Garnett church embezzlement probe pegs woman's fraud in excess of $16,000

Investigation says checks allegedly written for cash to various individuals

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — A Garnett woman has been charged with 37 counts of forgery, theft and non-residential burglary in connection with the apparent embezzlement of more than $16,000 from a Garnett Church. Jennifer McSwane, 19 of Garnett, was arrested last week in connection with search warrants served earlier in March in connection with 10 checks written on a Garnett Assembly of God Church account at Goppert State Service Bank. Court records show the checks were written to numerous individuals as well as two checks written to the City of Garnett.

The court complaint says the checks in question were written between December

McSwane

17, 2018, and January 5, 2019.

Each alleged forgery carries separate felony charges of forgery, non-residential burglary and felony theft with penalties ranging from five months to 34 months in prison and fines of up to $100,000.

A press release from the Garnett Police Department said the department was alerted to the possible theft Feb. 25. A week's long investigation yielded numerous search warrants and interviews. The press release did not name McSwane

McCullar deemed flight risk, detained

Former local man to be held in Nebraska until June 3 trial

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

LINCOLN, Neb. — A federal court judge in Nebraska last week opted to detain a former Garnett man pending his trial on child pornography charges due to his possibility as a flight risk.

Michael McCullar entered a plea of not guilty last Monday in his first court appearance since being remanded to the Nebraska federal court district. McCullar, a Nebraska resident, was arrested in Tampa, Fla., on February 13 after Homeland Security Investigators served a search warrant that morning on his Dwight, Neb., residence.

The April 1 hearing established a jury trial date of June 3, 2019.

In the government's motion for detention, prosecutors said there was no condition or combination of conditions of release that would reasonably assure McCullar's appearance at court proceedings. Prosecutors also said McCullar's release would place the public at risk because there was probable cause to believe he had committed a felony with a minor.

In her detention decision, Judge Cheryl Zwart said particulars about McCullar's case lent to denying a release on bond.

"Specifically, the court finds that the defendant frequently travels out of the country," Judge Zwart said. She noted no other restrictions were enforceable by the court which would help guarantee McCullar would show up to trial.

McCullar, 47, worked for Ortho Diagnostics, a division of Johnson & Johnson and travelled frequently for his job. Homeland Security Investigators claim he was caught trying to share explicit photos he had taken of a naked

Garnett commissioners split on new GPD pay, benefits package

City, chief hope more lucrative compensation will fill vacancies

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — An hour-plus long discussion among Garnett City Commissioners led to a split vote and a $65,000 increase in city expenditures beginning next year, in order to raise police pay and benefits to hopefully make vacant posts more attractive to applicants.

Garnett Police Chief Kurt King submitted two proposals to commissioners outlining increases in pay and benefits as an incentive in his department. Those included the implementation of Kansas Police & Fire Retirement System benefits along with a pay scale increase at an annual cost of about $65,000, as also an option that included a higher pay scale increase but without KP&F which would have cost some $56,000 annually. King has been short at least two policeman positions for much of the past year with some vacancies going back more than two years. In numerous discussions, he's reiterated that nearby department which either pay more or offer better benefits continually attract potential applicants for Garnett, and often pull hires from the Garnett department.

Mayor Greg Gwin was vehemently against the addition of KP&F insurance benefits, saying the 22 percent retirement benefit and the more expensive premiums made it a "golden egg and golden goose" plan the city simply couldn't afford. He offered a number of alternative salary increase options, but said he could not support the implementation of the larger benefit package.

"That's just astronomical at the taxpayers expense," Gwin said. Commissioners Brigitte Brecheisen Huss and Jody Cole carried the measure in two separate votes, first approving the proposal for the KP&F benefit plan, then approving King's salary

Colony Christian Church- "Hide & Seek"

Darren McGhee gave the Communion Meditation "Hide & Seek". Just like as a child we play hide and seek with our friends, we often try to play hide and seek with God. Jonah tried to hide from God, Peter denied even knowing Jesus. What are we trying to hide from God? When he asks you to do something, do you say "But Lord..." All our work should be dedicated to the Lord, and his plan may be different from ours. Jesus is "it", and one of these days he'll say, "Ready or not, here I come". Will you be ready? Pastor Chase Riebel gave the sermon on "Joy". 1. We have the joy of being a child. In 1 John 3:1, God calls us his children. As his children, we look forward to our father coming home and being together with our family for eternity. 2. We have the joy as a parent. Matt 19:14-15, Jesus says, "Let the children come to me". Our father's purpose is to give us a rich and purposeful life. 3. Eternal Joy. We need to share the gospel so we know that we'll see others again in eternity. To hear this sermon in its entirety, subscribe to Colony Christian Church thru a podcast app, or visit www.colonychristianchurch.org.

Men's Bible study will be Tuesday morning at 7:00 am. Wednesdays at 5:30 pm will be a meal and prayer time at the parsonage, with the youth group at 7:00 pm (kids are welcome to come hang out at 4:30). Small Groups are held on Tues/Wed/Thurs evenings at 7:00 pm. Sunday evening service will be at 7:00 pm.

CEF prepares for 2nd Annual Co-Ed Softball Tournament

The Crest Education Foundation met on April 4, 2019, at the Colony Community Room. Officers Candace Powell, Chrissy Powell, and Denise King were present. Laura Schmidt was absent.

Candace presented the minutes from the previous meeting for Laura. Denise gave the Treasurer's Report. The annual IRS 990N form has been filed. The Kansas NP50 form will be sent in soon. One claim reimbursement form was presented and approved.

An update on the You've Been Flocked fundraiser was given. To date, we have flocked 39 homes. All officers will work together to keep the flocks moved to new homes for the next few weeks.

The upcoming 2nd Annual CEF Co-ed Softball Tournament was discussed. It will be held on Saturday, April 27th in Kincaid. We have our limit of eight teams registered. Any additional teams to register will be put on a backup list. We have nine paid business sponsors at this time, with a deadline to sponsor of Wednesday, April 10th. First place prize t-shirts will be ordered soon. Denise is putting together a raffle basket. Logistics of the day were discussed and members signed up to work shifts.

Other items discussed were a CEF newsletter, offering teacher grants in the fall, a fundraiser run/walk slated for September, and Trivia Night to be held November 9th. More information to come soon!

The next meeting will be Thursday, May 2, 2019, at 6:00pm in the Colony Community Room. Any and all Crest patrons are welcomed to attend.

BRAND

DECEMBER 4, 1927 - MARCH 31, 2019

Phillip Eugene Brand, age 91, of Mont Ida, Kansas, passed away at Residential Living Center in Garnett, Kansas, on Sunday, March 31, 2019.

Brand

Phil was born on December 4, 1927, in Parker, Kansas, to Clarence and Anna Brand. He attended school and graduated from Parker High School. As president of the 4H Club, enjoyed showing his dairy cattle at the fair.

On September 17, 1950, Phil married Leta Marie Schermerhorn. He served in the Army between 1951-1953 during the Korean Conflict, but was stationed in Germany as an M.P.

Phil was employed for 28 years at Delco Remy Battery Plant in Olathe, Kansas.

Phil and Leta were blessed with six children. They made their home in several places in Anderson County, Kansas, including Bush City, Harris, Welda, Olathe, and Spring Hill before returning to Mont Ida, Kansas in 1967, where his home still is today.

Phil always enjoyed helping anyone and everyone. He enjoyed taking neighbors and friends to the store, for groceries, or finding tractor parts - even taking many expectant mothers to the hospital.

Phil is survived by his and Leta's children; son, Mike Brand, and his wife, Lucinda, of Hendersonville, NC, daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wayne Brand (Debbie) of Americus, Kansas, daughter, Jean Davidson of Yuma, Arizona, son, Ron Brand, of Mont Ida, son Larry Brand and his companion, Sheri, of Garnett, son, Garry Brand and his wife, April, of Augusta, 16 grandchildren, 14 great grandchildren, and many cousins. Phil also had a family of friends in the Mont Ida community.

Phil was preceded in death by his wife, Leta, his parents, Clarence and Anna Brand, his step-father, Claude Hager, his son, Wayne Brand, son-in-law, Dana Davidson, and his grandson, John Robert Brand.

Funeral services were April 3, 2019, at Mont Ida Church of the Brethren. Burial followed in the Mont Ida Cemetery.

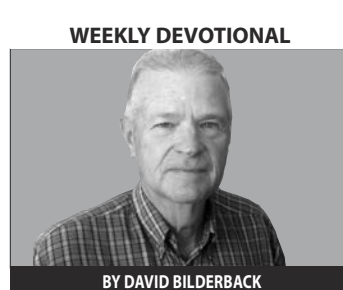

In lieu of flowers, please send donations to Mont Ida Church of the Brethren.

God's patience ran out!

In his famous sermon "Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God", Jonathan Edwards makes the following statement concerning the wrath of God. "The bow of God's wrath is bent and the arrow made ready on the string, and justice bends the arrow at your heart, and strains the bow, and it is nothing but the mere pleasure of God, and that of an angry God, without any promise or obligation at all, that keeps the arrow one moment from being made drunk with your blood."

The text for this statement can be found in Lamentations 2:4 which reads, "Like an enemy he (God) has strung his bow; his right hand is ready. Like a foe he has slain all who were pleasing to the eye; he has poured out his wrath like fire on the tent of the Daughter of Zion." What is illustrated here is God's wrath against his people which is taken to be a just wrath. Judah had sinned and the prophets had given God's warning. The harmful arrows that were meant for God's enemies are now aimed at his people.

God's wrath is evident in numerous places throughout the Bible but never more clearly than in 1st Kings chapters 21 and 22. Elijah carries the prophecy of the Lord to Ahab and tells him because he had taken part in the death of Naboth he would himself die. This prophecy is literally fulfilled in 1st Kings 22. So the King of Israel, Ahab, and the King of Judah, Jehoshaphat went up to Ramoth Gilead and entered the battle. Ahab fearing the prophecy of Elijah entered the battle in disguise. In verse 24 we read of the death of Ahab. "But someone drew his bow at random and hit the King of Israel between the sections of his armor." The king died and was brought to Samaria.

Is the bow of the Lord bent for you or I? Each of us has to answer that question for ourselves but the answer will not be unclear to us, we know where we stand with God. The reason Ahab went into the battle disguised was because he was afraid. He was afraid Elijah's prophecy would come true. But even more than that he was afraid of God. We should fear God but never be afraid of him. We are told in Psalm 111:10; "The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom, all those who practice it have a good understanding." If the bow is bent and the arrow is sent we can be sure it will find its mark. God is patient and long suffering with us but his patience will not last forever. With a random arrow his patience ran out with Ahab.

Millennials have no idea how good they've got it

Under President Trump, things are going very well in America. After experiencing 2.9 percent economic growth in 2018, we are currently enjoying structurally low unemployment, with historic lows for people of color, and close to 7 million jobs that have yet to be filled. Wages are up, inflation has remained in check and while there are always exceptions to the rule, overall, people should be feeling great, right?

Well, millennials missed the memo and feel like they haven't participated in American prosperity at all, Charlotte Alter claims in a Time Magazine cover story on Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, D-N.Y.

Alter, who is herself a Harvard grad, the daughter of a famous journalist and TV producer and the sibling of a venture capitalist, ironically writes in a tweet: "People our age have never experienced American prosperity in our adult lives — which is why so many millennials are embracing Democratic socialism." This on the back of a quote from Ocasio-Cortez in the piece that says, "An entire generation, which is now becoming one of the largest electorates in America, came of age and never saw American prosperity," she says. "I have never seen that, or experienced it, really, in my adult life."

Whether this is an attempt at gaslighting or pure delusion, in America, things are so good that many young people don't know the difference.

Ocasio-Cortez herself, who has spent most of her adulthood under the Obama administration, says that her current gig in Congress is, at age 29, her first full-time job — one that notably pays six figures. She attended a university that costs, according to estimates, more than $70,000 per year for tuition, fees, room and board. Even her signature lipstick, which gets a shout-out in the piece, retails for $22. This is hardly the profile of a person who is not enjoying prosperity.

Leaving Americans' prosperity vs. most of the world aside, even versus days gone by, Americans are beyond blessed. In a report put together by the William J. O'Neil Center for Global Markets and Freedom at Southern Methodist University, they compared consumption, wealth, health, safety and more between 2018 and 2015.

The data shows that consumption per capita has nearly doubled. People are spending less of their budget on food, clothing, shelter and utilities, and more on entertainment and recreation. The number of households with three or more Internet-connected devices went from zero to 90% and the working hours required to pay for gasoline to drive 1,000 miles decreased from 6.1 in 1980 to 2.7 in 2015.

Statistics show that life expectancy has increased while the death rate has decreased. That includes a sharp fall in deaths from heart disease and cancer. The work week has decreased and output per hour worked has nearly doubled, while work deaths and accidents have been cut sharply.

When I was growing up, doing research meant spending hours going through microfiche at the library. Today, a supercomputer in your pocket — the smart phone — can connect you to almost all the information ever created in a matter of seconds.

During my youth, an AIDS epidemic claimed the lives of young men by the thousands. Today, drug innovations can let one live a full life with HIV, and drugs can even be effective in its prevention.

Prosperity has seeped into everyday life in a way that goes unappreciated. Millennials are the generation of instant gratification, where food is delivered to them on demand, they can stream entertainment programming to their personal device at any moment from everywhere and they don't even have to raise their

So Kansas is thinking about making medical marijuana legal. Good idea, but only if you let farmers and companies in the state grow that marijuana. Why let Colorado and all the other states where they made it legal make all the money on Kansas people who would use medical marijuana? Makes perfect sense to me. Keep the money in the state.

The moron that claims that muslims don't believe in Jesus Christ, well, neither does the Jews, so what's the point?

Yes I'm wondering why it's all right for some people to have 10 dogs when the city ordinance says you can only have four, but some people have ten. Thank you.

I cannot believe the dumb commissioner that wants people to take a loyalty oath to work for the city. Who is she, Trump? Is she from Russia? That's just the stupidest thing I've ever heard and I'd think all the city employees would have to quit if they had to do that. Trump era, what do you expect? Bye.

Green New Deal: Proof that enviros can't do math

Congresswoman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez and Senator Ed Markey just released the Green New Deal, a plan to overhaul the entire U.S. economy and "achieve net-zero greenhouse gas emissions" within the decade.

The plan reads like a Saturday Night Live parody of an environmentalist's wish list. The pie-in-the-sky goals range from the merely impractical to the physically impossible.

Consider a few of the Green New Deal's unrealistic demands.

The plan calls for retrofitting "all existing buildings in the United States" with state-of-the-art technologies such as energy-efficient windows. There are roughly 100 million commercial, residential, and industrial buildings in the United States. If each has 50 windows, on average -- single-family homes might have fewer panes, but skyscrapers have thousands -- that's 5 billion windows we'd need to replace.

Assuming a two-man team of workers can replace two windows per hour, and they work 40 hours a week, 52 weeks a year for a decade, we'd need 240,000 laborers -- more than the population of Richmond, Virginia -- just to install new windows. Let's not even contemplate the cost of installing new HVAC systems, solar roofs, and other green gadgets.

Then there's the equally ludicrous goal of replacing fuel-burning jetliners with high-speed trains. California has spent the past decade trying to construct a single high-speed rail line. Gov. Gavin Newsom announced this month that he's dramatically scaling back the project, which is years behind schedule and billions of dollars over budget.

GUEST COMMENTARY

DREW JOHNSON - Taxpayers Protection Alliance

Even if we could build a national high-speed rail network, it'd still be a catastrophically bad idea. In a few years, Amtrak will unveil next-generation trains that can travel 160 mph. Assuming these trains made no stops and traveled in a straight line at max speed, it would take over 15 hours to get from Los Angeles to New York City.

Should we all leave for cross-country trips a day early?

Even the most overly optimistic analysis -- put together by scientists at Stanford University, UC Berkeley, and elsewhere -- conclude that the United States wouldn't be able to shift to 100-percent renewable energy before 2055, a quarter-century past the Green New Deal's deadline.

But that target is likely unreachable. In a Publications of the National Academy of Sciences article, 21 leading climate researchers recently warned that professor's projections contained errors, unreasonable assumptions, and relied heavily on technology that hasn't proven effective on a large scale.

The authors concluded that such a transition could cause massive economic turmoil, in part because wind farms and solar plants only generate electricity on windy, sunny days. Storing that much renewable energy isn't even possible due to limitations in current battery technology.

Of course, we don't need to rely on future projections to see why the Green New Deal is misguided. A look at recent real-world experiments with renewable energy offers plenty of stark warnings.

In 2011, then-Gov. Jerry Brown signed a law requiring California utilities to boost their reliance on renewables by 2020. By 2017, Californians were paying roughly 50 percent more for electricity than the rest of the country.

Germany's attempt to generate 80 percent of its electricity from renewables by 2050 has yielded similar results. The country's electricity prices have been the highest in Europe since 2013.

The Green New Deal is laughably unrealistic. If lawmakers implemented even a tenth of the plan, it would destroy the U.S. economy and impoverish tens of millions of people.

Democrats' obstruction helps drive border crisis

When historians look back to this era, they will wonder why we insisted on outsourcing our border control to a foreign country.

President Donald Trump's threat to close down the southern border with Mexico isn't a sign of strength, but of frustration fading into desperation.

He is reacting with understandable alarm at a spiraling migrant crisis on the border, and is looking to Mexico to address it because we are unwilling to do it on our own -- not unable, unwilling.

There were more than 100,000 apprehensions at the border in March, an increase from the 76,000 in February. The numbers for both months were the highest in 10 years. The total for the fiscal year could hit a million, a historic surge completely overwhelming our capabilities.

Secretary of Homeland Security Kirstjen Nielsen warned Congress of "the real-time dissolution of the immigration system."

It's not that border control has never been tried and failed; it hasn't been tried. Thanks to court decrees and congressional enactments, we don't permit ourselves to quickly return minors from Central American countries, or to detain them for any significant period of time. They get released, along with the adults accompanying them.

The asylum process is broken. The initial so-called credible-fear interview to determine whether asylum-seekers get to the next step of the process approves almost all of them, even if they are unlikely ultimately to win asylum. In the meantime, they are waved into the country and probably never removed.

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

The migrants coming in increasing numbers realize that we are helpless to exclude them and, indeed, surrender to Border Patrol agents when they get here.

Congress could fix all this in an afternoon, with a few key changes in the law. Trump has a Nancy Pelosi problem much more than an Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador problem. But, since Pelosi is unmovable, Trump has to try to work the Mexican president.

The talk of cutting off the border isn't aimed at the migrants, who largely don't come through ports of entry, but at forcing the Mexican government to do more. Maybe the mere threat of the resulting economic disruption will work.

But if Trump goes through with closing the border, the strategy has some of the same weaknesses as the government shutdown earlier this year. Where does it end? If Mexico doesn't act quickly, how long are we going to keep the border closed? The longer it's closed, the more pain will be felt in the U.S. economy at a time when there are already signs of softness. What if Mexico initially buckles, then backslides? Will we shut down the border again, or threaten to?

It's insane that a sovereign country of unparalleled power has tied its own hands such that it must try to bully and cajole a foreign nation to do immigration enforcement for it.

In a more rational world, Congress would take seriously the spectacle of U.S. officials -- and humanitarian organizations -- scrambling to handle a flood of humanity showing up every day, and give them the legal authorities and resources to get the situation under control. That it won't is a dereliction of duty of the highest order.

hand to hail a cab or take the bus; setting up an Uber will get you transportation at a moment's notice.

This is all amazing progress and prosperity, unless you take it for granted. Delayed gratification has been studied as a predictor of success. My father lived with my grandmother from the late 1950s to early 1970s -- until he was 35, so he could have enough money saved to buy a house and start a family. The reason people have been successful in America is that they worked hard, they sacrificed and ultimately, their delay of gratification over enough years allowed them to experience better outcomes in later years.

The instant-gratification generation has forgotten that and expects you should enter adulthood with ease. They believe you should be able to live in any city -- including those with limited space and policies that drive up prices -- and have amazing living conditions right out of school. They are aghast that you might have to work extra hours if you took on extra debt or that you might forego an avocado toast brunch at the hip cafe and make your own meals in order to save for a home and family.

Whether it comes from not appreciating a time that didn't have the prosperity of today or comparing themselves with select outliers who have done incredibly well -- or perhaps just spreading the myth of "the other guy" -- "I am doing OK, but I know a friend of a friend who isn't" -- millennials are becoming susceptible to the push toward socialism, an economic system that has never produced prosperity. While they have a real-time, real-life example of a country destroyed by socialism in Venezuela to demonstrate its perils, millennials ignore the facts to live in their own strange fiction.

All business cycles end and things will ultimately eventually turn down from here. So, if you know a millennial who doesn't believe they are prosperous, stage an intervention now and explain the difference between gratification and instant gratification -- before their ignorance becomes a catalyst to destroy the economic foundation of this country.

It has always paid to be an optimist in America. Millennials need a dose of history and reality.

 Even after a facial reconstruction of the remains of an unknown man buried in Garnett 36 years ago has put investigators no closer to learning his identity. Nearly a year after the Kansas Bureau of Investigation officials circulated a sculpted facial reconstruction of the man, who's decomposed and animal ravaged body was found in rural Garnett in 1973, the KBI is considering the case cold. The body of the brown-haired man estimated between 18 and 20 years of age was found in April 1973 and was estimated to have been deceased for several weeks.

 A project which C.D. Schulte of C.D. Schulte Agency, Inc. brought before the county commission two weeks ago is now being taken under consideration by the Garnett Planning Commission. The proposed project, a 50 unit housing complex made up of two-plex, and tri-plex apartments ranging from one to three bedrooms, would be designed for medium to low income families who qualify by their income. The units would be available to anyone, but only those who qualify based on their income would receive help with their rent. The unit would be located at the south end of a 15-acre tract on the west edge of Garnett, south of the equipment barn.

Office of Emergency Management releases county storm shelters

As tornado season is upon us, it is an important time for a reminder of local storm shelters.

AccuWeather predicts a high frequency of severe weather risks this spring across Tornado Alley in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Nebraska.

"We believe that the more traditional severe weather region of the central and southern Plains will have a higher potential for tornadoes and severe weather more frequently than they have experienced on average the past three years," said AccuWeather Meteorologist Paul Pastelok.

AccuWeather predicts there will be 1,075 tornadoes in 2019, which is 9 percent more than the 987 tornadoes in 2018. However, the figure is 6 percent fewer than the U.S. annual average of 1,141.

AccuWeather said the 525 tornadoes expected from March through May are almost exactly the normal average of 526 from March through May. In 2018, just 345 occurred from March through May.

It is important to remember that there is no smoking of any kind inside shelters and pets are not allowed, unless it is a service animal.

Dairy producers may now be eligible for 2018 Margin Protection Program

WASHINGTON, March 22, 2019 — The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) today announced that dairy producers who elected to participate in the Livestock Gross Margin for Dairy Cattle Program (LGM-Dairy) now have the opportunity to participate in the Margin Protection Program for Dairy (MPP-Dairy) for 2018 coverage. Sign-up will take place March 25 through May 10, 2019.

Producers enrolled in 2018 LGM-Dairy, administered by USDA's Risk Management Agency (RMA), previously were determined by the 2014 Farm Bill to be ineligible for coverage under MPP-Dairy, a safety net program available through USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA).

"The 2018 Farm Bill included substantial changes to USDA dairy programs," said FSA Administrator Richard Fordyce. "This includes the ability for producers with LGM coverage to retroactively enroll in MPP-Dairy for 2018. It also integrated recent improvements to the MPP-Dairy in the new Dairy Margin Coverage program, beginning with the 2019 calendar year."

The MPP-Dairy program offers protection to dairy producers when the difference between the national all-milk price and the national average feed cost — the margin — falls below a certain dollar amount selected by the producers in a dairy operation. LGM-Dairy is an insurance product that provides protection when feed costs rise or milk prices drop. The gross margin is the market value of milk minus feed costs.

This retroactive sign-up is only for dairy producers with 2018 LGM coverage who produced and commercially marketed milk in 2018 but did not obtain full year MPP-Dairy coverage. FSA will notify eligible producers by postcard and provide a one-time payment for all of the months in 2018 that had margins triggering MPP-Dairy assistance.

"I'm pleased that dairy producers will now be able to take advantage of enrolling in both Livestock Gross Margin and the Margin Protection Program for 2018 coverage," RMA Administrator Martin Barbre said. "The 2018 Farm Bill gave dairy producers more options like these and when combined with the new Dairy Protection Program offered by RMA, that means more overall coverage for dairy producers."

Eligible producers can enroll during the sign-up period at their local USDA service center. To locate your office, visit farmers.gov.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 4-2-2019 / SUBMITTED

Holli Miller signed a letter of intent last week to continue her academic and softball career at Allen County Community College next fall. Lady Lancers open season with a sweep

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

COLONY - Weather continued to intervene as it has throughout the early season, pushing back the start time of the opening game of the season a couple hours due to rain and lightning.

Despite the delay, Coach Casey Cook was proud of the way the team responded.

"The girls found a way to come in focused and keep their composure. Everyone contributed and it was a very long but fun night," Cook stated.

The Lancers downed Northeast Arma 13-11 in the opening game and completely dominated the second half of the doubleheader, 17-0.

In the opener, The Lady Lancers rallied from a 9-4 deficit after the first 3 ½ innings to pull out the victory.

Crest tallied 4 runs in each of the 5th and 6th innings to pull off the come from behind victory.

In the second game, Crest dominated with 7 runs in the first, 4 more in the second and 6 runs in the third to end the game early.

As expected, there were several solid performances offensively.

Crest girls drop a pair to SE-Cherokee

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

CHEROKEE - After opening the season with a sweep of a doubleheader, the tables were turned on the Lady Lancers as they lost both games to SE-Cherokee.

The opening game was a 10-0 loss in 5 innings and the second game was a 17-2 defeat in just 3 innings.

In the opening game, the Lancers failed to pick up a hit on the evening. The SE-Cherokee pitcher struck out 6 batters while walking zero and facing the minimum number of batters in 5 innings possible.

Hermreck was the only Lancer to reach base via a 3rd inning error but was quickly sent back to the dugout on a double play.

In the second game of the night, the Lancers picked up a pair of runs in the second inning but couldn't slow down the SE-Cherokee bats.

SE-Cherokee scored 11 runs in the first and 6 runs in the second in their only two innings offensively on the evening.

"We couldn't do much against their pitcher in the first game but our defense kept us going for 5 innings. In the second game a handful of home runs did us in and we could only put two runs on the board," Coach Cook stated.

Lancer track opens year at Eureka Relays

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

EUREKA - The Crest Lancers opened the 2019 season with the Eureka Relays and had a quartet of girls earn multiple medals.

Regan Godderz finished 2nd in the 100 meter dash (13.72) and 4th in the 400 meter dash (1:07.56).

Elka Billings 3rd in the 800 meter run (2:48.14), 5th in the 1600 meter run (6:23.53) and 3rd in the 3200 meter run (13:58.93). Ursula Billings finished 6th in the 1600 meter run (6:35.31) and 2nd in the 3200 meter run (13:51.27).

Hurdler Camryn Strickler finished 5th in the 100 meter hurdles (18:31) and 2nd in the 300 meter hurdles (52.87)

The only Crest boy to finish with a medal was Jaquez Coleman who finished 6th in the triple jump (36'6").

Errors cost Vikings first win of the season

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

The Vikings dropped both ends of a doubleheader last week to West Franklin, but blew an 8-4 lead in game 1 over the last few innings to deny them of their first victory of the young season.

West Franklin would score the final 7 runs in the opener in just 1 2/3 innings to pull out the win.

"Colin Maloney started the game and went to his pitch count of 105 and 5 1/3 innings. We had the lead 8-4 when he came out. He did a great job for his first start of the year. He was followed by Austin Coffman who went the other

1 2/3 innings. He did a great job of making them put the ball in play unfortunately we had 3 errors in the top of the 7th inning," head coach Jason Brown said.

Offensively, Bryce Sommer, Maloney and Hunter Bones all picked up 2 hits each.

Sommer led the way with 3 runs driven in and Maloney and Jon Fox each drove in a pair of runs.

The late game was a 16-10 win by West Franklin, but was quite frankly sloppy for both teams.

Central Heights scored their 10 runs on just 3 hits, the rest of the baserunners were via walks and errors by West Franklin.

Matt Cubit reached base all 5 times. He had 2 hits and 3 walks and scored 3 times.

Sommer reached base in 3 of his 5 at bats, including a single, a walk and was also hit once. He also scored 3 times.

The Viking pitchers struggled all game with walks as well.

"Austin Coffman started on the mound and was followed by Dakota Beers, Clay Garrett, and Jon Fox. We gave up too many walks in this game and it cost us," Brown said.

Bulldogs split pair to open the season

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Anderson County let the season opener slip away, dropping the game to Osawatomie 5-4 before rebounding to win the second game 11-1.

Anderson County scored the first run of the season in the bottom of the third inning as the rally started with 2 outs. Spencer hit a single with two outs and promptly stole second and third base before scoring on a double by Adams.

That 1-0 score would hold up until Osawatomie finally got on the board with 3 runs in the top of the 6th inning.

The first three runners reached base for Oz but a double play due to a base running kept the inning from getting out of hand.

The Bulldogs quickly answered with three runs in the bottom of the 6th.

Osawatomie took the lead again in the 7th to steal the victory.

Bo Dilliner was 1-2 in the game with 2 runs driven in. Austin Adams and Porter Richards each picked up a pair of hits, both scored a run and also drove in a run.

Richards pitched 5 innings, allowing 2 earned runs, struck out 10 and walked 5 batters.

The second game was a much different outcome as Anderson County controlled it from beginning to end, cruising to an 11-1 victory in just 5 innings.

Spencer picked up 2 hits and a walk in 3 at bats, scoring three runs in the process and driving another one in.

Dilliner also had 2 hits and a walk, drove in a run and scored a pair of runs.

On the mound, Damone Kueser pitched 5 innings, allowing just 2 hits, struck out 6 and allowed one unearned run.

Bulldog's Reid sets pole vault record

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

BASEHOR - The AC Bulldog track team traveled to Basehor and finished well against many large schools in attendance.

The girls finished 3rd as a team with 110 points, KC Piper was second with 111 points and Basehor was first with 144 points on the afternoon.

Abby Reid helped pace the Bulldogs finishing first in the 100 hurdles, 300 hurdles and the pole vault.

Reid cleared 10'6" to set a new women's pole vault record at Anderson County.

Maya Corley placed first in the 800 meter run and was 3rd in the pole vault.

Marah Lutz finished second in the 400 meter run and was also part of the 4x400 meter relay and the 4x800 meter relays that both placed second.

Other members of the 4x400 team were Sophia Cole, Cameron Simpson and Corley.

Additional members of the 4x800 team were Alina Eggers, Lanie Walter and Katie Schmit.

Brookelyn Schettler placed 3rd in the triple jump.

The boys top finishers on the afternoon were Ryland Porter, who finished 3rd in the 800 meter run and 1600 meter run, and Nathan Quinn, who placed 3rd in the 400 meter run.

Viking baseball drops pair to Lyndon

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

Central Heights Baseball opened its season last week against Lyndon and after dropping a close 5-4 decision in the first game, they dropped the second game 15-7 to lose both games of the doubleheader.

In the opener, Matt Cubit started on the mound and went 4 2/3 innings. He gave up 5 runs.

"He had a nice outing for his first game of the year," Coach Jason Brown stated.

He was followed by Bryce Sommer who went 2 1/3 innings giving up 0 runs.

"Sommer did a nice job of attacking the zone and letting his defense help him. We played pretty good defense for our first game of the year," Brown added.

Sommer was also 1-3 at the plate with a run scored and a stolen base in the game.

Jon Fox and Hunter Bones each picked up a double and drove in a run to lead the offensive attack.

After closing out game 1, Sommer also started game 2 going another 2 1/3 innings.

"He did a nice job again. We pulled him for an early season pitch count we wanted to keep him under. We had 5 other pitchers in the game in Austin Coffman, Colin Maloney, Dakota Beers, Tony Detwiler, and Hunter Bones. We struggled throwing some strikes later on, I think the first game jitters got to some of them," Brown added.

Fox drove in two more runs, scored a run and also picked up a walk.

Matt Cubit picked up a hit, scored twice and drove in a run.

Brady Burson reached base 3 out of 4 at bats, including 2 walks.

Silkville topic of Richmond Museum Program

Although many persons have heard the name Silkville and know it's a place near Williamsburg, few know the history of the project. Silkville will be a "show and tell" program at the Richmond Community Museum, Sunday, April 14th, with the public invited. Bob Marsh of Ottawa will give a Power Point presentation and Judy Simpson of Williamsburg will have additional photos and information. The Museum will open at 1 p.m. so visitors may browse among the many artifacts and much archival material about the community, and the Silkville program will start at 2 o'clock. Silkville was not a town, but an effort starting in 1869 to form a socialistic agricultural commune on 3,400 acres three miles south of Williamsburg. The growth and eventual failure of the silk-producing commune will be explained. Silkville is now a working cattle ranch. A new display this year is one of about 35 pictures of wedding cakes made by the late Catherine (Mrs. Joseph) Mildfelt in the 1950s and '60s. Some of the photos show the intricate details of the cakes which were as delicious as they were beautiful, say those who had her bake cakes for their special occasions. If you have a picture of a wedding or other cake that Mrs. Mildfelt made, you are asked to bring a copy to add to the display. Most photos include the bride and groom which makes the pictures even more interesting. Numerous other new materials have been added at the Museum since it closed for the winter, so come to the Richmond Museum for an afternoon of learning and visiting. There is never an admission charge at the Museum.

Anderson County Historical Society receives Humanities Kansas Grant

TOPEKA - Humanities Kansas recently awarded $3,500 to the Anderson County Historical Society of Garnett in support of "Impact of Early Medical Professionals in Anderson County, Kansas." Renee Pagenkopf serves as project director. "We are very grateful to Humanities Kansas for seeing the viability of our project" said Pagenkopf. "The project will provide the community, as well as researchers, an extensive finding aid for medical professionals, their tools of the trade and their trials and tribulations as they helped to build Anderson County and to keep it healthy"

The project will present a timeline and story of the earliest physicians, surgeons, coroners, druggists, undertakers, optometrists and dentists from 1855 to the late 1900's. The museum collection contains many tools of the trade, especially from recent years that include a large number of paraphernalia, ledgers, books, photographs, equipment and documents. An initial count of artifacts came to over 700 individual items. The largest collection came from Dr. C.B. Harris and his son. The museum also curates their family home, The Harris House.

Anderson County was privileged to have had an early female doctor, Dr. Martha E. Cunningham, 1854 -1928. At a time when most women were not likely to be accepted in the industry, she was able to maintain a successful practice for over 25 years.

But these two doctors were just a small minority of the medical professionals who practiced in the county. For example, in the first four decades of Anderson County's existence and at a time when the population was at its highest, there were about 150 medical personnel accounted for in newspaper clippings and other written histories.

"This is a huge undertaking and it will take many dedicated volunteers to complete it in the one-year time frame that we have given ourselves" said Pagenkopf. "We would like to encourage anyone who has an interest in the history of our county to volunteer some time. This doesn't need to be a large time commitment, as much of the work will be done in phases and by several people at a time." The museum volunteers will assist in the project through a variety of areas including, but not limited to, cataloging, cleaning, research, building and setting displays, genealogy research, writing stories and fundraising.

The project will culminate with an open house in April 2020 to show off our new displays in the Medical Room at the Museum located on 6th Ave and Highway 59. The Harris House will also be open for those who would like to take a tour. In conjunction with the open house, we will invite family descendants of former medical professionals to the Museum location. Families are welcome to set up a table with genealogies and artifacts related to their ancestor. "It is believed that there are relatives residing in or around Anderson County who might be able to further our efforts to revive and resuscitate these histories" stated Pagenkopf

The ACHS was established in 1968 and in 24 years it outgrew two locations. Then in 1992 the Society was able to acquire the Historic Longfellow Building, greatly expanding its floor space. "Regardless, we are still almost to capacity", said Richard Miller, V.P. of ACHS. "Humanities Kansas has provided us with a great opportunity to not only preserve this particular aspect of our history, but it gives us the desire to continue cataloging and preserving the other collections that could be cared for and displayed".

"There is a huge need for preservation and conservation practices to be improved upon. We think the community deserves a new look and feel", stated Kenny Kellstadt, ACHS President. "We have many resources available for genealogists and researchers, but much of it is hard to find unless you know where to look. With community support and volunteers, we will be able to continue our efforts. And Humanities Kansas will be a great resource for future initiatives".

"Humanities Kansas supports projects that preserve community stories," said Julie Mulvihill, executive director of Humanities Kansas. "This project will enhance access to the historical materials and tell the story of one county's many medical professionals who treated the sick and delivered newborns for almost seven decades."

About Humanities Kansas Humanities Kansas is an independent nonprofit spearheading a movement of ideas to empower the people of Kansas to strengthen their communities and our democracy. Since 1972, our pioneering programming, grants, and partnerships have documented and shared stories to spark conversations and generate insights. Together with our partners and supporters, we inspire all Kansans to draw on history, literature, ethics, and culture to enrich their lives and serve the communities and state we all proudly call home. Do you care about Garnett? Attend April 15 First Impressions Town Hall Meeting

Join Us at Our Town Hall Meeting

Every citizen, or person who calls Garnett their "home", is encouraged to attend the First Impressions Town Hall Meeting. Nancy Daniels, Director of the First Impressions Program for K-State Research and Extension will reveal the results from volunteer visitors who recently came to Garnett to give their feedback on their first impression. The City of Garnett invites you to attend to listen, observe and give your own feedback. This meeting is meant to create a forum for discussion on how our community is perceived, and where do we collectively go from here to create a community of pride.

The public meeting for the reveal will be held on Monday, April 15th, 7:00 p.m. at Town Hall Center, 125 W. 5th Avenue. Refreshments will be served.

The First Impressions team that visited Garnett in March were asked to give a report to include:

- Pre-visit web search. How easy or difficult was it to obtain information about Garnett, schools, businesses, etc.?
- Five-Minute Impression: Initial drive through town; give your reaction.
- Downtown Business Area - Appearance of buildings, signage, infrastructure, etc.
- Customer service when visiting retail businesses.
- Amenities - drinking fountains, benches, public restrooms, trash receptacles, wi-fi.
- Landscaping and streetscaping. How was finding parking?
- Describe other retail shop- ping areas.

- Industrial Parks and Commercial Areas. Were they easy to locate?
- Health Care Services - Availability, quality of hospitals and emergency medical services.
- Condition of facilities for physicians, dentists, optometrists and public health providers.
- Housing - Is there available housing to appeal to all income wages? What challenges do you see?
- What kind of rental properties for persons interested in building or simply living in the community prior to buying housing?
- Schools - What is available. Do they appear adequate in size and are they well maintained? Were you able to find online information about the quality of the educational system?
- Childcare - What services are available? Affordable?
- Faith/Religion - Is there a number of denominations? Did you observe any evidence of church-sponsored community services?
- Civic - See any visuals of non profit organizations and clubs in the community?
- Public Infrastructure - Comment on general streets, street signs, sidewalks, parking, lighting, streetscapes other than downtown.

- Comment on city/town hall. How were you received? Was there information about the town available?
- Library.
- Police/Fire protection.
- Recreation/Tourism - Is the community well-known for any particular attraction or event? Do they have a community slogan that capitalizes on that asset? Was there indication of significant events, significant natural or manmade features (public art, museums, lakes, campgrounds, etc.)? Visitors center or Chamber of Commerce to serve needs of visitors?
- Restaurants, specialty shops, attractions - Are there any that would bring you back to the community in the future?
- Wrap-up comments: Positives, obstacles and challenges. What will you remember most from your visit?

Again, everyone is invited and encouraged to attend this very important community meeting. For more information visit www.simplygarnett.com or contact Julie Turnipseed, Anderson County Economic Development at 785-448-5496, Option 5.

ACH Auxiliary recognizes doctors locally on National Doctor's Day

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 4-9-2019 / SUBMITTED

National Doctors Day was celebrated across the country on March 30. In order to recognize the doctors who serve at Anderson County Hospital's Specialty Clinic, Family Care Center, and ACH Emergency Department, the ACH Auxiliary presented physicians in each facility with gift baskets containing a variety of flavors of popcorn from The Popcorn Colonel. The event was coordinated by Mary Lynn Holloran, chairman of the auxiliary Recognitions Committee. Far left picture - Dr.

Pieces and Patches announces May 11 Quilt Show

Pieces and Patches Quilt Guild Minutes, March 28, 2019

The Pieces and Patches Quilt Guild was called to order by President Mary Parrott on March 28, 2019 at 9:30 a.m. at the Archer Room of the Garnett Public Library. Roll call was answered by 21 members. A previous member, Phyllis Mundell, was our guest.

The February 2019 minutes were approved as printed in the Newsletter. Lynda Feuerborn gave the Treasurer's report. Judy Stukeky made a motion to approve the Treasurer's report, Bonnie Deiter seconded, motion carried.

President Mary reported the following:

The Sunflower Quilters Guild of Humboldt will be having their quilt show April 27 & 28.

The Sunflower Quilters Guild has 20 spaces available for a bus trip to the Kansas City Regional Quilt Show on June 14. The bus can stop in Garnett to pick up passengers. Anyone interested in going contact Mary.

Mary, Jeanette Gadelman and Vickie Hurt will be going to the Heartland Quilt Network annual meeting. They will be taking the 2019 Opportunity Quilt to sell tickets. Terrie Gifford made a motion to allow them to schedule programs for next year that will be advertised at the meeting. Sandra Moffett seconded. Motion carried.

Committee Reports: Program:

Jeanette Gadelman reminded us that following today's meeting Terrie Gifford will be giving a paper piecing workshop.

After our April 25 meeting, Linda McAdam will give a workshop on making a small tote bag from a placemat. Violet Holt showed examples of the bags she made based on Linda McAdam's workshop. A list of supplies will go out separate from the Newsletter.

There was interest in learning Twilling after seeing some of Patty Poe's quilts. Jeanette will look into scheduling Patty to give us a workshop in May or June.

Charity Quilts: Sandra Moffatt delivered three fidget quilts to Parkview Heights and asks us to make more.

2019 Opportunity Quilt: Bonnie Deiter moved the quilt to the Library. Lynda Feuerborn handed out packets of tickets for members to sell.

2020 Opportunity Quilt: Judy Stukeky announced the next work day is April 11 at her house. She contacted Donna Lynn Thomas and got permission to use her pattern "Shimmering Leaves."

Anderson County Fair: Terrie Gifford reported no further news, just reminded everyone the Challenge packets are available at Country Fabrics.

May Quilt Show: Phyllis Gordon has arranged to have our quilt show at the Senior Center again this year. Bonnie requests members keep working on their projects to put in the show. Jackie Gardner is in charge of the Boutique and asks that members bring items to the April meeting. She would also like help pricing the items.

Scholarship: Ruth Theis reported that she has three applications from Crest and five from Anderson County. There will be a meeting April 5 to select the scholarship winner.

Old Business: Jeanette asked for volunteers to meet Monday afternoon to hang quilts at the Library. The quilts will be on display the month of April. She will have cards to be filled out with information for each quilt. She asked Terrie to send her a fact sheet about the guild.

2019 Block of the Month:

The second Block of the Month pattern, "Brilliance Runner" is due at the April meeting to be eligible for a prize drawing.

Secret Sister Gifts: Bun Miller received a book on Applique and Emergency Chocolates. Sandra Moffatt received an Easter Basket of 20 fat quarters.

Show and Tell: Nine members showed 23 quilted items.

Winners of the drawing were Terrie Gifford, Phyllis Gordon and Cynthia Fletcher.

The meeting was adjourned by President Mary.

Following lunch, Terrie Gifford gave her workshop on paper piecing.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Your RIGHT to know.

Notice to control noxious weeds

(First published in The Anderson County Review, Tuesday, March 26, 2019)

GENERAL NOTICE TO CONTROL NOXIOUS WEEDS

The Kansas Noxious Weed Law K.S.A. 2-1314 et seq requires all persons who own or supervise land in Kansas to control and eradicate all weeds declared noxious by legislative action. The weeds declared noxious are: field bindweed, musk thistle, Johnson grass, bur ragweed, Canada thistle, sericea lespe-deza, leafy spurge, hoary cress, quack grass, Russian knapweed, kudzu and pignut are County Option Noxious Weed/Weeds declared noxious by the Board of County commissioners of Anderson County. Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Kansas Noxious Weed Law to every person who owns or supervises land in Anderson County that noxious weeds growing or found on such land shall be controlled and eradicated. Control is defined as preventing the production of viable seed and the vegetative spread of the plant.

Failure to observe this notice may result in the County:

1. Serving a legal notice requiring control of the noxious weeds within a minimum of five days.

Failure to control the noxious weeds within the time period allowed may result in the county treating the noxious weeds at the landowners expense and placing a lien of the property if the bill is not paid within 30 days or, 2. Filing criminal charges for non-compliance. Conviction for non compliance may result in a fine of $100 per day of non-compliance with a maximum fine of $1500.

The public is also hereby notified that it is a violation of the Kansas Noxious Weed Law to barter, sell or give away infested nursery stock or livestock feed unless the feed is fed on the farm where grown or sold to a commercial processor that will destroy the viability of the noxious weed seed. Custom harvesting machines must be labeled with a label provided by the Kansas Dept. of Agriculture and must be free of all weed seed and litter when entering the State and when leaving a field infested with noxious weeds. Additional information may be obtained from the Anderson County Weed Department or by contacting the Kansas Dept. of Agriculture, 109 SW 9th, Topeka, KS 66612

Welda Santa Fe Depot featured at Historical Society Banquet

Dave Calwell tracked the life of a Santa Fe Depot from its original location in Welda, through three moves at the annual Historical Society Banquet on April 4th. Its final destination is at the Ward/Meade Park in North Topeka.

The original 1880 Welda Depot burned and was rebuilt in 1888. Calwell, dressed in period Santa Fe station agent uniform, described the daily operation of the depot, period furnishings, and the operations of steam engines. The Welda Santa Fe Lake and a water tower were built to provide water for the engines. An engine would run about 100 miles on one fill of water. A section house was located nearby, which housed the section crew that maintained the tracks. A pictorial history included 1920's Welda Station Agent George Kellstadt, grandfather of Kenny Kellstadt, at work in the depot.

The depot's 2011 final move was from along Highway 56 near Overbrook, KS to its current home near the Great Overland Station in North Topeka. Mr. Calwell was asked to head the move and the major restoration project that is ongoing. The signage is authentic original Santa Fe signs. Furnishings and equipment are all period accurate. are original. Baggage carts and passenger benches have been carefully restored. A brick platform will be built as more funds are available. Mr. Calwell leads guided tours for the public.

Susan Wettstein and Julie Turnipseed, representing the City of Garnett and Economic Development, presented an official Garnett flag to be exhibited at the Historical Society Museum. Emma Self, winner of the flag design contest, was recognized and signed the border of the flag.

Kim Campbell Gruner paid tribute to her mother, Shirley Roeckers, as she was presented a Lifetime Service Award from the Historical Society. Shirley recently retired after serving 27 years as an officer and on the Board of Directors, working tirelessly to preserve the history of Anderson County. She was recognized as a devoted community volunteer and recipient of numerous community awards.

Vice-President Richard Miller announced that the historical society has been awarded a Humanities Council grant to fund a project, designed by Renee Pagenkoph, that will develop exhibits of early
