Arrestment to stem from alleged meth-for-sex flophouse

Charges include 12 felonies for distribution and communications

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — A local man will be arraigned May 17 on 12 felony counts of methamphetamine distribution in what prosecutors describe as a Garnett-based meth-for-sex flophouse that offered narcotics to boost sexual experience for the participants.

Tommy L. Emerson, 57 of Garnett, will be charged with counts ranging from distribution of methamphetamine to distribution or possession with the aid of a communication device, with penalties ranging from 7 months to 144 months in prison and associated fines. A misdemeanor charge of possession of drug paraphernalia is also included in an amended complaint.

The charges stem from the outcome of a March preliminary hearing in which the court heard from arresting officers and witnesses, including Tyler Hoke of Garnett, who was granted immunity from prosecution in exchange for his testimony against Emerson.

In a probable cause affidavit used to base Emerson's eventual arrest, Garnett and Anderson County law officers served a warrant on Emerson's residence on West Second Avenue in Garnett February 6, 2020, and found an amount of substance later determined to be methamphetamine. The affidavit says Emerson eventually told officers he was an addict who'd been using meth for years, and purchased and stocked the drug for his own use and to use as "party favors" for men who visited him in order to intensify the sexual experience. Emerson told officers his only income was benefits from a prior employer.

"Chemsex," as its referred to by researchers, is particularly more intense with methamphetamine because the drug produces some three times more dopamine response in the brain than the boost derived from other drugs like cocaine, leading to intense desire for more pleasurable inputs like sex. But those who engage in the activity habitually risk long term impact to brain function which can cause lasting deficits on sober sex for years after they've gone clean.

Researchers have also tied chemsex to the spread of sexually transmitted diseases as users trade sex for drugs and in some cases pimp their girlfriends or boyfriends to others to obtain meth at flophouses where such trades are common.

Emerson vehemently denied ever having sold the drug, according to the affidavit, saying it was provided gratis for fellow users and sex partners. The affidavit and a transcript from the preliminary hearing list various drug sources and amounts of drugs sought on different occasions, as well as other users outlined in a string of text communications officers found while reviewing

State rep arrested for battery on student

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

WELLSVILLE — A first appearance court hearing had yet to be scheduled yesterday in a battery charge against Fifth District State Representative Mark Samsel, a Wellsville Republican, after an incident involving a student that took place Wednesday while Samsel was substitute teaching at Wellsville High School.

Two separate incidents were recorded by numerous students, but only one of those video scenes is believed to be connected to the battery charge.

The Wellsville school district notified parents of the incident after it occurred, after a local mother of some district students posted a query about the situation on a community school Facebook page.

A statement from the Franklin County Sheriff's Department says Samsel, 36, was arrested the afternoon

On the square, and in the air

GARNETT — Local Business and Professional Women's Club organizers will host some 50 exhibitors, entertainers and food vendors to the 48th Annual Garnett Square Fair this Saturday, declaring that this year's fair is "open for business."

The festival runs from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. in downtown Garnett.

BPW President Bonnie Dieter said some logistics would be different this year to allow for social distancing, but that the event would be easily recognizable as Garnett's traditional Saturday-before-Mother's Day event.

"Booths will be spaced differently this year so we can allow for social distancing of customers and vendors," Dieter said.

Air Fair to honor Ecclefield

GARNETT — Saturday's Air Fair at the Garnett Industrial Airport will include a tribute to a staunch local aviation supporter and decade-long airport manager who made airplanes a big part of his life.

The city's airport advisory board will be honoring the life and legacy of former airport manager Gary Ecclefield, during the Air Fair on Saturday, May 8th.

Ecclefield worked for the City of Garnett as the airport manager from 2009 to 2020. Before that, Gary served as a founding member of the Garnett Airport Advisory Board established in 1998. He was a staunch proponent of the current airport's master plan.

Gary began his love of flying in the early 1990's. He was a hobbyist and enjoyed model airplanes and taking trips in his own Cessna 172 airplane.

GOP fails in women's sports veto fight

TOPEKA, Kansas — Republicans trying to push through a ban on transgender athletes in girls' and women's sports fell short Monday of overriding Democratic Gov. Laura Kelly's veto of the bill.

The tally was one vote shy of overriding in the Kansas Senate, which stopped progress before the House could take up the measure. That means transgender athletes can continue to compete on female sports teams at Kansas public schools and universities contingent on league rules on the matter.

Opponents of the bill had argued the ban targeted transgender students who already often face harassment.

"It is a piece of legislation that can be bullying and discriminatory to our children in Kansas," Democratic Sen.

Pat Pettey said during debate on the override.

Supporters argue transgender athletes hold an unfair advantage and the ban would preserve women's athletics.

"It is our right and it is our responsibility to speak up," Republican Sen. Renee Erickson said.

Democratic Sen. David Haley cast the deciding vote against an override in the Senate. He said he supports LGBTQ rights but also has a relative on a women's college sports scholarship.

The vote was sitting one short of the 27 needed for an override in the Senate. After delaying his decision, Haley ultimately voted against the bill.

"This is probably one of the most difficult votes I've had to take," Haley said, "because the issues are so well-reasoned on both sides."

An override would have likely triggered a legal fight, as seen in Idaho.

The effort in Kansas mirrored a push in more than 30 other states.

Kelly had said the ban sent a message that Kansas was an unwelcoming and discriminatory state and that it could cost it athletic events and economic development projects.

"As Kansans, we should be focused on how to include all students in extracurricular activities rather than how to exclude those who may be different than us," Kelly said in a statement when vetoing the bill.

The governing board of the NCAA has warned that such laws could jeopardize major sports events, warning that the group only holds competitions in places that are "safe, healthy and free of discrimination."

"We will continue to closely monitor these situations to determine whether NCAA championships can be conducted in ways that are welcoming and respectful of all participants," the group said last month.

Wichita is currently slated to host NCAA basketball championship events in 2022 and 2025.

Mr. Biden, are we racist or not?

Well, this is confusing. After a year of slamming the United States as “systemically racist,” President Biden now says, “I don’t think the American people are racist.” Come again?

How can country be racist if its people are not?
A country is not defined by skyscrapers or cattle ranches or foundries. It is not defined by spacious skies and amber plains, or even its system of government.

A nation is defined by its citizens; its people determine whether a country is optimistic, educated, hard-working, fair-minded and ... whether it is racist.

Surely a country cannot be racist if its people twice elected a Black president or if they back policies demanding equality. We have laws banning discrimination, we have jury trials that convict White cops who kill Black men, and we have schools, religious institutions, neighborhoods and political parties that are open to all.

One indication that the U.S. is not racist is this: even though Whites constitute 60% of all Americans, and presumably control many levers of power, they are not the most prosperous group, as measured by median household income.

Indeed, it is Indian Americans who earn by far the highest incomes in the U.S., at more than $119,000, followed by Taiwanese Americans, Filipino Americans and Chinese Americans. White Americans are only the ninth most prosperous group, with median incomes just shy of $66,000, according to Census Bureau data.

Black Americans rank last, with median average income of $41,500, but it is hard to conclude this reveals bigotry, when other non-White ethnic groups fare well. In addition, studies from a few years ago showed Black immigrants earning 30% more than native-born Blacks; that suggests skin color is not the only issue.

Biden made his head-spinning comment in an interview with NBC, when asked to respond to the declaration by Sen. Tim Scott, R-S.C., that “America is not a racist country.” Twice the president agreed with the Republican senator from South Carolina.

Vice President Kamala Harris said something similar recently, telling ABC News, “I don’t think America is a racist country, but we also do have to speak the truth about the history of racism in our country and its existence today.”

Maybe Biden and Harris are back-peddling because they realize they have overplayed the race card. Polling shows Americans’ concern about racism has dropped sharply in recent months, even as worries about immigration, unemployment and budget deficits have soared. Race is important to Democrats, who count on receiving roughly 90% of the Black vote.

They and other Democrats have put race at the center of every issue; according to the Left, “systemic racism” should drive our policies on education, immigration, climate change and a host of other issues, including how to handle COVID-19. If you disagree, you are a bigot and will be canceled.

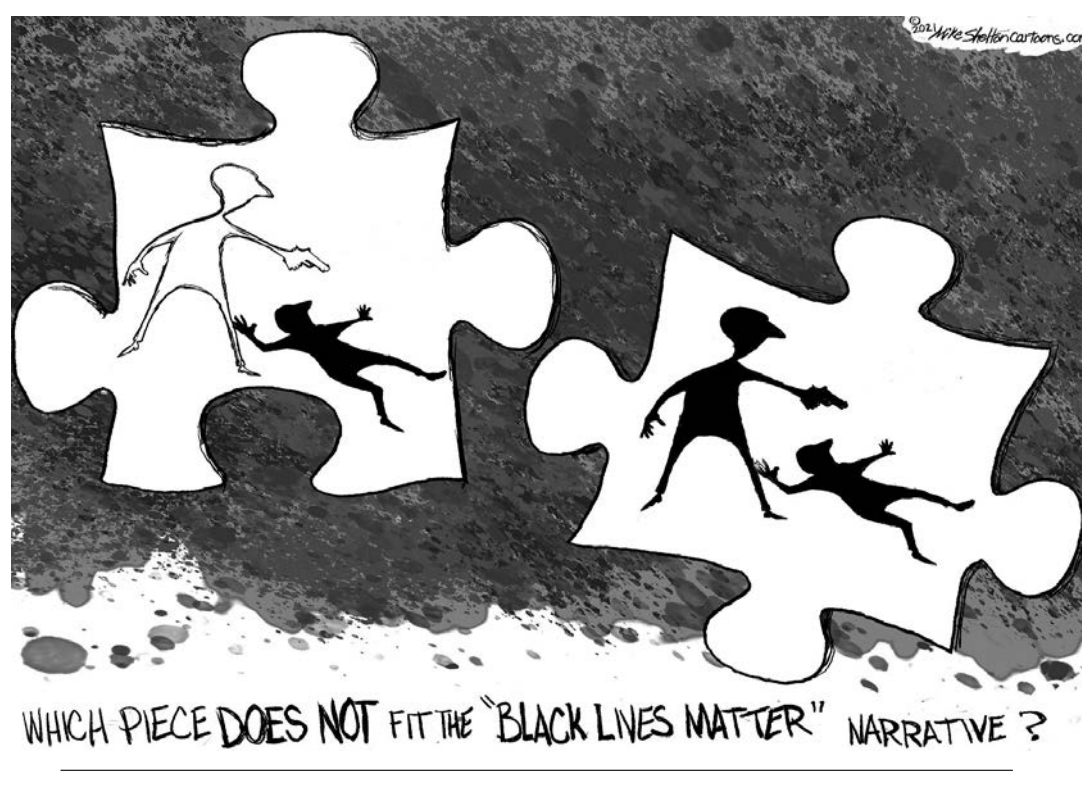

Scott said in his speech, “A hundred years ago, kids in classrooms were taught the color of their skin was their most important characteristic. And if they looked a certain way, they were inferior... Today, kids again are being taught that the color of their skin defines them, and if they look a certain way, they’re an oppressor.”

Americans know this indoctrination is toxic and will destroy our nation. Race is important to Democrats, who count on receiving roughly 90% of the Black vote. It is especially important to Biden; were it not for African Americans handing him the Democratic primary win in South Carolina, he would not be president.

Hence, payback to the Black community figures prominently in Biden’s ongoing spend-a-thon. White farmers are suing the administration, claiming that billions set aside in the $1.9 trillion American Rescue Plan for Black farmers is discriminatory; some may think that the $25 billion directed to building research “infrastructure” at Historically Black Colleges and Universities and other minority college groups in the American Jobs Plan similarly smacks of political favoritism.

Some Americans are speaking up. Oklahoma and Idaho are moving to ban teaching critical race theory in state schools and 39 GOP senators have warned incoming Education Secretary Miguel Cardona against rolling out that offen-

Okay USD 365 School Board, we only have a few weeks of school left. Covid is done. It's time to let these kids take off the damn masks and let them have the last little bit of school this year like human beings. President of the school board, where are you? Act like a leader. Thank you.

A female governor who won't protect the rights of female athletes. Pathetic.

Hey City of Garnett and Farmers Market leaders, what the heck are you doing inviting out of-town-food vendors here to take even more money from our already Covid struck local restaurants? It would have been shameful before Covid as well. I don't understand how that economically grows our local community. What happened to Love What's Local?

I sure wish that some of the local stores would look into some of the lottery ticket vending machines that are now allowed in Kansas. It is so frustrating to be standing in line holding my drink and my money behind some nitwit who's trying to decide which way he wants to lose his money. If they had a lottery ticket vending machine they could stand there all day and decide which tickets they want to buy. The only people they'd be holding up would be people who want to buy tickets.

I've had enough. We keep getting harrassed by Anderson County Health Department about our Covid shots. You've told us. It's enough. Let us come in and get it if we want it. Quit harrassing our phones with all the calls and text messages. That's enough. Shut it off.

I have family that is gay. They didn't choose that way of life, it chose them. Think of the life they have to lead. Secretly scared, shamed by others. They are all God's children. God doesn't make crap. He forgives us every day of our sins. Bless you all.

I don't need permission from the CDC to do anything. No matter how many times I read the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, they're not in it.

Mr. Hicks, I want to thank you for the David Hicks column in the April 27 paper. I have always heard about Jim Crow but never knew where the term came from or understood until I read the column David Hicks had written. I also want to mention those with negative comments about your paper, it must not bother them too much because they apparently keep reading the Review. Thank you.

You thought Trump was embarrassing. How do you like Grandpa Muddlemouth? Who do you suppose is really running things?

The forgotten Democracy of dairy bloc voting

Can you imagine being a member of a group in which your vote counts, but you can't cast your own ballot? Sadly, this very situation exists today within America's dairy industry.

Specifically, I'm referring to bloc voting, which USDA allows to dairy co-ops. The way USDA rules are written when it comes to voting on referendums for Federal Milk Marketing Orders—which USDA administers—a co-op has the right to vote for every member of their co-op.

There are only three instances a dairy producer can vote themselves: 1) They are independent of any co-op; 2) Their co-op, such as National Farmers Organization, allows each member to cast their own ballot; or 3) the producer petitions their co-op—and is allowed by that co-op's leaders—to vote on their own. Dr. Corey Freije, Agricultural Economist, Federal Order 30, Minneapolis, Minnesota Federal Milk Marketing Administration office, says if the co-op does not release a producer to vote themselves, they cannot vote on the referendum at all.

Only their co-op vote counts. And that situation does not sit right with many dairy farmers I talk with around the country as Vice President of National Farmers Organization.

Legislation authorizing the beginning of federal milk marketing orders began in 1933. Then, in 1937 modifications were made by the

COMMENTARY

BRUCE SCHULTZ, VICE-PRESIDENT - NFO

Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act and dairy co-ops were given the authority to cast a single vote representing all of their members. In that year, Federal Milk Marketing Orders established the rules which govern how much fluid milk should be priced in a specific locality. This was done in attempt to stabilize how much money producers received, based on their cost of production.

For instance, the Florida FMMO receives a higher price for fluid milk than any other area. Governmental leaders in those days also realized the importance of milk as a necessary need for American diets, and those federal milk orders ensured everyone had access to fresh milk.

When those milk system rules were created 80 years ago, the industry was vastly different. At that time, milk was poured into metal cans when transporting to processors, and an average dairy farm only had 5 milking cows. In the 1930s, 2200 dairy co-ops were spread across the nation and there was one in just about every milk producing county. They only worked with one or two milk plants in just one single county. In those times, it is easy to see that a vote on a dairy issue that was in the best interest of one dairy farmer-member, most likely benefitted all members of a co-op. Fast forward to today, and that is no longer true. In 2021, a co-ops business footprint can stretch from one ocean to the other. Farms of vastly different sizes are now members of the same co-op. Do the needs of a Midwest corporate-owned dairy farm milking 10,000 cows match those of a 100 head family dairy farm in the Northeast?

When Franklin Roosevelt was president, communications were as slow as a turtle. Telephone service was questionable, as was electricity in some areas. Reaching the country's five million dairy farmers was a very slow process. The idea of a local co-op casting a producer's vote was done for timeliness and efficiency. At that time, there were still 2200 co-op votes cast and the logistics must have

Biden pushes fragile majority to the political brink

There's believing your own press releases. And then, there's believing your own delusions of grandeur.

Joe Biden should look at the mirror every day and see a president elected on the basis of the unpopularity of his predecessor at a time when the country was slammed by a once-in-100-years pandemic.

Instead, by every account, he sees a transformative leader with a mandate to change America as rapidly and irreversibly as possible.

As the news site Axios noted, Biden wants his next 100 days to be “more audacious” than his first 100, as he seeks “to re-engineer the very fundamentals of America - inequality, voting rights and government's role in directing economic growth.”

Oh, is that all?
Biden's drive to make himself the next FDR and erect a massive progressive edifice on the slightest of political foundations is monumentally arrogant and almost certainly bound to fail.

Biden is contemplating the sort of the bait-and-switch that rarely goes over well. Yes, the policy plans he ran on last year were further to the left of Barack Obama's and of Biden's own lengthy record as a U.S. senator. But Biden described himself as a moderate who wanted to work with Republicans and restore a sense of normality to Washington.

He said, as he put it when urging Republicans not to fill the Ruth Bader Ginsberg seat on the

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

RICH LOWRY, King Features Syndicate

Supreme Court, “We need to de-escalate, not escalate.”

No one listening to that or a thousand other things Biden said during the campaign would have had him pegged as the guy who'd immediately set about making wrenching changes in the American way of life.

For a would-be FDR, Biden doesn't seem to understand that a fundamental source of the New Dealer's power was enormous congressional majorities.

FDR came into office in 1932 with almost a 200-seat majority in the House, 313-117, after Republicans lost more than 100 seats.

Biden came into office in 2020 with a bare 9-seat majority in the House after Democrats surprisingly lost ground all over the country. It's the narrowest Democratic House majority since the last two years of the administration of Rutherford B. Hayes.

In the Senate, FDR had 58 Democrats, as Republicans lost 12 seats in 1932 in one of the worst senatorial drubbings in history. Biden has a 50-50 tie after Democrats eked out two special election victories in Georgia earlier this year, with Vice President Kamala Harris on standby to break ties.

The fate of Biden's legislative agenda hangs by a thread, depending on whether Sens. Joe Manchin and Kyrsten Sinema, relatively moderate Democrats, support his proposals. If FDR had been equally dependent on a couple of ideologically unsympathetic Democrats from the outset of his administration, he wouldn't be FDR.

If Biden feels emboldened by his first 100 days, he's defining achievement downward. FDR signed into law more than a dozen major measures addressing the Great Depression during his first 100 days, while Biden got a $1.9 trillion COVID-19 relief bill -- a huge amount of spending, yes, but much of it is temporary.

Pro-Biden pundits are currently exulting that he has about a 53% approval rating, a respectable showing, if hardly a position of overwhelming strength from which to try to revolutionize the country. Importantly, FDR initially got even more powerful after 1932. Republicans dropped down to only 17 senators

Remembering the McDonalds

by Deanna Diaz

Sidney McDonald was born in Pike County, IL August 24, 1861. Cassie Carola Smith was born May 8, 1869 Anderson County, KS. They were married September 18, 1900 and resided at 213 East Fourth Avenue, Garnett, KS. Their son, Joseph Duncan McDonald was born September 19, 1901. Joseph married Irene Helen Lard October 16, 1924 and resided at 346 East Fourth Street, Garnett, KS. They had one daughter, Donna Irene McDonald who is living. Joseph passed away at a very young age of 32 years on December 28, 1933. Donna Irene was 2 1/2 years old at the time of her father's death.

R.S. Ayres sold his property on East Fourth Avenue to Sidney McDonald May 6, 1904.

Sidney McDonald worked for McDonald Brothers and Nett's Hack and Bus Line in his early working years. His brother David also worked with Sidney on a bus line in 1894. It was later called Sidney McDonald Bus Line in Garnett, Kansas. September 1, 1899, McDonald Brothers, David and Sidney McDonald took possession of Fifth Avenue Livery Stable.

In researching the Yukon Territory Gold Rush of August 17, 1896, Sidney McDonald and David McDonald had their names listed as Yukon Territory miners and Dawson City miners. The master plan of evangelism - part 4

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

This is the fourth in a series of four articles on the method Jesus used to teach his disciples. Part of this article was taken from, "The Master Plan of Evangelism" by Robert E. Coleman. The fourth method Jesus used was he called people to a decision. In John 4 Jesus is talking to the Samaritan woman at Jacobs well. He enters into a conversation with her concerning living water which draws her to him because she is tired of coming to the well day after day to draw water. Jesus says, "If you knew the gift of God and who it is that asks you for a drink, you would have asked him and he would have given you living water." (John 4:10)

Jesus then begins to relate the woman's life back to here. This causes the woman to gain confidence in him and she recognizes him as a prophet. Jesus then begins to relate Jewish history to her, specifically how to worship God. This inspires the woman's faith and she actually opens the way of salvation herself when she says, "I know that Messiah (called Christ) is coming. When he comes he will explain everything to us." Jesus then calls her to a decision when he says, "I who speak to you am he."

In Luke 10 Jesus begins a dialogue with an expert in the law. The man asks Jesus a question. "What must I do to inherit eternal life?" Jesus then asks the man, "What is written in the law?" The man then offers a summary of the law for Jesus including, "Love your neighbor as yourself." The man then asks, "who is my neighbor?" Jesus then relates the story of the Good Samaritan to him. A man was robbed beaten and left to die. A priest came by and saw the man but he passed on the other side of the road. So to a Levite passed by as well. Finally a Samaritan came by and took pity on him and bandaged his wounds and took him to an inn. Jesus then asks the man which of the three men was this man's neighbor? The expert in the law replied, "The one who had mercy on him." Jesus tells him, "Go and do likewise."

When Jesus was doing evangelism he always practiced and used the same methods at the end of every encounter with someone. Jesus always gave a clear illustration just as he did here to this man. "Go and do likewise." However Jesus always left the decision to those people he was addressing. The Samaritan woman chose Jesus, the expert in the law we are not told. Jesus was only interested in a true commitment and his methods separated the wheat from the chaff. The disciples learned under the master teacher well. When Jesus asked them, "Who do you say I am." Peter's response, "You are the Christ the Son of the living God." Jesus revelation of himself was complete.

Lady Bulldogs let late leads slip away

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

LACYGNE - The ACHS Bulldog team played well early on in both games of a doubleheader against Prairie View on the road, but the home team overcame deficits late in both games to earn a hard fought sweep over Anderson County.

In the early game, the game remained scoreless heading into the top of the fourth inning. Back to back two out singles by Abbey Lickteig and Mallory Wheat drove in runs to give Anderson County a 2-0 lead.

Pitcher Alison Brown was cruising along until the bottom of the sixth inning. Through the first 5 innings, Brown had allowed just one hit and was pitching a shutout.

But three singles, an error and a sacrifice fly scored 3 runs for Prairie View and put them on top 3-2 heading into the final inning.

After Wheat opened the inning with a walk, Anderson County wasn't able to get her home as the next three batters went down in order to end the game.

Prairie View carried that momentum over into the late game and jumped out to a 2-0 lead after scoring a run in each of the first two innings.

A Rayna Jasper double scored a run in the third and a run scoring single by Lickteig in the fourth kept the Bulldogs in the game as Prairie View hit a 2-run home run in the fourth to keep their lead at 4-2.

The Bulldogs battled back to take the lead in the fifth inning, scoring 3 runs. Kaylyn Disbrow led the inning off with a single, Rayna Jasper doubled and then following a Cali Foltz walk, the Bulldogs scored a run on a sacrifice bunt and another on a groundout to take a 5-4 lead.

The lead was short lived though. Prairie View scored once in the fifth on a 2 out single to knot the score at 5-4 and then in the 6th scored on a bases loaded walk to take a 6-5 lead into the seventh.

The Bulldogs would send the heart of their order up in the seventh, but Jasper, Foltz and Ellie Pedrow went down in order to bring the game to an end.

Bulldogs cruise to lopsided wins on the road

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

LACYGNE - The AC baseball team made easy work of Prairie View last Thursday with a pair of one-sided 16-2 victories.

In the opener, the Bulldogs scored 16 runs on just 11 hits, but also were walked 9 times in the game.

Tyler Denny picked up three hits in 5 at bats to lead the way.

Derek Rockers and Braden Blaufuss were the only other

Bulldogs hitters to have a multi-hit game as they each had 2 hits.

Dallas Kueser led the way with 3 runs batted in and also scored a pair of runs.

Preston Kueser was the starter in the opener and pitched 5 innings, allowing just 5 hits, 1 earned run and struck out 3.

It was much of the same in the second game. Twelve Bulldog hits, 5 walks and 3 errors by Prairie View led to 16 runs.

Denny, again with 3 hits, along with Carter Sommer led the Bulldogs in hits.

Bo Dilliner and Ashton Miller each had 2 hits and drove in three runs.

Derek Rockers earned the win by going 3 innings, allowing just one hit, no earned runs and struck out 7.

Lady Bulldogs sweep Louisburg

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

LOUISBURG - As the season winds down, it is important to be peaking at the right time which made the pair of wins over Louisburg on the road Thursday vital for the AC Lady Bulldogs softball team.

In the opening game, it was all Bulldogs. They scored one run in the first, three in both the second and third innings, two more in the fourth and then four runs in the sixth before allowing one run in the bottom of the sixth to close out a dominating 13-1 win.

Kaylyn Disbrow led the offensive attack with 4 hits in 4 at bats, scored 4 runs and also hit a homerun.

Three other Bulldogs had 3 hits on the day. Rayna Jasper had 3 hits and 2 runs batted in, Ellie Pedrow had 3 hits and drove in a run and pitcher Alison Brown also picked up 3 hits.

Brown dominated on the mound pitching 6 innings, allowing just 2 hits, 0 earned runs, 0 walks and struck out 9.

In the late game, AC had to rally from a 4-1 deficit over the final two innings as they would go on to win 11-5.

Up until the sixth inning, the only Anderson County run came via a wild pitch with two outs in the third inning.

But AC stayed patient and tallied 6 runs in the sixth and 4 more in the 7th to pull away for the win.

Disbrow and Jasper would lead the offensive attack with 3 hits each and also both drove in 3 runs. The only other Bulldog with a multi-hit game was Mallory Wheat with 2 hits.

Brown would once again pitch the distance, going 7 innings, allowing 7 hits 4 earned runs and struck out 9.

AC baseball swept for first time this season

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

LOUISBURG - The ACHS baseball team has cruised to a 13-1 start to the season before running into a buzzsaw last Thursday on the road against Louisburg scoring just 3 runs while losing both games of their doubleheader.

The bats were stymied in the opening game 1-0 defeat as Louisburg limited the Bulldogs to just one hit in the game, a Bo Dilliner double.

Derek Rockers earned the start and despite being charged with the loss he went 6 innings and allowed just 1 earned run while striking out 9.

In the late game, Louisburg jumped out to a 6-0 lead before the Bulldogs scored two in the top of the fourth to chip away slightly.

But Louisburg answered with 7 runs in the bottom of the fourth to put the game out of reach en route to a 13-2 victory.

Bo Dilliner picked up two hits in the second game as the team picked up just 6 hits in the game.

Tyler Denny and Dalton Kellerman each drove in a run on the evening.

Kyle Belcher walked two and allowed one hit in the first inning, allowing 3 runs in the process, while not recording an out. Kellerman would get the final out of the first inning and would finish out the game even though he allowed 10 hits, 9 runs, 5 earned runs over 3 1/3 innings.

Lancers drop first game of the season

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

MOUND CITY - After an impressive 15 straight wins to open the season, the Crest Lancers finally dropped their first contest as Jayhawk-Linn had the upper hand in the second game of the doubleheader to earn a split last Thursday.

Crest cruised in the opener, winning 12-3.

Holden Barker had a 4-hit game, drove in 5 runs and also scored once to lead the Lancers offense.

On the mound, Trevor Church picked up the victory allowing 2 runs and 6 hits over 6 innings.

After a slow start in the second game, the Lancers appeared to get back on track with 3 runs in the top of the third inning to take an early 3-0 advantage.

Jayhawk-Linn answered with three of their own in the bottom half of the inning and tacked on three more in the fourth inning to take a 6-3 advantage.

The Lancers just couldn't get their high powered offense on track over the final four innings, failing to score any more runs in a 7-3 defeat.

Church and Avery Blaufuss each had 2 hits on the afternoon to lead the offense.

Tyson Hermreck and Barker drove in the game's only runs for Crest.

Blaufuss was also the starting pitcher in the game, allowing 8 hits over 3 1/3 innings while allowing 6 runs, 4 of them earned.

Lancers track & field do well at Jayhawk-Linn

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

MOUND CITY - The Crest Lancers earned numerous medals last week at the Jayhawk-Linn Invitational.

Crest rolls past Chetopa

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

CHETOPA - Last Monday, April 26, it was all the Crest Lancers as they traveled to Chetopa and picked up a sweep over the Chetopa Hornets.

Chetopa put up a good fight in the opener, trailing just 6-5 after the first four innings but then the Lancers erupted for 5 runs in the top of the fifth and 8 more in the top of the sixth en route to a 19-8 victory in 6 innings.

It was kind of a sloppy game as the two teams combined for 10 errors, 14 walks allowed and the two teams combined to hit 11 batters.

Leading the barrage for Crest was Stetson Setter with 3 hits in 3 at bats, scored 4 runs and drove in 3 more.

Jack White also was perfect in 3 at bats and scored 3 times.

Tyson Hermreck picked up a double and triple in 3 at bats, driving in 3 runs and scored 5 times.

Hermreck picked up the win on the mound going 3 innings, allowing 2 hits and 3 earned runs.

Crest also picked up the win in the back end of the doubleheader, blowing past Chetopa in just three innings, 22-2.

Crest scored 3 times in the first, 12 in the second and 7 more in the third inning.

Their 22 runs came on just 7 hits, 14 walks, 5 hit batters and 4 errors.

Ryan Golden had the only multi hit game with 2 hits in 2 at bats, scored twice and drove in 5 runs.

White hurled all three innings of the second game, allowing 3 hits, 1 earned run and struck out 6.

Viking track & field prepares for championship meets

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

MOUND CITY - It was another solid performance for Central Heights as coach Troy Prossor is striving to get his athletes to peak at just the right time.

Prossor stated, "Starting off a very windy day with Alexis finishing 2nd in Javelin with another personal best throw and finishing off the day with Luke crossing the line well ahead of the rest of the field in the 3200m provided solid book-ends for another fantastic day for the team. Aiden continued doing a great job improving in the shot put with his best throw of the season, the boys 4x800 turned in a dominant performance, Taryn picked up a nice victory in the 300 hurdles, and Dakota's 3rd place finish in a varsity 1600 as a freshman is a big confidence boost. As we head into the Prairie View meet, we know the competition level will continue to increase as the championship meets at the end of the season get closer. Another seven personal best performances this week is a good sign of things to come."

The Vikings won three gold medals on the day. Taryn Compton finished first in the 300m hurdles with a time of 50.28. Luke Cotter won the 3200m run with a time of 11:49:58 and the boys 4x800 meter relay shined, once again, with a time of 9:20.92.

Also finishing among the top 6 on the day for the girls were Alexis Haynes in javelin (2nd place, 95' 1"), Compton in the 100m dash (3rd place, 13.59) and 200m dash (5th place, 28.43) and Lily Meyer in the 800m run (3rd place, 2:51.79).

The top finishers on the boy's side were Dakota Kuczarski in the 1600m run (3rd place, 5:30.50), Jarod Crawford in the 400m (3rd place, 56.75) and David Craft right behind him in the 400m (4th place, 56.86).

With his legislative margin of error so thin, it's unlikely that Biden will get his way on much besides spending and taxes. Almost all of his sweeping proposals, from federalizing elections to making D.C. a state, will fall by the wayside.

More to the point, it's wrong for Biden to attempt to force Noah Gordon gave the Communion Meditation over our need to be humble like Christ. Jesus came to earth to serve others, not to be served. He humbled himself, he lowered himself to become fully human, as an example on how we should each live our lives. In service to others, we can truly reflect God to others.

terms: he is their rock, their fortress, protector, comforter, king, shepherd, etc. A rock is solid, connected to the earth. A fortress, we can seek refuge in for protection. This way of thinking can make it easier to go all in for Jesus. And why follow Jesus half way when we can do it ALL the way! FULL SEND! Give everything over to God! God needs us to go into battle, ready for service. Parents need to help their kids to know what it truly means to be a disciple thru prayer, reading their Bibles, and talking to their friends about Jesus. To encourage other believers to stay strong. Pastor Chase Riebel gave the sermon "Immersed in God". Jesus taught, and commanded, his disciples to Go! To go out into the world, teaching and preaching the good news, and then baptizing new believers. In the western world, our descriptions of God tend to be more abstract: he is love, he's powerful, merciful, etc. The eastern world describes God in more concrete

State Representative role. I will GIVE MY OWN LIFE."

The incident follows local media coverage in the 5th District of Samsel's controversial vote against the Protection of Women's Sports Act several weeks ago in the Kansas House. The Anderson County Review in Garnett covered the vote and Samsel's split from other Republicans in voting against the measure, which passed both houses but was later vetoed by Governor Laura Kelly.

Samsel attacked the Review and publisher Dane Hicks for the paper's initial April 13 story on the vote in a post on his campaign Facebook page. When Hicks published an editorial April 27 castigating Samsel, Kelly and other legislators and the Kansas National Education Association for opposing women athletes on the issue, Samsel responded with a lengthy diatribe comparing Hicks to the devil and advocating a financial boycott of the newspaper. That post was made the morning of Samsel's afternoon arrest, the day following the classroom incident.

students and asking them about masturbation. Captions on the video say "I literally hate it here. Mark is being so gross."

In a set of rambling Snapchat posts taken after the April 28 videos that frequently involve Christian religious references, Samsel notes his commitment to children and his concerns about teen suicide.

"If you think I look furious in the videos, you should ask our Almighty Creator how HE feels," Samsel writes. "I can't thank the young man enough who gave himself to make sure God's will would be done during 5th hour. Love ya kids. And your whole family."

"At all costs, I fear God," Samsel continues. "Nothing else. I will NOT rest until we END THE TEENAGE SUICIDE. I will scream that in a classroom, jail cell, mountaintop, ANYWHERE. I will go to jail. I will give up my

But Scott also attributes his success to a "string of opportunities that are only possible here in America." Democrats do not want young Black kids to know that if they work hard and get a good education, the sky is the limit.

First, that would crimp their ambition to vastly grow the welfare state, as Biden's "infrastructure" bill would do.

Second, it turns the spotlight on the teachers' unions and on the failures of our inner-city public schools, for which there is zero excuse. Scott said in his address, "education is the closest thing to magic in America"; tragically, not all minority kids can access that magic.

Americans are proud of our country, including its remarkable history of lifting up all kinds of people. Biden has it right - we are not a racist people.

of April 29 after the incident the prior day. As of Friday Franklin County District Court records did not have a notation on Samsel's charges or any date for upcoming hearings in the case.

Video shot by students in a Wellsville classroom shows Samsel wrestling with a student while the two engage in loud dialogue during what appears to be an unruly scene in the class. Samsel is shown several times with his hands on the student, at one point attempting to cradle his arm around the student's neck when the student pulls away.

Another video, provided to the Review by another Wellsville resident, shows a female student in what is apparently a different classroom who makes an audio recording purported to be Samsel discussing "making babies" with other sive and misleading dogma nationally. A father in one of New York's most prestigious private schools publicly denounced its "obsession with race" and bashed the administration for kowtowing to an "anti-intellectual illiberal mob," sparking a firestorm but also speaking for many parents.

A recent poll from Harvard's Kennedy School Institute of Politics may shed some light on Biden and Harris' surprising about-face. It shows 46% of young Americans feel "included in Biden's America," including 61% of Blacks and 51% of Hispanics. However, only 39% of Whites felt that Biden's America was hospitable to them.

Moreover, while 40% of those young respondents felt that their lives would become better under Biden's presidency, that included only 30% of Whites. Surely disenfranchising young White voters cannot work well for Democrats, who count on turning out the youth vote.

A bigger problem for Democrats, though, is the success and popularity of a Black conservative like Tim Scott. The senator can speak to racism, which does exist in America as it does in every country in the world. He knows, as he has said,
