Hearing may revoke woman's probation in June 2017 death

State contends Hobbs has not kept up required meetings

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – The local woman sentenced last fall in connection with the June 2017 hit-and-run death of a Mont Ida man will be back in court next week for a hearing that may revoke her probation.

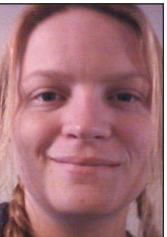

Ashley Hobbs pled guilty in September 2017 to obstructing apprehension or prosecution after she initially lied to investigating officers about her 2004 Pontiac's involvement in the fatal incident that killed 22-year-old Clay Yoder as he was walking home after midnight from a local bar.

Hobbs was a passenger in the car when 36-year-old Jason Wilson, who was behind the wheel, ran over Yoder near the Cedar Creek Bridge on 1650 Road West of Garnett. The vehicle was identified in Garnett two days later by law officers based off evidence found at the scene of the incident.

Hobbs was sentenced to 10 months in jail in September 2017, but the sentence was suspended in lieu of 30 days in jail and 18 months probation. Anderson County Attorney Brandon Jones said last week the hearing was called due to Hobbs' refusal to fulfill the terms of her probation by meeting as scheduled with probation officers.

Mahon to leave Crest for Tonganoxie

BY MELISSA HOBBS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

COLONY – Crest Superintendent and principal Chuck Mahon will be leaving the district in July after turning in his resignation recently, with plans to move to a new school district at the end of this school year.

Mahon has been at the helm of USD 479 for four years.

Mahon says he will move to Tonganoxie USD 464 where he will be the elementary principal starting next school year. Although he's excited to be moving on to a new position, he says he's happy with the things that have been accomplished at Crest since he's been on board.

"The school board has been very supportive. We're a frugal district and that has allowed us to do a lot of the things we have done," said Mahon. During his time at Crest, Mahon says there have been several improvements throughout the building itself and completed work on the parking lot. All of the sports teams have received new uniforms and a strategic plan was put into place for further improvements in the district.

Several instructional resources have been made including 1:1 technology upgrades for grades 8-12, and 2:1 technology in grades kindergarten through 5th grades who received iPads to use in the classrooms.

Chief: Burglary, theft takes 'drastic' jump in Garnett

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – Police chief Kurt King says the area saw a "drastic" increase in burglaries and property crimes in March, and he told the Review he believes that uptick in crime is related in general to eight narcotics arrests the department made during that same month.

The comments were part of a general report to city commissioners reviewed at last Tuesday's city commission meeting.

"Most often the burglary and thefts are committed in order for the user/addict to support their daily habit," King said. "Methamphetamine is the biggest problem that we face in our community currently."

King urged local residents to be sure their homes and particularly their cars and garages are kept locked, and that valuables are never left in their unlocked vehicles.

"Most cases of vehicle thefts or burglaries are because the cars were left unlocked or the keys were left inside," King said. "In most of our vehicle burglaries money is what is stolen. If they find something else laying out in the open that is valuable they will take that as well."

King said also to take electronics out of the vehicles like phones,

Welda highway project on hold while others anticipated

Commuters won't deal with U.S. 169 work locally, but other work projects promise tangles

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

TOPEKA – The cancellation of the highway project on U.S. 169 through Welda slated for this summer will keep the local area clear of traffic detours, but other projects in the region promise to make Anderson County commuters' regular trips more challenging this summer.

Priscilla Petersen with the Kansas Department of Transportation confirmed last week the 9-mile reconstruction and widening project previously slated for U.S. 169 near Welda had been delayed indefinitely, part of 20-plus projects put on hold in 2016 due to state budget issues. The cost for the project was expected to top $25 million.

That's good and bad news – good news for drivers who won't have to navigate construction zones and endure traffic delays and detours, but bad news for general safety on that stretch of highway and for local businesses that would see increased sales due to the construction project. Data from the 2010 census shows some 58 percent of Anderson County workers commute outside the county for employment either daily or near daily.

Commuters headed south of Iola will encounter a reconstruction project on U.S. 169 for seven miles, from Minnesota Road to Delaware Road. Weather permitting, this section of the highway will be closed to through traffic April 23 and won't reopen until Spring 2019. Southbound traffic will detour west on U.S. 54 to U.S. 75, then south to K-39, then back east to U.S. 169 at Chanute. Northbound traffic will go the opposite way. Locals and those familiar with the area will skip the 40-mile detour by using Old 169. The $16 million construction project was awarded to Emery Sapp & Sons of Columbia, Mo.

KDOT announced the approval of March bids last week for separate projects in all six regions of the state.

The one that will most affect local residents is a project on U.S. 59 from Garnett 6.8 miles north to the county line – a milling and asphalt replacement project.

Year-to-date reports for 2018 totaled 95 but were 129 in 2017; also down were YTD arrests by the department, which notched 78 last year and through last month stood at 48 for 2018. Citations written by the department were also down year-over year, with tickets written through March of last year at 215 and this year at 156.

USDA offers food safety tips to avoid foodborne illness

Spring is finally here. It has been a long wait, but warmer temperatures bring events like weddings, graduations and holiday celebrations. These events bring together groups of people to enjoy considerable amounts of delicious and often traditional foods. But if proper food safety steps aren't taken, your celebration could turn into a disaster.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that in the U.S., foodborne illness causes 128,000 hospitalizations and 3,000 deaths each year. This spring, USDA is offering tips on how to properly handle, cook and store food when serving large groups of people. These tips will keep you and your guests safe from foodborne illness.

The Four Basic Steps to Food Safety

- Having the right kitchen equipment will make your life easier when practicing four food safety steps: clean, separate, cook and chill.
- Clean hands frequently with warm soapy water, especially before and after handling raw food; thoroughly wash cutting boards, countertops and utensils with hot soapy water.
- Use separate cutting boards for raw and ready-to-eat foods. For example, use one cutting board for produce and a different one for raw meat and poultry. That way, you are preventing cross contamination between raw and ready-to-eat food.

•Always use a food thermometer when cooking. Measure the internal temperature of meats, poultry, and seafood and egg products before serving to make sure they are ready to eat. The USDA Safe Minimum Internal Temperatures chart will help you determine if your food is safe to eat:

- Beef, pork, veal and lamb -steaks, chops or roasts: 145°F and allow to rest for at least three minutes (including fresh or smoked ham)
- Ground meats: 160°F
- Fully cooked ham (to reheat): Reheat cooked hams packaged in USDA-inspected plants to 140°F and all others to 165°F
- All poultry (breasts, whole birds and stuffing, legs, thighs, wings and ground poultry): 165°F
- Egg dishes: 160°F
- Fish: 145°F
- Leftovers and casseroles: 165°F
- Perishable food should not be left out at room temperature for more than two hours. At celebration gatherings, make sure your cold food is kept cold (40°F or below) by serving it in smaller portions and refilling, or by putting the food containers over ice. Hot food should be kept hot (140°F or above); you can keep the food warm by serving in warming trays or using a slow cooker.

Grocery Shopping Plan

- When shopping for groceries:
- Pick up cold items last and bring them home immediately so they are refrigerated or frozen within two hours.
- Place raw meat and poultry in plastic bags to prevent raw juices (which may contain harmful bacteria) from dripping onto other foods in your shopping cart.

Spring Kitchen Basics

- Make sure your refrigerator temperature is set to 40°F or below and your freezer at 0°F or below. An appliance thermometer can come in handy to check those temperatures.
- 'Spring clean' your fridge for a fresh, healthy start this time of the year.
- Do not wash meat and poultry. Doing so increases the risk of cross-contamination in your kitchen. Cooking meat and poultry to the correct internal temperature will kill any bacteria.
- Do not thaw foods at room temperature. Safe thawing can only be done in the refrigerator, in the microwave or by using the cold-water method. If you thaw using the microwave or the cold-water method, be sure to cook the food immediately after it has thawed.

•Perishable food should not be left at room temperature for more than two hours (one hour when temperature is above 90°F).

•When storing leftovers like large pots of soup or stew, divide them into shallow containers. Slice large portions of cooked meat or poultry into smaller portions and store in containers. Cover and refrigerate.

Consumers can learn more about key food safety practices by following FSIS @USDAFoodSafety on Twitter or Facebook. Consumers with questions about food safety can call the USDA Meat and Poultry Hotline at 1-888-MPHotline (1-888-674-6854) or chat live with a food safety specialist in English or Spanish at AskKaren.gov, available from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. ET, Monday through Friday.

Crest Education Foundation hopes for revival - fundraisers planned

The Crest Education Foundation, established in 1999, has been met with several dormant periods over the course of its existence.

It is now under new leadership and has high hopes of being revived.

We actually have two fundraisers in the works right now. The first is our "You've Been Flocked" fundraiser that began April 9th. It has been met very positively in the Crest community, as several homeowners have already joined in on the Flocking Good Time, enjoying a friendly flock of flamingos in their yards, and then passing them along to a friend for a small donation to our foundation. There are several pictures floating around on facebook of the flocks. We hope to get a homeowner or two to pose for a picture with the flock, and even some students joining in on the "flocking" as the birds move to Principal Hermreck's house. We have two flocks circulating, one starting in Colony and another in Kincaid. All homes in the district should be on the lookout, as no yard is safe, with the flocks prepared to travel anywhere-Colony, Kincaid, Lone Elm or Welda. This fundraiser is working as a two-fold for us, both as a membership drive as we drum up some interest in our foundation and also to raise funds for USD 479. The flocks are advertised to be out through April 27th. That end date may be extended if interest continues longer.

Our second fundraiser is Co-ed Slow Pitch Softball Tournament, under a month away on May 5th. We have teamed up with the Kincaid Recreation Association to put this on. The fundraiser itself is pretty self explanatory, but we are needing advertising help to get some teams registered.

The DOJ's Trump, Clinton problem

Last week, the FBI raided the office, hotel room and home of President Trump's personal attorney and self-described "fixer," Michael Cohen.

According to various media reports, the Department of Justice signed off on a warrant for the search; presumably, the law enforcement agency is searching for evidence regarding Cohen's $130,000 payment to pornography actress Stormy Daniels, who allegedly had a one-night stand with Trump in 2006. Cohen has openly stated that he paid Daniels to shut up about her peccadillo with Trump — and he has said that Trump had no knowledge of the payment.

That presents a problem. If Cohen paid off Daniels without Trump's knowledge, that raises the question as to whether their agreement was binding. If not, then Trump may have been party to a violation of campaign finance law, since a $130,000 in-kind donation is well above any legal limit. And if Cohen and Trump coordinated that arrangement, none of their communications on the matter are subject to attorney-client privilege.

So, it's quite possible that the FBI and DOJ may have just ensnared Cohen and, by extension, Trump, in a serious scandal.

But this raises another question: Where the hell were the FBI and DOJ when it came to Hillary Clinton? Trump himself has been enraged by the disparity between law enforcement's treatment of Clinton and its treatment of him. He rightly points out that the FBI and DOJ worked to exonerate Clinton, with former FBI Director James Comey going so far as to change the definition of existing law to avoid recommending her indictment for mishandling classified material.

Get exclusive IBD analysis and action news daily.

And not only did then-Attorney General Loretta Lynch meet with former President Bill Clinton on a tarmac in the middle of the election cycle and the investigation of his wife; Lynch's Department of Justice allowed Cheryl Mills, Hillary Clinton's top aide, to claim attorney-client privilege. As Andrew McCarthy of National Review pointed out at the time, Mills was involved in the scrubbing of over 30,000 emails, yet the DOJ "indulged her attorney-client privilege claim, which frustrated the FBI's ability to question her on a key aspect of the investigation." Furthermore, Mills was allowed to sit in on Clinton's interview with the FBI as Clinton's lawyer.

And herein lies the problem for the DOJ and the FBI.

Let's assume, for a moment, that everything they're doing now is totally honest and aboveboard — that there's no attempt to "get" President Trump and they're just following where the evidence leads. Many conservatives will rightly point to the DOJ and FBI treatment of Hillary Clinton, and state that the agencies ought to be consistent in their application of the law and leave Trump alone. Or they'll suggest that Trump ought to turn those agencies into personal defense organizations, as former President Obama did.

Once supposedly neutral organizations are made partisan, a return to neutrality looks partisan. That means that the FBI and DOJ damn well better have gold-plated evidence against Cohen; they better not leak ancillary information damaging Trump to the press; and they better have dotted all their i's and crossed all their t's.

If not, there will be hell to pay, not merely for those agencies but for a country that can no longer trust its own law enforcement agencies.

On our water treatment plant issue, don't be blaming our new city manager for this problem. The last two city managers we've had knew about the problem that it was getting old and outdated but they did nothing about it. They just kept bandaiding it together. You can thank them for what is happening.

It seems like there are a lot of men in this town going through mid-life crises. They need to get over themselves.

The Garnett Fire Department has sent a pumper truck on every EMS call as first responders. There is no way they will be the first there. Unlike a rural fire department who will be the first there. Just saying, they're wearing the truck out. That's all.

It seems like drivers in our nation have forgotten the campaign back in the 1970s "Give a hoot, don't pollute." Just about everywhere you drive now you see loads of trash along the highways. It's mostly the highways but also the county roads. People just let trash blow out of their pickup trucks or flatbeds and just drive off with never a care. And other people just flat out throw their trash out the window on the roadside with no care whatsoever that it just looks redneck and trashy and about the neighbors who live nearby who like to keep their homes looking nice. I think there's no way to play on people's conscience like in the old days because I don't think they have a conscience. But there are laws against littering that have like a $1,000 fine on them. We should start using them.

More of Mark Zuckerberg's insufferable tripe

Once again, Mark Zuckerberg is sorry.

The founder of Facebook, who has apologized for privacy breaches throughout much of his company's existence, is back at it, on a much larger stage than ever before.

The proximate cause is the Cambridge Analytica controversy. In violation of Facebook's rules, the Trump-linked political consultancy schemed to get access to the data of 87 million users. This has made Facebook a scapegoat for President Donald Trump's victory on par with the Russians and James Comey (at least before the FBI director got fired and became a Trump adversary).

It's not Zuckerberg's fault that he has suddenly been deemed on the wrong side of history, but the Cambridge Analytica blowup is bringing a useful spotlight on the most sanctimoniously self-regarding large company in America. Facebook can't bear to admit that it has garnered the largest collection of data known to man to sell ads against and line the pockets of its founder and investors.

The problem isn't that Mark Zuckerberg is a businessman, and an exceptionally gifted one, but that he pretends to have stumbled out of the lyrics of John Lennon's song "Imagine." To listen to him, Facebook is all about connectivity and openness — he just happens to have made roughly $63 billion as the T-shirt-wearing champion of "the global community," whatever that means.

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

RICH LOWRY, King Features Syndicate

It's this pose that makes him and other Facebook officials sound so shifty. In a rocky interview with Savannah Guthrie of the "Today" show, Sheryl Sandberg was asked what product Facebook sells. "We're selling the opportunity to connect with people," she said, before catching herself, "but it's not for sale."

Something or other must be for sale, or Facebook is the first company to rocket to the top ranks of corporate America based on having no product or profit motive. Guthrie, persisting, stated that Facebook sweeps up data for the use of advertisers. Sandberg objected: "We are not sweeping data. People are input-ting data."

Uh, yeah. That's the genius of it. In a reported exchange with a friend while he was a student at Harvard, Zuckerberg boasted of having data on thousands of students because "people just submitted it."

Zuckerberg has now managed the same trick on a global scale. On the one hand, Facebook has indeed made efforts to protect the data of its users, knowing that it can't risk a fundamental breach of trust. On the other, Zuckerberg has repeatedly said he's sorry for offenses against his users' privacy because his business model contradicts his self-righteous public posture.

It's possible to imagine something like Facebook run as a nonprofit service for the global commons. That's not what Zuckerberg chose to do to. To his credit, he created a compelling — nay, for some people, addicting — product and made a killing for the ages.

Perhaps the public pressure will force the social network to give its customers even more control over the use of their data. At a minimum, it will have achieved something if it gets Facebook to give up the saccharine one-world rhetoric about its mission and admit the bottom line is as important to it as any other profit-making company.

Political power hasn't helped the black cause

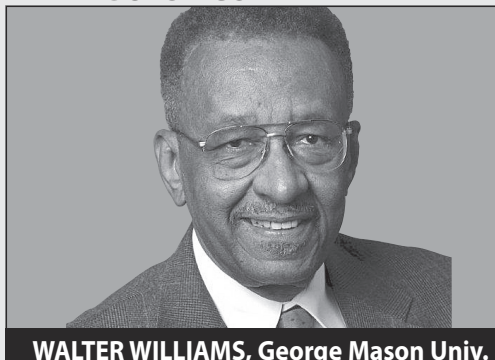

It's often thought to be beyond question that black political power is necessary for economic power and enhanced socio-economic welfare. That's an idea that lends itself to testing and analysis.

Between 1970 and 2012, the number of black elected officials rose from fewer than 1,500 to more than 10,000. Plus, a black man was elected to the presidency twice. Jason Riley, a fellow at the Manhattan Institute, tells how this surge in political power has had little beneficial impact on the black community.

In a PragerU video, "Blacks in Power Don't Empower Blacks" Riley says the conventional wisdom was based on the notion that only black politicians could understand and address the challenges facing blacks. Therefore, electing more black city councilors, mayors, representatives and senators was deemed critical. Even some liberal social scientists now disagree. Gary Orfield says, "There may be little relationship between the success of ... black leaders and the opportunities of typical black families." Riley says that while many black politicians achieved considerable personal success, many of their constituents did not.

After the 2014 Ferguson, Missouri, riots, which followed the killing of Michael Brown after he charged a policeman, much was made of the small number of blacks on the city's police force. Riley asks: If the racial composition of the police force is so important, how does one explain the Baltimore riots the following year after Freddie Gray died in police custody? Baltimore's police force is 40 percent black. Its police commissioner is black. Its mayor is black, as is the majority of the City Council. What can be said of black political power in Baltimore can also be said of

GUEST COMMENTARY

WALTER WILLIAMS, George Mason Univ.

Cleveland, Detroit, Philadelphia, Washington, Atlanta and New Orleans. In these cities, blacks have been mayors, police chiefs, city councilors and superintendents of schools for decades.

By contrast, when blacks had little political power, they made significant economic progress. During the 1940s and '50s, black labor force participation rates exceeded those of whites; black incomes grew much faster than white incomes. Between 1940 and 1950, black poverty rates fell by as much as 40 percent. Between 1940 and 1970, the number of blacks in middle-class professions quadrupled. Keep in mind that was before affirmative action programs. Riley says that racial gaps were narrowing without any special treatment for blacks. After the 1960s, the government began pouring trillions of dollars into various social programs. These programs discouraged marriage and also undermined the work ethic through open-ended welfare programs, helping keep poor people poor.

The fact that political success is not a requirement for socio-economic success — and indeed may have an opposite effect — doesn't apply only to blacks. American Jews, Italians, Germans, Japanese and Chinese attained economic power long before they had political power. By almost any measure of socio-economic success, Japanese and Chinese are at or near the top. Riley asks, "How many prominent Asian politicians can you name?" By contrast, Irish-Americans have long held significant political power yet were the slowest-rising of all immigrant groups.

Riley says that the black experience in the U.S. has been very different from that of other racial groups. Blacks were enslaved. After emancipation, they faced legal and extralegal discrimination and oppression. But none of those difficulties undermines the proposition that human capital, in the forms of skills and education, is far more important than political capital. Riley adds that the formula for prosperity is the same across the human spectrum. Traditional values — such as marriage, stable families, education and hard work — are immeasurably more important than the color of your mayor, police chief, representatives, senators and president.

As Riley argues in his new book — "False Black Power?" — the major barrier to black progress today is not racial discrimination. The challenge for blacks is to better position themselves to take advantage of existing opportunities, and that involves addressing the anti-social, self-defeating behaviors and habits and attitudes endemic to the black underclass.

Garnett Publishing, Inc. today announced the sale of the company and its two newspapers, The Garnett Review and The Anderson Countian, to Managing Editor Dane Hicks of Garnett. The company's sale was effected through the negotiation of a contract buy-out between Hicks and publishers Don and Anne Stimble of Kimberling City, Mo., and officially took effect April 1. The Stimbles purchased the Garnett company in June 1985 from longtime publisher George Clasen and the estate of the late Leonard McCalla Jr.

There's a house in Garnett known as the House of Seven Gables. If you haven't really noticed yet, look for it on East Second Avenue. The English style house, brown with cream trim, with its many gables and shutters, is much the same today as when it was built in the 1880s. The many interesting interior features include the bay window and also the walnut staircase in the front hall, made in the old DeWolf furniture factory. This is the Hunter-Smith family home of Mrs. Elsie Smith, whose husband was the late Dr. P.G. Smith, optometrist and jeweler.

Pinocchio spoon found dating back to the late 1930's

Isn't this a cute little spoon? It's not only cute, but very collectible. It's sad that it has been damaged. This spoon is known as a vintage spoon and is from the late 1930's.

However, when the movie "Pinocchio" came out in 1940-'41, the production of this little spoon boomed. If you look closely at the front of this spoon, the facial features of Pinocchio are at the very top of the handle. Directly below his picture is the vertical word "PINOCCHIO", which leads into the facial view of a Donkey (which Pinocchio turned into) and vertically below it is the word "Donkey." On the back of the spoon handle are the words, "Duchess Silver Plate".

Where did I find this little spoon? Of course, at my latest archaeological site. It was my find of the week!

Note: Do you remember the button that I needed help with on its identification. I had four people from Round

Rock, TX, Richmond, Greeley, and Garnett contact me with the very same identification. They all said, "It is a 1940-41 WWII wool overcoat button." It is also known as a "U.S. WWII Army Brass Great Seal with Eagle Button"

Godderz hits historic homer for Lancers Lady Vikings swept by Chase County

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 4-17-2018 / Photo USD479

Above - Crest Lady Lancer Regan Godderz launches her first homerun of the season in the third inning of a 25-10 loss to Jayhawk-Linn on Monday night.

Crest softball swept by Jayhawk-Linn

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

COLONY - Despite the Crest Lancers losing both games of the doubleheader, a little bit of history was made last Monday, April 9th.

Regan Godderz hit the first homerun in Crest history, in the second game of the doubleheader.

Crest has struggled early in their inaugural season going 0-6 so far on the young season.

In the early game, a 24-9 defeat, the Lancers were down 12-9 after scoring 6 runs in the 5th inning to put themselves back into the game.

Jayhawk-Linn would erupt in the top half of the 6th for 12 runs to put the game out of reach.

The late game followed the same script as the Lancers lost 25-10.

Behind the Godderz homerun, the Lancers were knotted at 7 with Jayhawk-Linn after the 4th inning.

Jayhawk-Linn would bat around in both the 6th and 7th innings, scoring 7 and 11 runs respectively to distance themselves from Crest and pull away for the easy win.

Lady Vikings swept by Chase County

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

RICHMOND - The Central Heights Lady Vikings finally kicked their season off last Monday, April 9th, with a pair of losses to Chase County by a combined score of 41-10.

In the opener, Chase County downed the Vikings 17-1.

Chase County scored 4 in the first, 3 in the second, a lone run in each the third and fourth innings before capping the victory with 8 in the fifth.

"The weather finally cooperated enough for us to finally get games in," head coach Lea Stegner stated. "We fell behind early and just couldn't come back."

Riley Roll took the loss on the mound for Central Heights.

Roll pitched 5 innings, allowed 20 hits and all 17 runs while striking out two.

Coach Stegner expected some early season growing pains.

"We are still trying to figure out where everyone fits on the field," Stegner said. "We had a few great plays and learned a few things we need to work on."

The Vikings only picked up 2 hits in the game, a double by Shelbi Hettinger and a single by Abigail Brown.

The late game saw Chase County continue to pile on the runs with a 24-9 victory.

Offensively, the Vikings had a better outing as they gathered 12 hits in the game.

Four Vikings picked up multiple hits. Lindsay Burson was 3-4, Dakota Pendleton was 2-4, Layla Bones was 2-3, and Shelbi Hettinger was 2-5.

Abigail Brown led the way with 3 runs batted in.

Unfortunately the Viking pitchers struggled to find the plate, walking 14 batters while striking out just 1.

Hannah Savage started out on the mound for the Vikings but was unable to record an out.

Savage walked 4 batters, allowed 2 hits before giving way to Charliz Robertson.

Robertson went 2 innings allowing 4 hits and 8 runs but also struggled to throw the ball over the plate walking 6 batters.

Layla Bones closed out the game going the final 4 innings, allowing 9 earned runs off of 12 hits.

Coach Stegner only expects her girls to learn from the early season doubleheader.

"Our goal for each game is to get better," Stegner said.

Vikings split season opening doubleheader

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

RICHMOND - The season kicked off to a good start for the Vikings baseball squad with a 15-9 victory over Chase County.

A 12-run sixth inning propelled the Vikings to the win after falling behind 8-3 early on.

Several Viking hitters had a good game at the plate.

Kyler Brotherton was 3-5, scored 4 runs and 3 runs batted in (RBI's) on a pair of triples.

Bryce Sommer was a perfect 3-3 with 2 RBI's, one run scored and also walked twice.

Three other hitters picked up 2 hits in the game. Seth Burroughs was 2-5, 2 runs and 3 RBI's, Jake Dunnivan was 2-3 with 3 RBI's and 2 triples and Cauy Newell was 2-4 with 2 runs scored and one rbi.

The two pitchers in the game for the Vikings, Matt Cubit started and Brotherton came on in relief, combined to go the full seven innings.

"Cubit struggled a little with his control, but battled the best he could," head coach Jason Brown stated.

It appeared that Brotherton was just coming in to close out the game and limit the damage in a loss, but the Viking bats woke up and erupted for that 12-run inning in the sixth putting Brotherton in line to pick up the victory.

Brotherton didn't let his team down only giving up a pair of runs over the final 4 2/3 innings for the victory.

"Kyler came in and did a great job only giving up the two runs," Brown added.

In the second game of the double header, points were scored in bunches again but this time the Vikings came out on the losing end, 14-10.

The pitchers didn't have particular good outings, but the coach felt the defense didn't do them any favors.

"We struggled defensively the whole night and did not support out pitchers like we should have," a disappointed Brown said.

Burroughs and Brady Burson each picked up 3 hits in 5 at bats. Burson tallied 3 RBI's and scored twice to lead the way offensively.

Brotherton went 2-4, Bryce Sommer also went 2-4 and John Fox was 2-3 to round out the Viking hitters that had multiple hits on the night.

Mustangs blank Bulldogs in doubleheader sweep

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

PAOLA - It wasn't the best night for the Anderson County Bulldogs offense in a sweep at the hands of the Iola Mustangs on the road, 10-0 and 4-0.

In the opening 10-0 sweep, the Bulldogs managed just 3 hits on the afternoon.

Two of those hits were from Tanner Spencer, who went 2-2 in the game.

In game two, Iola plated a pair of runs in the bottom of the first and tacked on lone runs in the third and fifth for the win.

It wasn't the best game defensively for the Bulldogs in the second game of the doubleheader.

Anderson County struggled defensively committing 6 errors in the game.

Spencer was 2-2 from the plate in the game with the only other hit coming by Damone Kueser, who was just 1-2.

Trailing 2-0 in game two, the Bulldogs had a chance in the third to tack on a run.

Following a strikeout and ground out to open the inning, Porter Richards singled followed by a Spencer walk to put runners on first and second.

On a 3-1 count, Austin Peine hit a ground ball back to the pitcher to end the threat.

Their next scoring opportunity would be in the fifth inning, this time down 3-0.

It would be another attempt at a rally with 2 outs.

Richards would kick it off with a single, followed by a Spencer double to right.

The struggles would continue for Peine as he would strike out, not swinging at any of the three strikes.

Richards would actually go 3-3 on the day in the ninth hole of the lineup and lead off hitter Spencer was 2-3 and also reached a third time via walk.

Peine would pitch 4 1/3 innings, allowing 4 runs on 8 hits.

Kueser pitched the final 1 2/3 innings without giving up a hit and striking out one.

It's the only local project in the March bids that will affect locals in the county. Petersen said no timetable has been set for the $1.1 million project which was awarded to Bettis Asphalt Construction of Topeka.

But a number of other projects will affect commuters who drive from Anderson County either north or south to pursue their work days, although timeframes for these projects as well have not been solidified.

In Johnson County ramps at I-435 from 95th Street will undergo milling and overlay at a cost of $530,000. The section of K-39 used in the U.S 169 project detour above will undergo a $410,000 sealing project. K-33 will undergo a sealing project from its intersection with K-68 in Franklin County north to the Franklin/Douglas County line, and then north from there to the U.S. 50/K-33 junction. That 10.4 mile project will cost $222,000.

Mrs. Jayme Secrest was recently voted the USD 365 Elementary Teacher of the Year for 2017-18. Secrest, a fifth and sixth grade teacher at Greeley, was one of three nominees at the elementary level. She was recently notified of the award which was voted on by fellow teachers in the district. She has been teaching for 17 years and credits her students, saying, "My students challenge me to become a better teacher. I'm always looking for training opportunities that will help me teach old subjects in new ways." Her students have a high attendance rate, averaging fewer than 6 absences all year. "She explains things well, it's fun, and always interesting," said Cadence Wilper, a sixth grader. "Mrs. Secrest lets us do lots of activities, she's always calm, and she makes learning fun," said sixth grader, Preston Kueser. In addition to classroom activities, Jayme Secrest, has been instrumental in bringing the community and school together in new ways such as community recycling, Fine Arts Night for families, Running Club, gardening, visits to nursing homes, Veterans Day assemblies, delivering May Day baskets to neighbors, and having Greeley/Mont Ida days, just to name a few. District honorees have the opportunity to be considered regionally and, potentially, as a Kansas State Teacher of the Year Honoree.

Chapter Y PEO met twice in March

On March 5, 2018, the talents of Joleata Kent wowed Chapter Y PEO as she shared some of the beautiful rugs she has made since learning "rug hooking".

Rug hooking was something that was popular in the 1800s and is now making a comeback. Joleata will go to "hooking" conventions to learn, buy supplies, or just get together with others that enjoy this craft. It was fascinating to see how this art develops from scraps of material into beautiful rugs.

Officers for the 2018-19 year were also installed -

Connie Fagg, President; Ruth Lee Hastert, Vice-President; Recording Secretary - Alice Anderregg; Corresponding Secretary - Elaine Dunbar; Treasurer - Deanna Wolken; Chaplain - Donna Benjamin; Guard - Linda Thurston; and Delegate - Pam Covault. Hostesses Diane Doran, Rita Boydston, and Barbara Neal served delicious treats.

Chapter Y PEO met on March 19, 2018, at the home of Cheryl Hayes. Chelsea Richmond, County Extension Agent, presented on the "Salty Six".

Breads & rolls, cold cuts & cured meats, sandwiches, pizza, soup, and chicken may sometimes contain a surprising amount of sodium.

The American Heart Association now recommends less than 1500 milligrams of sodium per day yet the average American consumes over 3000 milligrams a day. Hostesses Cheryl Hayes, LaVerne Cole, and Linda Thurston treated the group to some healthy fruits and vegetables.

During National Volunteer Week (April 15 - 21), Garnett residents have an opportunity to join a local volunteer team making a difference in children's lives around the world in Jesus' Name.

Each year approximately 150,000 U.S. volunteers help transform empty shoeboxes into tangible expressions of God's love by packing them with fun toys, school supplies and hygiene items. Operation Christmas Child, a project of Samaritan's Purse, partners with local churches worldwide to deliver these gifts to children suffering from poverty, natural disaster, war, terror, disease and famine. For many of these children, this is the first gift they have ever received.

"National Volunteer Week is a great time to become a part of this international project," said Pat Miller who heads up the local Kansas City, Kansas South Area Team for Operation Christmas Child. "Joining an Operation Christmas Child Area Team is an amazing way to give back year-round and share God's love with children in need."

To learn more about joining the Kansas City, Kansas South Area Team or to apply for leadership opportunities, visit samaritanspurse.org/volunteerwithOCC.

Operation Christmas Child has delivered more than 157 million gift-filled shoeboxes to children in more than 160 countries since 1993. This year, the local Kansas City, Kansas South Area Team hopes to collect 14,485 shoebox gifts to contribute to the 2018 global goal of reaching more than 11 million children in need.

Operation Christmas Child is a project of Samaritan's Purse, an international Christian relief and evangelism organization headed by Franklin Graham. The mission of Operation Christmas Child is to demonstrate God's love in a tangible way to children in need around the world, and together with the local church worldwide, to share the Good News of Jesus Christ.

Crest Seniors

Another graduating class will walk across the stage at the Crest Gymnasium to receive their diplomas which symbolizes the end of a 13 year adventure and the start of their next one.

Reflecting on what it means to be a Senior I think about my own son who will graduate in May. I have lots of memories and the realization that things will never be the same for the two of us. The same holds true for the Crest Class of 2018. This fine group of individuals went on their senior trip and now will have roughly 30 days left of school. I will encourage them as often as I can to cherish these last few days and reflect on all the things they have learned.

This group of students have never been without technology being a major part of their lives. They have seen more changes in society because of the rapidness in which technology increases their access to information and how it affects our daily lives. Finally I will encourage them to do something that I have been struggling with but plan to start doing on a regular basis and that is to read. Read a book, read the newspaper, read a magazine, read anything they can. Teenager's lives are full of acronyms like OMG or LOL and abbreviated communication that has shaped their lives and is a major part of it. The value of good classic books and the stress free feeling that will come along with reading it will be remarkable. The challenge is not in finding something good to read; it will be putting down their technology, phones, Chrome books, X-Box or iPads and start reading. I can only hope they take my advice and get into a habit of reading. It is my belief and experience that when you read a book you gain knowledge. Knowledge is power through understanding of something of what you read. The more knowledge one can obtain the better chance they will have at success and the more opportunities they will have to find success. In most cases success equals happiness and isn't that what everyone wants out of life? - Happiness. - Chuck Mahon, Superintendent of Crest School Educational quote of the month-The more that you read, the more things you will know. The more that you learn, the more places you'll go!-Dr. Seuss

Marla Bain requested we setup the sign for the City-Wide Garage sale on April 27. Voted was yes they would. Jay Dutton announced he and wife Virginia would be celebrating 70 years of marriage on April 8. Debbie Wools had told Sue Colgin a local child needed glasses. The vote was to help this child and Sue will work with Debbie in getting glasses for the child. The sign for the school will be ready to install as soon as it has been painted. It is hoped president Keith Ulrich will be able to attend the next meeting of April 18.

The handwriting on the wall spelled doom!

There is a saying that has been around for years, "Can't you read the handwriting on the wall?" Typically this is more often than not a negative message. It is usually put forth by very subtle signs that are intended to get someone to understand something without a direct conflict. Such was not the case in the book of Daniel. King Belshazzar made a decision that caused him not only to lose his kingdom but also his life. King Belshazzar was the grandson of King Nebuchadnezzar who many years earlier had taken sacred cups from the Temple of God and placed them in the treasury of his god in the land of Shinar. At the same time he took many captives with him from Jerusalem, one being Daniel. Over the years Daniel won the favor of the king rising to become chief magistrate in the king's court. After the death of King Nebuchadnezzar Daniel was soon forgotten.

In order to understand what happens to King Belshazzar it is necessary to understand something about the city of Babylon. The city was square 14 miles on each side making a circuit of almost 56 miles around the base of the wall which encircled it. The wall around Babylon was built of brick. According to Herodotus it was 87 feet thick and 311 feet high. On the wall were 250 towers and the width of the wall was sufficient for six chariots to drive abreast. Outside the wall was a gigantic moat which surrounded the city and was kept filled with water from the Euphrates River. Draw-bridges crossed the moat in front of each gate. Inside this wall was another wall similar to the outside wall, thus Babylon was encompassed by two massive walls. There was a temple 410' high by 300' across at the base. Babylon was perhaps the greatest city ever constructed. Two years after the death of

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

Nebuchadnezzar war broke out between the Babylonians and the Medes. In the third year of Belshazzar's reign Cyrus the Mede laid siege to the city of Babylon. The soldiers in Babylon entrenched themselves behind the giant impregnable walls of the city feeling no fear.

To show his contempt for the armies outside the walls of Babylon and his defiance of the God who looked down from above Belshazzar gave a feast. It was a feast of drunkenness, idolatry and licentious. Daniel chapter 5 details the feast. While the feast was in progress Belshazzar gave orders to bring in the gold and silver goblets that Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the temple in Jerusalem. So the goblets were brought in and the king and his nobles drank from them. As they drank from them they praised the gods of gold, silver, bronze, iron, wood and stone.

"Suddenly the fingers of a human hand appeared and wrote on the plaster of the wall near the lamp-stand in the royal palace. The king watched the hand as it wrote. His face turned pale and he was so frightened that his knees knocked together and his legs gave way." He summoned the wise men of the kingdom to interpret the writing but they could not. The king was told there is a man in your kingdom who has the spirit of the holy gods in him who can interpret the words that were written: Mene, Mene, Tekel, Parsin. This is what Daniel's interpretation was. "God has numbered the days of your reign and brought it to an end. You have been weighted on the scales and found wanting. Your kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians." That very night the king was slain. Darius the Mede took over the kingdom."

The God of heaven is great in mercy and slow to anger. He is long suffering and not willing that any should perish, but all of us must come to repentance. God has a deadline set for each of us. When Belshazzar and his guests filled the cups with wine and drank their fate was sealed. They had stepped over the line to a point of no return. If we get to the point of having to read the handwriting on the wall it could be to late.

Colony Ordinance regarding sewer improvements

(Published in The Anderson County Review on April 17, 2018)

WHEREAS, the City of Colony, Kansas (the "City") has a population of approximately 404; and

WHEREAS, the governing body of the City has previously passed Ordinance No. 430 (the "Prior Ordinance") which authorized the construction of certain main sewer improvements as described therein (the "Previous Improvements") pursuant to K.S.A. 12-618 et seq. (the "Act");

WHEREAS, the Previous Improvements consisted of initial phases of multiple phases of inter-related improvements to the City's sanitary sewer system (all such phases of interrelated improvements, including the Previous Improvements and the Current Improvements described below, collectively referred to as the "Project"); and

WHEREAS, the governing body of the City hereby finds and determines it to be necessary to construct the next phase of the Project, including the installation of 15,100 linear feet of CIPP lining in the remaining 8" sewer line not addressed by the construction of the Previous Improvements and all improvements appurtenant thereto, at an estimated cost of $614,000 (the "Current Improvements"); and

WHEREAS, the City has previously entered into Loan Agreement No. C20 1939 02, effective as of February 26, 2016, with the Kansas Department of Health and Environment to provide initial financing for a portion of the costs of the Current Improvements in the original principal amount of $307,000 (the "Loan"); and

WHEREAS, the governing body of the City hereby finds and determines that the costs of constructing the Current Improvements will be relatively large as compared to the estimated cost of possible future sewer lateral lines or drains tributary thereto, or that said Improvements may receive in the future sewage or drainage from two or more districts, and that the costs of constructing the Current Improvements should be chargeable to the city at large and paid by the issuance of general obligation bonds of the City in the manner provided by K.S.A. 12-624 for the costs of main sewer improvements and drains now or hereafter constructed beyond the corporate limits of the City; and

WHEREAS, the governing body of the City hereby further finds and determines it to be necessary to authorize and provide for the construction of the Current Improvements in the City and to make provision for the payment of the costs there-later of either (i) four months from the date of the first publication of this notice as provided by law or (ii) thirty days after actual notice was given as provided by law to those creditors whose identity is known or reasonably ascertainable; and if their demands are not thus exhibited, they shall be forever barred.

Hyatt Club met in February & March

Five members of Hyatt Social Club met in February at Mr. D's restaurant in Garnett.

Even with a small group, the evening was enjoyed with good food and conversation by all present.

The hostess gift was won by Shirley Benjamin and Shirley was lucky again by guessing the mystery gift.

Mary Ann Umbarger won a mystery gift also.

The March meeting at El Jimador restaurant in Garnett was enjoyed by eight members and one guest.

Each member received flower seeds, gladiola bulbs, and Easer candy from the hostesses, Rosemary Turner, Sherry Benjamin and Rose Dennison.

The lucky winners of the March hostess gifts were Hilda Lankard, who received a watering can, garden tools, gardening gloves and a hummingbird feeder, and Rose Marie Miller who received a swivel seat pad.

Drinking glasses and a flashlight were the mystery gifts that were guessed by Dorothy Miller and Mary Ann Umbarger.

As usual, everyone present enjoyed the good food and fun conversations.

The April meeting will be hosted by Hilda Lankard and Sondra Greishaber at Hilda's home, tentatively on April 18.

Cards and notes were signed for members, Betty Penn and Diane Hastert.
