Welda fire station plan awaits inspection for Indian artifacts

Federal grant money requires survey of area to make sure no cultural sites could be disturbed

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

PAWHUSKA, Okla. — The federal grant to help construct a new fire station at Welda will have to wait for the all-clear from a cultural resources survey of the building site requested by the Osage Nation of Native Americans.

The request came out of notifications to the Osage and other native groups which were once known to be indigenous to the local area, and was part of an environmental review which has to be conducted as part of the Community Development Bloc Grant program. The CBDG program is administered through the Kansas Department of Commerce, which distributes federal funds with certain federal requirements.

Anderson County Emergency Preparedness Director J.D. Mersman said the county had sent out requests for proposals from a number of firms specializing in such surveys.

Mersman said the survey will consist of background research to determine if archeological findings relating to native cultures have ever been documented within a mile of the construction site, as well as a pedestrian survey to visually identify the presence of any sites or features of cultural significance. It will also involve hand-excavated shovel tests at regular intervals throughout the site to identify any shallowly buried, intact artifacts. The area will also be extensively photographed throughout the process for documentation purposes.

Mersman said the cost of the survey was estimated at around $3,400, and should be covered by contingency funds written into the project.

The area that would become Anderson County was originally part of the Kansas reserve for the Pottawatomie Tribe. "Anderson County Histories," containing historical documentation for the local area going back to 1876, recounts stories of Osage and Pottawatomie tribesmen in the area in the mid 1850s, living primarily along the waterways of the South Fork of the Pottawatomie. The City of Welda was platted there in 1870, but most Indians were removed from the area prior to the city's development.

Local amateur archeologist Henry Roeckers said though several bands of natives were known to have trafficked Anderson County, the Welda area has never been known to have been a permanent residence.

"There were at least three roaming tribes of Native Americans thru this area," Roeckers

June 1 election deadline looms

Two local races set for November, precinct officers must file, McGhee now GOP

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — First District County Commissioner Les McGhee is the first to file for one of two local government positions up for a vote in the 2018 election cycle, with a deadline fast approaching of noon on June 1.

Anderson County Clerk Julie Heck said Thursday McGhee, who ran for his first term as an Independent, had declared as a Republican when he filed on Thursday. The move makes McGhee the only Republican on the commission, with Second District Commissioner Jerry Howarter and Dave Pracht, representing the Third District, both Democrats.

McGhee will run unopposed if no other First District Republicans or Independents file to run against him by the June 1 deadline.

Heck said no one had yet filed for the Garnett City Commission post presently held by Jody Rockers, a Republican. Rockers is finishing the term to which she was appointed to in February 2015 after a vacancy on the city's governing board. Rockers said last week she had not yet filed for re-election, but planned to do so by June 1.

Positions on both the city and county commissions are com-

Anderson County designated by USA for drought-related emergency loans

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Farmers and ranchers in Anderson County may not be feeling the fullest impact of the ongoing Kansas drought, but they may still be eligible for emergency loans through the U.S. Farm Service Agency to help with losses the dry weather has brought.

A press release from USDA last week designated 10 counties as primary natural disaster areas due to drought losses. Those include Clay, Coffey, Geary, Jackson, Lyon, Osage, Pottawatomie, Riley, Shawnee and Wabaunsee. Counties contiguous to the disaster area also qualify for natural disaster assistance. Those counties are Allen, Anderson, Atchison, Brown, Chase, Cloud, Dickinson, Douglas, Franklin, Greenwood, Jefferson, Marshall, Morris, Nemaha, Ottawa, Washington and Woodson.

Qualified farm operators in the designated areas eligible for the Farm Service Agency's (FSA's) emergency (EM) loans, provided eligibility requirements are met. Farmers in eligible counties have eight months from the date of the declaration of May 10, 2018, to apply for loans to help cover part of their actual losses. FSA will consider each loan application on its own merits, taking into account the extent of losses, security available and repayment ability. FSA has a variety of programs, in addition to the EM loan program, to help eligible farmers recover from the impacts of this disaster.

Other FSA programs that can provide assistance, but do not require a disaster declaration, include: Operating and Farm Ownership Loans; the Emergency Conservation Program; Livestock Forage Disaster Program; Livestock Indemnity Program;

ANDERSON COUNTY COMMISSION MEETING, MAY 7, 2018

Chairman Jerry Howarter called the meeting of the Anderson County Commission to order at 8:03 a.m., on May 7, 2018, at the County Commission Room. In attendance were Jerry Howarter and David Pracht. Leslie McGhee was absent.

Commissioners

The Commissioners, Lester Welsh, and Julie Heck traveled to Whittaker Quarry in Welda to inspect rock that had been crushed. The road department had been using the rock to lay on the roads and Lester has been getting complaints from citizens about the size of the rock. Upon inspection, the Commissioners decided that the rock is too large to put on the roads, so Whittaker will rescreen what they have crushed to filter out the larger rock. Lester will monitor the rescreening process to make sure the rock is usable. Lester received tire bids from Wolken Tire and J-D Tire Supply in Iola. He requested bids for four front steer, 32 rear, and four trailer tires. Wolken Tire submitted an insufficient bid and J-D Tire submitted a bid for $22,224.56. Lester purchased the tires from J-D Tire Supply in Iola due to no other viable bids.

ECKAN

Amanda Kuesser and Kirsten Brown with ECKAN met with the commission. They requested that the Commissioners approve a proclamation of May 2018 as Community Action Month. They gave an overview of the ECKAN and what the Headstart program does. Commissioner Pracht moved and Commissioner McGhee seconded to proclaim May 2018 as Community Action Month. All voted yes.

Emergency Management

J.D. Mersman, Emergency Management Director, met with the commission. He discussed a letter that was received in regard to the grant for the Welda Fire Station. Due to federal monies being used Indian Nations have to be notified of the construction. One tribe contacted the county and a survey of the land must be completed before construction can begin.

Courthouse Window Sills

Rytter Hardwood Floors submitted a quote to repair and refinish the window sills in the courthouse. Most of the sills are sun damaged and cracking. The Commissioners believe that they need to be repaired before they are no longer in the condition to do so. The quote was for 81 window sills for $6,825. Commissioner McGhee moved and Commissioner Pracht seconded to hire Rytter Hardwood Floors to repair 81 window sills in the Courthouse to be paid out of the Courthouse General fund. All voted yes.

Citizen in the Body Politic as County Chairman for the Tulsa County Republican Party; Presidential Elector for the State of Oklahoma in 1992 and 1996; Delegate to the National Republican Presidential Convention; and mentor to a host of men and women who sought his advice and counsel concerning political service to their state. Hailed as "Mr. Republican," Paul Thornbrugh also was known for his kind and civil discourse, and was respected by members of his own party as well as those he called "the loyal opposition."

Businessman in Oklahoma's energy industry with Phillips 66 Oil Company and Mid-America Pipe Line Company, which came to be known as MAPCO. Paul was the founder of the first National Political Action Committee dedicated to business and energy policy.

Paul said that his greatest achievement was as husband to his high school sweetheart, Freda Mae Curtiss, whom he married on June 1, 1941, and embraced in an elegant dance together for nearly 75 years. As a proud father to four sons and grandfather to eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren, Paul rejoiced in his role as "Founder of the Feast" and "Leader of the Band" while he provided gifts of love, opportunity, and confidence that can never be repaid.

Paul was preceded in death by his wife, Freda Mae, and is survived by his four sons, Curtiss E. Thornbrugh of Rindge NH; P. Thomas Thornbrugh of Tulsa; Fred D. Thornbrugh of Martha's Vineyard MA; and C. Michael Thornbrugh of Broken Arrow. Also included in Paul's living legacy are his grandchildren, Ingrid Johnson of Walker MI; Gretchen Brau of Hastings, MN; Casey Thornbrugh of Amherst MA; Carrie Thornbrugh of Richmond VA; Adam Thornbrugh of Oklahoma City OK; Emily Thornbrugh of Tulsa; Mike Regitz of Dallas TX; and Scott Regitz of Tulsa.

The "Leader of our Band" grew too tired to play last Thursday. While his heart had grown too weak to sustain his body, the spirit of his life still courses through our veins as we all remain a living legacy to his memory. We hope that the God of our father's faith will provide everlasting peace and joy, and that he can be at rest with the woman he loved his whole life long and who loved him in return.

Visitation will be held from 5 to 7 p.m., on Wednesday, May 23, at Moore Funeral Homes-Eastlawn Chapel, 1908 S. Memorial Dr., in Tulsa. A memorial service will be held at 10 a.m. on Thursday, May 24, also at Moore's Eastlawn Chapel. A Memorial and Graveside service will be held at 1:00 p.m. on Friday, May 25, 2018, at Feuerborn Family Funeral Service in Garnett, Kansas, under the direction of Feuerborn Funeral Service. In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations in memory of Paul to VFW Post 6397, 1507 South Elm St., Garnett, Kansas 66032.

pensated posts. County commissioners earn $20,505 per year and are eligible for the county's employee health insurance program. City commissioners in Garnett earn $450 per month, with the mayor earning $500 monthly.

Though the 2018 election cycle makes national and state headlines almost every day, the upcoming election's only major local impact is in the city and county commissioner positions. The other two four-year term county commission seats and all other county offices are elected in presidential election years, and one of Garnett's three commissioners is elected each year. In addition, Democrat and Republican central committee positions from each voting precinct will be elected to the respective county parties in 2018. Party members seeking those posts must also file by the June 1 deadline.

Other elections of note locally in the 2018 cycle include the 2nd District Congressional race, and also statewide races for governor and other major offices in Kansas.

Christ becomes casualty at high school graduation

Sam Blackledge had worked hard on his valedictorian address. He had written a wonderful speech declaring to his teachers and classmates that he is a follower of Jesus Christ.

But administrators at West Prairie High School in Illinois would not let the 18-year-old deliver that speech – because the content was not appropriate for a high school graduation ceremony.

School leaders gave Sam the opportunity to remove all the references to Christ – but he declined to do so.

He was summoned to the principal's office just a few hours before the May 19th ceremony – where school and district administrator's delivered their edict.

"They said they didn't want to make it a religious ceremony," Sam on the "Todd Starnes Radio Show." "They told me that if I took out Christ I could say everything else."

School leaders gave Sam the opportunity to remove all the references to Christ – but he declined to do so.

The young man with the 4.0 grade point average pleaded his case – explaining that he only wanted to convey to the audience about how his personal relationship with Christ had impacted his life.

"The principal told me it wasn't appropriate for the setting," Sam told me.

School leaders then said they feared those in the audience might think Sam was speaking on behalf of the school district.

"I offered to begin my speech with a disclaimer but they turned that down, too – twice," he said.

Sam told me he was devastated. "I never felt that feeling before," he said. "It was terrible. I felt like I wanted to cry. I had basically – for months – I knew I wanted to talk about Christ in my graduation speech. For that to be taken away..."

School leaders gave Sam the opportunity to remove all the references to Christ – but he declined to do so.

"The most important thing in my life is Christ," he said. "Christ is the only reason I was a valedictorian. He's the reason I got that 4.0. If it wasn't for him I wouldn't be up there. I was giving Him the credit for that."

School leaders offered to let Sam say a few brief remarks – provided he would not mention the name of Jesus. He agreed with their terms.

"I believe as a Christian we should respect the authority above us," Sam said. "I told them I would not disrespect them. I told them I would respect their wishes. And I told them the reason why is because I'm a Christian."

The following day, First Liberty Institute, one of the nation's top religious liberty law firms, learned about Sam's plight and is now providing him legal counsel.

"School officials should remember that students retain their constitutional rights to freedom of expression from the schoolhouse gates, all the way through the graduation ceremony," First Liberty Institute attorney Jeremy Dys told me.

I reached out to the school district for an explanation but so far -- they have not returned my messages.

"These school officials ruined the only high school graduation Sam will ever know," Dys told me. "How many more graduations have to be ruined before school officials will learn that the First Amendment protects student remarks at graduation?"

School administrators silenced a young man's voice because he is a follower of Jesus Christ. That sort of anti-Christian censorship must not be tolerated – especially in America.

It is unAmerican to change the tune of the Star Spangled Banner like they did at graduation.

Tragically interesting that a high school student who survived the Texas school shooting said he still didn't believe in tougher gun laws. And all these kids seem to be video gamers. A gun doesn't commit a school shooting, but a deranged person does. Maybe we should spend more time talking about violent video game controls and less time talking about gun control? Thank you.

As I look around town I see a lot of houses where the yards are just about out of control. Even for the Square Fair there were still lots of yards that weren't mowed, trash in yards, cars parked that haven't been moved in months. Even lots of the North Lake has yet to be mowed. Come on Garnett I think we can do a better job than that.

Go Anderson County baseball and track athletes.

Best of luck at state!

Loving how Anderson County looks all green and pretty with the recent rain. Get out and take a short drive in the country and you will see. Very beautiful Springtime. Thank you.

What in the world is that monstrosity they're building on East Fourth Street in Garnett? Don't we have city codes about the size and height and type of buildings you can build in residential areas? That thing looks like a tractor shed or something you'd use to store grain at the co-op. Having a hard time believing it's not supposed to be for use commercially. If that is the best we can do to protect our local landowners in the City of Garnett from having their property devalued, I think we need some new city commissioners and some new zoning board members. In all the places I have lived this is the most outrageous thing I've seen. Thank you.

Trump makes good on promise for Jerusalem

In the second century A.D., Jewish rebels who had stunned the Romans and liberated a portion of Judea overstruck imperial coins with images and a message of their own, "Year One of the Redemption of Jerusalem." The leader of the Jewish rebellion, Bar Kokhba, was fired by a vision of a united Israel with Jerusalem as its capital, which had been the exception during the prior millennium, thanks to the depredations of the Assyrians and Babylonians, among others. But such was the power of the national idea -- and his messianic zeal -- that Bar Kokhba ventured all on regaining it.

And lost. Not for nearly another 2,000 years would the vision come to fruition. At a ceremony in 1982 burying bones of some of those long-ago rebels with military honors, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin declared: "Israel and Judea are reborn. We have redeemed Jerusalem."

King David conquered the city in 1000 B.C. and made it the capital of the kingdom of Israel. His son Solomon built the First Temple. But Jerusalem would repeatedly be captured and the Temple destroyed (first by the Babylonian King Nebuchadnezzar and then by the Roman Emperor Titus).

The Jewish people never forgot. In one of the miracles of our age, after long centuries of exile punctuated by genocide at the hands of the Nazis, they re-established Israel in 1948,

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

RICH LOWRY, King Features Syndicate

and then gained control of all of Jerusalem in 1967 (prior to that, when Jordan held East Jerusalem, Jews couldn't visit the Western Wall).

The notion that the City of David isn't the capital of Israel was an impolite fiction, honored by the U.S. and the West for fear of provoking Arabs hostile to the very idea of the Jewish state. Its prime minister, parliament and highest court are based there, and it's unimaginable that Israel would ever agree to any peace deal that didn't recognize it as the capital.

The tired, conventional arguments against it haven't held up well in the wake of President Donald Trump's decision to move our embassy. The Arab street hasn't exploded. The West Bank has been relatively quiet. Arab capitals haven't erupted in outrage. The flashpoint has been in Gaza, the terror statelet ruled by Hamas. Israel pulled out of Gaza more than a decade ago and has been rewarded with constant attacks emanating from a territory where the infrastructure of mayhem and destruction -- rockets, tunnels and the like -- is the only growth industry.

Hamas has goaded rioters to storm the Israeli border, defended by Israeli soldiers who fire on them if necessary to protect local communities (more than 50 were killed on a recent Monday). This isn't "the caravan" that arrived at the U.S. border with peaceful migrants seeking asylum, but a violent provocation that is a function of Hamas' commitment to Israel's destruction.

For now, that poisonous ambition looks more fantastical than ever. Trump's move is an acknowledgment of reality. It is also a symbolic statement of permanence, that Menachem Begin was correct when he said at the ceremony for the Bar Kokhba rebels 36 years ago, "Glorious fathers, we are back and we will not budge from here."

Legislators will look to grab bag for re-election

Gotta wonder just what the members of the House who are seeking re-election are going to say through the screen door on your porch to convince you that they deserve another two years in the Statehouse.

Because if you look at the big-picture stuff, well, it's a little thin on anything that is much of a vote-mover.

The 2018 Legislature passed a budget, it offered up what lawmakers hope is a "fix" for the state's unconstitutional school finance plan, and...oh yes, they passed the bill that will let bars and restaurants—and maybe the local pancake house?—sell alcoholic drinks at 6 a.m., giving you a three-hour head-start over the current 9 a.m. kick-off to a day's drinking.

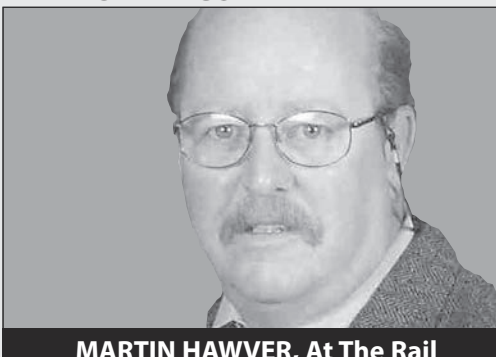

But there was a passel of narrow-interest measures that will appeal to some through the primary and into the general election.

Like...for the first time, making possession of a gun a felony if the gun owner has within five years been convicted of domestic violence, stalking and violence toward children.

That's a major gun control law, and the National Rifle Association was pretty quiet about it because, well, it is aimed at gun owners who have been convicted of domestic violence...not exactly the members that any organization would brag about...

And lawmakers also passed the telemedicine act, which will expand that health-care service into rural areas, where doctors are sparse and where specialists are even more sparse. Wouldn't that be nice if you had a health problem that your general practitioner recognizes, but would like a specialist to look at?

STATE COMMENTARY

The law, which specifically says it does not authorize delivery of any abortion services via telemedicine (largely prescription of abortifacients), contains the hotly debated non-severability clause that says if the abortion provision is held invalid or unconstitutional, the entire bill will be struck down—essentially ending tele-health regulation in the state. But...the law until antiabortion forces try to dismantle it in court...sounds like something most voters would commend...

Candidates probably won't be talking-up last year's repeal of the Gov. Sam Brownback-era income tax cuts that slashed revenue and spurred budget paring that was reflected in everything from failure to improve roads and bridges to less money for public schools to higher tuition when you send the kids off to college. Tricky that campaigning, not knowing whether the person behind the door has an LLC and is having to re-learn how to file Kansas income taxes after the four-year non-wage income tax holiday or is one of those Kansans who paid taxes all along and saw their tax bill rise this year.

Maybe...they holler through the door that the state budget appears to be stable again, schools, social services, roads, law enforcement and such are starting to see their budgets rise a dab to provide voters the services they expect.

Or...maybe they say that by not passing a major tax cut bill this year, when—or if—they return to the Statehouse next year they will know how much that federal income tax trickle-down will yield in state revenues and find some use for it that will make most voters happy. How about a cut in the sales tax on groceries, maybe giving every Kansan a taste of that trickle-down by raising the state's standard deduction, or maybe spending that unexpected cash on social services to the state's poor.

Could be the campaigns this summer will be about a couple nice things, and some mistakes not made.

But it's hard to campaign on not making mistakes, isn't it?

30 years ago: Wisconsin man dies after wrecking during go-kart races at Lake Garnett

10 years ago...

A Pittsburg man charged with arson and the murder of a Colony man and his roommate two years ago has made his way back to the courtroom. Andrew Hummer Morris was originally found incompetent to stand trial and has been receiving mental health treatment at Larned State Hospital. Morris is accused of setting fire to a house that killed Waylon Boots of Colony the morning of February 11, 2006. The incompetent ruling was overturned and Morris is now being held in Crawford County jail until his arraignment on June 27. Morris will make a formal plea to his charge at that time.

20 years ago...

Local residents who live near a proposed convenience store and fast food franchise told Garnett City Commissioners that they were concerned about additional traffic and dust if a nearby alley is improved as an exit for a drive-thru restaurant window. Mike and Teresa Gretencord announced plans to raze the present Mike's Total location and reconstruct a larger Texaco convenience store and gas station with a Taco Bell Express. Part of the plan was to use an alley north of the site as an exit for the drive-thru window. Local residents Bob Caron and Karl Gebert told commissioners they were concerned and suggested control measures to minimum or stop traffic from using the alley.

A Milwaukee, Wn., go-kart racer was killed Sunday afternoon during the Garnett Jaycees Enduro Races, the first fatal racing accident to occur at the races since their beginning in the early 1960's. The accident occurred near the end of the second of three races planned for the day. A light rain had been falling for several minutes when Rob Dees apparently missed a curve at the northeast corner of the North Lake Park race track known as the Muleshoe. His kart went down the embankment and struck a tree. He was taken to the Anderson County Hospital where he died several minutes later.

Ronald Benus was charged Monday with failing to yield cattle he had put up as security on a loan from United Kansas Bank of Overland Park. The charge against Benus is the second action in Anderson County District Court involving cattle. Benus' father, Ivan, recently took out a temporary injunction against Sheriff Gadelman to keep the sheriff from taking the cattle which he says he owns. The elder Benus' injunction prevented the sheriff from executing an earlier order from the Johnson County District Court telling him to seize and sell the cattle to satisfy the bank's judgment against Ronald Benus.

John Paul Wesley, a patriotic young man of this city, is mad. In fact, he is not only fighting mad, but greatly disappointed. The cause for John Paul's anger and disappointment is that he was rejected for the U.S. Marine Corps because of defective teeth. "Sherman said war is hell," stormed John Paul. "But I think your examination is even worse. Just because I'm not able to bite the Kaiser, I'm rejected. What do you want me to do, kill 'em and then eat 'em too?" "Sorry old man," said Sergeant Frank Buck. "Go see a dentist and come back. Maybe there'll be a chance then."

The Anderson County Bulldogs hosted and won the 4A baseball regional last week, rallying in the bottom of the seventh of the Regional Championship game against Santa Fe Trail to earn a trip

Rally caps Regional Championship for Bulldogs and stamps ticket to the State Tournament

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - The second seeded Anderson County Bulldogs are heading to the 4A state baseball tournament thanks to two come from behind wins, one of them in dramatic fashion.

In the opening game last Tuesday, Anderson County (9-11) squared off with third seeded Osawatomi (6-14).

AC fell behind early allowing 3 runs in the top half of the first inning, before rallying for a 4-3 victory.

Cole Denny, the Bulldogs starting pitcher, was a little wild early on. After a fly out to open the game, Denny hit the second batter before allowing back to back walks to load the bases.

Denny picked up a strikeout, but with two outs Denny walked the ensuing hitter to give Osawatomi a 1-0 lead early on.

Osawatomi finally put the bat on the ball with a bases loaded single that scored two, putting Oz up 3-0 after the top half of the inning.

Fortunately for the home fans, the Bulldogs had an early answer.

Tanner Spencer led off the game with a triple, followed by a Damone Kueser double and then a hit batter and the Bulldogs saw themselves trailing 3-1 with runners on first and second with nobody out.

Following two straight fly outs, the Bulldogs were in danger of squandering the opportunity but it was the Osawatomi catcher that allowed a pass ball that would score Kueser from third base to cut the deficit to 3-2.

Over the final 6 innings, Denny completely shut down Osawatomi. In 4 of the innings he would sit down the Oz offense in order.

The other two innings would see an infield single as the only baserunners.

The Bulldogs tied the game in the third inning after Spencer led off the inning with a single.

Spencer stole second and was able to advance to third on a ground out by Kueser.

Another passed ball allowed Spencer to knot the score up at 3.

Anderson County would again take advantage of Osawatomi miscues in the bottom of the fifth to score what would become the game winning run.

Spencer led off the inning reaching on an error by the third baseman.

Again Spencer stole second base and would wind up scoring on a bunt single by Kueser to give the Bulldogs a 4-3 lead, which would be enough to hold on for the victory.

Spencer was 2-3 and reached on an error, while scoring 3 runs.

Kueser was 2-3, scored one run and drove in 2 more.

Denny pitched all 7 innings, allowing just 3 hits and 3 earned runs while striking out 8 for the win.

Next up for for the Bulldogs was fourth seeded Santa Fe Trail (5-12). Santa Fe Trail pulled off a 3-1 upset in the opening round against top seeded Burlington (15-5).

Early on it appeared the Bulldogs were going to ride the momentum of the previous win, jumping on top 3-0 in the first inning.

Anderson County would hold onto the lead heading into the 6th, leading 4-2.

Santa Fe Trail though was determined to not go away easily.

SFT opened the inning with a triple, then following an error and a double they had already tied the game up at 4 with runners on second and third with nobody out.

The Bulldogs finally recorded the first out of the inning, but the fly out was deep enough to score another run to lead 5-4.

Kueser was on the mound and fortunately was able to settle down enough to retire the final two batters of the inning to keep his squad down just one run.

Both teams would come up empty in their next at bats, sending the Bulldogs to the plate in the bottom of the seventh still down 5-4.

Hermann opened the inning reaching on an error as the SFT defense continued to make key errors throughout the game.

Following a sacrifice bunt, the Bulldogs had a runner on second with one out.

Another SFT error, followed by back to back walks and suddenly the Bulldogs had the game knotted up at 5 and had the bases loaded with still just one out.

With the SFT infield in, Dilliner hit the ball to the shortstop, but they were unable to get Kueser at the plate as the Bulldogs had a thrilling walkoff 6-5 victory that would send the team to state.

The state tournament will be in Salina at Dean Evans Stadium on May 24th and 25th. The Bulldogs are the 8th seed and will face off against Nickerson High School (21-1) on May 24 at 11:00 a.m.

The winner will play on the 25th at 11:00 a.m.

Three Bulldog track & field athletes qualify for State

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

EUDORA - A trio of Bulldogs are heading to State track in Wichita over Memorial Weekend, led by Averi Wilson who qualified in two events.

Wilson finished 2nd in the 1600 meter run with a time of 5:24.76. Wilson also placed 4th in the 800 meter run, qualifying for State with a time of 2:28.57.

Abby Reid placed 2nd in the 100 meter hurdles with a time of 16.50 to earn a trip to State as well.

The only guy to qualify was Dallas Higginbotham. He finished 3rd in the discus with a throw of 142'6".

Some of the other top finishers on the afternoon for the Bulldogs were Reid finishing 5th in the 300 meter hurdles and pole vault, Marah Lutz finished 5th in the 400 meter dash and the 4x100 relay team finished in 6th place overall.

Reid placed 8th in the long jump to continue her solid day and Brooklyn Schettler finished 10th in the triple jump to finish all female athletes in the top 10.

The boys had a few narrow misses as well.

Ryland Porter finished 5th in the 1600 meter run as did Morgan Hall-Kropf in the 3200 meter run.

Rounding out the athletes inside the top 10 for the boys was Owen Lutz, 8th in the 3200 meter run and Riley Hedges finished 9th in the 1600 meter run.

WICHITA - The Anderson County Bulldog track and field state qualifiers will head to Wichita and compete in the 4A Kansas State High School Track & Field Championships at Wichita State University - Cessna Stadium on May 25-26.

Senior Averi Wilson is in good shape for the 1600 meter run, currently having the 3rd fastest time, but nearly 5 seconds quicker is freshman Taylor Briggs of Chapman.

Abby Reid currently sits in 9th place of all state qualifiers with a time of 16.50 in the 100 meter hurdles.

Dallas Higginbotham also has his work cut out for him, sitting in 13th out of 16 qualifiers in the discus from the Regional meets.

Pair of Bulldog golfers qualified for State

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

Carson Powelson and Josh Martin both medaled at Regionals and competed at the State meet yesterday in Emporia.

In Regional action, Powelson shot an 82, good for 7th place, and Martin shot an 83, 9th place.

Three golfers shot a 76 on the afternoon, Jace Watkins (Burlington), Nick King (Fort Scott) and Dylan Fanning (Ottawa).

Crest sends 3 to State

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

Camryn Strickler (49.77) finished 1st in the 300 meter hurdles and was the top qualifier for the Crest Lancer High School.

The Lancers will also send Regan Godderz (1:05.33) as she finished in 4th place as did Stratton Mcghee (47.61) in the 300 meter hurdles.

The Lancers had a few narrow misses as well like Kendall

Anderson's 6th in the 300 meter hurdles.

Regan Godderz finished 8th in the 100 meter dash, Maria Rodriguez finished 8th in the 800 meter run and Camryn Strickler finished 8th in the 100 meter hurdles as they all came up just short of qualifying.

The Kansas State High School Championships will be in Wichita, May 25 and 26, at Cessna Stadium on the Campus of Wichita State University.

Viking runners qualify for State

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

Central Heights strength all year has been their distance runners and it proved again to be true after the regional meet last week.

The 4x800 meter relay team set a personal best time of 8:29.49 seconds and finished first.

Caleb Meyer (10:31.10) finished 3rd at the 3200 meter run and Tyler Stevenson (4:45.85) finished in 4th in the 1600 meter run.

Alex Cannady just missed out in the 3200 meter run, finishing in 5th place.

The Vikings are set up very well at the state competition having the second fastest 4x800 time of all the state qualifiers.

Scott Community is the only school with a faster time (8:22.28), which is just more than 7 seconds faster than the Vikings.

The Kansas State High School Championships will be in Wichita, May 25 and 26, at Cessna Stadium on the Campus of Wichita State University.

led to a probation revocation hearing originally set for last month. She also is scheduled for a court appearance with counsel today on April charges of marijuana possession and blowing into an ignition interlock device to bypass it, and a June incident in which she's accused of misdemeanor theft.

The court ordered a three-day jail sanction in the revocation case, which maintains the probationary terms but enforces three days of jail time in addition to those terms. County attorney Brandon Jones's office said Friday those dates were to be served Monday and Tuesday of this week and a final day May 28.

Hobbs pled guilty in September 2017 to obstructing apprehension or prosecution after she initially lied to investigating officers about her 2004 Pontiac's involvement in the fatal incident that killed 22-year-old Clay Yoder as he was walking home on 1650 Road after midnight from a local bar.

Hobbs was a passenger in the car when 36-year-old Jason Wilson, who was behind the wheel, ran over Yoder near the Cedar Creek Bridge. The vehicle was identified in Garnett two days later by law officers based off evidence found at the scene of the incident.

Hobbs was sentenced to 10 months in jail in September 2017, but the sentence was suspended in lieu of 30 days in jail and 18 months probation. Wilson pled guilty to charges including leaving the scene of an accident causing death and lying to investigators, and was sentenced to five and one-half years in prison.

Construction was wrapping up last week on an addition to Wolken Tire's building at the corner of 6th and Oak Streets in Garnett. Owner Jack Rundle said the new addition would expand the service bay area of the business and free up space for the company's inventory. Insulation on the addition and other finishing touches are expected to be completed in coming weeks.

Approach, and be approachable

So you've finagled your way into a great networking event that may give you lots of great sales leads for your small business. How do you make the most of it?

Like anything else there are right ways and wrong ways, and one sure way to turn the opportunity into a disappointment is not to have the proper "buy in."

By "buy in" I mean you must have already come to the conclusion that this event is in fact an opportunity and that you intend to maximize it. If you don't have a commitment to your business and to the concept of using this event to help generate sales, you'll probably be out-shown by someone who has.

I knew a doctor once who worked for a small town hospital clinic. Management was trying hard to work its physicians into the fabric of the local community so people felt comfortable enough with them to become their patients. The guy was a fine physician but simply had no public relations skills and saw no value in having them. He felt like it was beneath him - "inauthentic" he told me once - to have to schmooze at the Rotary club in order to build his business. He had no "buy in" - no appreciation for the big plan and how the little plans contributed to the goal. He didn't last long.

So when you have the chance to network, do it right.

1) Remember the tools. Have fresh new business cards (not the dog-eared ones from your wallet) in your shirt pocket or outside pocket of your purse where you can get to them quickly.

2) Bring your research. You've known about this event for a week or so - plenty of time to learn a little about why you're there, who's going to be there and what their interests are and what you have to offer - so you have some conversation points.

3) Remember the cues. Don't cross your arms; it says "don't approach me" to the people around you. Hold a pen in your hands or a cup or glass to give them something to do, or put your hands in your pockets if you have to in order to keep from crossing your arms. Don't sit unless you have to - staying on your feet makes you more mobile and more approachable to others.

4) Forget your nerves. You may think you're not the kind of person who can walk up to a stranger and introduce yourself, but you are. That's why you're there after all, and probably why the other person is there as well. And if you get "rejected" by a stranger, who cares? It's a stranger!

5) If someone approaches you with a "How are you" or a "What's up," etc., don't throw them in the "fine" swamp. Don't answer with "fine," answer with "Outstanding" or "Phenomenal!" or "Delicious!" (well, if it's the right kind of event) - something that engenders follow up conversation. "Fine" is a dead-ender. It stands for Feelings I'm Not Expressing. It's what you say to someone you don't want to talk to.

So be ready with the right plan for your networking opportunity, and it can help you sell stuff!

 Bruce Symes gave a reading from Gregory Osborne titled "Things my Mother taught me" at the Mother's Day service. He spoke of Jesus on the cross, overcome with the weight of our sins, anticipating giving us the Holy Spirit, and yet he still provided for his mother by saying that John would now be her son, and her his mother. Chase Riebel's sermon was "Cost of Being a Disciple", referencing Luke 14:25-35. He crossed with the cost of being a mother; of the physical, emotional and spiritual cost of all the sacrifices involved with being a disciple/mother. You can hear his sermons on our website at www.colonychristianchurch.org.

 The praise band, led by Cindy Beckmon, opened the Mother's Day service at High Point Cowboy Church, after which Pastor Jon Petty greeted the mothers in the audience honoring them for Mother's Day. Returning to Colossians 1:9-18 Pastor Petty touched on living worthy by being fruitful, producing the same things Jesus produced, and increasing your knowledge of God.
