County sales tax ends – jail to be paid off early

1/2 cent jail tax will sunset, ad valorem property tax
backup funds never needed

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – The half-cent sales tax approved by county voters in 2006 to fund bond payments for the Anderson County Law Enforcement Center will be paid off two years early, owing to better than expected sales tax yields as well as revenues from housing out-of-county inmates.

And although the project was authorized to use property tax funds as a backup in case sales tax and jail revenues fell short, those ad valorem taxes were never needed and were never spent.

County commissioners approved the early payoff plan in September, after jail revenues amassing in a county jail reserve fund as well as existing funds accrued from the sales tax finally tipped the scale against the remaining balance owed – about $1 million. The original payoff was projected in 2025.

County counselor James Campbell said yesterday though the bonds can't actually be paid until next August, the fact that the final funds are already in the bank means the county's 1/2 cent sales tax will be no more as of January 1, 2023.

County commissioners in 2011 adopted a plan to hold 60 percent of jail revenues – mostly paid by other cities and counties to house their prisoners – in reserve to be used for the payment of the bonds sold to finance the project. Property taxes were also planned as a backup to the revenue and sales tax funding streams, but were never needed toward the project over the term according to project financials.

The original projections from the county's bond counsel went like this: If retail sales in the county remain at their current (2006) level, consumers would pay an approximate $660,000 per year on their purchases, of which $330,000 was destined toward the bonds for the jail.

Utility billing snafu puts city commissioner's employer $21,000 in the hole since 2016

then unbilled since 2016,
adding up to surprise invoice

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – A billing error that went on for years involving the company that employs one of Garnett's elected city commissioners apparently subsidized the company for more than $21,000 in unpaid electricity, and now city officials are debating over how to handle the debacle.

Commissioner Greg Gwin is production manager at GENCO, formerly Jarit Manufacturing, until it was purchased in 2012 by Michael Gencarelli. The company operates its production plant at its traditional home on U.S. Highway 59 north of Garnett where Gwin works, but in 2016 purchased a building on 2nd Street in the city's industrial park formerly owned by Sprint, at which time a new meter was added to the structure. City manager Travis Wilson said the error apparently began when electric service was turned on at that new meter.

"When those utilities were established, there was an electric meter that hasn't been read or billed since it's installation in December 2016," Wilson said. "In December 2021, it was caught and the meter began being read, however the billing department failed to bill the readings."

Wilson said the billing was reactivated on the meter in March/April 2022

Supporters say amendment on November ballot will give legislators power over state's red tape

If passed, measure would allow legislators power over agency regs

BY DAVID HICKS THE SENTINEL

TOPEKA – Kansas voters will consider a constitutional amendment on their November ballots that would allow the Legislature to overturn state agency regulations.

Question 1, dubbed the "Rules and Regulations Amendment" or House Concurrent Resolution (HCR) 5014, would allow the legislature to rescind state agency regulations, giving it, in effect, a "veto" on rules issued by Executive Branch agencies. This is the wording as it will appear on the ballot:

"Legislative oversight of administrative rules and regulations."

"Whenever the legislature by law has authorized any officer or agency within the executive branch of government to adopt rules and regulations that have the force and effect of law, the legislature may provide by law for the revocation or suspension of any such rule and regulation, or any portion thereof, upon a vote of a majority of the members then elected or appointed and qualified in each house."

The amendment's campaign is led by the Kansas Chapter of Americans for Prosperity. In a Zoom meeting attended by legislators and supporters, State Director Elizabeth Patton noted Kansas is considered the second-most regulated state in the nation per capita, with 3.9 million words in its regulatory code and over 70,000 rules for businesses and individuals. She added the bureaucracy is often referred to as "the 4th branch of government."

The Kansas Department of Health and Environment (KDHE) is the most active regulator. Patton says this amendment is intended to address those issues in three ways:

- 1) Reduce costs for businesses and individuals;
- 2) Improve the efficiency of government;
- 3) Increase accountability of regulatory agencies and the legislature

Patton noted the measure passed with 2/3 bipartisan majorities in the House and Senate.

District 50 Rep. Fred Patton (R-Topeka), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said the measure has received wide support.

"When we heard HCR 2014 in the House Judiciary Committee, not a single individual or organization testified against the resolution. Those testifying all supported the resolution and shared with the committee the need to restore the balance of power by providing legislative oversight to the rules and regulation process."

Patton said it was important that HCR 2014 pass in order to provide the legislature the fundamental ability to check and balance the executive branch. He said it would return law-making authority to the legislature – the branch of government closest to the people.

Republican Kellie Warren of Leawood, Senator from the 11th District, chairs that body's Judiciary Committee and said the amendment was the missing key to fixing red tape from Topeka.

"We have an opportunity to fight rising costs, increase government efficiency and improve accountability with this missing puzzle piece," Warren said. "This is a common sense but vitally important vote to make sure the legislature is doing its job and representing Kansans well."

She said she was optimistic about the prospects of Question 1 in November:

"I'm excited that this approach will change how our state government works. This is an amendment that will give power back to the people."

What is control worth to you?

Can we actually control what happens in our lives? We can, but in certain areas there is no way we can. We can't control our health. The best we can do is eat the right foods, exercise, have regular checkups with our physician and take the medications our body needs. If we inherit some health issue we are operating with a handicap before we get started so we can't check that box as one we can control.

One even bigger than health is aging. The aging process begins slowly but as the years pass we lose strength, our thought processes slow down and we just aren't the same person we were years before. Yes, we can slow down the aging process but in the end life will have its way with you.

God does allow us control of our life in certain areas and I believe the extent of control we get is directly in proportion to how much we trust God. In Acts 16:31 Paul and Silas told the Philippian jailer, "Believe in the Lord Jesus and you will be saved." The stronger our belief is in Jesus the more he will use us. It should surprise no one that God does not allow us total control of our lives. If he did there would be a world full of selfish people. Though we may not recognize it God can limit us in certain circumstances for our own good through the work of the Holy Spirit and strengthen us at certain times to accomplish tasks for him.

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

There is one area in which we must take control in our life. It is the most important decision we will ever make. It is the decision to receive Jesus Christ as our personal Savior. Jesus calls us out in Matthew 10:32 when he says, "Whoever acknowledges me before men, I will acknowledge him before my Father in heaven. But whoever disowns me before men, I will disown him before my Father in heaven." Question? Is control of your life worth losing your eternal salvation? Answer?????

Has anyone seen Sharice Davids?

At the Review we've been trying to reach Kansas 3rd District Congresswoman Sharice Davids since before the August primary, but it seems she's nowhere to be found. Our calls and emails all go unanswered by humans - only robot replies and requests to take some automated survey; messages left with staff at one of her campaign offices have not been acknowledged. No one returns calls or emails from her D.C. office. It seems odd to be so ignored by the congressman who's supposed to be your representative. Anderson County and its residents are, after all, in the Third District now after redistricting, along with Franklin and the remainder of Miami counties. But we're beginning to wonder if Davids knows we're here.

REVIEW COMMENTARY

never with her hands dirty in a corn or bean field, mind you - but usually in front of the posh oak paneling of her congressional office or the boardroom of some hotshot Washington union lobby outfit that's giving her an award as "Solar Panelist of The Year" or some such.

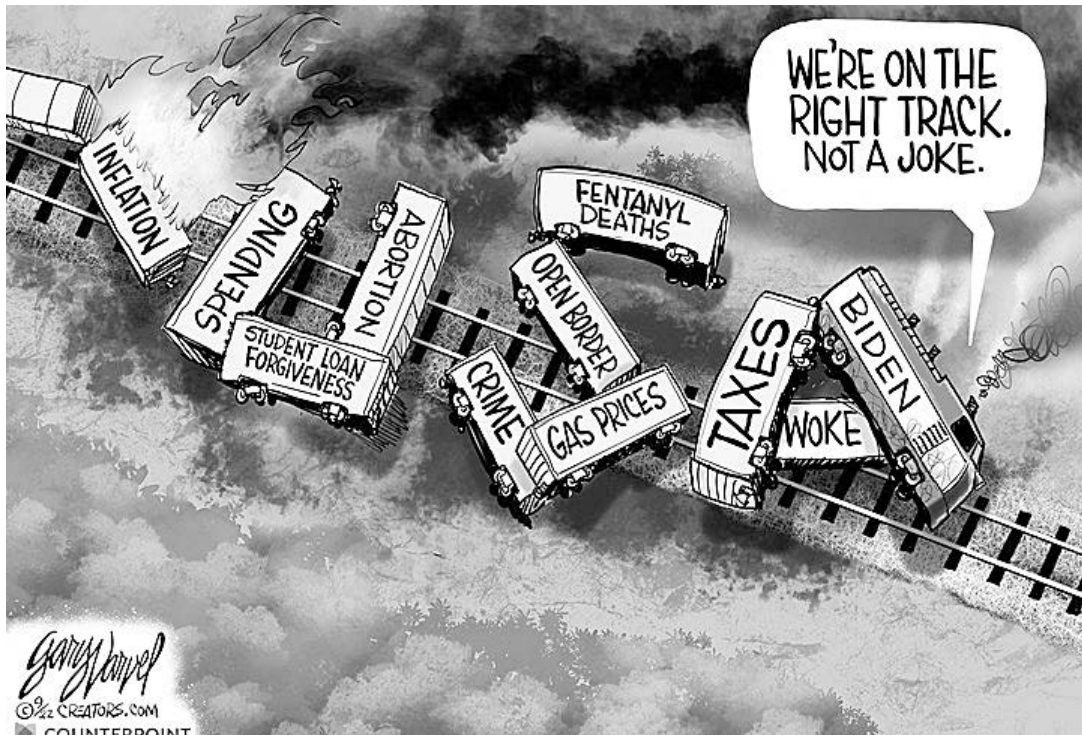

Not that her fans care where she is - she can still strengthen the Joe Biden Agenda with her 100 percent support votes even if she's not in D.C., as House Speaker Nancy Pelosi allows proxy voting for congress members to vote without being in the House chamber.

Though you won't find her buying gas at Highway 59 Service in Richmond, Davids is a favorite on the Pelosi Leftist Weirdo and Vodka tour, where Speaker Pelosi details fruit picking instructions for illegal immigrants and touts Davids for her accomplishments - being a Native American lesbian kickboxer who votes 100 percent with Joe Biden - then collects donations for the Democratic National Committee while she proclaims Davids the future of America.

If you're starting to get the impression that Sharice Davids is a figurehead - a silent box checker for the Democrat Party and not a real congresswoman - you're not alone.

Davids' job isn't really to represent you, after all. Her job is to be a foot soldier for the extreme arm of the Democrat Party that put her in office - supporting Joe Biden's inflationary disaster, his gender war and his attack on working people's gasoline tanks. If Vladimir Putin lived in the new reaches of the 3rd District - and he actually might for all Davids knows - he'd have her campaign sign in his yard.

Forget where she's supposed to be; for those with the most to gain from Joe Biden's Democrat American Disaster Plan, they want to keep Sharice Davids right where she is. ###

Everyone is entitled to their opinion, but pushing your morals, religion and values on others is not okay. What are you so afraid of? If you don't want your kids to read certain books then don't let them. That being said, we all know if a child is curious and wants to know about something they'll find a way to do it. Friends, Internet, etc. Here's a novel idea: how about you actually talk to your kids? (Edited for brevity).

Democrats used to be the party of the people or at least that's what they said. Now, it's the Republicans. What went astray there?

Garnett parents: This gender disaster for our children is not over. Gender Queer and other such grooming books at public and school libraries are prep materials for the kind of mutilation like what's going on down at Vanderbilt University Hospital in Tennessee. Don't be fooled, it's all about the money. Stay informed and don't give up. Thank you.

I appreciated the individual who referred the books and authors names in the Phone Forum last week. It makes me think how much clearer many of these issues might be if people actually went back to reading books and got off the Facebook and social media and what not. I think a lot of the problem people don't want to read books any more is 1) they don't want to take the time to be smart and 2) they don't want to admit anybody is smarter than they are. Thank you.

Followed a car out of Welda to Garnett tonight. In eight miles two cigarette butts came flying out of the car. Does anybody really need to be smoking three cigarettes in eight miles? Throwing them out with the grass so dry is dumb and irresponsible. Use your heads people.

Hey voters here's an idea: Just because grandma and great grandpa voted straight ticket for a certain political party, it doesn't mean you have to. What you do in the voting booth is your business.

It's hard not to see a yard of Democrat campaign signs and not wonder what's wrong with you. Have you been to the grocery store lately?

News flash: The Kansas economy isn't good

Contrary to what you may hear from the state's major newspapers and TV stations, the Kansas economy isn't doing very well. It's not a secret - the public data clearly shows Kansas trailing the nation in jobs and other measures of economic growth - so ignoring the negative economic news is a conscious decision.

KANSAS COMMENTARY

on a percentage basis. Only Alaska, Hawaii, Louisiana, New York, North Dakota, and Vermont are worse. And at the pace since January 2021, it will be several months into 2023 before employment returns to pre-pandemic levels. Weak GDP growth in the Kansas economy Most states' real (inflation-adjusted) Gross Domestic Product growth was negative in the first quarter of 2022 because inflation was so high. Still, Kansas did worse than most, according to the Bureau of Economic Analysis. Kansas recorded a decline of 0.6% and earned a ranking of #39 among the states; only oil-dependent Oklahoma had a worse performance in the region. Compared to the first quarter of 2019, real GDP in Kansas is 2.7% higher and well below the national average of 4.8%. Second quarter data is not published at this time.

Kansans are losing money because of tax-and-spend inflation

BEA data also shows that Kansans are losing money due to tax-and-spend inflation. The nonfarm earnings component of personal income - wage and salary disbursements, employer contributions for pension, insurance, and social security, and proprietors' income - grew 1.3% in the first quarter of 2022. But quarter-to-quarter inflation was 2.1%. And only five states had lower income growth.

Compared to the first quarter of 2019, non-farm earnings in Kansas are 13.9% higher and well below the national average of 17.9%.

The tax-and-spend mentality in Kansas hurts families and employers Like runaway spending at the federal level, the tax-and-spend mentality in Kansas is also creating economic harm. Spending exploded in Kansas over the last four years, jumping 23% from $6.6 billion to $8.2 billion. The Legislature imposed the largest tax

Yes, Democrats, crime is a real election issue

There's been a wave of violent crime the last couple of years, and the best way to address the issue is for everyone to pass over it in silence. That's the implication of the liberal pushback against the GOP attacks on Democrats as soft-on-crime in the closing weeks of the midterms.

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

because all its members are non-white. But what's most notable about The Squad is that it exemplifies out-of-the-mainstream progressive politics. Are attacks on the group supposed to be off limits until it recruits a more diverse membership?

It is also supposedly wrong to depict Barnes' name written in graffiti. This is an attempt, according to one Democratic operative, to "ghettoize him." The case against Barnes isn't that he's a graffiti artist, though; it's that he supports policies that have made the wave of disorder in American cities worse.

Grffiti is a symbol of such disorder. If this sort of imagery is illegitimate, no Democrats should be able to use footage of violence on January 6 against Republicans.

Finally, there's an ad that calls Barnes "dangerously liberal on crime." But another ad also calls John Fetterman, the Democratic senate candidate in Pennsylvania, "dangerously liberal on crime." Fetterman, it must be observed, is a large, tattooed white man.

Crime isn't a racial issue; it's about affording all Americans, and especially vulnerable communities, the protection they deserve from lawlessness. Obviously, violent crime is not a blight on the lives of upper middle-class white people.

In Milwaukee, 87% of the victims of homicide this year have been Black or Hispanic, according to the Milwaukee Journal-Sentinel's tracker.

In Philadelphia, there have been more than 1,750 shootings this year. According to the count maintained by the city's office of the controller, 92% of the shooting victims have been Black or Hispanic.

Democrats like Barnes and Fetterman reflect the anti-incarceration ethos that's been ascendant in the Democratic Party for years now, especially in the wake of the killing of George Floyd.

Barnes was on board two of the worst and most destructive public policy ideas in contemporary America. In 2020, when defunding the police was all the rage, Barnes said money could be taken from police departments and given to neighborhood services. He also introduced legislation to end cash bail when he was in the Wisconsin state assembly in 2016.

He, and other Democrats, have the choice of trying to defend their ideas or to rule out any pointed discussion of them. It tells you all you need to know that they are heavily invested in the latter.

derful hen she was. Quite a scratcher too! Emma loved to be petted and talked to. She would let me know right away if there wasn't a worm or bug for her in the dirt I dug up. She would raise up a storm clucking, scratching up dirt and even pecking at my gloves once in awhile.

Isn't Emma a beautiful hen?! This past week I moved on to another site and I'd really be lying if I told you I didn't miss both of my new friends, digging partners and buddies.

Malachi stayed very close to me every day for the two months I worked at this site. About twice a day he would come over to me and want a little hug or two and then go lay down out of my way. Maybe we became such good friends because I gave him treats when I arrived and when I left.

Ongoing drought conditions have caused a loss of nearly 40% of the local corn crops. Farmers have requested an emergency declaration from state officials. The declarations will allow emergency credit to farmers who suffer significant losses and is handled by the Farm Home Administration.

The Tylenol scare has local businesses pulling the product from their shelves. The removal of the product comes after reports that some of the capsules were discovered to have poison in them. Area community members take a golf cart ride on the rail trail

Several residents from Residential Living Center, Guest Home Estates & Parkview Heights plus several from the community enjoyed a golf cart ride along part of the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail on Thursday, September 29. There were 26 riders from the 3 facilities plus 12 of their staff. There were also 15 riders from the community in addition to the 12 drivers and the 9 volunteers who took the trip from the Santa Fe Depot south to 1500 Road returning to the depot enjoying the scenery along the way.

The event was held by the Friends of the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail in coordination with the Kansas Department of Wildlife & Parks for individuals with physical limitations to provide them with exposure to nature and enjoyment on the trail. There were 4 runs made with 12 drivers and carts for the first run and 11 carts and drivers for the remaining 3 runs. Wildlife & Parks officers, James Manning & Mike Manning, provided assistance on the trips. Anderson County EMS representatives, Sherry Schmitz EMT & Robert Bailey EMT, accompanied the group on the rides. The Friends of the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail said the rides would not be possible without the support and generosity from the community in loaning us golf carts. The Friends of the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail provided water for all riders and volunteers and the Culinary Arts class from Anderson County High School prepared the snacks. The last time the Friends of the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail hosted a cart caravan was in 2019 and at that time the caravan went north.

Vikings battling injuries, still do well at home meet

RICHMOND - After a terrific start to the season, the Central Heights Vikings have been battling injuries the past couple of weeks, but that hasn't deterred the athletes that are out there running.

"They say home is where the heart is," Viking head coach Troy Prosser started. "At Central Heights, home is where the running is. Through a series of ups and downs the past few weeks and without several runners once again, the kids managed to put forth some of their most determined and gutsy performances of the season."

Typically, in Cross Country, you only get one shot, if any, to show off in front of your home crowd and Prosser was more than pleased with the results. The Vikings hosted some quality schools and the competition made them raise their levels once again.

The middle schools have had a whirlwind of a season so far and it's crazy to see how some of them have progressed so much in such a short time. Speaking of short time, they have less than two weeks before the conclusion of their season. To grab a few victories and several more top 10 finishes on both the boys and girls sides was fantastic.

"Seeing how proud their parents and the Vikings supporters were of them means a whole lot more to me," a satisfied Prosser stated.

In the high school races, they were again without a handful of runners who they look forward to getting back in the fold, hopefully soon. Across the board in JV and Varsity, the Vikings had some tremendous efforts with many high places, many season bests, and even a few personal best performances.

"Connor (Burkdoll) and Owen (Miller) continue to show great resolve while still battling through some recent injuries to take 2nd and 8th while Emma (Cubitt) and Melaney (Chrisjohn) also pushed through some painful setbacks to take home 3rd and 17th place medals," Prosser acknowledged his squad is battling some nagging injuries up and down the roster.

"With one race left before the championship meets are upon us, focus and getting healthier are the main priorities. For those who think Cross Country is just about running - 16 teams in one venue, competing for the same prizes, and cheering for their own as well as kids from other schools shows that there is much more about life, sportsmanship, and friendships between those start and finish lines. These are the memories that we will carry with us for years to come," Prosser concluded.

ACHS runs at Perry

TOPEKA - The ACHS had a handful of runners earn medals last week at the Perry Lecompton Cross Country meet in Topeka.

The Varsity girls had Addie Fudge (11th), Kassie Mains (17th) and Orra Lutz (28th).

Earning medals for the boys were Tucker Nelson (2nd), Landon Kraft (14th), Brodie Wiesner (26th) and Brody Barnes (28th).

In the process of Tucker Nelson finishing 2nd, he also became the 5th fastest runner in Anderson County High School history with a time of 17:06 for a 5000 meter course.

On the afternoon, the boys finished 3rd as a team overall and the girls finished in 5th place.

increase in state history in 2017, overriding Gov. Brownback's veto. Legislators passed modest tax relief bills in 2019 and 2020, only to see Gov. Laura Kelly veto both efforts. The Legislature finally was able to override her 2021 veto, but most Kansans still have a high tax burden, especially relative to other states.

Conclusion
Einstein's definition of insanity - doing the same thing over and over but expecting a different result - may be a cliché, but it bears repeating. The Kansas economy will continue lagging behind as long as politicians on both sides of the aisle keep pushing business subsidies and more government spending as 'solutions.' No government has ever taxed or spent its citizens to prosperity, and it won't happen in Kansas.

Kansans need lower state and local taxes, which can be paid for by reducing the cost of government. Streamlining the regulatory burden would also create economic growth for businesses and individuals. And stop giving handouts to a few businesses in the name of economic development. The Tax Foundation says subsidies are one of the reasons that Kansas has the highest effective tax rates on mature businesses.

Water treatment plant to conduct free chlorine burnout

The City of Garnett Water Treatment Plant will conduct the annual free chlorine burnout of the distribution system.

The burnout will begin Oct. 10 and will last through the end of the month. The burnout consists of elevating the free chlorine residual to ensure proper disinfection throughout the distribution system. City employees will also be flushing fire hydrants to ensure the elevated residual is being pulled through every main.

Customers may notice a strong taste or odor of chlorine in the water. This is a normal part of the burnout process and the water is safe to drink.

Any questions should be directed to the City of Garnett Water Plant at (785) 448-3327. If discolored water persists, please call Garnett City Hall at (785) 448-5496.

The bond payment is roughly $430,000 each year, but payments would not start on the bonds until at least one year after they're issued. That leaves $100,000 annually on the bonds to be paid by property taxes. For a house whose assessed valuation is $100,000, that would equal less than $2 per month, or an additional $12 to $15 per year, to cover the additional property tax portion of the jail bonds. The jail bonds were refinanced in 2016 to take advantage of lower interest rates.

The project was originally tabbed at a $5.5 million limit by voters and took three rounds of bidding to make that target, with numerous cost cuts - "value engineering" as officials referred to it. The jail was controversial at the time due to its location on the razed ground of the county's 1929-era jail in close proximity to the historic Anderson County Courthouse and the downtown square, with critics hoping it might be relocated to an area out of the main business district. Those logistics allowed for an underground tunnel to be constructed between the jail and courthouse for conveyance of prisoners for hearings and trials, though technology later caught up with increased use of video links to the courtroom and judges, especially during the Covid pandemic of 2020.

But location was not the only static to follow the construction of the facility. Electrical problems with jail systems and other repairs bumped up costs and frustrated county commissioners as well as jail officials and staff. When the jail was constructed, electricians made changes to the original electrical plans but failed to provide a detailed plan or drawing showing what changes were made, called an "as-built plan." As a result, when electrical problems surfaced, commissioners and jail administrators had difficulty tracking the source of the problems.

The county had some $807,000 banked in sales tax revenues to combine with the other sources last month to retire the last of the bond payments.

The early pay-off of the jail comes as a number of nearby counties are opening or planning construction of their own new jail facilities.

The Original Lake Garnett Grand Prix

Garnett hosted the Lake Garnett Grand Prix Races as part of the SCCA series from 1959-1972. This was the premier series at the time and included cars from all of the major automakers including Ferrari, Maserati, Shelby, Chevrolet and Austin Healey to name a few. Many famous race car drivers, such as Dan Gurney and Carroll Shelby, raced here. Race fans now in their 60s and 70s all over the country still remember heading to Garnett those weekends after the Fourth of July to join an estimated 60,000 to 70,000 fans who sometimes attended the events throughout the 1960's. Due to difficulties with crowd control and increasing safety concerns the track was closed to competitive racing in 1972. The ghosts of race's past still lives on.

Lake Garnett track configuration

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 10-04-22 / LGGPR.ORG

Cars lined up in the pits preparing for one of the early Garnett Grand Prix races.

Lake Garnett race track is a 2.8 mile road course that was completely re-done in 2007 with new track surface, new pit road, new off road, new corner curbing and an enlarged asphalt hot pit area.

The track is part of Garnett's North Lake Park which is visited by thousands of people each year who "cruise the lake" and spend time enjoying the park's unique history and variety of amenities. The North Lake Park consists of approximately 300 acres and is located inside the city limits of Garnett, Kansas. The creation of the park started with the construction of Lake Garnett which began on October 15, 1934 by Civilian Conservation Corps. The project included a 48 acre man made lake with dam and spillway, a road, and the planting of over 300 cedar trees, lilac bushes, rose bushes and shrubs. Also encompassing the project are two shelter houses, restrooms, a football stadium and swimming pool. The project was finished in 1936.

The park found stardom as a national landmark in the late 50's to early 70's when the lake road became the 2.8 mile "true road" course for 9 sports car races held from 1959 to 1972. History books tell of the famous 1963 Lake Garnett Grand Prix in which the peak attendance record was estimated at 75,000 people (Garnett Pop: 3,200).

Cruising Lake Garnett is a favorite past-time or custom of both the local residents and visitors. When cruising Lake Garnett one must be mindful of its unique features which were fondly named by the Lake Garnett Racing Association: Flat Iron Corner, North Bend, Muleshoe Corner, Red Dog Straight Away, Snyder Corner, The Chute, Clubhouse Bend, to name a few.

high-performance cars during the Sifer's VALOMILK Charity Rides. As of 2021, the organization has given back over $36,000 to charities of Anderson County, as well as help pay for improvements to the park and town square.

The track sessions offer a little something for everyone, with a multitude of speed-regulated classes that allow for drivers of every experience level to get some seat time behind the wheel of their own performance cars. Back for 2022 is the Rookie group, which will allow novices and driver's ages 16-17 who possess a valid driver's license the chance to drive the track in their own dedicated class. Rookies will need to be accompanied by a legal guardian or instructor age 25+ and the group will be limited to 60mph, but it's perfect for younger and less-experienced drivers with a passion for older cars who want to participate without the pressure of some of the more experienced run groups.

The race car exhibitions will ensure that everyone gets their fill of historic & modern horsepower. Spectators can expect to see full-competition later model race cars thundering around the lake as well as a wide variety of vintage American, European, and Japanese sports cars carving up the challenging corners. It's a wonderful opportunity for automotive and racing fans to see cars that more and more are relegated to museums, being driven at speed on a historic racecourse. Spectator admission and parking is free, and the LGGPR group encourages families and car enthusiasts of all ages to come celebrate these amazing automobiles. For the schedule of events and more information, visit the website at www.lggpr.org.

About the Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival

For one weekend in October of each year, the historic Lake Garnett Raceway comes back to life with the roar of powerful engines and the smell of high-octane fuel. Comprised of nearly 300-acres, the North Lake Park in Garnett, KS, once played host to one of the most popular sports car races in the Midwest. Official auto racing at the facility ended in the 1970s, but some 40-years later, a small group of sports car enthusiasts from the region banded together to celebrate memories of the track and the automobiles that once raced there. In 2014, the first Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival (LGGPR) was held, comprised of a track event, autocross, car show, and charity rides around the 2.8 mile road course which raise funds for charitable organizations around the area. Since then, the LGGPR has become known as one of the most fan-friendly and reasonably-priced events of its kind to attend, attracting more than 300 cars as well as thousands of participants and spectators.

Vikings blown out by Jayhawk-Linn Crest cruises past St. Paul

RICHMOND - Homecoming night didn't go well on the gridiron as the Central Heights Vikings were steamrolled by Jayhawk-Linn 58-13. Quarterback Jose Velez completed 4 of 6 passes for 40 yards while Brody Roulett connected on just 1 of 8 passes for 4 yards and an interception. Velez scored the only two Viking touchdowns on the ground as he toted the ball 16 times for 35 yards. Defensively a trio of Vikings finished the day with 7 tackles. They are Luke Burkdoll, Ben Teegarden and Colton Caswell.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 10-04-2022 / SUBMITTED Central Heights Colton Caswell pulls down a Jayhawk-Linn runner during Friday night's homecoming loss.

CREST - It was a quick night for Crest as the Lancers rolled past St. Paul 60-14, as all 4 of their wins have come via the 45-point mercy rule. The Lancers are now 4-1 just past the halfway point of the season. The game was close early on as St. Paul matched Crest score for score in the first and trailed just 16-14 heading into the second period. The Lancers erupted for 38 unanswered points though to blow the game wide open, eventually ending it in the third quarter with their final touchdown of the night. Quarterback Ethan Godderz was 3-3 passing for 57 yards and a pair of touchdowns. All of Godderz's passes were thrown to Stetson Setter. Godderz added 83 yards on the ground on 8 carries and another score. Holden Barker rushed 16 times for 203 yards and 5 touchdowns. Defensively Barker also led the way with 11 stops with 4 of them being sacks and Avery Blaufuss was close behind with 10 stops defensively.

Brooklynn Jones had 6 digs and passed 4/4 at 100% for serve receive.

"We are thrilled to have the opportunity to play at home on October 4 against St. Paul and Marmaton Valley. Both teams are playing well. It will be a great night of volleyball," coach Abigail Hermreck said as she expects her squad to be challenged heavily this week.

Young Lancer runners continue to shine

RICHMOND - Facing larger schools each and every week, the Crest Lancer freshmen girls continue to place among the top of the pack and last week at the Central Heights meet was no different.

Josie Walter finished in 2nd place and Peyton Schmidt finished just inside the top 10 in 9th position to lead the way.

Aubrey Allen also earned a medal finishing in 15th place.

In boy's action, sophomore Breakin Jones finished 36th overall. Coach Kaitlyn Cummings stated that Jones got boxed in early in the race and dropped towards the back of the pack but fought his way back to the middle of the pack by the end of the race.

"He (Jones) gets better every race," Cummings said.

Crest coach Cummings welcomed the mildly more pleasant weather after scorching heat has dominated the season early on, "We had some great performances against very tough competition at Central Heights. It was fun to get the chance to race in some nice fall weather," She said.

"Josie, Peyton and Kyree all achieved personal records in the girls race. Josie is currently among the top girl cross country runners in the state in class 1A with her times so far this season. To be able to compete against some of the best runners in the area and have so many top finishes as a freshman is outstanding. All of the girls have really impressed me all season and have so much talent and potential," Coach Cummings added.

"I am so proud of the dedication and commitment my team has been showing. As a coach, it's one of the best feelings to see them cross the finish line, whether it's simply finishing a hard race, achieving a personal record, or winning a medal."
