Crash claims life of Westphalia woman

Collision hospitalizes other driver, footnotes dangers of rural roads

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

WESTPHALIA — A two vehicle head-on collision southeast of Westphalia Wednesday night claimed the life of a 31 year-old Westphalia woman and resulted in serious injuries to a woman from Kincaid.

A Kansas Highway Patrol report said Odyessie K. Allen was killed when her northbound 2017 Chevy Cruze veered left of center on Colorado Road near the intersection with 1000 Road about 5:30 p.m. and struck a 2018 Chrysler 300 driven by 49 year-old Valorie Stewart of Kincaid.

Allen died at the scene. Stewart was taken to a Kansas City area hospital with serious injuries which did not respond to the Review's requests for a patient status update. The KHP report said neither driver was wearing a seatbelt.

Traffic data compiled by The Hartford insurance company denoted rural road travel fatalities as being 2.4 times higher than urban area crashes per million miles traveled, primarily due to the fact that urban car crashes tend to happen at lower speeds and emergency services are typically closer at hand.

Nearly 65,000 car crashes happened in Kansas in 2018 according

County finalizing new tax foreclosure sale

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — County officials are readying some 60 tax-delinquent Anderson County properties for condemnation and a follow-up tax sale they expect to take place before the end of the year.

The county's legal counsel James Campbell said last week his office and a Garnett title company were in the process of finalizing research on the remaining parcels and preparing final notifications for property owners to give them a final chance to pay the amount in arrears and prevent the seizure of those parcels.

Those finalized tracts will be advertised for sale in the Review a few weeks prior to the sheriff's auction.

The county's last tax sale sent about 50 properties to the auction an additional $346,000 per year. First District Commissioner Les McGhee said the increase was a defensive move based on current labor demands, empty posts at various county jobs, and more lucrative recruiting offers being made by employers in various industries.

"It's to try to retain what we have," McGhee said. "We can't hire anybody — as an example a CDL driver — that $2 an

Most county workers get $2/hr raise

Commissioners say salary hike aimed at keeping staff from taking other offers

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT — The ongoing national labor shortage has Anderson County Commissioners circling their wagons around county employees trying to keep them from being recruited by other employers — to the tune of a $2 per hour base pay raise in recent weeks. Commissioners approved the raise last week for all county workers excluding sheriff's deputies and jailers — who received a pay raise in August in response to higher wages being offered to Garnett city police officers — and elected officials.

County clerk Julie Wettstein said the overall raise would cost the county an additional $346,000 per year. First District Commissioner Les McGhee said the increase was a defensive move based on current labor demands, empty posts at various county jobs, and more lucrative recruiting offers being made by employers in various industries.

hour; are you going to attract someone over that? Probably not — but we'd sure like to keep what we've got. Most of them have had other offers."

All but a couple of county departments were short at least one regular staffer, commissioners said — even sheriff deputy posts that had already received a raise several months ago. Commissioners estimated the county was short nearly 10 workers at any one point in time in recent months.

"That's better than 10 percent," said Third District Commissioner Dave Pracht.

Governor wants Democrats involved in "overreach" talks

GOP-led committee will assess state, federal actions' various impacts

BY TIM CARPENTER THE KANSAS REFLECTOR

TOPEKA — Gov. Laura Kelly urged Democratic state legislators to participate in deliberations of the special committee created by Republican legislative leaders to review the constitutionality of federal vaccination mandates and local mask directives tied to the pandemic.

House Speaker Ron Ryckman, R-Olathe, and Senate President Ty Masterson, R-Andover, formed the Special Joint Committee on Government Overreach and the Impact of COVID-19 Mandates in early October. They were inspired by President Joe Biden's announcement of vaccination requirements for large employers and people working for the federal government.

The new committee, which hasn't yet met, also was a response to demands from some GOP lawmakers for a special legislative session to push back against government pandemic edicts. COVID-19 has been a factor in the death of more than 6,100 Kansans since March 2020, while arguments have persisted about heavy-handed government action that shut down the Kansas economy and pressed issues of individual liberty.

Kelly, a Democrat up for re-election in 2022, said even legislators skeptical of the special committee ought to be involved in the public meetings or participate in weighing recommendations.

"I believe when you are offered a seat at the table, you ought to take it, because you ought to be there to at least see what's going on," the governor said during an interview Wednesday. "It might be attractive to just say, 'It's silly and so I won't participate.' I think it's probably better to go ahead and bring yourself to the table and be part of the process."

Development of the special committee was endorsed by the Legislative Coordinating Council along party lines. It was decided the panel would have six members from the House and five members from the Senate.

In addition to considering vaccination mandates on large U.S. employers, federal contractors and health workers, the special committee was tasked with exploring directives related to wearing face coverings and requiring proof of vaccination. The GOP-led committee was asked to draft "constitutionally proper" responses to mandates that would "preserve local control, state autonomy and ensure adequate safeguards for the freedom of all Kansans."

Masterson appointed himself along with Sen. Renee Erickson, R-Wichita; Sen. Mike Thompson, R-Shawnee; and Sen. Kellie Warren, R-Leawood. Each of the GOP senators on the panel have been critics of Kelly's leadership during the pandemic. Warren is seeking the GOP nomination in 2022 for Kansas attorney general.

Jesus will return for his church

In the letter to the Hebrews the author states in 10:25, "Let us not give up meeting together as some are in the habit of doing, but let us encourage one another -and all the more as you see the Day approaching."

What the writer is referring to is after the birth of the church at Pentecost in Acts 2 the church began to meet in small groups and in homes. Evidently as time passed the believers had dispersed, some due to persecution and others became disillusioned or apathetic.

Two important elements however are impossible to replicate. The greeting time shared by those present and the sharing of communion. The greeting time allows us to encourage one another and to share in Christian love with one another. It is here we bond with other believers who share our joys and concerns and where we see people just like ourselves experiencing the same difficulties we have been dealing with and overcoming them. The sharing of the elements is also more meaningful in a church setting. Sharing the body and blood of Jesus Christ in unison with other believers brings us before the face of God and allows us to cleanse ourselves of our sin in a corporate manner.

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

The last sentence in the text reads, "and all the more as you see the Day approaching." In this text Day is capitalized because it refers to a specific day. That day is the return of Jesus Christ. If you are not attending church or have never attended this text should give you pause for thought. That day will be the most important day in your and my life as Jesus will be returning for his church.

GUILFOYLE

DECEMBER 8 1948 AUGUST 28 2021

John Paul Guilfoyle was born December 8, 1948, in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, to Patrick Guilfoyle and Ora Belle (Porche) Guilfoyle. He died on August 28, 2021, at the age of 72.

Guilfoyle

John was raised in Greely, Kansas where he attended St. John's Catholic school and graduated from Greely high school in 1967. After high school he was drafted into the Marine Corps. John married Susie Guilfoyle (Miller) on October 23, 1976 at St. John Catholic Church in Greeley, Kansas. They were married for 44 years until Susie's passing in 2020. John spent most of his working life as a truck driver, working for Fed Ex Freight, he retired in 2014. One of John's biggest joys in life was fishing, he was part of several fishing clubs and frequented bass tournaments when his children were younger. Weekends were spent in the travel trailer camping with his family on different lakes in Oklahoma. Later in life John preferred to stay on the farm and loved when his kids and grandkids would come to visit and enjoy the land. When John chose to travel he would make trips to "the cabin" where he would spend the weekends with his brothers playing cards, telling jokes and drinking beer.

Those he leaves behind who hold many cherished (and funny) memories include his 3 children: Son, Skylar Guilfoyle and Pamela, of Owasso; Sarah Brown and husband Brandon of Owasso, and Shelby Reading and husband Dakota, of Oologah. 4 grandsons: Joshua, Jaxon, Cameron and Cooper, and his first granddaughter who will arrive in a few weeks. Shortage of workers has been a familiar lament in various parts of the county, particularly in restaurants, production and service industries but also increasingly in the shipping and fulfillment arenas. Some analysts say the much-discussed backlog of delivered products threatens the online Christmas shopping season and may drive more shoppers back to brick-and-mortar stores this Christmas.

'Twas Zuckerberg hijacked Election 2020

It was always wrong. But no one could explain exactly how votes were being corrupted in the 2020 presidential election. Trump legal people like Rudy Giuliani and Sydney Powell ran around condemning voting machines and promoting shady allegations of fraud. But they could never produce forensic evidence of wrongdoing – and both have suffered greatly for their advocacy.

Attorney General William Barr publicly stated that election fraud was committed. Then he disappeared. To this day, President Trump is crazed over the vote. But he and his supporters were on the wrong trail.

I, your humble correspondent, watched closely as the situation unfolded. Corruption in precincts like Detroit, Atlanta, and Philadelphia is not exactly unheard of - is it?

Even though it is a crime in all 50 states to "electioneer" at polling places where you walk into and vote, it is not a criminal activity for a third party to interfere with a mail-in ballot.

But, again, no hard evidence came forward and I accurately reported that.

Now, a terrible picture is beginning to emerge and ground zero is Silicon Valley, California.

That's where Mark Zuckerberg lives. The Facebook chief apparently took a very large financial interest in the Trump/Biden race for the White House. How large? Well, how about $420 million dollars.

According to a number of reports which have not been denied, Mr. Zuckerberg donated that colossal amount of money to couple of "non-partisan," tax-exempt political operations: The Center for Technology and Civic Life and The Center for Election Innovation and Research.

Turns out these two "centers" are about as non-partisan as Nancy Pelosi.

Reporter Mollie Hemingway, who works for Heritage, investigated the Zuckerberg situation and calls it "genius."

Here's how it worked. "Vote Navigators" were paid well to canvas mostly poor neighborhoods that traditionally vote for Democrats. Often, these ballot mercenaries would go inside the homes of voters.

Even though it is a crime in all 50 states to "electioneer" at polling places where you walk into and vote, it is not a criminal activity for a third party to interfere with a mail-in ballot.

That's the vital loophole.

Thousands of navigators flooded the democrat precincts in Wisconsin, Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, and Virginia - all states that were close between Biden and Trump.

The navigators "assisted" voters in filling out ballots and, at times, "cured" mistakes. That means they corrected ballots so they wouldn't be thrown out.

Sometimes the hired political guns took the actual ballots from the folks and brought them to polling places. That is called "bundling." The result was a much higher vote count for Joe Biden, as citizens who rarely participate in elections did so with the tutoring.

So, now we know why the left loves mail-in ballots so much. They can easily be manipulated with guys like Zuckerberg donating cash to make it happen.

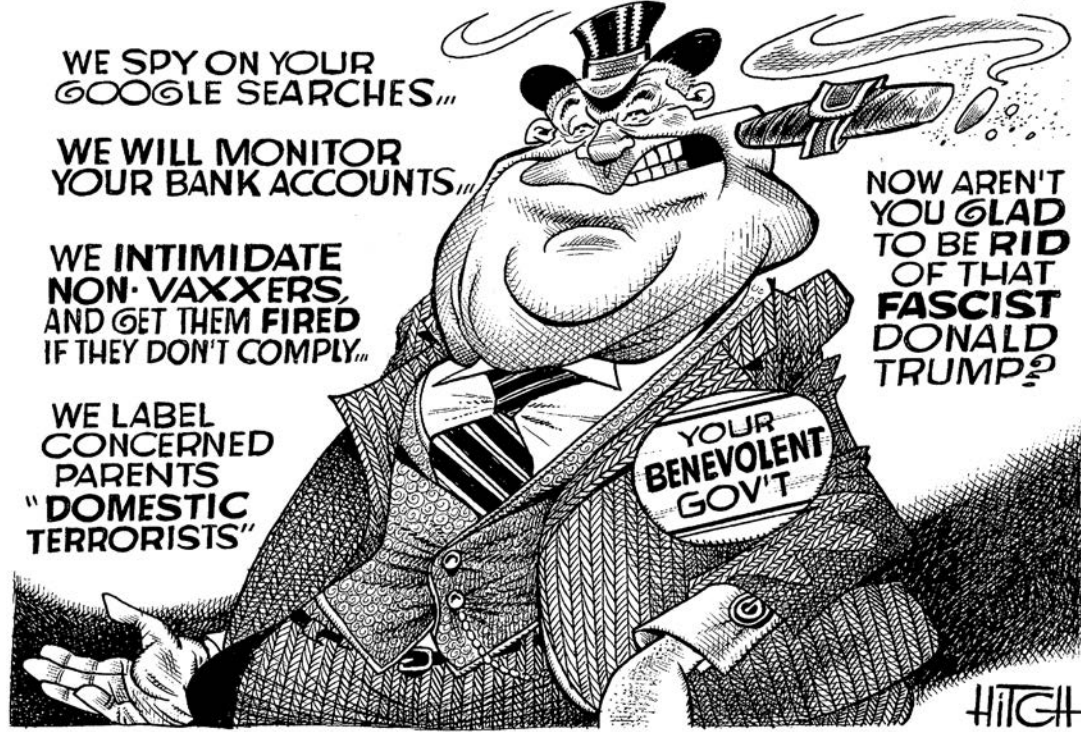

By the way, Marky Mark broke no laws. What he did was perfectly legal and if the states don't crack down on this colossal con, it will happen again in 2024.

Donald Trump lost some of the states mentioned above by extremely small margins. So, this is an enormously important story.

But chances are you will not see it on the network news because the fix is in there, as well. A situation of this magnitude should be front page, lead on TV, for days.

That will not happen and "the steal" could very well continue next time around. So goes our democracy.

So this goes out to all you people who will leave your jobs or who will be fired from your jobs because you will not take the mandate to take the vaccine. In Texas, the governor did an executive order and said private companies can't mandate that their employees get the vaccine. Now if they can do that in Texas, why can't they do that in Kansas? Oh, I remember. The Kansas governor is a Democrat.

Please pray that Garnett's (business name deleted) rent will not be raised. It can't survive if it does. We hate to see it close. It's the best think Garnett has. People from many cities come to stock up. Prices are affordable. You can't raise prices, people will stop coming. What will people do with their possessions if they can't take them to the (deleted) shop? Please lord, save the (deleted). Don't save the rent. God bless you all.

I hope everyone gets a chance to read Greg Doering's article last week and shares it with others. If everyone spent a day in a farmer's shoes our world would be a different place.

The ships with supplies can't get in, but the illegals can. What a joke.

So Colin Powell died of Covid and he was fully vaccinated. And Biden says we all have to get the vaccine if we want to cure Covid. Makes sense, right?

How about this wonderful fall weather. Nice cool days and chilly nights makes you want to have a bonfire. I love Kansas.

Been really enjoying the music downtown on Thursday nights.

Haven't heard anything about the city manager's job? Are we even going to have one or are we getting along just find without one? Might be able to save that $100,000 and put it into the streets.

The great thing about Garnett is beer.

Reagan's vision still makes an offer for America

When I was a young girl growing up on our ranch in South Dakota, we had a sign hanging over our pasture gate where we grazed our horses. The sign said, "There's nothing better for the inside of a man than the outside of a horse."

I didn't come from a political family, so it wasn't until years later that I learned this was a quote from President Ronald Reagan. Suddenly, he became my favorite president. Any leader who recognized the value of time spent with horses was a person of good discernment and wisdom in my book.

Over the years, I've learned that looking back can help us move forward in incredible ways. Former leaders and important periods of history remind us of what makes America special.

Ronald Reagan led our country through challenging times on the world stage, yet embraced the humble simplicity of the daily life of an average citizen in America. Recently, I was honored to spend some time at the Reagan Ranch in California. It is maintained by the Young America's Foundation and preserved for the next generation in order that we may look to the past to create an even better future.

I was struck by the life that Ronald Reagan and his family lived at the ranch. It was not remarkable, fancy or reflective of the position of power he held as leader of the free world. It was average, simple and a step back from the grandeur of Washington, D.C. To him, it was heaven.

COMMENTARY

While he publicly stated, "government is not the solution to our problem, government is the problem," he lived the truth of those words behind the scenes. He didn't rely on others to do his work for him at the ranch. Instead, he cleared brush, built fences and enjoyed the work of it all.

My hope is that the American people take note of this aspect of our former president's life and example. We can't rely on a debt-ridden federal government to take care of us. We are burning through borrowed cash. Many people wake up looking for a handout, rather than tackling tasks for themselves that will lead to prosperity and opportunity.

We can restore our "shining city on a hill" with old-fashioned work ethic and belief in our fellow man, but it will only happen with fiscal discipline that is not being displayed today by power-hungry politicians.

As governor of California, and later president of the United States, Reagan focused on growing the private sector, creating jobs and building the economy. He gave little boys and little girls like me the chance to pursue our dreams and actually have a shot at reaching them.

His vision for America is my vision for South Dakota. Our state will be safer, stronger and healthier because we embraced the foundations of our history, learned from our former leaders, and got up every day working to create a smaller government and give more power to the people, as our Constitution instructs.

What we are seeing unfold in the White House today is a very different vision for America. Joe Biden's policies and actions reflect his true goals: to diminish the role of the individual and create a government more powerful and threatening to individual liberty.

Secessionist ideas would bring disaster for all

Divorce usually isn't a good idea, and that's especially true of a nearly 250-year-old continental nation.

A cadre of apocalyptic writers on the right, who believe the country is too far gone to save, has become obsessed with a Secession 2.0 that would cleave red America from blue and allow the former to escape the ever-rising tide of woke insanity.

There is no doubt the country is deeply riven along political, cultural and religious lines. Yet, a national divorce has nothing to recommend it.

The practical obstacles are insuperable, and the likely effects would be very unwelcome to its proponents. If an insufficient patriotism is one of the ills of contemporary America, then a national divorce would prescribe arsenic as a cure. It would burn down America to save America, or at least those parts of it considered salvageable.

A disaggregated United States would be instantly less powerful. Indeed, Russia and China would be delighted and presumably believe that we'd deserve to experience the equivalent of the crackup of the Soviet Union or the Qing dynasty, respectively.

The economic consequences could be severe. The United States of America is a continentwide free trade zone, creating a vast domestic market that makes us all better off. Exchanging that for a market Balkanized by state or region would be a major loss.

Finally, the United States foundering on its domestic divisions would be a significant blow to the prestige of liberal democracy. Abraham Lincoln worried about this effect the first time around, and it might be even worse now, with a long stable republic unable to survive internal dissension.

Then, there's the question of how this is supposed to work. Lincoln warned of the physical impossibility of secession when the Mason-Dixon Line was a more-or-less ready line of demarcation. How would it play out now, with conservatives and progressives amply represented in every state in the Union?

If there were to be sovereign pure red and blue places, this wouldn't look like the relatively neat split of the United States into two in the 1860s, but more like post-Peace of Westphalia Europe, with hundreds of different entities.

Some proponents of national divorce say

Three day bus tour to Iowa comes to an end

Our second day in Winterset, Iowa continues. After we concluded our tour of the covered wooden bridges, we drove around Winterset. Their courthouse is beautiful and huge baskets of flowers hung from every light pole, no matter which street you looked down.

Our very next stop was at Howell's Gardens. Acres of beautiful flowers to be cut and taken into the large drying barn. A sign read, "Every Flower is a weed". Lots of fun activities were enjoyed by many. A large daisy field was ready for harvesting seed. This seed is sold to the State of Iowa to be planted along their highways.

At 6:00 pm we arrived at the Madison County Winery. Everyone was treated to a 10 inch pizza baked on outdoor ovens. Wine, tea & soda were also served with our meal.

Our last stop of the day was at the Winterset Apple Orchard and Cidery. Here we could sample any kind of cider you can think of. I had Apple Pie Cider. It was very delicious.

While there, we were entertained by a 15 year old young country western singer. She had recently auditioned on America's Got Talent, but had not received any further word. She was wonderful.

Now it's Saturday and we were on our way home. Our first stop today was at the Simple Life Goat Farm. They had over 200 dairy goats and each one was named. They were all the same breed, LaMancha Goats. They made lots of cheese and it was very good as we got to sample several kinds. This was a very interesting stop.

Our morning break was at the Amish Country Store in Lamonia, Iowa, and our final stop was for lunch at the Cracker Barrel Restaurant in Liberty Mo. before arriving back in Ottawa. KS at 3:40 pm.

It was a great three day get away.

Police are investigating a series of burglaries to at least two churches and businesses in Garnett along a stretch of heavily traveled roads. Two neighborhood churches on Park Road, the Church of the Nazarene and the First Assembly of God, reported burglaries. A Pepsi machine was stolen, and a door and frame were damaged.

20 years ago...

A Mont Ida woman who was injured when the horse and buggy she was driving plunged 18 feet over a bridge railing on 1750 Road west of Garnett was in good condition last week after undergoing surgery to repair a broken pelvis. Anita Bontrager, 26, also gave birth to the daughter with which she was six months pregnant at the time of the accident, according to Mrs. Bontrager's husband, Marvin. "She said, 'I should have just stayed home,'" Marvin said. "But I look at it like we're all together, we have a new little baby - it could have been a lot worse."

30 years ago....

The Kansas Department of Health and Environment recently advised physicians in Kansas to be on the alert for pertussis, or whooping cough, cases. The advisory was issued after five confirmed cases were reported in the state. Two confirmed cases had been reported earlier this summer. Whooping cough is highly contagious, thereby forcing state officials to issue the warning.

40 years ago...

For the fifth time in approximately one year long distance service to Richmond and Princeton customers of Continental Telephone of Kansas has been interrupted due to vandalism of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's open wire toll facility. Monday evening vandals tore down approximately 2 1/2 miles of the Bell Company's open wire facility south of Ottawa that provides long distance service to Richmond and Princeton. The vandalism involved theft of the copper wire circuits and is under investigation.

100 years ago...

The recent action of the board of Public Utilities in advancing telephone rates in Garnett has caused people to protest. The protest, it appears, started in a meeting held in July at the schoolhouse, followed by another meeting. The feeling has spread until a canvass of the county is now being made, and petitions against the board's actions are being signed. A large number of people are also agreeing to cut out their telephones if the order is not rescinded.

Make no mistake, President Biden plans to cripple our country with massive debt in the form of "infrastructure stimulus" spending and entitlement programs that extinguish the drive to think for oneself and stand independent of the government. We are seeing this president expand the reach of the federal government to historic levels. If we allow it to continue, America may never be the same.

As a state legislator and congresswoman, I worked to cut taxes and regulations. We put more money into the pockets of Americans knowing they knew better how to spend their hard-earned money than some government bureaucrat.

Democrats are threatening to undo these policies. And if they succeed, today's young people will be shackled with debt instead of opportunity.

Today's liberal proposals alone will add up to hundreds of thousands of dollars of debt for each individual by 2031. It is unsustainable, and the consequences of today's actions will be felt for generations.

Ronald Reagan was an optimist. He was a happy warrior who reminded the people of better days ahead. He never shied away from the truth, but always offered up a vision for the future.

A former Democrat, he said he didn't leave the party, but the party left him. It's possible that many people in the Democrat party feel that way today. It very well may be time for us all to follow the lead of President Reagan and become happy warriors for opportunity and freedom.

The Democrat party seems to have left America behind with their support of critical race theory, unlimited federal spending, defunding of police and government control at all costs. My prayer is the average citizen will wake up to the damage being done by the extreme views and policies the national Democrat party is pursuing.

Stepping onto the Reagan Ranch last week, I understood in a new way the greatness of Ronald Reagan and the life he led. He was a man who held a powerful position, yet embraced the life of an average American. And he loved it. It was in those hours spent on the ranch, working with his hands, loving his family and riding horses that he was the happiest. Perhaps it reminded him of why he wanted to be president in the first place: to preserve the nation so it would always be "the shining city on a hill."

The real impetus for the talk of a breakup is despair. It constitutes giving up on convincing our fellow Americans, giving up on our common national project, giving up on our birthright. This is an impulse to be resisted. Breaking up is hard to do and quitting on America is -- or should be -- unforgivable.

AC golf heading to State

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

ACHS ladies golf team is headed to 3-2-1A state, which began Monday October 18th and will conclude today in Hesston.

The top 4 schools in each of the regionals qualified for state. St. Mary's Colgan finished with a score of 373, well ahead of the field.

In second was Caney Valley (424), third was Fredonia (459) and fourth was the Bulldogs (469) in their regional.

Senior Ally Duke lead this team with a score of 91 and placed 4th individually.

Junior Aislyn Smith shot a 51 on the front nine to help get the Bulldogs to state. Aislyn shot a score of 119 on the day.

The other three girls scores for the day were Alexis Overstreet (128), Reese Witherspoon (131) and Reagan Witherspoon (132).

This young team had a challenging day at Crestwood Country Club in Pittsburg, first with cold rainy weather that caused an hour and a half delay, and also because it was a challenging golf course.

"To make things even tougher on Monday, the course set some of the worst pin placements I have ever seen at a regional tournament," AC head coach Coach Nicole Wiehl stated.

Wiehl added, "This team has great determination. I am very proud of this young team for their hard work and making it to state!"

Lady Lancers close out regular season with 5 straight wins

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

CHEROKEE - The Crest Lady Lancers appear to be peaking at the right time and with a daunting regional facing them this Saturday, they are hoping they can make a run at State. Crest finished up the regular season and league play by downing Yates Center and Southeast to close out the season on a 5 game winning streak.

Crest knocked off Yates Center (25-22 and 25-20) and narrowly escaped Southeast in 3 sets (25-13, 24-26 and 25-21).

Senior Lindsey Godderz connected on 21 of 22 serves, had 3 aces, 8 digs and passed very well for the Lancers all evening.

McKenna Hammond led the team with 5 aces and also notched 12 kills, 13 digs and led the team with 19 assists.

Brinly McGhee recored a team high 18 digs to go along with 4 aces and 3 kills.

Kayla Hermreck led the team with 27 kills and 6 solo blocks in addition to 4 aces, 14 assists and 10 digs.

Karlee Boots was good on 9 of 10 serves, had 2 aces, 3 kills, 8 assists and 16 digs.

"We had several moments during the Southeast match where we strayed from the game plan," Lancer head coach Abigail Hermreck stated. "I was proud of the girls for regaining their composure and pulling together as a team to get the win."

Hermreck was appreciative of the support her girls have been getting as well. "Thank you so much to our crowd for their continued support and love from the stands."

Crest will travel to Moran on October 23rd for substate.

to KHP records, with 365 fatalities. In May the state announced receipt of an $8.5 million federal grant targeted at 16 counties where rural road crashes were highest risk.

The statistics on fatal accidents in Kansas support this finding.

In 2016, 289 of the state's 429 car crash fatalities - or 67 percent - occurred on rural roads - despite the fact that only 47.9 percent of the total vehicle miles traveled were driven on rural roads.

A member of the Anderson County Hospital Auxiliary has been elected as president of the Hospital Volunteers of Kansas, formerly Hospital Auxiliaries of Kansas.

Sally Emerson was installed for a two-year term during an HVK Board Meeting held in Wichita recently. Ordinarily, she would have assumed her duties during the HVK State Convention, which was scheduled for September 7-10, but had to be cancelled because of COVID.

Previous to assuming the office, Emerson served two years as president-elect before moving into the presidency and, before that, was District 2 Coordinator for four years.

'Dining with Diabetes' email challenge to begin

In 2020, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimated that 34.2 million Americans are living with diabetes. More than 1 in 3 - or 88 million more - adults have pre-diabetes or a condition that indicates a person has a higher than normal blood sugar level.

So, it's not a stretch to say that there is anxiety toward a disease that costs Americans more than $327 billion in medical costs and lost work productivity annually.

This fall, K-State Research and Extension will be taking the Dining with Diabetes program and adapting it to a four-week email challenge during November in honor of Diabetes Awareness Month. The challenge is a great way to get basic information on diabetes even for those who have previously participated in a Dining with Diabetes class.

Throughout November participants will receive two weekly email messages - one on Monday and one on Thursday. Each week will include recipes and focus on defining what diabetes is, the truth about carbohydrates, meal planning, and building a support system. The weekly messages will also walk participants through setting goals, tracking progress, and reflecting on what they've learned.

Participants will have the option to join a private Facebook group to engage and learn from others who are facing similar challenges with diabetes. Family members and caregivers are also invited to participate in the challenge as they may have questions when it comes to planning meals and grocery shopping.

There is no cost to participate and registration will close on October 27th. Those interested in participating can register and learn more at www.k-state.edu/diningwithdiabetes. The first email will be sent to registered participants on November 1st.

Additional information about the challenge can be found on the Frontier Extension District website at frontierdistrict.ksu.edu or by contacting Chelsea Richmond, Family and Consumer Sciences Agent, by email at cricrhm@ksu.edu or by phone at 785.448.6826.

Viking boys & girls finish 3rd at league

ALLEN - As the regular season came to an end for the Central Heights cross country teams, the Vikings fared well at the Flint Hills League meet, both finishing in 3rd place.

Head coach Troy Prosser believes the Flint Hills League meet is always an incredible test since there are so many schools with some of the best runners and teams in the State.

"Yesterday was no exception," Prosser stated. "It became a true indicator of where our teams stand right now, how to improve and fine tune some weaknesses before Regionals and the JR High State meets next week, and the culmination of a lot of miles and effort for those whose seasons have come to an end.

As usual, Coach Prosser has been extremely happy with the way his team has progressed as the season went. "I cannot express how proud I am of how much of themselves they put out there for their teammates yesterday," Prosser added.

Running four complete teams is a tough accomplishment for many small schools and all of our teams showed up big time for the Vikings.

"Our middle school teams shined from the get go," Prosser added. "In a combined age race, our 6th, 7th and 8th graders all made huge contributions which led to the middle school girls finishing 2nd by only 2 points to a fantastic team made up of all 8th graders."

The future continues to look bright for the Vikings in cross country. Central Heights placed four girls in the top 10 of that race (one 7th grader and three 6th graders) is a sign of things to come.

The boys team would not be denied a fourth consecutive league title and did so in absolutely dominating fashion. Finishing with a perfect 10 point score (FHL scores the top four runners for middle school) and placing nine runners in the top 20 almost can't be explained in any other words.

The high school has had a complicated season putting complete teams on the course this year, but both the boys and girls teams each finished 3rd place even while missing some very important teammates.

"They showed a lot of growth and the determination they have to help one another succeed," a pleased Prosser said.

As has been the case all season, the boys team, led by freshmen (Connor Burkdoll, Cody Hammond, and Owen Miller) led their boys team to a complete day on the course with everyone achieving personal best times (some by 30 seconds or more). The girls nearly matched that performance with Emma Cubit and Taryn Compton setting season best by running away from most of the field early on, never looking back and some very determined running by their teammates.

"All in all, it was a fantastic day of encouragement, great sportsmanship, and an ever growing appreciation for the beautiful sport we call Cross Country," Prosser concluded.

This week the Vikings will host regionals on Saturday, October 23rd beginning at 10 a.m.

Colony Christian Church - "Due Process"

Bruce Symes gave the Communion Meditation this week. Communion is a personal thing, but also a corporate one. When taking communion, what is God saying to us as a church body? What are we saying to each other? It says that we are united by grace and are equal in God's sight. That we are nothing without Christ, and we are also rescued by Christ. We have fellowship with one another when we walk in the light and confess our sins. When we have unforgiveness, it breeds isolation. We are tempted to avoid the need we have for one another. So when we confess, we can rejoice in being found out as sinners. Honesty and humility about our sin allows us to step into the light. We must walk together as individuals, but also as a family. Grace is the glue that holds us together. (Ref: 1 John 1:7-9)

 Pastor Chase Riebel gave the sermon "Due Process" over Acts 23 and 24. When Paul was in jail, God appeared to him and told him to be encouraged. That even though God was sending him out as a sheep among wolves, he would give him the right words at the right time. God does not send you somewhere that he does not go ahead of you. He won't fail you or abandon you, and he'll make a way for you to do what he commands of you. But as we do his will, he must examine the truth. Satan uses flattery and lies, and we must use God's truth so we are not misled. We should always examine ourselves thru God's lens to make sure that our faith is genuine. We can't afford to "fake" ourselves through this life. Do our actions align with our profession of faith? When God says we are forgiven, do we walk as though we are? Praise God with shouts of joy everywhere you go! (Ref: Acts 23 & 24; Joshua 1:9; Matthew 10:16-19; Deuteronomy 31:6; John 8:44 & 14:6; 2 Corinthians 13:5; Galatians 6:4-5) Hear this and all our sermons by using your favorite podcast app, on our Facebook page, or on our website at www.colonychristianchurch.org.

 Men's Bible study, Tuesday mornings at 7:00 in the church basement. Women's Bible study, Tuesday mornings at 8:30 at the parsonage. The Youth group for Middle & High School aged kids will meet at the church Wednesday evenings at 6:00, with the adult Bible study at the parsonage at 7:00.

mandates expect us to take real action in defense of their liberty and freedom, and this special joint committee is a necessary and critical step in that process," Masterson said.
 In the House, Ryckman named Rep. Brenda Landwehr, R-Wichita; as well as Rep. John Barker, R-Abilene; Rep. Stephen Owens, R-Hesston; and Rep. Sean Tarwater, R-Stilwell.
 House Minority Leader Tom Sawyer, a Wichita Democrat, appointed two attorneys to the special committee — Rep. John Carmichael of Wichita and Rep. Vic Miller of Topeka. The Senate's Democratic member on the panel will be Sen. Pat Pettey, of Kansas City, Kansas.

 Sawyer said work of the committee ought to be broad enough to include debate about expanding Medicaid services to thousands of Kansans.
 "We should utilize the committee to find commonsense solutions, not further politicize basic health and safety measures," he said. "Public health over politics is the way to go."

Hyatt Club met in September

Nine Hyatt Club members met at El Jimadors restaurant in Garnett at 5:30 p.m. on September 22, the first day of Fall 2021, and enjoyed a meal and lots of visiting. Shirley Benjamin and Ruth Ann McDonald hosted the meeting.
 After the meal, all present attempted to guess the contents of the two mystery gifts. The winners were: Donna Benjamin, Halloween socks, and Dorothy Miller, a pink travel cup. Winning the hostess gifts of jugs of Apple Cider and jars of Apple Butter were Hilda Lankard and Rose Marie Miller.
 Dorothy Miller read a letter received from a former member, Janis Hightower. Janis shared her new address and details of her life in Florida. She's looking forward to getting together with Hyatt Club members when she returns to Kansas to visit. Sherry Benjamin handed out flyers with information about the October 16 Gospel Sing on the Courthouse square, sponsored by Growing Garnett, Community Heart and Soul.

 Mary Ann told about the Colony Christian Church collection of gently used shoes for a mission project. She is helping with the project and will collect and deliver any shoes donated by Hyatt Club members. The shoes can be brought to her house at the October 5 meeting.
 Mary Ann Umbarger will host the October Hyatt Club meeting at her home on October 5, for a noon luncheon. Each person is to bring food starting with the first letter of her first name. Mary Ann will provide the meat.
 Upon departure, Shirley and Ruth Ann gave each member a bag of peanuts and candy corn, a Fall staple.

Because of the expense of foreclosure sales in legal work and notification, most counties have sales every couple of years. Anderson County adopted a policy several years ago of stepping up the rate of tax sales to be more aggressive in getting delinquent properties back onto the paying tax rolls.
 Campbell said prior to the last sale about 10 percent of owners typically settle up their taxes when the final notices arrives, and another 10 percent pay after the final notice runs in the newspaper. The original filing in 2019 in 52 properties owed some $194,000 in back taxes. Tax sales typically net only a small percentage of the total taxes owed, though local governments figure it's worth it to get the property out of the hands of non-payers and into the hands of those who will pay the taxes going forward.
