More charges for 2013 Kincaid bank robber

After serving federal sentence, Hudson faces abetting & battery

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

MOUND CITY – A man convicted in his role in the attempted robbery of the Bank of Kincaid in 2013 and who served five years for the crime will face additional charges in Linn County.

Stephen Michael Hudson was charged in Linn County District Court with state charges of aiding and abetting the attempted robbery and with attempted aggravated battery on a law enforcement officer. He was released from federal prison in March 2016 after serving his original federal sentence.

Hudson, of Webb City, Mo., was 32 years old when he and Daniel Lee Waddell, 32 of LaRussell, Mo., tried to rob the Bank of Kincaid on March 6, 2013, but were thwarted by security measures put in place by the bank after it was successfully robbed several years previous. A bank customer driving by the location on Kincaid's main street saw an armed man shaking the door of the bank and then followed the getaway car, calling in his location to local officers.

Waddell and Hudson fired weapons at the Good Samaritan which forced him to back off, but officers caught up to the vehicle in Linn County where a chase and eventual shoot-out with officers ensued. The two gave up and were arrested, and were eventually sentenced on federal charges in Kansas City, Kan.

The additional state charges claim Hudson recruited Waddell to execute the robbery and assisted as his accomplice and driver. A separate aggravated battery charge stems from Hudson's firing of weapons at Trooper Daniel Wills in the shootout.

According to the Linn County

County unemployment hits 3.4 percent in August

Burgeoning economy making employers bid for workers to fill jobs

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

TOPEKA – Anderson County's unemployment rate dropped nearly a full percentage point in August to 3.4 percent, as the local labor market tightened along with the rest of the state.

The county's jobless rate fell from 4.3 percent in July, and 4.0 percent in August 2017, or about 142 of its workforce of 4,190 filing unemployment claims.

It's a story echoed across Kansas as the brightening economy begins to put pressure on employers to compete for workers.

"August estimates indicate a tightening labor market in Kansas," said Kansas Labor Economist Emillie Doerksen. "The number of private sector jobs continued to increase and employers reported over the year growth in average weekly earnings for both goods producing and service providing industries." Doerksen said the household survey also shows a tightening labor market, with the unemployment rate falling to 3.3 percent statewide."

Seasonally adjusted job estimates indicate total Kansas non-farm jobs increased by 3,600 from July. Private sector jobs, a subset of total nonfarm jobs, increased by 300 from the previous month, according to figures from the Local school enrollments dip at end of counting period

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

TOPEKA – Area school districts all saw slight declines in enrollment as of the September 20 final head count date last week.

The figures for USD 395 at Garnett, Crest USD 479 at Colony and Central Heights USD 288 at Richmond for the most part stayed relatively steady over the past three years, with the 2017-2018 school year being the first in which the Kansas Department of Education allowed districts to count kindergartners as a single "full time equivalent" instead of ½ FTE.

The FTE figure doesn't reflect an actual number of students, but instead a composite of student numbers

Election edition coming next week

GARNETT – Next week's Anderson County Review will be mailed to every deliverable address in Anderson County and surrounding communities, and will contain "stump speeches" from candidates running for office in the upcoming November 6 general election.

The special extra-circulation edition is aimed at getting candidates' positions on issues in their own words to local voters in time to do follow up research prior to the election in order to make an informed vote, said Review publisher Dane Hicks. "We always hear people say they don't know much about a certain candidate, especially if he or she is a newcomer," Hicks said. "Hopefully this edition gives voters a primer on all the office seekers in time for them to follow up and do more research on their own."

Hicks said every candidate in a contested election had been contacted for a

Teen turns goat milk into soap business

Talon Jasper calls on ancient art to turn surplus goat milk into a product with serious cash flow

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – A local teenager has developed a sideline to her meat and dairy goat operation – goat soap – and it's no slippery business.

Talon Jasper, 13, got interested in goats after learning about them from her dentist, Dr. Sandi Otipoby. Eventually her parents, Jenny and Charlie Jasper of Garnett, relented and Talon joined the meat and dairy goat industry about four years ago. But the byproduct was goat milk – and plenty of it.

"We didn't know what to do with all the milk," Talon said. "We found out about goat milk soap, so we decided to do that."

So "Fields of Goats" soap was born. Soap making actually dates back thousands of years. The earliest recorded evidence of soap making and use goes back to ancient Babylon around 2800 BC. A recipe for soap made from water, alkali (alkaline salt) and cassia oil was found written on a Babylon clay tablet around 2200 BC.

Talon's recipe was a little more modern – it came from a digital app that listed various options for surplus goat milk and the basics of soap making. Before long, the family was learning the ancient craft.

First fresh goat milk is cooled in the freezer, Talon said, and then mixed with lye, water and various oils like coconut and vegetable oils. The lye interacts with water and the oils and a process called "saponification" takes place. Eventually the warm mixture thickens slightly and is mixed with any of a range of scents and dyes to add color and fragrance. Then the whole mix is poured into molds and has to set for four weeks while the lye finishes its interaction with the fats to make what ends up being soap. Like everything, with soap making Talon found experience to be the best teacher.

"The first time was a disaster," she said. "We ended up getting our oils too hot, and

This is a hard teaching. Who can accept it?

In my forty year working career I always packed a lunch. We had a thirty minute lunch break and I never liked to go out. Over the last several years I always ate the same thing; a half peanut butter and jelly sandwich, a cheese stick, an apple and some type of cup cake. The other thing I always did over the noon hour was listen to Truth for Life a radio program. After I retired I never ate another peanut butter and jelly sandwich or listened to the program. Recently I started listening to the program again and a strange thing happened. I started craving a peanut butter and jelly sandwich. Just the minute the intro music came on I could taste the peanut butter and jelly sandwich. This goes to show that we can develop a habit and not even know it.

There are several things, call them habits, that are a part of my Christian life. Unfortunately they are not as deeply engraved into me as this was. I found out when I retired how structured and organized I was when I was working and how quickly that has left me. That is why I am thankful for the opportunity to take communion every Sunday. This is the time for me to get my heart right before God. You see I am part of the crowd the Apostle Paul refers to in Romans 3:23 when he says; "For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God." Everyone needs to understand this. No one is excluded from this group. This is very difficult to confess as we don't see ourselves as sinners. However Paul is very direct using the word "all". That is you and that is me. Jesus tried to explain this teaching to the

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

Jews numerous times and their response was very predictable. "This is a hard teaching. Who can accept it? From this time on many of his disciples turned back and no longer followed him." (John 6:60,66)

Jesus' teaching is hard teaching. It goes against our human nature. That is why it took Jesus Christ dying on the cross to save us and that is what Paul is referring to in Romans 3:24 when he says. "We are justified by his (Jesus) grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus." The communion sacrament represents the body and blood of Jesus Christ given for us for the forgiveness of sins. Before we partake we should examine ourselves and allow this sacrament to cleanse our hearts and minds. This can only happen if we are willing to confess our need for a Savior. Jesus cannot and will not forgive us if we are unwilling to confess our sins and seek his forgiveness. I commend to your reading Matthew 10:32-33. Don't let communion just become a habit.

and weighting factors that broadly illustrate the challenges associated with educating any district or group of students considering degrees of poverty, transportation challenges, minorities and other "at risk" factors. State education officials roll all those factors up into an FTE figure that is used on a per unit basis to determine that district's amount of state funding.

Each FTE grants the district around $4,200 in state funds, raised from property owners in the base state property tax.

Garnett's enrollment took a bump last year to 1,047 from 998 in the 2016-2017 school year, but dropped to 1,027 as of last week's counting period. Central Heights has seen slight declines for three years, from 539 in '16-'17 to 532 last year to 511 last week. Crest has been up and down, posting 210 students in '16-17 up to 219.5 last year to 212 this year.

The enrollment at small schools can be affected by a number of factors. Central Heights Superintendent Brian Spencer said for his district, an abnormally small kindergarten class can make a lot of difference.

"We have 21 Kindergarten students," Spencer said. "We had 40 seniors last year. A typical class size in the district is 40. So a class of 21 is out of the norm."

In Garnett this year, the district lost 12-15 students of the Amish faith to a new private school west of Garnett. The privately-funded Central Plains School opened to replace Mont Ida School which was closed in 2016 and whose enrollment was mostly Amish. While those parents will still have to pay the state education base property tax, the private school isn't eligible to receive state funds, and USD 365 lost some $50,000 annually as a result.

Rural schools across Kansas have lamented declining enrollments for years as Kansas populations have shifted from rural areas to urban areas. A number of rural high schools dropped enough enrollment to move down a classification, according to figures released by the Kansas State High School Athletics Association last week.

That dynamic pushed some local schools like Prairie View at LaCygne, Santa Fe Trail at Carbondale, and Burlington High School to drop from 4A classification to 3A last week. Jayhawk Linn at Mound City and Central Heights dropped from 3A to 2A, Burlingame High School dropped from 2A to 1A. Crest High School remains in 1A, Ottawa, Baldwin, Paola, Osawatome, Iola and ACHS at Garnett all remain 4A.

GUEST EDITORIAL

"The Republican side on the Senate Judiciary Committee is all white men ..." — Irin Carmon, senior correspondent for New York Magazine, on MSNBC

"Only this crowd of clueless old white guys ..." — The Washington Post's Jennifer Rubin on Twitter

Let me begin by saying these commentators are making a brilliant and totally ORIGINAL point, the plain truth of which is outshone only by, as I've said, its sheer no-one-has-ever-made-that-observation-before-ness.

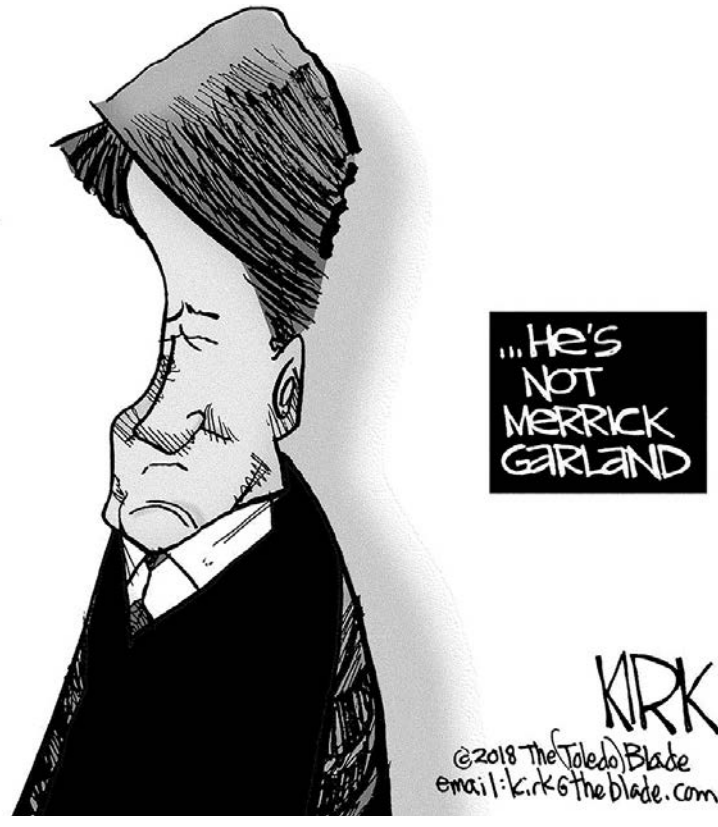

As the Supreme Court confirmation hearing resumes this week for Judge Brett Kavanaugh, it's clear that the Republicans are simply too white to get the job done. I suggest the Republicans sign up some outside help, the way baseball teams make late-season acquisitions of pitchers and designated hitters for the playoffs.

Some suggestions (note: not all of the following individuals are Republicans, but none has any partisan profile that I am aware of):

1. The Rev. Al Sharpton (Tawana Brawley affair demonstrates that he believes women).
2. Bill Cosby (extensive, up-close experience with victims of sexual assault, albeit from a rapist's, rather than a "rapee's" perspective).
3. Keith Ellison (likely good rapport with committee Democrats; has own transportation to Capitol Building).
4. Matias Reyes (would undoubtedly throw himself into committee's work as pleasant change of pace from prison).
5. Sorry, I don't remember the gentleman's name, but that guy who kidnapped and raped the Columbia student, poured bleach on her

I'm glad I pay an extra one-third in taxes to live in Garnett so I can live by and drive on a dusty chip and seal road. It's no more than a Bandaid on our diminishing streets. It's time to spend some money and repair our streets correctly, commissioner Gwin.

I'm calling about the person that indicated the loud music on Saturday night. It only happens once a year. Get a heart.

There was only one thing that came to my mind the other night driving by the Cornstock. Sodom and Gomorra.

What scares me the most about all the circus surrounding the Kavanaugh hearing is not whether or not he assaulted someone 37 years ago, nor is it whether the accuser is right about the charges.

In the grand scheme of things these are relatively minor. What scares me the most is the number of people openly and proudly abandoning a key foundation to our system of justice — that being the presumption of innocence until being proven guilty is being reversed to presumed guilty until proven innocent. Some senators have even flatly stated this. Accusations without any corroborating evidence is now sufficient to determine guilt? It is now accepted? Rather than requiring evidence to support if not prove the charges? Thank you.

I am sorry about the noise last Saturday night in town. But please try to keep in mind this only happens once a year and it is our town's chance to kick up our heels a little and have some fun. We appreciate your patience.

PETA billboard no closer to winning rural hearts

The anti-meat group People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, or PETA, vows to erect a billboard near Salina as a memorial to six head of cattle killed in the August crash of a cattle truck on K-4 highway.

In New England, a similar billboard is planned to commemorate the crash of a truck carrying 4,500 lobsters, whose deaths the organization decries.

And while we agree with the organization that these deaths are regrettable, especially those lobsters, we think these plans point out the fact that PETA is not a group concerned about better treatment for animals as such, but today makes no bones about the fact that it wants people to stop wearing, eating or experimenting on animals of all kinds. The billboard in Kansas wouldn't be the first memorial to cattle killed in a traffic accident. A similar effort was proposed in Louisiana last year after a crash on Interstate 20 killed 10 head.

The group refers to cattle as "sensitive creatures with complex social lives," which may well be true. Part of its statement, or motto, is "animals are not ours to eat."

What happens to these animals once we refuse to eat them isn't really addressed. Presumably, many would go to rescues or refuges, or become pets, living long and happy lives in complex social groups.

Not the lobsters, though. Many lobsters — and fish, crabs, other sea creatures — going to market today are farmed, or "responsibly farmed," as the menu writers like to say. We can infer, then, that the lobster and fish population would drop quite a bit if PETA has its way. And cattle?

We can only guess. Cattle are large, messy animals that don't make good pets and besides, they're expensive to feed. They are domestic animals, unsuited to life in the wild. There likely would be few cattle after a couple of years, kept perhaps in zoos, not a fate we'd wish on any sensitive creature.

Then there is the problem of cattle raising being a $67 billion industry in the U.S. And that's just what farmers and ranchers are paid; think of the billions involved in the packing and processed meat industries, prepared foods and the like, and all those employed on farms — especially to grow feed grain — packing houses and food processing who's jobs depend on beef.

We suppose PETA would look at them as necessary collateral damage.

But we doubt the economy on the High Plains could withstand the end of animal agriculture. PETA urges farmers to grow crops, not animals, but what crops can you raise on the average acre of pasture?

Think about that when you pass the lovely cow on the coming billboard.

This group has a long ways to go to win over the hearts of the farmer-stockman and the rancher. Kansas, being third in the nation in cattle raising and cattle on feed, would be especially hard hit.

Ah, well. Maybe a burger for lunch?

Democrats' Kavanaugh assault validates Trump

The attempted political assassination of Brett Kavanaugh is bad for the country, but good for a Trumpian attitude toward American politics.

The last-minute ambush validates key assumptions of Donald Trump's supporters that fueled his rise and buttress him in office...

The last-minute ambush validates key assumptions of Donald Trump's supporters that fueled his rise and buttress him in office...

First, that good character is no defense. If you are John McCain, who genuinely tried to do the right thing and carefully cultivated a relationship with the media over decades, they will still call you a racist when you run against Barack Obama.

If you are Mitt Romney, an exceptionally earnest and decent man, they will make you into a heartless and despicable vulture capitalist, also for the offense of campaigning against Obama.

If you are Brett Kavanaugh, a respected member of the legal establishment who doesn't have a flyspeck on his record across decades of public service in Washington, they will come up with dubious accusations of wrongdoing from decades ago when you were a teenager.

RICH LOWRY, King Features Syndicate

Second, that the media is an unremitting political and cultural adversary. In the Kavanaugh controversy, the press has been wholly on the other side, presuming his guilt and valorizing his accusers and their supporters, including Hawaii Sen. Mazie Hirono, whose most famous contribution to the debate was telling men to "shut up."

Third, that politics isn't just rough-and-tumble; it's red in tooth and claw. Process and norms are nice, but they go out the window as soon as something important is at stake, like a potential fifth vote on the Supreme Court to overturn Roe v. Wade.

Senate Democrats may delicately talk about the importance of norms and civility on Sunday shows, but watch how they act. They sat on an accusation throughout an extensive process of vetting and questioning a nominee, then declared it dispositive evidence against his confirmation when it leaked at the 11th hour. They delayed a hearing with Christine Blasey Ford long enough to allow time for the second accuser to be persuaded to come forward.

All of this plays into Trump's support. Surely, a reason that the president appealed to many Republicans in the first place, despite his extravagant personal failings, was that they had decided that virtuous men would get smeared and chewed up by the opposition's meat grinder, so why be a stickler for standards?

If Trump's attacks against the media are over-the-top and sometimes disgraceful, at least he understands the score.

He may not be a constitutionalist, but he will be faithful to his own side, and fiercely battle it out with his political opponents.

The logic of this dynamic is risky. It can be self-defeating, and lead down the road of supporting, say, a Roy Moore, a kooky candidate doomed even in red Alabama. It can be corrupting, if character and standards are no longer considered important. But the dark view of our politics that has driven the Trump phenomenon for three years now is impossible to gainsay. Who can watch the frenzied assault on Brett Kavanaugh and say that it's wrong?

Demolition of one of Garnett's historic downtown buildings was halted last week after work crews discovered a common ceiling joist that threatened an adjacent building. A portion of Dan Carr's building on South Oak Street collapsed in early September which brought on work to raze the rest of the structure. During the course of that demolition, City Manager Joyce Martin says crews discovered a common ceiling support with the former Tax Time Tax Service building of which neither building owner was aware. Demolition was halted when the discovery was made.

Both engines and a number of cars were derailed when two Missouri Pacific trains collided about four miles north of Garnett next to Highway 169. One train was on the main tracks and the other was entering the siding when the crash occurred. No other details are known. Two crewmen were taken by ambulance to Anderson County Hospital.

100 years ago...

The shortage of farm labor is more acute in Kansas each year. The towns are small, and the farms are large and most of the people are intensely active in agriculture. The draft took its quota of the young men from the fields and something must be done if farm production is to keep pace with the present conditions. Those who have more carefully studied the situation say that the tractor is the answer. One hired man with a four-bottom plow plus motor power is worth more than two equally good men each with a four-horse team and a two bottom gang.

Part 1 of a 3-day excavation in Council Grove

On September 28-29-30, I attended the Kansas Archaeology Association (KAA) annual Fall Fling in Council Grove, Ks. at the KAW Indian Mission.

We continued extensive excavations of 7 units (grids) in the area of the old blacksmith shop.

Archaeologist Tricia Waggoner was our Field Supervisor for the three day project.

Friday 28 Sept. 2018

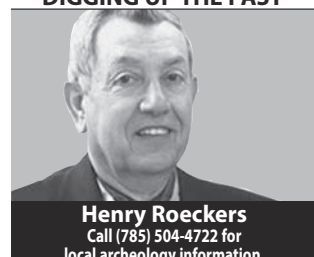

I left home at 6:30 a.m., the morning was very cool with a brisk northerly wind. Just west of Ottawa, Ks. I saw my first of five deer, a young buck. The other four were all eating together in a feed lot near Osage City, Ks.

I arrived in Council Grove at the dig site at 8:22 a.m., after traveling 92.8 miles. I called Kay, to let her know I arrived safely.

At 9:00 a.m. we gathered around Tricia to receive our assignments and instructions for the day. Our scheduled working hours were from 9:00 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., with two 15 minute breaks at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. We had a 30 minute lunch break in the field.

There are 23 personnel here today, 15 excavators, 4 screeners, 2 total station operators, a records keeper and our Supervisor Tricia.

DIGGING UP THE PAST

Henry Roeckers
Call (785) 504-4722 for local archeology information.

I'm assigned as a screener and love it.

Just opening the grids today, therefore artifacts found were not in abundance.

Those found were: buttons (glass, brass, iron), dishware (mostly white ware), however a few pieces of yellow ware were found, glass fragments (window and bottle) and many varieties of nails.

After leaving the field, I drove out to the Prairie Lodge Motel, checked in and picked up my key to my own private little cabin (really nice). I ate dinner (supper) at the local DQ, before retiring for the day.

It's going to be a cool morning tomorrow and a few showers are possible. It's 7:00 p.m. and 41 degrees, the high today was a very cool 54 degrees (Fall has arrived).

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 10-2-2018 / SUBMITTED

Viking boys finish first again

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

RICHMOND - The Central Heights hosted their annual meet last week and the boys didn't disappoint with another first place finish as a team.

Individually it was also a very successful day with four first place finishes out of the five events on the afternoon.

"Out of five races, finishing with four individual champions makes for a nice day. When you factor in several huge personal bests both in the middle school and high school races as well as the varsity boys team championship, it makes it all even more special for the kids to compete in front of a home crowd," head coach Troy Prosser stated.

Tyler Stevenson (17:52) paced the way for the Vikings finishing first overall. Caleb Meyer (18:49) finished 6th, Bryce Sommer (19:02) finished 7th, Jarod Crawford (19:07) finished in 8th, Mason McCurry (19:14) finished 11th and Luke Cotter (19:28) finished 16th.

Injuries struck the Vikings for the varsity boys, but they were still able to hold off Iola.

"It could have taken a turn for the worst during the final race of the day when we lost one of our top two runners to injury at about the midpoint, but the rest of the team followed their assignments and Bryce (Sommer), Jarod (Crawford), Mason (McCurry), and Luke (Cotter) did exactly what they needed to hold off a great Iola boys team," Prosser said.

Prosser added, "Tyler Stevenson ran another great race and I'm very proud of him getting his first varsity win of the season. He has been a very consistent runner and a solid leader."

Central Heights had a score of 33, Iola was close behind with 35. The third place team was Wellsville but they were well off the pace with 118 points.

The Viking varsity girls fared well as well, but with just three runners they couldn't place as a team.

Lily Meyer (21:27) placed 3rd overall. Madison Bridges (22:10) finished just inside the top 10 in 9th place and Taryn

Compton (22:44) finished 14th overall.

The JV boys were led by David Craft (19:34) who finished in first. Rylee McCurry (30:10) finished in 28th out of 88 runners.

The 7th grade girls 2 mile run was won by Viking Emma Cubit (13:52).

Cubit was followed by Melaney Chrisjohn (13:55) and Kaylee Holstine (14:01) who finished in 2nd and 3rd respectively. Layla Roll (17:55) finished in 17th.

Connor Burkdoll (13:10) won the boys 7th grade division.

A trio of Vikings joined him in the top 10. Dakota Burnett (13:50), Owen Miller (13:51) and Jotham Meyer (14:04) finished 5th, 6th and 8th respectively. Prosser was happy the way his Viking squads kicked the day off with victories.

Prosser stated, "To have Emma Cubit and Connor Burkdoll (a 6th grader) both win the first races of the day set a high standard that the rest of their teammates followed their lead."

Silver Lake puts abrupt halt to Vikings winning streak

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

SILVER LAKE - It didn't take long for the fifth ranked team in 2A, Silver Lake Eagles (5-0), to take control against the Central Heights Vikings (2-3) and run away with an easy 55-0 victory.

It wasn't anything new for Silver Lake, they have been demoralizing opponents all season. Some of their victories include a 46-7 win over St. Mary's and a 56-6 win over McLouth.

Central Heights saw them fall behind 28-0 after the first quarter and 55-0 at intermission as Silver Lake cruised to the victory.

Quarterback Dakota Beers completed 5-15 passes for 45 yards with 2 interceptions.

The running game wasn't any better. The Vikings were limited to just 60 yards on 30 carries on the night.

Cauy Newell toled the ball 21 times for 42 yards to lead

Central Heights.

Defensively Josh Johnson led the way with 7 tackles.

Silver Lake completed 6-8 passes on the day for 208 yards and 3 touchdowns.

They had their way on the ground as well with just 23 carries on the night for 358 yards (15.6 ypc) and 7 rushing touchdowns allowed.

Lancers volleyball earn split against St. Paul and Oswego

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

ST. PAUL - The Crest Lancers had a come from behind win over St. Paul (27-25, 25-16) to open the evening before falling in a hard fought match against Oswego (23-25, 20-25) to close out the day.

In the opening match, Crest faced a 7-12 deficit and then again trailed 17-21 before rallying to tally 10 of the next 14 points to win the match 27-25.

The Lancers carried that momentum and won the second match against a St. Paul team that seemed to have a hangover from the first set loss.

"The girls showed grit coming back to beat St. Paul," head coach Abigail Hermreck stated.

"St. Paul was playing well and it seemed we took some life out of them for the second set," Hermreck said.

Hermreck added, "I was proud of the girls for playing strong one point at a time."

Jewel Armstrong tallied 3 aces, 3 digs, 2 kills and also had the best serve receive average in the opening match.

Aubree Holloran and Lindsey Godderz were both perfect on serves in the game.

Camryn Strickler recorded 8 digs and 7 kills for the match.

The second game of the night was against Oswego and this time it was the Lancers that came up just short trying to close out an opponent.

Crest and Oswego were knotted at 23 in the opening set, which Oswego would score the final two points of the set and win 25-23.

The Lancers would start off strong in the second game before letting the lead slip away late enroute to a disappointing 25-20 win by Oswego.

Despite the loss, Coach Hermreck loves the fight her girls showed all night.

"The loss was disappointing, but I was proud of the girls for how hard they played. We are doing some really good things and I believe this can take us far," Hermreck added.

Cassie Bowen recorded 8 kills and 7 digs in the second game.

Strickler had a good all around game connecting on all 8 serves, recording 8 digs, 5 kills, 2 blocks and an ace.

Next up for the Lancers volleyball squad is a home match tonight beginning at 4 p.m.

Bulldog cross country boys finish 2nd, girls 3rd at Perry Lecompton

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

LAKE PERRY - The Anderson County Bulldog boys finished in second and the girls finished third place at the Perry Lecompton High School Invitational.

The boys finished in second with 85 points, a distant second to Tonganoxie High School who finished with 41 points.

Ryland Porter (18:05) led the Bulldogs with a 3rd place finish.

Morgan Hall-Kropf (18:17, 6th place), Damone Kueser (19:23, 18th place) and Riley Hedges (19:28, 19th place) round out the Bulldogs that finished inside the top 20.

Jeremiah Riehl (20:50, 40th place), Leo Sheahan (21:06, 45th), and Orvel Broce (21:14, 48th) round out all the varsity boys in action.

In girl's action, Rayna Jasper (21:16, 3rd place) paced all Bulldog runners.

Lillian Spring (22:54, 9th place) and Emily Moyer (23:21) joined Jasper in the top 15. Maya Corley (24:03) and Katie Schmit (24:14) finished 21st and 22nd respectively.

Lanie Walter (24:29) finished in 26th and Pagie Rupp (25:24) finished in 37th.

Lady Vikings volleyball winless on the season

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

The Vikings have been short-handed, having only 6 players so it has left head coach Kelli Brown with little adjustments being able to be made as her team has struggled to a disappointing 0-18 record so far this season.

Last week Osage City swept the Vikings (12-25, 15-25 and 14-25, 12-25).

Mary Roehl led the Vikings with 5 kills on the night with Abby Brown right behind with 4 kills.

Cameron Peel, 3 kills and 3 blocks, and Megan Speaks, 3 kills and 4 blocks, each helped pace the Vikings.

Bulldogs volleyball swept by Burlington and Wellsville

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

BURLINGTON - Despite stretches of solid play, the Anderson County Bulldog girls volleyball team fell just short as they were swept 23-25, 16-25 by Burlington and 6-25, 26-24, 23-25 by Wellsville.

In the match against Burlington, Brooke Schettler finished with 15 serves without an error and recorded 6 digs defensively.

Jenna Schmit led the way with 5 kills and Grace McAdam chipped in with 4 digs.

In the second game against Wellsville, after getting dominated in the first set 6-25, the Bulldogs bounced back winning the second set 26-24 before coming up just short in the 3rd and final set, 23-25.

In the game against Wellsville McAdam finished the game with 13 digs and was perfect on 15 serves including 3 aces.

Schettler and Jayda White were solid defensively with 11 digs and 8 digs respectively.

Offensively the Lady Bulldogs were led by Abby Reid with 11 assists and 6 kills and Schmit with 8 kills.

Generous donation by Goppert Foundation helps ECKAAA provide home delivered meals locally

The East Central Kansas Area Agency on Aging will be the new provider for the senior congregate and home-delivered nutrition program as of October 1, 2018 in Anderson, Coffey, Franklin, Linn, Miami and Osage Counties.

All senior meals will now be prepared and served through the East Central Kansas Area Agency on Aging Nutrition Program. The area agency on aging was excited to be able to continue to serve meals out of the central kitchen in Ottawa.

ECKAAA was able to purchase the central kitchen in Ottawa with the help of a generous donation by the Goppert Foundation of $100,000. Their generosity was vital to the purchase of the building which helps keep the program intact for food preparation and delivery.

Two new staff were hired to oversee the program. Pat Watson, Lane, has been hired as Food Service Coordinator and will oversee the kitchen and delivery personnel. Jodi Smith, Ottawa, has been hired as the Nutrition Site Coordinator and will oversee the 24 congregate sites that package and serve the 750 meals each day in the six counties.

The area agency on aging feels very lucky to have these two women on board to manage the new program as they have extensive knowledge and a passion for the program.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 10-2-2018 / Photo Submitted

Jeff McAdam (Garnett branch of GSSB), Mike Skidmore (Ottawa branch of GSSB), Elizabeth Maxwell (Executive Director of the ECKAAA), Kyle Peine (Garnett branch of GSSB), Lynn Suffron (Ottawa branch of GSSB). With the exception of Elizabeth, they all work for GSSB and represent the Goppert Foundation.

Watson was the Food Service Coordinator for almost 20 years with Mid-America Nutrition Program and Smith interned with Mid-America Nutrition Program in college and was a case manager for ECKAAA for over 10 years.

ECKAAA feels very fortunate that these two key staff people have a history with the program and a familiarity with the people in the area served. In addition, the kitchen, food van delivery drivers and congregate site managers employed by the former program will now be employees of ECKAAANP and are key to helping ensure meals will continue to be served at congregate sites and through home-delivered meals without interruption.

For information or questions please call ECKAAA at 785-242-7200 or 1-800-633-5621, Monday-Friday, 8:00-5:00PM.

Garnett Fire Department to bolster fire prevention efforts with FM Global grant GARNETT, Kan.—The Garnett Fire Department has received a US $1,400 fire prevention grant from FM Global, one of the world's largest commercial property insurers.

FM Global representatives presented the award to Chief Pat Tate at the Garnett Fire Department. The award will be used to purchase smoke detectors that will be made available to the public later this Fall.

Because fire continues to be the leading cause of property damage worldwide, during the past 40 years FM Global has contributed millions of dollars in fire prevention grants to fire service organizations around the globe. Locally, the company has awarded grants to a number of Kansas-based organizations.

"At FM Global, we strongly believe the majority of property damage is preventable, not inevitable," said Michael Spaziani, assistant vice president - manager of the fire prevention grant program. "Far too often, inadequate budgets prevent those organizations working to prevent fire from being as proactive as they would like to be. With additional financial support, grant recipients are actively helping to improve property risk in the communities they serve."

Through its Fire Prevention Grant Program, FM Global awards grants to fire departments—as well as national, state, regional, local and community organizations worldwide—that best demonstrate a need for funding, where dollars can have the most demonstrable impact on preventing fire, or mitigating the damage it can quickly cause.

To learn more about FM Global's Fire Prevention Grant Program and other resources for the fire service, please visit www.fmglobal.com/fireservice.

Established nearly 200 years ago, FM Global is a mutual insurance company whose capital, scientific research capability and engineering expertise are solely dedicated to property risk management and the resilience of its client-owners. These owners, who share the belief that the majority of property loss is preventable, represent many of the world's largest organizations, including one of every three Fortune 500 companies. They work with FM Global to better understand the hazards that can impact their business continuity in order to make cost-effective risk management decisions, combining property loss prevention with insurance protection.

Prospecting: Panning for new customers

We all love our customers. Well, we all love most of our customers.

But there comes a time when all good things come to an end and we have to say goodbye. No customer lasts forever. That's why some part of your effort needs to be pointed toward acquiring new customers on a consistent basis.

We call it prospecting, and the object of prospecting is to develop new customers to take the place of old ones you lose, or to add to your volume of business as a means of growth.

Good prospecting requires discipline and regular attention. Some small businesses allow prospecting to falter when times are good, and when sales go cold then everybody runs with their hair on fire to try to drum up new business. Being consistent and regular in prospecting, like most other facets of good planning, makes life easier.

HOW TO SELL STUFF

So the first goal of prospecting is to do it regularly. The second goal is to make a good prospect list, and the last is to work the plan.

We've already talked about regularity, so the next step is to assemble a solid list of prospects. Consider these: 1) Referrals—personal referrals are usually the best qualified because this prospect has already talked to someone who liked your service, price, etc.; 2) What we call "walk ins," those who contact you by phone or by website traffic looking for information; 3) Network contact: Those you determine through traditional social or social media channels; and lastly 4) Acquisitions: Those you target who are presently customers of your competitor or who are purchasing in a complimentary manner that makes you a possibility (someone who just bought a car will need car insurance, for example).

Executing on the prospect list you compile is the final motion. You need a series of questions that qualify the prospect as to need or desire, authority to buy and possibly even the ability to pay. Most of all you have to make the calls. You have to approach each telephone or personal call on a prospect like you're panning for gold - there will be sand for certain, but there's gold in that list as well.

Having a prospecting mentality will help your small business grow and replace the customers you lose by the natural course of business.

Meal Site

There will not be any more meal menus as the company quit at the end of September. Do not know when there will be a new menu.

Christian Church

Sept. 23 Darren McGhee gave the Communion Meditation referencing Genesis 3:1-13 and how the serpent tempted Adam and Eve. He said it was like filling a table with vegetables for a child, and then placing a plate of cookies in the middle and telling the child not to eat the cookies. God knows all... who will accept him and who won't, and we are all born sinners, just as Adam and Eve were. Pastor Chase Rieble gave the sermon "Think (What do I believe?) - Act (What should I do) - Be (Who am I becoming). This third week of the Believe series covers Salvation. Our salvation is determined by our relationship with God. We all have the choice of doing right or wrong and we all miss the mark, but thanks to Jesus' sacrifice, we can be made right with God.

Men's Bible study Tuesday 7 a.m. Wednesday 5:30 p.m. will be a meal and prayer time at the parsonage, youth "Believe" at 7 p.m. (kids are welcome to come hang out at 4:30 p.m.). "Believe" small groups are up and running with four groups to choose from. If you have not yet gotten your books, they're available for purchase at the church. Groups will be held on Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday (this week only, Wednesday group will meet on Tuesday) and Thursday nights. Thursday will be the middle school hang out at the Community Church prior to the ballgames from 3:30-5 p.m. Youth Sunday is Sept. 30. The youth will be having a garage sale during the city wide garage sales October 5-6. If you have items to donate, please bring them to the church.

Cowboy Church

Leo Ramsey started the morning service Sept. 23 at High Point Cowboy Church with a welcome and announcements, followed by outstanding praise and worship in music and song to God.

Apostle Jon Petty spoke about being in God's presence when facing the giants in life - cancer, addictions, finances, relationships - we can depend on His word to change the situation. John 1:1-3 tells us we have been in Jesus since before creation.

Scott Coon will be ministering Sunday, Sept. 30, at the 9 a.m. service; plan to come and hear from God.

UMC

Scripture presented at Sept. 23 worship service was Psalm 1: 1-6, Proverbs 31: 10-31, James 3: 13-18 - 4: 8 and Mark 9: 30-35. Pastor Dorothy Welch presented the sermon, "Like a Tree".

Crest

This year's Crest High School recipients of the Kansas Honor Scholar award were Regan Godderz, Camryn Strickler and Jewel Armstrong. Congratulations to them.

CEF

Crest Education Foundation is hosting Trivia Night at the Kincaid School, Monday, Oct. 6 at 6:30 p.m. Join the fun, adult night out!, Bring your drinks, snacks and friends. Doors open at 6 p.m. $20 each, six people per team. To reserve your table, phone 620-363-0080. Participants must be 21 or over.

Library Board

Members met Sept. 18. The Little Free Library was discussed, has been put up in front of the Diner. Patrons may take books and magazines from the Free Library, welcome to return, keep or give them away when they are finished with them. Books and magazines can also be donated to the Free Library. It was discussed having some type of activity on one evening a month. Some suggestions were pie crust making, cookie exchange, and crafts. Next meeting is Oct. 9.

Jolly Dozen

The Jolly Dozen club met

Sept. 17 at Marilyn Thexton's home. Roll call was answered by naming a favorite fall fragrance or flower. Seven members were present Phyllis Luedke won a door prize, a pretty fall towel. Claudette Anderson also won a door prize, a beautiful mum. Marilyn served a pumpkin dump cake and pumpkin spice Chex mix.

Lions Club

Seven members answered roll call at the Sept. 19 meeting. Kenton King reported receiving notice of dues payments that are due for International and State which were agreed to pay. Kenton King stated the letters for the highway sign will cost about $60. It was agreed to order so they could have them for the City Wide Garage Sale.

Jay Dutton read a Thank You card from Betty Ramsey who won the tablet at Colony Day. Steve and Sue Michael presented their application for membership. They were voted in by unanimous ballot. All were reminded the Kincaid Fair will be Sept. 27-29. The Kincaid Lions Club would appreciate any help they can get.

The drawing for the Glock 42 pistol was conducted. Chip Tiegreen of Chanute won the pistol. There will be a Trivia Night on Oct 6 at Kincaid. It was voted to sponsor a table at the event. Sue Colgin was reminded that she needs to pick up glasses at the Iola Pharmacy. Question arose concerning the dues of which everything will be figured by the next meeting. Meeting was adjourned by Vice President Butch Lytle.

Around Town

Sympathy is expressed to area relatives and friends of Steve Spangler, 70, Garnett. Steve passed away Sept. 17 at Residential Living Center, Garnett. He was a 1966 Colony graduate. Survivors include his wife, Cathy, of the home, a son, daughter and five grandchildren. Funeral was held at Garnett Church of the Nazarene Sept. 21. Burial followed at Lone Elm Cemetery.

Sympathy is also extended to Neal and Charlotte Wallace at the unexpected death Sept.

16 of their granddaughter, Cisha Wallace, 38, Humboldt. Funeral Service was held Tuesday, Sept. 25 at Feuerborn Service Chapel, Iola. Burial followed at Iola Township Cemetery, Piqua. The Wallaces are so appreciative of their many condolences they have received.

Several local high school students to be honored by KU

LAWRENCE— This fall, the Kansas Honor Scholar Program, a longstanding tradition of the University of Kansas Alumni Association and KU Endowment, will honor more than 3,700 high school seniors throughout Kansas for their academic excellence and achievement.

Since 1971 the program has honored more than 140,000 high school seniors—from all 105 Kansas counties and approximately 360 high schools—for ranking academically in the top 10 percent of their class. The program is made possible by KU Endowment, alumni donations and proceeds from the Alumni Association's Jayhawk license plate program, and allows the University and the Alumni Association to create more scholarship opportunities for Kansas students.

This year, the Association and KU's Office of Admissions and Scholarships awarded five incoming freshmen from Augusta, Garden City, Lyons, Mulvane and Wichita one-time, $1,000 Kansas Honor Scholar Scholarships, funded entirely by alumni donations. In addition, two students from Liberal and Ulysses received the $1,000 renewable four-year Herbert Rucker Woodward Scholarship, given annually for the past 20 years to Kansas Honor Scholars. Since 1985, more than 17,000 Kansas Honor Scholars have attended KU.

The following local scholars are among the 3,700 that will be honored statewide.

Anderson County students Tatum Ahring, Katelyn Dieker, Lakin Katzer, Margaret Reinert, Justin Rockers, Paige Rupp and Jenna Schmit.

From Crest High School Jewel Armstrong, Regan Godderz and Camryn Strickler will be among those honored.

Central Heights students included are Colin Maloney, Caleb Meyer, Bryce Sommer and Caitlyn Thompson.

Scholars and their families are invited to attend any of the 13 regional ceremonies that is most convenient in terms of date and location. Ceremonies will occur in:

- Great Bend Oct. 2
- Salina Oct. 3
- Topeka Oct. 15
- Garden City Oct. 17
- Hays Oct. 18
- Colby Oct. 22
- Manhattan Oct. 23
- Wichita Oct. 29
- Emporia Oct. 30
- Wichita Nov. 7
- Hutchinson Nov. 8
- Kansas City Nov. 14
- Lawrence Nov. 28

Ceremonies will include speakers, recognition of the scholars, and a reception for scholars, families, school administrators and alumni. During the ceremony, students will receive distinctive Kansas Honor Scholar medallions that can be worn at their local graduations or recognition events. In addition, the Alumni Association will mail certificates to all high schools for distribution to all 3,700 Kansas Honor Scholars. Prairie Wind concert at Richmond UM Church

How about an evening of easy listening music of folk songs, country, Bluegrass, sacred and the blues? You're invited to a free concert by the Prairie Wind Band of Paola at the Richmond United Methodist Church Sunday, Oct. 14th, at 6 p.m. for some down-home music. Bring your friends and enjoy the toe-tapping music, plus great fellowship.

Prairie Wind includes musicians who play guitars, fiddles, banjo, mandolin, bass and keyboard, said Gale Seibert who organized the group. Others in the band are April England, Bobby Thompson, Lonny Hinote, Judy Minden, Paul Stamper and 13-year-old Rachel Reimer who wows audiences with her fiddle.

"Our music might be called 'Grass Roots' since we're just folks who like to get together and play for enjoyment," said Seibert. "If other people enjoy it, too, that's special to us. Most of us play 'by ear' but we also read printed music. We invite you to clap and sing-along whenever you wish," added Seibert.

Invite others and come to the Richmond United Methodist Church Sunday, Oct. 14th, 6 p.m. A love offering will be taken for Prairie Wind.

And mark your calendar for this church's annual Beef Noodle Supper on Saturday, Nov. 3rd, serving 5-7 p.m. The supper features locally-grown beef, with noodles, Brookville Slaw, and a full menu. Then, set the clocks back an hour when you return home.

Hidden Figures – A display, book discussion and movie showing will be held at the Garnett Public Library

During the month of Oct and Nov. the Community Gallery at the library will feature the display - "Hidden Figures - celebrating minorities in science, technology, engineering and math". In conjunction with this fabulous display borrowed from the Independence Public Library, the library book discussion group will be reading the book "Hidden Figures" by Margot Lee Shetterly and the library will also sponsor a showing of the movie "Hidden Figures" based on the book.

The display will be up from Oct. 2nd - Nov. 24th. It features full panel displays chronicling the lives of minority workers at NASA. The Garnett Library will hold a book discussion on Wednesday, October 24th, at 7pm in the Archer Room. The book Hidden Figures tells the story of a group of exceptionally talented African American women who worked behind the scenes at NASA. It is a phenomenal true story of the black female mathematicians at NASA whose calculations helped fuel some of America's greatest achievements in space. Books are available for checkout from the library. The movie "Hidden Figures" will be shown on Thursday, Nov. 1st at 6:30 p.m. The award winning movie is based on the above book and features Taraji P. Henson, Octavia Spencer and Janelle Monáe. The movie is free of charge and all are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Ideas to save time and assist in the insurance claim process to simplify the process

TOPEKA, Kan. — As we enter the last quarter of 2018, Kansans have been fortunate to have the statewide estimated non-flood storm damages for the year be at the lowest level in the past 10 years. With low storm damage estimates come the correspondingly low number of claims filed.

We always appreciate the calm that comes with a less-than-normal severe weather year. But it is unwise to think that this year begins a new normal for severe weather activity. The statistics say that we will once again, at some future point, be faced with storm damage losses more typical of those caused by Kansas weather events. It is still wise to make sure that you know how to maneuver the claims process successfully when the need arises.

With a little preparation, resolving a claim with your insurance company does not have to be a frustrating, time-consuming process. Being prepared with and keeping track of the information your insurance company needs to process the claim is critical. What you do before making the claim will help in reducing the time between the insurance incident and the resolution of your problem.

Kansans should consider the following ideas to assist with the claims process.

Know your policy. Understand what your policy says. Because it is a contract between you and your insurance company, you need to know what is covered, what is not and what your out-of-pocket costs are.

File claims as soon as possible. Call your agent or your company's claims hotline as soon as possible. Your policy might require that you make the notification within a certain time frame. Provide complete, correct information. Be certain to give your insurance company all the necessary information. If your information is incorrect or incomplete, your claim could be delayed.

Keep copies of all communications. Whenever you communicate with your insurance company, be sure to document the communications. With phone calls, include the date, name and title of the person you spoke with and what was said.

Ask questions. If there is a disagreement about the claim settlement, ask the company for the specific language in your policy that is in question. Find out if the disagreement is because you interpret the policy differently. If your claim is denied, make sure you have a letter from the company explaining the reason for the denial — including the specific policy language that caused the denial.

Don't rush into a settlement. If the first offer your insurance company makes does not meet your expectations, talk with your local insurance agent or seek other professional advice.

Document auto/homeowners temporary repairs. Auto and homeowners policies might require you to make temporary repairs to protect your property from further damage. Document any damaged personal property for an adjuster to inspect. If possible, take photographs or videotape the damage before making the repairs. Your policy should cover the cost of these temporary repairs, so keep all receipts.

Don't make permanent repairs. A company might deny a claim if you make permanent repairs before the damage is inspected. If possible, determine what it will cost to repair your property before you meet with an adjuster. Provide the adjuster any records of improvements you made to the property, and ask him/her for an itemized explanation of the claim settlement offer.

Seek accident and health claims details. Ask your medical provider to give your insurance company details about your treatment, condition and prognosis. If you suspect your provider is overcharging, ask the insurance company to audit the bill, and verify whether the provider used the proper billing procedure.

Contact the Kansas Insurance Department (KID). If you continue to have a dispute with your insurance company about the terms of the claims settlement, contact the KID Consumer Assistance Hotline at 1-800-432-2484, or go to the website, www.ksinsurance.org, to use the Chat feature to make contact with one of our Consumer Assistance Representatives.

Remember, you can get a claim resolved quicker if you have the consumer know-how to fast track the process.

Keep kids safe this harvest

Keeping children safe while they live, play and work on farms can be challenging. It's even more difficult during harvest season — a peak time for agricultural injuries.

Long hours, a flurry of activity, less-than-ideal weather conditions and work involving large machines make corn, milo and soybean harvest a potentially dangerous period.

Fall harvest marks the pinnacle of a half year's effort to produce these crops. During harvest, farmers work long, hard hours. Fifteen-minute meal breaks are about the only real time off in days that often stretch 10 hours.

People and machines are

pushed to their limits.

While every machine — combine, truck, tractor, grain cart or auger — provides its own unique hazards, operator stress or error account for most harvest accidents. Years of safety features built into these machines are useless without operator safety. Exceed human limitations and accidents are bound to follow.

Carrying an extra passenger is also a safety concern. Children or young adults can fall from cabs. It's instinct to hold onto something when jarred off balance. Some people have reached for the door handle, accidentally hitting the latch and fallen out.

Operator knowledge and attitude remain the key to a smooth, well-oiled fall harvest. A safe operator knows his or her skills, limitations and condition, both physical and emotional.

7. Lakireddy Bali Reddy, entrepreneurial Indian immigrant with strong experience with underage rape victims, having brought little girls to the U.S. purchased from their poverty-stricken parents in India as his private sex slaves. (His presence may bring Asha Rangappa on board.)

Seriously, if feminists want to make the point that only female senators have any business conducting these hearings, they have a logical point, albeit an idiotic one.

Of course, the last time feminists bet big on women being certain allies in the fight against misogyny, they were the women of the O.J. jury.

Still, I get the logic of demanding women interlocutors.

But what is the thinking behind snickering at "white men" judging an accusation of sexual assault? Chuck Grassley is a big rapist?

You can be for rape or against it — I happen to be against it — but the idea that alleged sexual assault survivors need the loving care of black, Indian or Hispanic men to judge their stories flies in the face of crime statistics from around the globe.

In the history of the world, there has never been a more pacific, less rapey creature than the white male of Western European descent.

I realize it gives The New York Times' editorial board (recent acquisition: Sarah Jeong) warm feelings every time someone throws in the word "white" as an intensifier, denoting extra hatefulness, but really, guys, it's getting old.

Can we please, for the love of God, drop the painfully trite, mind-numbing cliché about "white men," as if somehow their whiteness makes evil even eviler?

and Krazy-Glued her lips shut. (This one is sort of a "wild card," I admit; he could be absolutely great, or, judging by his history of poor impulse control, he could be too emotionally unstable to handle the committee's important work; definitely a Person of Color, though; that I'm sure about.)

6. Alton Maddox, attorney for black youth hired by Jewish landlord to slash a model's face because she refused to date him. Maddox pioneered novel "she's a manipulative slut who had it coming" defense. (Close relationship with the Rev. Sharpton a definite plus.)
