Cops, suspect end standoff peacefully

Patience, pressure helps bring peaceful end as tense hours tick by in Garnett

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – A five-hour standoff with law officers ended peacefully Wednesday with the arrest of a Garnett man on assault charges.

Joseph “Theo” Dalton, 24, was taken into custody at the home of his grandmother, Joy Dalton, just north of the intersection of Park Road and Maple Street in Garnett. He is being held in Anderson County Jail pending formal charges in district court today.

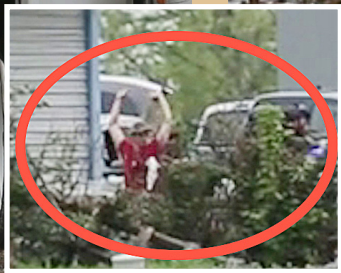

A press release from the Garnett Police Department said officers responded to a report of a domestic incident at the home and were told Dalton, a convicted felon, was in possession of a handgun. When officers went to the residence to speak with him about the matter, the press release said Dalton barricaded himself in the house and refused to come out.

A family friend said Dalton and his grandmother Joy Dalton had a strained domestic relationship for a number of years, however Joy Dalton had left her home before the standoff began and was not present during the remainder of the incident.

Officers surrounded the residence and instructed Dalton numerous times to come out of the house and give himself up, but it was only as the special tactics team from Coffey County Sheriff’s Department began to move against the house with guns drawn that Dalton opted to surrender.

That first look

“First Impressions” tour gives Garnett an idea of how others see us

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – The city got high marks for amenities and directional signage in a recent “First Impressions” tour coordinated by Kansas State Research and Extension, but dilapidated properties, empty downtown buildings, limited housing and poor business signage were among the negatives experienced by the touring teams.

The results of the “First Impressions” tour are among various sets of data presumed to be part of the study of community betterment soon to be undertaken by the City of Garnett with the formation of a town committee with members from various stakeholder groups throughout the city. City manager discussed the group’s formation and appointment criteria with city commissioners at Tuesday’s city commission meeting.

Officials in Columbus, Ks., had expressed interest in Impressions program with the Extension, so organizers contacted Garnett to act as a reciprocal team to send visitors to Columbus and render their impressions at roughly the same time Columbus visitors came to

City struggles with timing of 5-member vote

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – City officials’ efforts to squeeze the 5-member commissioner ordinance onto the upcoming November election ballot met with failure again this week after officials were told by Anderson County Clerk Julie Heck the May 1 ballot deadline couldn’t be fudged.

City leaders had hoped to bump back the May 1 ballot certification deadline with the clerk in order to have a little more time to finalize their own election timeline for a vote on the 5-member commission issue, which was petitioned for a vote by more than 100 petition signers earlier this month. City Commissioners hoped to find some leeway amid a complicated congruence of state laws that specify not just the scheduling of the regular November election and the readying of the ballot for that general election, but also laws that affect specifics of elections forced by petition on changes defined in charter

No timeline from Ag Department to flesh out new commercial industrial hemp law

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

TOPEKA – The option to grow commercial industrial hemp for Anderson County farmers and others across the state got a boost earlier this month when Governor Laura Kelly signed a bill creating a Commercial Industrial Hemp Program.

But as to when it gets into full swing and actually becomes effective? Well, that’ll be another government waiting game. Officials are hoping for next planting season.

Now, it’s up to the Kansas Department of Agriculture and the governor to detail the program for approval by the U.S. Department of Agriculture so the state’s farmers can actually get into the hemp business. The commercial growing program will replace the existing research program once it is finalized and approved by USDA.

“This is the first step toward Kansas developing a plan to allow for commercial hemp production, introducing an option for diversification for Kansas farmers,” Secretary Mike Beam said. “We support new and innovative opportunities for agriculture growth, and this legislation allows Kansas to seek approval from USDA for advancing industrial hemp in Kansas.”

This year is the first year that industrial hemp can be grown in Kansas, and at this time it is only allowed

Colony Christian Church news

Howard Reiter gave the Communion Meditation on "Ain't it awful?". Jeremiah tried for 40 years to get the Israelites to repent from their idolatrous practices or face the wrath of God. He referenced Lamentations 3:25-42. Pastor Chase Riebel gave the sermon on virtue #5 in the Believe series, Hope. The hope that we have in Christ is a wonderful thing. Hebrews 11:1 says that hope is the "evidence of things we can not see", so it must be more certain than just wishful thinking. Our hope is in Christ, and we must listen carefully to the truth we have heard so we do not drift away from Him.

We anchor our "ship" (soul) to God's Word. An anchor is designed to hold you fast where you need to be. Use God's Word as an anchor against the worldly winds and waves. Our hope in Christ and Heaven... there is no death, no sorrow, no pain, etc in Heaven. Cope today by holding on to the hope of tomorrow.

within research programs as allowed by the 2014 Farm Bill. The opportunity to expand cultivation of industrial hemp for commercial use was made possible as part of the 2018 Farm Bill. The governor's signature on the bill allows Kansas to begin development of the regulations for commercial use of industrial hemp.

Additionally, the bill establishes prohibitions on the production and marketing of specific products and establishes waste disposal requirements for industrial hemp processors.

A press release from the governor's office did not provide a timeline for the expected approval of the commercial program.

Which road are you on?

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

In the Walt Disney classic "Alice in Wonderland" Alice stands at the fork in the road and wonders which way she should go. She sees the cat in the tree and asks which way she should go. The cat answers, "that depends on which way you are going." Alice answers, "I don't know." The cat then responds, "then I guess it doesn't matter."

It was Yogi Berra who said, "when you come to the fork in the road take it." Most of the time life's choices are like fork's in the road. They can go in opposite directions and lead to different destinations.

In Matthew 7:13-14 Jesus says, "Enter through the narrow gate. For wide is the gate and broad is the road that leads to destruction, and many enter through it. But small is the gate and narrow the road that leads to life and only a few find it." This does not mean that it is difficult to become a Christian but the way to becoming a Christian is extremely narrow.

In my life I have taken both forks and I have found out that even though the gate was wide and the road was broad after I entered in and went a ways the road narrowed down and the way became difficult. On the contrary, even though the other fork was small and narrow the way opened up after I had gone a ways and it became easier not more difficult.

In John 10:9 Jesus says, "I am gate; whoever enters through me will be saved." By this statement Jesus eliminates any other alternatives for salvation. He makes the way of salvation as narrow as possible. Most people today do not have much tolerance for such narrow theology. They want to contribute to their salvation in some way. That is why the wide gate and broad road are so crowded.

After many turns at the fork in the road I found out what Jesus said was true. It has to be that narrow, otherwise what did the cross accomplish? Christ died for my sins and for your sins. Jesus took my sins and gave me his righteousness in return. What could I add? The direction we choose to go at the fork in the road matters. One direction leads to life and the other leads to destruction. Which road are you on?

Medical pot a good first step to making possession no sin in Kansas

Some members of the Kansas House exhibited a fair amount of paranoia as they approved a bill to legalize limited medical marijuana recently, including an accusation that anyone who voted for the bill would be breaking their oath of office.

Oh, come on. But then, this is Kansas, where we did not fully repeal Prohibition until 1984.

The House did pass the bill 88-35, which would allow people to possess cannabidiol, or CBD oil, with a concentration of no more than 5 percent tetrahydrocannabinol, the psychoactive, or drug, component of marijuana.

It would remain illegal to sell, buy or manufacture the oil in Kansas, but people with a doctor's note could go to another state where that is legal, say Colorado, and buy the oil.

Passage came after testimony by family after family of the suffering many endured and how the oil helped ease pain and seizures where prescription drugs did not.

We are doing ourselves, our state and our society no favors by continuing the present system

But the opposition showed just how grounded our state is in the days of "Reefer Madness" and other anti-marijuana propaganda of the early 20th century. It is about time, as this bill moves on to the Senate, for the Legislature to look at another step: decriminalizing possession of small amounts of marijuana.

Not legalizing the stuff, which will come up for debate a ways down the line. Just taking it out of the court system as much as possible. We are doing ourselves, our state and our society no favors by continuing the present system, where people can be handcuffed and hauled off to jail for possession.

Once marked with a record for possession of marijuana, a person is liable to be searched just about any time he or she is stopped by the law.

The result is predictable: time in jail awaiting trial, another conviction, maybe a hard sentence, maybe another probation. Then a tough time finding a job until the next time they're stopped.

This cycle is hard to break, impossible until we start to deal with addiction as a disease, a medical condition, rather than a crime. These cases clog our courts, costing the state millions each year, but seldom reach a solution to the problem.

Meantime, marijuana users and other addicts live in poverty, caught in a culture of petty crime, and subject their families to a life no child should have to lead.

Since the state has little to gain, and a lot of expense to save, by simply declaring possession to be something less than a crime, the decision ought to be easy.

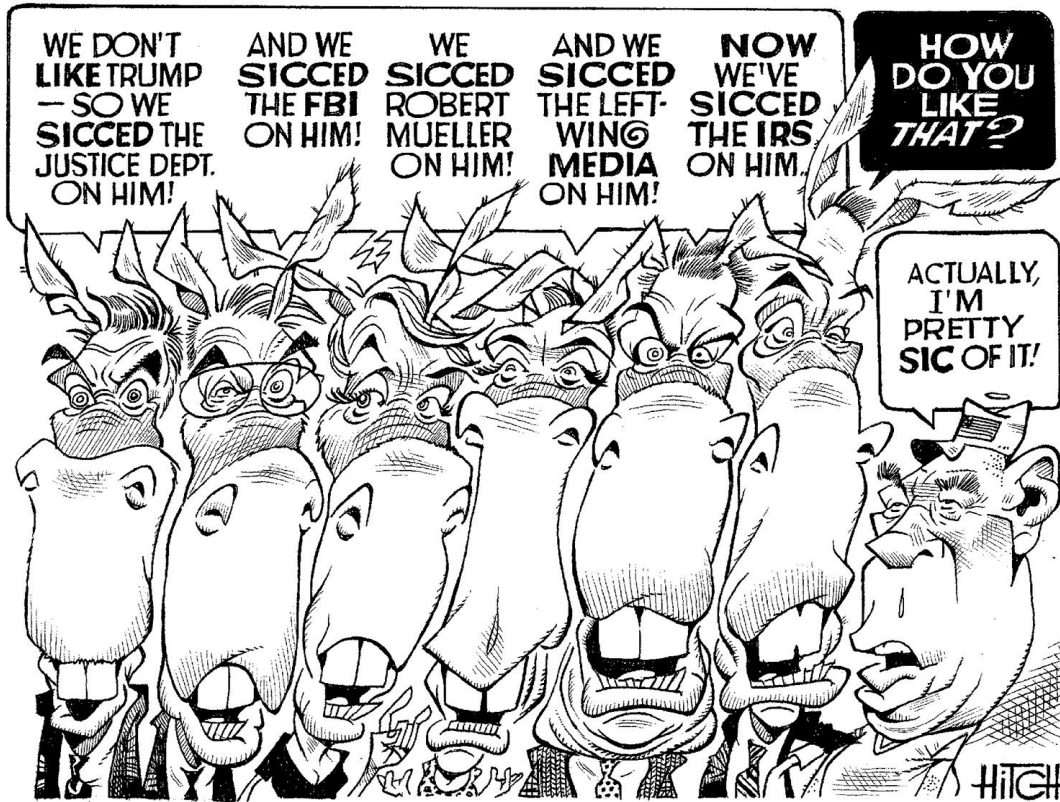

We could spend the money we waste trying, jailing, processing and warehousing people on effective treatment instead. Not that it would be easy, but rather that it might work, where the present system is just recycling the same people, year after year.

In truth, prohibition never works. It succeeds only in enriching the criminal class, and creating jobs for enforcers. People still do what they want to do. They just pay cartels rather than corporations.

Don't hold your breath until our state comes to its senses, however.

Doing what should be done likely is a few years down the road.

An argument for soccer at ACHS

Letter to the editor

If you were investing in the stock market and heard a particular stock which has been around for an extended period of time were up 13% over the last ten years and continue to climb every year would you be interested in investing. To expand on that if the same stock were known internationally and is spreading throughout the United States faster than ever. Then add to that one of the major hot beds for usage of the stock was less than an hour away in the Kansas City Metro would you be even more interested. I believe most of you would be jumping all over this stock to not only support a local business but because the stock can help you in the future.

So you may ask why I would ask about a stock in such a way in Anderson County, Kansas. Well the reason is because we have a chance to be one of the first schools in the Pioneer League to add something that has had a raise of over 13% in the number of participants in High School throughout the country. The activity is known worldwide and is expanding at unbelievable pace in the United States. The Kansas City area is known as one of the hot beds in the United States and the activity can help children with their future by getting scholarships to college, build relationships and other positive attributes. The activity I am talking about the children in Anderson County can currently only do until sixth grade or go outside of the county to do it elsewhere.

The activity I am talking about is soccer. We have started a petition to add soccer to Anderson County High School which will allow more children to participate in the sport of their choice. I have also talked to Garnett Recreation Director, Phil Bures, who has considered expanding the age groups for soccer to include the 7th and 8th grade age group. This is just a start, which will help improve the children who wish to play soccer at the high school level. There are children who have played the game since they were four years old just to be told we do not want to add soccer because of one reason or another.

Let me address some of the issues:

There are not enough athletes to participate and it will ruin our other sports. The proposal is to make the soccer team a coed team which would participate in the fall. There are many teams in southeast Kansas who compete as a coed team. Even schools like Louisburg started their team as coed until the numbers were high enough to split the team. There are currently 34 teams in 4-1A soccer in Kansas, 13 of these schools are smaller than Anderson County High School. Eight of these schools have both football and soccer at the high school level. These numbers came straight from the KSHSAA website.

Who will there be for the team to compete with? There are 17 schools in 4-1A within an hour and a half including Ottawa, Paola, Louisburg, Chanute, Baldwin and Fort Scott. Many of the schools are within an hour. Also if we are able to get soccer here, then it can help the other Pioneer League Schools add the sport.

Garnett Recreation does not use regulation rules. This is a which came first argument, if you do not have high school soccer how are the officials which are in high school expected to know all the rules. Adding soccer at the high school will help with the officiating, which in turn helps the high school get better. I used to officiate multiple sports including college soft-

Right to free speech, speedy trial, AND abortion

What was likely to be a three-day, maybe five-day veto session of the Kansas Legislature got more complicated last week with the Kansas Supreme Court decision that abortion is a right of Kansas women under the state constitution.

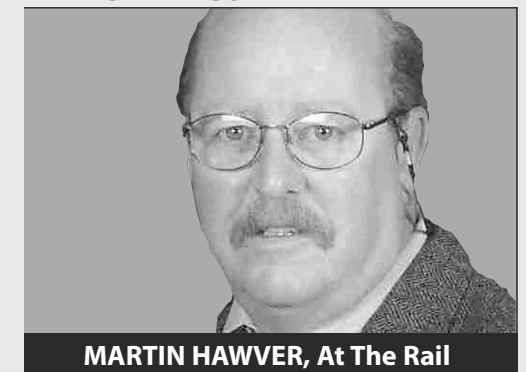

That high court decision which pronounces a woman's decision to have an abortion a right under the state constitution sends the issue back to Shawnee County District Court for consideration of a bill that outlaws a specific procedure used in more than 90 percent of abortions in Kansas.

Nothing changes immediately. The second-trimester abortion procedure specifically outlawed by the bill remains legal until the specifics of that dilation and evacuation procedure are considered by the district court, and then likely challenged at the Court of Appeals level and then likely by the Kansas Supreme Court. That could take a year or so, but that provides time for the Legislature to try to change the state constitution to prohibit nearly all abortions in Kansas.

It's a hot-button political scrap that may well dominate the planned short veto session of the Legislature, becoming an issue that will cast a shadow over assembling a budget, considering expansion of Medicaid eligibility, possibly a tax bill, and then getting out of town.

It's still not clear when the Legislature will consider a resolution to allow voters to determine whether abortion will be banned in Kansas after a fetus is detected, but there are already House and Senate resolutions

STATE COMMENTARY

introduced earlier this year that might just get pulled out of a committee for debate in either chamber. That'll make the veto session longer—count on it—if either the House or Senate gets the measure to the floor for debate.

And, for you political/procedural junkies, each chamber's resolutions are strongly, near-emotionally written. If one or the other gains the two-thirds vote in both the House and Senate—the governor doesn't have a role in the process—that public vote would be taken at the November 2020 general election when every House and Senate seat is on the line.

So, the wrap-up session is going to be emotional, and every decision on the abortion issue is going to be dissected by anti-abortion and abortion-rights legislators, and the lobbying groups which support them.

Delay the issue until next session for debate in an election year? Take fast action this session while the issue which smoldered for four years in courthouses has emerged?

Anti-abortion activists may not be sated by leadership assertions that the issue is too complicated to be thoughtfully dealt with in the few days left this session. Abortion-rights activists have apparently won on the Kansas constitutional issue, but the widely used abortion procedure's battle in court may influence votes, depending on how it is described both in debate to get it on the ballot and the inevitable campaigning on the issue ahead of a statewide referendum.

Oh, and how lawmakers vote to put—or not put—the constitutional issue before voters will be a hot-button campaign issue in their election or reelection bids.

Yes, it gets complicated, this one issue that the Supreme Court has put into debate with just a few days left in the session.

And, don't forget those two other issues that the Supreme Court will leave its fingerprints on this year, adequacy of funding for public schools and just who gets to nominate the next judge on the Kansas Court of Appeals to succeed retired judge Patrick McAnany...

All of a sudden, it seems, that black robe gang becomes the focus of the legislative session. It gets complicated when the court and the Legislature interact...

Sorry, Democrats... Your brightest stars are Socialists

There was Bernie Sanders at a Fox News Channel town hall, not giving an inch in a forum every Democratic presidential candidate has shunned.

His reward was a cataract of good reviews, and monster ratings. Sanders had a solid hour to try to reach people not favorably inclined to his worldview, at the very least demonstrating that he's willing to show up outside his political silo.

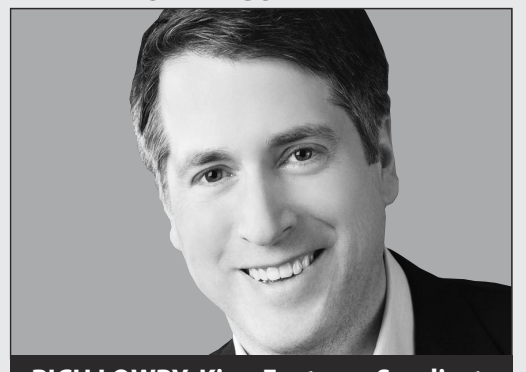

Why hadn't any of the other Democrats done it before? Because they lacked the verve and ideological self-confidence of Sanders, as well as the independent streak to buck the Democratic Party's attempt to hold the line against Fox. As a message candidate, Sanders is willing to take his anywhere.

Speaker Nancy Pelosi, miraculously transformed into a relatively moderate Democratic elder stateswoman, has been pushing back against the notion that she leads a socialist party defined by a few radicals in the House. On "60 Minutes," she stalwartly declared: "I do reject socialism as an economic system. If people have that view, that's their view. That is not the view of the Democratic Party." She dismissed the left wing in her caucus as "like, five people."

In sheer numbers this is true, but it's the wrong way to count.

The fact is that the most compelling stars of the party are self-declared socialists with a knack for generating controversy and media attention, and with committed mass follow-ings. Pelosi might wish it weren't true, but poll numbers, fundraising and follower counts don't lie.

Sanders is reliably second - sometimes first - in national and state presidential polling. He's outraised everyone else in the field and, with his massive small-donor base, probably can continue to do so for the duration. More than anyone else, he has defined the Democratic Party's current agenda.

It'll be much harder to maintain that the Democratic Party isn't socialist if it nominates one as its presidential candidate, which everyone paying attention realizes is a real possibility.

If this happens, it won't be the work of conservatives hoping to negatively brand the Democrats, but of the party's faithful. The same goes for the prominence of Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez. She has been on the cover of Time magazine, Rolling Stone (with Nancy Pelosi), Hollywood Reporter and Bloomberg Businessweek. Annie Leibovitz photographed her for Vogue. She's been interviewed by "60 Minutes."

She was among the top 10 House Democrats in fundraising the first quarter, and had the highest percentage of small donors (her ally, Ilhan Omar, also excelled).

It's obviously vexing to Pelosi to see a House majority built by the careful avoidance of ideological extravagance and won in marginal districts hijacked, at least in terms of public attention, by a few freshmen and a 77-year-old Vermont socialist.

Yes, there are vast numbers of Democrats out there who aren't on Twitter or Instagram. Maybe there are enough of them to nominate Joe Biden, or a Pete Buttigieg can win on a progressive platform clothed in a moderate demeanor.

But the party's stars will have something to say about it. The great Zionist Theodor Herzl maintained, "It is the simple and fantastic which leads men." As Bernie Sanders showed, it's also willing to go on Fox News.

A man who is kind to dumb animals has a mighty big streak of good in him. A few evenings ago, when the wind was blowing quite cold, a representative heard a young man who had ridden from the country say he put his overcoat over his horse so the wind wouldn't chill him. Now what do you think of that? It isn't every man who is so kind to his horse.

Marilyn Grace and Wanda Kirkland of Ottawa won the duplicate bridge match April 24th in Garnett.

Part three: Mystery trip comes to an end

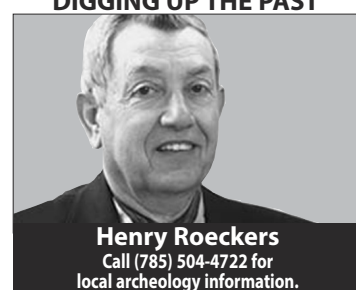

Our Mystery trip starts winding down and comes to an end.

Day 4, Wednesday, March 27:

We started our day at the Kilgore, Texas Public Library, where we all made wooden ornaments from a local pecan tree. Then we traveled on to Rush, Texas for lunch at the Texas State Railroad Train Depot.

After lunch we hopped aboard an old steam engine pulling several passenger cars (open air and enclosed), for a Piney Woods Excursion journey through the beautiful East Texas countryside. However, about 10-15 minutes into our ride our train hit something lying on the tracks, causing damage to the trains braking system. After about a 1 hour delay, we were on our way. Our excursion ended in Palestine, Texas, where our motor coach was waiting for us. Tonight we stayed at the Drury Inn, Frisco, Texas, where we also enjoyed a wonderful buffet dinner.

Day 5, Thursday, March 28:

Today we experienced a VIP guided tour of "The Star" which is the Dallas Cowboys World Headquarters.

Here we visited the Ford Center, War Room, Nike Star Walk, Super Bowl Memorabilia & Station and the Grand Atrium. During this tour we saw several coaches and Dallas Cowboys in the hallways, weight training rooms and out on the beautiful practice field. Security was a high priority. No one was allowed to carry anything into this building larger than handheld cell phones (the ladies could not even carry in their purses).

Everyone of us were gone over from head to toe with hand held detectors before entering. After taking several back roads of Oklahoma, we found ourselves in Tishomingo, Oklahoma.

Here we ate lunch at "Ole Red", Blake Shelton's Restaurant in his hometown. After lunch we journeyed back to our beginnings at Yoder, Kansas. We said our farewells to all our traveling companions. Kay and I stayed the night at the "Sunflower Inn" in Yoder.

Day 6, Friday, March 29:

After enjoying a delicious breakfast at the "Carriage House Restaurant" in Yoder with our friends Lloyd & Marikay Bures from Richmond, Ks., we departed for home in the rain. It seemed it wanted to follow us all the way to Garnett. We arrived home at 12:20 p.m., our Mystery Trip had reached an end, it was no longer a mystery, but lots of memories of a beautiful trip.

Garnett.

As expected, Garnett got kudos for its concentration of valuable facilities: city lakes and parks, baseball/softball facility, Recreation Center, Prairie Spirit Rail Trail as well as a wide range of restaurants.

"Nice to see a southeast Kansas town that has so many amenities," read reviewers comments presented with the study. "The amenities would attract young and old and everything in between. General upbeat attitude."

On the downside, visitors said the number of distressed residential properties on the city's thoroughfares was distracting. Downtown buildings too, some abandoned and some simply in poor repair, sullied what would otherwise have been a more positive impression. Some either lacked signage altogether or presented signs that were not very distinguishable from the road.

One particular positive, according to the visitors, was the presence of directional signage along highways pointing to retail areas, lakes schools, lodging and the rail trail. The visitors also noticed the broad use of the city's logo on signage and even on employees' work clothes - the product of a city branding campaign and design work conducted several years ago.

The report included limited analysis of local economics, and no assessment of property valuation change and its impact on taxes and local public budgets.

The report noted few real estate "for sale" signs in the area although it mentioned a wide variety and price range of housing. There was no ready list of landlords, the report said, and no "for rent" signs in the neighborhoods they viewed.

Bulldogs sweep fueled by walk off hit in the opener against Louisburg

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Anderson County squared off with Louisburg on Thursday and won a pair of games to make it 5 straight wins for the Bulldogs.

In the opener it was a tight battle throughout as the Bulldogs rallied in the bottom of the seventh inning by scoring a couple of runs, winning with a walkoff 2-run single by Porter Richards with two outs.

Louisburg tallied the first run of the game without recording a base hit in the top half of the first inning.

The Bulldogs starting pitcher, Tyler Denny, struggled with his control early on. He walked the leadoff hitter on 5 pitches and hit the second batter of the game on an 0-1 count.

Then Louisburg reached third base by tagging up on a flyout and would go on to score when the runner on first stole second.

Anderson County promptly answered with a pair of runs in the bottom half of the opening frame.

Spencer led off the game with a triple and would score on a wild pitch to knot the game at one.

With two outs, Richards reached on an infield single, Bo Dilliner followed by reaching via catcher's interference and then Damone Kueser drove home Richards with a single to right field.

It would remain that way until the top of the 6th when Louisburg tied the game up. The leadoff hitter reached via an error and after advancing to second on a fielder's choice he scored on a single.

Louisburg tacked on one more run in the top of the 7th to take the lead. After a leadoff single and then advancing to third quickly with two stolen bases, the runner would score on a sacrifice fly with no one out to take the lead.

This all set up the late game heroics. The Bulldogs led off the bottom of the 7th with a single by D. Kellerman.

D. Rockers sacrificed pinch runner J. Stifter to second base. A pair of walks would load the bases which set up the game winning hit by Richards.

Richards and Spencer led

Anderson County with 2 hits in the game.

Tyler Denny pitched all 7 innings, allowing 5 hits and just 2 earned runs.

In the second game, the Bulldogs had to shake off a rocky start as they pulled away for a 9-4 win.

Louisburg tallied all 4 of their runs in the first inning off Kueser.

Kueser started off the game with back to back groundouts before Louisburg rallied.

The next five batters reached base by the way of three singles, a double and a walk enroute to their 4 runs.

Kueser would settle down after the first innings and allow just 3 more hits over the next 5 innings without allowing a run.

The Bulldogs answered with three runs in the bottom half of the inning and scored a pair of runs in the 3rd, 5th and 6th innings.

Kueser led the way offensively driving in 4 runs in the game.

Dilliner was 2-3 at the plate and scored 3 runs.

AC Bulldogs makes it 7 straight wins following sweep of Prairie View

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - The Bulldogs hadn't scored more than 15 runs combined in any double-header this year until Friday when they pounded out 34 hits and 31 runs in a sweep of Prairie View.

The sweep was only made possible by a 9 run fifth inning in the opening game and to not be outdone they tallied 11 runs in the bottom of the sixth in the second game to finish off a comeback after trailing 10-1 early on.

That 9-run bottom of the fifth inning came when Anderson County was trailing 6-4

Seven of the first 8 batters in the 5th inning reached base. Travis Spencer and D. Rockers each had two hits in the inning to lead the comeback.

Rockers along with Austin Adams and Porter Richards, all led the Bulldogs with 3 hits in the game.

Adams and Rockers scored 3 times to pace the Bulldogs.

On the mound, Richards had a shaky start allowing 3 hits, 5 walks and 3 earned runs in just 2 innings.

Kyle Edgecomb closed out the game pitching the final 2 2/3 innings, allowing no runs off of just 1 hit.

In the late game, it took another comeback victory, another big inning and late game drama to down Prairie View, this time 18-12.

Prairie View jumped all over the Bulldogs early. They scored 2 runs in the first, 3 runs in the second and 5 more in the third inning to take an early 10-1 lead.

With it being the fourth game in two days, the Bulldogs pitching staff was somewhat depleted.

Starting the game was A. Miller. Miller went just 1 2/3 innings, allowed 5 hits, walked 3 batters and allowed 5 earned runs.

Next up was J. Stifter. He struggled as well going just 2/3 of an inning, allowing 2 hits, walked a pair of batters and allowed 5 runs, 3 of which were earned.

Edgecomb came in during the third inning and somewhat stabilized the pitching.

He allowed 2 runs in three innings, but did still allow 6 hits and a walk over that span.

Despite the struggles, Anderson County's offense picked up the slack in the fourth inning by scoring 6 runs to cut the lead down to 10-7.

Six singles and a double helped fuel the inning. The final run came when the Bulldogs executed a double steal. Porter stole second base and on the throw, Adams stole home for a run.

Prairie View would stop the bleeding and plate lone runs in the top of the fifth and sixth inning to forge ahead 12-7 and seemingly have things back under control.

The Bulldogs erupted for 11 runs off of 7 hits, 5 walks and an error in the bottom of the sixth.

Tanner Spencer pitched a perfect seventh inning, striking out all 3 batters to end the game.

AC girls power their way to victory over Louisburg

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Anderson County used a strong start and big bats to propel themselves to a 10-6 victory over Louisburg on Thursday afternoon.

The Lady Bulldogs wasted little time in their half of the first inning, scoring 6 runs on just 3 hits and 2 walks. The big blow of the inning was a three run homerun by C. Crane to account for the final three runs of the frame.

AC would tack on one more run in the second via a passed ball to take an early 7-0 lead.

Louisburg answered with three runs in the top of the third inning and the game remained 7-3 heading into the bottom half of the fifth.

The long ball was key again for the Bulldogs. Following a leadoff double by Cali Foltz and a single by E. Pedrow, Ashley Lickteig hit a homerun to left field to plate all three runs and give them a commanding 10-3 lead.

Louisburg did answer, once again, with three runs in the top of the sixth to get within striking distance but they wouldn't get any closer.

Lickteig finished the game 2-3, scored twice and drove in 5 runs.

On the mound, Allison Brown pitched 7 innings, allowed 9 hits, 4 earned runs and struck out 15.

Lady Bulldogs make it 9 consecutive wins with sweep of Prairie View

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Great pitching and timely hitting are the key to stringing together a winning streak like the Anderson County Bulldogs have put together and they kept the theme going in the opening game 3-0 victory over Prairie View.

Allison Brown continued to lead the way for AC on the mound, pitching 7 innings, allowing just 2 hits while striking out 13 batters.

The game was scoreless until the bottom of the fifth.

Prairie View opened the inning with an error, allowing Rayna Jasper to make it to first base.

Following a Brown single, Prairie View made another mistake in the field allowing Jasper to score on an errant throw to first base.

Cali Foltz cleared the bases with two outs in the inning, sending a home run to left field to give the Bulldogs a 3-0 lead.

In the late game, Prairie

View jumped out quickly with a pair of runs in the top half of the first inning before the Bulldogs answered with 3 runs in the bottom half of the first, one in the second and four runs in the fourth as they cruised to a 9-3 win.

Foltz led the way with 4 hits in 4 at bats, scored 3 runs and drove in a pair of runs.

Brown, once again, controlled the Prairie View bats. She limited the opposition to just 2 hits over 7 innings and didn't allow an earned run.

ordinances. Heck said she was contacted by city clerk Travis Wilson about the change after last week's city commission meeting.

"I informed him that May 1st deadline is a hard date by statute," Heck said. "It gives citizens time to file for office by the June 1st deadline."

That means city leaders have to notify the clerk by tomorrow that one commissioner position will be up for election this fall - the regularly-scheduled post now held by Greg Gwin - because they don't know whether the 5-member option will pass or not. The original plan was to delay Gwin's post election for a year, elect the two new positions, then set up a staggered 2-1 election schedule that would give new commissioners some time to train under the present guard.

But the election deadline leaves city commissioners with limited - either schedule a more expensive special election (a mail ballot is the most expensive at some $7,600) to resolve the issue as quickly as possible and keep Gwin's election set for this fall, or default to a one-year extension of Brigitte Brecheisen Huss' term and conduct the transition as originally planned, just a year later. Under that plan, the two new commissioners wouldn't take office until January 2021.

Commissioners were split on which election option to take. Huss said she favored the mail ballot option even though it was more expensive because turn-out in the 2019 off-year election would likely be much lower than the 2018 advisory vote. Gwin and commissioner Jody Cole both said they favored coupling the question with a regularly scheduled ballot to save costs.

ball, I understand how hard it can be if you do not participate to know every rule.

The level of competition in Garnett is lower than other areas: Is the area the level of play that much lower or are the top players just spread out more. Having moved back from Chanute this year I would be willing to put a team from the six teams together in the 4th-6th grade league together to play against a team the same age in Chanute. Chanute in their first year of high school soccer went into the post season with a .500 record.

Four area students awarded Masonic Foundation scholarships

Garnett, KS – The Kansas Masonic Foundation, Inc., the charitable arm for the Grand Lodge of Kansas, its 205 statewide Masonic Lodges and Kansas Masons, announce the award of 250 scholarships to Kansas students. The awards total nearly $200,000.

The scholarships, which range from $500 to $25,000, are awarded to graduating high school seniors and students already attending four- and two-year universities and colleges, including junior colleges and vocational and technical colleges, throughout the state.

"It is with great pride that we, as Masons, are able to provide this type of financial support to our future leaders," said Rick W. Reichert, President of the Kansas Masonic Foundation. "Our commitment to the scholarship program – and to the numerous other programs that benefit Kansans and Kansas communities through the Foundation the Masonic Lodges throughout the state – is at the core of our belief that charity beyond ourselves strengthens our community."

Over the more than 50 years of its existence, the Foundation, along with the Grand Lodge of Kansas, its 205 statewide lodges and almost 15,000 Kansas Freemasons, have given thousands of scholarships and millions of dollars to deserving students in Kansas.

"Whether it is this scholarship program, the more than $30 million that Kansas Masons have donated to the University of Kansas Cancer Center, the $20 million that was recently committed as part of the Foundation's 50th Anniversary, or any of the other worthwhile endeavors to help others that Masons are committed to do, our Fraternity provides significant charitable support to Kansas and throughout the world," said Dale R. Morrow, Grand Master of Masons in Kansas. Morrow also noted that more than $360 million has been raised annually by the American Masonic philanthropy alone.

The 250 scholarships are being presented to students by their local Masonic Lodge during April and May. On April 25 a special presentation was held for Anderson County area students who had received scholarships. Kinlee Jones, Devin Stegner, Cheyenne Eddings, and Bryce Feuerborn received scholarships totaling

Tractor safety class for youth

The Frontier Extension District will be sponsoring a Hazardous Occupation Training (H.O.T) class May 31st. This class is required for 14 and 15 year old youth who want to operate farm tractors on farms other than for their parents. The only time a 14-15 year old would be exempt from needing this training would be if he or she works for their parents on the family farm. This training is required however, if the "family's farm" is a partnership, incorporated, or the youth is working on a grandparent's farm. This training is also required if youth are planning to use lawn mowers or tractors larger than 20 horsepower.

The class will meet Friday, May 31st from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. at the Pomona Community Center in Pomona. The driving and written test will be given off site at a local producer's farm. Youth will be transported by the instructors to the farm and back to the Pomona

Community Center. There will be a small registration fee of $10.00 to cover class materials. Pre-registration is required by calling one of the District Extension Offices, Lyndon at (785)828-4438; Ottawa at (785)229-3520; Garnett at (785)448-6826 or by emailing the agents at: rschaub@ksu.edu or dhibdon@ksu.edu or reschaub@ksu.edu by Friday, May 24th. ## Regular exercise and stretching can help older drivers keep the keys to the car longer

New research from the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety finds that increased fatigue and poor physical functioning are leading factors that can result in older adults limiting their driving. But simple steps, like weekly exercise and stretching, can improve safe driving abilities and keep older adults on the road longer.

The AAA Foundation commissioned researchers at Columbia University to evaluate eight domains - depression, anxiety, fatigue, sleep disturbance, pain interference, physical functioning, pain intensity and participation in social activities - to determine how changes in physical, mental and social health affect driving mobility for older adults. The report found that fatigue and poor physical functioning are most common among older drivers who spend less time behind the wheel.

"Older adults who give up the keys are more likely to suffer from depression than those who remain behind the wheel," said Dr. David Yang, executive director of the AAA

Foundation for Traffic Safety. "It is important that we find ways to keep older drivers in good physical health in order to extend their mobility."

Research shows that daily exercise and stretching can help older drivers to improve overall body flexibility and move more freely to observe the road from all angles. Physical strength also helps drivers remain alert to potential hazards on the road and perform essential driving functions, like:

- Braking
- Steering
- Parking
- Looking to the side and rear
- Adjusting the safety belts
- Sitting for long periods of time

"Some decline in physical fitness is inevitable as we age," said Jake Nelson, AAA director of traffic safety advocacy and research. "But, research shows that exercise doesn't have to be strenuous to produce positive results. You can spread out the time you spend being physically active over the course of your day and week. A few minutes at a time can be sufficient. Simple steps to keep active can keep you driving safely for longer."

The Center for Disease Control and Prevention recommends older adults, who are physically able, get between 2.5 to 5 hours of moderate-intensity exercise each week or between 75 minutes to 2.5 hours of high-intensity physical activity. The exercises should include balance training as well as aerobic and muscle strengthening activities. Older adults should consult their doctor before beginning a new exercise regimen. They should also talk with a healthcare provider about ways to combat fatigue. Prioritizing getting at least seven hours of sleep each night can help older adults stay alert behind the wheel.

AAA recommends a series of stretches to improve neck, shoulder, trunk, back and overall body flexibility. As a leading advocate for senior driver safety, AAA also offers a variety of programs and resources to help older adults improve their driving performance and avoid crashes. For more information on AAA resources for older drivers, such as RoadWise online/classroom courses or other programs that help seniors better "fit" with their vehicles, visit www.SeniorDriving.AAA.com.

Fire in the sky

Greg Doering, Kansas Farm Bureau

While driving through the Flint Hills one evening recently I saw the most brilliant sunset. The day had been mostly overcast, with a gentle breeze from the northwest. It was a perfect day for prescribed burning in the nation's largest patch of tall grass prairie.

I watched as flames licked at last year's growth, stretching skyward as the sun dropped toward the horizon. The clouds broke, but the smoke-filled air dispersed purple, red and orange hues. It looked as if the burning prairie had ignited the entire sky.

It was a beautiful sight, and just a small part of the 2.5 million acres farmers and ranchers have ignited in the Flint Hills this spring. There are still a few days left in the season, which typically runs into early May.

Stretching from just south of the Nebraska border down into northern Oklahoma, the Flint Hills are home to the remains of an ecosystem that once covered much of the Great Plains. The rocky terrain saved nearly 10,000 square miles of tallgrass from being plowed under.

While I know the benefits of prescribed burning, it's one agricultural practice that's often misunderstood.

Fire is a vital tool to preserve this patch of grass. Without it, cedar trees and weeds take over robbing the grass of the nutrients and water it needs.

"We try to burn every year, so we have new fresh grass," Lyon County rancher Jacquelyne Leffler said. "We do it for weed control, but we also want that fresh grass that gives us optimal gain for our cattle as well. We're in the market to be profitable, too."

Leffler and her family run a stocker operation that places 600-pound cattle on grass around mid-April.

"Hopefully when we pull them off in August, we'll have around 2.2 to 3 pounds of gain per day," Leffler said.

While fire is friendly to ranchers' bottom line, it's also good for the environment. Controlled burns kill weeds, nourish the soil, destroy parasites living in dead grass and help preserve the prairie ecosystem. Fire is vital to wildlife like prairie chickens and other grassland birds. Most of that can be achieved through other means, but Leffler said, those aren't nearly as efficient as fire.

"It's cheaper to be able to light a match and just have some water to control it," Leffler said. "It makes it so our land is sustainable for the future generations that will be here."

Safety is a key component of prescribed burns, Leffler said. And that starts with knowing where you're burning. "Our ground isn't necessarily flat and smooth, so we try to make sure everybody knows where the bigger ditches are," Leffler said, noting that helpers also carry tools to cut fence if they need a quick escape route.

"We leave at least a 50-foot backburn anywhere we want the fire to stop," she said. "Once we do that, we make sure everyone's accounted for, and then we go into the process of lighting the head fire."

Pushed by the prevailing wind, the head fire clears the land of cedars and other woody plants.

"That means more grass is going to be able to come up, so that means more feed for our cattle, which is going to contribute to those better gains," Leffler said.

Community Band Spring Concert May 5

The Garnett Area Community Band invites you to attend their Spring Concert on Sunday, May 5, 2019 beginning at 3:00 p.m. in the Auditorium at Anderson County Junior Senior High School in Garnett.

Under the direction of Ms. Jana Havens, the Band will perform some of their favorites, including: a concert march, "Tall Cedars;" an exciting mixed-meter piece, "Velocity;" a Two-Step, "The Walking Frog." This Karl King classic was originally written as circus music for clown "walk abouts." "Hands Across the Sea" is an American military march composed by John Philip Sousa in 1899. "This march is addressed to no particular nation, but to all American's friends abroad."

The Garnett Area Musicians will be joined by musicians from Burlington, LaCygne, Lawrence, Ottawa, Paola, Princeton, and Richmond.

Plan to join us for refreshments (free-will donation) served immediately following the concert in the Commons Area. Everyone is invited to come, enjoy the entertaining music and visit with friends, family & neighbors.

Reagan Jirak initiated into Honor Society at Washburn

ship, leadership and service. Mortar Board was founded in 1918. There are more than 200 active chapters across the nation. Washburn's Ichabod chapter of Mortar Board was chartered in 2006

Emergency Livestock Management Workshops scheduled for spring

MANHATTAN - Livestock owners face numerous challenges, including natural disasters like flooding and wildfire and the threat of foreign animal diseases like African Swine Fever and foot-and-mouth disease, which have impacted other countries. The Kansas Department of Agriculture works to help Kansas livestock owners, from large feedyards to families with show animals, in preparing for the impact any of these disasters could have on their lives. This spring, KDA will host eight regional workshops to assist Kansans throughout the livestock industry with emergency preparedness.

The workshops will help livestock owners understand which foreign animal diseases are a possible threat to their animals and how an outbreak could impact them as well as the industry as a whole. Attendees will learn what precautions they can take to protect their herds, and how to respond if they do suffer losses due to natural disaster or disease. The workshops are geared toward all livestock owners, regardless of species or size of their herd.

Locally, the Emergency Livestock Management Workshop will be held from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Thursday, May 16 in Iola at the Allen County Courthouse.

All of the workshops are free, and registration is now open for all of the locations at www.agriculture.ks.gov/EmergencyManagement. Registration includes lunch; however, lunch will only be guaranteed to those participants who pre-register. Space is limited to 50 participants.

For more information about the Emergency Livestock Management workshops, contact Kelly Oliver, KDA's assistant emergency management coordinator, at 785-564-6608 or Kelly.Oliver@ks.gov.

Kansas businesses to discuss impact of state regulations

TOPEKA - How state regulations impact the Kansas business community as well as the state's economy and jobs will be the focus of the next Conversations with the Kansas Chamber on Wednesday, May 1st at the Topeka Country Club in Topeka, Kansas.

"A recent analysis by the Mercatus Center found that it would take about 180 hours to read the nearly 71,000 regulations Kansas has on the books. That is in addition to the federal regulations businesses must adhere to in order to operate legally. It is important our state have fair regulations, but burdensome or outdated regulations can interfere with a business' ability to thrive and compete," said Alan Cobb, the Chamber's president and CEO. "The Chamber's conversation event focused on business regulations in Kansas is the first step to identify ways to streamline and eliminate outdated and duplicate regulations."

Senior Research Fellow James Broughel with the Mercatus Center at George

Mason University led the recent review of the Kansas Administrative Regulations (KAR). He will discuss his review what actions Kansas can take to create a fair and less burdensome regulatory environment.

Also taking part is the discussion will be Doyle Pearl, owner of JB Pearl Sales and Service in St. Marys, and Dustin Kuntz, co-owner of Harveyville Seed Company. They will share how state regulations impact their businesses' ability to operate and thrive in Kansas.

JB Pearl Sales and Service is an agribusiness retail and application service company with 45 employees in three locations in St. Marys, Perry, and Lawrence. Doyle Pearl is a former chairman of the Kansas Agribusiness Retailers Association.

Harveyville Seed Company is an agricultural services and retail company that provides services to agricultural producers between Topeka and Emporia.

Pieces & Patches Quilt Guild Opportunity Quilt & May 11th, 2019 Quilt Show

It's our Birthday! We are so excited for this year's show as it is a wonderful celebration of 30 years of quilting in Garnett and surrounding areas. The Pieces and Patches Quilt Guild began on May 25, 1989 with about 6-10 women meeting together who had a love of quilting and wanted to share it with everyone. These women had a vision for what Pieces & Patches Quilt Guild could become. Our first officers were: President, Madeline Scheuerman; Vice-President, LaVerne Cole; Secretary, Elizabeth Katzer, Treasurer, Lou Church; Scrapbook Keeper, Mary Beth Tucker; and Newsletter Editor, Nancy Schuster. These ladies envisioned quilters coming together monthly around the area, sharing ideas and friendship, learning more about the art of quilting, preserving its heritage and making sure that quilting as an art form would not be lost. These Founding Mothers would be and are so proud of the work and dedication of the quilters and the impact that quilting has on our communities, our economy, and our friendships and relationships with each other. It is a dream come true, so please take the time next weekend to stop and take in all that we have to offer and all that quilting means in our lives. We thank these women and all our members past and present, watching from above and here today. We also thank the many volunteers and volunteer hours that have been part of this wonderful 30 years. Come celebrate with us and view the many creative projects on display.

The Pieces and Patches Quilt Guild will host its 30th annual Spring Quilt Show on Saturday, May 11th, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. This quilt show is held at the Senior Center, 128 W. 5th from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. and is free to the public. All quilters and quilt lovers are invited to display their quilts and quilted items in the show. If you would like to display items, guild members will be available to receive items from 8:00 to 10:00 a.m. that morning. There is no fee to enter items. Quilts measuring 30 inches or larger must have a sleeve of at least 4 inches wide for hanging. Items must be picked up by 3:10 p.m. on Saturday, May 11th.

Each year, the guild features a new Opportunity Quilt. This year it is "Quilts from El's Kitchen," created by Eleanor Burns. Trust us; you will definitely want to buy tickets for this wonderful quilt. Our proceeds from the sale of tickets help support the scholarship fund, which awards a scholarship to a high school senior from Anderson County. The 2019 quilt top was made by Shirley Allen, Terrie Gifford, Connie Hatch, Sharon Rich, Judy Stukey, and Lynn Wawrzewski. Quilting was done by Brenda Weiens, Ottawa. Tickets are $1 each or 6 for $5. They can be purchased from any guild member or at the quilt show that day. The drawing will take place at 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 11th. The winner need not be present to win.

The guild would like to thank the following businesses and organizations for their support in displaying and selling tickets for the quilt: Goppert State Service Bank, Patriots Bank, Farmers State Bank, Garnett Public Library, and the Garnett Senior Center.

Come shop at our Boutique! The boutique will feature quilted and quilt related items donated by guild members and are available for purchase. Great gift ideas for purchase. Money raised from the boutique sales will be used for purchasing new display racks for the quilts. Donations are also accepted for purchasing new quilt racks.

Attend the Quilt Show; enjoy the beautiful items made by creative guild members. Come support our guild.
