Competency hearing set in Laiter sex case

Proceedings will be delayed until court makes determination

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - The defense attorney for the former county sheriff's deputy accused of sexual impropriety with inmates at Anderson County Jail will argue in court on Monday that Lex Laiter is not competent to stand trial on the charges.

Anderson County Attorney Brandon Jones said last week the hearing, set for 1:30 p.m. Monday, March 12, would allow the court's deliberation on a motion by defense attorney Craig Cole that Laiter is unable to understand and rationally participate in the court process. Jones said an evaluation of Laiter's competency was underway, but the case against him was on hold until his competency is determined by the judge.

State and federal courts require a defendant be cog-

Rates big question

Officials say they're sure on plant, but rates depend on variables

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Making Garnett's water safe to drink may be a far easier chore than figuring out how to keep it affordable to customers and still pay off the debt to build the new $13 million plant.

Members of two small groups of local residents who met with commissioners, city staff and engineers for the project on Feb. 26 seemed to embrace the need for a new water plant to replace the current 1948 facility, and officials presented a detailed presentation on the process of treating the city's water and the advantages of a new plant over the old one. But the fact that planners were unsure what the final financial impact would be on the city and on customers rates raised some ire.

"You mean we're going to build a project and we have no idea what it's going to cost us?" asked former city commissioner Mike Norman. The short answer: 'yes.'

A number of variables could

Urban exchange student learns rural lifestyle

DeSouza adjusts to small town American life after school in city of 300,000

BY MELISSA HOBBS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

COLONY - Ricardo De Souza came to the United States last August hoping to improve his English language skills and to get new experiences, and he feels like he has done both in the small town of Colony.

The town with its population just over 400 is a quite different lifestyle and environment from his hometown of Blumenau, which boasts some 300,000 residents. His first picks of host states were California and Florida.

"I like the sun and the beaches," said De Souza, who has now had his first experience with snow and ice - not often seen in Brazil.

What De Souza did get in his request to stay in the U.S. was a good host family.

"I got one of my requests, and that was a good host family," said De Souza. Debbie and Leonard Wools opened their home to De Souza who is the second Brazilian exchange student they have hosted. Their other exchange student from several years ago, named Thati, was also Brazilian, and the Wools' have even traveled to Brazil to see her since she returned home. They anticipate they will maintain a close relationship with De Souza once he returns to Brazil as well.

In Brazil, De Souza lived in a high rise apartment, and things were much more crowded than they are here

At home he liked to perform in drama, skateboard, and play volleyball.

Although De Souza said he had heard about school shootings in the United States, he says things like

Church mission makes most of Haitian trip

First Christian Church says 'thanks' with report of latest service project

BY ART BLACK THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - The helping hand of a local church and its workers was in the spotlight last week when members of the First Christian Church's Mission Haiti Team reported on its work at a church reception held to say 'thanks' to its supporters and sponsors.

Since 2013, the medical missions team at the First Christian Church has taken a total of six trips to Haiti to aid in the aftermath of nature's fury. Hurricanes, earthquakes, typhoons, mudslides, tropical storms, and flooding are all too common place for this small country that is roughly one fifth the size of Kansas.

This year's mission was simple: provide free medical care and reading glasses at the clinic, provide blankets and warm hats to needy Haitians in the mountain region, provide school supplies to students, and provide various supplies to local farmers for both personal and agricultural uses.

The team consists of eleven members: Doug Meyer, Nathan Wehl, Gayla Corley, Connie Meyer, Denise Scheibmeier, Dr. Ross Kimball, Becky French, Steve French, Kristen French, Judy Highberger and Sue Harsch.

The number of patients that the mission teams help has steadily increased with each passing year. In 2013, the team helped an amazing 371 individuals in just a few short days; however this year that number almost tripled.

In four days, they helped a staggering 1,083 patients, distributed 22,000 vitamins, and gave out 4,622 prescriptions.

Dr. Kimball compared the volume of patients over the time period to the local Family Care Center, which Kimball said would see a similar volume over a period of weeks. The days may have been few, the workers may even have been, but the impact was undoubtedly great.

"In Brazil only policemen have guns," said De Souza, "And I think that is right. We don't have problems like that there."

School in Brazil is much different than in the U.S. too. At 16 years of age, he would have been a senior this year in Brazil. Students there attend school from 7:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and the teachers move from class to class instead of the students.

Debbie says he made a detective film while in Brazil that he sent to them, and he included subtitles in English so they could understand what they were watching. The family recently went to the musical Les Misérables in Kansas City which De Souza says he enjoyed a lot.

De Souza has shared his Brazilian culture with the Wools family, especially in the kitchen. He has cooked them several traditional dishes including a chocolate dessert called brigadeiro, a chicken dish named coxinha, and cheese bread called pão de queijo that was a favorite of both Leonard and Debbie. They also liked coxinha, but

ROLF

APRIL 17, 1938 - MARCH 3, 2018

William Edward Rolf was welcomed into the world by his parents Edward and Lorena (Gleue) Rolf on April 17, 1938 on their farm south of Aliceville, Kansas. The family moved to the current Rolf farm north of LeRoy in 1942, where Bill grew up. His father and uncles were his mentors as he developed a true passion for farming and a deep commitment to land management and conservation practices. Bill was a 4th generation farmer. At his father's untimely death, it became a necessity to take over the farm and provide for his mother and young family. He embraced the responsibility of protector and provider throughout his entire life.

His formal education years were spent at St. John's Lutheran School and Avondale School. As a young man, Bill enjoyed playing baseball, bowling, slow pitch softball and playing music with cousins and friends. He was an accomplished hunter and fisherman, and was always able to put a meal on the table with those skills.

In 1962, he married his lovely wife and helpmate Jane Abbott Rolf. They enjoyed 56 years of marriage. Bill and Jane moved from LeRoy on to their farm in 1969 and raised their children Bonnie and Ed.

First and foremost, Bill was a farmer. However, his many skill sets made him a valuable employee in other areas. He worked for Sutherland Farm Equipment as a mechanic, Clarkson Construction as a welder on the John Redmond Reservoir, a salesman for Jayhawk Life Insurance, Stein Seed and a regional sales rep for farm equipment.

Bill was active in his community, serving two terms on the LeRoy City Council, eighteen years on the LeRoy Fire Department (12 years as Chief), three years on the LeRoy Homecoming Committee, one term on the ASCS Board, two terms on the Coffey County Conservation Board, the FHA

Board, and the Coffey County Airport Board during its organization. He was a Associate director of the Production Credit Association, and served four years as a Hunter Safety Instructor when the program was initiated in Coffey County.

He retired from farming in 2007, but maintained an active role in his land and property. Many friends and family reaped the benefits of his huge gardens and arbor fruits. Bill also enjoyed flying power parachutes and traveling with Jane in their motor home. As a life-long learner, he continued to stay in the tech loop and enjoyed keeping in touch with friends and acquaintances. Bill and Jane especially enjoyed their time with friends in Texas during the winter months. He was an avid supporter of his grandchildren's activities and stressed the importance of a well-rounded education through fine arts, FFA, Scouting, sports and academics.

His was a life well lived. His father and mother preceded him in death.

Waiting for a great reunion someday is his wife Jane; daughter Bonnie Kubacka (Scott) and their children Brianna, Isaac and Aaron; Edward (Ed) Rolf and his children Noah, Evyn, Ella and Liam; sister Helen Bolen (Wayne); brother Alfred Rolf (Jeannie); sister Dorothy Maier (Lee) and many, much-loved extended family members and friends.

Bill's family will welcome and greet friends at Jones Funeral Home on Tuesday, March 6th from 6-8 pm. His funeral service will be held at St John's Lutheran Church on Wednesday, March 7th at 10am. Bill will be laid to rest in a graveside service at St John's cemetery following the funeral.

Memorial gifts can be made to the St John's Lutheran Cemetery; Paola High School Fine Arts; Future Farmers of America and The Salvation Army.

When rights and wrongs collide

As we listen to the school safety debate the past couple of weeks, brought on by the most recent school shooting in Florida, it's hard not to be aware of the fact that our rights, for all we extoll their virtues, bring with them their own wrongs.

And the unpleasant melding of the two mean we debate them constantly, as we have and as we will no doubt continue to do.

It's interesting because we talk about our rights in a perfunctory way as if they're all cut and dried and furthest from controversy. 'I have my rights,' - we've heard the refrain countless times. But I'll bet there's many been an American slapped in handcuffs by the cops who didn't believe he still had rights, and that his own were being violated.

We don't throw out a right because of the ugliness that can come along with it.

course, not that the mainstream media these days really cares; it's like covering the issue of fire safety by focusing wholly on who should or should not have matches. There are far more elements to the issue.

The fact is, the right of Americans to own and in many cases carry guns brings with it the obvious negative - sometimes people shoot other innocent people with them. Sometimes people shoot themselves or someone they love or a member of their own household, either on purpose or accidentally. And when it happens, there is no doubt that the gun played its role.

It's a similar discussion in the realm of the rest of our rights - a woman's right to hold dominion over her own body and choose an abortion, codified by the U.S. Supreme Court as an interpretation of our Constitution, gives her the ultimate freedom to choose whether or not she'll endure a pregnancy, motherhood, parenting or the dilemma of adoption. It is an ultimate power and one that is uniquely female; but its cost is the death of those fetuses determined to be expendable in the woman's decision. The right and the wrong are inextricably tied together, regardless of your political viewpoint on the subject.

It's similar with free speech. We enjoy a national venue where media is for the most part free to report what it wants; to reveal telling information to the public about government and institutions in the hope that sunlight will be the best disinfectant. It's served our nation and is embraced by all of us and by the rest of the world as a crucial cornerstone of Americanism.

But that freedom of the press and of our own expression also gives audience to a parade of ugliness on a quest to offend first and give notice second: pornography debases those who take part in it but finds a ready audience; politically polarized "news" program rallies divergent political camps with biased perspectives; Nazis and Ku Klux Klansmen and those clad in vagina suits march in our streets for no real reason than to flaunt their rights in the face of those who disagree with them, oftentimes daring their opponents to engage violence against them in hopes of illustrating the intolerance of the other side.

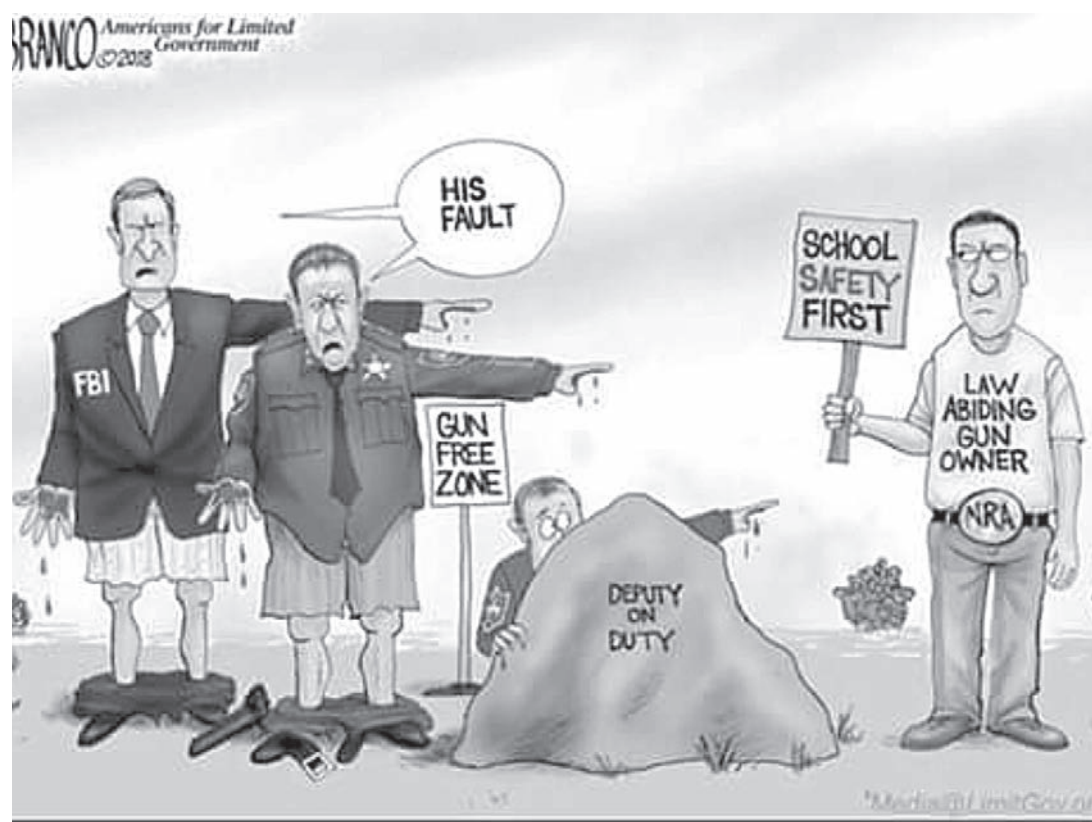

Consider how many criminal prosecutions have turned loose guilty individuals in courts of law in favor of rights protecting us all against self incrimination or search and seizure or others. It's true that our rights as defined by our country have at times prevented real and actual justice from being done, because we uphold those rights against the otherwise valid arguments that would subjugate them.

When we consider that context we see just how valuable our tradition holds the foundation on which our nation was built and how crucial it is to our future. We don't throw out a right because of the ugliness that can come along with it. It is part of the balancing act of our democracy; one that inevitably ties the baby to the bathwater in a free republic.

So I've been told there's people at the Willow Street Apartments that's been shooting and killing cats, which is against state law and Garnett city law. So why are the police letting this go on? They won't let people help the cats but they let people shoot them.

What a wonderful banquet that was put on for the police department, fire department and emergency responders. Very much appreciated. Please do not let the comments of the lady who complained of hot dogs and potato salad being served as a representation of the way everyone there felt. The steak was delicious, the service was wonderful, and the group appreciates the effort that was shown and the appreciation given to our police, firemen and first responders. Shame on that lady and her disrespect.

On the subject of arming teachers in the schools, unless you're going to put them in full body armor with an AR on their shoulder, you're asking individuals to go up against a heavily armed intruder with a handgun. Poor idea.

Would we have a bunch of cat problems if Garnett could enforce people cleaning up their properties? Drive around Garnett and you will see houses without doors and windows, dilapidated out buildings, tree limbs and trash on the ground, old cars that appear to be non-functioning, giving places for cats and other critters to live in. Let's get busy and clean up the town and that will eliminate many problems we face in our neighborhoods. This might fix the cat problem. Thank you.

The person who called about Crest sports nuts is right on. Sports is very good, but the dollars that they're spending is out of sight. We've had some youths go on on sports scholarships, but how many coaches' do we need? Thank you.

Why is the city throwing all these obstacles in front of these ladies trying to get the rescue started? These ladies are just trying to do a good thing when the city should be dealing with the people who are letting the cats breed. They said you couldn't trap them, but there's no ordinance whatsoever that says you cannot trap a cat.

Seeking assistance to identify object

What will turn up next at the old 1870's site I'm currently working at?

On the 9th of February 2018, I found this quite large brass/bronze ring. It is most likely made of bronze by looking at its color.

How old is it and who wore it? I have no earthly idea.

Bronze is an alloy traditionally composed of copper and tin. Bronze is of historical interest. It was made before 3000 BC, although its use in artifacts did not become common until much later.

Bronze is harder than copper as a result of alloying that metal with tin or other metals. Bronze is also more fusible (easily melted) and that makes it easier to cast. It is also harder than pure iron and far more resistant to corrosion. With age it does have a tendency to darken in color, just like this ring. Some modern bronzes, contain no tin at all, substituting metals such as aluminum, manganese and even zinc.

If only this old ring could talk!

Withering wheat

Some say the landscape in central and western Kansas looks like a barren, brown wasteland. Others believe that statement may be too kind.

What ever you see, and however you describe it - conditions remain dire in many regions of Kansas going into the final week of February.

In Lincoln County for example, it's difficult, and nearly impossible, to see green anywhere. Wheat crops look brown like the previous year's stubble or the fall residue. It doesn't matter if you look at wheat in bottom land or on hill tops, the crop looks terrible.

"There's no moisture on top," says veteran farmer/stockman Steve Boor. "I'm at a loss to figure out what our wheat is running on."

While there's subsoil moisture approximately five inches below the surface, without surface moisture in the way of a heavy snow or rain, Boor says the crop is hanging on by a thread.

"If the weather stays dry like it has been, temperatures warm up and the wheat breaks dormancy and starts to grow, it will use what moisture it's living on right now in a hurry," the Lincoln County farmer/stockman says.

How long the wheat can hang on without measurable precipitation depends on how cool temperatures stay.

If nights continue cool and daytime temps only reach the 60s for a couple hours each day, the wheat still knows it's winter, Boor says. However, if the nighttime temperatures begin to warm up into the mid-40s or low 50s, the wheat will wake up and begin growing.

The longer the wheat goes without moisture, the more stressed it becomes. Every day with continued dryness affects the yield.

"Most years this land out here would be a carpet of green," Boor says. "Instead, it's brown wherever you look."

Turning and looking at the landscape in every direction, the Lincoln County farmer talks about the great start this wheat began with last fall. September rains provided the crop with abundant moisture to sprout.

The crop looked promising, but soon after it came up the moisture stopped. No measurable precipitation occurred all winter including a couple of skiffs of snow with little moisture.

Historically in this region of the state, little moisture falls during February and March. Weather prognosticators say moisture may set in about the time the wheat begins heading.

INSIGHT

JOHN SCHLAGECK, Kansas Farm Bureau

"I'd say if the crop doesn't receive moisture before then, it won't do much good," Boor says. "The only green you see out here is the yucca plants. They're doing well because all their competition has been wiped out."

While conditions remain "tinder-box" dry throughout much of Kansas, the Lincoln County farmer believes the potential remains to harvest a crop. However, he also knows that every day without moisture the wheat weakens, and yield potential lessens.

"I've had this crop break my heart more than once," Boor says. "If we could just receive a little moisture to nurse it along."

Like wheat farmers who've planted the crop for generations, Boor remains determined to take the hand he's been dealt and make the best of it.

The most difficult aspect of this continuing dry weather is the impact on inhabitants in and around Sylvan Grove where Boor lives - friends, family and neighbors. These inhabitants and the community depend on farming and ranching for their livelihood.

"When agriculture is hurting, our community hurts as well," he says. "We all depend on crops and livestock for our survival. We need moisture and we need it now."

John Schlageck is a leading commentator on agriculture and rural Kansas. Born and raised on a diversified farm in northwestern Kansas, his writing reflects a lifetime of experience, knowledge and passion.

A strike office of the American Agriculture movement was opened in an empty service station in Garnett this week. The office was opened to bring strike information closer to farmers living in this part of Anderson County, according to spokesman Dale Raymond.

Raymond said more volunteer workers are needed for the new location. The strike office will attempt to provide information needed by farmers to form opinions on the strike. A bulletin board will hold copies of farm bills now before Congress, and the addresses and phone numbers of all Congressmen.

The food administration is preparing to cut down on the brewers as it might have better done and would have done in the first place if Hoover could have obtained permission to make the order. Pending new regulations for the control of breweries, which have now been forbidden to buy any more grain for malt purposes, it has been discovered that the beer makers were wise and have enough grain on hand for the next six months. Malt is brewed in the winter time, and virtually all the material the breweries need for consumption during the next six months, they now have in storage or in the vats.

Be sure to inventory your property and insure it against natural elements as storm season approaches

Kansas estimated storm losses from windstorm, tornadoes and hail are beginning to inch up in the yearly totals, according to our department numbers from previous years. While they haven't approached the staggering figures of a few years ago, the estimated losses from 2017 show that Kansans need to be continually prepared for potential storm-related losses.

I am urging all Kansans, as we approach another Kansas spring and summer storm season, to make sure their property is inventoried properly and insured against natural elements.

It is not fun to think about preparing for the worst — but it is even less desirable to have to think about what to do when a storm loss occurs. A little forethought about insurance matters is a great way to gain some peace of mind — especially when you have to focus on your family's immediate needs during an emergency.

Following is a useful checklist our department has compiled for 2018 storm season precautions and preparations.

- Check your homeowner and vehicle policies to make sure you have proper coverage for hail and windstorm damage. Review your homeowners policy with your insurance agent to check for current coverage and adequate protection for all structures and personal property, including farm out-buildings.

- Take inventory of your personal property, including model and serial numbers when available. The Kansas Insurance Department has a good Personal Home Inventory checklist for download printing at www.ksinsurance.org. Go to the "Help With..." Box on the homepage and click on "Finding a Publication."

INSURANCE MATTERS

KEN SELZER, Kansas Insurance Commissioner

- If possible, take photos or make a videotape of personal items to give to insurance adjusters in the event of loss. Store this information, along with receipts, in a safe deposit box or somewhere other than in your home.

- Keep your house in good repair all year long. Make sure roofing shingles are secure, garage doors are reinforced and unnecessary debris is removed from the yard. In high winds, loose debris can cause significant property damage or personal injury, as well as blocking drains and sewers, which can lead to water damage.

- Check your roof for leaks or damage to rain gutters.

- See that trees or branches are not in danger of falling on your home. Closely inspect your trees, and remove weak branches that could fall in high winds.

NOTE: Removal of large tree debris from your yard is usually not covered by your homeowners insurance. The expense of cleanup is your responsibility.

- Take severe weather alerts and warnings seriously. Many people are injured or die unnecessarily each year because they are watching storms instead of protecting themselves.

- Take part in Severe Weather Awareness Week activities and Storm Spotter meetings, which will be conducted throughout the state this month.

- Have plenty of fresh batteries for radios and flashlights, as well as a supply of bottled water, dried foods and canned goods, in case of a power outage.

- Listen to the latest forecasts from television or radio news. Severe weather warnings are activated to protect you and your property.

- If you have time to act in a severe storm warning, move automobiles into a garage or shed.

- Know how flood damage is covered. Just an inch of water can cause expensive damage to your property. Most personal and commercial policies covering property do not include earthquake or flood protection. If you are prone to flooding or rising water in your home, you may not be protected by your homeowners policy. Check with your insurance agent. For more information, call 888-435-6637 or visit the Web site www.floodsmart.gov.

Be prepared for the Kansas storm season. If you have additional questions, contact our Consumer Assistance Hotline (for Kansas residents) at 800-432-2484, or go to our website, www.ksinsurance.org, for a live chat session with a consumer representative. You can also view storm loss estimates from previous years by clicking on the "Featured Pages" box on our homepage. The link is <http://www.ksinsurance.org/autohome/ks-estimated-storm-losses.php>.

I also urge you to attend a local Severe Weather Awareness seminar in your area to learn about notification and preparation techniques for the public.

Chapter Y PEO January & February meetings

The Chapter Y PEO January 15 meeting was cancelled due to poor weather, which made the social on February 5, 2018, so much more enjoyable.

The social was held at the home of Becky Solander and was hosted by Becky, Elaine Dunbar, Jessica Klein, Lynda Feuerborn, and Lucille Holderman.

After a short business meeting, the group was treated to a Chinese volcano dinner. Lots of eating and visiting with sisters was enjoyed since we had not been together since early December.

On February 19, 2018, Chapter Y PEO met at Parkview Heights.

Sonya Martin and Sandra Moffatt hosted the meeting. President Rita Boydston read the President's letter, which reminded us of all the great activities we had participated in throughout the year.

Holly Benjamin shared information on the STAR project and Pam Covault presented information on the Continuing Education Project.

Lucille Holderman gave the Founder's Day program, with a virtual visit to Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, where PEO was founded on January 21, 1869.

Justin Rockers and John Rundle scrapping for a rebound against Carson Beyer of Burlington in Saturday nights Sub-State Championship game.

Bulldogs heading to State

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

Garnett - The Anderson County Bulldogs entered the Sub-State tournament seeded second, but after winning easily in the opening round over Osawatomie they pulled off a thrilling 95-84 win in the Sub-State Championship over Burlington to earn a trip to the state tournament in Emporia.

Anderson County (15-7) opened post-season play with a dominating 70-31 victory over Osawatomie (9-12).

The Bulldogs took the lead early and never looked back. The score was 17-9 after the first period but following a 27-point eruption in the second quarter the Bulldogs led handily 44-19 at intermission en route to the easy win.

Carson Powelson led all scorers with 19 points on the evening.

Saturday night was the showdown against top-seeded Burlington (15-5).

This would be the fourth time the two teams met, the previous three were all won by Burlington.

It looked like Burlington was on track to making it four straight after holding a 21-17 lead after the first period.

The Bulldogs roared back to take a 42-38 lead into halftime. The offensive fireworks were just getting going though as the two teams would combine for 99 points in the second half.

Anderson County extended their lead to 10 points heading into the fourth, which is where the Bulldogs hung on thanks in large part to great free throw shooting down the stretch.

The Bulldogs drained 30-36 (83%) free throws on the night, including 23-28 (82%) in the fourth quarter alone.

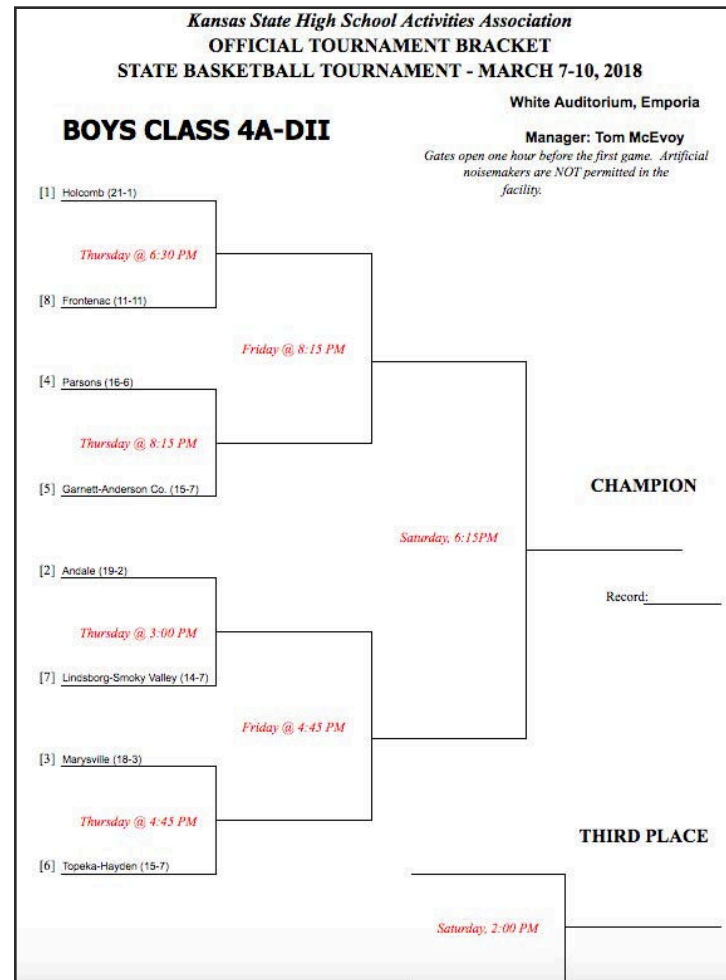

Garrett Edens led the way with 22 points, Justin Rockers notched 21 points and both Kass Allnutt and Powelson added 19 points each.

Next up for the Bulldogs is a trip to Emporia to take on Parsons in the opening round on Thursday night at 8:30 p.m.

Lancers disappointing season ends with disappointing defeat

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

HARTFORD - Another year, another disappointing finish for the Crest Lancer (8-12) boys as they dropped their opener in Sub-State play with a disheartening 52-30 defeat to Waverly (6-13) last Thursday.

Heading into the season, Coach Travis Hermreck wanted his squad to get back to play "Crest basketball," and despite signs of it throughout the season they just couldn't keep up any sort of consistent play.

Despite the struggles, the Lancers had a real shot at still making the state basketball tournament with there only being 5 teams playing at Hartford, and all were well under .500 for the season.

Crest was the second seed and Waverly was seeded third. The fourth and fifth seeds, Marais Des Cygnes Valley and Altoona Midway combined to go 1-36.

Top seeded Hartford was just 8-11.

The Lancers couldn't capitalize on their opportunity though as they were playing from behind all night, trailing 13-7 after the first and fell into an even bigger hole falling behind 25-16 at halftime.

It was all Waverly again in the second half, as they were in control all evening.

The Lancers were outscored 13-7 in the third period to end any hopes they may have had at a comeback.

Only two players were able to get into the scorer's column in the game for Crest.

Senior Hayden Hermreck led his team in scoring with 19 points and also added 9 rebounds and 4 blocks.

Fellow senior Hayden Seabolt tallied 11 points, 11 rebounds and 3 blocks on the night.

Chaska Lacey led Waverly with 12 points.

"This was a tough season for us, our expectations were much higher than what we achieved." Coach Hermreck said. "I appreciate all our five seniors gave to us, and look forward to watching our returners develop and grow during this off season."

Waverly would go on to win the Sub-State Championship with a 53-40 victory over Hartford, sending them to the state tournament.

Lady Bulldogs fall to Burlington in Sub-State

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - It was the fourth time that the Anderson County Bulldogs (6-15) and Burlington Wildcats (17-3) would face each other this season, with Burlington having the upper hand in each contest. The Sub-State pairing would be the most competitive game, despite the 62-42 final.

Burlington controlled the game early, leading 18-7 after the first quarter and 33-16 at halftime.

The Lady Bulldogs played much better in the second half, even getting the lead down to single digits but everytime it seemed Burlington had an answer.

Gabby Spring led the Bulldogs with 8 points.

For Burlington, Kirsten Young and Ashlynn Doebele scored 18 and 15 points respectively to lead the Lady Wildcats.

Burlington would go on to drop the Sub-State Championship game to top seeded Baldwin (20-1) 55-35.

Lady Lancers can't hold on against Waverly

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

HARTFORD - After a strong first half, the Crest Lancers (7-12) couldn't hold onto a double digit halftime lead against Waverly (11-8) en route to a disappointing 55-49 loss on Friday.

After an opening round bye for both teams, second seeded Waverly came out sluggish and found themselves down big to the third seeded Lancers.

Crest led after the first quarter 16-8 and stretched that lead even further heading into halftime, leading 32-20 at intermission.

Waverly responded with a third quarter run that would put them in position to pull off the comeback, heading into the fourth quarter trailing by just three points 42-39.

Unfortunately for the Lady Lancers it just wasn't meant to be. Waverly would complete the comeback by outscoring them by 10 points in the fourth quarter.

Waverly would come up just short in the Sub-State Championship, dropping the game 65-61 to top seeded Hartford (17-4).

The junior quartet of Camryn Strickler, Jewel Armstrong, Cassie Bowen and Regan Godderz led the way again for Crest.

Godderz led the Lancers with 15 points, knocking down 6 of 13 shots on the night.

Strickler was efficient offensively as she had 14 points and 8 rebounds on 5-7 shooting from the field.

Bowen was a perfect 3-3 from the field and 2-2 from the free throw line, scoring 8 points and adding 6 rebounds.

Armstrong struggled from the field, going just 1-10, but still had 5 points and 2 rebounds to help Crest.

Freshman Aubree Holloran added 7 points and 6 rebounds for the Lady Lancers.

Despite the disappointing end of the season, head coach Megan Mason has to be happy with the contribution up and down the small roster she had to work with.

With no seniors on the team and the improvement made by the Lancers this season, next season has a chance to be a winning campaign with the chance to make a run come tournament time.

 Waverly 8 12 19 17 - 55

Prairie Spirit Rail Trail Turns 22 - "Birthday Bash" held on March 21

The Friends of the Prairie Spirit Trail will host this "birthday bash" event on Wednesday, March 21st at the Anderson County High School in the Commons Area. The celebration marks the 22nd anniversary of the official opening of the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail.

Tickets for the event are $10 each and can be purchased from various Friends members, also at Garnett City Hall or at the door that evening. The event will begin with a silent auction at 6 p.m., followed by a buffet meal at 6:30 p.m.

The evening's activities will highlight the trail's history. The public is invited to attend.

About the trail: The first stretch of the Prairie Spirit Trail officially opened on March 30, 1996. Since that grand opening day 20 years ago, many people have shared the "Prairie Spirit" experience and many projects have been realized through the development of the trail. The improvement projects in Garnett are numerous and include the renovation of the Santa Fe Depot as a tourism information center, the Santa Fe Depot Walking Tile Project, a nostalgically lit pathway through town complete with benches lining the trail and native landscaping, bluebird houses for bird watching, and the addition of way-finding kiosks and signage.

On September 1, 1998, Phase II of the trail officially opened and extended the trail from 17 miles in length to more than 33 miles (Richmond to Ottawa).

the trail to the Old Museum Depot. Picnic shelters and other amenities are ongoing Friends of the Prairie Spirit Trail projects in the communities of Welda and Richmond.

Phase III opened in 2008 connecting the first two phases to the enchanting communities of Colony, Carlyle and Iola and lengthen the trail to more than 51 miles. The city of Iola and THRIVE Allen County have been working on streetscape and trail enhancements in the southern portion of the Prairie Spirit.

2013: volunteers created an extension of the Prairie Spirit from Iola to Humboldt called the Southwind Trail.

Today, progress continues to support linking the Prairie Spirit to the Flint Hills Nature Trail (Osawatomie to Herington) that intersects the Prairie Spirit at Ottawa, thus providing trail enthusiasts a continual connection of trails throughout Kansas, bringing visitors and potential new residents to the area and promoting a healthy, active lifestyle for the communities along the Kansas trail system.

The trail is managed by the Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks.

To find out more about the Prairie Spirit Trail State Park and activities on the trail, the Friends of the Trail invite you to visit www.bikeprairiespirit.com and to follow the trail's Facebook page "Prairie Spirit Rail Bike Trail".

Garnett Public Library book discussion Mar 28

The Garnett Public Library will hold their book discussion on Wednesday, March 28th at 7 p.m. in the Archer Room at the library. They are held on the fourth Wednesday of each month. This month's discussion will be "A Piece of the World" by Christina Baker Kline. She is the #1 New York Times bestselling author of the smash bestseller Orphan Train. This book is a stunning and atmospheric novel of friendship, passion, and art, inspired by Andrew Wyeth's mysterious and iconic painting Christina's World. To Christina Olson, the entire world was her family's remote farm in the small coastal town of Cushing, Maine. Born in the home her family had lived in for generations, and increasingly incapacitated by illness, Christina seemed destined for a small life. Instead, for more than twenty years, she was host and inspiration for the artist Andrew Wyeth, and became the subject of one of the best known American paintings of the twentieth century. Christina Baker Kline interweaves fact and fiction in a powerful novel that illuminates a little-known part of America's history. Bringing into focus the flesh-and-blood woman behind the portrait, she vividly imagines the life of a woman with a complicated relationship to her family and her past, and a special bond with one of our greatest modern artists. Leading our discussion will be Paulabeth Henderson. The books are available for checkout at the library. Notification is posted in case of cancellation.

Local Lions Club to host motorcycle safari

GARNETT – Off-road motorcycles will descend on the Garnett area in June when the Garnett Lions Club hosts the Kansas Dual Sport Safari, featuring trails and back road motorcycle rides throughout Anderson and adjoining counties.

The event is set for June 1-3, and Lions organizers hope for a minimum of 40 participants in the inaugural showing.

Dual sport motorcycles are ruggedly constructed bikes built to withstand trail riding, but still include headlights, tail lights and turn signals to make them street legal. Riders have to be licensed and insured the same as any other road bike.

Sometimes referred to as "Adventure Rides," dual sport rides gravitate toward trails and back roads, gravel roads and minimum maintenance county roads and avoid or minimize pavement and highways. Their participants extoll the virtues of seeing sights not typically seen from the standard paved thoroughfares, and the rich Americana of some of the country's smallest towns and rural areas. A mapped ride known as the Trans America Trail, which runs some 5,000 miles from starting points in North Carolina coastal areas and ends at locations in Oregon, attracts numerous riders every year who either do all or portions of the trail.

The TAT bisects the Arkansas Ozarks, Oklahoma and Colorado but doesn't traverse Kansas or Missouri, so riders in those states typically attend a variety of organized and "rendezvous" rides across their respective regions.

Garnett Lions president Dane Hicks said the local area's position as a transition point between different types of Kansas terrain made this ride particularly attractive to adventure riders.

"You can drive west a few miles and it's basically the beginning of the Flint Hills," Hicks said, "and east of here 5-10 miles it gets hilly and more like western Missouri. We're right at the overlap area where you can combine lots of different terrain in a single day ride."

Riders in the Safari will total between 100-150 miles in around 8 hours, with guides leading the rides graded to beginner, intermediate and advanced riders.

The event also features an evening Safari party at the Anderson County Fairgrounds with food and live music, to which the public is invited.

For more information on the Kansas Dual Sport Safari, see the Garnett Lions Club Facebook page or download the information sheet at www.garnett-ks.com/safariscoopsheet.pdf.

zant of the proceedings and the charges against him and that he have valid participation in his own defense before a trial can be conducted to determine guilt or innocence. If found incompetent, the proceedings are delayed until a defendant can be given treatment and his competency restored, at which time the case can proceed.

Jones said plea negotiation had begun in the case between himself and Cole, but he said no deal could be reached until Laiter's competency was determined.

Laiter worked as a jailer at the Anderson County Jail from February 2013 until he was fired by county sheriff Vern Valentine in December 2016 for trafficking tobacco in the facility. Valentine later commissioned an investigation of Laiter in January 2017 after rumors surfaced about his activities at the jail. The probe led to Laiter's arrest at his home November 6 by Kansas Bureau of Investigation agents after interviews they conducted with former county jail inmates yielded statements from four women and one man that they had consensual sex with Laiter either at the jail or later after their release. Laiter allegedly got one of the inmates pregnant during her incarceration, and helped pay costs of her abortion.

Laiter faces 11 counts of unlawful sexual relations and two counts of attempted unlawful sexual relations. He's being held in the Osage County Jail in lieu of $250,000 bond.

We must see Jesus for who he is

The third chapter of the gospel of John relates the story of Nicodemus and Jesus. A related text which does not get a lot of attention within this chapter is John 3:13. Jesus is speaking and he makes the following statement, "No one has ever gone into heaven except the one who came from heaven--the Son of Man." Certainly Ephesians 1:20 provides us proof that what Jesus is saying is true. That passage speaking of the great power of God says; "That power is like the working of his (God's) mighty strength, when he (God) raised him (Jesus) from the dead and seated him at his right hand in the heavenly realms, far above all rule and authority, power and dominion, and every title that can be given, not only in the present age but also in the one to come." By virtue of being seated at God's right hand Jesus sits in a position of authority from which he will ultimately judge the living and the dead at the final judgment. It is very easy to read over this text and miss the significance of what Jesus is saying here. Nicodemus only acknowledges that Jesus is a teacher who has come from God. The Apostle Paul tells us in Colossians 1:15, that, "He (Jesus) is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation." We are told that we were created in the image of God. This adds some weight to the statement Jesus has made. Nicodemus did not see Jesus for who he was and I doubt most of us do. If we fail to understand that Jesus was the incarnation of God, which is a theological term for the coming of God's Son into the world as a human being we are making a tragic error. God sent his Son, the expressed image of himself to save man from the wrath of God. Jesus makes a very direct statement concerning this in Matthew 10:32-33 when he says, "Whoever acknowledges me before men, I will also acknowledge him before my Father in heaven. But whoever disowns me before men, I will disown him before my Father in heaven." Jesus will either be our judge or our Savior and we must make the choice.

Crest Special Meeting

A special meeting of the Board of Education of Crest Unified School District #479 was held at the Crest Board Office, Colony, Monday, February 19th, 2018. A waiver of notice was signed by all board members- Tadd Goodell, Travis Church, Bryan Miller, Jeff McAdam and Lance Ramsey. Others in attendance were Supt. Colony Park

It was June, 1976 when Colony youths played the first baseball game of the season on the newly-remodeled ball field in northeast Colony. Proud Lions Club members Bob Barnett, president; Jay Dutton, secretary; Glen Hermreck, first vice president; Wallace Strickler, ball park committee chairman and Harvey Powell, Lions member were on hand to watch the first game. The project was a joint effort of the Ozark Township, Colony Lions Club, City Council and contributions from interested citizens in the community. The area was owned by the city.

Lion Doug Luedke was appointed chairman of the overall park committee, with the following Lions serving with him: Scott Maddox, Clark Schainost, club treasurer, Robert Barnett, club president; Robert McKee, Weldon Goodell and Robert Weatherman club finance committee chairman.

In the northwest corner of the park a practice ball field was yet to be constructed. The city was responsible for routine maintenance in the matter of weed and grass cutting, trash container pickup and replacement of electric light bulbs, except floor lights on the ball field. Also the city provided utility services, including water and electricity. The Lions Club was to provide major repair and maintenance on the same basis as for primary improvements. Since it was a community project any interested person was welcome to help either by donating labor or funds. The estimated cost was $8,000. An account was opened at the State Bank of Colony under the name Colony Community Park Fund. Donations could be left at the bank or with any member of the Lions Club.

Today nearing completion are the new diamonds to be utilized by Crest High School's newly formed baseball and softball teams at the same updated location.

Around Town

Colony had two days of icy roads, trees all iced, ice everywhere last week. Good time to stay in. No school on Tuesday, some days were shortened, preschool was not held.

Doris Luedke Finley was given a birthday party for her 89th birthday held at Good Samaritans, Atwood on Feb. 23. Her daughters-in-law Anita and Karen Finley were hosts. Doris is the twin sister of the late Morris Luedke. Both graduated from Colony High School.

Leonard and Debbie Wools attended church in Perry, KS Sunday where their daughter Allison's youngest daughter was baptized.

Sympathy is expressed to Dale Swift at the loss of his mother Charlotte Swift, 86, whose death was at Parkview Heights, Garnett, Feb. 18. Services were held at the Colony Community Church Feb. 24. Burial followed at the Colony Cemetery.

A number of variables could affect how much money the city has to put into the plant project, said city manager Chris Weiner, and all of those would have some impact on a calculation of eventual water rates for customers.

"It's something that's somewhat in flux right now," Weiner said. Over the course of the discussion, Weiner said the eventual city cost involved in the plant would depend on the availability of federal infrastructure grant funds under a new presidential order, the construction bids submitted by contractors interested in the plant, possible state grants; the future of water purchases from East Kansas Agri Energy, interest and finance costs and the final tax impact of an EKAE property tax appeal currently underway.

Any or combinations of those, Weiner said, would impact positively or negatively on the city's ultimate debt for the plant and in turn the degree of impact on customer rates.

A preliminary review of costs and rates some weeks ago led Weiner to the conclusion city water rates would need to roughly double in order to fund the plant's entire cost over the present customer base. With an average residential customer using 4,000-5,000 of water per month, Weiner said that rate plan would mean another $16-$17 per month out of resident customers' pockets, and he anticipated implementing incremental rate increases soon in order to build reserves to start construction.

How that impact would affect larger customers - like the EKAE ethanol plant and rural water districts, which might look to other sources for water if their prices doubled - made for more uncertainty.

Water plant supervisor Ken

Amaya said the new design was basically the same process as the plant currently uses, though the redesign from a vertical system to a horizontal one would save maintenance and be easier to operate and provide better security against vandalism.

Commissioner Greg Gwin said he was dubious about the plan and its costs initially, but that he had warmed to the plan particularly since a meeting was held with local authorities, city staff and engineers. Other former city officials agreed.

"I guess I just look at it as a necessity," said former city commissioner Jan Hodgson. "There's really no choice. You have to do something. If we don't have it, then what's it going to cost?"

Lee Strobel's bestselling 'The Case for Christ' comes to life on film and comes to local Church

GARNETT - 'The Case for Christ' is based on Lee Strobel's best selling book about his own journey as an award-winning investigative journalist and resolute atheist who sets out to disprove Christianity, comes to life at True Hope Community Church in Garnett.

"The book 'The Case for Christ' lays out the overwhelming foundation of evidence from which personal faith can rise," Strobel said. "The film gives the dramatic story behind the story of a man with personal animosity for Christianity who used journalistic and legal techniques to evaluate its claims."

"The Case for Christ" takes audiences on an exciting journey from skepticism to belief. The film draws on the true story of Lee and Leslie Strobel, whose marriage struggled mightily as her growing faith collided with his determined atheism. The dramatic retelling of their journey offers heart and a human touch on the in-depth research Lee Strobel conducted.

"The Case for Christ" is a moving story that will inspire everyone who sees it: believers, those who are searching for answers, and even those who are where Lee Strobel once was.

It begins with the hope of disproving the story of Jesus, the Cross and the Resurrection and ends only to find the redemptive power of God's love. Here we travel an emotional and spiritual path that brings us, along with the author, to embrace the 'ever ancient and always new' truth of God.

The public is invited to attend. Childcare will be provided for children 4 and under. Refreshments will be provided during the intermission. Special gifts are also planned for all who attend. For more information, contact the Church on Facebook or by calling/texting (785) 409-3595.

Walk Kansas Program to begin March 18

For many in Kansas, participating in the Walk Kansas program - a K-State Research and Extension health challenge - signals spring. This year, the program will run from March 18th through May 12th.

Walk Kansas is geared toward addressing critical issues in our state. Less than half of Kansas adults, for example, meet the minimum recommendations for physical activity (150 minutes of moderate exercise each week). Additionally, less than 10% of Kansans eat enough fruits and vegetables. According to the Partnership to Fight Chronic Disease, if Americans were to stop smoking, exercise regularly and eat well, they could prevent up to 80 percent of heart disease and stroke, 80 percent of type 2 diabetes, and 40 percent of cancers.

During the eight-week program, four to six individuals form a team and select one person to be the captain. The team also selects from one of three physical activity goals they want work toward throughout the program. Participants then log their minutes of physical activity each week online or report it to their team captain.

The goal of the program is to encourage individuals to lead a healthier life by being more physically active, making better nutrition choices, and learning positive ways to deal with stress.

Even though individuals report their weekly activity as part of a team, it doesn't mean they must walk together as a team, although some teams do. Teammates, however, are encouraged to connect and support each other. It is common for a family, a group of friends, or co-workers to register as a team. Additionally, with the help of technology, some teams are made up of people in different communities or from different parts of the country.

The cost to participate is $8.00 per person, which helps to cover program materials, including a weekly newsletter with nutrition and health tips and recipes. Walk Kansas t-shirts can also be purchased for an additional cost.

Information about the program and how to register a team online is available on the Walk Kansas website at www.walkkansas.org. Teams can also sign up for the program by contacting the Frontier Extension District office in Garnett (785.448.6826), Ottawa (785.229.3520), or Lyndon (785.828.4438) to complete a paper registration packet.
