BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – City residents who want their opinion counted in the upcoming five city commissioner mail ballot election in August need to register by 5 p.m. this coming Wednesday in the Anderson County Clerk's Office for an election mounting as the city's most controversial in years.

Office staff had already begun the process of printing mailing labels for qualified voters, with the plan to mail the ballots on the Thursday following the Wednesday deadline. St. Joe police arrest suspect in Garnett man's killing

Grippando was on parole for unlawful use of a weapon plea at the time of Drimmel altercation

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. – Prosecutors filed charges of second degree murder last week against a 19 year-old St. Joe man in the death of a former Garnett man, and corrected an initial mistake in his cause of death.

Drimmel

Investigators at first reported Dylan Grippando had stabbed 21 year-old Jaiden Drimmel, formerly of Garnett, during an altercation at a St. Joe residence July 11, but police later corrected the record to say Drimmel died of gunshot wounds after the suspect shot him inside a house in the 800 block of South 23rd Street. Grippando was arraigned on Thursday.

According to a probable cause affidavit obtained by the Review, several witnesses said they saw Grippando beating Drimmel with his closed fist during the altercation at the residence. Grippando then retrieved a firearm, witnesses told police, and shot Drimmel as the victim was seated on a couch. Grippando fled the residence after the shooting, witnesses said, and Drimmel stumbled outside the residence where he collapsed and was later pronounced dead.

Grippando

Both Drimmel and Grippando had previous brushes with the law in northwest Missouri. Court records showed Drimmel received a

Rundle remembered for character

Jack Rundle was tuned to his family, his business and his community

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – Jack Rundle was remembered by friends and business associates last week as a person who kept out of the limelight, but who showed his caring for his family, his customers and his community in his deeds.

Rundle, owner of Wolken Tire in Garnett, passed away Wednesday after a short illness. He was 60.

"He was very community minded – a very family oriented man," said Dwight Nelson, president of Goppert State Service Bank in Garnett, who coached biddy basketball, baseball and tournament basketball with Rundle. "He wasn't a leader in a political sense, but he was a leader in the way he conducted his affairs and his business."

Rundle, originally from Monett, Mo., played drums in a working band during college and began working for a tire wholesaler in Missouri after graduating from Missouri State University at Springfield with a degree in business. He sold tires for 13 years, becoming familiar with Ed Wolken, previous owner of Wolken Tire, through their business relationship. Rundle bought the business from Wolken and took it over August 15, 1994. He served on the board of directors and as treasurer of the Mid-American Tire Dealers Association.

Rundle

Rundle was proud of the historic, century-old building – a former livery business – which the company occupied for decades at the southwest corner of Oak Street and 6th Avenue in Garnett. He commented to neighbors often of his pride in the fact that the building has been servicing transportation for city for more than one hundred years.

Rundle invested heavily in a front office remodeling project several years ago and more recently in an expansion of service bays attached to the building's south side.

DRIMMEL

MARCH 21, 1998 - JULY 11, 2019

Jaiden Matthew Drimmel, age 21 of Garnett, Kansas passed away Thursday, July 11, 2019 in St. Joseph, Missouri.

Drimmel

Jaiden was born on March 21, 1998 in Ottawa, Kansas to Michael A. Drimmel and Dana L. (Brown) Drimmel. He attended schools in Garnett, at Garnett Elementary Center and Anderson County Junior/Senior High School.

Jaiden was a high-spirited, spontaneous young man with a big heart, quick wit, and a deadpan sense of humor that could cheer up the somberest of crowds and make him the life of the party— although he could also be reserved and introspective, at times. Jaiden was usually game for just about anything, and he enjoyed fishing, bowling, horseback riding, video games, wrestling, archery, board games like RISK and Monopoly, playing silly pranks on his friends, dogs, story telling, and reminiscing about his much-loved late mother, and keeping her memory alive. Just about the only things that Jaiden despised were algebra and vegetables. He had once wished to become a marine biologist.

Jaiden was preceded in death by his mother, Dana Brown Drimmel; his paternal grandfather, Larry Drimmel; and an infant cousin, Bristol Dana Brown.

He is survived by his father, Michael A. Drimmel, Sr. of Atchison, KS; two siblings— his older brother, Michael A. Drimmel, Jr. (and wife, Heather) of Atchison, KS and his older sister, Victoria Graika, formerly of Garnett, KS; his paternal grandmother, Andrea Reyes of Atchison, KS; his maternal grandmother, Virginia Brown Black (and husband, Art) of Garnett, KS; his maternal grandfather, Lyle Brown of Richmond, KS; and numerous aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces, and nephews, as well as friends that Jaiden considered "family" who all love and miss him very dearly.

Memorial services were Friday, July 19. Donations can be made in Jaiden's memory to the charity of your choice, especially to organizations who help at-risk youth or battered women.

Dems coat Trump in Teflon

Because of his charm and wit as “The Great Communicator,” President Ronald Reagan won the moniker “the Teflon coated president.” No matter his foibles or missteps, negativity never seemed to stick to Reagan in the public’s eyes.

President Donald Trump, no great communicator himself, has received his Teflon coating as well, but this time at least in part at the hands of the Democrats and the media who so despise him.

Hate someone enough, be relentless and loud and in-your-face with your hatred and persecute those additionally who don’t share your hate, and you make a hero out of your target whether he deserves it or not.

That dynamic’s been in play for President Trump since he was elected. What the nation assumed would be a few weeks of despondency and grief by his opponents was quickly transformed into the core fabric of both the Left Wing and Mainstream of the Democrat Party, most of the media and all of Hollywood, education and other left-leaning strongholds. Devoid of even passing professional or personal dignity, the tears of the Left have never stopped flowing.

In fact, there’s evidence that all that gnashing of teeth by the left is alienating formerly lukewarm voters who may or not may not have cast a ballot in the 2016 presidential election. Presidential successes, like a surging economy, a strong-willed commitment to trade and to border and international security, has energized segments of the previously non-voting public as well.

While that energy has been on the President’s side, the opposite has been true for Democrats. Only 58 percent of the American electorate cast votes in the 2016 election. Gone was the excitement of voting for the country’s first black president. In its place was what many viewed as a tepid international respect and a dramatic failure in Obamacare, Obama’s signature presidential achievement besides the killing of Osama bin Laden. Though Clinton won the popular vote, voter turnout sagged in former Democrat strongholds which lost her the electoral college vote by 14 percentage points. Either Trump motivated people in those areas, or Clinton’s own personal and professional baggage convinced them to stay home – or both.

If the Obama-Clinton legacy caused some Democrats to despair to the point of sitting out the election, the last two year’s swing of the party toward a growing socialist agenda is doubtless more frightening. The laughably disastrous Green New Deal, open borders and free health care for illegal immigrants no doubt frightens a whole new strata of the voting public who may not have voted in 2016. As if such policy debacles by the announced Democrat presidential contenders isn’t enough, there’s more.

REVIEW COMMENTARY

DANE HICKS, Publisher

No pollster has tested for it because such questions don’t usually get asked by researchers who strive to support their pre-determined conclusions with hand-picked data – but constant accusations of racism against people who aren’t racist and don’t deserve to be accused is a growing stain that will motivate at least some new voters to vote Trump.

Notice the knee-jerk accusation by the “The Squad” of four freshman congresswomen singled out for criticism by the President recently over their negative rhetoric toward various institutions of the country and their embrace of the socialist agenda. The default commentary was characterized as “the President’s ‘racist’ comments...” when the criticism had no relevance to race whatsoever. Mainstream media adopted the ‘racist’ adjective by default in reporting the story.

An inspiring resilience arises in people when they’re falsely accused – particularly by people prone to habitual accusation. It can’t be quantified, but it’s rising among some voters.

If President Trump is a stronger contender to win a second term now, and many pundits on either side of the fence think he is, the unhinged element among Democrats themselves is certainly partially to blame. ###

Two things for the Phone Forum: first thing is the house on North Oak Street, just one house south of Park Road, looks awful. What in the heck happened to that property. It used to be a nice house, well-kept lawn. Now the weeds are two feet high in there and it looks like a haunted house. I don’t know who owns it but somebody needs to get back on their horse and spruce that place up. Number two, the billboard just south of the Greeley store, both of those companies have been out of business forever and the sign’s so faded you can barely read them. Whoever owns that company, if they’re leasing that billboard to somebody, they need to spend a little time and effort and a gallon of paint and paint that thing over and find somebody to advertise on it. It’s not doing anybody any good the way it is.

Two things, first I want to thank the Kansas Republicans and all the other people who voted in our new governor. I like Laura Kelly. At least they had the sense to know not to elect somebody like Brownback. He was the worst thing that ever happened to Kansas. Second worse thing, Kobach. I don’t care what Anne Coulter the (deleted) says he’s an idiot too. He’s a deplorable just like she is. Keep on voting for the Democrats. It’s the only party that cares.

Listen, to the disenchanting Republican moron, you’re a pathetic inbred is what you are. More jobs and all that, that’s because of Obama not Trump. Trump is the (deleted) grabber just like all the Republicans who follow him are perverts. You don’t want immigrants? You better because you lily white (deleted) aren’t going to do the jobs they do and you know it.

‘Green New Deal’ is radical liberal lunacy

We have about five months, if we pay attention, to get a good idea of just what the upcoming Legislature is likely to consider doing for us—or to us—in the session that will precede next year’s elections for every member of the House and Senate.

Yep, they’re all going to be on the ballot, and if there is a key to re-election it is passing, or at least voting to pass, laws that we’ll like. Or, of course, voting against bills that we don’t like, but someone, somewhere, thinks is a good idea.

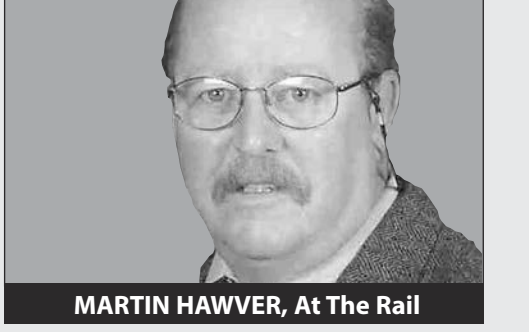

The regimen of interim committees that will start this month or next will give us our first peek at just what we have to look out for next winter.

The interims don’t pass laws, or even bills, they just study and hear arguments for and against issues that will likely become bills. While they are public meetings anyone can wander into or listen to over the Internet, most Kansans don’t know much about them or just what legislators do when they come to Topeka out of session.

Well, a big issue that is going to be chewed through is, of course, the possibility of Medicaid expansion: First, the Senate interim committee—which essentially just knows what it read in the papers about the House passing expansion—then the Special Committee on Medicaid Expansion with both House and Senate members.

Key to that process: Probably to try to assemble an expansion bill. Or...to figure out just how the lawmakers who oppose Medicaid expansion can be convinced that it will affect so few people that they can probably look the other way briefly for at least one vote or two, and pass it.

STATE COMMENTARY

But interim committees are also going to consider legalizing marijuana, probably just for those who can convince their doctor to prescribe it or who can make the point that they’re getting old enough that they represent a solid revenue stream for those doctors so that they will... Chances of general legalization? Slim, but we’ll be watching that medical marijuana proposal to see just how far it will stretch without bogarting that roach...

Medicaid aside, a health interim committee is going to try to figure out why health care is so expensive in Kansas and whether there’s some way to make it cheaper. Look for that to stretch into tele-medicine where you essentially talk over the Internet with a health-care provider who lives outside your Zip code or county or congressional district or maybe even state line. Doesn’t work if you’re bleeding, but chances are good that telemedicine will be part of the key to dropping the out-of-pocket, or at least out-of-insurer’s pocket, expenses.

Oh, and for those of you who watched flood waters creep toward the porch, a committee is going to try to figure out how government at all levels can work together to avoid flooding or at least how to get help to voters and business owners more quickly when the water recedes enough that you don’t need a life jacket to retrieve your newspaper.

Yes, a lot of topics, and a total of 52 days of hearings approved so far...some that will yield proposed legislation, many that will just let lawmakers know how state government is running while they’re out of town and paying for their own lunches instead of gazing at the ceiling while lobbyists buy their meals and drinks.

Those interim committees are also where ideas good and bad are sifted, and they’ll to a large degree determine just what we watch the Legislature debate next session. But some of us remember when the preview was better than the movie. And for many issues, the interim committee is the preview...

“Middle class Joe” cashes in as a 1-percenter

The American middle class just got a lot richer.

Joe Biden, who invariably and tiresomely refers to himself as “Middle-Class Joe,” made $15 million the first two years after the end of the Obama administration.

According to one estimate, it takes an annual income of $420,000 to be in the top 1% of earners. Biden made 26 times that in 2017. He used to be remarkable among top politicians for not being very wealthy, but even in the old days of straitened circumstances, he and his wife were making about $400,000 a year, enough to make the top 1% in Delaware.

This doesn’t discredit any particular Democratic policy proposal, but it shows

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

RICH LOWRY, King Features Syndicate

But what’s true of Biden is as true of other denizens of the 1%, a category that includes people across all sorts of industries and professions.

What distinguishes the buck-raking of a politician like Biden is that he is simply cashing in on his fame, rather than adding any true value the way an entrepreneur does, or providing important services like a doctor or an accountant.

Writing books (often with the help of a ghostwriter) and showing up and giving speeches is perhaps the easiest money in America, and it is uniquely the path to wealth of politicians.

This road is so paved with gold that even Sandinista-friendly avowed socialists can make a bounty, as Bernie Sanders has without apology, indeed with a prickly defensiveness. “I didn’t know that it was a crime to write a good book, which turned out to be a best-seller,” he huffed at a community meeting. It’s also not a crime to use tax loopholes to keep from paying more than necessary to the IRS, as Biden can attest. The Wall Street Journal reports that the former vice president, a longtime critic of tax loopholes exploited by the rich, himself used a loophole that Democrats have long tried to eliminate to save about half a million on his tax bill.

Biden is by no means the lead scourge of the wealthy in the Democratic field. He’s been outflanked on this issue by Sanders and Elizabeth Warren, who herself made nearly a million dollars last year. At a recent fundraiser, he said that rich people shouldn’t be demonized. Of course, Biden was talking to a room of fellow rich people.

On CNN the other night, he was back as usual to calling himself Middle-Class Joe. It’s probably too much to ask him to give up that shopworn self-image. Still, he and many of his colleagues would be truer to how they live their own lives if they began to more fully embrace and promote the idea of their fellow Americans getting rich.

...many top Democrats are attacking a group they are happy to be part of.

that in inveighing against the 1%, many top Democrats are attacking a group they are happy to be part of.

The Bidens bought a $2.7 million vacation house on the beach, a luxury far out of the reach of the vast majority of Americans. If Biden has felt any guilt, he has yet to show it. We shouldn’t begrudge Biden, or anyone else, getting what the market is willing to pay him, and spending it on things he enjoys.

Case No. 2019 CV 000021

PURSUANT TO CHAPTER 60 AND 79 OF KANSAS STATUTES ANNOTATED

P E T I T I O N

COMES NOW the plaintiff, by and through James R. Campbell, Anderson County Counsel, and for its cause of action against the defendants alleges and states as follows:

1. Plaintiff is a body politic and corporate, and is a duly organized and existing county of the State of Kansas. A resolution, heretofore adopted by plaintiff pursuant to K.S.A. 79-2801, as amended, authorized the institution of this proceeding to foreclose tax liens against real property in Anderson County, Kansas, and attached as Exhibit "A". Said liens and real property are more specifically described in Exhibit "B", which is attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference.

2. All requirements of law pertaining to assessment, levy, taxation, publication and proof thereof, sale and purchase in the name of Anderson County, Kansas, as prescribed by K.S.A. 79-2301 et seq., and every other legal condition precedent to judicial foreclosure of said tax liens, have been performed and satisfied. The taxes have not been paid as required by law, and all the within described real estate is subject to foreclosure and sale for delinquent taxes.

3. The caption of this Petition is incorporated herein and made a part hereof by reference. The persons named as defendants therein are the owners or supposed owners, and persons having or claiming to have an interest in the lands described herein, so far as plaintiff is able to ascertain, but the exact nature of such ownership and interest is unknown to the plaintiff.

4. Plaintiff further alleges that it has diligently inquired as to the residences and whereabouts of the defendants herein and, except as set forth in Exhibit "B" attached hereto, is unable to state the residences and whereabouts of the defendants, and each of them, or whether any of them are dead, other than indicated thereon, and, if they or any of them be dead, plaintiff is unable to ascertain the names, residences, whereabouts and identity of the heirs, executors, administrators, devisees, trustees, conservators and assigns of such defendants other than as indicated on Exhibit "B". Upon diligent inquiry plaintiff is unable to ascertain whether the defendant corporations named herein are domestic or foreign corporations, nor their legal status, nor whether they continue to have legal existence and officers, nor the names and whereabouts of the successors, trustees or assigns, if any, of such corporations as may be dissolved. All of the defendants herein named, and those claiming under or through them, should be required to appear herein, so that all claims, estates, titles and interests may be determined by the decree of this Court and so that the tax lien therein to be foreclosed may be adjudged a good, valid and perfect first and prior lien upon each tract, lot or piece of real estate described herein, for the taxes, together with interest, charges, penalties and costs thereon.

5. Exhibit "B" is a schedule containing information pertinent to this proceeding and is attached hereto, incorporated herein and made a part hereof by reference. Each tract, lot and piece of real estate intended to be included in this foreclosure proceeding is described as a separate item upon Exhibit "B", and that each such tract described upon Exhibit "B" also carries a key number by which it is identified in the files of the Anderson County Treasurer, Anderson County Appraiser and Anderson County Clerk.

6. Said lands described in Exhibit "B" are all in Anderson County, Kansas. All of the descriptions used in Exhibit "B" are intended to indicate with ordinary and reasonable certainty the real estate intended to be included in this foreclosure proceeding.

7. Each item described upon Exhibit "B" is also subject to charges occasioned by this foreclosure proceeding and to an equitable portion of the costs of this proceeding to be fixed and determined by the Court herein.

8. The plaintiff's lien is for unpaid taxes on the real estate in questions and is a first and prior lien to the liens and claims of all of the defendants herein, including the unknown members of the classes set forth in the caption hereof. Plaintiff is unable to allege in greater detail the nature of extent of the claims of any of the defendants, and is unable to allege which, if any, of the defendants may be dead, and which, if any of the corporate defendants may be dissolved, and in the event of such death or dissolution, the plaintiff is unable to allege the names of the heirs, executors, administrators, devisees, trustees, conservators and assigns, if any of the decedent or the successors, trustees, and assigns of any dissolved corporation or the whereabouts of any of said persons, except as alleged herein. Plaintiff respectfully requests that each defendant and those claiming under or through any of the defendants herein, be required to appear in this cause and to assert what interest, if any, they or any of them have or claim to have in and to any of the real estate described herein so that all claims, estates, interest and titles may be determined by the decrees of this Court and so that the plaintiff's tax lien herein may be foreclosed against each parcel listed on Exhibit "B" and adjudged to be a good, valid and perfect first and prior lien upon each parcel.

9. Plaintiff is entitled to a decree of this Court determining the amount of taxes, charges, interest and penalties chargeable to each particular tract, lot and piece of real estate in such amount as the Court shall determine, and to judgment for costs herein equitably apportioned against each tract, lot and piece of real estate and to judgment for charges herein, and for judgment determining the owner or parties having an interest herein, and to a decree adjudging the amount so found to be due to be a first and prior lien upon each item of real estate described in Exhibit "B" and for an order directing that each item of real estate described upon Exhibit "B" be sold at public sale for the satisfaction of each lien and for other necessary relief.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays that the Court determine the amount of taxes, charges, interest and penalties chargeable to each particular tract, lot or piece of real estate described herein; the name of the owner or party having an interest therein and that the Court adjudge and decree the amount due to be a first and prior lien upon the real estate; that each defendant be required to appear and establish their claim, estate, title or interest in said property; and that the same be sold at public sale for the satisfaction of the lien, costs, charges and expenses of the proceedings and sale and for other necessary relief.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 7-23-2019 / SUBMITTED

This little 3 year old girl was just one of over 200 visitors to this year's KATP. She was very curious and interested in what Henry Roeckers was doing.

2019 KATP comes to a close - part 4

Friday 14 June 2019

I woke up to 62 degrees. Very windy and it looks like rain all around. Several people left today for the weekend and to celebrate Father's Day.

My best find of the day while screening was a beautiful blue faceted Peruvian glass bead, with a white inner core (definitely a trade item). Other finds today were three little perfect arrowheads, a stone awl, bones and lots of pottery shards. Windy in the field all day and it reached 91 degrees.

Late at the Chinese Buffet this evening (very good and a big variety). At 7:30 p.m. I attended a talk: Fool Chiefs Village, A Final Report by Archaeologist Tricia Waggoner.

At 11:30 p.m. we had a terrific wind/rain/hail storm. (dime sized with a few the size of quarters).

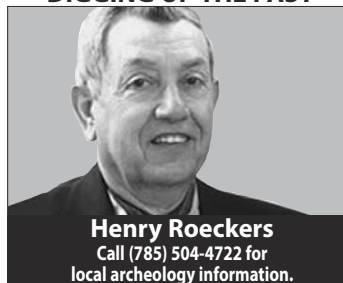

Saturday 15 June 2019

Today it was 61 degrees and no wind. I found out that last night's hail storm made a small crack in my windshield and a couple of dents in the top of my camper shell.

A big doe crossed right in front of me going to work this morning. Lots of wheat flattened by last night's storm.

Today was spent closing up all the grids, taking all screens and tents down, and loading up the two trailers. We left the field at 3:00 p.m. to get ready for our banquet this evening at 6:30 p.m.. After eating a very delicious meal, we listened to an over-all "Project Summary Report" of this year's two week KATP by Archaeologist Nikki Klarmann. 193 volunteers gave over 7,000 hours of their time in the field and the lab this year. We had over 200 visitors to the site and to the lab. A successful 2019 KATP, it most certainly was!

Sunday 16 June 2019

I departed Lyons at 6:30 a.m. for Garnett. A breezy 62 degree morning. A big llama farm east of Lyons (lots of babies). Wheat is golden, but so much of it laying down because of all the rain. Thousands of acres are unplanted for the same reason.

Ate breakfast at McPherson, Ks. Arrived home at 10:30 a.m. Another wonderful adventure has come to a close.

2009: Kincaid trio charged with manufacturing a controlled substance

July 2009

Three Anderson County individuals charged with unlawfully manufacturing a controlled substance at a Kincaid residence are set to appear in court. Patricia Croan, 38, of Kincaid; Jessica Owens, 27 of Garnett; and Shawn Weers, 31, of Kincaid are all facing charges of one count each of unlawfully manufacturing a controlled substance. Two small children were removed from the home and were placed in protective custody with the SRS.

July 1999

Anderson County Republicans decided Friday night in an 8-2 secret ballot vote to recommend acting county attorney Fred Campbell for a gubernatorial appointment to fill the vacancy left by county attorney Jay Hinkel's recent resignation. Campbell has served for more than a year as assistant county attorney to the office and was the only candidate forwarded by the Republican search committee charged with finding suitable applicants for the position.

July 1989

The recent theft of about $500 in copper wire from a site owned by James Bailey of rural Garnett was not the only theft of this type to happen in the county last week. A person also removed almost 600 feet of electrical switch and alarm cable from poles along the Santa Fe Railroad here in Garnett.

Ever wonder how to take a trip for two and a half months and still get in shape? The duo of Harry Brathas and Dave Doucette, however crazy it may sound, are riding across the country from Redwood, California, and are going all the way to Martha's Vineyard off the southeast coast of Massachusetts, a trip that is some 4,000 miles long.

As the Pleasant Ridge correspondent states, Clarence Southerland was struck by lightning Monday night. The Review is glad to know he is recovering. It is stated that he was partially paralyzed, but it is said this was not as serious as was first reported.

Sell something with your envelope

One of the big advantages of the personal computer revolution (can we still call it a revolution if it's 25 years old? This "revolution" is old enough to shave by now, for Pete's sake...) is that people are printing their own letterhead, business cards and envelopes right off their home or office computer printer.

I have a philosophy that says every time you spend money on something - anything - you should try to turn it into a selling proposal to somebody. Driving your car and paying fuel and insurance? Put signage on it for your company or at least a bumper sticker (you can print those yourself, too). Which brings me to one of the most underutilized sales tools of them all - the humble envelope.

If you send monthly statements, come up with a selling message for your company and print it on your envelopes with your computer printer. And if you don't have your phone number or web address in your return address, shame on you. You can even buy little printed adhesive stickers to stick on them or use customized rubber stamps.

Here's the point - you're paying for the envelope and the postage anyway, and that envelope will travel through a number of hands until it meets its demise. Are any of those hands connected to potential customers? You have nothing to lose by trying. If you're spending the money anyway, why not try to sell stuff?

The joys of farm pond fishing

Greg Doering, Kansas Farm Bureau

There's something about being outside that soothes the soul. It doesn't matter if you're working, taking a casual stroll or just sitting on the porch watching the world go by. One of my favorite excuses to be out of doors is fishing.

My father, an avid hunter, didn't have the patience for fishing, but he also never discouraged me from casting a line. Most of my adolescent angling adventures were the result of a neighbor who was kind enough to take me along almost whenever I would ask to hit the water.

Though sometimes, like when he would take me limb-line fishing, some advanced planning was necessary. I still remember the first time we took an aluminum Jon boat down Pottawatomie Creek setting lines off tree branches hanging over the water.

Checking the lines a couple days later turned up a 35-pound blue catfish, which is still the biggest I've ever seen in person. The fish was only slightly smaller than I was at the time, but it also was only a baby in the world of blue cats, which can top 100 pounds.

Like my father, I too lack the patience to go after trophy fish. Instead, I'm happy to reel in anything that swims. While I enjoy the occasional challenge posed by fishing reservoirs, lakes and rivers, there's nothing quite like fishing a well-stocked farm pond.

I'm never going to catch a record-setting bass or catfish from a pond, but I'm also not going to go home empty handed either. My favorite pond is at the ranch back home. It's stuffed full of bass less than a pound, but I did snag a four-pounder a couple years ago.

Ponds always hold the promise of hooking something just big enough to put a big bend in the rod and put up a decent fight. The best fishing hole offers plenty of action in between catching those lunk-ers.

I recently found a new pond close to Manhattan that fits the bill. Thanks to my brother who scored an invite from the landowner, I got to tag along with him and my nephew one Saturday morning.

My nephew is my usual fishing buddy, and we've had some tough luck this year with weather, high water and schedules that haven't always aligned. We got skunked at a public fishery in late April but managed to find a few catfish at another open access lake in June.

This private pond, however, was nestled in a Flint Hills valley, and it was stocked with bluegill, channel and bullhead catfish and largemouth bass. The water was clear enough to see the bass' white bellies flash as they hit our lures. Though none were really big enough to bend our rods.

We spent the morning pulling in bass and bullhead with the occasional bluegill. It looked like we were going to go home without anyone hooking into a channel cat. Though my nephew could see a decent sized one in the water on the face of the dam.

Just as we were getting ready to pack up and head home, I heard him shout. I looked over to see his rod doubled over while he cranked the reel shouting, "I got you! I finally got you!"

He flung a channel cat up onto the bank, still shouting, as his dad and I rushed over to eye the beast. By my eyes, the fish checked in at a little over four pounds. It was, by far, the day's biggest catch from the water. The best part for me, though, was seeing the equally large smile on my nephew's face.

Colony Christian Church news

Bruce Symes gave the Communion Meditation on "Brokenness and Restoration". We are all broken and fall short of the glory of God, yet He is the Lord of everyone, whether they accept Him or not. When we quit fighting Him, He becomes accessible to us. Jesus came into the world to do God's will, to restore our relationship with God. 2 Corinthians 5:21 tells us that we are made right with God thru Christ. When you are discouraged, take courage in the following verses: Isaiah 41:10, Matthew 11:28-30, 2 Corinthians 5:17, Revelation 21:5. Pastor Chase Riebel gave the sermon on "A famine of God's Word." Amos was given a vision from God and told the Israelites that Jeroboam's reign would end, they would be captives in exile, etc. They were robbing the poor and cheating the buyers of their grain. God said he would "send a famine on the land, not a famine of bread or water, but of hearing the words of the Lord". God calls us each to be an "Amos", to speak the word of God to others. Refuse to be silent due to limitations in your mind. Be vigilant and guard against this type of famine. (Ref: Amos 7:9-17 and 8:1-13, Deut 25:13, Luke 23:44-45, Lamentations 2:14, Numbers 12:6)

Anyone who has moved, changed their name or otherwise possibly invalidated their voter registration should update their registration before the Wednesday deadline if they want to participate in the vote. Those with questions about their registration can contact the clerk's office at (785) 448-6841.

The vote was forced by a petition effort organized by commissioner Jody Cole countering a plan by commissioners Brigitte Brecheisen-Huss and Greg Gwin that aimed to adopt changes to the city's charter to add two new commissioners to the present three-member body. That idea was prompted by its approval by voters in an advisory election last fall, which was placed on the ballot at Huss's insistence.

But the mail ballot measure itself erupted in controversy in early June, when city attorney Terry Solander penned a memo to commissioners telling them it was his interpretation of state law concerning charter ordinance elections that the election could not be conducted by mail ballot, and instead had to be executed as a regular walk-in poll election.

Huss and Gwin over-ruled Cole in a vote on that issue, saying they believed a mail ballot afforded the best chance of sampling the largest number of voters. Cole, who has opposed the five-member commission from the beginning, opposed the mail ballot on its estimated $7,500 cost to the city as well as additional costs of litigation should the city be sued subsequently over what Solander described as an action that's counter to the Kansas Constitution.

The deadline for returning ballots is noon Wednesday, Aug. 14, with results to be announced soon after.

and held a public hearing concluding a 60-day public comment period in June.

"We received many comments and input from all viewpoints," KDHE Secretary Lee Norman said. "We listened and read all of the input and concerns submitted to us. We looked at the evidence. Both Meningitis and Hepatitis A illnesses are severe and preventable, and the safety profile of the vaccines is well-recognized. As an agency charged to establish policies that protect and improve the lives of Kansans, we felt the addition of the two vaccines was essential for the health and safety of our state."

Changes for 2019-20 School Year

•Students entering Kindergarten and Grade 1 for the 2019-2020 school year now need two doses of the hepatitis A vaccine.

•Students entering Grade 7 for the 2019-2020 school year need one dose of the meningococcal ACWY vaccine.

•Students entering Grade 11 need one dose of the meningococcal ACWY vaccine if not vaccinated prior to their 16th birthday. They will need two doses if their first dose was before their 16th birthday.

Vaccine requirements for schools can be found online at: <http://www.kdheks.gov/immunize/schoolInfo.htm>.

About the Vaccines Meningococcal ACWY Vaccine

The meningococcal ACWY vaccine protects against meningococcal disease. Meningococcal disease has two common outcomes: meningitis (infection of the lining of the brain and spinal cord) and bloodstream infections. The bacteria that cause meningococcal disease spread through the exchange of nose and throat droplets, such as when coughing, sneezing, or kissing. Symptoms include sudden onset of fever, headache, and stiff neck. With bloodstream infection, symptoms also include a dark purple rash. About one of every 10 people who gets the disease dies from it. Survivors of meningococcal disease may lose their arms or legs, become deaf, have problems with their nervous systems, become developmentally disabled, or suffer seizures or strokes.

Hepatitis A Vaccine

The hepatitis A vaccine protects against the hepatitis A virus. The virus is spread primarily person to person through the fecal-oral route. In other words, the virus is taken in by mouth from contact with objects, food, or drinks contaminated by the feces (stool) of an infected person. Symptoms can include fever, tiredness, poor appetite, vomiting, stomach pain and sometimes jaundice (when skin and eyes turn yellow). An infected person may have no symptoms, may have mild illness for a week or two, may have severe illness for several months, or may rarely develop liver failure and die from the infection. In the U.S., about 100 people a year die from hepatitis A.

The book of law found!

The heading at the beginning of 2nd Kings 22 reads, "The Book of the Law Found". The tribe of Judah had gone through a period of years when the kings that were on the throne did evil in the eyes of the Lord. It is at this time that Josiah at the age of eight years old becomes king. He ascended the throne because his father Amon was assassinated by his own officials who were then in turn killed by the people for their corrupt dealings. Josiah would reign for thirty-one years. We are told Josiah did what was right in the eyes of the Lord and walked in the ways of David, Israel's foremost king.

God has seen the evil ways the people had turned to and begins the process of restoring them to himself. The situation had gotten so bad the people were not following the ways of God at all. At the age of twenty-six years old Josiah begins to restore the kingdom. In the process of restoring the temple we read this somewhat astonishing statement. Hilkiah the high priest said to Shaphan the secretary. "I have found the Book of the Law in the temple of the Lord." This was actually a scroll and was probably a version of the Book of Deuteronomy which is a repetition of the law and history of Israel. Hilkiah, the high priest was familiar with the Book of the Law and recognized it should be shown to the king and he read it in the presence of the king. It is not clear whether Josiah was familiar with the book but his response upon hearing from it displays a great sense of urgency. He says to his officials, "Go and inquire of the Lord for me and for the people and for all Judah about what is written in this book that has been found.

Great is the Lord's anger that burns against us because our fathers have not obeyed the words of the book; they have not acted in accordance with all that is written there concerning us.

There appears to have been a two or three generation time period where Judah had begun to gradually fall away from God and finally to achieve full religious apostasy, forgetting the book of the law completely.

We may be nearing a time in our own country when this level of biblical incompetence is the norm for us. People cannot be expected to act according to the Bible when they know nothing about it. Religious apostasy does not happen overnight. It is the result of immorality being legalized, truth being replaced with opinion, the undermining of the dignity of the home, and the decay of religion or the pursuit of false religion. Sad to say but we have lost the book as well. If we don't find the book we are headed into the final stage of the fall of a nation, political anarchy. Rome, perhaps the world's greatest empire was never conquered it just dissolved from within under the weight of its own choices. That doesn't have to happen to us.

Ministry on the Holiness of God.
