she wrote it on a white board in her office of LimeLight Marketing in Pittsburg. She could have written anything else such as Happy Easter or Christ Is Risen, but she chose to simply write, Love Your Life. On the evening of Easter Saturday, she was involved in a serious ATV accident that one week later, two weeks ago today; she was called to be with our Lord in heaven. She loved life and showed it to everyone she met. She showed our members what

Fr. Kapaun meant when he said that our works will testify to who we are, because her works testified to who she was both spiritually and professionally. Her name was Brittney Grace Feuerborn and she was only 23 years old.

The Greeley Knights are very excited to be able to host the State Convention next year. There are not very many small town Councils who have attempted to host.

The Knights of Columbus has over 1.8 million members across the world. It is considered the largest Catholic, family, fraternal organization in the world. The K of C was founded on March 29th, 1882 by the Venerable Servant of God, Fr. Michael J. McGivney in the basement of St. Mary's Catholic Church in New Haven, CT. We invite all eligible Catholic men to join our ranks, either in Greeley or your local Council. For more information, please contact Ed Miller 785-304-2715.

A Mother's Care

In our care homes, we typically have two ladies taking care of our residents around the clock. The lack of male caregivers is not by design but just reflects our applicant pool.

One of our former residents in her 90s who I'll refer to as Ethel did not feel she needed much care and thus became accustomed to referring to the caregivers as "the mothers," a bit of a jab from her viewpoint that the caregivers were overprotective. If she couldn't find them, Ethel would say "where are the mothers?"

In the reverse of this situation, a 45-year old friend of mine living in a country formerly under British rule refers to his mother as "Mummy." He was ill when she recently stayed in his home, so she nursed him back to health "as only a Mummy can do" in his words. I didn't ask what his wife of nearly 25 years thought of this comment.

Regardless of our age, if we are fortunate to have a loving mother in our lives, we will pay them tribute this Sunday on Mother's Day. As mothers age and decline, a role reversal takes place where they transition from care-provider to being cared for.

At ComfortCare, we view it as a privilege to provide the loving care of a mother to our residents. We invite both sons and daughters to tour our homes and see the difference our motherly care provides.

Devon Weber won three individual medals on the afternoon in the long jump, high jump and 100 meter dash.

Weber's leap of 20'1" in the long jump was good for 3rd place. In the high jump, Weber cleared 5'6" earning a 6th place finish and in the 100 meter dash finished in 5th with a time of 12.08.

Cameron Hampton won a pair of medals in the hurdles, picking up a 5th place finish in the 300 meter hurdles (46.19) and a 6th in the 100 meter hurdles (18.00).

The boys 4x800 meter relay team rounded out the scoring finishing in 9:06.35, which was good for fourth place.

Godderz and Lyda both win multiple golds for Crest

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

IOLA— In what was the final tuneup before the Three Rivers League meet, the Crest Lancers track team traveled to Iola and hammered out more solid performances earning several medals.

The Lancer girls finished 3rd as a team behind the strong performances of Laurel Godderz in the discus and javelin.

Godderz won gold in both. She threw the discus 91'4" and the javelin 97'9".

Camryn Strickler finished second in both hurdle events.

In the 100 meter high hurdles she finished with a time of 17.70 and in the 300 meter intermediate hurdles she finished in 52.68 seconds.

Strickler along with Breyanna Benjamin, Karlee Hammond and Regan Godderz finished 2nd in the 4x100 relay with a time of 56.86 seconds.

Godderz went on to finish 3rd in the 100 meter dash with a time of 13.86 seconds.

Cassie Bowen took 3rd in the high jump, clearing 4'2" and her teammate Katie Brewer took 4th as she cleared 4'.

Vicky Rodriguez finished 4th in the 800 meter run with a time of 2:51, which was also her personal record.

The boys didn't earn as many medals, but the performances were highlighted by Billy Lyda winning both the 100 meter and 200 meter dashes.

Lyda finished the 100 meter in 11.26 and the 200 meter in 22.72 seconds.

Caleb Stevens added a 2nd place finish in the triple jump (35'10") and a 6th place finish in the 200 meter dash.

Vikings softball rallies to sweep Oz

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

RICHMOND - The Central Heights Vikings pummeled Osawatomie last week 14-4 then rallied from a 4-2 deficit in the final two innings to sweep the doubleheader.

The Vikings got off to a quick start in the early game by scoring 6 runs in the bottom of the first to take the early lead. They would tack on a run in each of the second and third innings before Osawatomie scored three in the top of the fourth to cut the lead to 8-3.

CHHS answered with 4 in the bottom half of the fourth to put an end to any sort of comeback attempt. The Vikes pounded out 17 hits with Tess Cotter picking up 4 hits in her 4 at bats to drive in 2 runs.

All nine starters had at least one hit in the game and also either scored or drove in a run during the game.

Abigail Brown was 3-4 and scored 3 runs.

Hannah Savage, Lindsay Burson and Demeree Pendleton each had 2 hits.

Megan Davis pitched a complete game going all 5 innings, allowing 6 hits and 4 runs to earn the win.

The Viking bats were much quieter in the second game, picking up only 2 runs through the first 6 innings.

The Trojans held a 4-2 lead heading into the bottom half of the seventh, but the Vikings had a rally left in them.

The Vikings scored 2 runs in the 7th to send the game to extra innings before promptly winning it in the eighth.

Riley Roll and Lindsay Burson were the only Vikings to pick up more than one hit, each going 2-3 on the afternoon.

Davis, once again, pitched a complete game going 8 innings, allowing 7 hits, striking out 7 and walking 4 while allowing the 4 runs.

Vikings baseball struggles at Oz

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

RICHMOND - The Central Heights baseball team had few solutions against the Osawatomie Trojans last week, dropping a pair of games by the combined score of 31-3.

In the opener, the Trojans won handily 18-3. Both teams picked up 3 runs in the second after a scoreless first inning before the Trojans tallied the final 15 runs to close out the game in 5 innings.

Despite the three runs, Colin Maloney picked up the only hit in the game for the Vikings.

The Trojans pounded out 17 hits and 5 walks en route to the easy win.

In the second game of the afternoon the Vikings were shutout in a 13-0 defeat.

Neither team scored in the first two innings before the Trojans blew it open with 5 runs in the third and 8 more in the fourth.

The Vikings only picked up two hits on the game, one by Ethan Shields and the other by Seth Burroughs.

Osawatomie had 11 hits and was helped out by 8 walks on the afternoon.

Railroad Museum Room added to Garnett Depot

Friends of the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail have completed a Railroad Museum Room at the Garnett Depot. The depot location served our community for over 100 years, providing passenger and freight service as a vital part of the local economy. Upon the abandonment of the railroad right of way, the Kansas Department of Wildlife, Parks, and Tourism filed for public use of the railway bed from Ottawa, through Garnett, to Iola. With the completion of the PSRT, hiking and biking enthusiasts can enjoy 51 miles of scenic prairie and woodlands previously viewed by railroad passengers. In memory of the century of rail service to the local area, items related to travel by rail are displayed for your enjoyment.

ECKAN Summer Food Program feeds kids for free

The Garnett Ministerial Association, USD #365 and Mid-America Nutrition Program are working in cooperation with ECKAN to provide this program for young people.

Prospecting: Panning for new customers

We all love our customers. Well, we all love most of our customers.

But there comes a time when all good things come to an end and we have to say goodbye. No customer lasts forever. That's why some part of your effort needs to be pointed toward acquiring new customers on a consistent basis.

We call it prospecting, and the object of prospecting is to develop new customers to take the place of old ones you lose, or to add to your volume of business as a means of growth.

Good prospecting requires discipline and regular attention. Some small businesses allow prospecting to falter when times are good, and when sales go cold then everybody runs with their hair on fire to try to drum up new business. Being consistent and regular in prospecting, like most other facets of good planning, makes life easier.

So the first goal of prospecting is to do it regularly. The second goal is to make a good prospect list, and the last is to work the plan.

HOW TO SELL STUFF

Dane Hicks
Review Publisher

We've already talked about regularity, so the next step is to assemble a solid list of prospects. Consider these: 1) Referrals—personal referrals are usually the best qualified because this prospect has already talked to someone who liked your service, price, etc.; 2) What we call “walk ins,” those who contact you by phone or by website traffic looking for information; 3) Network contact: Those you determine through traditional social or social media channels; and lastly 4) Acquisitions: Those you target who are presently customers of your competitor or who are purchasing in a complimentary manner that makes you a possibility (someone who just bought a car will need car insurance, for example).

Executing on the prospect list you compile is the final motion. You need a series of questions that qualify the prospect as to need or desire, authority to buy and possibly even the ability to pay. Most of all you have to make the calls. You have to approach each telephone or personal call on a prospect like you're panning for gold – there will be sand for certain, but there's gold in that list as well.

Having a prospecting mentality will help your small business grow and replace the customers you lose by the natural course of business.

May is state's busy wrap-up month

May tends to be a busy month with graduations, Mother's Day, Memorial weekend, and other events. It is also a busy month for the legislature. Veto session began May 1st. It used to be a time to consider legislation that had been vetoed by the Governor. It should be more accurately re-named to “wrap-up session”. The budget, tax, and K-12 funding are items that still need to be completed.

The state has collected $4.8 billion in tax receipts for Fiscal Year (FY) 2017, which ends June 30. This is a $53.5 million increase for the same time frame in fiscal year 2016. It's difficult to say if this trend will continue because of the devastating losses in agriculture caused by the March wildfires and the late April freeze. However, there is optimism at the national level that could offset the losses. We don't need to use the budget shortfall as an excuse to massively increase our State spending and to cover that with a huge tax increase.

Other legislation worked on included the Kansas Consumer Protection Act in Senate Bill (SB) 201. It was amended by adding current members of the military to the definition of “protected consumer”. The bill passed the Senate unanimously.

Conference committees are meeting and this is when a bunch of bills can be combined into one bill. A few years ago, the House amended the rules to limit the number of bills that could be combined in conference committee to 4 bills, with a few exceptions. It is disappointing that a couple of House committees combine several bills into one before the bill leaves committee and before it gets to conference; undermining the intent of the rule and not letting bills stand on their own merit. SB 112 was one such bill. It has topics from drug paraphernalia to dog fighting. The bill decreases the penalty for unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia from a class A to a class B nonperson misdemeanor. It increases sentencing for a burglary with intent to commit a felony, theft, or sex crime. SB 112 defines “Animal shelter” to be the same definition as in the Kansas Pet Animal Act. The bill had more items Senators wanted, than not. It seems the increased sentences for persons convicted of a hate crime against law enforcement would be one of the main reasons to support the bill. The bill passed the Senate 38 to 0.

EKAE president, CEO Oestmann leaves post

East Kansas Agri-Energy LLC has announced that president and CEO Jeff Oestmann has announced his resignation. His last day was May 5.

Oestmann has taken a new position with Syngenta in Minnesota, which will put him within a half-hour of his children, EKAE chairman Bill Pracht said in an announcement to shareholders May 5.

“Jeff has been an outstanding, visionary leader for EKAE. During his time with us, he and his team continually broke ethanol production records, expanded grain storage capacity and initiated the renewable diesel project. That core team will remain intact and continue to innovate and lead as we write the next chapter in EKAE's success,” Pracht said.

Scott Burkdoll, vice chairman of the board, is leading the search committee to find someone to succeed Oestmann. Pracht will serve as general manager of the plant in the interim.

How lonely separation from our God will be

Gerrit Vos made the following statement, "The best proof that God will never cease to love us lies in that he never began to love us." This statement is based on Jeremiah 31:3 where God speaking to the prophet says: The LORD appeared to us, (Israel) in the past saying: "I have loved you with an everlasting love; I have drawn you with loving kindness." One of the things we know about God is that he is all knowing. God does not have to look down the corridors of time to see his chosen ones, this is knowledge he possess within himself. God didn't begin to love us when we were born. In Ephesians 1:4-5, Paul tells us; "For he (God) chose us in him before the creation of the world to be holy and blameless in his sight." The apostle clearly states that even though we measure our lives by our birth date, in the mind of God he knew us before the creation of the world.

As I have said many times God is infinite, not limited by time, space or matter. This is difficult for us to understand therefore it is easier to think of God as being like us. Now God understands the difficulty here and we read in 1 John 4:9-10; "This is how God showed his love among us: He sent his one and only Son into the world that we might live through him. This is love: not that we loved God, but that he loved us and sent his Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins." Now we can return no love back to God until we are physically born and then born again of the Spirit. God sent Jesus so we might see a glimpse of the Holy One himself. Jesus told Philip that, "Anyone who has seen me has seen the Father." We cannot begin to imagine the depths of God's love for us. God's love is infinite and everlasting.

Since God loved us "before the creation of the world" his love can only be based on his love for his creation. God created man in his own image for his pleasure and communion. The Apostle John says that man does not love God. Being made in his image if we loved God we would be like him. Something has to change for God and man to be reconciled. The Apostle John gives us the answer in 1 John 4:9-10, "But God loved us and sent his Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins." Sin separates man from God. But God because of his love for us sent Jesus to reconcile man to God. If we accept Jesus as our personal Savior we are no longer separated from God's love. If we don't accept him we are lost in our sins, separated from God. How lonely that will be.

CARNIVAL...

The fair carnival returned three years ago after a lengthy absence after the City of Garnett and Anderson County each agreed to contribute $2,500 for a total of $5,000 each year since 2014 to help pay for the roughly $25,000 to $30,000 costs. The remaining costs were borne by the fair association and ticket sales.

Jess Rockers with the Anderson County Fair Board said the contract with a carnival vendor already has been signed, so the carnival is expected to return to the 2017 fair. He said the fair board is working on a statement regarding the city's decision not to help fund the carnival, and he did not want to make any further comment until the statement was ready.

The Anderson County commission has agreed to contribute $2,500 to the carnival this year, Rockers said.

The City of Garnett contributes to the fair in a variety of other ways, city manager Joyce Martin told commissioners as they debated whether to help finance the event. The city provides electric, water and trash services at no charge to fair participants, vendors and the carnival.

"We really feel the city does a lot in supporting the fair," Martin said.

The city's tourism board reviewed a request from the fair board for the $2,500 application and decided not to approve the money using transient guest tax funds, money that comes from a special tax on people who stay in the city's hotels, motels and bed-and-breakfast facilities. Martin said the board gave the fair board a chance to resubmit their application, but the fair board members did not make any changes to the application that might make it more attractive to the tourism board. The tourism board recommended the city not approve the request, and also did not approve the city help pay for any local advertising for any fair events. They did approve paying for advertising outside of Anderson County, at a cost of $2,800. The fair board had requested a total of $4,000 for both local and out-of-county advertising.

Martin said the tourism committee's recommendation not to help pay for the carnival was based on the event's continuing monetary losses.

The fair board had to contribute several thousand dollars to pay the balance on the carnival and fair last year, Rockers said. Carnival ticket sales have declined each year since the carnival returned to the fair in 2014. The carnival vendor, Fun Time Shows, initially required a guaranteed minimum of $25,000 - either from ticket sales or other sources of funding - but increased that amount to $30,000 in 2016. The board increased the cost of ticket sales to help make up the difference.

For the past decade or so, the fair went without a carnival. Overall attendance suffered for years amid a multitude of complaints about the lack of the traditional midway entertainment. That changed in 2014, when Fun Time provided a carnival that brought in about $27,000 over four nights. The fair board made several changes to accommodate the carnival, such as moving the fair back about a week from late July to early August, and adding several events to encourage attendance. The board was encouraged after the 2014 fair, but the carnival barely made its $25,000 minimum in 2015 - and that included the $5,000 from the city and county.

Martin and commissioners said they did not want to continue "throwing money at something that's just losing money." They said they hoped the fair board could adjust by selling more tickets to the carnival or in other ways.

"We wish them a ton of success and hope the community gets behind them," commissioner Greg Gwin said.

"That's what it's going to take," Martin responded.
