USD 365 outlines board member replacement process

Board invites letters from prospective appointees by Sept. 1

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – USD 365 School Board Members are inviting residents of the school district to apply for a board vacancy created by the recent Position 7 resignation of Nicci Denny, with a plan to interview candidates for the appointment on September 2.

The district published a notice of the vacancy and the plan to fill the spot in today's Review, pursuant to state law (see page 6A).

The notice invites letters of application from district residents interested in serving the position and sets a deadline of September 1 for those applications. Letters should address the applicant's qualifications and reasons for seeking the position and should be sent to board clerk Paula Wallace at USD 365, P.O. Box 328, 305 N. Oak, Garnett, Ks., 66032.

Denny was herself appointed to serve the post resigned by former board member Cleon Rickel in 2018 and was later elected to a full four-year term in 2019. She resigned July 1 after a scrap with administrators and other board members over the re-hiring of the Anderson County High School baseball coach, with whom she had personal conflicts relating to a summer league youth baseball team coached by her husband, according to her letter of resignation.

State law dealing with such appointments says vacancies can't be filled within 15 days of the publication of the notice in a local newspaper. The notice says the appointee will fulfill all of Denny's unexpired term which ends in January 2024.

Wind opponents seek impact on Linn County rural zoning document MOUND CITY – Wind farm opponents in Linn County hope to have an impact on the development of an addition to the county's comprehensive plan now under discussion there to enact limits that will keep the controversial power plants outside the county's borders.

Linn County Commissioners held the first of three discussions in a meeting last night at Prairie View Middle School. Additional meetings are set for tonight at 7 p.m. at Pleasanton High School and tomorrow night at Jayhawk Linn High School in Mound City.

Linn County enacted a comprehensive plan in 2006, but the document didn't address issues surrounding tax-incentive funded, politically-driven development of corporate turbine fields over the past decade which have sprung up in Kansas' rural landscapes and elsewhere across the country.

In August of last year Linn County Commissioners adopted a moratorium on wind farm development in the county, after a German-based developer seeking approval for a turbine field near Mound City bailed out of its effort. Commissioners later expanded their moratorium to December 31 of this year, saying the extra time would benefit the effort to seek public comment on the issue.

David Fisher, a Centerville-area landowner who led Concerned Citizens of Linn County, a wind farm opposition group that sprang up to counter the corporate proposal in 2018, said it was vital that county residents be heard on the issue.

"There is a misconception among the citizens of Linn County that industrial wind turbine development is dead in our county," Fisher told the Review last week. "This is totally wrong. Yes, we have won a few skirmishes and encouraged a German wind developer to pull out, but we have not blocked other companies from destroying the character of our county with an industrial complex of 600 foot towers."

"It is important that county officials hear your thoughts, they are the ones who will determine our future," Fisher said.

Wind turbine fields came under intense national scrutiny last February when expected power from wind farms in

County fair tractor pull roars Saturday

Modern events rooted in old horse pull competitions, but mods brought bigger crowds

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – The roar of the engines will be your first clue that the Missouri State Tractor Pullers Association Garnett event is underway this Saturday at 7 p.m.

The event kicks off the official county fair week in Anderson County, with a host of activities both traditional and new being served up by fair organizers for 2021.

Saturday's MSTPA event features Tractor Classes including LMOD, LPF, LLSS, PF and HS. Truck Classes will feature vehicle qualifying in the 2WD, P4x4 and PSD divisions.

The event is a favorite county fair event each year, and this year tickets are available only at the gate for $15 with no advance sales. Kids 10 and under get in free.

Tractor pulling events grew out of preceding horse pulls in which teamsters tested their horses against sled weights, with winners determined by who pulled the most weight the furthest distances. The competitions were done for both bragging rights and lucrative breeding fees generated by horses who were traditional winners.

Vaughansville, Mo., and Bowling Green, Ohio, hosted the first powered pulls in 1929, as tractors gained popularity. Although the sport was recognized at the time it didn't gain popularity until 1950s and 60s, and rules varied from state to state and county to county.

In 1969 tractor pullers from eight states formed the National Tractor Puller's

Anderson County Fair 2016

Association with a uniform set of qualifications and rules to govern events. The early days used standard farm vehicles, some with minor owner modifications, with the motto "Pull on Sunday, plow on Monday."

Modifications arose as pullers sought

Garnett pegs budget for 2022 at $11.8 million

Public hearing set Aug. 2 at 5:30 p.m.

GARNETT – City commissioners will present a 2022 budget for public review at a public hearing August 2 that shaves a little more than a million dollars off 2021's estimated operating costs – but gives back more than a million in emergency natural gas expenditures from a price spike last February that would have wrecked the city's budget without state assistance.

The overall city budget to be presented totals $11.8 million compared to a $12.9 million year-end estimate this year. Both those years include $2.8 and $2.4 million in revenues transferred from the previous year's funds.

If there's no opposition to the spending plan at the public hearing and commissioners approve it, the plan becomes effective January 1 next year.

Garnett's assessed property valuation remained virtually unchanged from last year to this at about $24.4 million, though the new budget reflects a 2.42 mill increase from 45.877 in 2021 to a proposed 48.301 next year, which will add about $60,000 to last year's local property tax funding of $1,120,000 to cover expenses for next year.

The Monday, Aug. 2, budget hearing will be held in Garnett City Hall at 5:30 p.m. The full budget summary can be found on page 6B of today's Review.

Hell wasn't made for man

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

In Luke 16:19-31 we read the story of the rich man and Lazarus. The rich man lived a life of luxury, dressed in the best robes, eating his fill every day of rich foods. Lazarus was a beggar that was left at the rich man's door who longed to eat only the crumbs that fell to the floor from the rich man's table. We read, "the time came when the beggar died and was carried to Abraham's side. The rich man also died and was buried. In hell, where he was in torment, he looked up and saw Abraham far away with Lazarus by his side. 'Father Abraham, have pity on me and send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, because I am in agony in this fire.'" The rich man then requests that someone be sent to warn his brothers of this place of torment. He was denied all his requests by Father Abraham.

There was no way to alter his position. We earn separation from God by our actions and our choices. Hell was never made for man. In Matthew 25:31-46 Jesus referring to his return to judge the earth and the separation of the sheep and the goats, the saved and the lost, says in 25:41, "Then he (Jesus) will say to those on his left, 'Depart from me, you who are cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels.'"

The sheep are those who have repented of their sins, received Jesus as their Savior by faith and have begun to work in the kingdom of God. The goats are the people who have just enough religion to keep them away from salvation, depending instead on church attendance, good works, tithing, or just fear of the commitment, etc. to provide for their salvation. Sadly the church is full of people who are willing to admit there is a place of separation from God, (hell) but unwilling to repent of their sins and receive Jesus as their Savior.

The Holy Spirit must draw you to this commitment during and after the word of God has been proclaimed. If you feel the Holy Spirit speaking to your heart you must respond. If you do not respond eventually you will be unable to because your heart will become hardened. Then you will be left alone. Separated from God and your loved ones for eternity.

SETTER

OCTOBER 22, 1934 - JULY 18, 2021

Frederick John Setter, age 86, of Greeley, Kansas, passed away on Sunday, July 18, 2021, at Residential Living Center, Garnett, Kansas.

Setter

Fred was born on October 22, 1934 in Iola, Kansas, the son of Ed and Rose (Hieman) Setter. He was one of six siblings, Rosemary, Fred, Ruth, Kenny, Tom and Judy. The family moved to Greeley, Kansas when he was five years old. He attended St. John's Grade School and Greeley High School, graduating in 1952. Fred was a star basketball player, set many records and led the Wildcats deep into the playoffs. Fred enjoyed his childhood with his family and friends and particularly loved Greeley and the surrounding area.

In the winter of 1952, (after a basketball game) Fred met Marlene Carr of Garnett. They reconnected a few years later and in October of 1956, Fred and Marlene were married. They lived in Garnett and soon welcomed their first daughter Kathy. Shortly after, Fred moved the family to Colorado, and their family grew with the additions of another daughter and three sons, Karen, David, Mark and Mike. He worked a few different jobs before joining Mountain Bell. That began his long career with the Bell Telephone Companies. In 1967, Fred transferred to Southwestern Bell as they decided to move back to Kansas City to be closer to their extended families. Fred continued to work with them until he retired in 1996. In 1983, after raising their family together Fred and Marlene divorced. Fred's family continues to grow to this day with son and daughter-in-laws Kathy (Paul), Karen (Michael - dec), Mark (Cathy), Mike (Wendi) and includes eleven grandchildren Jackie, Ashley, Sami, Chris, Matt, Steve, Nick, Joe, Jack, Lewis and Rosie, and three great-grandchildren Maren, Max and Isabelle.

Fred and Donna (Miner) Brummel were married on March 1, 1986. They made Greeley their home. During their courtship, before Fred retired, he resided with her son's Eric and Mike Brummel in Overland Park, Kansas. Post retirement, Fred enjoyed spending time with his grandchildren. In addition to working Sudoku puzzles, and making furniture, Fred enjoyed working in the yard, helping Eric and Mike with projects and family vacations to the beach. Fred loved his retirement in Greeley, spending time with his siblings and extended family in Anderson County.

Fred is survived by his son's Eric Brummel of Driftwood, Texas, and Mike Brummel of Osawatomie Kansas; and grandchildren, Jessica Brummel of Spring Hill, Kansas, and Ben Brummel of Louisburg, Kansas.

Memorial services will be held 10:00 a.m., on Saturday, July 24, 2021 at the Feuerborn Family Funeral Service Chapel, Garnett.

Memorial contributions may be made to Prairie Spirit Trail (through Garnett Community Foundation) and/or St. John's Catholic Church, Greeley.

JUNE 16, 1938 - JULY 11, 2021

John R Coleman, 83, of Overland Park, passed away on July 11, 2021 at his home.

Coleman

He was born on June 16, 1938 to Fred and Beulah (Drybread) Coleman at Garnett, KS.

John will be remembered for his strong work ethic, keen intelligence, wicked sense of humor. John developed his strong work ethic, working with his father and brothers, on their large family farm in Garnett, KS. John graduated from Baker University, as a proud Kappa Sigma, in 1960 and began work with IBM. John continued his career with Charles F. Curry and Corinthian Mortgage serving as Executive Vice President. Three children arrived and John loved being involved in their young lives. He enjoyed taking them skiing and sledding in the winter (using a questionable homemade sled pulled behind the family car), coaching their sports teams and escorting them trick or treating.

On June 30th, 1989, he married Nancy Bea Barton (nee Sellens). Together, John and Nancy shared much love and a similar sense of humor towards life's gifts and challenges. They enjoyed John's hobby of hot air ballooning for multiple years, robbed the local casinos of nickels and pennies and loved dining out and seeing movies with family and friends.

John was diagnosed with MD in 2004. While this challenged his physical capacity, John's mind stayed clear and his humor never faltered. He'd seen these types of challenges before, escaping death in a balloon accident in the 80's, having a brain tumor eradicated in the 90's, suffering a heart attack in the 2000's and surviving a stint in the hospital (non-Covid related) during the height of Covid. He also continued to work, retiring in 2020 as a Tax Examiner with the IRS. Many times we thought he was a goner but he always came back, like a cat with nine lives. He was an incredibly strong man who persevered no matter the obstacle, inspiring those who loved him to do the same.

John is survived by his loving wife, Nancy, his children Carrie Beth, Robin, and John David, step-children, Kimberley, Brian and Heather and grandchildren Tanner, Gabby, Lindsey, and Tyler.

He was preceded in death by his parents and brothers Gene and Robert.

Services were held at Penwell-Gabel Funeral Home, Olathe, KS, on Thursday, July 15, 2021.

Betty was born during the Depression, and times were hard. The Pimper's moved 23 times in 22 years, but she persevered and graduated from Burlington High School with the Class of 1951. After graduating from high school, Betty left for Emporia to attend beauty school. When she completed her training, she went to work in a salon in Iola. tinued her passion for hairstyling out of their home for the ladies of Greeley. Betty was also a great cook and incredible seamstress. Her pies will be missed at family and community dinners. Leaving grandma's house meant leaving with a bag of cookies. One of her greatest joys was her grandchildren, and she enjoyed making them quilts, going to their different school and 4-H events. Betty was a member of the United Methodist Church of Greeley.

Betty was preceded in death by her parents; and her husband, Jay D. Bodenhamer on December 18, 2019.

Texas was interrupted by a brutal cold snap which temporarily froze turbines and hampered production from gas wells used to fuel natural gas generation at other electric plants in the state. Texas had decommissioned a number of gas production electric plants in recent years on the promise the state's electric grid could still be supplied by wind farms.

Vast acreages of rural areas in Kansas have been used to base turbine fields, whose owners are exempt from local and state personal property equipment taxes but who typically pay a miniscule portion of what those taxes would be as a "payment in lieu of taxes" (PILOT) payment to local governments. The farms also lease their windmill sites from property owners who are paid long-term lease payments, a fact owners and some local officials contend is an economic development asset to the communities in which they locate.

Anderson County opponents successfully fought off a Texas developer in 2017 which wanted to place 100 500-foot turbines along a ridge line in eastern Anderson County running from Greeley to Kincaid. County commissioners later adopted 2,000 foot turbine setback requirements and other zoning plan changes that made location of such developments in the county more difficult.

KC Star treats journalism ethics like a sad carnival midway scam

In rebuffing Kansas gubernatorial candidate Derek Schmidt in his request to answer an attack editorial it published against him recently, The Kansas City Star reminds us of Steve Martin as the carnival midway huckster guessing people's weight in the classic 1979 comedy "The Jerk."

"What do I win?" queries a potentially interested sucker, debating investing his $1 for the chance to stump the scamster.

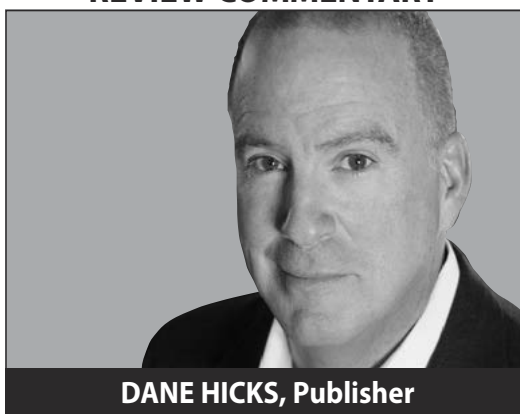

"Anything you see right here," Martin replies, pointing to shelves of prizes. "Anything below the stereo and on this side of the Bicentennial glasses; anything between the ashtrays and the thimble - anything in this three inches that includes the Chiclets but not the erasers..."

When the majority of the country no longer trusts journalism to be fair and balanced, it's hard to claw your way back.

Ah, the parallels abound. But there's nothing funny about watching the Star's promise of journalistic integrity collide head-on with its embrace of Leftist partisanship. In fact watching yet another example of the pro-liberal taint that pervades so many corporate media outlets, the incident sadly adds another stone to the burden of despondency borne by all of us who still carry a torch of hope for our profession's value. When the majority of the country no longer trusts journalism to be fair and balanced, it's hard to claw your way back.

Schmidt's tiff with the Star began when editorialist Dave Helling penned a piece attacking Schmidt and his Republican primary opponent Dr. Jeff Colyer for signing The 1776 Pledge, authored by 1776 Action and targeted to counter the blanket indictments of racism and bigotry lodged against the American legacy by The 1619 Project. The 1776 Pledge basically puts a candidate on record endorsing the teaching of an honest version of American history in schools with emphasis on the amazing qualities of both the American ideal and our accomplishments, without a preoccupation toward the racism and guilt-ridden negativity promoted by liberal teachers as revealed during the pandemic by

But the 1776 Pledge is too close to baseball, apple pie and Chevrolet for Helling, who wanted to make sure any assertion of 'hell ya, America!' comes with an adequate dose of White guilt and that particularly Republicans have to wear that scarlet letter. He even admits at one point in his piece the founders of our nation - some of whom owned slaves - were miraculous, if flawed, and croons that the "truth" of the messiness of our history should be taught in schools. But of course Dave Helling's truth leans Left.

Dare say, any student who's actually attended class in this country since the Civil War knows it happened and why; they know what Jim Crow Laws were (real ones - not the lie promoted by Joe Biden and other hucksters trying to cast voter ID requirements as racist throwbacks); they know Whites in the South continued to subjugate Blacks through the Civil Rights era. They know Thomas Jefferson had a Black slave mistress with whom he probably had children. And they know the social, economic and professional strides made by Blacks in this country since - not the least of which was the election of a Black man as a two-term president elected primarily by Whites.

But the Star's grudge isn't over education or even Republican endorsement of ideological pledges. The real issue has been exemplified in innumerable editorials, hit pieces and slanted coverage by the newspaper against Republicans for decades. The Kansas City Star hates Republicans, and conservative Republicans of

As I have said before, when the roads in Anderson County are so rough you can't drive down them without spilling your beer, it's time to get to work on them. These roads out here are a mess.

Just a shout out to all those in Garnett who have really taken good care of their lawns, have beautiful flowers displayed. It's just amazing. If you're ever depressed just take a walk around town. Out by the high school and the streets. Beautiful front yards. Thank you.

I am not against the county road department but I do have a suggestion for the county commissioners. Here in the northwestern part of the county the ditches are higher than the road, which makes the road become the ditch. The roads are horrible out here. Every time it rains the roads are Grand Canyon junior and at times don't get fixed for months. Dumping gravel in the ditch and road does nothing long term because the next rain it does it again. It's been this way for years. At some point would it be good to clean out these ditches and start over? Yeah it might not be fun, but long term it would save us taxpayers tens of thousands of dollars or maybe even hundreds. Taxpayers if you agree call in here or call the commissioners. Thank you.

You know it would be greatly appreciated if the city street department would fix the corner of 1st and Spruce. That intersection has been a disaster for the last two or three years. I'm getting tired of having to drive through it.

If you work with children who haven't been vaccinated because they haven't come up with one for younger kids yet, then please put aside your views and get vaccinated for them. These are our future. It's a selfish act on your behalf to not get vaccinated. I pray that everyone working at schools have been vaccinated or are not allowed to come back to work before they are. Thank you for letting me give my opinion.

Anderson County Delta Variant is reminder on Covid

We've had a number of new COVID-19 cases in our four counties. As of last week Anderson County has had 3 cases in the last 3-4 weeks that were the Delta variant.

I suspect we've had more variant cases than that recently, but that's all that KDHE is showing for the the tests that they've received. While listening to Dr. Lee Norman on the KDHE webinar, he stated that "things are getting worse in southeast Kansas, southwest Missouri, southeast Oklahoma, and southwest Arkansas." He also stated that hospitalizations and deaths from COVID-19 in these areas are on the rise.

The state epidemiologist stated on this webinar that KDHE guidelines line up with the CDC's that just were released on July 9.

Vaccine is out there and available. Anderson County Health Department carries Moderna (18 years and older) and Johnson & Johnson (18 years and older). Auburn Pharmacy is also a COVID-19 vaccine provider.

Recommendations for the public: Get vaccinated if you are able. Wear a mask in large gatherings, social distance, use good hygiene, stay home when sick-especially when you think "it's just allergies"! We hear a lot of people tell us just that.

Here are reminders I'm posting to Facebook: Isolation and Quarantine Reminders:

Those who have tested positive for COVID-19 or who are symptomatic must isolate themselves in their home. If they are symptomatic, it is recommended that they get tested. The person who is ill must isolate themselves in their home, away from others for 10 days from the day of onset of symptoms. On the 11th day, as long as fever free and overall, much better, they may resume normal activities.

Those who have been exposed to a positive case or someone suspected of having COVID-19 (who does not live in their home) must quarantine themselves in their home away from others for 10 days from last day of exposure to the positive case. On the 11th day, as long as fever free, symptom free and have not tested positive, may resume normal activities.

Those who live with a person (household contact) who has tested positive must quarantine in their home. When the positive person releases from isolation, the household contact will remain quarantined for 10 more days. The 11th day (all in all, the 21st day), as long as fever free, symptom free, and have not tested positive, the household contact may resume normal activities.

The Kansas Department of Health and Environment (KDHE) is assisting SEK Multi-County Health Department with COVID-19 case investigation and contact tracing. If you have been contacted by KDHE (area code normally 785-so please answer this unknown call), and are needing a work release letter, they will be able to assist you with this.

Some Q&A:

How long am I considered immune if I had COVID-19 disease?

Close contacts with evidence of previous infection supported by a positive PCR or antigen test may be exempt from quarantine after re-exposure as long as they remain asymptomatic. This is to be determined by the local health officer based on a possible 6-month period of presumed immunity.

How long am I considered immune if I had

Biden's Afghan withdrawal is invitation to failure

Barely a day passes without additional news of Taliban gains in Afghanistan.

Perhaps the Afghan government and its forces will prove more resilient than many expect, but if the country continues its slide toward chaos or, worse, the Taliban rapidly take Kabul, President Joe Biden's decision to withdraw a residual U.S. force will look like an amateurish, unforced error by a man who prides himself on his foreign policy experience and acumen.

With his top military leadership opposed and credible warnings that Kabul could fall within months after a withdrawal, Biden went ahead with it anyway on the basis of what an aide has called "his gut."

So far, indications are that the president would have been better off heeding his military advisers than his viscera.

The Afghan war has, of course, stretched on for two decades and become a holding action satisfying to no one. But the cost to the U.S. of sustaining 3,500 troops in the country without losing anyone in combat for more than a year hasn't been high compared with the entirely plausible downside of Islamist extremists allied with al-Qaeda sweeping to power again in Afghanistan.

The desire to pull out of Afghanistan has been an area of rare Biden-Trump agreement. Then-President Donald Trump's foolhardy ceasefire deal with the Taliban in February 2020 set the predicate for Biden's withdrawal. It would have taken some determination for Biden to reverse the U.S. promise in that deal to withdraw its forces by May 2021, although the Taliban's transparent bad faith provided plenty of occasion for it.

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

Biden says not to worry. The U.S. will continue to provide "over the horizon" support, i.e., from a distance, for the Afghan government.

This is likely a pipe dream, and nothing about Biden's poorly thought-out drawdown lends any more credibility to it.

The CIA has been struggling to figure out how to maintain intelligence-gathering capabilities in Afghanistan. There will be no targets to strike from "over the horizon" if we don't have the assets on the ground to find them.

Ideally, the U.S. would locate some other base next door to Afghanistan, but there are no good options in the neighborhood.

Conducting operations from the Persian Gulf eight hours away isn't much of a substitute. In congressional testimony, Gen. Kenneth McKenzie, the head of Central Command, said the long-distance missions would be "extremely difficult to do," but "not impossible." The U.S. withdrawal has had other troubling loose ends.

The contractors who have worked with the Afghan Air Force to maintain its planes are leaving, too, potentially stripping Afghan forces of air support.

The fate of the Afghans who have assisted U.S. forces is uncertain, although under political pressure here at home, Biden has committed to getting them out.

Biden wants to provide $3 billion in security assistance to the Afghans, but who will do the training with that money?

The allies are leaving, with the administration anxious to get the Turks to stay to secure Kabul International Airport, without which we won't be able to maintain our embassy.

As the bad news has piled up, the Biden administration has tried to provide reassuring signals. But are the Afghans, and the Taliban, not supposed to notice that nearly all of his forces have already withdrawn?

One justification for leaving is that it will free up resources for us to concentrate on the growing threat from China. It's not as though the 3,000 ground troops are going to relocate to East Asia, though, and make a difference

COVID-19 vaccine?

Vaccinated persons with an exposure to someone with suspected or confirmed COVID-19 are not required to quarantine if they meet all of the following criteria:

- Are fully vaccinated (i.e., ≥2 weeks following receipt of the second dose in a 2-dose series, or ≥2 weeks following receipt of one dose of a single-dose vaccine)
- Have remained asymptomatic since the current COVID-19

exposure

There is currently no time limit on how long fully vaccinated persons are considered immune. Persons who do not meet both of the above criteria should continue to follow current quarantine guidance after exposure to someone with suspected or confirmed COVID-19.

the modern variety most of all. The paper's big government leanings, Democrat endorsements and socialist cheerleading earned it "The Red Star" nickname long ago.

Even so, it was still surprising that Star editorial page editor Derek Donovan placed such wilting content constraints on Schmidt when he wanted to defend himself in a rebuttal column in the paper. Donovan refused to publish Schmidt's rebuttal unless he agreed not to address Critical Race Theory, which Donovan claims doesn't exist but whose elements form the basis of The 1619 Project and whose false and racist assertions have surfaced in both public and private school lessons taught by "woke" liberals bent on cultivating prejudice against White people.

So we'll publish your rebuttal, Donovan told Schmidt, as long as what you say fits between the Chiclets and the Bicentennial glasses.

We might believe the opinions of a man running for governor of Kansas matter whatever they are – that it should be er who get to determine whether his arguments are worthy and whether we agree or disagree with him. But the Star wants to lie to its readers and present Critical Race Theory as a conservative fantasy, and its editors won't be contradicted by a mere multi-term Kansas Attorney General and gubernatorial candidate.

Like a carnival scam, it is of course a moral failure of the Star to approach what we all used to believe was a higher responsibility in such a manner. But the truth is, those in charge at the Star – just like the people who control much of the rest of the Legacy Media in our country and the scab-picking platforms Facebook and Twitter – don't care about or really even understand that moral responsibility anymore.

They think their hatred for conservatives and Republicans justifies the degradation of journalism, all while they gaslight as noble defenders of "truth." Their message to you is clear: Step right up, suckers.###

Mystery bus tour - part 2

Sunday 27 June

After a wonderful night of sleep and rest, the wheels on the bus are turning again. Still no idea where we are going, seeing or doing. Began seeing large colonies of prairie dogs in the pastures. Really fun to watch them scamper about. Passed thru Sidney, Nebraska which was the first Headquarters for Cabelas.

Just west of Pine Bluff we stopped to see Our Lady of Peace, the largest statue of the Virgin Mary in the United States. Welcome to Wyoming at 11:00 a.m. and arrived at Cheyenne 11:30. Gas was $3.24 per gallon.

We drove some distance out into the countryside and had lunch at the Bunk House Bar & Grill. A wonderful lunch. Back in Cheyenne for a 2 hour guided Trolley Tour of Cheyenne. It was a wonderful tour. We pulled into the Holiday Inn at 4:30 p.m. and we immediately knew where our destination was. After checking in to our rooms, we boarded back on the bus for another country ride out to the Rolling Cowboy Ranch (DeLaney Enterprise) where we really enjoyed an outdoor BBQ.

From our picnic tables we could easily watch the Team Ropers in action inside the arena. While there we got to meet

Our bus on the way at 7:50 a.m. We will be traveling out of Cheyenne in different directions sightseeing for the next two days. Acres and acres of pastureland of Buffalo grass. Wooden snow fences were up all along the road side. Also out in the pasture were these winter snow shelters made from old tires for the cattle and horses. Prong horn antelope started showing up everywhere. Our first stop of the day was at 9:20 in Dwyer Junction, Wy.

Gas price $3.39 per gallon. We soon continued on and arrived in Sunrise, Wy., population 1. A real ghost town, which I will tell you about in my very next column.

Local and federal law officers in the region are still in search of two men with similar descriptions who robbed banks in Lawrence and Ottawa late last week. Officers said a man entered the Great Southern Bank in Ottawa shortly before 11 a.m. Friday and presented the bank teller with a note demanding money. The note said he had a gun, but investigators say the man never brandished a weapon. Witnesses say he got away in a 70's-80's model small red pickup, possibly a Nissan or Toyota, with rust on the passenger side bed, driven by a white woman with dirty blonde hair.

An apparent increase in the number of tire dumping incidents in the county prompted county commissioners to consider a new amnesty program for collection of tires, but the cost could be substantial. Anderson County participated in a tire amnesty program in 1998 which was funded by a grant which collected close to 10,000 tires from county residents and from accumulated tire dumps throughout the county. But at a cost of $1 for car tires ranging up to $30 for tractor tires for the tires to be picked up and shipped to a disposal facility, the county doesn't want to absorb the cost of a free tire amnesty period.

The Colony Hi-Point Rodeo will be held in Colony this week. The regular rodeo events, a parade, queen contest, and 4-H activities will be featured this year. The rodeo will be produced by Floyd Rumford of Abbeyville, Kansas. Rumford's wife, Lola, said that the Colony rodeo always draws a lot of people. "It's a big rodeo in a small town," she said. "There will be between $7,000 to $10,000 given away in total prize money."

John Reinfield is the night marshal now, succeeding Thomas Smith who resigned because of a scrimmage that took place in the court house park several days ago. Two young men, brothers, had a little battle of their own, and Smith undertook to arrest one of them, but did not succeed in getting the young man to go with him. Smith proceeded to pound the man about the head with his fist, and kicked him in the side. A crowd of objectors soon gathered about them, and Smith desisted. This crowd was wrathful, and someone swore out a warrant for Smith's arrest. He was taken before the police judge, who fined him $2.50, and Smith resigned.

Pulling truck classes were added to NTPA competitions beginning in 1983 to further broaden the field of competitors and the crowd appeal and have been subject to similar expansions of modification and design in the decades since.

Ending hunger at home

Glenn Brunkow, Pottawatomie County farmer and rancher

Food insecurity, or the lack of consistent access to enough food, is not something that is top of my mind very often. It probably should be, but it just isn't. I have enough food, actually more than enough, and given the frantic pace of my life I often neglect to give a second thought to those who are not blessed like I am. I also think many of us in rural America think it is a big city or urban problem. It is not. In fact, I think we would all be shocked to know how many of our neighbors are food insecure.

Those of us who live in rural Kansas are proud people and often it is hard for us to ask for help. Your neighbors who may be food insecure are just like you. There is a certain stigma associated with not having enough food, especially in rural areas. Food insecurity happens for many reasons, and many are nothing to be ashamed of, but the reality of the situation is tough.

A related aspect is something called a food desert, which also is something I had not really thought about before or the fact that many of us live in them. A food desert is an area that may lack places to buy good-quality or healthy, fresh food. We have seen many of our small, rural grocery stores disappear leaving those who struggle with transportation facing food insecurity simply because they cannot drive to a larger city to shop.

I find all of this stunning. We live in the breadbasket of the United States, we grow a large part of the food for our population and yet we have hungry people in our midst. I have problems wrapping my head around it. But it all makes sense, food, especially healthy, fresh food is hard to come by in some of our towns. Couple that with the fact that eating healthy and staying away from packaged and premade food is expensive. Put it all together and we have a problem right here in our backyards.

That is why we, the members of Kansas Farm Bureau, are the perfect people to help fight hunger in our communities. We did that last year, when we raised nearly $100,000 in the middle of the pandemic to help our neighbors with a campaign to End Hunger in Kansas. That money went to food banks and pantries across the state. Now we are rolling out Phase 2 and many counties will be partnering with their local Farm Bureau agents, continuing the effort to End Hunger.

The Kansas Farm Bureau Foundation will be provide grants to assist county Farm Bureaus with projects to help their communities. Watch your local Farm Bureau for an announcement about how they're planning to help and then jump in. We are incredibly blessed to live in the small communities most of us are part of, and we probably do not even know how much some of our neighbors are hurting. This is the perfect way to help. I do not know about fixing hunger worldwide, but I do know that if we each dig in, we can solve the problem right here at home. Together we can End Hunger in Kansas.

"Insight" is a weekly column published by Kansas Farm Bureau, the state's largest farm organization whose mission is to strengthen agriculture and the lives of Kansans through advocacy, education and service.

Roadside tragedy underscores need to slow down, move over

The tragic death of a AAA tow truck driver in Ohio highlights the risks faced by emergency first responders here in Kansas and around the country.

More than 80 tow truck drivers participated in a procession in honor of 32-year old Glenn Ewing during his funeral services last week. The AAA tow truck driver was killed on July 4th while placing a disabled vehicle on the back of a flatbed on the side of the road.

"When one of our colleagues is lost, we're all affected," said Bryan Page, Wichita Roadside Assistance Fleet Manager for AAA Kansas. "He died while helping a driver on the side of the road - it can happen to any one of us."

Ewing's death illustrates why Move Over laws are critical to safety. The best thing drivers can do to keep someone on the side of the road safe is slow down, and move over into the next lane if you can do so safely.

Move Over laws exist in all 50 states. AAA and other traffic safety advocates have been instrumental in the passage of laws to better protect tow truck drivers, road construction workers and other first responders.

"First responders work tirelessly to make our roads safer for all of us," said Kansas Secretary of Transportation Julie Lorenz. "In return, they ask to be afforded a safe place to work in order to perform their job so they may return to their families each day. We encourage everyone to please move over and slow down for these workers and help spread the word. It's not just the law. It's the right thing to do."

"Troopers across Kansas have noticed that drivers are not moving over when approaching and passing emergency vehicles and roadway maintenance vehicles," said Lieutenant Candice Breshears of the Kansas Highway Patrol. "First responders and roadway workers are dedicated to making our Kansas highways safer for everyone traveling in and through Kansas. Not only is it a Kansas law to move over, but it is also the courteous thing to do. We want everyone, including our first responders, to make it home safely to their families. Please do your part and Move Over and Slow Down for all roadway workers."

Distractions Behind the Wheel

As more people hit the roads after confinement and with summer vacation travel, the number of vehicles on the road is increasing and the risks associated with distractions increase. The AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety, the national traffic safety research arm of AAA, found that drivers are four times more likely to crash if they are talking on a cell phone while driving and eight times more likely to be in a crash if texting.

"Drivers talking on a phone or otherwise distracted may not readily see a vehicle on the side of the road in enough time to safely move over to the next lane," said Shawn Steward, Manager, Public and Government Affairs for AAA Kansas. "In safety, split seconds count."

Kansas' Move Over Law

State law requires drivers approaching a stationary emergency vehicle displaying flashing lights, including towing and recovery vehicles, traveling in the same direction, to vacate the lane closest if safe and possible to do so, or slow to a speed safe for road, weather, and traffic conditions. In Kansas, the original law took effect in 2000 to protect law enforcement officers. It has been expanded over the years to to reduce risk to roadside construction crews, emergency responders and tow operators and waste collection vehicles. It was most recently broadened during the 2021 Kansas Legislative session to include to utility and telecommunications crews.

If motorists are cited for violating this statute, they will face a $75 fine plus, potentially, additional court costs.

Tragic Numbers

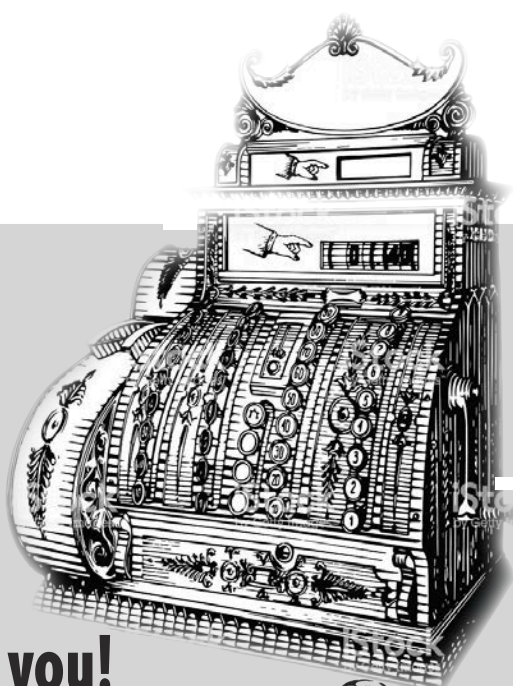

In Kansas designated road construction work zones alone - not even including incidents involving law enforcement officers, tow truck drivers and other roadside workers - the impact of vehicle crashes has been significant and tragic. According to the Kansas Department of Transportation, from 2010-2019, there were:

- 15,925 work zone crashes
- 5,126 injuries in those crashes
- 65 people killed

What's Being Done

Law enforcement agencies across Kansas and the nation regularly enforce Move Over law violations. AAA and its traffic safety partners will strengthen advocacy and community awareness throughout the year, including "National Move Over Day" which happens every third Saturday in October.

AAA Kansas, through a donation from the AAA Kansas Traffic Safety Fund, this year is donating sets of digital LED flares to about two dozen smaller police departments and sheriff's offices across the Sunflower State, to help increase visibility and safety when officers work roadside emergency incidents during limited visibility times.

Colony Christian Church - "3 Reasons to Share Jesus"

Bruce Symes gave the Communion Meditation about red letter Bibles, and the importance of Jesus' words. Jesus tells us to love others as ourselves; he gives us the Great Commandment to go and make disciples of all nations; that if we gain the world, we'll lose our soul; that he came to divide people, not to bring peace. He gives us hope and encouragement. When the red letter edition of the Bible was being developed, red was chosen because of the blood that Jesus sacrificed for us. Jesus' words speak to all of us, thru every generation. (Ref: John 3:16 & 14:6; Matt 28; Luke 12:51-52 & 22:20)

Pastor Chase Riebel gave the sermon on "3 Reasons to Share Jesus" over Acts 16. When Paul set out to go to Asia, the spirit of Jesus prevented him from going, instead sending him to Macedonia in Greece. Just like Paul, we need to go where God calls us! There is always a specific reason for where he wants us to go. Paul and Silas came across specific people that God wanted them to reach: Lydia, who seemed to be doing well financially, but needed Jesus; the slave girl, who was possessed by a demon and so was struggling spiritually; and the jailer, who had no hope. But if God knows the number of hairs on our heads, he cares for our every need. When we witness to others, the Kingdom of God grows exponentially as they go out and tell even more people. When you share Jesus, God will multiply your efforts. And even when things are at their darkest and we feel alone, we aren't. The Father, Son and Holy Spirit are always with us. Always! (Ref: Acts 16; Luke 12:7) Hear this and all our sermons by using your favorite podcast app, on our Facebook page, or on our website at www.colonychristianchurch.org.

Adult Bible study at the parsonage, and Youth group at the church, each Wednesday at 7:00 pm.

Garnett to host 'The Lake Garnett Shootout' - July 24-25

GARNETT, KS: For 50 years, the Garnett Kart Club had hosted both road and sprint track races, including 3 national events. What a milestone for this organization led by the late Ron Anderegg of Garnett. Each race event garnered 125 to 135 entries and involved people from many states across the country.

This coming weekend, July 24-25, the KC Karting Association is hosting two days of sprint track racing action at the Lake Garnett Sprint Track. There is no admission charged to spectators (lawn chairs suggested). Entry into hot pits is $10. Concessions will be available on site by local vendor. Practice sessions will begin at approximately 9:30 a.m., followed by full racing action as the day progresses. The KCKA is expecting at minimum 40 racers for this weekend's events.

The July race weekend is one of two events of the 14 race KCKA series to be held in Garnett. After next weekend, they will return to Garnett on October 17th. For information about KC Karting, please visit www.kckarting.com.

For those who appreciate road racing, the Garnett Enduro Club will host KART road races on August 28-29. The road race utilizes the road course that surrounds Lake Garnett; commonly known as "North Lake Road".
