Hot cars bring memories back to Lake Garnett

Race Revival offers a glimpse into history of famed Garnett track, and the cars and drivers of the day

BY SPORTS CAR DIGEST THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – It has been more than six decades since the first race cars roared around Lake Garnett Grand Prix in Kansas, showing the true definition of power and speed. On October 9-11, 2020, a group of dedicated individuals is once again injecting the lifeblood back into racing at Lake Garnett Raceway by hosting the Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival.

During the seventh-annual Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival (LGGPR), countless families and car enthusiasts will have the opportunity to witness vintage race cars, classic sports cars, and modern performance automobiles descend on the North Park Lake.

The Revival has become one of the premier vintage and sports car events in the region, with a multi-day format that includes high-performance driving displays around the old 2.8 mile race track, the EKAE autocross at the Garnett Municipal Airport, the Hagerty Revival showcase car show in downtown Garnett, and a road tour & cruise. Onlookers will also get the chance to ride around the track in one of 40-different high-performance vehicles during the Charity Rides.

The track sessions will be diverse offering interest for all. A multitude of speed-regulated classes will allow drivers of every experience level to get some action behind the wheel of their own classic automobiles.

New in 2020 is the Rookie run group, which will allow driver's ages 16-17 who possess a valid driver's license to drive the track in their own dedicated class. Rookies will need to be accompanied by a legal guardian age 25+ and the group will be restricted to 60mph. This Rookie run group will give younger drivers with a passion for classic cars the chance to compete without the pressure of some of the more skilled run groups.

Heartland Vintage Racing will ensure that everyone gets their fill of historic horsepower.

Sides set for hearing in attempted murder case

GARNETT – Defense attorneys and the prosecution are gearing up for the preliminary hearing later this month of a couple suspected of attempted murder in a bizarre lover's triangle gone awry.

Mary Jennings and Maxwell Williams were both charged after an incident in late July in which law officers and prosecutors say they laid a trap for William Hopkins of Williamsburg at Jennings' home in Garnett, stabbing him several times before he was able to escape.

Jennings and Williams have been in the custody of the Anderson County Jail since shortly after the July 24 incident. Their preliminary hearing is set for October 27. Jennings is represented by Carl Cornwell of Olathe and Williams by James Brun of Overland Park.

A probable cause affidavit on which the charges were based said Hopkins showed up at Anderson County Hospital at about 7:30 p.m. July 24 bleeding from a number of slice and stab wounds, and that he at first refused to provide police any information about the cause of his injuries. Garnett police couldn't get information on whether there were other possible victims, so they seized Hopkins' cell phone, vehicle and other personal effects. Medical personnel assessing his wounds determined he had a gaping gash on his left bicep exposing fat and muscle, a 3"–4" stab wound in the side near his left kidney, another stab wound in his left buttocks and a long laceration on his left index finger.

Hopkins refused to submit a blood draw for officers, so they got a warrant for a blood sample and reviewed the contents of a bag Hopkins was carrying when admitted to the hospital. The wallet in the bag contained two credit cards belonging to

Wettstein: No changes to mail voting in Kansas

Rules stay the same regardless of election hype, says clerk

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – While a politicized national debate ruminates over mail balloting in the upcoming November 3 election, Anderson County Clerk Julie Wettstein says Kansas' voting rules are clear and unchanged from years past.

Voting by mail has become a bigger issue this year due to the Covid-19 pandemic, with some analysts suggesting more people will choose to vote by mail instead of going to their usual poll to cast their vote. Some states, in fact, will mail ballots to all registered voters this year as a temporary change, again citing the pandemic as a reason.

But confusion has come in the definition of mail voting, how its handled in different states and conjecture about its accuracy and the amount of time it may take to tally votes dated by November 3 but which may be received by election offices days later.

Wettstein stressed Kansas defines two options for mail voting, and only one of them is an option in the 2020 general election.

"You have a Mail Ballot Election," Wettstein said. "That's where every qualified voter in the district of the election will receive a ballot by mail and must be returned by mail or hand delivered. A mail

Garnett parade to celebrate 50th

GARNETT – The Garnett Area Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade celebrates its 50th anniversary this year with a legacy theme and hopes that local churches, businesses and organizations will make this the best parade in half a century.

Chamber manager Kris Hix said Carter Hermann and Bree Schafer each won $25 in Chamber Bucks for their winning parade theme submissions this year. Organizers combined their entries and came out with "Golden Christmas Memories: 50 Years of Joy."

Garnett's Christmas parade tradition started in 1970 with afternoon events, then changed to a lighted evening parade in the early 1990s.

The 50th Annual GACC Christmas Parade and Lighting Ceremony will take place on November 28, 2020 on the downtown square in Garnett. The Chamber will be accepting Grand Marshal(s) nominations until October 12, 2020.

"The parade is in conjunction with Small Business Saturday, and we encourage everyone to Shop Small and Shop local that weekend," Hix said.

"We're looking forward to a memorable parade," Hix said, "and we encourage all businesses, churches, organizations, schools, and individuals to enter and participate."

ANDERSON COUNTY COMMISSION SEPTEMBER 28, 2020

Vice Chairman David Pracht called the meeting of the Anderson County Commission to order at 9:00 AM on September 28, 2020 at the County Commission Room. Attendance: Jerry Howarter, Absent: David Pracht, Present: Leslie McGhee, Present. The pledge of allegiance was recited. Minutes from the previous meetings were approved as presented.

Road & Bridge

Lester Welsh, Road & Bridge Supervisor met with the commission. Jerry had inquired about a light at Scipio Rd and US-59 Hwy and Lester checked to see if other counties pay for a light on a state highway. He only found 1 other county in the southeast region of the state and they pay over $9,000 a year to maintain them.

Anderson County Economic Development

Julie Turnipseed, Economic Development Director, met with the commission. She presented a list of what she has been working on in September and events that are coming up.

JMZ, Inc in Kwikom Agreement

Burt Peterson, JMZ, Inc, met with the commission. He inquired about the agreement between the county and JMZ, Inc for Kwikom to install fiber in the City of Garnett and monies involved. James Campbell, County Counselor, had concerns regarding the original document and will draft edits to send to Burt for review.

Emergency Management

JD Mersman, Emergency Management Director, met with the commission. He let the commission know the grant for the tornado storm shelter for the City of Garnett has been approved and will likely be installed early spring 2021. The shelter will be placed near the evidence building or depot. The county originally agreed to pay a half of the remainder match amount for the grant, which will not be more than $6,000. An exact amount will be given when the shelter is ordered.

Solid Waste

Scott Garrett, Solid Waste Supervisor, met with the commission. Discussion was held on changing how the voucher for one free dump up to 250 lbs in 2021 will read. To help with confusion Scott would like the voucher to read $5.00 off instead of a poundage limit. He said 250 lbs of household trash is roughly $5.00 so it equals out if the taxpayer brings trash. Commissioner Pracht moved and Commissioner McGhee seconded to change the verbiage on the voucher that will go in tax statements to read $5.00 off a 1 time dump at the landfill in 2021. To be reevaluated in September of 2021 for 2022. Commissioner Pracht and Commissioner McGhee voted yes. Commissioner Howarter is absent.

Adjourn

Meeting adjourned at 12:00 PM due to no further business.

How will they ever know God?

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

In the 6th chapter of Isaiah we read of Isaiah's commission to service by God. We also read what prompted this commission of the prophet as follows. "In the year King Uzziah died, I (Isaiah) saw the Lord seated on a throne, high and exalted, and the train of his robe filled the temple." (Isaiah 6:1) Uzziah had been king of Israel for 52 years. His death marked a watershed event for the people of Israel, they had lost the leader they had looked to for so long.

To put this in perspective this would be similar to the shock waves that went through the people of the United States when President Kennedy was shot or the twin tower event in New York. As we read into the text we see a startling difference between how God is perceived in heaven, (I believe Isaiah received a glimpse into the sanctuary of God) and how he is perceived on earth. We read in Isaiah 1:3 that the seraphs, who are angelic heavenly beings that are in the service of God pronounce that God is Holy, Holy, Holy. This attribute of God is the only one of his attributes that is ever taken to the third degree, "Holy, Holy, Holy."

I believe it is important for us to understand that our culture has become desensitized to this attribute of God. If we are made in God's image surely this is one of God's attributes we should exhibit. I know that you are probably thinking if I display a holy character I am setting myself up for criticism from people I know, or work with and my family. You are probably correct but the question you have to ask yourself is if I am a Christian should I look and act like the rest of the world or should I be different. You and I know the true answer to that question. We have been intimidated by the secular world to conform to their norm which is so broad it cannot be defined. This culture leaves everything open for interpretation by the individual which leads to constantly changing interpretation criteria.

I said there was a vast difference in the perception of God in heaven and on earth. The question we have to live with is if we as Christian individuals don't exhibit the characteristics of God here on earth for people who are desensitized to the things of God to see, how will they ever come to know God?

Colony Christian Church - The Challenge of Discipleship

Brant McGhee gave the Communion Meditation this week. Revelation 3:15 says, "I know all the things you do, that you are neither hot nor cold. I wish that you were one or the other!" How often do we try to start our day with prayer, just to be distracted by life? Start to pray, hit the snooze button, pray, think on what daily plans are, pray, coffee, pray, chores, etc. Our mind easily wanders and we hit prayer "potholes". When we pray, we should focus and get ourselves right with God. We need to thank God for all he has given to us (even the struggles and adversities), and confess our sins (and ask for help recognizing those we haven't recognized ourselves yet). Focus on God and all of his goodness!

Pastor Chase Riebel gave the sermon on "The Challenge of Discipleship". In Matthew 28:19-20, Jesus calls us all to go out and make disciples. When Jesus called the fisherman to "Follow me", they left all... all that they had, all that they knew. They made a clear choice and commitment immediately. And it doesn't matter about anyone else. YOU are called to follow him. There are three parts to being a disciple. 1. Simple (Matt 7:14) - Jesus is the Way. The way is not complicated, and it is easily defined. It IS Jesus. 2. Strict (John 14:6) - Jesus is the Truth. He is absolute. "All who love the truth recognize that what I say is true." (John 18:37). 3. Surrender (Galatians 2:20) - Your old self was crucified with Christ. You give up your life and leave behind your desires. Christ will make his home in your heart.

When we become eternally productive, we are effective disciples. Our families and communities are safer and more people get to Heaven. We need to get the evil out of us to purify ourselves with the Light; confess our sins to flush them out. When the sin is in the open, it can be dealt with. Then Jesus' light can truly shine out from us. (Ref: Matthew 4; Luke 5; Matthew 4:19; John 14:6, 21:20-22; Ephesians 3:17; Colossians 1:27; Acts 19) You can hear this sermon in its entirety thru your favorite podcast, or our website at www.colonychristianchurch.org.

HORN

AUGUST 31, 1932 - SEPTEMBER 23, 2020

Glen Howard Horn, 88, Clovis, CA, peacefully passed away September 23, 2020, at Mrs. Scott's Residential Care Facility in Clovis.

Horn

Glen was born August 31, 1932, in Garnett, the son of Rolland and Helen Horn. His mother died when he was seven years old. Rolland married Nellie Clausing on June 3, 1941. She became a wonderful mother to Glen and was a much-loved grandmother.

Glen and Winifred Apperson, his wife of 65 years, were married on November 5, 1950, at First Christian Church in Garnett, on the same day of the very first service in the newly-built sanctuary. They became the parents of three sons, Gary, Roger, and Kent, and one daughter, Linda.

His faith was very important to Glen. He and Winnie were dedicated Christians and instilled the love of the Lord in their children and grandchildren. They were among the first members of the SOS Sunday School Class at First Christian Church in Garnett.

He graduated from Garnett High School with the Class of 1950 and was able to attend several class reunions over the years.

In his early teens, Glen worked at Atkinson Bowling Alley in Garnett, where he lay above the bowling pins to reset them. The alley's name is printed on his original Social Security card, which he kept. He also ran the movie projector at the People's Theater. The story is told that once he started the film, he went down to join Winnie, who was allowed a special seat in the back of the theater.

Glen started his career with J.C. Penney while he and Winnie still lived in Garnett. Gary and Roger were born there. He transferred to J.C. Penney in Coffeyville to be the assistant manager, where Linda and Kent were born. It was there they built the first of four houses they would build from the ground up by themselves.

In 1963, the family moved to California where he took a position with Montgomery Ward in Merced that summer. In the summer of 1965, the family moved to Sanger, CA, where they opened a Dari-Delite drive-in restaurant. In 1974, they sold it and purchased and farmed 80 acres of almonds in Madera, CA. In the summer of 1978, he retired to enjoy building more homes - two for Winnie and one for Kent.

His main passions were carpentry and Bible study. He was always ready to help family and friends with his many skills. In addition to building Kent's home and business shop, he helped Gary work on building his home. He also greatly helped both Kent and his son-in-law Art, building items when they each started a new business.

He had such great ability to build things and also to repair just about anything. He only called a repairman once, and then watched, asking questions, as the man repaired the air-conditioner, which was a machine new to him then.

He was a loving husband and a dedicated, hard-working father who instilled in his children the same values of hard work and personal responsibility by which he lived.

He loved building toys for his young sons and then played right along with them as he was still quite young himself at the time.

Glen was preceded in death by his wife, Winifred, on December 29, 2015; his mother in 1940; his father in 1964; his step-mother, Nellie Horn, in 1985; his brother, Delwyn Horn, in 2007; and his sister-in-law, Carrie Horn, in 1995.

He is survived by his children, Gary and Colleen Horn, Sanger, CA; Roger and Sally Horn, Knoxville, TN; Linda and Art Pugh, Fresno, CA; and Kent and Bobbie Horn, Madera, CA; twelve grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren; and his nephew, Rick Horn, Garnett.

Graveside services will be held Friday, October 9, at 2:00 p.m. at the Clovis Cemetery, Clovis, CA. Sympathies may be sent in care of his daughter Linda Pugh, 3257 East Sample Avenue, Fresno, CA 93710

Recalling our racing legacy

According to the witnesses, it was a sight to behold.

It was one of a bare handful of summer phenomena for Eastern Kansas and the Kansas City Region in the 1960s, packing sometimes upwards of 30,000 racers, fans, and fun seekers into Garnett for the two-day event around the Fourth of July.

It's a legacy our community has never equaled and, in a lot of ways, against which we've always measured ourselves. So big a crowd having so much fun, a little mischief, and spending what by any comparison was a whole bunch of money in a town unaccustomed to that kind of volume of bodies and wallets.

Somewhere, recorded back in the club minutes and treasurer's reports of the Rotary Club and the Lions Club and the Boy Scouts and various other civic and even church organizations of the day are the records of the financial impact those races made on parts of the community – and that doesn't even address the taverns (I think someone told me there were three in town at the time), restaurants, gas stations and various other retailers who benefited from the temporary crush of humanity. Surrounding communities no doubt benefited as well, because Garnett simply wouldn't have had the motel and camping space to handle everyone.

The obvious question is, what was the allure back then and how could we ever get it back with a similar event?

Like any kind of analysis of the times 50 years ago, you start off understanding that those times were different. Mostly pre-Vietnam war era, the economy and the mood of the country was solid. Money was moving and there was comparatively a lot of it flying around. The post-World War II, U.S.-led economy was still growing and the world was still following the U.S. lead. Real GDP growth in the U.S. in the 1960s averaged five percent annually and was at times as high as 8.5 percent. U.S. payrolls increased 32 percent during the decade of the 1960s, the highest growth in jobs during any decade of the post-war years. U.S. Government tax revenues grew by 65 percent between 1965 and 1970.

And a lot of that green was rolling through the hands of the vanguard of the Baby Boom – kids born in 1945 would have been 20 by 1965, and even before Berkley and the hippie movement in the university towns a brewing youth-oriented culture was taking root nationwide in the immediate post-war generation. Followup years to the war meant there were lots of kids. They had money and they had time on their hands. All sorts of new products were invented to tap that market – rock and roll, comic books, breakfast cereals, lawn darts with steel tips. At 20-30 cents a gallon even a gas guzzling late 1950s auto was a viable option for a fun road trip to Garnett, where a big summer race party was developing its own reputation.

Roads? Well, they were different back then too. The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 would have been less than a decade old in 1965. Interstate bypasses had not yet drained the life-giving travel blood out of small communities by shipping entire regions of motor traffic onto four-lane interstates. Towns like Garnett saw more traffic back in those days on the old two-lane roads that made up regional travel networks, and more people literally had been to town and most likely remembered it.

Money, youth, travel, and probably not a lot of competition for fun gathering things to do in the Midwest – they all helped point to Garnett and events like it as gathering points. Racing was a cult following unto itself of course. The drivers – like fighter pilots without wings – were a dynamic club, and the technology developments of that decades made racing faster, louder and more exciting. As the race organizations developed Garnett as a prime location for the sport fans followed, and even people who weren't that into racing were into the tonnage of young people and the party-looking-for-a

I am a Christian, I am a professional. With that said I want you to know that I've gone to church where other people weren't wearing a mask. I went to another church and they all had masks on and they were all spread out, so now I attend this church. What I don't understand is how churches of all places are trying to say this is a conspiracy to get people not to attend church. This is not your call. It is a county and state rule to follow during this time. God wants us to be safe and serve him and survive this. God bless you all.

Before I forgot it I just wanted to make a note about the abortion protestors who were lining 59 Highway in Garnett on Sunday. They were standing there minding their own business, peaceably assembled, not causing trouble not burning any businesses down nor shooting or killing anybody. Not blocking traffic. They just stood there on the public sidewalks and held their signs. I thought that was a good example of peaceful protest nowadays no matter if you agree with them or not. Very much a class act.

I really question the logic of our city officials. We have many people in town who were and still are impacted by Covid-19. The city received $400,000 that was supposed to be used for Covid relief purposes. That could have been used for rent or mortgage payments, utilities and or groceries for many people who are out of work or had hours reduced. Instead the city was able to bend the rules for what qualifies as Covid relief to maybe help a few dozen people at most who can afford to own and fly general aviation aircraft. I'm not saying the repairs aren't needed, but why not increase the tie down fee, hangar rent, fuel prices and maybe implement a landing fee so the people who benefit from the airport are the ones paying for it? Isn't that what they're doing for the water plant improvements by ratcheting up the city water rates? Thank you.

Think about it. Any politician that is in favor of abortion will take your liberties too.

Freelancers may revive the post-Covid economy

More than 50 million Americans have filed unemployment claims since the start of the COVID-19 pandemic. And business bankruptcies are expected to rise nearly 50 percent this year.

This economic turmoil is pushing both businesses and workers towards a greater reliance on freelancing. Americans are increasingly turning to these flexible jobs and choosing to become their own bosses, rather than search for a traditional 9 to 5 in a soft labor market. And one in every three companies plans to utilize more independent contractors to meet their changing needs, according to research firm Gartner.

Freelancers are helping drive the economy's recovery -- and they'll continue to boost the economy long after the pandemic ends. It's time for lawmakers to support this growing share of the workforce by providing freelancers with the same protections that salaried employees have long enjoyed.

Freelancers are already an indispensable and growing part of our labor force. Before the coronavirus outbreak, the 5.8 million freelancers in the top 30 U.S. markets contributed roughly $150 billion to the economy. In those regions, the number of freelancers grew by 15 percent between 2012 and 2017.

COVID-19 has accelerated this shift towards a freelance-centric economy. Forty percent of freelancers said their workloads have either remained consistent or increased. Over half predicted that demand will increase following COVID-19.

And given the uncertainties about the future, many companies need cost-effective ways to fulfill their business needs.

GUEST COMMENTARY

BRENT MESSENGER - FIVERR

Freelancers' flexibility and skillsets make them well-equipped to meet that demand.

Consider a small business trying to expand their online presence. It doesn't make sense for a bookstore or restaurant to pay someone full-time to put together a single website. Most small firms don't need a full-fledged marketing department either -- but they do need help regaining customers after months of closures and lockdowns. Freelancers can step in and provide those services.

Our country's economic revival is linked to the success of these workers. It's time for lawmakers to acknowledge freelancers' value by including them in safety net programs.

They can start by making unemployment benefits for freelance workers permanent. Congress temporarily extended these benefits to freelancers through the Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA) program, which will expire at the end of the year. Ensuring access to these benefits long after COVID-19 abates would make the new freelance economy less precarious.

An economy supported by independent workers also requires reforms to the nation's healthcare system.

One way to provide more -- and better -- insurance options for independent workers is by shoring up the Affordable Care Act, which made it easier for freelancers to get coverage through online insurance exchanges. The law isn't perfect. But there's no reason that Republicans and Democrats shouldn't be able to work together to make the exchanges work better.

Expanding access to affordable continuing education is also a necessity. Although acquiring new skills and knowledge in one's field is essential to competing as an independent professional, only a quarter of today's freelancers have used existing educational resources. Student loan forgiveness programs would make using these resources much more affordable.

Finally, since freelancers work remotely, an internet connection is invaluable. Yet, over 20 million Americans still lack access to reliable internet. Lawmakers can close that gap by funding the expansion of our country's broadband infrastructure.

Policymakers can ensure the rise in freelancing leads to a vibrant economic recovery -- by giving freelancers the basic security they deserve.

No, the Democrats won't pack the Supreme Court

For many progressive opinion-makers, the only way to save the Supreme Court is to destroy it.

They believe the best response to the Republican-held Senate confirming a Trump nominee to fill Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg's seat on the Supreme Court is to pack the Court if Democrats win in November. Holding out the court-packing threat, they argue, also might give Republicans second thoughts about filling the vacancy.

For the Democrats, court-packing would be a murder-suicide. It would end the Supreme Court as we know it, and almost certainly bring a swift and decisive end to Democratic congressional majorities. There's a reason Republicans aren't taking the threat seriously in their calculations.

No matter how infuriated a party is, the rules of political gravity still apply. A president is at the high point of his power at the outset, steadily losing juice over time.

Would Biden spend precious capital on court-packing early in his presidency? If so, voting, green energy and health care legislation would take a back seat.

If, instead, all of that legislation went first, then court-packing would be pushed toward the back of the line, when Biden would have diminished clout for the political fight of a lifetime.

The question of timing would enter in another way. If Democrats managed to add Court seats in the second year of a Biden presidency, how much time and political capital would they have left to fill them before the midterms? If Republicans took back the Senate, they certainly wouldn't fill them.

And, of course, when Republicans hold the presidency and Congress again, they'd add their own seats or subtract the Democratic ones, making the entire exercise a nullity.

It's also true that, as a general rule, big changes happen in our system when a party makes a sustained public case for them prior to an election. Very few elected Democrats are willing to come out in favor of packing the court, and Biden the other day pointedly refused to endorse it.

Making court-packing the major initiative of his presidency would be an awkward fit for Biden. It would validate the critique of him as weak and prone to getting pushed around by the left. It would blow up his hope to bring some normality back to Washington. It would inexorably make the destruction of the legitimacy of the Supreme Court part of his legacy, when he imagines himself an institutionalist.

The argument that Republicans have already "packed the court" is a false equivalence. Yes, Republicans have used hardball tactics to keep open, or now to try to fill, vacancies. But these seats opened up in the natural course of events. They weren't conjured out of nowhere in a fit of pique or vengeance.

It easy to pound the table and demand an incredibly momentous change to our system when you don't have power and don't have to cope with the consequences. It's another to act in the face of vigorous opposition and with nervous officeholders in marginal districts or states looking for a way out.

No matter how much progressives want elected Democrats to write the ransom note, they aren't going to take the Supreme Court captive next year, let alone kill the hostage.

Yes! These photos are of two more bottles found at my latest site. Including these two, I have found, cleaned and turned over to the landowners 20 plus antique bottles thus far. This site is nothing, but full of surprises and I love spending my time there.

Picture #1

This antique pale green glass bottle, with stopper top, is 8 1/2" tall. On one side panel it is embossed "S.F. BAKER & CO. and on the other side "KEOKUK, IOWA"

Research shows that this is probably from the late 1800's, as Baker retired in 1883 and died in 1898. He made medicines, extracts, flavorings and spices, over the course of many years.

Picture #2

This beautiful cobalt blue glass bottle, is also an old medicine bottle. Some of these had dropper style top, while others had a plain screw on metal cap. I rather suspect this bottle once contained aspirin in it.

place to happen attitude of that Garnett weekend.

So what does it take to get something like that back once it's gone? Community leaders in Garnett have been trying for decades. The Cornstock Concert on the Hill is a solid effort, but the lack of a two-day event allows much financial impact to escape. Music events, craft beer festivals, even craft fairs have their gravity, but it's hard to imagine 27,000 people flooding into town to buy local honey or those cool PVC blow guns that shoot little marshmallows.

The organizers of the Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival deserve our recognition and gratitude however for driving this effort to recall that racing heyday, and for turning it into another local event our community can be proud of. And, who knows? Those crowds seem to be building every year. Maybe...

Mary Jennings. Hopkins was also wearing one sandal, and told officers he believed he lost the other one while fleeing the scene where the incident took place.

Documents said Jennings' residence had blood droplets on the front porch, and a warrant search with forced entry to the residence found no one home but a blood trail leading from the porch to the master bedroom, a switchblade knife and a sandal matching the one Hopkins was wearing at the hospital.

Hopkins eventually told police he and Jennings had been in a sexual relationship for several months, and had filmed themselves having sex on July 23 while at his residence. The two then sent the video to Maxwell Williams, who had been in a previous relationship with Jennings. Hopkins said the following day he had conversations with Jennings that led him to believe she was suicidal, and he called Williams and asked if he was with her and told him he thought Jennings might harm herself. He said he told Williams he was headed to Garnett to check on her.

Arriving at the house, Hopkins said Jennings met him at the door naked and tried to seduce him. He said he refused and the two talked, and she eventually asked him to go get her a Red Bull and some cigarettes, which he did. Several minutes later when he returned, Hopkins said Jennings' demeanor had changed, that she was combative and arguing about their relationship, and eventually walked to the back bedroom. Upon following her to the bedroom, Hopkins told officers Williams sprang upon him from a hiding place and began stabbing him. Hopkins said he fought to escape and eventually got to his car and drove himself to the hospital.

The affidavit says officers interviewed Jennings in Garnett on July 29, and she said Williams showed up at her house unannounced that Friday morning and the two had sexual relations. She said Hopkins showed up later, also unannounced, and threatened her with a knife. When she walked to her bedroom to call the police, she said Hopkins followed her and that Williams was hiding in a bedroom closet. Williams confronted Hopkins, she said, and took the knife away from him in the struggle, but she said she never actually saw Williams with the knife, only Hopkins.

After Hopkins left, the affidavit says Jennings contradicted herself when she said she and Williams left first through the front door, then through the back door, to leave town and stay with friends that night in the Kansas City area. Police placed Jennings in custody at the end of the interview, at which time she got upset and blurted out that she didn't know Williams had a knife and that she thought Williams was only going to witness Hopkins threatening her and maybe just beat him up.

A review of text messages on Jennings phone showed multiple unanswered texts to Jennings on that Friday beginning around 4:45 p.m. At 7:49 p.m., while Hopkins was in the hospital, Jennings' phone shows a text from Hopkins that says "Good times, y'all. Thanks."

Court documents showed Jennings, who lists her occupation on her Facebook page as a self-employed soul healer and exorcist, was out on bond from a previous June 10 2020 court case. A condition of the bond in that case was that she not have contact with the victim in the case, Maxwell Williams.

The October 27 preliminary hearings for both Jennings and Williams are set for 1 p.m.

Onlookers can expect to see vintage Corvettes, Shelby GT's, and Jaguars roaring around the lake, while the more agile Austin Healeys, Lotus Cortinas, and Triumphs carve up the challenging corners. It's an incredible opportunity for automotive and racing fans alike to see cars that more and more are relegated to museums, being driven at speed on a historic racecourse.

Spectator admission and parking is free, and the LGGPR group encourages families and car enthusiasts of all ages to come to celebrate these marvelous automobiles. For the schedule of events, covid-19 regulations, and more information, visit the website at www.lggpr.org.

About the Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival

For one weekend in October of each year, the historic Lake Garnett Raceway comes back to life with the roar of powerful engines and the smell of high-octane fuel. Comprised of nearly 300-acres, the North Lake Park in Garnett, KS, once played host to one of the most popular sports car races in the Midwest. Official auto racing at the facility ended in the 1970s, but some 40-years later, a small group of sports car enthusiasts from the region banded together to celebrate memories of the track and the automobiles that once raced there. In 2014, the first Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival (LGGPR) was held, comprised of a track event, autocross, car show, and charity rides around the 2.8 mile road course which raise funds for charitable organizations around the area. Since then, the LGGPR has become known as one of the most fan-friendly and reasonably-priced events of its kind to attend, attracting more than 300 cars as well as thousands of participants and spectators.

Viking runners finish well at own invitational

RICHMOND - The Central Heights Viking cross country team hosted their annual home meet last week and had yet another solid outing, which has become the expectation within their program.

The varsity boys were led by David Craft (18:22) in 3rd place and Luke Cotter (18:57) in 7th place.

Dakota Kuczmariski (19:41, 21st) and Nicholas Schultze (20:56, 30th) also ran hard for the boy's team.

The varsity girls had just two runners and they both finished in the top 10.

Taryn Compton (22:10) finished in 4th and Lily Meyer (23:39) finished in 10th.

The Vikings junior high runners placed in first in both the 8th grade boys and 7th grade boys runs.

Connor Burkdoll (11:23) was the 8th grade winner and Aydan Dunbar (13:44) won the 7th grade event.

The rest of the junior varsity and junior high results are posted below.

"Another meet, another set of great results. I continue to be impressed by the growth and the way the runners are becoming more of a team each and every week. It's always a little stressful to host a meet because there seems to be that little bit of extra pressure to bring the best in front of a larger crowd than usual. Man, this group did not disappoint! Starting off with Aydan and Connor both winning on their home turf set the bar high for the following races and everyone stepped up to the challenge. We had some huge personal bests, we had several season bests, and the medal haul keeps going up. With winds so strong that teams couldn't even put up their tents, you'd think it would be a great excuse to not be at peak performance. Not today, and not at home. We have one week left to keep fixing a few details before the championship season starts," head coach Troy Prosser stated.

Taryn Compton (102) and Lilly Meyer (107) running nearly in stride during last week's race. Both runners would finish in the top 10.

Crest improves to 5-0 with win over Waverly

WAVERLY - Crest jumped out to a 26-0 lead at halftime en route to a 48-12 road win last Friday on the road against Waverly.

Waverly did make Crest work harder than they have had to all season, but it was just the kind of game they need to build as they are wanting to peak down the stretch.

Jacquez Coleman led the offense with 19 carries for 121 yards and 3 rushing touchdowns.

Stratton McGhee chipped in with 19 carries and for 88 yards and a touchdown. McGhee also had 15 stops defensively to lead the Lancers.

Holden Barker scored twice on 12 carries for 41 yards and Caleb Nolan added one touchdown on 4 carries for 30 yards.

Next on the schedule for Crest is a home game against Chetopa (4-2).

Chetopa could prove to be the toughest remaining opponent during the regular season for Crest. They are riding a 3-game winning streak and have outscored their opponents by 116 over that stretch.

Crest volleyball drops a pair at Oswego

OSWEGO - The Crest Lancers dropped a 2 set match to Oswego and a 3 set match to St. Paul last week.

"We didn't have the same fire consistently like we did at home last Tuesday. We started each match aggressive, but then just got away from our game plan of attacking. We gave up 7 straight points on several different occasions and that is hard to bounce back from," head coach Abigail Hermreck stated.

Senior Aubree Holloran went 20/22 at 91% in serving and had 2 ace serves. She had 13 kills and led the team in setting assists and serve receive passing.

Junior Lindsey Godderz served 100% at 11/11 and had 1 ace serve. She led the team in digs and free ball passing.

Junior Anna Hermreck served 8/9 at 89% with 2 ace serves. She had 3 kills and 1 block.

Sophomore Brinley McGhee served 23/24 at 96% with 1 ace serve. She had 6 assists and 1 kill.

Sophomore McKenna Hammond served 10/12 at 83% and had 1 ace serve. She had 9 kills and 3 assists. Sophomore Sydney Stephens had 1 ace serve and 3 kills.

Freshman Kayla Hermreck served 14/17 at 82% with 3 ace serves. She led the team in kills with 17 and 2 blocks.

The JV beat Oswego in 3 sets and lost to St. Paul in 2.

Coach Hammond said, "They did a great job setting the ball up against Oswego and really played well."

Sophomore Kamryn Luedke led the team in serving with 20/21 and had 5 ace serves. She had 5 kills.

Junior Vivian Noah led the team with 6 kills.

Freshman Andie Burnett served 10/11 and had 4 ace serves.

Junior Lonna Ayers had 3 kills and Freshman Caty Nolan had 2 kills.

Crest will travel to Yates Center tonight, October 6 for a league match up with Yates Center and Jayhawk-Linn.

Bulldogs run over by Lyndon

LYNDON-Anderson County continues to struggle with injuries as their promising start has been overshadowed by their recent struggles, including a 56-6 loss on the road to Lyndon on Friday night.

Lyndon scored early and often. They opened the scoring with a 42 yard touchdown run at the 10:35 mark of the first quarter and following a Bulldog fumble they connected on a 43 yard touchdown pass to lead 14-0 with still 7 minutes left in the first quarter.

Lyndon's lead would balloon to 34-0 midway through the 2nd quarter, which is where the game stood heading into half-time.

After Lyndon opened the second half with a score, the Bulldogs got their lone score of the day on a 57 yard run by Fisher Galey, the extra point would be no good bringing the score to 42-6 with just under 7 minutes left in the game.

Lyndon would add a pair of scores over the final quarter and a half to put the finishing touches on a 56-6 victory.

On Friday night, the Bulldogs are scheduled to travel to Frontenac to take on the Raiders (2-3).

Vikings roll past Horton

HOLTON - Central Heights continues to click on all cylinders as they are off to a 4-1 start after a 56-0 thumping of Horton on Friday night.

The Vikings reeled off 35 first quarter points and led 49-0 at halftime as they played one of their best all-around games in quite some time.

Offensively quarterback Tony Detwiler connected on all 3 of his attempts for 63 yards and a touchdown and also added 11 carries for 181 yards and 4 touchdowns. One of Detwiler's four scores was an 88 yard run.

Brady Burson added 11 carries for 76 yards and 2 touchdowns.

Cauy Newell had just one carry, but it was a productive one as he broke loose for a 30 yard touchdown run.

Dominic Lopez was the force behind the dominating defensive performance. Lopez had 10 stops on the night, 7 of them for loss and also caused and recovered a fumble.

Newell also had 10 tackles and a fumble recovery to help lead the Vikings defensively.

Greeley Elementary students taking restrictions in stride

The 2020-21 school year is off to a good start at Greeley Elementary. Students have adjusted well to the Covid-19 policies put in place by the district. Wearing masks, social distancing and taking frequent mask breaks have been new to the routine this year, but has not affected the learning and fun that still takes place during the school day. Pictured above, on left: Ms. Annie Wiesner, the new third/fourth grade teacher at Greeley, teaches her students the game of "Categories", a learning activity they can

Growing Garnett Community Heart & Soul

Garnett residents attended "An Introduction to Community Heart & Soul" on September 29. Community Heart & Soul is a two-year, four-phase process that helps residents shape the future of their communities. It is a bottom-up process, meaning that it will be driven by what is important to all of the residents of Garnett as opposed to having Garnett's future shaped by a few.

"The City" is not just City Hall or elected officials or those appointed to boards, it includes everyone! As a resident of Garnett, you know what you value, what is important to you, and what you want our city to be like in the future. You, your ideas, and your input are an important part of this process.

Phase 1 of the process will take 2-3 months and involves building a team, gathering partners, and building awareness and interest across our community.

Phase 2 will take 6-8 months and will reach out to as many people as possible in all the different groups in our community to find out what matters most to the people of Garnett. We especially need to include those whose voices are generally not heard when decisions are made. We will be gathering stories about local experiences and bringing people together to focus on what they have in common. The residents of Garnett will develop Heart & Soul statements showing what is important to all of us as a community. These statements will guide the activities in the remaining phases.

Phase 3 will take 4-6 months. We will be gathering and prioritizing ideas and action items, using Garnett's Heart & Soul statements as a foundation. This phase will include many residents a possible in to discuss ideas and make decisions for our future.

Phase 4 is ongoing. We will work together to create a plan to complete the actions identified in Phase 3.

The next workshop in the Getting Started with Community Heart & Soul series will be the "Four Elements of Readiness," on Tuesday, October 6 from noon to 1:00 pm CST. This workshop will help us look at the current conditions in Garnett that could help or hinder the success of our Community Heart & Soul process.

We are planning a virtual meeting with Michelle Franks, Garnett's Heart & Soul Coach, on Wednesday, October 7. This will be a chance to meet Michelle, learn more about Community Heart & Soul, and ask questions.

For more information, please contact us at: 785-433-5599 or growinggarnett@gmail.com.

ballot election can only pose a question to voters – it can't be used for the election of officers to any position. In a Mail Ballot Election there is no in person voting."

"Absentee voting is an option to all registered voters," Wettstein said, "in lieu of voting at the polls. A form must be completed verifying they'd like a ballot to be mailed to them and that they will not commit voter fraud. Voter information on the form, such as driver's license number and signature are verified by the clerk's office before a ballot is sent."

Wettstein said absentee voting is typically used by voters who are sick or disabled or who are temporarily away from their place of residence and can't vote either in advance or at their regular voting poll.

Most states have similar rules regarding the monitoring of ballots mailed out to registered voters to be returned by mail, but concerns over vote tampering come in regard to plans in several states to mass mail ballots to statewide voter lists. Presently, such plans are in effect either temporarily or as standard procedure in nine states: Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Vermont and New Jersey, as well as the District of Columbia.

The concern is such a mass mail out of ballots might allow them to be dispatched to voters who had either died or no longer lived at those addresses. That possibility could allow those ballots to be cast by a non-addressee, even someone who had already voted once. Just how updated those voter lists are in those areas isn't known. Other concerns have been lodged that the U.S. Postal Service could be overwhelmed in the process or that the volume of mail leading up to the election leaves more chance for postal error. Wettstein said she has no problem trusting the postal service in the local area with absentee ballots.

"I have complete faith in our local mail carriers and postal workers that they are working diligently to get your ballot to you and returned to my office efficiently and with the upmost integrity."

Advance voting is also an option for local voters who either can't make it to polls on election day and want to vote at the clerk's office before the election. Advance voters just have to go to the clerk's office at the Anderson County Courthouse during business hours and request their ballot.

Advance voting begins October 14 and runs through noon on November 2. Clerk's office staff will also be open until noon on Saturday, Oct. 31, for advance voters who can't make it to the courthouse during the week.

October designated as Pedestrian Safety Month

It's important for pedestrians, drivers and other road users to always remember that pedestrian safety is a two-way street. That is why the Kansas Department of Transportation is participating in Pedestrian Safety Month in October, a traffic safety campaign created by the U.S. DOT's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).

"Through the IKE transportation program, we are committed to making continued investments in sidewalks and safe crossings in communities, on the state highway system, trail networks and shared-use paths," KDOT Secretary Julie Lorenz said.

In 2018, there were 6,283 pedestrians killed in traffic crashes in the United States, accounting for 17% of all traffic fatalities. This equals a traffic-related pedestrian death every 84 minutes.

Between 2008-2018, Kansas saw a 53% increase in pedestrian fatalities. Advancements in vehicle safety have increased survivability for occupants in crashes; however, pedestrians are still vulnerable.

"KDOT's top priority is safety, and I am worried to see the number of fatal crashes increase," said Secretary Lorenz. "We all have a role to play, and I urge everyone, whether you're a pedestrian or a motorist, to look out for one another, stay alert, avoid distractions and follow the rules of the road."

Check out KDOT's social media pages during October to learn more about:

- Speed and traffic calming
- Distractions and inattention
- Watching for children/yielding to pedestrians
- Visual/physical impairments, time of day precautions

For more information, visit the KDOT Bicycle & Pedestrian webpage at <http://www.ksdot.org/burRail/bike/default.asp> or contact KDOT Bicycle and Pedestrian Coordinator Jenny Kramer at Jenny.Kramer@ks.gov.

For tips and information on pedestrian safety, visit: <https://www.nhtsa.gov/road-safety/pedestrian-safety>.

Know the basics— pedestrian safety

10 Walking Safety Tips

1. Be predictable. Follow the rules of the road and obey signs and signals.
2. Walk on sidewalks whenever they are available.
3. If there is no sidewalk, walk facing traffic and as far from traffic as possible.
4. Keep alert at all times; don't be distracted by electronic devices that take your eyes (and ears) off the road.
5. Whenever possible, cross streets at crosswalks or intersections, where drivers expect pedestrians. Look for cars in all directions, including those turning left or right.
6. If a crosswalk or intersection is not available, locate a well-lit area where you have the best view of traffic. Wait for a gap in traffic that allows enough time to cross safely; continue watching for traffic as you cross.

7. Never assume a driver sees you. Make eye contact with drivers as they approach to make sure you are seen.

8. Be visible at all times. Wear bright clothing during the day, and wear reflective materials or use a flashlight at night.

9. Watch for cars entering or exiting driveways, or backing up in parking lots.

10. Avoid alcohol and drugs when walking; they impair your abilities and your judgment.

Tips to drive safely

9 Driving Safety Tips

1. Look out for pedestrians everywhere, at all times. Safety is a shared responsibility.

2. Use extra caution when driving in hard-to-see conditions, such as nighttime or bad weather.

3. Slow down and be prepared to stop when turning or otherwise entering a crosswalk.

4. Yield to pedestrians in crosswalks and stop well back from the crosswalk to give other vehicles an opportunity to see the crossing pedestrians so they can stop too.

5. Never pass vehicles stopped at a crosswalk. There may be people crossing that you can't see.

6. Never drive under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

7. Follow the speed limit, especially around people on the street.

8. Follow slower speed limits in school zones and in neighborhoods where children are present.

9. Be extra cautious when backing up—pedestrians can move into your path.

Working for Rural Communities and Voters First!

I'm running for office because I am tired of the high-stakes games being played out in Topeka. I support much-needed common-sense legislation that will help rural communities and agricultural producers thrive.

MY TOP PRIORITIES:

- Legislation that will help individuals and small businesses recover from the COVID-19 crisis.
- Eliminating or reducing the sales tax on food.
- Expand Medicaid to the estimated 150,000 low-income Kansans while supporting rural hospitals and nursing facilities.
- Making sure our public school systems receive adequate funding.
- Investing in opportunities for rural communities that will help local business owners and young entrepreneurs who want to start their own business.

October is Fire Prevention Month

Governor Laura Kelly officially proclaims Oct. 4-10, 2020, as Fire Prevention Week in Kansas. The Office of the State Fire Marshal (OSFM), Kansas Department of Health and Environment (KDHE), and Safe Kids Kansas are teaming up with the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) to promote this year's Fire Prevention Week campaign, "Serve Up Fire Safety in the Kitchen!" The campaign is, Oct. 4-10, and works to educate everyone about simple but important actions they can take to keep themselves and those around them safe.

In 2019, 73 people were injured, and one person died from cooking-related residential structure fires in Kansas. Cooking fires resulted in an average $14,000 loss caused by the damage.

Cooking is the number one cause of residential structure fires. Cooking-related fires occur in apartments or houses 84 percent of the time, and on average, 2,000 residential structure fires are caused by cooking each year in Kansas.

"Cooking fires can be prevented," Doug Jorgensen, State Fire Marshal, said. "A cooking fire can grow quickly. We have seen many homes damaged and Kansans injured by fires that could have easily been prevented."

Staying in the kitchen, using a timer, and avoiding distractions such as electronics or TV are steps everyone can take to keep families safe in their homes.

We encourage all residents to embrace the 2020 Fire Prevention Week theme. "With more children at home alone during the school day due to COVID-19, consider having meals and snacks prepared that don't require use of ovens, stove-tops or microwaves," Cherie Sage of Safe Kids Kansas said. "Scald and contact burns from hot foods and beverages can cause serious injuries."

There are simple safety tips to keep you from having a cooking fire. "Never leave cooking food unattended. Stay in the kitchen while you are frying, grilling or broiling. If you have to leave, even for a short time, turn off the stove. "If you are simmering, baking, roasting, or boiling food, check it regularly, remain in the home while food is cooking, and use a timer to remind you that you're cooking."

"You have to be alert when cooking. You won't be alert if you are sleepy, have taken medicine or drugs, or consumed alcohol that makes you drowsy."

"Always keep an oven mitt and pan lid nearby when you're cooking. If a small grease fire starts, slide the lid over the pan to smother the flame. Turn off the stove.

"Always keep an oven mitt and pan lid nearby when you're cooking. If a small grease fire starts, slide the lid over the pan to smother the flame. Turn off the burner, and leave the pan covered until it is completely cool.

"Have a "kid-free zone" of at least 3 feet around the stove and areas where hot food or drink is prepared or carried."
