Commission talks new sales tax to cover package of fix-it projects

Talks on repairs to pool grow to building a new one,
and city's other repair needs

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — A discussion over $160,000 in repairs to the Garnett City Swimming Pool recently expanded into a familiar malaise over a lack of funds for Garnett city projects and preliminary moves to advance a ½ cent sales tax to city voters to fund a slate of city projects.

Garnett Parks and Recreation Director Phil Bures presented an estimate from a Missouri pool repair company to make structural repairs on the basin portion of the city pool, but in the ensuing discussion he noted there was no point in buying a 25 year extended warranty for repairs on an 81 year-old pool that clearly would not last another 25 years.

"I think what you really need to look forward to is funding a new pool. The big picture — you're looking at an 81 year-old pool that's not going to last forever."

Mayor Jody Cole responded that the city's pool was just one of many expensive projects commissioners were evaluating — including repairs to the spillway at Cedar Valley Reservoir, repairs and upkeep to city water towers, street issues and the construction of a new water treatment plant among others — and questioned whether commissioners should be exploring a property tax or sales tax increase to lay in a pool of funding to accomplish some of those projects.

Outgoing city manager Chris Weiner said a ½ cent sales tax addition would generate about $250,000 per year. He said the budgeting tradition in Garnett of raiding utility surpluses to subsidize the city's annual operating budget couldn't go on forever because those reserves had been depleted over the years.

Shoppers in Garnett currently pay 8.5% on the cost of most retail goods, which breaks down to a 6.5% state tax, .5 % city tax and 1.5% added on by Anderson County to pay bonds on the 2009 county jail project. Sales

Tyson aims for state treasurer's office

Announcement sets up primary among GOP in effort to oust appointee

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

PARKER — State Senator Caryn Tyson announced Friday she'll join a field of Republicans and a Democrat seeking election as Kansas State Treasurer in 2022.

Tyson's announcement Friday before supporters at a kickoff event at Ravenwood Lodge in Topeka sets up a primary contest so far between herself and Steven Johnson from Kansas House from the 108th District, and former lobbyist for the Kansas Policy Institute Michael Austin of Lawrence. The winner of the Republican primary will face Lynn Rogers, a Democrat appointed by Governor Laura Kelly after Republican Treasurer Jake LaTurner won the 2nd District U.S. Congressional seat in 2020.

Tyson has math and computer science degrees from Kansas State and a Master's Degree in Engineering Management from the University of Kansas. Caryn Tyson has a long career as a manager and led in high level Information Technology, including financial systems. She's serving her third term as senator from Kansas' 12 District, including Anderson County, after serving a term in the Kansas House.

"Over the last several months I have received encouraging comments to run for State Treasurer," Tyson told The Ottawa Herald. "The people of Kansas are fed up with the increasing government waste, out-of-control spending, and incompetence of Governor Kelly and some of her administration."

Tyson announced plans last month to offer up a bill prohibiting the teaching of Critical Race Theory in Kansas public schools, following backlash against the race-based concept instruction that critics say has leached into school instruction through indirect channels and policies.

She and her husband Tim own and operate Tyson Ranch in Linn County, established in 1871 by Tim's great-great grandfather.

Horn

the Anderson County Hospital Auxiliary as well as a term from 2013-2019 on the local extension council. She's served eight years on the Garnett Public Library's Board of Directors and is a member of the Friends of the Library.

gate with no advance sales. Also a free watermelon feed will be sponsored by Neosho County Community College and Ryan Disbrow at State Farm tonight beginning at 6:30 p.m. (see full schedule for the fair published on page 2B of today's Review).

FRCO judge sets new hearing for Samsel

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

OTTAWA — A Franklin County judge earlier this month extended another date for a status conference in the misdemeanor battery case against Fifth District Representative to the Kansas House Mark Samsel of Wellsville.

Samsel is accused of kicking a male Wellsville High School student in the groin in a class in which Samsel was substitute teaching in late April in the middle of a classroom fracas, while other students videoed several scenes of bizarre behavior from the state representative previous to and following the incident.

District Magistrate Judge

Kevin Kimball set a follow-up hearing in the case for August 16 at 11:30 a.m. by Zoom, as Samsel's defense attorney and prosecutors discuss options for resolving the case. Samsel's counsel requested a jury trial soon after the April 28 charges were filed.

Samsel was released on bond the day the charges were filed subject to a number of condi-

Pesky rains may have been winner for corn crop

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

MANHATTAN — Though the 2021 corn crop got off to a soggy start, local analysts say steady precipitation will probably turn out to be a boost to local yields.

"The early planted corn is looking really good," said Frontier Extension District Ag Agent Ryan Schaub. "It appears to have pollinated well and should be starting to fill the ear," he said.

As always, heat and moisture will be the determining factors heading into harvest Schaub said.

"The later planted corn has a ways to go to make a crop yet," he said. "Rains in July have really given us a chance. But if it turns hot and dry when it's tasseling/pollinating we may not have the yields we have had the past couple years."

Anderson County farmers planted some 49,000 acres to corn in 2020 and harvested about 46,000, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's National Agriculture Statistics Service. That effort yielded some 5.1 million bushel for Anderson County, or a county average of about 110 bushel per acre.

Thomas County in northwest Kansas led the state last year in corn production with some 32 million bushel produced on 283,000 acres or about 114 bushel per acre according to NASS. Meade, Doniphan and Ford counties all had average yields about 200 bushel per acres.

KsCorn.com said the 2020 Kansas crop was valued at some $3.2 billion.

CHURCH

OCTOBER 9, 1950 - FEBRUARY 21, 2021

Charles James Church, age 70, of Leavenworth, Kansas, died of natural causes on Sunday, February 21, 2021 at Medicalodge of Leavenworth.

Charles was the third of six children born to Dale and Lilia (Sosa) Church. He was born at The Anderson County Hospital on October 9, 1950.

Memorial Services will be held at 11:00 A.M., on Saturday, July 31, 2021, at the Feuerborn Family Funeral Service Chapel, Garnett. Family will greet friends following the service at the Lone Elm Community Building in Lone Elm, Kansas.

Never confuse happiness and pleasure

In Isaiah 5:16 we read concerning God, "But the LORD of hosts is exalted in justice, and the Holy God shows himself holy in righteousness." This is quite a contrast to what we read concerning man in Romans 3:10-11. "None is righteous, no, not one; no one understands; no one seeks God."

Dr. R.C. Sproul addresses this in his book "The Holiness of God" when he states. "The struggle we have with a holy God is rooted in the conflict between God's righteousness and our (man's) unrighteousness. He (God) is just and we are unjust. This tension creates, fear, hostility and anger within us toward God. The unjust person does not desire the company of a just judge. We become fugitives from the presence of One whose glory can blind us and whose justice can condemn us. We are at war with Him (God) unless or until we are justified. Only the justified person can be comfortable in the presence of a holy God."

So we have established that there is a chasm or gulf that exists between God who is just and man who is unjust. After the fall in the Garden of Eden man found himself alienated from God. Where God once communed with man now that relationship had lapsed into sin and lostness. God had placed Adam in the Garden in a state of happiness with a promise to permanently establish him if he obeyed God's command not to eat from a tree described as "the tree of the knowledge of good and evil." However when Adam came to the fork in the road of happiness and pleasure, he chose pleasure. We as humans are very much attracted to pleasure. We are a pleasure driven society and not all pleasures are sinful but when we allow our desires to control us sin and alienation from God is often the result. This type of pleasure will never bring happiness. So we must continue to seek more pleasure in search of happiness.

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

So we must answer the question how will unjust man ever become just before a Holy God? It is through divine accomplishment. The work of Christ reveals both the justice of God, who punished sin in the person of his own Son and the righteousness of God's way of salvation by faith in Jesus. Hence God is both the "just and the justifier of the one who has faith in Jesus." (Romans 3:26) We must not confuse happiness and pleasure. Happiness is lasting, pleasure is fleeting.

Colony Christian Church - 'Use Your Instruments'

Larry Wittmer gave the Communion Meditation using Kyle Idleman's book "Grace from the Cross". 2 Corinthians 12:9 says, "Each time he (Jesus) said, "My grace is all you need. My power works best in weakness." So now I am glad to boast about my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ can work through me." His grace is greater than anything you'll ever go thru. Whatever we are experiencing is part of God's grace for us. It molds us and teaches us. His grace is enough! (Ref: 2 Corinthians 12:9 & 1 Peter 5:12)

Guest speaker, Ben Prasko, gave the sermon "Use Your Instruments". When bad weather hits, how do pilots navigate? They can speak to air traffic controllers, follow major highways, use their instrument panels, etc. Why do we as Christians stop using our instruments, and how can we navigate thru life when we become disoriented? We may stop using our "instruments" because Satan is deceiving us, or maybe because of our own pride. But we are given several "instruments" that we can use to keep us on course. 1. Music. Music is a great way for us to remember things and it breaks thru barriers. 2. Bible. The Bible is the very Word of God. It is powerful and ALIVE! Matthew tells us that we can not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God. 3. Prayer. Thru prayer, we speak directly to God. Even Jesus often went off alone to pray to God. We are called to pray about everything and tell God how thankful we are for all that we've been given, the good and the bad. Pray when you are happy, sick, suffering hardship... confess and be healed. 4. People/Church. God put our church family in our lives for a reason. We are to help each other back onto the right path and to share each other's burdens. When we feel like we're failing, go to others in the church for help, and use your instruments. They'll never fail. Ref: 2 Corinthians 2:11; 1 John 1:9, 2:16-17, 3:8, 5:14-15, 15:4-5, 10:10; John 8:44; Proverbs 3:5 & 34, 11:2, 13:10, 6:18; 1 Peter 5:8; 1 Thessalonians 2:18; James 1:5, 4:6 & 5:13-17; Galatians 6:1-5; Psalm 69:30 & 119; Hebrews 4:12; 2 Timothy 3:16-17; Matthew 4:4 & 9:12-13; Mark 11:23-25; Luke 5:15-16; Romans 8:26-27; Philippians 4:6; Jeremiah 29:11-14) Hear this and all our sermons by using your favorite podcast app, on our Facebook page, or on our website at www.colony-christianchurch.org.

Forget the Wuhan lab: Why are we sending any money to China?

Last week, Senator Rand Paul and Dr. Anthony Fauci went viral after they argued during a Senate hearing over the definition of “gain of function” research. Specifically, they butted heads over whether the U.S. funded the type of research potentially connected with the Wuhan lab at the center of the contentious “lab leak” theory of COVID-19’s origins.

“Senator Paul, you do not know what you are talking about, quite frankly, and I want to say that officially. You do not know what you are talking about!” said Dr. Fauci, after Sen. Paul referenced a paper by a Wuhan lab researcher which discussed what was, in the senator’s opinion, an example of “gain of function” research.

While officials like Fauci attempt to wiggle away from any semblance of responsibility by hiding behind deliberately fluid definitions,

The claim that Chinese institutions are in any way independent of the Chinese Communist Party is either naive or deeply moronic.

however, we are missing the most important point of all. The question is not “did the U.S. fund ‘gain-of-function’ research in China,” or “did the U.S. fund research which resulted in the COVID-19 outbreak?”

Instead, the question is “why on earth are we sending a single penny to our greatest enemy on the world stage?”

As I have said on multiple occasions, China — under the iron-fist of the Chinese Communist Party — is today’s Nazi Germany. While American leaders wring their hands over the threat of Russia or Iran or North Korea, they are ignoring the growth of the single greatest threat to Western liberty on the planet.

Whether it be the CCP’s open disdain for human rights, their military aggression against neighboring states, or the attempt to place the world economy in a stranglehold, China’s status as the United States’ greatest adversary — both economically, militarily, and ethically — is unquestionable.

GUEST EDITORIAL

IAN HAWORTH – THE DAILY WIRE

Then why are we sending them money? For example, the NIH gave almost $600,000 (through a nonprofit and various grant systems) to the Wuhan Institute of Virology over several years to study bat coronaviruses.

Why? The claim that Chinese institutions are in any way independent of the Chinese Communist Party is either naive or deeply moronic. In the world’s foremost dictatorship, we can safely assume any and all companies, organizations, and institutions exist only with the CCP’s blessing.

This means that one dollar sent to the Wuhan Institute of Virology is, effectively, one dollar sent to the Chinese government, with not much more than Fauci’s assumption of academic honesty protecting our taxpayer funds from anti-American misappropriation.

People would understandably scoff at the idea of sending taxpayer dollars to the Nazi Party during World War II. Then why do we accept the idea that China should receive a single American dollar today?

The argument over the NIH and its involvement with COVID-19 pales in comparison to the importance of knowing who our friends are on the world stage, and who our enemies are.

China is an enemy, and it’s time we started treating them as such. Ending funding for their “research” — regardless of whether or not it resulted in a worldwide pandemic — seems like an obvious place to start.

Has anybody seen the new light that somebody put up on South Main at their house? It’s nice that they illuminate the flat, but that thing is so bright when you see it you almost drive off the side of the road. Thanks.

Now hear this everybody, and by that I mean the health department people and the State of Kansas and Governor Kelly and the city and county and the school boards and everybody else who wants to rewind on Covid with this new freaking out about the so-called Delta Variant. I’m not playing this time. I’m not wearing a mask and I’m not shutting down my business and I’m not avoiding my relatives and doing all of this other over something 99 percent of the people live through just like having a cold or the flu. They keep yelling about the number of cases on the news, well the number of cases doesn’t mean anything because 99 percent live, it’s the number of people dying that matters. In Los Angeles last month, all of Los Angeles, however big it is, four people died of Covid. You’re probably more likely to get shot in Los Angeles than you are to die of Covid. By now everybody who wanted to get the shot has got the shot, so if you didn’t get it that’s your business and you take your chances. I’m not going to crawl back in a hole and live in it just because you’re afraid. No way. Thank you.

Why do so many people have such blatant disregard for traffic laws? Thank you.

To the person that is responsible for getting the dock fixed at the Garnett reservoir I want to say I really appreciate it. And it would be nice to see us get the dock at the north lake fixed so some of the elderly can enjoy that. Thank you.

I think commercials are getting disgusting. Does anybody else agree?

Hooray for the billionaire boys club of space

Who would’ve thought selling books online would eventually lead to the first vertical take-off spaceflight on a rocket for tourists? Or that a mail-order record business would eventually lead to flying a sub-orbital space plane flying at the edge of space?

In the last 10 days, we’ve seen two billionaires and their fellow crew members fly to the edge of space. Richard Branson’s crew flew on the Virgin Atlantic Unity 22 sub-orbital vehicle on July 11 and Jeff Bezos’s crew was onboard the Blue Origin New Shepard space vehicle on July 20.

The historic flights were slightly different. Unity is a sub-orbital vehicle, meant more for space tourism and the experience of weightlessness than for actual space flight. You can pay $250,000 to get on a flight and you’ll be able to see the sky turn black with the Earth’s horizon below you. Branson’s vehicle landed like a plane on a runway in New Mexico.

The New Shepard flight was unique because it was a vertical launch, where the booster and capsule went straight into the sky like a traditional rocket launch, then separated, with the booster landing vertically on a landing pad and a few minutes later, the capsule and four-member crew parachuting down to land softly in the West Texas desert. Bezos has his eyes focused beyond tourism, with plans for orbital space development and the moon. Eventually another billionaire, Elon Musk and his company SpaceX, could top them with a proposed effort to take a trip to Mars with the intent of colonization.

Some people think space travel is a meaningless pursuit. But of all the new technologies we’re seeing developed these days, surely it could be considered a much more worthy effort than creating entertaining filters that make you look like a cross between a unicorn and a cat on your smartphone.

The technology developed as part of the private space race will likely find its way into our lives. We’ll benefit even if we never actually take a ride to the edge of space.

It is exciting to observe this historic moment. I’m convinced the next 10 years will bring incomprehensible change to society and our day-to-day existence. As new technologies are discovered and new horizons are crossed, humans will get to explore the wonders God has created beyond our planet.

If the journey to space can come from humble beginnings and fortunes can be made from mundane business pursuits, we all have the opportunity to be the next Branson or Bezos.

Branson made his fortune with a vinyl record mail order business and record shops. He never finished high school. Bezos made his fortune after founding Amazon, the company that had its start with selling books through the mail. He started life as the son of a 17-year-old high school student. The odds were stacked against them.

If ever there were a couple people whose history matched the Kansas motto “Ad Astra per Aspera” or “To the stars, through difficulties”, it was these two.

This also means there is nothing stopping Kansans like you and me from changing the world.

Congratulations to Richard Branson and Jeff Bezos for their contribution to what will surely usher in a historic new era for humanity.

Are they really serious about “Forget the Alamo?”

No one is trying to topple the Alamo quite yet, but a new revisionist book on the foundational event of Texas history partakes of the iconoclastic spirit of our time.

The book, titled “Forget the Alamo,” is a harsh call for Texans, and Americans, to get over a battle deeply etched in our popular memory. According to the authors, the Texans (then the Texians) were foolish to try to defend the indefensible. Some of the defenders tried to make a run for it. Santa Anna, the Mexican general central to the story, wasn’t so bad. And given the importance of slavery to the early history of Texas, the Alamo and the Texas Revolution are due an overall post-George Floyd reevaluation.

If there are legitimate disputes over the historical record, it’s really not hard to understand why a badly outnumbered garrison of men who fought ferociously against a government force almost to the last man and provided a rallying cry for a rebellion that quickly swept to success occupies an outsize place in our imagination.

Especially given that two of the most famous Americans of the time, Davy Crockett and Jim Bowie, died there.

Such an event is inevitably catnip for myth-making, but even when stripped down to its essence, the Alamo and the aftermath were truly extraordinary.

Santa Anna, president of Mexico 11 separate times, first took power as a federalist, then switched sides and became a centralizer. A new constitution squashed Mexican states that had been run largely autonomously. Santa Anna put down the ensuing revolt in the province of Zacatecas in horrifyingly brutal fashion, and then he came for Texas.

About 150 defenders holed up in the Alamo, and the rest is not just legend, but history.

Santa Anna did indeed signal that his force of more than a thousand would give no quarter.

William Barret Travis, commander of the garrison, did indeed write an immortal letter concluding, “Victory or death.” He made a plea for reinforcements that never came. “If this call is neglected,” he wrote, “I am determined to sustain myself as long as possible & die like a soldier who never forgets what is due to his own honor & that of his country.” Santa Anna’s troops did indeed launch an early morning attack that was bloodied by the defenders, but quickly overwhelmed the fortification. Santa Anna insisted that roughly half a dozen survivors be executed, and followed up this atrocity with the murder of about 350 other captured rebels in the Goliad Massacre. Sam Houston, his forces swelled by volunteers, did indeed tell his troops prior to the Battle of San Jacinto: “We will meet the enemy. Some of us may be killed, and must be killed. But, soldiers, remember the Alamo, the Alamo, the Alamo!” In an astonishing turnabout, the battle turned into a bloody rout of the Mexicans that secured the independence of Texas.

Who wouldn’t want to make a movie of such events?

Of course, such popularizations aren’t going to be academically rigorous. Pushing back, the authors of “Forget the Alamo” assail the character of Jim Bowie and William Travis, and, sure enough, you wouldn’t trust them to manage your real-estate holdings. Texas at the time was a hard place, and the Mexicans and Comanche who contended for control of the territory weren’t paragons, either.

The authors note the contribution of the Tejanos, native Texans of Mexican descent, and regret how it’s missing from many accounts of the revolution, which is fair enough, but doesn’t detract from the basic story.

They make much of how Mexico abolished slavery, whereas Texas planters depended on it. Yet Mexico tolerated slavery in Texas and had its own rigidly hierarchical economic sys-

Mystery bus tour - part 3

Monday 28 June

Let's see, where were we? Oh yes, we had just arrived at Sunrise, Wy. Population 1.

Sunrise was at one time a hustling, bustling town with a population of 1,600 people. It was the third largest iron ore mining town in the United States. It is now a privately owned ghost town. The main activity there today is two archaeological projects going on. One a historic excavation of the town and the other a very productive excavation of the very early Paleo Indians.

We traveled one mile to Hartville, Wy. for lunch at the oldest bar in Wyoming. Miners & Stockman's Bar called the Steak House and Spirits.

Our next stop was in Gurney, Wy., where we picked up a tour guide. At Gurney is the National Guards Training Camp. Gurney has a population of 1,200, however when the Guard arrives it grows to 20,000 - 50,000. It's the largest camp in the U.S.A.

Next we traveled to the Register Cliffs where we saw literally thousands of names carved in the sandstone cliff walls from travelers on the Oregon Trail,

DIGGING UP THE PAST

Henry Roeckers
Call (785) 504-4722 for local archeology information.

Mormon Trail, Pony Express Riders and names of visitors from all over the world.

Traveling on, we soon stopped and walked to the top of a sandstone hill and we could see the ruts cut in the sandstone by those traveling on the Oregon Trail. I stood in ruts worn down 4-6 feet deep. The white desert poppies were all in bloom. Beautiful. Soon we crossed the all man made dam on the Guernsey Reservoir and toured the very interesting CC Museum.

Our last stop of the day before going to the Hawk Spring's Motel was in Torrington, Wy. at the Rendezvous Center. Here we were treated a delicious prime rib dinner. After dinner we had three cattle ranchers tell us all about cattle ranching in Wyoming. Very interesting.

Tuesday 29 June

We left Cheyenne at 8:45 for another day of touring. Lots of antelope along the road side. Our first stop was out in the middle of the desert. What was out here to see? It was the Quebec Missile Alert Site. Do any of you remember the PEACE MAKER MISSILE? (think maybe this should be Peacekeeper missile?) It was the most destructive weapon of its time. During nuclear downsizing it was dismantled and removed. However, we got to go down in elevators 50 feet to where it was housed and ready for launching at a seconds notice. Two people at a time were underground for 48 hours manning the launch station.

After that tour everyone was ready to eat lunch and our very next stop was at the Little Bear Inn, where we had a wonderful lunch.

Next week I will continue on this exciting tour.

20 years ago...Juveniles burglarize business

10 years ago...

The irony was too much to ignore. While the area suffers under debilitating heat and lack of moisture, work crews reconstructing U.S. Highway 59 through Garnett discovered a means to alleviate flooding in that area. Killough Construction uncovered an abandoned storm drain just north of First Avenue along the roadway which apparently had been covered by previous construction. The city had no record of the drain and no one apparently knew it was there, City Manager Joyce Martin said.

A local business closed for over a year was burglarized Tuesday by three young juveniles. Garnett Police Chief James Bond said three juveniles ages 9, 10, and 11 are suspected in a burglary of the Texaco-Taco Bell store in Garnett early Tuesday morning, July 3. Numerous packages of cigarettes, lighters, and alcoholic beverages were among the items recovered in the incident.

He is currently a suspect in a shooting which seriously wounded Tom Fagg, 23, of Cherryvale, in an altercation which witnesses says resulted in several shots being fired. According to Cole, no charges have been filed in the shooting incident and officials are still trying to sort out the details from the witnesses, the victim, and onlookers.

A long standing lawsuit filed by 10 railroads against 105 Kansas counties could result in a considerable loss of tax income for Anderson County. The railroads, which locally includes the Santa Fe, Missouri Pacific, and MK&T, contend that Kansas is in violation of the federal Railroad Revitalization and Regulatory Reform Acct, and that the state is discriminating against the railroads in the assessment of property taxes. If the railroads win their suit, the county, city, and school district budgets within Anderson County will lose $75,913.86 in railroad revenue annually.

When J.Q. McAfee finishes work on the Fourth Avenue hotel, as now contemplated, Garnett will have a hotel of which she need not be ashamed. He has taken out two west office windows and the wall between them and in their place installed a large window, as large as four ordinary windows. He is doing the same with the south side of the office. This gives abundant light and is a great improvement in appearance of the building. A new front will be put into the building adjoining, which is now part of the hotel, and this room will be connected with an arch with the original office and will be equipped for a writing room. The toilet will be placed at the rear of this room. Other improvements will be made which will be noted later.

The Hope Anthem Pool party on Saturday night was a huge success! Snow cones, music, inflatables, and swimming as well as giveaways made the evening fun for everyone! Thanks go out to all that attended and helped make the party possible.

Marriage and kids have a way of changing the single freedom of summer

Kim Baldwin, McPherson County farmer

A friend of mine recently asked when my family truly begins to enjoy summer. She asked this well-meaning question to help her figure out when we get to enjoy some rest and relaxation during the summer months. She has observed my family for many years and has recognized that while many others enjoy vacations during this time of the year, it seems as if my family does not get the "traditional" summer experience so many others do.

Before I met and eventually married my husband, I lived in a town where I taught. As soon as I had wrapped up my lessons for the year, cleaned my classroom and submitted my final grades, my summer break began. My summer breaks consisted of a lot of cookouts with friends and family, a lot of time in a swimming pool, and a lot of travel. I had a lot of things to do during my breaks, and I generally kept a pretty busy schedule to ensure I'd soak up all of what summer offered. Many nights I'd usually fall asleep exhausted from a busy summer day and get a good, hard sleep before rising with the sun the next morning.

When I look at what summers were like for me as a single teacher living in a small town compared to what my summers look like now on the farm, I can't help but recognize that some things remain the same yet appear different. During wheat harvest, I still experience meals with friends and family — although what is generally grilled at home is then packaged up and hauled out to hungry people in a wheat field somewhere. I still enjoy meals with others while sitting in our lawn chairs, albeit the scenery and timeframes may look a little different.

My time relaxing at the pool with friends has transitioned to water time with my kids. Pool time is now generally centered around our stock tank pool that sits in our front yard. It's quite convenient for early morning or evening dips, and you don't have to deal with crowds or admission fees. Sometimes the kids and I enjoy a trip to a local splash pad or enjoy time at our town's public pool. In either of these scenarios, we all enjoy a little refreshing break from the summer heat.

I also still get to travel during the summer months. Some days include unplanned short trips to a business in a nearby town to pick up irrigation or machine parts my husband needs. Unless the items are needed immediately, I usually have the kids put on their swimsuits under their clothes and pack some towels in the event we find a new community splash pad to enjoy. If we strike out with the splash pad on our parts runs, we'll look for community parks or interesting things like murals to explore in these other communities. Sometimes, the kids and I can also sneak away for multiple days if schedules allow.

As the summer continues and hectic, timely tasks on the farm like wheat harvest and planting have transitioned more into an autopilot mode of things like managing irrigation. We still take advantage of the daylight hours and generally still collapse into our beds nightly well after the lightning bugs fill the air.

As summer continues, my family can begin to stray a bit further from the farm. We can enjoy a swimming pool at a hotel or a relaxing evening cookout together at home. We, no doubt, will still collapse into bed at night after exhausting days trying to take full advantage of all that the summer days allow us to absorb. And we will begin talking about what fun family trip we can plan for and enjoy some rest and relaxation — somewhere perhaps warm and sunny — in either January or February.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 7-27-2021 / KEVIN GAINES

City of Garnett celebrates farmers markets' resiliency For National Farmers Market Week 2021

The Garnett Farmers' Market joins markets across the country in celebrating National Farmers Market Week, August 1-7, 2021. Post global pandemic, farmers markets — like all other small businesses — have been scrambling to continue operations for the farmers and communities that depend on them. When conventional food supply chains failed at the start of the pandemic, farmers markets and local food systems clearly displayed the resiliency of short supply chains and interest in local foods spiked nationwide. National Farmers Market Week is an annual celebration of farmers markets coordinated by the Farmers Market Coalition, a membership-based 503(c)3 nonprofit organization that supports farmers markets nationwide through training, technical assistance, and network-building. This year, the campaign is centered around the essential role that farmers markets play in the food system as demonstrated during this unique time in history. The Garnett Farmers' Market, in its current form began in July of 2008, and today hosts 6 to 10 farmers and vendors selling a wide variety of products, including cucumbers, greens/kale, onions, asparagus, carrots, zucchini and varieties of squash, peppers, tomatoes, sweet corn, watermelon and cantaloupe, beans, blueberries, strawberries, apples and peaches, homemade ice cream, honey and honey products, salsas, sauces, syrups, jellies and jams, freshly baked breads, rolls, pies and custom cookies, farm raised beef, chicken, elk and pork, fresh farm eggs, flowers, bedding plants, hanging baskets, pumpkins and gourds, pecans, homemade and handcrafted artwork, jewelry, woodwork, etc. This year is a great time to be a part of the Garnett Farmers' Market", says Kris Hix, Market Manager and Director of the Garnett Area Chamber of Commerce/City Administrative Assistant. "Some area youth are involved in the Garnett Farmers' Market and that is refreshing. The market also has a Community Table where persons who have an abundance of garden vegetables can drop off at this table to sell. The Garnett Farmers' Market encourages senior citizens to sign up at the Frontier Extension District Office, 411 S. Oak, for free Farmers Market "money" by applying for the Senior Farmers Market Nutrition Program. You must be 60 years of age and meet income guidelines. "Farmers markets are essential to the life and livelihood of millions of shoppers and tens of thousands of farmers," says Ben Feldman, Executive Director of the Farmers Market Coalition. "But farmers markets don't happen by accident. It takes the planning, organization, and execution of dedicated individuals and community organizations. That work is harder than ever and farmers markets and the vendors who sell at them need all the help they can get." The Garnett Farmers' Market invites vendors and food trucks to join the market, held every Thursday evening on Main Street, between 4th and 5th Avenues, from 4:30 to 7:00 p.m. Farmers' Market Season is held annually from the first Thursday in May through the second week in October. For more information about the Garnett Farmers' Market and how to participate, please visit: <https://www.simplygarnett.com/farmers-market.html> or contact Kris Hix at 785-448-6767.

Garnett City Commissioners seek community input for City Manager position

The City Commission for the City of Garnett is opening a community survey to allow the Garnett community an opportunity to provide input on the hiring criteria for the City Manager position. The survey opened on Monday, July 26; the City Commission would like to invite all City of Garnett residents, business owners, and city employees to participate in helping them narrow down the criteria that will be used in the upcoming search for a new city manager. The city commission feels it is very important for the community to be involved in deciding what type of City Manager will be hired.

To participate in the survey, go to <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/Garnett2021>. A link to the survey can also be found on the City of Garnett's website, www.simplygarnett.com or the Garnett Area Chamber of Commerce website www.garnettchamber.org. The survey is anonymous. Deadline to complete the survey is Tuesday, August 10. The League of Kansas Municipalities is conducting the city manager search and will be compiling the survey results.

around sheep, however, now she enjoys showing her lambs at the local, regional, state, and national level. Hailey raises show lambs and enjoys helping younger 4-Hers get involved with the sheep project.

Hailey has been actively involved with 4-H, FFA, and Skills USA over the years. Hailey participates in many community service activities in her community and serves in multiple leadership roles. Hailey finished this past school year serving as Anderson County FFA President, East Central District FFA president, and Skills USA Secretary. Evergy warns customers regarding recent utility scam attempts Evergy has received many customer reports of individuals placing phone calls to customers and claiming to be Evergy representatives. The individuals are asking customers for immediate payment to avoid service disconnection. These representatives are not employees of Evergy. For past-due accounts, calls from Evergy requesting payment are never made the same day as the disconnection.

Several customers have contacted us after receiving suspicious calls. In most cases, the caller claims to be an Evergy customer service representative to get the customer to provide credit card information or other personal information, telling the customer a check has bounced or he/she has a past-due bill. Imposters will often ask customers to use a pre-paid card for payment. Evergy will never ask a customer to purchase a pre-paid debit card to pay for service.

Customers may verify an individual is from Evergy by asking to see company identification or by calling the Customer Contact Center before giving any information such as your Evergy account number or banking information. If you can't verify that you're speaking with an Evergy employee, do not give them this information. Evergy Missouri service areas and Evergy Kansas Metro may reach customer service toll-free at 1-888-471-5275. Evergy Kansas Central customers may call 1-800-383-1183. Customers can also review their account status online by visiting www.evergy.com.

Evergy wants its customers to know how to identify Evergy representatives. Employees will carry Evergy employee identification. For a service appointment, they may be driving an Evergy vehicle or wearing Evergy branded clothing. Evergy does not perform door-to-door sales. Evergy employees rarely need to enter a customer's home.

Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, scammers have increased calls, texts, emails, and in-person tactics and are contacting utility customers asking for immediate payment to avoid service disconnection. As a reminder, Evergy will never ask customers to make payments with a pre-paid debit card, gift card, any form of cryptocurrency, or third-party digital payment mobile applications. If you feel you have been a victim of a scam, please work with your local law enforcement agency to report the crime.
