McCullar expected to plea to child porn charges Wednesday

Plea hearing takes the place of trial on charges set for early August

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

LINCOLN, Neb. — The former Garnett man facing federal child pornography charges in the U.S. District Court of Nebraska is expected to plead guilty to charges at a plea hearing tomorrow.

Michael Dean McCullar and his legal counsel asked for an advanced plea hearing which takes the place of a previously scheduled August 5 trial date. U.S. District Judge Cheryl Zwart informed counsel for the defense and the U.S. attorney prosecuting the case both should submit briefs containing their versions of the offense to the appointed probation officer, so a presentence investigation report could be compiled for the hearing.

“The time between today’s date and the district court judge’s acceptance or rejection of the anticipated plea of guilty shall be deemed excluded in any computation of time under the requirements of the Speedy Trial Act,” Zwart’s June 26 order read, “because the failure to grant additional time might result in a miscarriage of justice.”

The plea hearing was set for 9:30 a.m., Wednesday in the federal building at 100 Centennial Mall North in Lincoln.

McCullar formerly worked for a division of Johnson & Johnson from a home office in Garnett, and was a former chairman of the Anderson County Republican Party. The family relocated to Nebraska several years ago. He faces federal counts of possession, production and distribution of child pornography in connection with a Homeland Security “sting,” in which federal agents said McCullar tried to traffic nude photos of his two year-old niece on a “deep web” Internet site frequented by child porn traders.

Penalties include maximum fines of up to $250,000 and maximum sentences of 20-30 years imprisonment on each count.

City wins $1 million from KDOT to fix flooding problem on U.S. 59 strip ed under KDOT’s City Connecting Link Improvement Program (CCLIP), which funds improvements to state highways that extend through cities.

Garnett’s pavement restoration project will aim at fixing a drainage problem on U.S. Highway 59 as it runs through the town’s highway commercial sector, an area prone to repeated flooding during high rain periods for decades. City manager Chris Weiner said city staff was glad to finally be able to tackle the problem, but waiting two years might make for another set of cost issues.

“Hopefully, inflation over the next few years won’t impact the cost of the project too much,” Weiner told the Review last week.

The cities will receive a combined total of approximately $18 million in funding

Problems, promise and prosperity

Discussions center on general assessment of rural towns

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — A struggling tax base with few housing options and limited local job opportunities ranked among the barriers to small town prosperity in Kansas, according to about 100 people from around the region who met in Garnett Monday night.

The assessment of strengths and weaknesses from about 100 residents from around the region was part of the newly-formed Kansas Office of Rural Prosperity’s “Summer Listening Tour,” led by Kansas Lieutenant Governor Lynn Rogers and which made Garnett its seventh of a dozen stops planned for rural communities in the state this summer. Participants were from a number of small Kansas communities from as far away as Lawrence, Manhattan and Iola.

Key to the self-assessment were several questions: 1) What does prosperity look like to you? 2) What has our community done well? And 3) What roadblocks are in the way of prosperity for our citizens? Participants split into groups with a facilitator to help craft their input into answers, and then groups picked winnowed down their thoughts into a report for the larger group.

Local pharmacist Nate Wiehl’s group concurred that brain drain was one of the blockades to local prosperity. He said that was a function of limited employment opportunities.

Iola high school student Lexie Vega said attitude is a problem in her community.

“A lot of people have the mindset their votes don’t matter,” she said. “If they come to events like this they think it’s not going to do anything for them.”

Garnett serial volunteer Skip Landis’ group noted a number of assets in the Garnett community in the public and parochial education arena,

JONES

JANUARY 19, 1957 - JULY 24, 2019

Anita Faye Jones, 62, of Garnett, Kansas, died Tuesday, July 24, 2019 at Kansas City Hospice Home in Kansas City, Missouri.

She was born January 19, 1957 in Harrison, Arkansas to Edith Mae and Albert Battenfield. She married Roy "John" Jones on July 1, 2005.

Jones

Anita is survived by her husband, Roy Jones of North Fort Meyer, Florida; daughter Melody Washam of Garnett, Kansas; son Andy Battenfield of Emporia, Kansas; one brother Arlis Battenfield of Harrison, Arkansas; 7 grandchildren and 1 great grandchild; several nieces/nephews and cousins.

Her parents Edith Mae and Albert Battenfield, two brother's Albert Battenfield and Andy Battenfield; and one sister Alberta Battenfield preceded her in death.

Anita was a longtime resident of Garnett where she lived since leaving her childhood home in Harrison. Anita worked in a few factories from sewing to making fishing poles, and American Eagle. She most recently worked at Parkview Heights Nursing Home in food service and housekeeping. She loved working and loved everyone she worked with until the doctors told her she had to stop. Her love for animals was great but her true love was her dogs.

We will remember her laugh and her smile when her daughter or son would say an inappropriate joke or something off the wall just to make her laugh. She loved her Kansas City Chiefs but never watched a game. Her sweet tooth was unbelievable. She loved dark rich cakes as well as a whole tub of Hot Fudge from Dairy Queen. She loved spending time with her family and making folks laugh and smile. Her smile will always be remembered.

We will have a Celebration of Life from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday August 3, 2019 at the Pavilion on the west side of the North Lake in Garnett, Kansas.

The family would like to express our thanks for the wonderful help and care given by the Kansas City Hospice House. If desired, friends may make memorial contributions to W.I.N.G.S., 1207 E. Park Road, Garnett, KS 66032 or online at www.wingsathome.org.

She was born on August 26, 1934, in Morgan County, Missouri, the daughter of Marvin and Mae (Daniels) Welpman. Barbara attended elementary and high schools in Versailles, Missouri, before attending and graduating from the St. Luke's School of Nursing in Kansas City.

In 1957, Barbara met and married William Alvin Neal. After the birth of their second child in 1960, Bill and Barbara settled in Garnett, Kansas, where they purchased the William A. Neal Rexall Pharmacy.

Barbara's career highlights included Director of Nursing for 18 years at Richmond Healthcare and Rehab and later at Parkview Heights as the MDS coordinator.

Bill and Barbara raised their three children, Diana, Bill and Gloria, in the community where Barbara was an active member of the United Methodist Church, and an active member and a past president of Chapter Y PEO. Among her hobbies, Barbara was an avid reader, enjoyed traveling, collected antiques for many years, and loved spending time with her children, grandchildren, and her close friends.

The family remembers Barbara as a devoted wife, mother, grandmother, and great grandmother. Bill and Barbara celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 2007.

Barbara was preceded in death by her parents; and her husband, Bill.

She is survived by her three children, Diana J. Willman and husband Steve, children Scott (Kathryne) and Anne of Prairie Village; William A. Neal II and wife Leigh Anne of Fairway; Gloria L. High and husband Vaughn of Eudora, children, Grant of Eudora, Maggie (Ryan) of Lawrence, and Alex of Kansas City; and two great grandchildren, Grace and Maya.

The family wishes to express sincere and heartfelt gratitude to all those very special individuals involved in Mom's care. These wonderful individuals allowed her to stay in her current home of 53 years, as long as she could which was her greatest wish.

Memorial services will be held at 2:30 p.m., Friday, August 2, 2019, at the Feuerborn Family Funeral Service Chapel, Garnett. The family invites all guests to celebrate the life of Barbara Neal with a reception at the Kirk House immediately following the services.

Memorial contributions may be made to the First United Methodist Church or to PEO Scholarship Fund.

You may send your condolences to the family at our website at www.feuerbornfuneral.com.

In Greensburg, green wasn't enough

Upwards of $75 million was plugged into Greensburg, Ks., courtesy of taxpayers, insurance companies, and of course the near two-mile wide tornado that killed 12 people and almost obliterated the town in 2007. But the money and a grand vision to rebuild the town into a green kingdom hasn't brought back the other half of the population which fled after the disaster.

The town remains at roundabout 800 people, albeit with more new, high-tech and energy efficient buildings certainly than any other town its size.

The lesson, particularly in view of a "Listening Tour" sponsored by Governor Kelly's new "Office of rural Prosperity," is that even with a massive one-time injection of cash into a small rural town, what matters most is how you invest the windfall.

The towns stretched out along U.S. 54 west of Wichita follow pretty much a 10 mile pattern. Back in the days of steam engines, freight and passenger trains needed water about every 10 miles and so that's about the distance between towns out that way. Greensburg planners, back in the 1880s, struck on a savvy plan: dig a giant well, make water free to city residents to encourage them to locate in the town, and guarantee the town's place along the rail line with an easy source of water for the trains. So the "world's biggest hand-dug well" was born, and publicity surrounding it worked as the town fathers had intended. By 1960 the town's population hit nearly 2,000.

But by the year 2000, farm mechanization, brain drain and generally struggling economics reduced Greensburg's population by 20 percent to about 1,600, where it was the day the tornado hit. Half the population fled and never came back. They still haven't.

Looking at Greensburg's plight compared to towns in eastern Kansas, we come to realize how much more important good decisions are when your boat is sinking faster than others around you. For instance, Garnett's population actually grew between 1960 and 2000 - although other towns in Anderson County got smaller - but Garnett had the advantage of being a half hour from larger towns that offered commuter jobs, as well as a major metro area an hour away.

Greensburg was isolated with no incentives nearby. In a better world, the money that flooded into the town would have been used to develop productive rural industry - feed yards like in Garden City, or an ethanol plant like Garnett and Colwich, a Tyson Chicken plant, or a pet food plant like Emporia. That would have meant jobs.

But instead Greensburg got a new high school that uses a quarter the electricity of a regular building its size, and a cool media center in the brand new Kiowa County Commons, which houses the county history museum and library. The only jobs there are taxpayer funded. Like the other post-tornado investments, the help all came with a political caveat - go green, they said, and here's some money to do it. Go green and they will come.

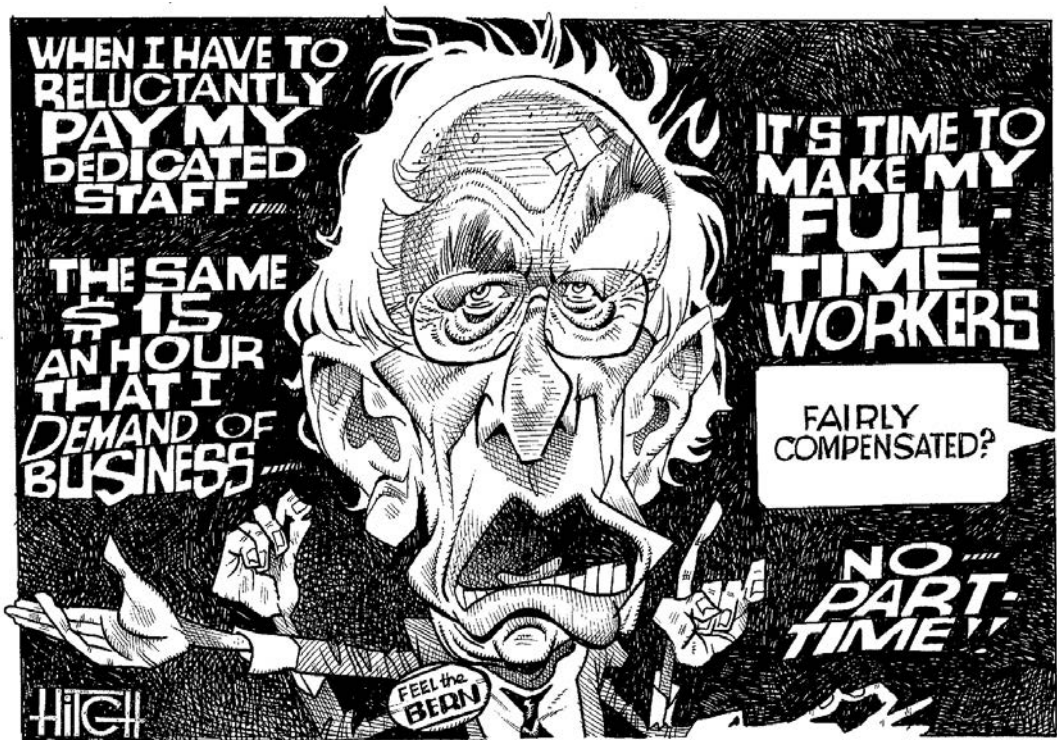

They didn't. Because they still had no reason. Hopefully Governor Kelly sees the lesson in the failed rebuilding of Greensburg in the context of her new effort to boost rural Kansas. Small towns need improvements that build jobs and expand their tax base. That typically means industry - no easy job to recruit - but Kansas and its communities miss opportunities to focus their recruitment efforts in places like Chicago and California - places where crime, high taxes and governmental nonsense make them places businesses want to leave.

If small town Kansas needs anything from government, it isn't the expansion of some state agency that creates more bureaucratic jobs in Topeka than it does in the towns targeted for help.

Money matters, but only if you use it the right way.

Greensburg had the opportunity to turn a catastrophe into a second chance that most towns don't get.

No doubt, that makes the failure harder. ###

The American flag on the top of the Anderson County Courthouse has been very poorly maintained for the last year and half. It has usually been either torn or missing. There was no flag on July 4. I remember a handful of guys went to a lot of work to install a new rope and flag in 1989 after it hadn't flown for 40 years. Let's show more respect and do a better job of maintenance on that flag and pole. Wake up commissioners. Thanks.

To the low rent bottom feeding muck sack in paragraph three in last week's Phone Forum, I say this to you: May your soul rest in peace, and the sooner the better.

I'd like to leave this message for the person who started their rant by saying "she's a dumb nut..." From one registered Democrat to another, here's the truth: I can't say that Donald Trump is a pathetic liar. He wouldn't have been my first choice for president, but he is our president and as such I will give him the respect due that office. Republicans locked up for child molestation or sexual misconduct? Equally as many times for Democrats, Independents and so on. I want to talk about Jeffery Epstein, a registered Democrat and Democrat stalwart and his connection to former President Bill Clinton. According to the Washington Examiner, Clinton took 27 flights on Epstein's private jet, many of those to places well known for trafficking of women and young girls. As a Christian I'll pray for you, as a Democrat I'll hope you get some clarity in your thoughts, and as a person I'm glad I don't know you.

The ballots have been mailed for the city commission election. If you want to keep the commission at three, be sure to vote 'no.'

Crime outlaws economic growth in black communities

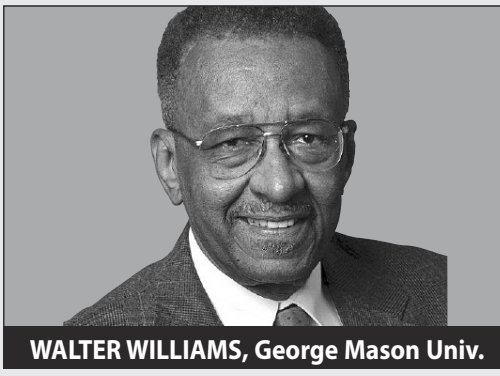

Let's think about priorities. Say that you live in one of the dangerous high crime and poor schooling neighborhoods of cities like Chicago, Baltimore, Detroit or St. Louis. Which is most important to you: doing something about public safety and raising the quality of education or, as most black politicians do, focusing energies upon President Donald Trump and who among the 20 presidential contenders will lead the Democratic Party? The average American has no inkling about the horrible conditions in which many blacks live. Moreover, they wouldn't begin to tolerate living under those conditions themselves.

In Chicago, one person is shot every four hours and murdered every 18 hours. Similar crime statistics can be found in many predominantly black neighborhoods in Baltimore, Detroit, St. Louis and many other large cities. It's not just an issue of public safety, for high crime has other devastating consequences.

Crime lowers the value of property. We can see some of this when housing prices skyrocket in formerly high crime areas when large numbers of middle- and upper-income people purchase formerly run-down properties and fix them up. This is called gentrification - wealthier, predominantly white, people move in to renovate and restore slum housing in inner cities, causing higher rental prices and forcing low-income residents out. Also, as a result of gentrification, crime falls and neighborhood amenities increase.

The high crime rates in many black neighborhoods have the full effect of outlawing economic growth and opportunities. Here's a tiny example of the impact of crime on businesses. In low crime communities, supermarket managers may leave plants, fertilizer and other home and garden items outdoors, unattended and often overnight. If one even finds a supermarket in a high crime neighborhood, then that store must hire guards, and the manager cannot place items outside unguarded or near exits. They cannot use all the space that they lease, and hence they are less profitable. Who bears the ultimate cost of crime? If you said black people, you're right. Black people must bear the expense to go to suburban shopping malls if they are to avoid the higher prices charged by mom and pop shops.

GUEST COMMENTARY

In low crime neighborhoods, FedEx, UPS and other delivery companies routinely leave packages that contain valuable merchandise on a doorstep if no one is at home. That saves the expense of redelivery and saves recipients the expense of having to go pick up the packages. In high crime neighborhoods, delivery companies leaving packages at the door and supermarkets leaving goods outside unattended would be equivalent to economic suicide.

Today's level of lawlessness and insecurity in many black communities is a relatively new phenomenon. In the 1950s, '40s, '30s and earlier times, people didn't bar their windows. Doors were often left unlocked. People didn't go to bed to the sounds of gunshots. And black people didn't experience anything like what's experienced in Chicago and other cities such as one person being shot every four hours and murdered every 18 hours. The uninformed blame today's chaos on discrimination and poverty. That doesn't even pass the smell test, unless one wants to argue that historically there was less racial discrimination and poverty than today.

Politicians who call for law and order are often viewed negatively, but poor people are more dependent on law and order than anyone else. In the face of high crime or social disorder, wealthier people can afford to purchase alarm systems, buy guard dogs, hire guards and, if things get completely out of hand, move to a gated community. These options are not available to poor people. The only protection poor people have is an orderly society.

Ultimately, the solution to high crime rests with black people. Given the current political environment, it doesn't benefit a black or white politician to take those steps necessary to crack down on lawlessness in black communities. That means black people must become intolerant of criminals making their lives living hell, even if it requires taking the law into their own hands.

Ilhan Omar holds the United States in contempt

Beto O'Rourke, the losing Texas senator candidate who bootstrapped his way into becoming a losing presidential candidate, had a message for refugees who had come to America: Your new country is a hellhole.

The former congressman told a roundtable of refugees and immigrants in Nashville, Tennessee: "This country was founded on white supremacy. And every single institution and structure that we have in this country still reflects the legacy of slavery and segregation and Jim Crow and suppression."

Just in case the newcomers were inclined to believe that they had escaped to the greatest country on Earth, an open, dynamic, generous society that, whatever their struggles now, will afford them opportunities unimaginable back home -- Beto was there to tell them of all its sins.

He had made himself into an instrument of woke assimilation.

This is the backdrop of the controversy over Ilhan Omar, the Somali-born left-wing member of Congress whom Donald Trump urged, in particularly noxious tweets, to return to her native country and fix it before presuming to tell us what to do.

It's a mistake, though, to think that Omar is anything other than on her way to total assimilation, only on the terms set out by Beto O'Rourke.

One is immigrants feeling only a tenuous

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

connection to America, and getting isolated in ethnic enclaves. The other is immigrants like Omar -- and some of her second-generation colleagues -- assimilating into the America of identity politics and grievance.

They have learned to speak not just English, but the language of oppression. They understand our system (at least no less than the average officeholder), but hold it in low regard. They know our history, as taught by an instructor cribbing from Howard Zinn. They may be citizens, but they are certainly outraged victims.

According to a profile in The Washington Post, Omar felt betrayal immediately upon getting to America.

"I arrived at the age of 12 and learned that I was the extreme other," she explained to The Post, noting bullying when she was in school in Arlington, Virginia, an affluent Washington, D.C. suburb. "I was black. I was Muslim. I also learned I was extremely poor and that the classless America that my father talked about didn't exist."

Somehow, despite all the deprivations, she gained a seat in Congress. Omar doesn't represent a majority-minority district. She started her elected career, as The Post puts it, by getting to know "older peace-and-justice hippies." She attended Black Lives Matter protests, and established relationships with all the left-wing groups in Minneapolis.

Omar's default is to blame America first. She explained that local Somali-Americans attempted to join the Islamic State as a function of "systemic alienation." She contends that she has met American veterans "who say the most horrendous things, who have complete disregard for life." And she accuses her congressional colleagues of singling her out for demonization.

Anyone who thinks these attitudes are alien to America has never been to a college campus or watched MSNBC. In short, whatever foolhardy things Trump may tweet, Ilhan Omar is not suited to return and fix Somalia, rather to join a segment of the American elite.

Local Kansas Rage teams close out successful seasons

Kansas Rage Baseball wrapped up their Fall/Spring 2018-2019 Season on June 30th after competing in their final USSSA State Tournament. Three teams competed this season. These teams consisted of 10uA, 12uAAA, and 14uAA.

This was the first season of competition for the 10uA team. The team competed in 8 tournaments with an impressive 2nd place finish in the Alex Gordon's NIT tournament and 2nd place finish in the 3&2s Dick's Sporting Goods Young Sluggers tournament. The team went 4-1 in the USSSA State Tournament placing 4th. This 10u team is currently ranked 9th out of 78 teams in the State of Kansas.

Competing in their 3rd Season as a AA team, the 12u team took 1st place in the Dakota Style Sunflower Shootout and 1st place in the 3&2s Spring Fling tournament. The team was bumped to AAA status and went right into competition placing 3rd in the 3&2s Big League Chew Summer Slam and an impressive 2-0 finish in the State tournament, beating the undefeated #1 ranked Wichita Royals. Mother Nature stepped in and rained out the tournament leaving the 12u with a 2nd place AAA State Tournament finish.

The 14u team finished their 6th season in USSSA competition. The team placed 1st in the Dick's Sporting Goods Young Sluggers Series for the second year in a row and 4th in the 3&2s Big League Chew Summer Slam. The State tour-

High risk of West Nile virus activity in three Kansas regions and positive mosquito pools identified

The Kansas Department of Health and Environment (KDHE) has issued a high risk warning for West Nile virus infections (WNV) for northwest, south central and southeast Kansas. North central, northeast, and southwest Kansas are at moderate risk for WNV infections. In addition, mosquitoes collected in Sedgwick County have tested positive for WNV and St. Louis Encephalitis virus (SLEV).

WNV can be spread to people through mosquito bites, but it is not spread from person to person. About 1 in 5 people who are infected develop a fever and other symptoms such as headache, body aches, joint pains, vomiting, diarrhea, or rash. About 1 out of 150 infected people develop a severe illness leading to swelling of the brain or brain tissue that can result in death. There are no vaccines or medications to treat WNV. People who have had WNV before are considered immune.

SLEV is transmitted by the same type of mosquito that spreads WNV. While most people who are infected with SLEV have no symptoms or only mild non-specific flu-like illness, some individuals can experience serious neuroinvasive illness. Symptoms often include fever, headache, stiff neck, disorientation, and altered level of consciousness. Coma, convulsions, and paralysis may also occur. SLEV has a similar incubation period as WNV, 5-15 days.

KDHE recommends knowing your risk of WNV and take action to prevent mosquito bites and protect yourself against WNV and SLEV:

- Visit the KDHE WNV website weekly to learn about the current WNV risk levels; http://www.kdheks.gov/epi/arboviral_disease.htm
- When you are outdoors, use insect repellent containing an EPA-registered active ingredient on skin and clothing, including DEET, picaridin, oil of lemon eucalyptus, or IR3535. Follow the directions on the package.

- Many mosquitoes are most active at dusk and dawn. Be sure to use insect repellent and wear long sleeves and pants at these times or consider staying indoors during these hours.

- The elderly or those with a weakened immune system should consider limiting their exposure outside during dusk and dawn when the Culex species mosquitoes are most active.

- Make sure you have good screens on your windows and doors to keep mosquitoes out.

- Get rid of mosquito breeding sites by emptying standing water from flower pots, buckets and barrels. Change the water in pet dishes and replace the water in bird baths weekly. Drill holes in tire swings so water drains out. Keep children's wading pools empty and on their sides when they aren't being used.

- Horses can also be infected with WNV. Talk with your veterinarian about vaccinating your horse to protect them against WNV.

Most WNV infections occur in the late summer and early fall. Although there have been no cases of WNV reported to KDHE in 2019, there have been over 300 cases of the most severe form of WNV and 30 deaths in Kansas from 1999-2018. The last known case of SLEV in Kansas occurred in 2004.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention provides this web page with additional information about West Nile virus and preventing mosquito bites: <http://www.cdc.gov/features/StopMosquitoes/>. More information on SLEV can be found at <https://www.cdc.gov/sle/index.html>. For questions about West Nile virus or other Arboviral diseases contact the KDHE Epidemiology hotline at 877-427-7317.

U.S. 59 chip seal project starts week of July 22

The Kansas Department of Transportation (KDOT) plans to place a chip seal on U.S. 59 in Allen and Anderson counties starting Monday, July 22, weather permitting. The 23-mile project is located between the south junction of U.S. 59/U.S. 169 and the U.S. 59/U.S. 54 junction at Moran.

The chip seal operations are to begin on the section between Kincaid and U.S. 169. At the same time, workers will patch U.S. 59 three miles south of the U.S. 59/K-31 junction. Flaggers and a pilot car will direct one-lane traffic through the work zone during daylight hours; expect delays of 15 minutes or less. The road work should be completed by early August.

The chip seal completes the U.S. 59 preservation project that started with a 1½-inch surface recycle action in late spring. KDOT awarded Dustrol, Inc., of Towanda the $1.7 construction contract.

Drivers are reminded to watch for the signs and flaggers. Persons with questions may contact KDOT Construction Engineer Troy Howard at (785) 448-5446 or Public Affairs Manager Priscilla Petersen at (620) 902-6433.

Colony Christian Church news

Howard Reiter gave the Communion Meditation on "The Struggle". Paul was beaten, arrested, run out of town, etc, and yet he remained steadfast in proclaiming God's Word. The Bible tells us that we as Christians will face struggles. Those struggles are to bring us, and others, closer to God and to advance His kingdom. We are called to glorify God in ALL circumstances. Ref 2 Timothy 10-17. Pastor Chase Riebel gave the sermon on "The First Church: Bold and Encouraging". In the first church, all believers were united in heart and mind, they shared all that they had with others. They shared their teaching, their meals and prayers. Jesus prays that we will all be one, just as God and Jesus are one. What we share with others needs to be more than just words and church services. We must keep telling others the gospel, but also meeting the needs of others. Give it to Jesus and see what he can do with it. (Ref: Acts 2:42-47 ad 4:32-37, John 17:1, Acts 3-4, James 2:15-16) lynchpin to prosperity is for residents to keep a positive attitude that keeps people, groups and organizations pursuing various means to succeed. He said among the assets in the community were vocational trade programs initiated at the local high school in recent years, as well as Graham School For Cattlemen, attended by stockmen from around the world. One of the major negatives in Garnett and the county as a whole, his group said, was a lack of quality affordable housing.

Rogers said input from the 12 statewide meetings would be compiled and assessed by ORP staff to look for commonalities between the various communities, with the presumption of state policies being pursued based on those needs.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 7-30-2019 / SUBMITTED

Katelyn Alley was recently named a NDA Collegiate All-American.

What is it?

I almost forgot to submit this week's column, so I'll just do the "What is it" game.

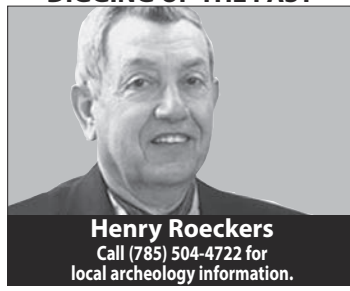

I only know a couple of things about this old artifact.

I know I found it at one of my favorite digging sites and I also know it's 160 plus years old.

If anyone can identify it, please let me know.

1979: Westwood man survives plane crash southwest of Garnett

THAT WAS THEN

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 7-30-2019 / ARCHIVE

Sam Johnson of Westwood escaped serious injury when the plane he was flying had engine trouble and crashed southwest of Garnett.

July 2009
 Past cemetery sextant, Bill Wolf, cared for the cemetery in Lone Elm for years and divided bushes of peony flowers around the cemetery in an effort to be sure no grave was left undecorated for the Memorial Day Holiday weekend. His legacy of kindness and flowers can be seen throughout the year in the bushes that are spread around the grounds, but especially around the holiday when all of the flowers are blooming. Local historians say that Wolf mowed the grounds with a push mower to keep the grounds in pristine condition.

July 1999
 A grand opening celebration is scheduled for this weekend at Garnett's newest variety store, a new business venture from the owner of Shop Rite Groceries. The idea for the new business, aptly named Doo Dads N' What Nots grew out of an over abundance of non-food items at Shop Rite, said owner Sherri Burris. The north part of the store has now been converted into a separate store to display and sell a large variety of items. Some of the items that will be sold include jewelry, toys, kitchenware, vitamins, candles, watches, porcelain dolls, cleaning supplies, and

July 1989
 Although construction on the new multi-purpose building continues to move forward at Central Heights, it has not been without snags, according to Superintendent Leo Laird. Laird said he has already had to sign two major change orders concerning the construction of the new facility. The first occurred when they discovered a sewer line to the vocational agriculture building under the construction site. The second occurred when the construction crew hit a line when digging the foundation.

July 1979
 A single airplane piloted by Samuel Johnson, 34, of Westwood crashed southwest of Garnett. Frank Miller, his son Richard and grandson Tom all saw the crash from a farm south of the site. He says the plane was having trouble and then disappeared behind a hill and didn't come back up.

Johnson crawled from the plane and was taken to the emergency room by Mike Mayes. He had a severely bruised back and possible internal injuries.

July 1919
 The men recently arrested for bank robbery would now be in the penitentiary at Lansing if they had not escaped. About 2 o'clock yesterday morning the robbers broke out of the jail and are now in parts unknown. By some means they secured a saw and cut two boards of the cell in which they were kept and crawled out. Next, they cut a hole in the ceiling at the north end of the jail, which let them into the garret. Then they went to the south end of the building where they pried out some stones, making a hole through which they gained access to the roof. The rest was easy. No doubt they reached the high fence from the roof and easily jumped to the ground to make their get-away.

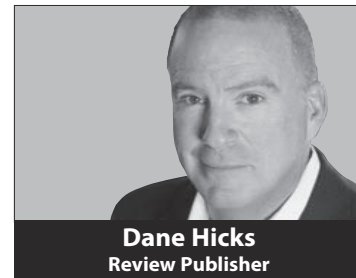

My kingdom for an idea

I know the feeling. Sometimes you know you need to do something to bump up sales, but you just don't have any ideas. Ideas - they really are golden.

There's a cure for the inspiration drought, but as the old adage goes, you have to dig your well before you're thirsty. 1) You know I'm a proponent of being involved in your professional or industry associations. Go to the annual conventions or district gatherings or however it is that your group is organized. Go to the instructional sessions, hang out with your contemporaries and talk shop. If you don't feel like you got much out of it, say so and make your suggestions at the end when they pass out that survey to ask about your impression of the convention.

2) Make yourself a "Swipe File" - a folder or a drawer in your desk you dedicate to

HOW TO SELL STUFF

Dane Hicks
Review Publisher

samples of other people's ideas that you see through newspaper ads, direct mail pieces, table tents at the local restaurant, etc. Once you start stocking your file you'll be able to review its contents every now and then and get a sense of the timing of promotions, ads and ideas that will work in your operation.

3) You probably have a camera on your phone. If an idea is too big to steal a sample for your Swipe File - say, a billboard, a sidewalk chalking, a wrap on a vehicle or somebody's cool tattoo - take a picture of it. If it's a tattoo, you probably should ask first.

4) Hit up your vendors. Tell them you're in need of an idea. Of course they want you to stock your shelves with their wares, but they typically have seen what their other customers have done in the past that has worked, and what has failed. As long as you keep in mind what your interests, budget and objectives are, you don't have to worry about being hijacked by a vendor.

Keep those idea generators rolling on an ongoing basis, and you're never run dry of ideas that will help you sell stuff!

2019 Anderson County Parade Grand Marshal - Gail (Tub) Ratliff

Gail (Tub) Ratliff was married to Lou (Wood) for 44 years; she passed away in 2000. During the course of their marriage they had three daughters; Teri Campbell, husband Clay, and their two daughters Abby and Erin; Julia Willard, husband Lloyd, with kids Andrea, Melissa, Sam, Adam and Ben; Tracy Brown, husband David, and kids Ryan and Haley. They also had one son, David, wife Michelle, they have five kids Morgan, Cheyanne, Madison, Chase and Maycee. The couple has 15 great-grandkids.

Ratliff

Tub started in Cherry Mound 4-H at age five; his kids all attended Cherry Mound and so did Julia, Tracy and David's kids comprising three generations.

He showed lambs in 4-H and in 1955 he won the Grand Champion Lamb at the Kansas Junior Livestock Show in Wichita. That same year he won Grand Champion Lamb at the State Fair and American Royal 4-H Division.

Tub reminisced that his parents, Zenn and Billie Ratliff, heard on the radio about him winning the grand champion at Kansas Junior Livestock show, but when he got home, he was in trouble because he hadn't called to let them know he had won. They had heard it on the radio. He figured if they didn't care to go watch him they wouldn't care that he had won.

Tub's children participated in 4-H and were involved in food, sewing, swine, sheep, and cattle. In 1970, they received the Outstanding Young Farmers of Kansas award sponsored by the Garnett Jaycees. They went on to the National show where they met and became friends with families from New York to California.

Tub served on several committees and boards including: Leader of Cherry Mound for several years, Fair Board several years and president for some of that, chairman of the Building Committee that built the show area, helped in the auction ring for several years and was on the Extension Council board.

He also served on the Kansas Limousin Breeders Association several years and was elected President during that tenure, North American Limousin Foundation for six years, and chairman of the National Limousin Show that was held in Hutchinson Kansas in 2010.

Tub and Gene Raymond were on the board that started the Heartland Limousin Association that consisted of eight states with lots of hours spent traveling to accomplish that.

Tub was also on the Kansas K-MAR board, Farm Management board, Coffey County Rural Electric board, water board and in the Westphalia Lions Club.

Grand champion livestock is not new to the Ratliff family. Besides Tub winning the Grand Champion Lamb, his son, David, had the Grand Champion Steer in 1979, and in 2015 his granddaughter Maycee had Grand Champion steer - all at the Kansas Junior Livestock Show.

Tub still enjoys watching David's kids show cattle today. They have received many awards and winnings that he has been able to watch. He is their biggest fan.

The family of Dan Ramsey
We would like to express our appreciation for the love & support we have received. Words cannot express the overwhelming thoughtfulness of our families & friends for food, cards, donations for Sadie & Dawson, hugs, prayers & flowers. We would like to thank Vernon Yoder for his kind & thoughtful words, Reuben Feuerborn, Stacey, Tracey & Debbie for their help during this difficult time, Lance Ramsey for his help & kindness, the Lone Elm ladies for the great lunch they served, Dan's P-1 family in Lawrence & Good Shepard Hospice.

The family of Raymond Hightower wishes to thank everyone for the thoughtfulness shown to us with his recent passing. A very special gratitude goes out to my Anderson County Hospital family for bringing food on more than one occasion, sending cards and giving hugs when needed. To the Hyatt Club for always lifting me up. To Dr. Wendy Belcher, Dr. Barry Wood and the ER staff, we will forever be grateful for your caring attention to Ray's medical needs.
Janis Hightower and family

Words cannot express the appreciation our family has experienced at this time of loss of our dear Matt. Many acts of kindness were shown to us through prayers, visits, food, cards, and countless gestures of sympathy. Rev. Jocelyn Tupper was there for our family through her prayers, wise words, and comforting message. The presence of all who attended Matt's visitation and service was uplifting for us. The donations to the Iola United Methodist Youth Group are much appreciated and will be used in a positive way.
Our communities have shown us the comfort and kindness that can only come from caring sincerely for one another.
We truly have felt, and continue to feel God's love poured out to us through His people, all of you!
Thank you so much!
The Family of Matthew Miller

Be persistent in your prayers

In 1st Thessalonians 5:17 the Apostle Paul instructs us as follows. "Pray continually, give thanks in all circumstances, for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus." Praying can be a difficult task for us. But Paul says to pray continually. I believe he is telling us to be persistent in our prayers. We see examples of this in scripture first in Matthew 15:21-28 with the faith of the Canaanite Woman and again in Luke 18:1-8 with the parable of the Persistent Widow.

First the Canaanite woman. She comes to Jesus because her daughter is suffering terribly because she is demon-possessed. The woman speaks to Jesus concerning the girl, but he only ignores her. The disciples who were with Jesus begin to tire of the woman's pleas, and they request Jesus to send her away. Jesus then makes this statement, "I was sent only to the lost sheep of Israel." This is clearly because of the woman's religious practices. As a Canaanite she would have been a pagan. The woman comes in desperation and kneels before Jesus. "Lord help me!" she said. Jesus gives her a terse answer. Jesus replied "It is not right to take the children's bread and toss it to the dogs." The woman then makes the following statement. "Yes Lord," she said, "But even the dogs eat the crumbs that fall from their masters table." Jesus then says, "Woman you have great faith! Your request is granted." In Luke 18:1-8, Jesus tells his disciples a parable to show them that they should always pray and never give up. In a certain town there was a judge who neither feared God nor cared about men. And there was a widow in that town who kept coming to him with the same plea. "Grant me justice against my adversary." For a period of time he refused but due to her continual bothering him he relented. Jesus said, "If an unjust Judge will do this, will not God bring about justice for his chosen ones who cry out to him day and night?"

God answers prayer. In both these instances the women who were praying for God's help were committed. Jesus tested them. Whatever you face this day know that if you are in Christ God is working for your good. To live outside the will of God is to miss the blessings of God. If we as individuals and as a church choose to ignore God's mandate to pray we risk God's blessing and ultimately will incur God's wrath.

Ministry on the Holiness of God.

Garnett Public Library monthly book discussion August 28

The Garnett Public Library's monthly book discussion will be held on Wednesday, August 28th at 7 p.m. The book title for August is "Educated" an autobiography by Tara Westover. Tara Westover was seventeen the first time she set foot in a classroom. Born to survivalists in the mountains of Idaho, she prepared for the end of the world by stockpiling home-canned peaches and sleeping with her "head-for-the-hills" bag. In the summer she stewed herbs for her mother, a midwife and healer, and in the winter she salvaged metal in her father's junkyard. Her father distrusted the medical establishment, so Tara never saw a doctor or nurse. Gashes and concussions, even burns from explosions, were all treated at home with herb-alism. The family was so isolated from mainstream society that there was no one to ensure the children received an education, and no one to intervene when an older brother became violent. When another brother got himself into college and came back with news of the world beyond the mountain, Tara decided to try a new kind of life. She taught herself enough mathematics, grammar, and science to take the ACT and was admitted to Brigham Young University. There, she studied psychology, politics, philosophy, and history, learning for the first time about pivotal world events like the Holocaust and the Civil Rights Movement. Her quest for knowledge transformed her, taking her over oceans and across continents, to Harvard and to Cambridge University. Only then would she wonder if she'd traveled too far, if there was still a way home. Educated is an account of the struggle for self-invention. It is a tale of fierce family loyalty, and of the grief that comes from severing ties with those closest to you. With the acute insight that distinguishes all great writers, Westover has crafted a universal coming-of-age story that gets to the heart of what an education is and what it offers: the perspective to see one's life through new eyes, and the will to change it.

 under the CCLIP for these 23 projects. This total includes $7 million in state fiscal year 2021 and $11 million in state fiscal year 2022. "KDOT was able to add $5 million into the CCLIP because of the additional $50 million that the Governor provided as a one-time transfer from the State General Fund," said Deputy Secretary Lindsey Douglas. "Communities then provided an additional $6.5 million in matching funds to create a total of $11.5 million beyond the initial plan to expand the amount invested in various projects." "This is a popular program with communities and allows them an opportunity to receive funding that improves safety, capacity and operational needs as well as increase economic development in their region," said Julie Lorenz, Kansas Secretary of Transportation.

Under the CCLIP, a city is required to contribute up to 25 percent of the project cost based on its population, though some cities contribute significantly more. Cities under 2,500 in population aren't required to provide a match. Projects in this program may fall into one of three different categories including Surface Preservation (SP), Pavement Restoration (PR) or Geometric Improvement (GI). SP projects involve maintenance work such as resurfacing and are funded up to $300,000 per project. PR projects typically involve full-depth pavement replacement without changes to the overall geometric characteristics and may also address drainage issues. GI projects address geometric issues such as adding turn lanes, improving intersections or modifying the lane configuration to address capacity. The PR and GI categories are funded up to $1 million per project.
