ACH wants properties rezoned for acquisition

ACH makes play for nearby properties for storage, quarters, while city puzzles over notifications

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — Officials with Anderson County Hospital will discuss their plans to rezone and purchase two properties near the hospital campus at a Garnett Planning and Zoning meeting February 5.

Hospital officials say the intent is to rezone 600 South Hayes and 615 West 7th from residential to office institutional, with a plan to purchase the properties once they're rezoned and available for use as storage, additional parking and for temporary quarters for hospital staff in cases of inclement weather.

The process of notifying neighboring property owners of the rezoning application was a point of confusion at Tuesday's Garnett City Commission meeting, after notification letters about the application and the subsequent Feb. 5 hearing that were supposed to be sent to neighbors within 200 feet of the affected properties apparently weren't received by all the nearby landowners.

Mayor Greg Gwin said he was concerned about the notification issue, and that an address included in the legal description was incorrect. State law required zoning authorities to make notification by letter in such cases, and to publish a notice in the city's official newspaper. A follow-up publication for both properties is published in today's edition of the Review.

"There are people on this list that, it's more than likely, it's going to affect their property values good or bad," Gwin said. "I think it's important those people have the opportunity to weigh in on this and the opportunity to be heard if they have any questions at the hearing."

Vicki Mills, chief financial officer for ACH, said in an email last week the properties would be used in various capacities, and that they might not be the only properties in the area in which ACH might eventually be interested.

"Anderson County Hospital plans to utilize the existing storage building as additional space to store hospital property as well as indoor parking for Residential Living Center vans," Mills said. "In addition, the south side of the property closest to the Residential Living Center will be used to offer additional parking for staff, visitors and family members. This additional parking will help alleviate congestion in the main hospital lot and provide additional parking during high traffic days."

"Plans are to finish the house located at 615 W. 7th Ave and utilize it for housing for staff during inclement weather," Mills said. "The Board of Trustees will continue to monitor and evaluate opportunities as additional land becomes available which may be beneficial in the future for Anderson County Hospital."

The February 5 hearing begins at 6 p.m. at Garnett City Hall.

"I think it's important those people have the opportunity to weigh in on this and the opportunity to be heard if they have any questions at the hearing."

— Mayor Greg Gwin

Former resident sponsors bill to dump Columbus Day in Kansas

Highberger, Victors bill would do away with Columbus Day

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

TOPEKA — A Kansas legislator formerly from Garnett has co-sponsored a bill that would replace Columbus Day as a recognized state holiday with "Indigenous Peoples' Day."

Dennis "Boog" Highberger, a Democrat who represents the 46th Kansas House seat in Lawrence, prefilled the bill this month with Ponka We Victors, another Democrat, who represents the 103rd House District in Wichita. Victors is the only Native American presently serving in the Kansas Legislature.

Highberger didn't respond to attempts by the Review to contact him through his law office's Facebook page.

Highberger grew up in Garnett, graduating from the GHS class of 1977.

The bill strikes out the Columbus Day holiday and replaces the second Monday in that month with the formally titled Indigenous People's Day. Columbus Day is a federally designated holiday, which means post offices and other federal offices are closed that day. Banks and schools typically are closed as well, though most businesses remain open.

The bill also strikes a previous designation of the fourth Saturday of September each year which designated "Native American Day" under the state law.

Columbus Day has come under fire since 1992, when Berkeley, Calif., was the first city to officially abolish the holiday and designate Indigenous People's Day. Since then, other cities and the states of Alaska, Hawaii and South Dakota, Minnesota, Oregon and Vermont have done away with the holiday.

County commissioners to examine different approach on long-awaited veterans memorial

Delay allows time to review alternate plan for courthouse tribute

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — County commissioners hope a revised design they're considering for an Anderson County Veterans Memorial may do away with concerns over confirmation of the names of those served, and allow for future updates as more veterans join the ranks of Anderson County patriots.

Anderson County Clerk Julie Heck said last week county commissioners planned to meet this month with project coordinators Phyllis Guttler and Kristie Kinney to rejuvenate the lagging effort, which was first proposed by local American Legion and VFW members in June of 2012.

Heck said commissioners wanted to entertain the idea of revising the etched stone panel plan with an electronic all-weather kiosk design, and hoped to engage a timetable which would see the project completed by the end of this year.

A design plan rendered in 2015 planned for marble panels which would be etched with the names of county servicemen and placed in a memorial arrangement which would also feature a plaza of engraved bricks available for purchase at a minimum donation of $100 by veterans or their families. Cost estimates ranged from $200,000-$250,000 for the project early on up to estimates of $300,000-$400,000 last year, and planners hoped to pay for the tribute through sale of the bricks, donations, fundraisers and a modest property tax levy. The fund now holds some $483,000, Heck said.

Raymond's loss mourned by nation's cattle industry

Local man's efforts credited with far reaching benefits

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — Industry leaders say Gene Raymond took his degree in animal science from Kansas State University and his love of the cattle business and turned them into a national reputation that promoted the industry and benefited countless other cattlemen.

Raymond, 76, passed away suddenly last Tuesday after he became ill teaching a class at Graham School for Cattlemen in Garnett.

A press release from the North American Limousin Foundation recounted Raymond's career and the impact he had in the industry he was so much a part of, and was so much a part of him.

"Gene was actively engaged and gave back much of his life to friends in the U.S. cattle industry," the NALF release said.

"Gene will be greatly missed by not only the Limousin seedstock breeders, but also commercial cattlemen throughout the United States," said NALF Executive Director Mark Anderson.

Gene and his wife Virginia began GV Limousin in 1978, the release said. They had built their cow herd to over 400 registered females and currently operate GV Limousin with their daughter and son-in-law Arne and Stacy Hanson. He was a pioneer in the Limousin Breed and was quick to adapt to new technology and opportunities in the seedstock business. He quickly applied those tools in mission to raise high quality seedstock, supplying commercial cattlemen across the United States.

Frank Graham, owner of Graham School for Cattlemen in Garnett where Raymond taught classes, said it would be hard to find someone more engaged in the industry.

"He was really devoted to the cattle and beef industry," Graham said. "A big proponent of agriculture. He was a real asset to Graham School. Very knowledgeable. People who had been around a lot realized his knowledge and didn't question it."

Raymond was a Past President of NALF, 1986-1987 and currently served on the NALF Board of Directors. He had served on the NALF board during the 80's, devoting much of his life to the Limousin Breed, the NALF release said. He was current chair of the Breed Improvement Committee for NALF membership, a position he was wholly devoted to with the advent and release BOLT EPDs and the application of new technologies in today's seedstock business. Raymond had his degree in animal science from Kansas State University, served twice as the president of the Kansas Beef Council and also served previously, as a member of the Kansas Livestock Association Executive Committee. He also served on the National Livestock and Meat Board for 16 years.

Funeral services for Raymond were held Saturday.

POTTER

MARCH 28, 1944 - JANUARY 7, 2019

Nelda Fern Potter, age 74, of Garnett, Kansas, passed away on Monday, January 7, 2019, at her home, surrounded by her family.

Potter

She was born March 28, 1944, in rural Cedar County, near El Dorado Springs, Missouri, the daughter of Eldon and Virginia "Bertie" (Felt) Teague.

Nelda was born at home, in the same house that her father was born, and also the house that her grandfather built. She attended Forest Grove, a one room schoolhouse located a quarter mile from her home. Nelda graduated from El Dorado Springs High School in 1962. She went to Mercy School of Nursing in Fort Scott, Kansas, and graduated in 1965. Nelda created lifelong friendships with her thirteen classmates that have lasted over 50 years, and they referred to themselves as the "Mercy Girls".

Nelda married Wilmer Lee "Bill" Potter in 1966 in Fort Scott, Kansas. They moved to Greeley, Colorado and together had three children, Jonathan Lee, Jenna Rae, and Julie Kay. In 1979, the family returned to Kansas to live in Garnett.

Nelda worked at Mercy Hospital in Fort Scott, Kansas after graduating from nursing school. While living in Greeley, Colorado, she worked at Weld County General Hospital, where she was able to participate in the opening of the Cardiac Care Unit. After moving back to Garnett, Nelda worked at the Anderson County Hospital until she retired.

Growing up, Nelda was a member of the Concord Missionary Baptist Church in El Dorado Springs, Missouri.

She was also a member of the First Christian Church in Garnett.

Nelda had unshakeable faith in God and love for her family. Walking into her home you would immediately know what was important to her as she had multiple passages of scripture everywhere and pictures of her kids and grandkids everywhere. She spent countless hours in God's word and attending every event and activity possible that her kids and grandkids were involved in, from music concerts to ballgames and church activities. Nelda was a fighter. She battled cancer off and on for over 20 years and finally claimed the ultimate victory and she is finally forever free of cancer and with her Lord. She greatly impacted the lives of many as she always pointed everyone she knew to Jesus. She will be lovingly remembered and greatly missed. She fought the good fight, she finished the race, she kept the Faith.

Nelda was preceded in death by her parents; husband, Bill Potter in 1996; and her sister, Norma June Ullrich.

The generation of ignorance

The majority of American Millennials identify as socialist, according to surveys by both Reason-Rupe and the Victims of Communism Memorial Foundation. That's the bad news. The good news is that just 32 percent of Millennials can define socialism. The frequently-wrong but never-in-doubt freshman Congresswoman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, D-N.Y., may indeed be the voice of her ignorant generation.

COMMENTARY

MICHAEL KNOWLES - Fox News Contributor

During an interview on CBS's "60 Minutes," Anderson Cooper asked Ocasio-Cortez, "When people hear the word socialism, they think Soviet Union, Cuba, Venezuela. Is that what you have in mind?" He neglected to mention the vicious socialist regimes of Cambodia, Ethiopia, Poland, Romania, North Korea, and China, among others.

Ocasio-Cortez retorted, "Of course not. What we have in mind—and what of my—and my policies most closely resemble what we see in the U.K., in Norway, in Finland, in Sweden." In fact, her economic proposals bear little resemblance to British and Nordic public policy.

As early as the 1950s, Britain began to privatize its social security and pension programs. By the 1990s, as decades of socialism caused economic growth to stagnate, Sweden followed suit. Neither Sweden nor Norway mandates a minimum wage, and Britain demands a minimum wage well below Ocasio-Cortez's proposed $15 per hour. Britain and Finland offer a lower corporate tax rate than the United States, and all the nations she names have lower rates than her proposal of 28 percent. None has a health care regime as socialistic as her proposed Medicare-For-All scheme, which constitutes a full federal takeover of health care.

Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez's ignorance of economics and foreign affairs typifies her generation. Despite holding expensive degrees in both Economics and International Relations from Boston University, Ocasio-Cortez threw up her hands in exasperation during an interview on Margaret Hoover's "Firing Line" program, laughing, "I'm not the expert on geopolitics." Fortunately for her, in the land of the blind, the one-eyed man is king; and among a blithely ignorant generation, the lightly educated activist is congresswoman.

The seed of Millennial miseducation, which grew into the Tree of the Lack of Knowledge as activist educators substituted ideology for scholarship, is finally bearing its rotten fruit. According to one survey, one-third of Millennials believe President George W. Bush killed more people than Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin. Over 40 percent of Millennials have never heard of Mao Zedong; another 40 percent and 30 percent, respectively, are unfamiliar with Vladimir Lenin and Che Guevara. Two-thirds of Millennials cannot identify Auschwitz, and 22 percent have never heard of the Holocaust, twice the percentage of American adults on average.

Millennials might not know much, but according to a 2016 Harvard survey, they know they don't support capitalism, with 51 percent of young adults rejecting economic freedom.

During the 2018 midterm elections, the Democratic Socialists of America endorsed 42 candidates for local, state, and federal office across 20 states. Of those candidates, 24 won their primary campaigns, and 18 won in general elections. Millennials have largely cheered them on. Raised in the United States after the fall of the Berlin Wall, these young Americans have been sheltered both empirically and academically from the myriad horrors wrought by socialism throughout history. And so the problem worsens.

Socialism is an economic disease born of envy and ignorance. Unfortunately both abound in our present politics. The sickness has found an attractive spokeswoman—perhaps, sadly, the voice of her generation.

Hey hey, ho ho, our idiot president has to go. Yeah, I'm a Republican, but I'll tell you one thing, I won't vote for him in the next election.

To those people who are complaining about the road surface on Park Road, take a drive south of Garnett and experience how very rough in the various patches of blacktop the state tried to fix. Not a good surface at all.

The Electoral College is a great way to control the outcome of an election.

I see where Watkins made the front page by not voting for a Democrat. Well he's Republican, that's kind of standard. But he's also a liar.

Democrats wanted her to be the speaker, so he's just another Trumptard going around whining like you Republicans love to do.

To the Trumptard about Pelosi, I want to tell you something. Most people don't want the wall built. What is it with you Republicans and lying? It's all you do. Now you're scared you're going to be checked by Pelosi and I'm glad she's there. Got a Democrat Governor in Kansas, it's about time. So, crazy old bat? No you're just a crazy old Trumptard.

It looks like the hospital is at it again. Just recently learned they are looking at purchasing a tract of ground just to the south of them, supposedly for the small garage located on the property and possibly more parking. Looks to me like if they wanted more parking there is at least five acres they own in front that you could convert to parking instead of grass. As far as the small garage, I don't think they'll be able to park a very large truck in it, so what are they going to do with the land? Are they going to build another big warehouse like they slipped in on the other end of the block just a few feet off Hayes? It's definitely not going to help the property values of those next to the site. I think they thought they could slip this one in by giving a false address to the zoning change request published in the paper, as I am still looking for the intersection of 6th and Hayes. It is my opinion they have spent enough of the taxpayers' money on this hospital and if they have all this extra cash laying around, then maybe someone should be auditing how many mills we're handing them, as it may be too many. Thanks Greg for the heads up.

To drain VA swamp, Trump must wade into it

President Trump campaigned on cleaning house at the Department of Veterans Affairs, to fire inept and corrupt bureaucrats, and give veterans greater choice in their health care.

Veterans responded enthusiastically. President Trump won their votes by a margin of almost 4 million.

The president has tried to make good on his promises. He signed into law the VA Accountability and Whistleblower Protection Act, which gives the Secretary the authority to fire inept or corrupt bureaucrats. He ratified the MISSION Act, which expands veterans' healthcare choices and support for caregivers for the seriously disabled.

But his efforts have been frustrated by the bureaucratic swamp at the VA he campaigned against. President Trump needs people who agree with his vision for the VA -- not civil servants who were there before he took office and will be there after he leaves.

In other words, he needs more political appointees at the VA.

Each presidential administration gets about 4,000 political appointees spread across all the various executive agencies. Responsible for implementing the administration's policies, they serve at the pleasure of the president and can be fired at will.

Career civil servants, by contrast, have no stake in the president's agenda and can hardly be held accountable for their work. Dismissing a civil servant for poor performance can take years.

If the VA is to be reformed, political appointees will be the ones to do it. Yet the VA only gets 38 -- the fewest of any cabinet-level agency. That's less than 1 percent of the appointees the administration is allotted.

COMMENTARY

BOB CAREY - The Independence Fund

Even the leaders of the VA's regional divisions are civil servants. Regional and state administrators at the Departments of Homeland Security, Agriculture, and Health and Human Services, by contrast, are all appointed by the president.

So 38 people have the impossible task of turning around the federal government's second-largest agency, with 373,000 employees.

There's a lot of misbehavior to clean up. Career civil servants are using the VA Accountability and Whistleblower Protection Act to fire whistleblowers and protect themselves from accusations of corruption.

If President Trump is to drain the VA swamp, he needs to first populate it with more political appointees.

In the long term, Congress must restructure the VA so every Under Secretary, Principal Deputy Under Secretary, and Assistant Secretary -- the three levels below the Secretary on the organizational chart -- is nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

In the shorter term, the Trump administration should shift 75 to 100 political appointees to the VA -- and make every Principal Deputy Under Secretary and Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary appointees. Likewise, all regional Veteran Integrated Service Networks directors should become appointees.

Departments with less checkered histories than the VA have five to 10 Senior Policy Advisors reporting to the Secretary who act as fixers for urgent policy priorities -- and can maneuver around bureaucratic inertia. The VA needs them, too.

Finally, the VA would benefit from a new Under Secretary of Policy to assist the Secretary with setting and enforcing standards of performance, integrated budgets, and system-wide policies and procedures.

The VA's bureaucracy is the chief impediment to delivering quality care and services to our country's veterans. Asking that same bureaucracy to fix itself is folly.

VA Secretary Robert Wilkie needs to be given the accountable personnel and political muscle required to bring about the change voters demanded in 2016.

Millenials disconnect reality with "Green New Deal"

Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez's so-called Green New Deal makes the obligatory nod to the original New Deal, but FDR's handiwork is much too modest an antecedent.

The Green New Deal calls for a top-down revolution in the operation of American society so sweeping that it would be disturbing if it weren't so wholly ridiculous. It shows all the thoughtfulness of a college sophomore pulling an all-nighter to write a term paper for his Millennial Socialism 101 class.

The Green New Deal, as explained in draft legislation to create a congressional committee to pursue it, would transition to 100 percent renewable sources of national power in 10 years. Since renewables only account for 17 percent of U.S. power now (7.5 percent from hydro-power, which might not pass muster under the Green New Deal), the plan would require shuttering more than 80 percent of current sources of American power.

This isn't like a European country adopting an ambitious goal for renewables (Denmark wants to be at 50 percent by 2030); it is a country with more recoverable oil reserves than Saudi Arabia and Russia spurning a stupendous source of national wealth to take a flyer on a lunatic experiment.

The architects of the Green New Deal apparently believe that once you have lost touch with reality with one proposal, you might as well pile on as many wild-eyed schemes as possible.

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

RICH LOWRY, King Features Syndicate

It would build a new energy-efficient grid, itself a massive proposition.

It would upgrade every -- not just many, not even most, but every -- residential and industrial building for energy efficiency.

There are 136 million homes in the United States.

It would eliminate emissions from industry, including farming, offering instead a vision of investment "in local-scale agriculture."

It would eliminate emissions from transportation, which sounds like mandatory electric cars and hydrogen-powered planes.

Because the Green New Deal aspires to achieve all of socialism in one energy plan, it includes a federal job guarantee with a living wage and perhaps "basic income programs" and "universal health care."

There's nothing the Green New Deal can't do. It would "mitigate deeply entrenched racial, regional, and gender-based inequalities in income and wealth," and, oh yeah, "virtually eliminate poverty."

The case for the Green Energy Plan is based on the alleged climate crisis being so dire that it must overwhelm all cost- and-benefit analysis. Actually, we have already been making incremental progress in reducing emissions, thanks largely to natural gas, which the Green Energy Plan can't abide. While global emissions have been increasing since 2005, U.S. emissions have been declining.

Even if we were to kneecap ourselves with the Green Energy Plan, the world's biggest emitter wouldn't follow suit. According to research by the green group CoalSwarm, China is now developing as much new coal capacity as currently exists in the U.S.

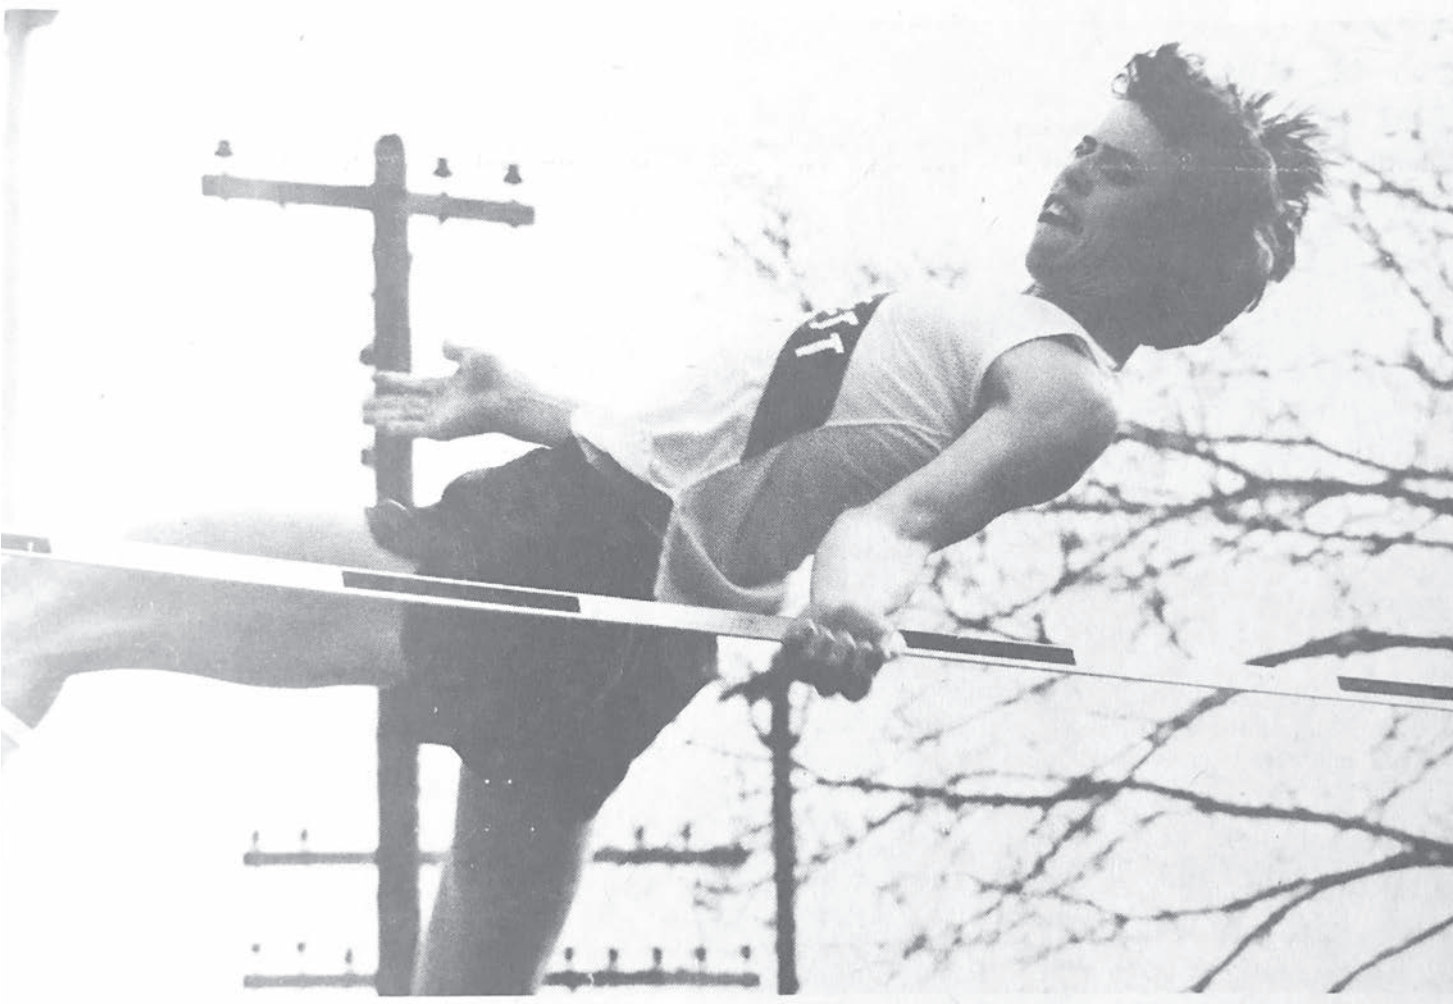

Pressed on the plausibility of the Green New Deal by Anderson Cooper on "60 Minutes," Ocasio-Cortez said we must pursue change we don't conceive as possible. The Green New Deal certainly meets that standard. It's the perfect program for a movement that has no idea of how to make means meet ends, and doesn't even care to try.

Annual KATP a chance for public to excavate with archeologists

It's that time of the year to start preparing for the 2019 KATP (Kansas Archeology Training Program) Field School, even though it's not being held until 1-16 June this year.

This annual KATP will be at the Tobias site (Native American) near Lyons, Ks. in Rice County.

This site dates between AD 1400 to 1700 and was inhabited by the ancestors of the modern-day Wichita and Affiliated Tribes.

Tobias was likely a part of the region of Quiviara seen by Coronado in 1541.

Portions of the Tobias site previously were excavated by the Smithsonian Institution in the mid 1900's and during the 1977 and 1978 KATP field schools.

The 2019 field school will be an opportunity to further explore the Tobias site using current technology and methods.

The annual KATP field school is an opportunity for the public to work alongside professional and avocational archeologists in finding and excavating archeological sites

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

What is the purpose of the church? Is it for us to go on Sunday morning for an hour and be with a group of other believers, sing hymns, pray, and listen to a sermon? If that is the extent of our church efforts, we are falling far short of God's purpose for the church. God walks into the church with the believer and out when we leave. If God stayed in the church he would never see some people. The Sunday morning service is for us to prepare for the week. We are then to take the word of God into the office, store or wherever we go.

So how do we do this? We have a helper we can call on. The Holy Spirit is the source of all strength for the church. I am convinced nothing can happen in my church or your church unless the Holy Spirit moves the heart of people. What causes the Holy Spirit to move? Prayer! John Wesley said, "God is not going to do anything until somebody prays."

Most of us have acquired a religious life, but we never have grasped the need for a spiritual life. If all we give God is one hour per week, we will never move from a religious life to a spiritual life. So now we have to get past the problems of "I don't have time, I'm not qualified, I'm too old to get involved, and that's the pastor's job."

In Matthew 28:18-20, Jesus gives "the Great Commission." He says, "Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you."

Now we must ask how we do this? In my own mind and strength, I have no idea. But I can bear witness to the fact that what we are currently doing is not working very well. So I propose this, pray and then pray some more. We need to move out of the pew and up to the altar. During the week we need to move out of the recliner and down on our knees and pray. I will even give you the prayer. Pray that the Holy Spirit will do a mighty work in your life and in the life of the church. In the very last sentence of the Great Commission Jesus says, "And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age." I believe that statement alone should create some soul searching for us.

Abraham Lincoln said it best: "I have often been drawn to my knees by the conviction I had no other place to go."

When Peter gave his famous sermon at Pentecost, about three thousand accepted and were baptized; those people were moved by the Holy Spirit. When we pray the Holy Spirit will act. The question is, will we pray?

St. Luke's-Shawnee Mission Healthcare and Anderson County Hospital management has proposed the closing of the local hospital's geriatric psychiatry service, in a move designed to navigate within federal Medicare regulations to put the rest of the hospital on a more stable footing. The change would affect 16 present staff members. ACH senior executive officer Denny Hachenberg said last week the closing of the hospital's Life Enrichment Center would be required in order to have the hospital designated as a Critical Access facility, which means Medicare payments for its services would be reimbursed on a cost basis, as opposed to specified service payments currently in place.

Crest was hot out of the gates erupting for 19 points in the first quarter before adding another 12 in the second to take a 31-14 lead into halftime.

Altoona Midway just didn't have any answers for the Lady Lancers defense, scoring just 9 points in the second half of the loss.

Lady Vikings can't keep pace with Osage City

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

OSAGE CITY - It was close early as the Central Heights Lady Vikings led Osage City 8-7 after the first quarter but it was all Osage City in the second and third quarters as they pulled away for a 56-38 victory.

Osage limited Central Heights to 8 points over each of the three periods but then Osage City exploded for 19 in the second quarter and tacked on 12 more in the third quarter to take a commanding 38-24 lead heading into the fourth quarter.

Osage City would put an exclamation point on the victo-

Vikings down Osage City for 6th victory

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

OSAGE CITY - It was a solid road victory for Central Heights (6-3) as they traveled to Osage City (5-5) on Tuesday night and came away with a 59-46 victory.

Central Heights continue to build on their early season success and after leading just 9-8 after the first quarter erupted for 22 points in the second quarter while limited Osage City to just 5 to open up a solid 31-13 lead heading into halftime.

Osage City would chip away at the lead in the third quarter, outscoring Central Heights 18-13 but it wasn't nearly enough as both teams scored 15 points in the final period to close out the victory.

Lady Bulldogs defense stymies PV after halftime

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Prairie View started strong jumping out to an early 17-9 lead after the first quarter before the Anderson County girls held strong and earned a hard fought 45-39 victory on Tuesday night.

It was all Anderson County over the final three periods as they outscored Prairie View 36-22.

Prairie View still held a slim 27-25 lead heading into intermission before the Bulldogs clamped down and limited Prairie View to 4 points in the third quarter and 8 in the fourth, scoring 8 and 12 respectively over that same span to pull out the victory.

If it wasn't for struggles from the foul line, the Bulldogs would have enjoyed a much easier time of it. On the night, Prairie View hit 6 of 10 from the foul line while the Bulldogs hit just 5 of 20 attempts, good for just 25%.

Cali Foltz led the scoring for Anderson County with 17 points, followed by Rayna Jasper with 13 points on the night.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 1-15-2019 / Photo Submitted

The Anderson County Scholars Bowl team of Hailey Gilbert, Chris Peine, Will Mechnig, Corey Bowen, and Garrett Belcher placed 2nd at the Ft. Scott tournament on Thursday, January 10, 2019. There were 33 teams taking part in the tournament. Anderson County also placed second at the 2019 Pioneer League tournament. They finished the day with a 4-2 record which is also the same record Burlington had but due to Burlington defeating Anderson County 70-30, they won the tiebreaker to finish in first place.

The salesman wears plaid

I don't care how much you may despise the idea of the red plaid jacket, yellow tie wearing, fast-talking salesman (remember Mr. Haney on Green Acres?), if you sell something - brace yourself - you're a salesman.

But don't be too hard on yourself. You're a lot more than a cartoon image. You're a vital, and I'm serious - vital - information source for customers who are in the middle of making a critical decision about spending their money. You can be a good salesman, provide needed information for your customer and make money for yourself - without being a schmuck.

There are only two things to know in being a great salesman: 1) know the product or service, inside and out; and 2) the same way you get to Carnegie Hall - practice, practice, practice.

Yes, I'm serious. Role play, out loud, with your husband or wife or staff or grab some guy off the street and make him sit and listen to you for 15 minutes (unless he threatens to call the cops). Practice it until it's flawless, earnest and conversational. Make a list of the points that should be delivered as selling points of your product or service. If you're an HVAC guy, it's probably energy efficiency, comfort and financing plan. If you're a restaurant owner or waitress, it's the special and the house's most popular dishes. Dump the negative image of the salesman and think about this: Great salesmen are great actors, and you're doing exactly what an actor does - memorizing lines and getting them across convincingly.

That's nothing to be ashamed of, because that information about that product is important - to you and the buyer.

Defense powers Bulldog girls to win

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

CARBONDALE - The Lady Bulldogs (3-3) have won back to back games for the first time this season after a 42-29 victory on the road Friday night at Santa Fe Trail (3-5) High School.

The Bulldogs led early 16-8 after the first quarter and really clamped down defensively over the second and third quarters by allowing 8 points combined.

Anderson County would score 9 each quarter to head into the fourth quarter in control with a 34-16 advantage.

Santa Fe Trail would trim 5 off the lead, outscoring the Bulldogs 13-8 in the quarter, but it was much too little too late to make a serious run.

Anderson County was led by Schmit with 14 points. Jasper joined her as the only other Bulldog in double figures with 12 points.

Once again, the Bulldogs left a lot of points off the board with their struggles from the free throw line.

Santa Fe Trail was just 12-22 (55%) but Anderson County was even worse, connecting on just 15 of 34 attempts (44%).

Lyndon runs away from Lady Lancers in 2nd half

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

Lyndon would take control in the second half scoring 13 points in both the third and fourth quarters, limit-

Vikings fend off late Lyndon run

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

LYNDON - Lyndon nearly pulled off some late game heroics as they trailed by 6 heading into the fourth quarter but their comeback fell just short as Central Heights held on for a 48-47 victory.

That deficit was quickly erased in the second quarter. The Vikings outscored Lyndon 14-6 in the quarter to take a 3 point lead into the halftime break.

The Vikings would double their lead during the third quarter which was just enough to hold on for the huge road victory.

Cannady led the way with 18 points.

Matt Cubit chipped in with 10 points of his own.

Crest girls down NE Arma

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

ARMA - The first half of the Crest and Northeast Arma game on Wednesday night was very competitive before the Lady Lancers from Crest behind a dominant fourth quarter won the game easily 55-31.

Crest led 12-7 after the first and extended their lead slightly to 24-18 at intermission.

Coming out of halftime though, Crest appeared to be a completely different team.

During the third period they outscored NE-Arma 14-11 before a 17-4 fourth quarter advantage completely put the game out of reach.

There were several strong performances for Crest on the night.

Holloran led all scorers with 15 points. She also added 11 rebounds and 2 steals on the evening.

Regan Godderz added 13 points, 5 rebounds, 2 steals, 2 blocks and 2 assists.

NE-Arma runs past Lancer boys

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

ARMA - Crest provided little resistance to an efficient NE-Arma offense through three quarters en route to a lopsided 67-34 defeat on Wednesday night.

NE-Arma led 16-7 after the first quarter and stretched that lead out to 43-21 behind a 27-point second quarter.

Crest didn't fare any better coming out of intermission as they were outscored 19-6 during the third period, putting them in a 62-27 hole en route to the loss.

On the evening, the NE Arma defense suffocated the Lancers throughout forcing 26 turnovers on the night while Crest only recorded 4 assists.

NE Arma also controlled the rebounding with a margin of 41-24.

Hayden Hermreck led the way with 18 points, going 7 for 21 from the field on the night, to go along with 6 steals and 6 rebounds.

Santa Fe Trail edges AC boys

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

CARBONDALE - Santa Fe Trail rallied from an early deficit and then overcame a fourth quarter deficit to pull out a 62-58 victory on Friday night.

Anderson County rode some early hot shooting to jump out to a 26-17 lead after the first quarter.

Santa Fe Trail quickly got back into the game behind a strong second quarter and cut the deficit to 38-36 at intermission.

The remainder of the game was back and forth, Santa Fe Trail was up one point heading into the fourth quarter.

Carson Powelson hit a three-pointer with 1:05 remaining to knot the score at 58, but unfortunately for the Bulldogs that would be their last basket of the game.

They once again had a shot with 16 seconds left and trailing by two, but were unable to capitalize.

Leading the scoring for the Bulldogs was Edens with 24 points with Powelson not far behind with 18.

Prairie View no match for AC boys

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - When Anderson County is clicking on all cylinders, they are going to be tough to beat and it was Prairie View that learned that the hard way as AC came away with a lopsided 84-46 win on Tuesday night.

It was the trio of Kass Allnutt, Rockers and Carson Powelson that led the way as they scored 19, 21 and 20 respectively to lead Anderson County.

The Bulldogs jumped all over Prairie View early, leading 26-12 after the first quarter behind 10 points by Allnutt and 9 by Rockers in the quarter.

It was much of the same over the second and third quarters as Anderson County led handily 73-32 heading into the fourth quarter.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 1-15-2019 / ERIC BRUMMEL

Some six inches of snow fell over much of the area over the weekend making traveling, and even delivering the mail, a difficult task. But it couldn't stop mail lady Misty Rutherford, who trekked the depths to make her delivery in downtown Garnett.

Lytle 50th Anniversary

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 1-15-2019 / Photo Submitted

Joe and Betty Lytle of Garnett celebrated their 50th anniversary on January 11th.

They were married in 1969 at the First Baptist Church in Garnett.

The world is my oyster

Self-absorbed. It's all about me. I am the center of the universe.

All these words come to mind when I see today's endless stream of motorists talking, Tweeting, Snapchatting and Face-booking while speeding down the boulevard. This recent phenomenon has become an epidemic and it's spreading.

Harsh words? Certainly, but there are also harsh consequences in lives lost, maimed and injured permanently in traffic accidents caused by those who place their own need to continually use their phone instead of focusing on the task at hand – driving safely and consciously.

The National Safety Council reports cell phone use while driving leads to 1.6 million crashes each year. Nearly 390,000 injuries occur each year from accidents caused by texting while driving.

One out of every four car accidents in the United States is caused by texting and driving with some sort of phone in their mitts. The other holds a mascara brush, a hamburger, a liter of water or a book while they steer with their knees.

Nearly everyone agrees texting and driving is dangerous. Most people do it anyway. In a new survey, 98 percent of motorists who own cellphones and text regularly said they were aware of the dangers, yet three-quarters of them admitted to texting while driving, despite laws against it in some states.

JOHN SCHLAGECK, Kansas Farm Bureau

Whatever happened to the conscientious and courteous driver of yesteryear?

How many motorists today continually scan the road and sidewalks in front of them for kids biking or walking down the sidewalk?

How about a watchful eye for the elderly couple out for an early morning stroll?

Or someone else walking his or her dog?

Such conduct while driving today has become the exception rather than the rule. Did I mention before that driving today is all about me getting where I need to go?

What we need on our streets and highways today are motorists with the intelligence to understand that driving a car, pickup, motorcycle, bus, van, SUV or anything you crawl behind the wheel and drive requires your undivided attention.

This means no phone calls, no meals, no makeup. Just drive.

There's never a phone in my car located where I can pick it up while I'm driving. Don't need one. Don't want one.

My car functions the way it was intended without one. Anyway, I need to be ever vigilant looking out for all those motorists who are doing everything else in their cars but driving.

Used to be one of the last bastions of individual freedom was cruising in your car with the windows down, the radio playing your favorite song and the wind whistling through your hair. Every so often, you'd raise your index finger to signal, "Hey" to an upcoming motorist who'd reply in kind.

Doesn't happen much today. Still I can dream can't I?

But not behind the wheel – that's where I drive.

Tips on how to prepare your vehicle for winter traveling

Now that winter has officially arrived and we endured our first snowstorm, it is important to have your vehicles prepared for the Kansas winters.

AAA Kansas tips to prepare vehicles for winter weather

- Make certain your tires have good tread for adequate traction and are properly inflated. For every 10-degree drop in temperature, tires can lose 1 pound of air pressure.

- Have the battery checked by a professional to ensure it is strong enough to face cold weather. When the air temperature is 32 degrees, a battery's starting power drops 35 percent. AAA members can request a visit from a AAA Mobile Battery Service technician who will test their battery and replace it on-site, if necessary.

- Keep your gas tank at least half-full to avoid gas line freeze-up.

- Ensure that windshield wiper blades are in good condition and the wiper fluid reservoir is full. A winter blend of wiper fluid that resists freezing is recommended.

- Make sure all lights (headlights, tail and brake lights, turn signals) are working properly so you can see and be seen in bad weather conditions.

Hazardous storms and inclement weather are a factor in more than half a million crashes and more than 2,000 road deaths every winter, according to the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety. AAA Kansas is encouraging drivers to have safety in mind if they venture out on the wintry roadways.

About 46 percent of crashes involving bad weather take place in the winter, making this the worst time of year for driving in treacherous conditions, according to the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety. The highest proportion of crashes involving bad weather happen overnight from 6:00 PM until 5:59 AM, when visibility is limited and roads are most likely to freeze.

AAA Kansas tips for driving in snowy and icy conditions

- Stay home. If you really don't have to go out, don't. Even if you can drive well in winter conditions, not everyone else can. Don't tempt fate.

- Check road conditions. Before you leave, assess the conditions of roads along your route. A good source for this is the Kansas Department of Transportation's KanDrive site, found at <http://www.kan-drive.org>

- Drive slowly. Everything takes longer on ice- and snow-covered roads. Accelerating, stopping, turning - give yourself time to maneuver by driving slowly.

- Accelerate and decelerate slowly. Apply the gas slowly to regain traction and avoid skids. Don't try to get moving in a hurry and take time to slow down for a stoplight.

Remember: It takes longer to slow down on icy roads.

- Manage a skid. If you lose traction and begin to spin or skid on snow or ice, don't slam on the brakes. Steer in the direction you want the front of the vehicle to go, until your tires regain traction.

- Increase your following distance to eight to ten seconds. This increased margin of safety will provide the longer distance needed if you have to stop.

- Know your brakes. Whether you have anti-lock brakes or not, keep the heel of your foot on the floor and use the ball of your foot to apply firm, steady pressure on the brake pedal.

- Don't stop if you can avoid it. There's a big difference in the amount of inertia it takes to start moving from a full stop versus how much it takes to get moving while still rolling. If you can slow down enough to keep rolling until a traffic light changes, do it.

- Don't power up hills. Applying extra gas on snow-covered roads just starts your wheels spinning. Try to get a little inertia going before you reach the hill and let that inertia carry you to the top. As you reach the crest of the hill, reduce your speed and proceed downhill slowly.

- Don't stop going up a hill. There's nothing worse than trying to get moving up a hill on an icy road. Get some inertia going on a flat roadway before you take on the hill.

Far too many drivers become stranded on the roadside this time of year. Nationwide, AAA handles an average of 600,000 emergency roadside assistance calls per week in the winter with the most common problems being dead batteries, extractions, towing and flat tires.

"Motorists should heed travel warnings and stay home unless they absolutely must venture out," AAA Kansas' Steward said. "AAA Kansas is reminding anyone who must drive on icy or snow-covered roads to be prepared for the conditions and to go nowhere - not even a short distance - without a full tank of gas, a fully charged cell phone (loaded with the AAA Mobile App) and a fully stocked emergency kit."

AAA Kansas recommendations for winter emergency kit items to keep in your vehicle

- Snow shovel
- Flashlight
- Winter coat, hat and gloves or mittens
- Ice scraper and snow brush
- Jumper cables
- Blanket or sleeping bag
- Warning flare or triangles
- Cellular phone and emergency charger
- Food and water
- First aid kit

Christian Church

Jake Riebel gave the Communion Meditation. In Luke 22:42, Jesus prayed in the garden for God to "please take this cup of suffering away from me. Yet I want your will to be done, not mine." Jesus took God's wrath upon himself, which he didn't deserve. When we take communion, we need to eagerly look forward to the day when we can take the bread WITH Jesus. Chase Riebel gave the sermon on week 11 of the Believe series titled "Worship". The next ten weeks focuses on putting our beliefs into action. We are to believe with an active faith as a way of life. And it's not as important how we worship, but the motivation behind our worship. We can worship in dance, in song, in prayer... whatever comes natural. (Ref: Matthew 23:1-7, 1 Samuel 17:26b, 2 Samuel 6:14)

Men's Bible study Tuesday morning at 7 a.m. Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. will be a meal and prayer time at the parsonage, with the youth group at 7 p.m. (kids are welcome to come hang out at 4:30). Working Wonders meet on Monday, Jan. 14 at 7 p.m. Small groups will begin again on Jan. 8. Women's retreat will be held at the church and the parsonage on Jan. 26 from 9-3. All women are welcome to attend.

Cowboy Church

Pastor Leo Ramsey opened the service Jan. 6 at High Point Cowboy Church with announcements, followed by praise and worship led by Cindy Beckmon and the band, marking the church's second anniversary.

Apostle Jon Petty, read from Romans 8:1-2 and urged believers not to listen to the wrong voice that encourages words and thoughts of condemnation on others, but love others just

Lions Club

The Jan. 2, meeting was held at the Colony Methodist Church basement with eleven members attending. After the meal, President Delores McMullen called the meeting to order. The United Methodist Women were thanked for the meal. The Treasurer's report was presented by Kenton King. President Delores McMullen thanked the club for their attendance at the Christmas dinner. She also reported on the visits by Santa this year. Lions Jay Dutton, Gene Anderson, and Ron McMullen were thanked for their work in delivering the poinsettias to the shut-ins. A list of shut-ins was presented by Jay Dutton. Dutton presented a Thank You card from the family of Doris Church for the poinsettia she received.

Mary Scovill and Sue Colgin reported on the adopted Christmas family project. The recipient was very happy with what we were able to provide them. Gene Anderson inquired about the status of the payments to the UMW for the Lions meeting meals. Kenton King stated we are up to date. Mary Scovill asked if anyone was planning on attending the Mid-Winter Rally in Manhattan. She also forwarded the question about sponsoring a band student.

Delores McMullen read a letter from Rachel Newland of SVOSH. Rachel is a student optometrist who was asking for donations for overseas charitable work. Voting was held and passed with the necessary majority for donation to SVOSH. Mary Scovill reported the Kincaid Lions Club assisted Terry Weldin with the eye screening at Crest Schools. Bill Smith reminded the club of the Fun in the Sun Car Show which will be in August. He encouraged the club to have a craft booth at the car show. The booth will be free for the club. Meeting was adjourned by President Delores McMullen.

Last Colony News

I have been writing the Colony News since Dane Hicks purchased the Garnett Review plus a few years prior to that time. I have always enjoyed writing, began writing in grade school with letters to pen pals from our Missouri farm where I was born and raised. When my husband and I moved here in June 1957 I did not know anyone, only had met my husband's parents once. My mother, however, was familiar with Colony. When she was 5 years old, she spent a summer here with her aunt and uncle. She knew of a few people that still lived here.

Our children, Mark, was born in July 1958 and our daughter, Cheryl in March 1960. My husband farmed with his Dad and the kids and I helped out in the fields during farming months. As I became acquainted with Colony people and an opening came along, I was hired to write the Colony News. It worked in well with farming, raising our children, and keeping up with Colony people who volunteered their news for the paper. It was a service I enjoyed for the Colony Community.

But it is now time for me to give myself more time. I am 88 and my health is not what it used to be. I need more rest and visit two doctors. I wish to thank all those who have contributed to the Colony News. I have appreciated each and every one of you. God Bless all.

The program was given by Katie Turpin from Ransom Memorial. She spoke on Lymphedema, a chronic, abnormal enlargement of the lymph nodes. There are two categories of Lymphedema. The primary one is usually present at birth while the secondary was caused by some condition such as cancer, parasites in poor countries or obesity. Lymphedema can be anywhere on the body. Massage and bandaging are some common treatments. Diet doesn't seem to affect the condition. She encouraged everyone to get early treatment if symptoms are present.

Connie Fagg presided over the meeting. Members brought items to contribute to ECKAN.

Seventeen members answered roll call. Michelle Miller gave a project report.

December 3rd was the Christmas party. Nineteen members were present.

Everyone brought an ornament to exchange and a favorite recipe to share. The next meeting will be January 21st at Parkview Heights, with Sonya Martin and Jessica Klein as hostesses.
