Grand Prix Revival takes to Garnett track this weekend

Organizers take second whack at event to relive
grand days of local racing

BY DANE HICKS

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – The rescheduled Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival comes back for another try this weekend, hoping for better weather than the deluge that scuttled the originally scheduled event a month ago.

Russell Dickey, marketing chairman for the LGGPR, said the postponement had resulted in a small loss of entrants for the event, and had actually resulted in some additional signups due to schedule conflicts with the prior event.

“We actually had many fewer cancellations than we thought we were going to have,” Dickey said Friday. “We had about 250 when we started, and I think our last count was 223. It probably won't be that noticeable to the public – There are going to be a ton of cars out there.”

Dickey said the only substantive change will be the compression of some of the Sunday track groups due to the change in Daylight Savings Time, which will short the event an hour of daylight.

The weekend event which celebrates the vintage sports cars and competition of the Lake Garnett Grand Prix of the 1960s was postponed from Oct. 12-14 due to a deluge of rain that fell earlier in the week, soaking infield areas and flooding portions of the track.

The rescheduled event brings vintage race cars, classic sports cars, and modern performance automobiles to the Lake Garnett Park this Friday through Sunday, along with loads of enthusiasts and their families. A downtown car show is also slated for Saturday.

racers in the Midwest. Official auto racing at the facility ended in the 1970s early, but some 40-years later a small group of sports car enthusiasts from the region banded together to celebrate memories of the track and the automobiles that once raced there.

In 2014, the first Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival (LGGPR) was held, comprised of a track event, autocross, car show, and charity rides around the 2.8-mile road course which raise funds for charitable organizations around the area. Since then, the LGGPR has become known as one of the most fan-friendly and reasonably-priced events of its kind to attend, attracting hundreds of cars as well as thousands of participants and spectators.

Person of interest sought in Maley blaze

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – Authorities are looking for a person of interest in a fire last week that damaged the home of Carl Maley east of Garnett, after investigators determined the fire at the residence was set.

“Currently, the fire cause is listed as incendiary,” said Anderson County Fire Chief Mick Brinkmeyer. Brinkmeyer said the fire was contained to the kitchen and utility room, with smoke and water damage to the rest of the home. The Kansas State Fire Marshal's office investigated the blaze, he said.

“Upon arrival there was a lot of smoke and the southeast part of the home was in flames,” Brinkmeyer said.

Anderson County Sheriff Vern Valentine said Wednesday there were no solid suspects in the fire, but that officers had been unable to contact one person of interest whom they wished to question. Valentine said that individual was said to be searching for a ride to the Olathe area the afternoon of the fire.

No injuries were reported from the blaze. Valentine said the incident remains under investigation.

County sees above average advance vote total as mid-term election nears

GARNETT – Local voters will join others across the country today in mid-term elections that some analysts say could be near record turnouts, as divided factions of conservatives, liberals and people somewhere in between try to ensure their influence over the next two years in local, state and national offices.

The Review will post election results tonight on its Facebook Page, and at www.garnett-ks.com

Heck said as of Thursday, 265 voters had cast advanced ballots in the county clerk's office, and 164 were returned by mail out of 254 mailed out on request, for a total of 429. The clerk's office was open Saturday for advanced voting, which ended yesterday.

Those numbers reflect about 8 percent of Anderson County's 5,457 registered voters. As of this election's registration deadline Oct. 17, Heck said the county reported 2,358 registered Republicans, 1,140 Democrats, 1,908 unaffiliated and 51 Libertarians.

The Anderson County Review will post final election results on election night on our Facebook page as well as our website at www.garnett-ks.com, as well as links to statewide races.

Greeley siblings, family visit uncle's final resting place

BY RICK DAVIS

SPECIAL TO THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

CHATEAU THIERRY, FRANCE -- Charles Miller of Greeley likely didn't hear the artillery shell that killed him.

The 30th Regiment-signal corps soldier stood in an exposed position to alert other U.S. troops that another German poison gas attack was coming the day he died on a French hillside 100 years ago.

Veteran's Day 2018 marks the centennial of World War I's armistice on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month. Miller, a 24 year old farmer from Anderson County, was just one of the thousands of Americans who succumbed to bullets, bombs, mustard gas, disease and other war-caused killers that July 1918 day, or the one before or the one before that, stretching for months.

We now call it the Great War; a symphony of slaughter which presaged so-called modern warfare with its weapons of mass destruction. Over 150,000 Americans died and 202,002 U.S. troops were wounded in the fields and forests of France and Belgium a century ago, leaving behind trenches and shell craters that still scar the landscape in places like Belleau Wood, Flanders Field, Aisne-Marne and the Somme.

Miller's grave lies today in a field of stone crosses and stars of David at Oise-Aisne American Cemetery and Memorial near where he fell. The cemetery is considered American territory, even though it lies in the northern French region of Picardie, and a small group of American and French employees oversee it.

Of the 6,000 soldiers buried there, most were simple “doughboys”, known only to their families and friends, save for the poet Sgt. Joyce Kilmer and a few other then-prominent people.

Gathering to remember Miller and his comrades at his gravesite this summer, members of his family from Idaho and Kansas held a brief memorial service and toured other sites where American soldiers laid down their lives in World Wars I and II.

“We come here today to

"What we want to do is to remind people of those great races that happened at Garnett, and make people aware that the Garnett track is one of the last surviving tracks from that era that is still intact," Dickey said. These "ghosts tracks" as they're called are still drive-able, he said, but they're few and far between.

"Most of them were plowed up years ago - they're part of subdivisions now or something," he said.

The Garnett Revival has become one of the premier vintage and sports car events in the region, and features high-performance driving exhibitions around the old 2.8 mile race track, the EKAE autocross at the Garnett Municipal Airport, the Hagerty Revival showcase car show in downtown Garnett, a road tour of the area, and the chance for spectators to get a ride around the track in one of 40-different high-performance cars during the VALOMILK Charity Rides.

This year, the event will highlight both historic and modern performance cars from England. Spectators can expect to see rare marques such as Jaguar, Aston Martin, Lotus, Austin Healey, MG, and more. In addition, the KC Exotics group will be putting on a special exhibition at the track on Saturday, with ultra-high-performance supercars from Lamborghini, Ferrari, Porsche, Audi, and Viper, just to name a few.

The celebration wouldn't be complete without examples of cars that raced at Lake Garnett in the 1950s and 60s, and the Heartland Vintage Racing group will ensure that everyone gets their fill of historic horsepower. Vintage Shelby and Boss Mustangs will be on track with thundering Corvettes and Cobras, while more nimble Sprites, Cortinas, and Triumphs carve up the challenging corners. It's a wonderful opportunity for automotive and racing fans to see cars that more and more are relegated to museums, being driven at speed on a historic race course.

A variety of food and merchandise vendors will be on hand, with something to see for everyone. Spectator admission and parking is free, and the LGGPR group encourages families and enthusiasts of all ages to come celebrate these amazing automobiles. For the schedule of events and more information, visit the website at www.lggpr.org.

POIRE

DECEMBER 7, 1932 - OCTOBER 30, 2018

Ollie LaVerne Poire, 85, Burlington, formerly of Westphalia, passed away on October 30, 2018, at Life Care Center in Burlington KS.

Poire

LaVerne was born December 7, 1932 in Morrilton, Arkansas to John Odell and Ollie Etter Earnhart Stout.

LaVerne lived in several towns as a child while her father worked on the railroad. She graduated from Westphalia High School in 1952 and married Bobby Lee Poire on February 21, 1952 in Bentonville, Arkansas. They were the parents of two sons and three daughters. In 1963 she and Bobby moved to their farm north of Westphalia where she continued to live until moving to Burlington KS in 2011.

LaVerne stayed at home raising her children until she began working as a seamstress for Warner Manufacturing in Garnett, KS working there from 1971 until 1982. She later worked as a cook for the Westphalia Elementary School from 1989 until retiring in 2003. She was a talented seamstress and was on a bowling team for many years. She and Bobby spent many hours fishing and playing cards with family friends Gene and Mike Highberger. She enjoyed cooking huge meals for her children and grandchildren who loved her homemade chicken and noodles, cookies and chocolate sheet cake.

LaVerne was preceded in death by her husband Bobby after 58 years of marriage on October 22, 2010. She was also preceded in death by her parents and her brother Glen in 1941.

LaVerne is survived by her sons, David (Rita) Poire, Waverly, Danny (Debbie) Poire, Colony, three daughters, Debi Poire, Bailey, CO, Diane (Bob) Werner, Burlington, and Donna (Todd) Adams, Westphalia. Eight grand children, Jamie Poire, Jennifer Packard, Jerrod Poire, Clinton Werner, Tava McDonald, Leticia Werner, Tabitha Clark, Tyson Adams and spouses. Eleven great grandchildren: Dylan Wonser, Chase Poire, Trey, Taylor, Tanna and Trevor Clark, McKenna and Ava McDonald, Kynleigh, Bailey and Braxton Poire. She is also survived by her siblings, Vernon, Joyce, Phyllis, J.C., Peggy, Mickey, and Patty; and many other beloved relatives and good friends.

Graveside services will be at 2:00 P.M. Wednesday November 7, 2018 at Star Cemetery east of Burlington. The family will meet with friends following the graveside services at St. Teresa church basement in Westphalia KS. Our nature will determine our destination

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

In 2nd Peter the apostle says in 1:5-9, "For this very reason make every effort to add to your faith goodness; and to goodness, knowledge; and to knowledge, self-control; and to self-control, perseverance; and to perseverance, godliness; and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, love." The order of sequence "faith... love" is not a sequence in time or for that matter stages of the Christian life but encompasses the qualities that a Christian life should exhibit. Possession of these qualities manifests the evidence of a changed heart. Peter goes on to say if we possess these qualities in increasing measure they will keep us from being ineffective and unproductive in our knowledge of Christ.

Without possession of these qualities Jesus' command to "go and make disciples of all the nations" is not achievable. So this seems to require some type of assistance for us to achieve this. Peter gives us the answer in verse 3. "His (Jesus) divine nature has given us everything we need for life and godliness through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness." Peter says a personal relationship with Jesus will provide all that is necessary for us to participate in the divine nature. While possession of these qualities is not a matter of a lapse of time or sequence it is a matter of possession. A personal relationship with Jesus Christ should lead us into a relationship with other believers, Christ's church, which should lead to the formation of smaller groups of study which will lead to an ever increasing knowledge of these qualities and ultimately the fulfilling of the "Great Commission".

Peter states that anyone who does not have these qualities is nearsighted and blind. This statement requires some explanation. God is sovereign. He holds our very breathe in the palm of his hand and at any time can choose to close that hand and call us to account. There is no way to refute the fact that will die. The question that we will have to answer is will we die with a divine nature or a corrupt nature. Whichever one we possess will guide our journey through eternity.

Prosecute Kavanaugh liars

It was lost in the flurry of campaign advertising and minute-by-minute updates on the approaching army of Central Americans through Mexico and CNN's breathless anticipation of a shootout at America's southern border by election day, so you might have missed it.

It turns out another one of the Brett Kavanaugh accusers recanted her allegations.

You remember Kavanaugh, right? Supreme Court Justice nominee... last month's Liberal crisis du jour... the impetus of that hilarious video tape of crazy Democrats clawing at the doors of the Supreme Court? I know, there have been however many new Trump-related crises since then (usually one a week if you watch CNN) but the name should sound at least a little familiar...

And even though nobody was paying attention except the Wall Street Journal, hopefully somebody in the U.S. Justice Department has a subscription. Consider the WSJ's editorial from Saturday...

"Democrats thought they could defeat Brett Kavanaugh with a cascade of uncorroborated smears, but they failed and now the accusations are unraveling. The latest came Friday when Chairman Chuck Grassley referred Judy Munro-Leighton to the Justice Department and the FBI for potential prosecution for making false statements to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

"Ms. Munro-Leighton was one of the women who piled on with claims of sexual assault by Mr. Kavanaugh in the progressive mob moment of the Supreme Court confirmation hearing. She claimed in an Oct. 3 email to the committee that Mr. Kavanaugh and a friend "sexually assaulted and raped me in his car."

Justice Kavanaugh denied it and Ms. Munro-Leighton conceded on Nov. 1 that she made it all up.

In a letter to the FBI and Attorney General Jeff Sessions, Mr. Grassley says that, under questioning from Judiciary staff, Ms. Munro-Leighton conceded she made the false accusations because she "just wanted to get attention." She said, "I was angry, and I sent it out." This follows Mr. Grassley's earlier referral to Justice concerning false statements by Kavanaugh accuser Julie Swetnick and attorney

REVIEW COMMENTARY

DANE HICKS, Publisher

ney Michael Avenatti.

"These referrals are important because Democrats say they plan to keep harassing Justice Kavanaugh. They vow to re-open investigations if they win the House or Senate, and they may try to dig up more allegations without evidence. It's thus important to expose and sanction accusers who lie. False statements to Congress harm nominees and their families, waste committee resources, and further poison American politics.

"If the facts in Mr. Grassley's letter are accurate, Ms. Munro-Leighton should be prosecuted for the damage she has done—and to deter other attention-getters who think they can make false accusations to stoke a political mob in the media and U.S. Senate."

The only failing of the WSJ editorial is that it doesn't go far enough to address the impact of these women's lies on Kavanaugh's family and the damage done there.

In civil court, one can be sued for damage done to another which has lasting effect, and the aggrieved party has a right and expectation under the law to "be made whole."

And that's only scratching the surface. Why did Munro-Leighton lie? Who convinced her? Who held her hand and led her along the path to destroy a man's reputation and do untold damage to the psyches of his children? Who collaborated with her?

Truth should matter in these hearings, and those who flaunt their authenticity with bold-face lies should be prosecuted, and then sued.

"Coincidence? We think not."

Yeah, I'm a little too about Powls being asked to speak at a county meeting where he had no business. He will not recognize Roe versus Wade. it's a law buddy, you have to recognize it. He doesn't want federal grants? Are you kidding? They pay for a lot of things. Thank you.

A week or so ago I noticed some people dumping all kinds of trash, wood, carpet, boxes of books in two big green hoppers out at the North Lake. We called city hall and they said no, they're not allowed to do that, we'll send someone out there. They never sent anyone out there and they just stacked it full. If I'd have done it, I'd have been arrested, fined and in trouble. Yet these people got away with it and I have no idea why. They told me it was just for campers, but no, whoever had the big sale at the quonset hut, everything they had leftover, they just piled it in there. It's unfair some people can do things and others can't. Get it right, city hall.

I think it's pretty silly to have the Garnett holiday open houses two days after Halloween. Who decides this and why would they pick the first weekend in November? It should be the same weekend as the Christmas parade, the weekend after Thanksgiving. That makes so much more sense to do it when people come home for Thanksgiving and stay for the Christmas parade. They could go to the open houses as well. More traffic for our local businesses.

It's nice to know the taxpayers of Garnett can afford to leave the ball diamond lights Thursday night on all night. My wife and I couldn't sleep so we took a drive around the lake about 12:30 and there they are just as bright as can be. Nice to know we can afford that. Thank you.

Some people don't deserve animals. There's a couple of houses in Kincaid that have dogs tied or penned up in their yard, no doghouse or bedding, some have no food or water for days. They're out there in the summer heat with no shade and in the winter with freezing rain and snow and no shelter. Authorities have been notified three times with no results. Its awful the way some people treat their animals.

Upcoming census will impact Kansas districts

We've come to the point in the campaigns that political ad after political ad after political ad drag on long enough that there's time to microwave popcorn and not miss the cop show on television.

Yes, and for those of you who have other things to think about during the commercials...one of those thoughts might just be what happens to the Kansas Legislature after the next federal census in 2020.

That'll be the 24th national census, and it is designed to tell us what the population of the nation is, and where those people are located—and likely whether Kansas remains a four-congressional district state.

Is that official April 1, 2020, head count a little far off? Why think about it now? Well, if you live in one of those Kansas House or Senate districts out west, say, west of US-81, the north-south Interstate that is the dividing line between western Kansas and eastern Kansas, you might want to start thinking about it now.

It'll be 2022 when the first statewide election occurs after the census, based on that federal census and where it says the people are. That's the key data for reapportionment of Kansas House and Senate districts. Oh...and the state's four congressional districts.

And that reapportionment is based on U.S. Census population data which the Legislature will spend more than a year dissecting into 40 Senate districts and 125 House districts, and, yes, those four Congressional districts.

What's worth thinking about now ahead of that reapportionment? Probably for much of western Kansas it's what the Republican

STATE COMMENTARY

MARTIN HAWVER, At The Rail

Party efforts to further regulate immigration and the "close the border" talk has to do with populations out west of US-81.

Yes, it is western Kansas, with its agriculture and food processing industry that stands the best chance of seeing foreign workers not participating in the census or maybe misstating their legal citizenship for fear of deportation. Oh, and there are lots of foreign-born workers and their children in other parts of the state, too.

Now, the GOP and President Donald Trump make a decent case that immigrants should come across the border with Mexico legally. They ought to get the visas and such, and probably some clearly defined path to becoming a full United States citizen, with a stake in how this country is run, and the right to vote.

But this concentration on immigration, while a strong national political issue, will undoubtedly have some effect on head count in the census.

So, if the historic trend of adults and their children moving out of western Kansas is accelerated by federal immigration regulation that makes the census inaccurate, count on many who have come to this country and state for a better life to decide just not to participate.

And that means likely less census-counted population in parts of western Kansas, and by the time the Legislature has mapped out new House and Senate districts based on population, fewer state representatives and senators from areas where the population count is down.

That means fewer, and larger, Kansas House and Senate districts out west, and likely more districts in urban areas of eastern Kansas—Wichita, Topeka, and Missouri-bordered northeast Kansas counties.

Now, it's based on population, and that's fair, but it likely means less attention will be paid to western Kansas (except for highways) and more attention to population-heavy areas based on their representation in the House and Senate because the members of the House and Senate will be tilted toward urban areas—which, by the way, are easier to jerrymander based on voter political registration.

Something to think about during those commercials, isn't it?

Modern mayhem result of America's "loser problem"

It's not any less awful for being so familiar. The last three high-profile attacks that have convulsed the nation, two in recent weeks, have been carried out by fringe loners who fit the stereotype of the perpetrators of such crimes precisely - they didn't fit in, they were "off," they kept to themselves.

The word that comes up again and again in accounts of their lives is "alone," always alone.

The life of Cesar Sayoc, who mailed crude pipe bombs to Democrats ranging from George Soros to Hillary Clinton to Robert De Niro, was a pitiable wreck. His father abandoned his family as a child, and after dropping out of college, Sayoc lived with his grandmother. Then he went from place to place, performing as a male stripper. He compiled a record of petty crime, lost his home, declared bankruptcy. He was estranged from his family and resisted its pleas for him to get help. Sayoc lived out of his van, bizarrely festooned with pro-Trump stickers.

Not much is known about Robert Bowers, the Pittsburgh synagogue shooter, besides his vile social media postings. A childhood friend called him "pretty much a ghost." He may have dropped out of high school. As an adult, he lived alone in an apartment, and no one ever came to see him. One neighbor said she couldn't remember Bowers ever talking to anyone.

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

The Parkland school shooter, Nikolas Cruz, was left with no parents after the death of his adoptive mother. He was expelled from Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School, where he was an outcast. He was reportedly depressed and had other behavioral problems. Police were called constantly to his home. A defense attorney called him "a broken child." None of this, of course, is to excuse in the slightest the heinous crimes of these men, or to deny the existence of pure, unadulterated evil. Murderous haters and kooks have been with us forever, as has anti-Semitism. Yet the social pattern is clear.

The phrase "deaths of despair" has entered the nation's vocabulary to denote the rise of mortality among a subset of working-class whites from suicide, drugs and alcohol. Its declining longer life expectancy is one of the most stunning trends in American life. The at-risk population tends to be unmarried, disconnected from civil society, marginally employed and largely on their own.

One way to look at recent mass killings (or attempted killings) is as the handiwork of a very small, violent fringe of the socially disconnected. Their destructiveness is directed outward, in cowardly acts of mindless malice, rather than inward. They marinate in hate and proudly share their lunatic obsessions online, in a twisted simulacrum of community. They seek their identity in political extremism, Jew-hatred or the hellish idolatry of school shootings.

Their crimes are, in their diseased view, feats of grandeur. They give them a chance at perverse consequence and notoriety otherwise not available to them in their marginal lives and social isolation.

It's evil and pathetic, infuriating and sad, and, by the looks of it, a persistent feature of 21st-century American life. What Emile Durkheim called anomie has been weaponized, and it's horrifying to behold.

Rich Lowry is editor of the National Review.

Their crimes are, in their diseased view, feats of grandeur.

While not on my 'to find' list, fish hooks have quite the history

Wow! Look at the size of these two fish hooks. Whoever the fisherman was must have been after the "BIG" ones.

Fish hooks weren't even on my to find list at the 150 plus year old home site I'm working at.

The fish hook has been made by man for thousands of years. The worlds oldest fish hooks were made of sea snails shells and were discovered in Sakitari Cave in Okinawa Island and were dated between 22,380 and 22,770 years old. An early written reference to a fish hook can be found in the Holy Bible: Book of Job 41.1.

Fish hooks have been crafted from all sorts of materials including wood, animal and human bone, horn, shells, stone, bronze, copper, iron, up to present day materials.

There are a large number of different styles and types of fish hooks. Most hooks come in three types: bait hooks, fly hooks and lure hooks. Hook sizes generally are referred to by a numbering system, the smallest size available is 32 and the largest 20/0.

Did you know that in 2005, the fish hook was chosen by

10 years ago: Removal of decaying downtown structure does damage to another building

10 years ago...
Another downtown building may have heard its death knell after efforts to tear down its decaying neighbor did considerable structural damage to it. City staff issued a dangerous structures declaration to a building at 518 S. Oak which formerly housed Tax Time Accounting owned by Jo and Ed Wolken of Garnett. The building was damaged last month when demolition efforts on the adjoining building to the north apparently hit a shared roof beam that served both structures.

The City of Garnett will not take over a private soccer league for children this fall which was formerly run by the C&C Roller Rink, but will consider adding the program to its regular fall soccer league next year. The cancellation of the league due to the closing of the business and the sale of its building brought up concerns among some area parents in recent weeks. City commissioners and recreation staff discussed the option for this fall and decided against it at Tuesday's city commission meeting. City staff expected to hear about the issue from some parents at the meeting but none were present.

The American Heart Association reports that deaths from various cardiovascular diseases in Anderson County increased in 1977 over 1976. Ninety-nine deaths from all causes were reported in the county in 1976 with 56 of the death reports indicating that cardiovascular diseases were the cause of death. In 1977, only 74 deaths were recorded for an increase of 18. Total deaths reported in the county for 1977 were 123.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 11-6-2018 / Photo Submitted

A special day was experienced by the Greeley Kindergarten, first and second graders, teachers, Principal and parents. On October 11th, a beautiful fall day was spent riding the Midland Railroad excursion train from Baldwin to Norwood. A picnic lunch followed. Then a visit to the Baldwin Lumberyard Arts Center was an exciting learning experience. A special culmination of the day's activities was a surprise stop at the Dairy Queen.

honor you and to thank you for what you have done for us and for your country," 85-year old Marcella Miller of Overland Park said at her uncle's grave. "Here as we stand at the cross that marks your place, we marvel at the courage, commitment and great generosity of your actions. A British Corporal at Normandy on D-day saw the same courage, commitment and generosity. He stated, "The best thing you can say for all those who made the supreme sacrifice: They gave up all of their tomorrows that we might have today. You did that for us."

Our group toured northern France in July, visiting the Normandy landing beaches of World War II and sites where battles in the trenches took place in the Great War. Like many of his fellow soldiers, Miller was part of Gen.

John "Blackjack" Pershing's million-strong American Expeditionary Forces who entered the fray in the summer of 1918. His division earned the sobriquet "Rock of the Marne" in its efforts to contain and repulse a German counter attack.

Three days before his death Miller wrote one of his sisters about the dreary weather and six letters he needed to respond to.

"I suppose you can picture me sitting in my dug out writing this letter," he wrote. "You know it is hard for anyone to picture unless they have some experience. I will have to go washing this afternoon and take a bath in that cold water, which takes the kink out of a fellow's back."

Miller and his comrades endured poison gas, bombs, bullets, a deadly influenza epidemic and painful trench foot over those long months.

In the Belleau Woods forest a few miles away, U.S. Marines earned the nickname "Devil Dogs" as they charged across open fields to take out German machine gun batteries.

Scattered military cemeteries and excellent museums and memorials in places like Chateau-Thierry, Sommepey, Montsec, Reims and Meaux still draw French nationals, American tourists, and people from all over the world to learn about the soldiers' sacrifice a century ago.

Visiting these places was at once interesting, saddening, sobering and sickening. They suffered so much, not really knowing why they had to die or kill, but doing their duty. For such a tremendous loss of life and property to occur, the reasons for the war still seem murky and the result of political hubris and economic causality.

It brings to mind and to me enforces an old Jewish proverb, "A bad peace is better than a good war."

- Rick Davis is a journalist living in Pocatello, ID., married to Patricia Feuerborn of Greeley, who traveled in France this summer with members of the George Miller and Feuerborn families to visit the final resting place of Charles Miller and other historic sites in France.

LAND FOR SALE!

Vaughn-Roth Land Brokers is very honored to represent the heirs of the Robert and Roberta West Trust in the marketing and sale of this real estate. The West family and the land they have made their living from have a long and successful history in Anderson and Coffey Counties. It's rare that an offering of this size and diversity comes to market in this area.

All of these parcels have good locations, either on or near pavement and all tracts are a convenient to multiple grain markets including LeRoy, Westphalia and the East Kansas Agri Energy facility. Seller's mineral interests transfer to the Buyers.

These properties are all being offered via private bid sale. Contact Cameron Roth for details, terms and conditions.

Tract 1: 240+/- Acres (5th and Wayside Rd., LeRoy, KS)

Brief Legal: The S 1/2 of the NW 1/4 and the SW 1/4 of 28-22-17E of Coffey County, KS

This parcel 240 acres more or less featuring 197.3 acres of tillable and oil production as well! According to the soil survey, the soils on this quality tillable parcel consist of 91.4 acres of Kenoma silt loam, 88.2 acres of Woodson silt loam and 38.4 acres of Verdigris silt loam. The balance of soils are Dennis and Leanna varieties. The Seller's mineral interests transfer to the Buyer and there is current oil production. Bids are due by November 19th, 2018 at 2 p.m.

Tract 2: 160+/- Acres (Arkansas Rd., Westphalia, KS)

Brief Legal: The SE 1/4 of 14-22-17E of Anderson County, KS

If you're looking for a location to build a rural home or a top-shelf hunting property with return on investment, you'll want to take a close look at this offering. This parcel is a diverse mix of cropland, timber and pasture with utilities nearby. Tillable acreage totals 56.20 according to FSA records and is comprised mostly of good Woodson silt loam and Dennis silty clay loam. A quality native hay meadow of approximately 10 acres borders the tillable to the west. There's a rural water line and electric adjacent to the east boundary running along Arkansas Rd. Bids are due by November 20th, 2018 at 2 p.m.

Tract 3: 235+/- Acres (58 Hwy and Xeric Rd., LeRoy, KS)

Brief Legal: A tract in the SW 1/4 and the S 1/2 of the NW 1/4 of 34-22-17E of Coffey County, KS

This is a very nice parcel of cropland in Eastern Coffey County with minimal waste. There's approximately 215 acres of productive tillable almost entirely composed of Woodson silt loam. This property is set up well for drainage with good terrace work and a waterway running down the center of the tillable. This is a quality parcel of tillable with an excellent location. Bids are due by November 26th, 2018 at 2 p.m.

Tract 4: 160+/- Acres (5th and Xeric Rd., LeRoy, KS)

Brief Legal: The NE 1/4 of the NW 1/4 & the NW 1/4 of the NW 1/4 of 34-22-17E of Coffey County, KS

The tillable acreage totals approx. 150 acres. Good Woodson silt loam makes up the majority of the soils coming in at 140.6 acres according to the Web Soil Survey. This is an efficient parcel to farm with the field measuring approximately one mile long and 1/4 mile wide. This quality tract of upland tillable lays nicely with good drainage and little waste. Bids are due by November 28th, 2018 at 2 p.m.

Tract 5: 80+/- Acres (500th Rd. and Alabama Rd., Colony, KS)

Brief Legal: The W 1/2 of the SW 1/4 of 26-22-17E of Anderson County, KS

This parcel consists of tame grass pasture, timber and approximately 9 acres of tillable. It also has multiple water supplies with two ponds and a creek running through it. This property should be appealing to both agricultural and recreational buyers. This is a diverse multi-use parcel with return on investment that you should take a close look at! Bids are due by November 30th, 2018 at 2 p.m.

Tracts 6,7 and 8: Home and 80+/- Acres (11107 SW 500 Rd., Colony, KS)

This parcel is being offered three different ways consisting of Tract 6: The home, outbuildings and approx. 9 acres. Tract 7: 71+/- acres with 35+/- acres of native hay meadow and 25+/- acres of tillable. Tract 8: The combination of tracts 6 and 7. This ranch style home is almost 2800 square feet with 3 bedrooms and 3 full bathrooms on the main floor and a partially finished basement as well. Many attractive amenities including spacious rooms, a Georgia marble fireplace, updated kitchen w/ island, low maintenance stone and vinyl exterior, attached garage, beautiful landscaping and mature shade trees! There's multiple outbuildings, grain storage and a pond adjacent to the home. The mostly fenced native hay meadow is extremely clean with a pond in the northeast corner. The tillable portion consists of good Dennis and Woodson silt loam soils. Give Cameron a call for a tour of this wonderful property that will make someone a great place to call home! Bids are due by December 13th at 2 p.m.

are said to have heart. Jesus shed his blood until his heart stopped beating, and he wants us to love and show compassion to others. Pastor Chase Riebel gave the sermon on week 8 of the Believe series: Compassion. Christians are called to defend the weak and fatherless. ALL Christians are called to show compassion to people in need. We need to remember that Jesus came, not to be served, but to serve others. The parable of the Good Samaritan (Luke 10:29-37) is the perfect example of showing compassion to others. VOTE-Nov. 6

It is important we the people should vote. Please try to do so this year. Poll opens at 7 a.m. on Nov. 6 at the City Hall Community Room and will close at 7 p.m. This poll is for Ozark and Pleasant View Townships.8-Colony Community Bingo, City Hall Community Room, 6:30 p.m.

FCCLA

Family Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) and the Crest High School Culinary Classes are very excited about the Senior Citizens Thanksgiving Dinner to be held on Nov. 16. Please share with your parents, grandparents, and senior citizens in the Colony and Kincaid communities. Call the high school to RSVP before Nov. 6.

City Council

A Public Forum was held to inform the public why there is a question on the ballot Nov. 6 for a .05 cent sales tax. Additional income would help fund the general fund which cannot be raised without an election.

At the Sept. 26 regular meeting Tim Dietrich, Supt. reported he got 42 tons of cold patch from the county and county roller was furnished for city usage. Parks and Recreation has shut down for the winter. Utility Rates Ordinance was tabled until October meeting. Discussion was held on the reason for the raise. Rates have been kept too low for too long so now the funds are in trouble.

Following a review of ordinances there was not any reference to fees for kenneling dogs before returning them to their owners. It was agreed to charge $15.00 a day to cover food and dog catcher wages for care. It was reported the Crest Alumni Association has used the school in the past but would like to use the Community Room in the future. Council approved free use of the hall for the Association but they must pay the deposit before use.

Mayor Hobbs showed an example of a news letter from another town. She would like to start one for Colony. Seth Black submitted a building permit for the addition of a porch which was approved. The City Marshall has presented a list of citizens with possible junk vehicles and equipment in their yards. City Attorney Randall stated letters should be sent out stating violators will be given 30 days to correct the problem. The City Marshall is concerned about the safety and number of passengers on golf carts. He has seen children hanging on. Each child should have a seat. The City Attorney will work on an ordinance.

Steve Leonard stated he has checked and children at play signs are $15.00. He feels more speed signs need to be put up. Silvey feels there are sites in town that need to be cleaned up.

Monthly bills were signed to approve expenditure of $17,488.59 for the month of September.

99th Birthday

The families of Mary Decker held her 99th birthday dinner at the home of Bonnie Rook Sunday.

Attending were Garry and Paula Decker, Luke Decker, Welda; Jon, Jenna, Jolee, and Julia Pretz, Osawatomie; McKenzie Steel, Pomona; Connie and Rick

Thompson, Blake, Hanna, Owen, Nora, Molly, Ruby and Greta Thompson, all of Kincaid, Justin, Erin, Brylee, Brekyn, Britni and Kaxton Zook, Garnett; Nick Thompson, KCMO; Jeff, Lisa, Jaco, and Daniel Hoggatt, Wichita.

For those who wish to send her a card, it isn't too late - her address is 1727 Oregon Road, Iola, KS 66749

Around Town

A Fall Festival Celebration was held Oct. 28 from 5 until 8 p.m. for Community Church 4th and 6th graders. Some games were apple bobbing, lollypop pulling, bean toss, weenie roast, pumpkin bowling and a hay rack ride.

Nov. 9-Crest High School will have a chili dinner followed by bingo to be played at 7 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Francette Veteto, 95, passed away Oct. 28. Funeral services were held Nov. 1 at the First Baptist Church, Iola. Burial followed in the Highland Cemetery, Iola. Many friends will miss her.

Fifth and sixth graders in Mrs. Secrest's class at Greeley are learning important lessons about science and engineering. As part of the STEM curriculum, the students studied wind and the effects of air pressure and wind direction. They were challenged to design and build a windmill using only supplies they could find in their classroom. No special supplies were purchased and no patterns were used. Above - Killian Kaufman and Caleb Sommer wait to see if their wind mill catches the wind. Below - Cayden Secrest and Mitchell Richards test their custom-designed windmills.

Holiday Homes Tour is Dec. 2 Notice of hearing

The Friends of the Garnett Public Library will host their annual Holiday Homes Tour from 1:00 to 4:00pm on Sunday, December 2, 2018.

The First Christian Church, 200 S. Walnut Street, will be the featured church, with the program, "Let Your Light Shine" Matthew 5:16, from 1:00 to 1:30pm.

The Garnett Public Library, 125 W. 4th, will be offering entertainment and refreshments from 1:30 to 4:00pm. A special treat at the Library will be a collection of Nativity Sets belonging to members of the Walker Art Committee. These will be on display in the West Gallery.

The homes we will be visiting this year are:

Karen and Tony Wolken, 22930 NW 1830 Road who are presenting, "A Very Beary Christmas".

Ashley and Tim Rockers,

28912 NE Norton Rd, Greeley, KS, who are presenting, "Farmhouse Christmas".

Kim and Gary Stapp, 311 W. 5th Street, who are presenting, "Christmas Joy".

Tickets for the event can be purchased at the library. Advanced $8, and day of event $10.

It is requested that participants follow the suggested order printed on their tickets.

LAND & HOME REVIEW

Nice cozy home in small town, it doesn't get much better than this! Beautiful kitchen with island and nice walnut cabinets. Nice size master bedroom and bath with small walk in closet, but closets and storage every where. Nice size living room. An office that could easily be a non conforming bedroom with a 1/2 bath right outside room. Full non finished basement that has studs up for more bedrooms and part of a full bathroom was started, 3 newer egress windows downstairs and much more storage. All electric home. Best part... priced below county appraisal! You need more room? More lots and an unlivable home that is connected to this property is available, and seller is willing to sell together! Price will vary. 2 deeds. To view this property or for other listings contact Carol Barnes with Property Source, LLC. at (785) 448-5300.

Pieces and Patches Oct. minutes

The Pieces and Patches Quilt Guild was called to order by President Mary Parrott on October 25, 2018 at 9:30 a.m. at the K-State Extension Office Conference Room. Roll call was answered by 23 members.

The minutes of the September meeting were approved as printed in the Newsletter. Lynda Feuerborn gave the Treasurer's report.

President Mary Parrott reminded members that the November meeting is the 15th and the December meeting is the 13th.

Committee Reports:

Program: Jeanette Gadelman reported that there were 15 quilters at the retreat. She has already reserved Oct 21-23 for next year's retreat, the cost of which is $185.00 per person. Next year attendees may opt to arrive at 11 for lunch. The cost of lunch is an additional $13.00 each.

New Business: Bonnie Deiter announced that she and Vickie Hurt are planning a winter retreat, Jan 21-23. There are currently 5 people signed up. They need at least 8. The cost is $185.00 per person and a deposit of $25.00 is due to Bonnie before October 30.

Charity Quilts: Lou Ann reported that there have not been any new charity quilts donated. Sandra reported that she still has 4 or 5 baby quilts to be distributed.

Block of the Month: Bonnie showed 2 project HALOS quilts she made from the blocks of the month. Donna Sutton showed her Block of the Month that she worked on at the retreat.

2019 Opportunity Quilt: Connie reported that the quilt top is still at Brenda Weiens for quilting.

2018 Challenge: Everyone, please bring your completed Challenge Project so that they can all be displayed at the November meeting (even if you have already shown your completed Challenge).

Historian Report: Bonnie reminded members that the recently amended job description for Historian says the Historian will make a year end report in October. Bonnie proceeded to give an impressive, fact filled summary of the 2017-2018 year.

Christmas Brunch: The Christmas program is still in the planning stages.

Secret Sister Gifts: Sandra Moffatt reported that she received a Halloween card in the mail with 2 Halloween fabric jelly roll strips. Violet Holt was not in attendance to open her Secret Sister Gift.

Show and Tell: Lynn Wawrzewski showed an appliqued welcome sign wall hanging. Joleata Kent showed her completed German Dutch wool hooked rug; the pattern she used has historical significance. Joyce Buckley showed her Jig Saw Puzzle quilt top, her partially completed woven Irish Chain and a tatting bookmark all of which she worked on at the retreat. Lou Ann Shmidl showed her large tulip quilt that was quilted by Carolyn Crupper; the pattern was from Missouri Star. Jackie Gardner showed her Horse Quilt she is making for her husband. Jeanette Gadelman showed a wild animal print quilt and the first of what will be 12 placemats, she worked on both at the retreat. Bonnie Deiter showed two charity quilts that she made; one she worked on at the 2018 retreat that was from Hawaiian beach themed fabric given to the guild by Jan Weideman, the background white fabric was donated by Rose Dennison; the second was made from flannel print fabric rectangles that Phyllis Gordon had helped her sew on at the 2017 retreat. Sandra Moffatt showed her almost completed November Porch Pillow. Bun Miller showed 3 of her set of 12 wall hangings from a block of the month developed by Rocking Chair Quilts, Butler, Mo. Marlene Walburn showed a Tree Table Runner where the trees in one direction were one color and then if you turn the runner upside down you see another tree pattern in a different color. Marlene also showed her completed Jelly Roll Round mat from a class taught by Linda McAdam at her Kincaid guild. Connie Hatch showed her "State of Grace" pinwheel quilt (from the book Strip Clubbing) and a wall hanging called Cross Canoes by Mart Michael; Both of which she worked on at the retreat. Connie commented on the thickness at the intersection of the points and said she uses a hammer to pound the points down to flatten them out. Terrie Gifford showed her Illusion quilt (a Missouri Star pattern) that she worked on at the retreat; It was made with bright fabric scraps donated by Sandra's friend Myrna; When completed it will be a project HALOS donation. Terrie also showed a Sunflower table runner and four placemats made from the pattern "Lovin' Miss Ashley" as published in Fons and Porter's Love of Quilting, July/August 2013. Mary Parrott showed 3 quilts she worked on at the retreat; one was a 9-patch of browns and blacks, a second was a 9-patch of beige and browns, and the third was greys and blacks from a pattern called fractions.

The meeting was followed by a Trunk Show and stories by Bonnie Deiter which included her very first quilt, quilts she made for her daughter, some she hand quilted, some she machine quilted, and a few panel quilts.

Minutes recorded by Terrie Gifford

ALA ladies have had a busy year

The American Legion Auxiliary (ALA) ladies have been very busy. This group of ladies have made it their goal to be involved in some capacity in their community every month. Always making veterans and their families a priority.

January- They began their year by purchasing 300 poppies to distribute during the banner ceremony held by the city of Garnett in memory of our veterans and during memorial day.

February- A donation of $200.00 was given to the Head Start program for much needed supplies.

March- Easter candy was purchased and given to the New Life Church for the Easter egg hunt on the square.

April- The ALA received 10 scholarship applications from graduating seniors who plan to attend college. ALA members voted on and gave out 2-$500.00 scholarships to 1 male and 1 female. Those recipients were McKenzie Olson and Tatum Lablanc. ALA scholarship Chairman-Lisa Modlin attended the ceremony and presented the scholarship award to the recipients.

May- Flags were placed on the square near the courthouse to show our support to all who sacrifice for our freedoms. Members set-up a table at the Banner ceremony on the 24th to distribute poppies and accept donations for veterans and to also set-up the table again in front of Country Mart on the 26th. Cathy Hoke-ALA post 48 secretary represented the ALA by carrying our Legion flag in the opening ceremony. Cathy also assisted in the laying of the wreath at the cemetery on Memorial Day. The laying of the wreaths at the VFW hall is also a very important ceremony. This ceremony is carried out by several VFW and Legion members as well as the auxiliary members. Members made 10 dozen cookies that were placed in boxes sent by First Christian Church to those serving in the military. May is a very busy month for the auxiliary.

June- Flags were put out again to show our support for flag day and to represent the importance of US flag to our country. ALA post #48 hosted a brunch for the ALA National President as she toured through Garnett on June 14th.

July- The flags were placed out again on the 2nd of July and removed on the 5th in honor of Independence Day. July- The 31st is the Anderson County Fair and the ALA participated in the parade and gave out candy to the many children who attend.

August- It was reported by post Chairman Loydene West that the National presidents visit was a great success and surrounding communities post members attended for a total of app. 20.

September- Fall Conference meeting is Sept.15th & 16th.

October- Eisenhower pilgrimage was held the 13th. Members voted to give the usual bags of candy to First Christian Church for Light the Night Halloween night.

November- marks the beginning of the centennial celebration of the ALA's 100th birthday November 10th 2019. There will be a celebration of cake and punch held at the VFW hall on November 10th from 2pm to 4pm. The public is welcome to attend. The flags will be placed on the square around the court house to recognize Veterans Day November 11th.

December- The ALA adopts a family for Christmas every year supplying the family with a much needed meal and presents for the children. It was voted to continue that tradition this year as well. We the American Legion Auxiliary are a membership devoted to mutual helpfulness. And we hope to see you November the 10th at the VFW hall at the south lake.

Fink's 99th Birthday

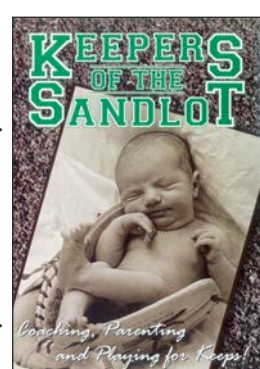

Fink

Vivian Fink will turn 99 on Wednesday, November 7, 2018. If you would like to send her birthday wishes, her address is Parkview Heights, 101 N. Pine, Garnett.

Friends of the Library annual meeting to be Nov. 13

The Friends of the Library annual meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 13th at 7:00 p.m. A short business meeting will be held and then guest speaker Bill Severns will talk about his book "Keepers of the Sandlot". Bill Severns grew up in Oklahoma. As a sophomore at Tulsa's Nathan Hale High School, he was cut from the baseball team on the first day of tryouts. Seven years later he finished a college baseball career at the University of Oklahoma. During his time at OU he had the unique privilege of participating in the College World Series four years in a row. He was a Sporting News and AACBC (American Association of College Baseball Coaches) All-American and Second Team Academic All-American from the University of Oklahoma. After serving as team Co-Captain and President of the OU Fellowship of Christian Athletes while completing his Bachelors Degree in Business Administration, Severns became a first round draft pick of the Milwaukee Brewers in the June 1975 secondary draft. Severns played professionally for 6 years in the Brewers organization, batting .300 in Vancouver at the Triple A level before retiring from baseball to raise a family with his wife Suzanne. Severns is the author of the book, Keepers of the Sandlot. This book was written to encourage parents and coaches to help them enjoy kids in the developmental years of little league. Severns' inspirational words come from experience and passion for kids playing sports. He is dedicated to improving coaches and parents' tools to pave the way to a brighter life for our children. Bill spent 23 years coaching his sons' little league teams. He has experience in all levels of the game. Bill and his wife Suzanne have been married for 40 years and live in Prairie Village KS. They have 4 children and 10 grandchildren.
