Locations identified in Eastern Kansas measles outbreak

No cases reported in Anderson County, but KDHE says be aware

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

TOPEKA – State health officials say though no cases of measles have been reported in Anderson County as part of a recent outbreak in East Central Kansas, commuters and others who might have travelled to businesses and health facilities in Linn, Miami and Johnson counties should be aware of locations where they might have been exposed.

Gerry Kratochvil with the Kansas Department of Health and Environment said since March 8, 2018, 15 measles cases have been identified – 12 Johnson County residents, two Linn County residents and one Miami County resident have been confirmed with the disease. A person with measles from out-of-state that was treated at the University of Kansas Hospital is not associated with this outbreak.

Some 60 percent of Anderson County residents commute outside the county to their jobs, many of whom travel in the areas where infections have been reported.

Kratochvil said a person who has visited one or more of the locations below, on the dates and times listed, may have been exposed to measles. Those locations include:

- *Olathe Health Family Medicine; 302 N. 1st St, Mound City; March 26 and 28 from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Measles is a respiratory disease caused by a virus and is spread through the air by breathing, coughing or sneezing. Measles can be spread to others from four days before to four days after the rash appears. Measles cannot be spread to others by people who do not have the disease.

Most people are vaccinated against measles with the MMR vaccine administered to children at about a one year of age. However children younger than a year and anyone else not vaccinated are at risk if they're exposed.

Symptoms of measles typically begin with a high fever, cough, runny nose, and red, watery eyes. Three to five days after symptoms begin, a rash develops and usually starts on the face at the hairline and spreads down to the neck, trunk, arms, and legs.

To date, KDHE along with the public health departments in the affected counties have been able to identify where and when each case became infected. KDHE urges people who are ill or exhibiting mea-

Trade issues cause concern for local farmers

Already hit by low prices and increasing fuel prices, trade friction may make things worse

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – Local farmers and farm organizations are watching closely as the United States and China square off on trade policies President Trump maintains are unfair and make a host of Chinese-made goods so cheap American companies can't compete in the U.S. or internationally.

At risk however are trade tariffs in retaliation from the Chinese against U.S. agriculture products they import which could have a dramatic impact on farmers in Anderson County and across the nation.

"It's a big issue," said Jake Strobel, President of Anderson County Farm Bureau. He said these trade issues come at a particularly bad time, with farmers already concerned about depressed commodity prices and higher costs for fuel and other input costs.

"There are other places that are just as fertile," Strobel said, "but they haven't worked the technology side the way we have to have these kinds of yields." Strobel said prolonged pressures on trade could give the Chinese options to make trade deals with other countries that could develop into firm competitors with the U.S. for ag goods.

The Chinese issue follows tariffs of up to 32 percent levied by the U.S. Commerce Department earlier this year on Canadian paper products, including newsprint. The Anderson County Review was notified of a price increase for its newsprint earlier this month.

China's move last week to levy a 179 percent temporary tariff on U.S. grain sorghum was seen as a stab directly at Trump's political base in the ag sector, and though Anderson County farmers haven't planted much sorghum in recent years, the move had direct affects in eastern Kansas with major sorghum shipping facilities at the intermodal facility in Edgerton.

Writing in Forbes Magazine last week, Daniel Rechtschaffen said it was unclear who would win a trade war between the U.S. and China. China's economy is more export dependent than the U.S., Rechtschaffen wrote, giving the U.S. more goods to target.

The core of the issue revolves around Trump's campaign pledge to force trade deals that level the playing field between U.S. and foreign companies. Government subsidies have been an issue in trade for years – with foreign countries subsidizing their manufacturing making their goods cheaper in the U.S., and the U.S. subsidizing its agriculture commodities to maintain cheap food policies that benefit farmers in international trade.

An article in The Wall Street Journal last week noted the two sides are clashing with the future in mind. President Trump instituted his latest round of tariffs against China while citing Beijing's government-driven efforts to retool the country's economy to focus on the technologies of the future. Known as the Made in China 2025 program, the plan specifies efforts to build up cutting-edge industries like robotics, aerospace and electric cars.

The Journal article said many companies in Europe and the United States fear

Historical society gives 130 year-old home a little TLC

Harris House had water damage, code issues and needed bee exorcism

BY MELISSA HOBBS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – If you've driven by the Harris House in Garnett recently you might have noticed that it has a fence around it, but Anderson County Historical Society Kristie Kinney says the fence isn't permanent – was put up as a protective measure while work is being done to update the historic home.

Kinney says three years ago the house had a water leak that did some damage to its interior. She also noticed while determining the extent of the water damage that one side of the balcony had begun to droop. She says it has taken three years to find contractors that are willing to work on the historic home because of the difficulty in creating an estimate. Anyone who has done work on an

William E. Betts, Sr., age 73, of Garnett, Kansas, passed away on Sunday, April 15, 2018 at his home.

He was born August 21, 1944 in Lawrence, Kansas, the son of Cleo and Jean (Hughes) Betts. He graduated from Garnett High School and Emporia State University with a double degree in Music and Speech and acquired his Class C license in Radio Broadcasting as well.

Betts

William married Mary Lou Barber in 1968 at Emporia, Kansas; this union was blessed with three children, Bill, Heidi, and Mike. They later divorced. He then married Lori McIntyre in 1987 in Portland, Oregon. William adopted Lori's children, James and Amber in 1993. William was an eccentric and very loving man. He had many jobs in his lifetime and many hobbies. William was a very intellectual man. Knowing a lot about a plethora of things. He was always seeking knowledge from books. Collecting books on Astronomy, Trains and Music. He loved puzzles, drawing and making people laugh. He was a loving father, grandfather and friend. He never met a stranger that he did not make his friend. William was very religious, but his sense of humor and musical abilities were what he is most remembered for. William played many instruments in his lifetime. His love of music including all genres. He could sit down and play you any song you ever wanted to hear on his keyboard so beautifully that it would bring you to tears then make you laugh so hysterically that you could not breathe. William will be missed by many.

William was preceded in death by his parents; daughter, Heidi Betts on August 5, 2011; and son, William E. Betts Jr., on May 17, 2013.

He is survived by one son, Michael W. Betts and wife Jennifer of Topeka, Kansas; adopted son, James Betts of Garnett, Kansas; adopted daughter, Amber Betts of Austin, Texas; one sister, Barbara Voeltz and husband Richard of Lincoln, Nebraska; ten grandchildren, Josh Betts, Brady Henderson, Joey Henderson, Chad Betts, Cameron Betts, Todd Orester, Tina Hunt, Travis Betts, Leandra Pahmahmie, Rachel Ellis, and Marley Betts; six great grandchildren; and several others he had considered family.

Graveside services were held on Thursday, April 19, 2018 at Oakwood Cemetery, Baldwin City, Kansas.

Memorial contributions may be made to William Betts Memorial Fund to be established at a later date.

sles-like symptoms to stay at home unless they are seeking medical care. Before visiting a healthcare provider, call ahead and let the provider know of the measles exposure so that the measures can be taken to protect other patients and staff.

Kratochvil said the outbreak continues to be investigated and KDHE and county health departments are working to identify contacts. The average number of days between when a person is exposed to measles and when they first start showing symptoms is approximately 10 to 14 days (range of 7 to 21 days). Secondary cases are now appearing outside of the daycare. There is concern that some individuals in the general population may have potentially been exposed to persons with measles while they were infectious.

The best way to prevent measles is to get the MMR vaccine. Currently, KDHE is not recommending any changes to the routine vaccination schedule. If you have had measles or have been vaccinated, your risk of contracting the disease is extremely low.

Because measles is a highly infectious disease, it is very important, if a person has been exposed and is starting to experience symptoms, that they STAY HOME except to see a healthcare provider and limit their contact with people

For questions call the Johnson County Department of Health and Environment at 913-477-8343, Linn County Health Department at 913-795-7302, or the KDHE Epidemiology hotline at 877-427-7317.

Living in the suburbs, headed for the city!

The Apostle Paul verifies for us that heaven is a literal place. In 2nd Corinthians 12:2-4, the apostle relates his experience of being caught up, transported to heaven. "I know a man in Christ who fourteen years ago was caught up to the third heaven. Whether it was in the body or out of the body I do not know. God knows. And I know that this man-whether in the body or apart from the body I do not know, but God knows-was caught up to paradise."

There are several biblical references which imply that the "third heaven" is a place beyond the immediate heaven of the earth's atmosphere and beyond the further heaven of outer space and its constellations into the presence of God himself. These references include Hebrews 4:14, Hebrews 7:26 and Ephesians 4:10.

Jesus' promise to the thief who was crucified with him bears witness to this ultimate destination. In Luke 23:43, Jesus tells the man. "I tell you the truth, today you will be with me in paradise." Prior to his crucifixion Jesus in an attempt to comfort his disciples pulls back the curtain of heaven and tells his disciples of their future home. "In my Father's house are many rooms; if it were not so, I would have told you. I am going there to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me that you also may be where I am."

When we receive Jesus as our personal Savior we may live here on earth but our citizenship is in heaven by virtue of Jesus' atoning death on the cross and his sinless life on earth. With our future securely in the hands of Jesus where do we live in the here and now? Scottish Puritan Samuel Rutherford said, "Live in Christ and you are in the suburbs of heaven."

Our greatest struggle is finding joy in the midst of the circumstances of life. In order to overcome this we must live in Christ. We must live by grace alone, thru faith alone, in Christ alone. We must also repent of our sins. That is turn away from sin toward Christ. We must also control our affections. Dr. Guy M. Richard summarized this well when he said, "To the extent we allow our affection to run after material possessions, worldly success and reputation is the degree we lose joy with Christ in our lives."

If your joy is based on circumstances it will never be complete. If your joy is in Christ it is but a short step from the suburbs of heaven to the gates of paradise.

Facebook fail is newspapers' win

Confronted with the knowledge that Facebook is not just gathering tons of data on me but also can't seem to keep hackers from stealing it, I'm more and more convinced that newspapers did things better.

You remember newspapers, right? They came sometime after stone tablets and were beamed, Star Trek-style, to some far-flung universe known only to museums, fish markets and old people about the time Facebook and Instatweet and all those social media behemoths took over the newspaper's former place in your life. Because, as we all know, nobody reads newspapers anymore.

Heck, half the time the newspaper couldn't even spell your kid's name right. Things were different back in those days. Now, thanks to who-knows-how many Facebook data breaches and Russians and the alt-left and the alt-right and even Facebook's own profiling of its users, these nebulous aggregators with their own agendas know more about you than you may know yourself. And they're already using it.

Mark Zuckerberg's latest foible is over a company called Cambridge Analytica. It hacked FB data from 87 million American users and packaged it for political candidates, lobbies and marketing companies, and that data goes way deeper than our birthdays and the movies we listed in the "About" section of our FB profiles.

The analysis of your individual Facebook activity is astounding, and it paints a psychological picture of you politicians and marketers and Russians are hungry for. Every time you "Like" a post from the NRA, or a recipe from Betty Crocker, or a buddy's new hot rod picture - Facebook records it. Even key words you use in your comments - the political arguments, compliments or cut downs or 'happy birthday' wishes. All of it gets analyzed and evaluated by software and compiled not just to your own data profile, but it also assigns you to segments of the population who like, talk, act or buy in a similar way.

Knowing that, whoever buys or steals that info gets insight on what buttons to push to try to get you to do things as you indulge your addiction to Facebook. Some are legitimate, some are "fake news" designed to get you to react in some way.

Knowing that - and knowing there are those who will steal it to try to manipulate us - is an uneasy feeling. It's like coming home to find a stranger in your kitchen who's just mixed your favorite cocktail. That's nice, you think, but who is this dude and what does he want?

It's a far cry from the way newspapers operated. We carried advertising, sure. Ground beef, $3.59 a pound. And we published it for our vegetarian readers as well as folks planning their weekend cookout. We never knew if you bought it - that was up to the grocery store to evaluate. And of course you wondered about our political leanings on the editorial page, but they were usually pretty straight forward and had our names attached. We never kept tabs on whether you read the story on the city council or the high school football game or called the ad for the free puppy - we just sort of threw it all out there and listened for the complaints and waited to see if we got your subscription renewal in the mail.

Data mining? Most of the time we couldn't even remember to write your phone number down off your check so we could call and pester you if you didn't re-subscribe.

Maybe I'm talking out of church, but those of us who still remain in the newspaper industry are pretty excited - elated, really - that Facebook and the digital age has betrayed you. You may not have always liked us, but when you read our pages you always knew the cigar was just a cigar, as Freud supposedly said.

Even in the Instatweet age trust still matters, after all. Archaic and outdated, newspapers may have something to offer you yet.

I would like to thank the police officer who came down and checked on me while my husband was on the flight to D.C. for the veterans. My children couldn't get ahold of me and were worried and he came and checked on my welfare and I thought that was very nice. I would like to thank him. There is good people in this town. Thank you.

I wish the people running around town stealing things out of other peoples cars would think of something else to do, get a job, get off the meth, act like a decent human being maybe.

I was glad to see all the well-dressed young men and women at the Garnett prom. I hate to see the pictures of the girls who spent, or their parents spent, so much money on dresses and manicures and hair and makeup in order to have a truly formal and wonderful evening with some class, and have the guys show up wearing something stupid like overalls or jeans and ball caps and such nonsense. If I was a father of one of these girls and had one of these boys come to pick her up looking like that, I'd send him packing. Thanks to the Garnett kids for keeping it classy.

How come you guys never put anything in the paper showing the results of the Anderson County softball team? I check every week and all the other area teams seem to be covered. It'd be nice to know how they are doing.

No one likes a prig with an axe to grind

James Comey did it, naturally, for the children.

Why does anyone in Washington take advantage of the most opportune moment to make a mint off publishing a tell-all book? It's never for the profits or the sheer satisfaction of sticking it to your enemies and putting yourself in the best possible light. No, there's always some ostensible higher cause. For the former FBI director, it's demonstrating, through his own sterling example, what ethical leadership is, "especially to young people." That the nation's youth will be riveted to their TV screens in coming weeks, watching Comey's exquisitely thoughtful gymnastics of self-justification, and conclude that this is how to conduct themselves when they inherit the baton of the country's leadership seems extremely unlikely.

James Comey has managed the seemingly impossible. The former FBI director is locked in a death struggle with an unpopular president who makes even his allies cringe with his belittling nicknames, foolish threats and strange view of the presidency - and somehow it is Comey who is coming away as the unlikely one.

That's because no one likes a prig, especially when he has an ax to grind. Comey has good reason to disdain Donald Trump, who fired him in humiliating circumstances and whose warped view of the Justice Department as an institution for the protection of the president is rightly anathema to him. Comey is just the latest of Trump's adversaries, though, who are diminished by the president dragging them down to his level and exposing their weaknesses.

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

Every Washington memoir portrays its author as the smartest guy in the room; Comey is the most ethical guy in the room, and he lets us know it. Underneath the high-mindedness is a thirst for petty revenge. He says he took note of the size of Trump's hand when they first met - smaller than his. He goes out of his way to say Trump looks like he wears tanning goggles.

Is all fair in a struggle with a president who calls you a "slime ball"? Maybe. But this is another instance of the country not being well-served by the president or his opponents violating norms.

It's not a healthy precedent for former FBI directors to attack presidents they served, even if briefly in terrible circumstances. It doesn't do the standing of our law enforcement and intelligence institutions any good to have the men recently entrusted with leading them, like James Comey and John Brennan, brand themselves as committed partisans almost immediately upon leaving government.

It's understandable that Comey wants to get his side out. But he's already done that in his extensive memos that he made sure to leak upon his firing and in his congressional testimony. He'll probably have his moment in the sun again as a key witness in the Robert Mueller matter, depending on how it shakes out.

Yet none of that is as remunerative as cashing in as a hero of the resistance when the Mueller investigation is perhaps at peak intensity. Nothing is better than being the most righteous guy in the room - while still getting a huge payday. Children, take note.

Law shines light on cash from seized property

A just-passed Kansas law makes a small dent in the problem created by our state's statute allowing police agencies to seize property from citizens, sell it and keep the money, all without a trial and all without any criminal charges even being filed.

Billed as a way to hurt criminals where it counts - in the pocketbook - and to pay for equipment and other things police agencies need, seizures threaten the constitutional rights of many and create the potential for terrible corruption at police agencies.

Don't say that's far-fetched. It's happened in other states, notably Texas, where a small-town police chief was found to be stopping people - many had done nothing wrong - and seizing their property on the pretext that they were involved with drugs.

Elsewhere, a Maryland man reported losing his house because his nephew allegedly sold drugs there.

In most states, a person whose property is seized has to hire a lawyer and go to court to prove it wasn't being used in some criminal enterprise. Unlike in a criminal trial, the state doesn't have to prove anything. You have to prove the property belongs to you and wasn't being used in some illegal operation.

The new Kansas law will open up this process somewhat. While seizures usually involve public court filings, it's next to impossible to trace them all. Under this law, within two years, all seizures in the state will have to be posted online to a central register maintained by the Kansas Bureau of Investigation. Agencies will have to report what they did with property that they took from citizens and how they spent any money either seized or from sale of property.

Critics of the seizure law say allowing police to spend what they seize is an incentive for abuse. They also worry that the victims of seizures often can't afford to fight to defend their property.

Rep. Gail Finney of Wichita said, however, that the bill is "a good first step."

It doesn't protect people from having property wrongfully seized, though, and it doesn't give them any way to get it back. Nor does it do anything to curb possible abuse.

Agencies will have to report what they did with property that they took from citizens and how they spent any money either seized or from sale of property.

Our state does not let police agencies spend money from traffic or criminal fines; those go into other funds. So why do we allow agencies to feather their nests with seized property?

The corrupting influence should be obvious.

To protect police agencies from themselves, the Legislature needs to bar them from spending the proceeds of seizures. To protect citizens' rights, the law needs to be changed to make police prove property was used in a criminal enterprise, just as they would have to prove a criminal case in court.

That said, the new law is a step in the right direction.

Shoe horn popularity and quality has declined

Yes, it took me awhile to properly identify this artifact myself. Being made of steel, badly corroded and rusted, I was still able to identify it by its shape as an old shoe horn-shoe spoon. A shoe horn (sometimes called a shoe spooner or a shoe tongue) is a tool that enables the user to insert the foot more easily into a shoe. Originally shoe horns were made from animal horns, hooves, glass, or paper. Luxury shoe horns were made from Ivory, shell, silver or bone. Today, some made from bull's hooves are still available for purchase, although metal ones like this one pictured, plastic and wood are most often used. There are various sizes of shoe horns, although the basic shape varies very little except for the length of the handle. Long handled shoe horns, are

Facilities in USD 365 are not adequate to meet the district and parent's education goals, and force some teachers to practice their profession like sideshow magicians - by educating their students with mirrors. Though extreme in some instances district-wide, this analogy is literal in terms of a classroom at Greeley Elementary School. In one tightly packed narrow classroom behind the gymnasium stage, a mirror is positioned beside a door in a wall which divides the room. It's the only way the teacher can keep an eye on both sides of her class while she's in one or the other room sections. One of the largest business sales in the county in recent years took place on Tuesday as the Anderson County Co-op Inc. more than tripled its grain capacity by purchasing

Anderson County Grain at Garnett from Western Grain, Inc. of Wichita. Negotiations had been in progress for about four months with the final papers signed Tuesday. Possession is to be given May 15. 100 years ago... Samuel B. Johnson of Colony and Mellie Veltheon were married at the home of the bride's mother. The groom is a graduate of Colony High School and was a teacher at Pittsburg Normal just before going to Camp Funston for military service.

Carlsons win duplicate bridge

Native American Program featuring native Pottawatomie Indians coming to the Richmond Museum

A program about the indigenous Native American Indians, especially the Pottawatomie Indians of this area, will be Richmond Community Museum's annual meeting Sunday, April 29th, at 2 o'clock. Everyone is welcome to the power-point presentation by Prof. Eric P. Anderson of Haskell Indian Nations University in Lawrence. Dr. Anderson is an enrolled member of the Citizen Pottawatomie Nation.

of the Richmond Community Building's annual smorgasbord (fundraiser), so visitors are invited to have dinner there and then walk a few steps to the museum which will be open for browsing before the program begins (no charge). Richmond Community Museum has more than 1,000 artifacts and countless archival pieces, all about the Richmond area. The museum receives no tax monies and is funded entirely by donations. In fact, a generous donation from a descendant of original Berea community homesteaders made the floor project possible. Scheduled museum open hours will be each Saturday and Sunday, 1-4 p.m., Memorial Day weekend through Labor Day weekend. There is no admission charge. However, before that, Greeley Elementary School will visit the museum. See you at Richmond Sunday, April 29th, for dinner at the Community Building followed by a program about Native Americans by Prof. Anderson of Haskell University at the museum. You're invited to either or both!

Vikings hold off N. Heights for sweep

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

ALLEN - The Central Heights Vikings traveled to Northern Heights for a doubleheader and pulled off a sweep after staving off a Northern Heights Wildcat comeback in the bottom of the seventh.

In the opener, the Vikings cruised to an 11-4 victory.

Seth Burroughs was 4-5 in the game with 3 RBIs, one run scored and stole one base.

Kyle Brotherton and Matt Cubit helped lead the way with 3 hits each.

Brotherton drove in 4 runs, scored 3 times and stole 4 bases in the game.

Cubit scored 3 times, drove in one run and had a pair of stolen bases.

Jonathan Fox and Cauy Newell each picked up a pair of hits, with Fox driving in a pair of runs in the game.

Cubit started the game on the mound for the Vikings and went 4 2/3 innings for the victory.

"We pulled him with a decent lead so that he could throw again on Friday," head coach Jason Brown stated as he was referring to the pitch count rule.

Brotherton and Bryce Sommer closed out the game for the victory.

"We played pretty well in the opener," Brown said. "We scored 9 runs in the first 3 innings before coasting instead of continuing to put the pressure on them."

In the late game, the Vikings pounded out a 15-14 victory that came with late game drama as it appeared they were going to cruise to the victory.

Cauy Newell started the game and went just 1 2/3 innings before giving away to Sommer who went 4 1/3 innings and picked the win.

"Sommer did a great job of keeping the ball down," coach Brown said.

The Vikings led 15-7 in the seventh and just 3 outs away from the victory.

It was time for a Wildcat rally though as they scored 7 runs and trailed just 15-14 with still no outs in the inning.

Burroughs came in and closed out the game without allowing any more runs to pick up the save.

"Seth (Burroughs) came in a tight situation and showed some senior leadership and shut the door for all 3 outs," a relieved Brown stated.

Burroughs did more than his job at the plate as well, going 5-6 with 5 RBIs and 4 stolen bases. In the doubleheader he picked up 9 hits, 8 RBIs and stole 8 bases.

Brotherton picked up 3 more hits, scored 5 runs, stole 3 bases and drove in one run.

Jason Brown stated, "We were happy to come away with a sweep and even our record at 3-3."

Lady Bulldogs down Vikings for 3rd place

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

HUMBOLDT - The Anderson County Lady Bulldogs scored 7 runs in the second and 8 runs in the fourth en route to a 17-5 victory over the Central Heights Vikings, in the process finishing 3rd in the Lindsey Friederich Memorial Tournament in Humboldt.

The Vikings lost to Humboldt and Bulldogs lost to Neodesha in their opening round games.

With 2 outs and already leading 2-0 in the top of the second inning, the Bulldogs had 5 straight batters reach base on a walk, 2 doubles and 2 singles to add five more runs to go up 7-0 after the second inning.

Trailing 8-0 in the bottom of the third, the Lady Vikings rallied for 5 runs to get themselves back into the game.

Anderson County quickly gained control by scoring 8 runs in the fourth inning to go up 16-5.

Nine of the first 10 batters of the inning reached base before the Vikings kept further damage from happening by retiring the final two batters.

Every starter for Anderson County picked up at least one hit, led by Miller and Disbrow who each had 3 hits in 4 at bats.

Miller also scored twice and drove in a pair of runs. Pedrow and Ewert both led the way with 3 RBIs.

The Vikings picked up just 6 hits on the afternoon, led by Shelbi Hettinger and Lindsay Burson who each had two hits.

Hannah Savage was 1-3, scored a run and had 2 RBIs.

Spring pitched a complete game for Anderson County, going 5 innings and allowing 4 earned runs on 6 hits.

Riley Roll got the start for the Vikings and went 2 innings, giving up 7 hits and 7 runs. Layla Bones came on in relief and pitched the final 3 innings while allowing 8 hits and 10 runs.

Bulldogs finish 2nd in Humboldt Tourney

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

HUMBOLDT - After opening the Lindsey Friederich Memorial Tournament with a win over Neodesha, the Bulldogs dropped a narrow decision to the host Humboldt Cubs to finish second in the tournament.

The Bulldogs jumped out to an early 3-0 advantage in the top of the first inning.

Travis Spencer opened the game with a double to right field, followed by a RBI single to center by B Dilliner.

Following a C. Denny ground-out, D Kueser doubled home Dilliner for a 2-0 lead. Peine would chip in with a run scoring single to close out the first inning.

Neodesha battled back and cut the lead to 3-2 heading into the top of the fourth before unraveling defensively.

Dilliner opened the inning reaching on catcher's interference, then Cole Denny reached on an error and then a sacrifice attempt didn't record an out so the bases were loaded with a hit or walk.

Kueser sacrifices back to the pitcher to score a run and A Adams followed with a single to

Later in the inning, Kueser would score on a balk by the pitcher and Adams would score on a single by P Richards to give the Bulldogs a 7-2 lead.

Neodesha would score 3 in the bottom half of the inning to cut the lead to 7-5.

Heading into the bottom of the 7th, the Bulldogs held an 8-5 lead. Neodesha scored after two singles, a stolen base and an error to cut the lead to 8-6 with no outs.

A key play of the game would be a caught stealing with no outs in the 7th to cut down a base runner and end the threat.

Kueser picked up 3 hits in 4 at bats, 2 runs scored and 2 RBIs.

Spencer, Adams, Peine and Secret each had 2 hits to help lead the way.

Cole Denny started on the mound for the Bulldogs, pitching 6 innings, allowing 9 hits, striking out 5 and allowing 5 earned runs.

Peine pitched the 7th for the save, allowing just the one unearned run.

In the championship game against the Humboldt Cubs, the Bulldogs jumped out to an early 2-0 lead, helped out by 2 first inning errors by the Cubs.

The game turned in the bottom half of the 3rd inning as Humboldt plated 4 runs.

The Cubs led the inning off with an inside the park home run, the second hitter reached on an error and they followed with 2 singles to tie the game at 2.

Humboldt wouldn't pick up any more hits in the inning but would pick up a pair of runs on ground outs.

The only other run for Anderson County came in the final inning as the Bulldogs trailed 5-2.

The inning got started with Spencer reaching on a three base error with one out.

Dillner would single home Spencer to cut the lead to 5-3.

Following a pop out for the second out, both Kueser and Adams would walk to load the bases with two outs.

Peine would pop out to right field to end the threat and bring the game to an end.

Spencer and Kueser each had 2 hits on the afternoon.

Kueser started and pitched 4 2/3 innings allowing 6 hits and 5 runs.

Peine would close out the game with 1 1/3 innings, allowing 3 hits and striking out 2.

Vikings softball swept by Northern Heights

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

ALLEN - The Northern Heights Wildcats won a pair of games back on Monday the 16th, sweeping the Central Heights Lady Vikings in softball.

In the opener, the Vikings tallied a run first in the top half of the first inning before going on to drop the contest 4-3.

Lindsay Burson singled to right field with one out and following a fly out, Hannah Savage tripled home Burson to give the Lady Vikings the early lead.

Northern Heights answered in the bottom half of the first inning.

A one out single by the Wildcats, followed by a double plated a run to knot the score at one.

The Wildcats scored twice in the bottom of the third without the ball leaving the infield.

Three infield singles and two stolen bases led to the 2 runs.

Northern Heights would tack on another run in the fifth for a 4-1 lead, before the Lady Vikings finally answered.

In the top of the sixth, the Vikings opened with a single by Burson.

Following a sacrifice bunt, Savage doubled home Burson to cut the lead to 4-2.

After a pop out by Riley Roll for the second out, Dakota Pendleton reached on an error by the shortstop, which scored Savage to cut the deficit to 4-3.

With the game still in doubt, the Vikings ran themselves out of a chance at pulling off the comeback in the seventh.

Shelbi Hettinger hit a one out single.

The Wildcats knocked down the lead runner as Charlize Robertson grounded into a fielder's choice with Hettinger getting thrown out at second base.

Burson hit a two out single, putting runners on first and second base with 2 outs.

Robertson was caught trying to steal 3rd to end the game.

Burson was a perfect 4-4 in the game, scoring 2 runs. Savage was 2-2 with an RBI, run scored and a walk.

On the mound, Roll pitched 6 innings, allowing 8 hits and 4 runs.

The Vikings would score 4 runs in the top of the first to open the 2nd game of the doubleheader, with three of the runs coming with 2 outs.

Northern Heights quickly erased the lead with 5 runs in the bottom half of the inning and added two more in both the 2nd and 4th innings en route to an easy 10-5 win.

Hettinger went 3-4 in the game and both Savage and Roll picked up two hits each.

Layla Bones pitched all 6 innings, allowing just 8 hits and 5 earned runs while striking out 6.

Defensively the Vikings committed 7 errors in the game, which was just too much to overcome.

Above picture: A group of veterans from the Southern Coffey County High School Honor Flight were treated with a trip to Washington D.C. on April 12th & 13th to visit and reflect at their memorials thanks to the Honor Flight Network. The Honor Flight Network is a non-profit organization created solely to honor America's veterans for all their sacrifices. They transport our heroes to Washington, D.C. to visit their memorials. Top priority is given to the senior veterans - World War II survivors, along with those other veterans who may be terminally ill.

HOUSE gets some TLC from local historical society

old house knows that when fixing one thing in the home, it tends to lead to other things that need to be fixed as well. Because of that, it took an extra long amount of time for volunteers to find someone willing to handle the work needed.

Contractors Danny Whitcomb and Andy Frye have taken on the job, and Kinney says they hope to be done with the needed repairs in the next three weeks or so if everything goes well. She says several projects are being completed and the estimated cost was around $30,000, give or take, depending on how things go and how fast the workers are able to complete the projects.

She says the front porch will be replaced with a concrete porch which is appropriate for the time period of the home, and a new balcony will be put on the home using vinyl products that will last longer. The railing on the balcony will be taller as well to meet code, which is not normal for that time period, but something they felt for safety reasons was necessary. The old balcony railing was only approximately two feet tall.

The home was built in 1888 by Peter Barndt, and purchased from the Barndt family in 1920 by Dr. C.B. Harris, Sr. The Harris family gifted the home to the local historical society in 1980.

The Harris House is not on the national historical register, so the changes can be made to bring the home up to code and use products that look historic in nature, but last much longer. The original balcony railing will be saved, according to Kinney, just in case they ever want to put the house on the historic register.

Some of the eaves on the roof were rotting as well and there had been a significant bee problem as well. Kinney says local bee keeper Marlin McGowin was able to recover some 5,000 bees from the property that Kinney said he hoped would fill four beehives.

The Anderson County Historical Society is run entirely by volunteers and Kinney said the organization is always looking for more members. They have a very small budget that they work with and have saved enough for the repairs to the Harris House with the help of the Anderson County Commissioners and CDs that were donated to the historical society for use for the Harris House.

"The commissioners have always been good to us," said Kinney. "We're fixing it right and we hope that the repairs will last for a long time."

TRADE...

the program will create state-supported competitors, an argument that has won backing in the Trump administration. Some companies say that Beijing finds ways to force them to hand over technology if they want to sell their wares in China, an allegation that Chinese officials dispute.

None of the most recent round of tit-for-tat tariffs are immediately effective, and analysts weren't sure how far the posturing might go before both sides opted to negotiate. For Anderson County farmers and those around the nation, that option can't come too soon.

"We could really be in for a world hurt," Jake Strobel said.

Chase Riebel's sermon was titled "Speaking Plain". Jesus tells his disciples that the harvest is great, but the workers are few. We are to follow the Great Commission's instructions and go out and make disciples everywhere we go. We do not do this by using lofty words, but allowing the Holy Spirit to

CEF

The Crest Education Foundation (CEF) continues to work hard at their efforts to rebuild the foundation. Their "You've Been Flocked" fundraiser is well underway and has been met with great enthusiasm throughout the school district. There are two flocks moving throughout the area and several homes have already joined the fun! The birds have landed at the Golden, Ramsey, and Fuller residences, just to name a few. They even made their way to the yards of Kincaid Mayor, Mike Davis, and Crest Principal, Travis Hermreck! Continue to be on the lookout for the friendly flock to land in your yard! This fundraiser will run through April 27. As homes are flocked, an informational brochure is left to explain more about CEF. If you are interested in learning more, or becoming a member of the Foundation, please fill out and mail a portion of the brochure back to the Foundation. If you are interested, but your home has yet to be flocked, please stop by GSSB to pick up a brochure at your convenience. We welcome all community members to join us!

While the community is having a Flocking Good Time with the flamingos, CEF has been busy finalizing plans for another fast approaching fundraiser. They have partnered with the Kincaid Recreation Association to host a Co-ed Slow Pitch Softball Tournament on Saturday, May 5. Grab some buddies and get your team registered by April 30! ## Chapter Y PEO discusses final planning and aspects of a vineyard in meetings

On April 2, 2018, Chapter Y PEO met at the home of Alice Anderegg.

Debbie Davis and Stacey Whitcomb from Feuerborn Family Funeral Services presented an informative question and answer session about the inevitable, not taxes, to the group.

They emphasized talking with family about what matters and what your wishes might be and while these conversations may be difficult, it certainly helps with making arrangements. Their discussion was very thought provoking.

Final planning was done in preparation for the upcoming Daddy/Daughter Dance on May 5.

Alice Anderegg and her co-hostess Connie Fagg served delicious refreshments.

Chapter Y PEO met on April 16, 2018, at Prairie Trails Vineyard.

Steve and Donna Benjamin along with their daughter, Holly, told the group about some of the aspects of having a vineyard, such as the pruning, planting, spraying, etc.

The group then had the opportunity to taste some of the wines that were made from the grapes picked at the vineyard. Members were reminded of the Daddy/Daughter Dance coming up on May 5. We will meet to decorate the Knights of Columbus Hall on May 4.

Celebrate Community Bank Week

April 23-28

Community banks vital to local economy

TOPEKA - Across the state of Kansas, community banks serve local customers, businesses and families each year - resulting in a significant impact on the local economy. During the week of April 23 - April 28, 2018, Community Bankers Association of Kansas (CBA) and community banks across the Kansas recognize Community Bank Week and honor this impact with numerous activities at the local bank level.

"Community banks are an integral part of the community, working with local families, businesses, schools and agricultural producers to create financial opportunities and help them plan for their future dreams," says Tim Hills, CBA Chairman and Senior Vice President, Howard State Bank, Sedan, Kan. "Community Bank Week provides an opportunity to celebrate the critical role that community banks play in sustaining local communities, as well as honoring the loyalty that our customers show to Kansas banks."

Community banks contribute to local economies in numerous ways, including helping establish opportunities for local jobs, maintaining the local tax base and facilitating the development of the infrastructure and public services necessary to keep Kansas communities strong. Across the commercial banking sector, community banks remain the largest provider of agricultural credit. They often serve as a key partner for new and expanded business opportunities, which in turn fuels community schools and growth. Community banks offer members of the local community an advocate to help them access the resources they need to purchase a home, start a small business or extend their farm operations. Community banks are passionate about the local economies they serve, driven to help families and businesses reach their goals and meet their needs. They're thankful for the opportunity to provide financial tools to their customers to ensure their success, but in a way that highlights the importance of personal connections. This year's Community Bank Week theme, "We Are Family: Celebrating Milestones Together" honors that commitment.

Each year, community banks across Kansas recognize Community Bank Week in a variety of ways. Celebrations include special events with local charities, community based in-bank events and promoting economic development initiatives. Many banks offer programs to boost financial literacy in partnership with civic entities. Please check with your local Community Bank to see what they are doing.

Marrying households: 7 savvy moving tips for newlyweds

(BPT) - If you're planning a wedding or you've just tied the knot, congratulations! Getting ready to start the next chapter of your life with the one you love can be an exciting time, filled with anticipation about your future together.

That said, combining two households can take considerable planning and preparation, especially if both parties own troves of treasured possessions. As you are getting ready to make the transition into a single house or apartment, consider how the following suggestions may make your move easier.

* Pare down possessions. After unwrapping your wedding gifts, take an objective look at your collective furniture, household goods, clothing and other items. Where do you see duplicates? Whose décor are you more likely to use? Are those old clothes you've had since high school really worth keeping? Now is the time to be generous in donating unneeded items to a local charity (or selling them on Craigslist).

* Nix the shopping blitz. Although those wedding checks and gift cards are burning a hole in your pocket, postpone your purchases until after you move so you don't end up needlessly hauling them to your next locale.

* DIY on the moving. Rather than shelling out a small fortune hiring a moving company, simply rent a truck that you can drive without a commercial license. As a rule of thumb, seek 150 cubic feet of space for the furnishings of each room in your present house; that means a 12- or 16-foot Penske rental truck should accommodate the contents of a small apartment or condo. Remember to reserve your truck at least two weeks ahead, and ask for the discounts provided to AAA members and military personnel.

* Invest in packing supplies. This is not the time to skimp by using flimsy containers, newspapers and cheap tape to pack up your treasured belongings. Save yourself time and frustration later by picking up sturdy boxes, labels, tape and bubble wrap from your truck rental store so you can ensure everything arrives at its destination safe, unbroken and easy to unpack.

* Party on. Inviting friends and family to help you with your move can be a win-win for all; many hands make light work when it comes to loading and unloading your truck, and you can offer incentives by springing for pizza and beverages at your new home afterward.

* Learn how to load. Apply logistical strategy to filling up your moving truck, perhaps by following the guidelines offered by Penske's Truck Wizard. In general, heavier items should go in the back of the truck, with lighter items in front and on top.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 4-24-2018 / Brandpoint Content

Moving after getting married can often be quite stressful making it extra important to be prepared.

* Practice makes perfect. Driving a moving truck isn't difficult, but it's definitely different from driving a car or pick-up. Take time to familiarize yourself with those differences; for example, you must use your mirrors to navigate turns, you should avoid sudden stops or lane changes and give yourself extra time.

Need more information about the advantages of renting your own moving truck? Check out PenskeTruckRental.com for details.

The honeymooner's nutrition guide: 5 easy steps to be healthy on the go

(BPT) - U.S. residents logged 1.7 billion trips for leisure purposes in 2016, according to the U.S. Travel Association, and this number will likely grow in 2018. Whether you're traveling for leisure or business, you shouldn't lose sight of nutrition. It's common to think, "Hey, I'm on vacation, so I can throw my healthy diet out the window." Wrong. Traveling can throw the body for a loop with time zone changes, shifts in sleep schedules and the availability of fast, convenient and highly processed foods.

Use these five easy steps to make sure you stay healthy on the go this year.

1. Pack healthy snacks.

Dining while on the go usually translates to getting a quick hunger fix that involves processed, high-fat foods. Make a conscious effort to pack healthy snacks. Apples and nut butter, pretzels and hummus and dried, no-sugar-added fruit are a few healthy options.

2. Lighten your luggage.

It's all too common for travelers to try to max out the weight of their checked luggage, which often weighs in at 50 pounds. Carting around heavy luggage and bags can take a toll on the body.

One easy way to lighten your load is to condense cumbersome toiletries. For instance, look at the prescription medications and dietary supplements you're packing. A 2018 Wakefield Research study, conducted for Vitamin Packs, found that more than half - 51 percent - of respondents tote along five or more different types of pills when they're traveling. And with age comes ailments. Baby boomers are the pill pack mules, with 64 percent taking five or more types of pills along for the ride when they travel, compared to only 35 percent of millennials who bring the same amount.

The good news - you can leave dietary supplement bottles and days-of-the-week pillboxes at home. Look for personalized vitamin subscription services, like Vitamin Packs (www.vitaminpacks.com), that combine customized dietary supplements into individual daily packs that can easily tuck into your carry-on luggage.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 4-24-2018 / Brandpoint Content

Traveling can often make eating healthy even more difficult than it already is. It is important to pack smart and drink plenty of water

3. Don't forget essential nutrients.

The introduction of personalized nutrition has made it much easier (and lighter) to bring your vitamins and supplements with you when you travel. It may not always be convenient to grab a bright orange pepper or a bowl of fresh spinach while on the go. Therefore, your body may be craving folic acid, vitamin C, vitamin A, lutein, and just about every other phytonutrient.

"We shouldn't sacrifice our nutrition simply because we're away from our kitchen," commented Elizabeth Somer, registered dietitian, author of "Eat Your Way to Happiness" and Vitamin Packs medical advisory board member. "I always pack nutritionally rich go-to snacks when I'm away from home and pack a multivitamin that delivers the essential nutrients my body needs to perform at its best."

4. Keep your blood flowing.

If you're planning a U.S. cross-country flight this year, direct flights can leave you sitting for five hours or more. These long periods of sedentary travel can lead to blood clots. Before you go, check with your doctor about adding an omega-3 supplement to your diet to maintain healthy blood flow.

5. Hydrate. Hydrate. Hydrate.

Water should be your No. 1 travel companion. Pack a reusable water bottle, so you can quickly fill up at water fountains located in many airports, train stations and bus stops.

As you take to the air, road or track this year, make nutrition a top priority. Your body will thank you and it will give you the energy you need to enjoy your time wherever your travels take you.

What's driving car care and purchases this spring

(BPT) - As the weather starts to warm up, Americans will hit the road more often for destinations ranging from family outings to spring vacation destinations. Because cars are such an important part of our daily lives, Hankook Tire examined what drives Americans to keep up with car maintenance, as well as what matters when maintenance can do no more and it's time to visit the dealership.

Leave it to me
Two-thirds (69 percent) of drivers perform their own car maintenance, according to the latest Hankook Tire Gauge survey. Among those who do so, the main motivator is to save money (54 percent). Others like doing it to save time (28 percent), because they prefer knowing exactly what's going into their vehicles (26 percent), or it's a fun task for some who simply enjoy it (22 percent). In fact, about one-third (35 percent) of drivers started taking responsibility for car maintenance as soon as they earned their licenses.

The air in the spare
When asked the most elaborate car maintenance they've performed without help from a mechanic, most Americans said that they have either changed the oil (21 percent) or changed a tire (21 percent). But being able to change your own tire won't do much good if the spare doesn't have any air in it! Twenty-nine percent of Americans never check their spare tire's air pressure, which could

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 4-24-2018 / Brandpoint Content

A lease might be a better option than buying, but it's important to understand the pros and cons.

be deflating if it's flat too. Fortunately, checking the air in the spare is part of a regular maintenance routine for more than half of drivers (57 percent).

Remind me

Generally, Americans agree that they welcome a nudge to check their tire pressure, and 44 percent say that automatic tire pressure monitors ensure they check it regularly. Experts suggest checking your tire pressure once a month. Even new tires with minimal wear and tear lose air due to factors like temperature change, driving distance or carrying added weight in your vehicle. Now is a good time to check your air pressure, as temperature fluctuations reduce tire pressure by about 1 psi for every 10 degrees Fahrenheit the outside air temperature drops.

Purchasing power

Should the time come to purchase new tires, money talks. The Hankook Tire Gauge Index found that price influences nearly two-thirds (63 percent) of tire purchases, and similarly, 38 percent of drivers report that rebates, like Hankook Tire's Great Catch rebate, also impact their purchase decision. When it comes to the brand, however, drivers maintain an open mind. While nearly half of drivers (43 percent) say they have a brand in mind when they enter the dealership, they are flexible on what they ultimately buy - only 16 percent of Americans go into the dealer set on a particular brand.

Price also impacts vehicle purchases (41 percent). When shopping for a new car, drivers focus on price more than twice that of safety (18 percent) or performance (15 percent). And women are more price-conscious than men, as 45 percent of women consider the price when buying a new car, as opposed to only 37 percent of men.

Whether you are driven by price or performance, regular maintenance and vehicle knowledge is key to avoiding unexpected bumps in the road.

Tips and tricks to keep your car looking new this spring

(BPT) - The colder weather is fleeting, flowers are blossoming and the grass is just a little greener, which means spring is finally here. While most of your time will be spent preparing your home, clothes and family calendars for the warmer weather, it's important not to forget about your car.

In fact, you can celebrate springtime by spending some time enjoying the fresh outdoor air and showing your car some love ahead of upcoming family vacations and summer road trips with friends. Start with these smart and simple tips to improve your ride:

Freshen up the interior

Interior and exterior cleaning makes a big difference in keeping a car looking and driving its best, but that doesn't solve odor issues. To finalize spring car prep and maintenance, make sure to use a product that will leave the car smelling as good as it looks. Innovative and discrete vent sticks and mini diffusers from Refresh Your Car! come in a wide variety of scents, like Lemon Lime Sunshine, and are an affordable, long-lasting way to keep a car smelling great!

Clean and protect your interior

The interior, especially leather, is the most used and abused part of a car. Over time, constant use and sun damage can result in you leather interior drying out, causing it to fade, crack and rip. A quick and trusted way to address this issue is to use Lexol Leather Cleaner & Conditioner. The easy two-step process will help clean, restore and protect a car's interior, keeping it looking and feeling like new.

Check your battery

The colder the weather, the harder a battery and charging system need to work in a car. Start by making sure the battery is mounted correctly and the connections are free from corrosion. Also, consider replacing the battery if it's older than five years, which will ensure you don't get stranded out on the road.

Check and replace basic car items

Before heading out on any lengthy adventures, make sure the car is up-to-date on oil changes. During the oil change a technician should also check and replenish other fluids like the brake, transmission, windshield wiper and power steering fluids, as well as your coolant. This often forgotten about maintenance will help a car run smoothly for months to come.

Wash and wax

No matter the season, a car that is driven daily is constantly battling the elements, which can cause damage to its exterior. Washing regularly and waxing at least twice a year is an easy way to keep a car looking its best, protecting it from damaging UV rays, road debris, tree sap and rusting. When washing and protecting, don't forget about tires and wheels. The Eagle One A2Z All Wheel & Tire Cleaner is an affordable, easy-to-use spray that clings to the dirt on the surface of most wheels and tires, easily removing brake dust, grime and grease; giving your wheels and tires a spotless, professional look.

These simple tips can keep a car clean, fresh and running smoothly throughout the hectic summer driving season.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 4-24-2018 / Brandpoint Content

About 65 percent of Americans buy new tires when the tread looks worn, but only 8 percent adhere to the mileage rating of the tire to make that decision.

Spring lawn care is easier than ever

(BPT) - The snow has melted, flowers are beginning to bloom, and you wake to the sound of birds chirping: all signs that spring is here. Spring means time to give your lawn the TLC it needs, but most of us dread the thought of weekends spent occupied by yard work. Luckily, in 2018, getting that perfectly green grass and enviable garden does not have to be hard.

* Prevent disease and pests - Disease and pests can be stopped before they strike. At the beginning of the season, use your yard rake to remove any dead grass shoots. By removing this debris early you can prevent disease and pests while also giving your lawn sufficient time to recover.

* Simplify mowing - Cutting the grass no longer requires preparation and setup. With innovative options like the Greenworks 60-volt self-propelled lawn mower, you do not need to worry about gassing up your mower or finding the nearest outlet for the extension cord. The mower can run up to 60 minutes with a fully-charged battery, so it is ready to go when you are, and you never have to smell like gas again! The mower's smart-cut technology adjusts the power based on the thickness of your grass, extending the run time and improving cutting performance.

* Water on time - Consistency in watering is an easy way to keep your grass green and lush. Maintain a schedule to prevent your grass from drying out and browning. Sprinklers and outdoor timers will ensure that your grass does not miss a watering session.

* Shape hedges - Anyone can create the perfect hedge shape. Now that your grass is healthy, freshly cut and weed-free, it is time to focus on the rest of your yard. Try a cordless, battery-powered product like the Greenworks 60-volt hedge trimmer. The lighter weight and strong power allow you to trim your hedges without wearing out your body. Whether your hedges are up high or running along your fence, no place is out of reach.

Spring is just beginning and now is the time to get a jump start on your lawn. To learn more about the tools that can make lawn care easier this spring, visit www.greenworkstools.com.

Seventy-five percent of Realtors have suggested home sellers do a standard lawn care program before putting their homes on the market, according to the 2016 Remodeling Impact Report by the National Association of Realtors and the NALP. What's more, 14 percent say professional lawn care helped close a sale for them, and the project recovers 303 percent of its investment value at the time of sale, the report found. To find a lawn care professional near you, visit www.loveyourlandscape.org.

5 musts for a low-stress, on-budget DIY home project

(BPT) - Owning your own home is a life accomplishment for many adults, and keeping it looking sharp and adding your personal touches brings a sense of pride. It seems there are always things you want to improve, so don't let a limited budget or lack of know-how hold you back from dreaming. There are plenty of ways to enhance a room or remake a space without breaking the bank, along with many resources out there to show you how.

With a little research and a weekend or two of elbow grease, your budget and your abilities are more than enough to take on many smaller jobs. When you're done, the satisfaction you'll experience from a successful DIY project will give you plenty of motivation to start the next improvement.

Before you launch your plans, here are a few tips for an affordable and stress-free DIY project.

1. Map it out

Prioritize the projects you'd like to tackle first. Whether it's painting the living room, replacing the kitchen countertops or retiling the bathroom, the project will be much less stressful when you have solid planning behind it. Set a realistic schedule, gather your supplies in advance and be sure to review instructions before starting. If you're making an improvement for a special event or out-of-town guests, give yourself ample time to complete it so you're not adding stress to the project.

2. Find creative ways to cover costs

Make a budget for your project that includes a list of expected expenses and add padding for the unexpected. Assess what funds you have available, and if you don't have enough, consider a savings plan so you can avoid paying interest and fees on a credit card. To speed up your progress, grab your change jar and bring it to a Coinstar kiosk where you can select cash or a no-fee eGift card from retailers including Amazon.com, Lowe's, Home Depot and Sears. You'll be surprised at how quickly a jar of coins can add up to purchase needed supplies on your list.

Projects around the house don't have to be stressful and break the bank.

3. Learn through many available resources

If you're like most DIYers, you'll find online videos and home improvement websites are great sources for how-to tips and information. And if you're a novice, take advantage of the vast information that's available at your fingertips and review several sources so that you completely understand the process and are confident before your dive in. Don't be afraid to tap friends, family members and neighbors who have completed similar projects, as they can be good advisers and may even offer to help! You can reward them by inviting them back to your newly improved home to just relax and enjoy.

4. Keep it light

Doing DIY projects with a spouse or a family member can be fun if you take the right approach. When working alongside each other, it's all too easy to take a frustration out on each other. Two-thirds of those surveyed in a recent Coinstar survey said they do projects with others in their household, and 65 percent said they got into a disagreement during a home DIY project. Minimize tension by creating clear expectations and give everyone a defined role. Take needed breaks and acknowledge accomplishments along the way. Keeping things calm and positive ensures everyone feels good about their contribution.

5. Permission to make mistakes

Most homeowners are not professional contractors and projects can and do go wrong. If you make a mistake, do your best to correct it and don't beat yourself up. Focus on the fact you're making progress in getting your house just the way you want it and saving money by doing it yourself. Next time, you will be that much more proficient! # Simple strategies to stay on trend in your garden

(BPT) - Life is just better with the perfect accessories, isn't it? A modern space looks amazing with a bright rug and your favorite piece of art. At work, strategically placed plants and family photos breathe life into any cubicle.

Accessories enhance your home and add personality. But what about your outdoor living space? A beautiful garden is easy to create and can fit into any size footprint. Gardening with a variety of textures and colors brings an instant wow factor. Best of all, you don't have to commit to a single trend. You can change trends with the seasons, adding bold, colorful new looks throughout the year.

This guide will show you how.

Spring into gardening season

This is where it all begins, when that first breath of fresh spring air brings life to your garden.

Because spring days - especially mornings - can still be frustratingly cold, you'll want to start your garden off with a hardier flower that can withstand the cooler mornings and warm afternoons. Cool Wave Pansies have the resilience you need to keep your garden looking great throughout the early spring until those warmer temps finally arrive. Planting these durable flowers is easy and they don't require constant care.

But what if you don't have a large space? No problem! Add these beautiful blooms to hanging baskets and patio containers to give your outdoor area a simple facelift everyone will notice.

Solutions for summer celebrations

Summertime is full of party possibilities, so why not use your garden to make your event the envy of your stylish friends? Wave Petunias are perfect for Mother's Day and the Flying the Flag combination of red, white and blue is a must for the Fourth of July. It's easy to get creative for any event with Wave Petunia's Plug & Play Combos because they make tailoring your garden for any occasion a breeze.

This is also a great time of year to branch out and add some fun new twists to your already amazing garden. Fresh herbs and tomatoes, anyone? The Italian Bistro container recipe gives you the best of both worlds - a beautiful patio statement and delicious summer salad, all in one pot.

Delightful options for the dog days of summer

Things are heating up this time of year,

but keeping your garden bright and fresh is simple. Bold tropical colors like the Easy Wave South Beach combo and Tidal Wave Red Velour are all heat lovers and easy to maintain. They'll grow quickly to fill out any container or basket, and you can watch it happen from the comfort of your air-conditioned home.

4 ways to simplify your DIY projects and home improvements

(BPT) - Whether you're working on a spring home improvement project or a summer task, this is the time of year when you focus on improving your home both inside and out. As you look for ways to make your home even better, nothing beats a good DIY project.

DIY home improvement projects are popular each year, and they can be as big or small, short or long and expensive or inexpensive as you desire. Whether you are an advanced builder or a novice home improver, the options are wide open, but remember the one thing every DIYer can agree on: Eliminating unnecessary difficulties and the chance of having to redo a task is always a plus.

A recent Post-it Brand study conducted by Wakefield Research found nearly 40 percent of workers have to redo a project or task at least once a week specifically because of poor communication. Even professionals run into hurdles along the way, but avoid situations such as this with a few easy tips.

To make your next DIY project go as smoothly as possible, here are four ways you can iron out potential difficulties before they become a problem. After all, a smooth project isn't just more fun and rewarding, it saves you time.

* Capitalize on subject matter expertise. A little experience goes a long way, and you'll understandably have an easier time tackling a DIY project you've done before. In many cases, however, this isn't possible, so look to your friends and family to see if any of them have ever completed a similar project.

Ask them your questions and learn from their experiences and you'll gain valuable insight about what to do - and what not to do - before your project even gets started.

* Keep accurate, durable notes. Throughout the course of your project, you'll take notes regarding processes, punch lists, measurements and the materials you need. However, even a slight miscommunication or lost note can compromise the project, even for a professional. Post-it Extreme Notes are an innovative new product designed to facilitate communication and ensure important notes stick securely, whether on a job site in construction, manufacturing or foodservice or at home in a freezer, garage, boiler room or bathroom. They stick to textured, rough and curved surfaces, including those involved in home improvement projects such as raw wood, brick exteriors, tile bathrooms, cement garages and more. Made with ultra-strong Dura-Hold Paper and Adhesive, Post-it Extreme Notes withstand harsh conditions indoors and outdoors, like moisture, wind and extreme temperatures. These durable, water-resistant notes help keep track of important information to get the job done no matter what the task is.

* Explore your options to find the right tool for the job. How many times have you tried to tackle a DIY project with the wrong tools simply because you didn't want to spend the money on the right tool for a one-time use? If this has ever happened to you, consider renting the items you need instead of buying them. Tools like paint sprayers, jackhammers and brush cutters can all be rented for a fraction of the price you would pay to buy them, and doing so ensures you have the right tool for the job from the very beginning, allowing your project to go more smoothly.

* Plan out as much as you can. The adage of measure twice, cut once still holds true for today's DIY projects, and your possibilities to "measure twice" are magnified thanks to modern technology. If you're planning to paint a room, for example, many paint companies offer a simulator where you can see how the paint will look in a digital environment. There are also other virtual tools to help you get accurate measurements, test layouts and reduce mistakes in your DIY projects. Once you've found the answers you need, record them on a durable note like Post-it Extreme Notes and write down measurements, jot down step-by-step directions and map out furniture and paint placement throughout the process.

Start planning your project today
Big or small, your project is as unique as you - but it won't be completed until you start. Apply the tips above and your project will be done before you know it.
