ACH EMS Director says planning, crowd response saved lives at shooting

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - The director of Anderson County Hospital Emergency Medical Services who was on site assisting at the Kansas City Chiefs Super Bowl win rally last week says the level of organization and preparation for emergency at the event, as well as life-saving first aid rendered immediately by members of the crowd, no doubt saved lives.

ACH EMS Director Troy Armstrong along with EMT Sherry Schmitz from Anderson County Hospital and RN Suzi Sykes with St. Luke's Health System were part of the mutual aid contingent of emergency workers assisting Kansas City Fire Department and police departments at Wednesday's event, which hosted an estimated one million Chiefs fans in downtown Kansas City around Union Station.

Armstrong said the crew was positioned close to the crowd due to its stretcher-mounted ATV, which would be used to convey patients from the close quarters of the gathering location out to waiting ambulances on the perimeters of the rally grounds if needed. Their positioning put them an estimated 30 to 40 yards from the area where gunfire broke out southwest of Union Station after an apparent fight between two juveniles. Armstrong said there was initial confusion with some in the crowd thinking the sound was fireworks, but within seconds more than 20 people were injured by gunfire, one of them fatally.

When the rapid burst of gunfire concluded Armstrong said his crew first made sure all of their own people were uninjured, then jumped in to start assisting the injured and triaging patients.

"Kansas City Fire had a real detailed incident action plan already drafted out that we were all briefed on," he said. "They had a plan in place as to if a situation like this was to occur or severe weather - they had it all covered. There was a strong plan in place. We kind of knew exactly how to respond."

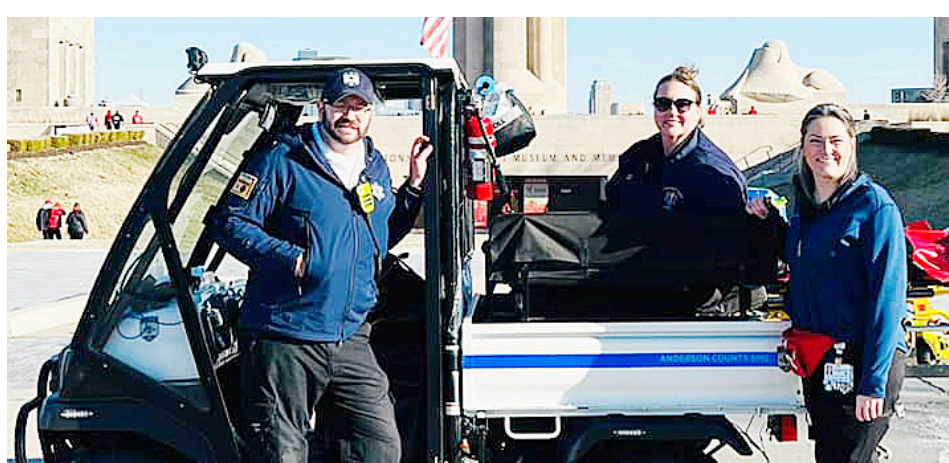

"But no matter what's written down or how much training you've had, it's hard to respond to something like that."

Armstrong's crew transported three patients, two critical and one serious, ages between 16 and 47. As the response scene developed, the ACH crew remained on scene for any subsequent difficulties or secondary situations that might have erupted. Armstrong said though he's worked gunshot injury scenes before, he's usually been there sometime after the actual incidents occurred. This was different.

"In typical response mode, we get there and we see what's happened afterwards. Here, the team and I were right there during the incident."

He said a major factor in the success of the response was crowd action from individuals who immediately rendered first aid, primarily stop-bleeding techniques, to those who were hit by gunfire.

"We do a lot of public education at Anderson County EMS teaching the public 'Stop The Bleed' techniques, and I saw so many bystanders there performing initial care for other people that attended. So their ability to begin bleeding control really played a role in the success of the response. You can imagine we have a lot of resources in place, but without those bystanders helping and doing some of that initial care there would have probably seen more loss of life."

"Just the act of holding pressure in place is such a vital response tactic," Armstrong said. Somebody can bleed out fairly quickly."

Richmond man charged in infant's death from brain trauma

GoFundMe account arranged to fund local child's burial

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

RICHMOND - Kansas Bureau of Investigation officers have arrested a Richmond man they believe injured his newborn son in an incident in mid-January which resulted in the boy's death on January 28th.

KBI field officers and Franklin County sheriff's deputies arrested Jason P Marnell, 24 of Richmond, during a traffic stop near U.S. Highway 59 and Clark Road north of Richmond on February 14th. Marnell was arrested on a warrant for first-degree murder and abuse of a child.

Sheriff's deputies responded to a medical call on January 14th at a Richmond residence and upon arrival found the infant unresponsive.

Life-saving measures were attempted and the baby, later identified as Waylon S. Marnell, was transported to an Ottawa Hospital and later transferred to Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City in critical condition. KBI officers were asked to assist in the investigation on January 17th.

Marnell

In a January 16th Facebook post, the child's mother, Hope Leitner, recounted to friends that Waylon had choked on milk when she was away and aspirated into his lung, at which time Marnell allegedly started CPR before a deputy took over the process upon his arrival. Leitner said she then arrived at the home but the child had apparently been some 20 minutes without oxygen to the brain. In late January Leitner created a GoFundMe page to help cover the cost of the child's eminent burial expenses.

"This isn't the life I wanted for my son," Leitner said in the GoFundMe post. It's no life at all. He's just a baby,

Crest USD 479 to save $$$ on bonds

COLONY - Taxpayers and district officials in Crest USD 479 will Interest Savings of some $832,000 for the 20-year bond issue for facility Construction recently passed, all due to a reduction in interest rates.

Crest superintendent Shane Walter said the district had initially anticipated and interest rate of 4.75%, but were able to secure a bid on the bonds of 3.723. The sale of the bonds was finalized in late January.

The reduction amounts to about $42,000 less annually in cash flow the district will have to commit to the bond payments.

Higher interest rates now charged by the Federal Reserve in an attempt to slow down US inflation probably resulted in the savings for USD 479. interest rates and bonds often moving opposite directions, with bond prices usually falling when rates go up and vice versa.

Voters last November passed a $5.95 million bond election aimed at constructing additional classroom space, revamping the school's main entrance into a secure ADA accessible entryway, and renovating other areas along with the construction of an auxiliary gymnasium on the property.

Dauids backs Mayorkas in impeachment vote

Despite border surge Dauids votes to keep secretary in his job

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

WASHINGTON, D.C - In an unsurprising partnering with other Progressive Biden border policy supporting Democrats, Sharice Dauids last week cast the only vote from the Kansas congressional contingent in support of Alejandro Mayorkas, the embattled Secretary of U.S. Homeland Security who was impeached by Congress by a single vote margin Wednesday.

Dauids, however, isn't talking about her vote.

Mayorkas has been the focus of criticism of border policy critics for several years as millions of illegal immigrants poured across the southern border, which became more porous with President Biden's ending of the Remain in Mexico policy on the first day of his presidency.

Although it's unclear if Mayorkas had the authority to reverse his boss's policy to make the border more instead of less secure, Republicans in the House focused their attention on him as illegal immigration becomes a top issue in the 2024 presidential elections.

With the Democrats in control of the U.S. Senate there will likely be no pursuit of proceedings past the House action. But the move is seen as an inflection point forced by Republicans to fully assign the border to Biden and Democrats, and maximize the political liability the border has become for Democrats in the 2024 election.

Charges in the impeachment articles forwarded against Mayorkas alleged willful and systemic refusal to comply with the law and breach of the public trust, saying Mayorkas knowingly made false statements to Congress during hearings regarding the security of the border, that he maintained the border was in fact "closed" despite U.S. Border Patrol's own statistics, and that it was "no less secure" than it was previously.

The Articles noted numerous statistics on skyrocketing border crossings since Biden took office, and included drug seizure records for dangerous narcotics including Fentanyl. They alleged under Mayorkas' watch, the U.S. Immigration Court backlog had more than doubled from about 1.3 million cases to over 3 million, destroying the court's ability to administer justice and provide appropriate relief in a time frame that does not run into years or decades.

Dauids, the sole Democrat representing Kansas in the house, whose Third District includes Anderson Franklin Miami Johnson and part of Wyandotte counties. voted with the 213 caucus minority which sought to save Mayorkas from impeachment. The vote in favor was 214, and included 4th District representative Ron Estes as well as congressman Tracy Mann and Jake Turner from the 1st and 2nd districts, all Republicans. Fourteen votes on the measure were Republican, with GOP members Mike Gallagher of Wisconsin, Ken Buck of Colorado and Tom McClintock of California. Two republicans, Brian Mast of Florida and Maria Salazar also of Florida did not vote in the roll call.

Dauids' office did not respond to the Review's email questions on the vote. Delanie Bomar, communications director with the National Republican Congressional Committee, said Dauids' move was designed to let Mayorkas off the hook for the disaster he and Biden have caused every community in the country.

"Since Joe Biden and Alejandro Mayorkas took office, there have been over 8.3 million illegal crossings nationwide," Bomar said. "Mayorkas's open borders policies have turned every community into a border community, and Dauids is completely fine with that."

"Dauids is not serious about securing our border," Bomar said.

PARKER

NOVEMBER 29, 1945 - FEBRUARY 11, 2024

Frances "Jean" Parker, 78 of Lebo, Kansas passed away Sunday, February 11, 2024 at her home in Lebo.

Jean was born November 29, 1945, to Ed and Belle (Hilligas) Kellerman in Westphalia, Kansas.

Parker

Jean went to Welda Grade School through half her 5th grade year and the family then moved to Westphalia to her Grandma Kellerman's home where she finished her 5th grade year and continued with her schooling, graduating from Westphalia High School in 1963.

Following high school, Jean went to work for the Coffey County Hospital in the janitorial department. She worked there until 1965 when she went to work for H.D. Lee Company in Ottawa.

Jean married David Buckridge September 1, 1966. They had two daughters, Shirley and Sharon. David adopted Jean's daughter Sally. Jean and David were later divorced.

Jean later moved to Burlington and worked at the Golden Age Lodge for several years. Jean moved to Hartford and began working at Hartford Manor. She worked a few years there before going to Peterson Nursing Home in Osage City. While living in Hartford she accepted the Lord as her Savior and was baptized at the First Christian Church. She worked part time at the Nursing Home and the Assisted Living in Osage City. While working there she also worked part time for her sister Joan Hess doing janitor work at Wolf Creek Nuclear Plant in Burlington. After moving to Lebo, she started working for Peterson Nursing Home full time and worked there 34 years before retiring. While working there she became a CNA, CMA, and a CRA. In 1993 Jean was selected as CNA of the year for the State of Kansas.

She lost her husband Dick in June of 1997 to cancer.. She enjoyed taking care of the elderly and after retirement she would care for some of the elderly in Lebo so they wouldn't have to go to a nursing home.

Jean liked her sports. She was a big Royals, Chiefs, and KU fan. She loved watching basketball games and keeping track of the tournaments. During high school she even coached a little league boys' team from Westphalia. They took second place in their league. She even played softball during her high school years.

She met David Lyman and he has been her companion for over twenty years. David became Jean's caregiver after she was diagnosed with cancer in 2022. Jean was on the Iola Sisters Relay For Life Team and has been a big supporter of the Relay For Life of Allen County since 2007. She is currently Co-Captain of the team.

How do we move Jesus from the church pew to the world?

If there was one thing that Jesus stressed when he was here on earth it was discipleship. In Matthew 28:19-20 he issues this command to the apostles. "Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit and teaching them everything I have commanded you." Over the years this command has fallen out of favor in the church. At some point the church decided that baptism was the only necessary condition for the Christian. Most church's support some type of mission program but by and large not within their own congregation. Most congregations have come to feel that discipleship is done in some far off field by some missionary.

I believe we need to be careful how we interpret the phrase "all nations". If we do not make disciples out of our own congregations we are not obeying John 14:15 which states in Jesus' own words. "If you love me you will obey what I command." We obey the traffic laws because we know there will be consequences if we don't. Yet we feel little or no obligation to obey this command from Jesus. I often ask the question of people, what is the most important thing in your life? Usually I do this in a setting where I am asking them to consider this. I have asked myself that question untold times and there are times when my answer would not be my relationship with Jesus. As human beings we are so grounded in the world our thought process leads us to try and be the captain of our own ship. Since the world is terribly flawed, so is this thinking. Once I got tuned into to Jesus I prefer to have him at my side. Depending on him results in a life of integrity, a life driven by truths far more powerful than most people are prepared for and they will notice that your motives are different. This is how you move Jesus from the church pew out into the world. We don't obey Jesus for the same reason we obey the traffic laws. We obey him because we love him. I suspect people do this not even knowing they are being disciples. Just value the opportunities you can have no higher calling.

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

Pastor Chase Riebel's message Sunday was from John 4. Jesus went out of His way to go through Samaria so He could talk to a woman at Jacob's well. The woman became a disciple when she went and told the people of the town to come see Jesus because He told her all things.

Darren McGhee's communion meditation focused on faith being bigger than football. Being on God's team is a sure victory. Lynette Prasko led worship with the opening song "When We All Get to Heaven" and scripture from Matthew 18 about how entering Heaven requires becoming as humble as a child. Lynette was joined by Ben and Ethan Prasko, Anna Riebel and Mike Billings as worship continued with the songs "Your Name is Power," "Simple Kingdom" and "Psalm 19."

Sunday services begin at 10:45 a.m.

Not Kansas City? Who are they kidding?

If not for the raw gravity of what had just happened a few hours before, one would have been tempted to laugh out loud at the assurances from Kansas City Police Chief Stacey Graves and Mayor Quentin Lucas that “this is not Kansas City” after the tragic shootings at the Chiefs Super Bowl rally last week.

Indeed, it is Kansas City. And they know it is. And in the most cowardly way they whistle past the graveyard, refusing to state publicly what must be done to fix it and to start a very difficult but in the end, maybe, a productive conversation of accountability.

Anyone who can read crime statistics knows unfortunately that this is Kansas City. KC’s urban war zone is well documented by spiking murder rates over the last three years which peaked with a record ever homicide level by the end of 2023. Someone was gunned down in Kansas City on average every 47 hours last year.

By and large the victims and the killers have much in common in age, race and socioeconomic status. Everyone in Kansas City knows the profile, although they do their best to exert pressure that it not be recognized publicly. Political correctness; Diversity, Equity, Inclusion; the need for representation and buy-in from multiple communities, yada, yada. It all makes for great obfuscation and a smokescreen of death.

Kansas City is not alone of course. Every urban center in the country is dealing with the same problems. Though those cities are typically led by Democrats, this is not a problem that one can lateral back to Joe Biden’s Administration. It’s been growing for decades, spawned by a social welfare system that funds and maintains the breakup of poverty stricken families, makes it easy for men to abandon the girls they get pregnant, and the lack of family clout and toughness that enforces moral accountability on the men of those families. Boys who grow up without quality men around them will almost assuredly not grow up to be quality men.

When they break the law they encounter a legal system which seeks the endless hope of rainbows and butterflies redemption as opposed to the coporality of harsh accountability. No one envies the Russian legal system much less those caught up in it, but this does not happen there and the country is far more ethnically diverse than the United States.

But it happens here, and the innocent, like Lisa Lopez, the 44 year-old local radio host and mom, end up dead. Some 21 others, many of them children, are among those with bullets in them. They are the legacy of Kansas City’s failure that also include:

DANE HICKS, Publisher

– Courtney Wickham, who died in December hustling into a Midtown elevator on the night of her birthday. Some kind of commotion outside, and a stray round hit her.

– Lauren Reddick, who was only 11 years old when she got hit by stray gunfire in her bedroom after two thug-operated vehicles on the street outside her house decided to shoot it out. She lived, but she’s paralyzed.

– In 2021 KCUR radio reporter Aviva Okeson-Haberman made the mistake of being in her apartment in the war zone where she was hit by a stray bullet. In her 20s, she was kept alive on life support long enough to harvest organs she planned ahead to donate.

– Blair Shanahan Lane was killed by a stray bullet on the Fourth of July while celebrating in her backyard in Kansas City in 2011.

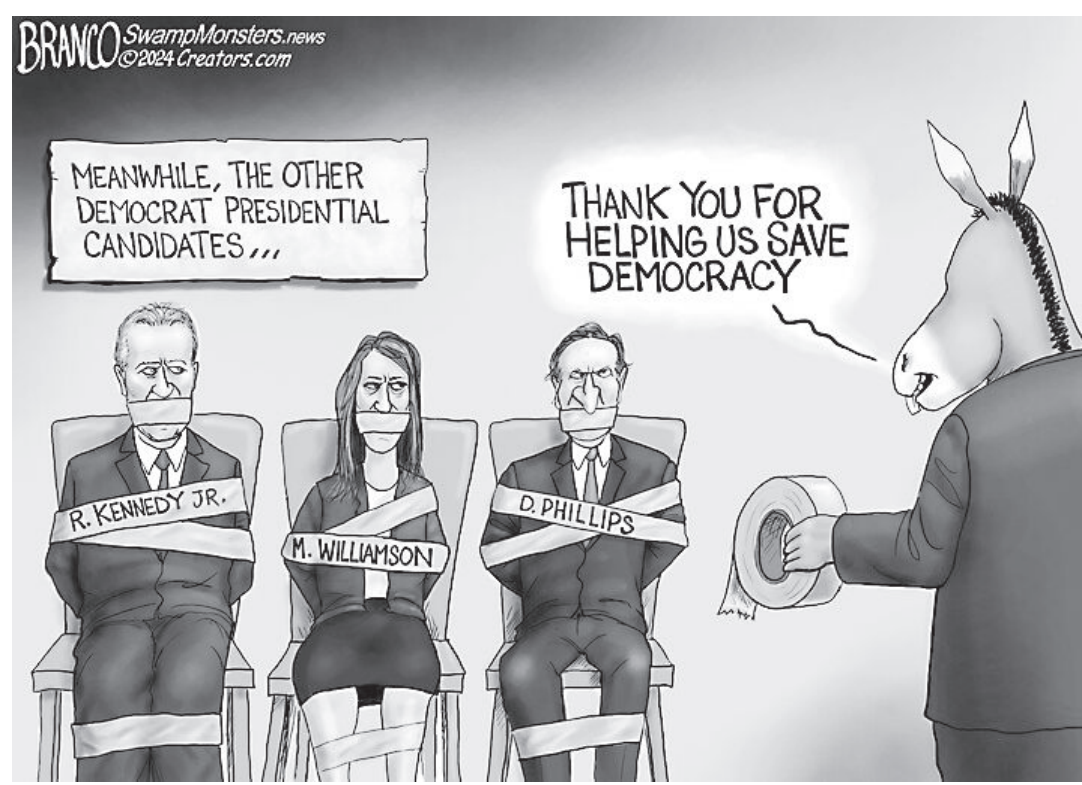

– Erin Langhofer died at a First Fridays event the summer of 2019 standing by a food truck ready to make a purchase when Deon’t Copkney, running from a shooting that just erupted, was firing behind him as he ran away.

Shooting after shooting, but no witnesses come forward. The thugs own the streets of Kansas City. The cops and the rest of us are just renting space.

Lucas says he knows what the problem is. It’s the guns. There were thousands of guns in the KC area that day of course and every day; but those guns didn’t all go off and kill people.

Tragedies like these and worse happened every two days last year in Kansas City. Yet members of the tearful, exasperated Kansas City media covering Wednesday’s events, as well as other community leaders, seem taken aback. ‘How could something like that have happened on such a beautiful day when school was out, kids were seeing their favorite players, and I would like to thank the gentleman that paid for my husband’s haircut on February 15th at Larry’s Barber shop. Your kindness and thoughtfulness is appreciated. Thank you.

Help me understand why the Kansas Farm Bureau’s 2022 Franklin County Farm Family of the Year family has signed a 400-plus acre industrial solar lease on their 7th generation family farm?

Well, we now have a mess to deal with in Franklin County because six farmers grabbed the industrial solar bait. Neighbors are held hostage by the fact that their homes may be surrounded by solar panels and noise and light pollution that may devalue their property. Local wildlife, water systems and ecosystems may be endangered. The 30-year contracts on 2900-plus acres of prime farmland southeast of Ottawa is now placed in harm’s way just because of the ripple effect choice six farmers made. Maybe Anderson County can give Franklin County some pointers on how to get these industrial solar vultures to fly away. Sad deal. Thank you.

I have wondered who would vote for a bully, liar, cheat and rapist. I found them last week on Phone Forum. They think they are voting for a president, instead they are voting for a dictator who will lose our NATO allies and try to make friends with other dictators of Russia, China and North Korea who he has always admired. Thank you.

There is so much hate in our country anymore. I do not ever remember a time in my 70-plus years that there’s been so much discontent in our people and country. Personally I think we can put a large part of the blame on Mr Trump. I’m sure this will upset the Republicans but he loves to keep things stirred up. If you disagree just remember the January 6th insurrection and the part he played in that. Last week the Phone Forum is an example of the hate I refer to. Joe Biden is our president so let’s show some respect no matter what party you’re affiliated with. We are all taught as children to treat others the way we want to be treated. Let’s practice that and be kinder to each other.

Signing up for the 2900-acre Orion Prairie sunlight industrial solar project seems like a conflict of interest for our local Anderson and Franklin County K-State Research and Extension Director. It sure doesn’t seem to promote agriculture by putting thousands of solar panels on farmland. I’m pretty sure they aren’t promoting family and community wellness, just wellness for their bank account while flipping the bird to the community around them. It appears money rules all for some. Amazing how so-called conservatives will fall for Democrats’ easy money. How many more will sell out and then act like the victim when their community becomes outraged? Is this what K-State wants to encourage?

Democrat election interference starts with ‘Lawfare’

Democrats’ ultimate goal when it comes to Former President Donald Trump is not only kicking him off the ballot but getting enough out of their many lawfare cases, like Manhattan District Attorney Alvin Bragg’s, to imprison him for good. The deep state’s big plans for conviction, however, aren’t the only way they are furthering their well-established election interference.

By tying up Trump’s times with hearings and trials, Democrats are effectively keeping him from connecting with voters or exposing President Joe Biden’s atrocious track record.

“Instead of being in South Carolina and other states campaigning, I’m stuck here tonight,” Trump said in a short speech to reporters outside the New York City courtroom on Thursday.

Eight months until 2024 Election Day means Trump should be maximizing his time in key states whose primaries are fast approaching. Instead, he’s required to attend hearings in New York over an expired case Bragg revived after his predecessor declined to pursue it.

“It’s election interference by Biden because it’s the only way he can think to get elected because he’s accomplished nothing,” Trump remarked.

Trump pleaded not guilty after Bragg, who won’t keep violent criminals off of New York City’s streets, indicted him on 34 counts of falsifying business records last year. In his address on Thursday, Trump acknowledged that Bragg’s lawfare stems directly “from the DOJ.”

“This all comes out of Washington,” Trump said after his hearing. “They coordinated with the district attorney and the AG. The case tomorrow, which is a rigged deal, is all coordinated with the district attorney and coordinated with the Attorney General of New York, Letitia James. She ought to be ashamed of herself. She’s campaigned for years on trying to get Trump without knowing anything about me.”

Trump said Democrats’ scheming against him, especially in New York, is “ridiculous”

“A trial that legal scholars say there’s no crime. They say there’s no crime,” Trump quipped.

Trump is right. Even staunch anti-Trump pundits have cast doubts on Bragg’s attempt to convict and jail the former president on charges. The former president’s legal team tried to get the case dismissed, but a New York City judge ruled yesterday that the trial would begin in March.

Clearly, there’s nothing the deep state isn’t willing to try to do to keep their biggest threat — Trump and his voters — from regaining power. The ultimate goal is to ensure voters don’t see or hear from the leading presidential candidate until 2024 ballots are being counted.

Regardless of the outcomes of all of the cases against the former president, Democrats have done plenty of damage.

They did it in 2016, they did it in 2020, and they are doing it again in 2024. Except this time, they aren’t waiting around for sham impeachment proceedings or a memory-holed October surprises about Biden family corruption to do their dirty work.

The interference started even before Trump announced his 2024 candidacy with a raid on Mar-a-Lago and then escalated to a host of

Biden most unfit president to seek re-election since FDR

There’s a tried and true method for a White House to deal with a seriously ailing president -- lie about it.

The American public, of course, didn’t know the truth about Woodrow Wilson’s condition after his stroke, nor about the extent of JFK’s health difficulties. Meanwhile, FDR’s dire condition was kept from the public when he was running for a fourth term that he had no business attempting. He died 82 days after his inauguration.

Joe Biden is the most unfit incumbent president running for another term in office since that 1944 campaign. That is not to say that he’s going to -- God forbid -- shed this mortal coil soon after the 2024 election, but that we should be mindful of the lessons of 80 years ago. To paraphrase Winston Churchill, a president’s inner circle is prone to believe that the chief executive is so precious that he must be protected by a bodyguard of lies.

Few self-respecting physicians with the trust of the president are going to betray it. By early 1944, FDR had been diagnosed with a life-threatening condition, namely “acute congestive heart failure.” An examining physician called his health status simply “God-awful.”

Nonetheless, the White House rolled out FDR’s doctor in September to pronounce the president’s health “perfectly OK,” with “absolutely no organic difficulties at all.” He said the president, who had experienced alarming weight loss, had just decided to shed some pounds and that he’s “proud of his flat -- repeat F - L - A - T - tummy.”

Journalistic defenders can be trusted to attack and shame anyone who mistrusts the official story. Pro-Roosevelt writer Marquis

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

RICH LOWRY, King Features Syndicate

Childs called the well-founded rumors about FDR’s health a “wicked business,” and “the vilest kind of fear campaign.” The problem wasn’t FDR’s underlying condition, but the malignancy of his enemies: “Some people hate the president so much that the wish is father to the thought that his health is seriously undermined.”

Sound familiar?
Of course, the political allies will always do their duty. Harry Truman, recently selected as FDR’s new vice presidential nominee, told reporters after a lunch with the president that he’s “still the leader he’s always been, and don’t let anybody kid you about it.”

Truman told a friend, in contrast, that the president’s “hands are shaking and he talks with considerable difficulty.” According to Truman, FDR was “just going to pieces” physically, and he said he was like “a phonograph record played at the wrong speed.”

This wasn’t an unusual reaction. People around Roosevelt were in great fear of his dying, yet no one let on.

FDR himself, who demonstrated an almost-admirable lack of curiosity about his own health, still knew how he felt, and wasn’t going to let voters know. He warned, “Hysterical last-minute accusations or sensational revelations are trumped up in an attempt to panic the people on election day.”

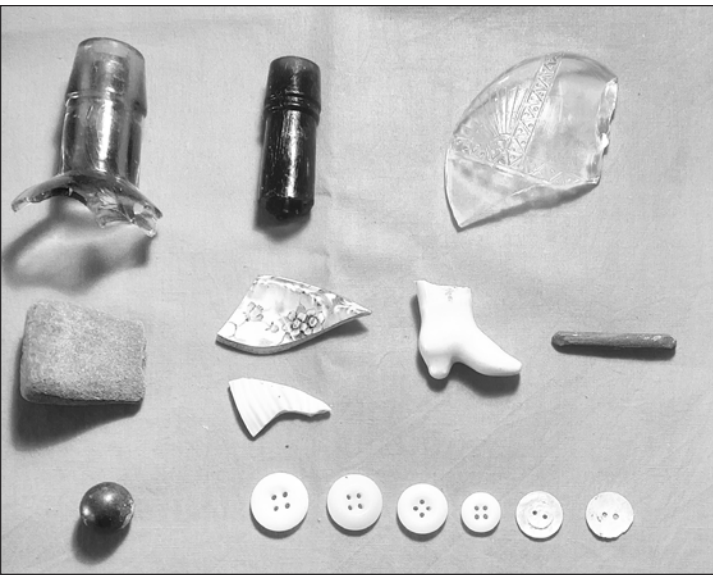

Uh-huh.
FDR did have reserves of energy that were enough to overcome the murmurings about his health, but not the fact that they were true.

Perhaps Roosevelt can be forgiven more than most for his deceptions since -- as a giant of American statesmanship who was ably managing a world war -- it’s understandable that he might consider himself an indispensable man. Yet, it was madness how irresponsible he was about the inevitable succession. In “Ascent to Power,” his forthcoming book on this period, David L. Roll writes, “Truman began his accidental presidency utterly unprepared. FDR made no effort to bring him up to speed on current foreign relations and domestic issues nor did Truman insist on being informed by FDR or staff.”

The fact is that it’s never a convenient time for an administration to be honest about a president’s serious health problems; it can only hurt him and help his adversaries.

At the beginning of his term, Biden’s boosters, hopefully and absurdly, compared him to FDR. But it may be in exhibiting the same reflexes as the legendary Democrat in 1944 that the comparison is most apt.

As promised, I will be sharing a photo of the first day of excavation at the old cabin site in Greeley. Upon arrival, I found it to be just about too wet to excavate. I said to myself, I'm here, so why not go ahead and give it a try and enjoy the afternoon. Here are the results of my digging.

Two tops from old medicine bottles, a decorated shard of clear glass, the tip end of a whetstone, two decorated shards of Chinaware, a porcelain doll's shoe, a slate pencil, four white glass and two mother of pearl buttons and a small

Five Anderson County farmers will be honored at this year's annual meeting of the Soil Conservation District on Thursday night. At the banquet they will be awarded the Kansas Bankers Awards presented by county key banker, William Bowness. Francis Pinneo of rural Bush City, Milo Crist of rural Garnett, and brothers Robert, Lyle, and John Fursman of rural Welda will be recognized for their innovative farms that preserve and conserve soil in their own way. Evangelist Billy Graham's latest film "Touch of Brass," will be shown at 7:30 P.M. in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church at the corner of Fifth and Walnut. Mr. Howard E Gray, principal of Kincaid Rural High School, has resigned his position effective in June to accept the position of Superintendent of Schools at Kismet, KS.

New state mandates will soon shake up the Garnett School systems according to Superintendent Ken Young. In order to meet state regulations, by next September all schools must have learning disabilities teachers and at least part-time librarians. Young said he looks for mandatory physical education, multimedia libraries, and a comprehensive art program in the coming years as well. The board of education recently approved the employment of a learning disabilities teacher, but the problem is now where the teacher will be. Lacking room at the schools in Garnett, Young says it is just not feasible to have one travel between the schools either, citing too much time spent traveling and not enough with students. After discussion with Dale Lemon, director of elementary education, Young said the next and likely most attractive option would be to send one of the three special reading instructors back to school for additional training in the learning disabilities field.

dren of an Iola woman with an uncertain future while they are housed in Colony. Charles Ward, brother-in-law of the slain woman, said he and the woman's sister, Sharon, were taking care of the children and hoped to continue since their father lives in California. The boys, who range in age from 11 to 15, had moved to Iola from Rialto, CA in March of 1983 to be closer to her sister. The woman had remarried seven months ago to an Iola man, who later shot her then committed suicide. The Iola Police Department received the call at 9:40 A.M. Monday from exterminators in the building, who said they had heard a scream and gunshots at the time. The Anderson County Commission heard a $243,234 proposal for an elevator and fire alarm system for the aging courthouse on Monday. The proposal is for an elevator that is proposed to be built inside the courthouse without undue disturbance of existing structures.

The reinstated state funding for the Prairie Spirit Rail Trail connecting Ottawa to Iola cleared its first of many hurdles with an approval from the Kansas House Appropriations subcommittee this week. Director Dan Benjamin said on Wednesday he had been informed that the subcommittee had approved placing the $200,000 back into the Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks budget for the trail. KDWP had originally proposed a $275,000 line item in its 1994 budget for the trail to be used as match money for a $1.73 million federal grant procured for the rail trail through federal funds allotted to the Kansas Department of Transportation. Without the matching funds from the State appropriations committee, the federal grant would not be awarded. David Nelson is the new Kansas Department of Wildlife and Parks ranger stationed in the Garnett area. Nelson will take the position vacated by the recent retirement of Johnny Ray.

As if losing a basketball game on the road in Gardner wasn't enough, the Anderson County Men's Basketball team lost more than $300 in missing money as well. After the loss on the court, the men returned to a locker room to find that their personal items had been pilfered through and that the cash was missing. Dave Webb, principal at Gardner-Edgerton High School, said that visiting teams are given a key to their locker rooms, but that there are two doors to the visitor's locker room and the thief apparently gained access through the second door which the team did not use. Children left in the care of police last week are prompting a much deeper conversation about the lack of foster care vacancies. Representatives from the department of Social and Rehabilitative Services, Juvenile Justice Authority, and the Anderson County Child Coalition met with Anderson County Attorney Fred Campbell on Friday to assess what kept three Garnett children waiting at the Garnett Police Department overnight while authorities scrambled to find a foster home that could take them in. Safety concerns over a flock of geese prompted Garnett Airport to close last week. Airport Manager Garland Haynes first noticed the several thousand natural aviators leaving the area Tuesday, but that vacancy was short lived as the birds returned on Wednesday.

A major highway project will change the route of US Highway 59 around Welda for the nearly two years if all goes well following an open house event sponsored by KDOT. The agency aims to educate local drivers early about what the change will look like while the project will improve a dangerous stretch of the highway between Welda and the US 59 junction at the Kincaid turn-off from US 169. The proposed project will widen highway shoulders, flatten the roadway, and improve intersections and overall safety for drivers and passengers alike. The project is slated to begin in 2017 and will affect local drivers through 2019. Visitors who stay in Garnett will have to start paying more to do so following the city's approval of a 66 percent increase on the guest tax that helps fund local tourism. That increase makes the cost at just less than a dollar in addition to the current tax levy a night to stay in hotels, motels, and bed and breakfast facilities inside city limits from the transient guest tax.

They know better, but they are cowards and they won't say it. Not a single one of them in their shock and earnest co-misery ever mentioned the scourge they all know to be true.

People in those positions, if they were really leaders, should have the stones to call real balls and strikes. But they don't.

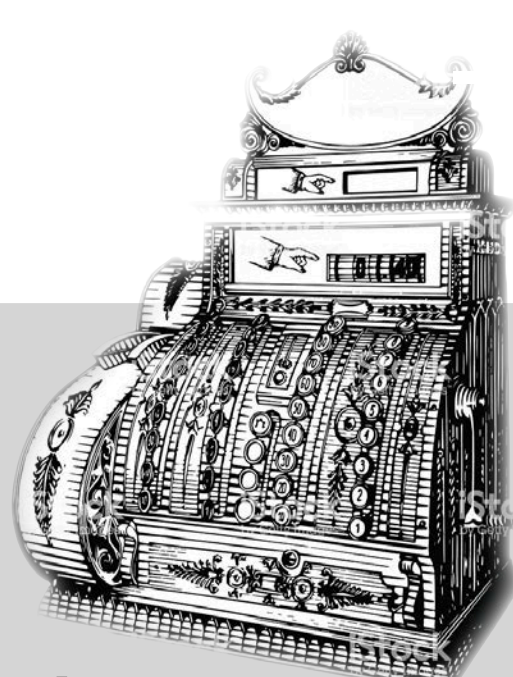

So, welcome to Kansas City.###

(First published in the Anderson County Review on February 6, 2024.)

Legal Notice

2024 Anderson County Real Estate Market Analysis Pursuant to K.S.A. 79-1460a

This market analysis is intended to satisfy the requirements of K.S.A. 79-1460A. It is not intended to be a complete narrative of market trends for individual properties in Anderson County, nor is it intended to describe the market trends for individual market areas within Anderson County. Neither is this an appraisal or market analysis that purports to comply with the uniform standards of professional appraisal practice. Rather, it is intended to give a broad countywide overview of real property market trends.

A study of the residential real estate market indicated that there is an overall annual inflationary increase of approximately 9% countywide.

A study of the overall countywide commercial real estate market indicated that there is an overall annual inflationary increase of approximately 5.19% countywide.

A study of the real estate market for vacant land indicated that there is an overall annual inflationary increase of approximately 4.97% countywide.

The information listed above represents countywide medians and is not intended to be a direct indicator of any particular property's value. Individual property values may change by more or less than the indicated trends due to differences in location, property characteristics, available market data, data comparability and market participant's preferences.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 2-20-2024 / SUBMITTED

Greeley Elementary first grader Camden May asked his dad, who recently joined the Anderson Co. Sheriff's Dept., to come to school for Camden's Show and Tell. On Friday, February 16, Deputy May and Under Sheriff McClain came to the school to meet all the students and speak to them about what it means to be with the Sheriff's Department and the important work the officers do. The students asked many great questions and were very interested in the gear the officers carry and the lights and sirens on their vehicle. All the students received color pages, booklets, junior badges and a lollipop.

The Kansas FFA Association is experiencing exciting growth, a surge of new opportunities for its members, and increasing support from the community and former members. Kansas FFA was chartered by the National FFA Organization in 1928. Since 1928, our membership has grown to over 10,000 members in more than 220 chapters across the state. There are FFA chapters in 225 high school agriculture education departments, in 216 unified school districts. Kansas

FFA members can be found in 103 of the 105 counties across Kansas, including both rural and urban areas. Our membership strives to create a sense of inclusivity while celebrating our unique backgrounds, stories, and experiences within the agriculture industry.

The association is led by a state officer team dedicated to forming the next generation into future agriculturists. The team is filled with six students who are freshman and sophomores in college serving as president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, reporter, and sentinel. In addition, adult guidance and leadership is provided by the state advisor and executive secretary. The Kansas FFA Association is run by the voices of its members. Therefore, chapter members from across the state serve as delegates at state convention, elect the state officers, and conduct official business of the association.

The official duties of the Kansas FFA Association could not be accomplished without the amazing support we receive from local communities, agribusinesses, alumni, foundation, members and individuals who know the importance of agriculture education. Our annual State FFA Convention continues to evolve into one of the premier state conventions in the nation highlighted by our action-packed general sessions and our ever-growing career show. This opportunity continues to provide our members with leadership experiences, meaningful connections and endless memories that help make this organization so impactful.

One of the most important aspects of Kansas FFA is its dedication to creating a new generation of agriculturists through the experiences students have in agriculture education classes. Agriculture is the wave of the future and will continue to be an essential aspect of our lives, infrastructure and supply chain. Today's agriculture education students will be the leaders and innovators of tomorrow's agriculture industry. Each one of our members' roles will be different; however, they can all take part in advocating for the agriculture industry they know and love. The need for agriculture advocates will always be prevalent. Therefore, Kansas FFA is proud to be at the forefront of preparing students for premier leadership, personal growth and career success in agriculture and many other industries.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 02-20-2024 / SUBMITTED

Congratulations to Anderson County Bulldog's senior Kylie Disbrow. She recently became a member of the 500-block Club, which is a very rare milestone to reach. Kylie has led all of high school girl's basketball in blocks in the past two seasons. Last year she finished 2nd in the nation in blocks and is currently 4th this year. Kylie also holds the state record for blocks in a game with 20, which was set last season against Prairie View and matched it again this year against Girard.

AC girls cruise past Wellsville

GARNETT - The ACHS Lady Bulldogs continued their great season, rolling past Wellsville at home last Tuesday, 63-36.

The AC girls came out strong in the first half before losing some of that intensity over the final 2 periods.

The Bulldogs were up 26-13 after the first quarter and after outscoring Wellsville 19-7 in the second their lead ballooned to 45-20 at halftime.

Each team scored 9 points in the third and the Bulldogs had a slim 9-7 advantage in the fourth as they won handily.

Anderson County forced 24 turnovers on the night, which led to 29 points. AC also outscored Wellsville 32-14 in the paint and outrebounded them 29-14 for the night.

The trio of Kylie Disbrow, Rilyn Sommer and Caitlyn Foltz led the way again for the Lady Bulldogs.

Disbrow tallied 20 points, 4 rebounds and 4 blocks.

Sommer scored 19 points, had 10 rebounds and 4 assists.

Foltz added 10 points, 10 assists, 6 rebounds and 5 steals.

Also scoring was Alexis Overstreet with 6 points, Taylor Clark and Brooklyn Kellerman with 3 points and Brylie Kohlmeier 2 points.

PV spoils Lady Bulldogs senior night

GARNETT - Prairie View not only brought an end to the Anderson County Bulldog girl's 10-game winning streak, they also spoiled Senior Night as they downed AC 49-39.

The game started off well for Anderson County as they led 8-4 after the first quarter and 20-15 at halftime.

Following halftime, the wheels fell off for the Bulldogs as they were inexplicably outscored 17-0 in the third quarter to put themselves in a 32-20 hole they were unable to dig themselves out of.

Anderson County did respond with 19 points in the fourth but Prairie View responded with 17 to easily hold on for the win.

Kylie Disbrow led the Bulldogs with 14 points, had 6 rebounds and 4 blocks.

Rilyn Sommer had 13 points and a team high 16 rebounds on the night.

Caitlyn Foltz had a relatively quiet night by her standards tallying 7 points and 5 rebounds.

The only other girl to score for AC was Alexis Overstreet with 4 points.

Area teams eyeing postseason play

Anderson County, Crest and Central Heights will all kick off post-season play in basketball over the next week.

Crest will be the first team in action as sub-state kicks off this Friday as they are in the Flint Hills High School Regional at Rosalia.

The #4 seeded Crest (14-5) girls will play their opening round game at home as they will square off against #5 seed Marmaton Valley (13-5). The winner will advance to play top seeded Flint Hills (15-4) the following Friday, March 1. So far this season Crest has split their matchups with Marmaton Valley. They defeated them 40-33 on February 1 but lost to them 27-14 back on January 19.

The Crest (10-9) boys open with a bye as they are the #2 seed. They will play the winner of Madison/Hamilton (9-10) and Yates Center (2-17). That game will be played in Rosalia at Flint Hills High School on Thursday, February 29.

For both Anderson County and Central Heights, seeding will be done on Wednesday, February 21. Quarterfinal games will be played at the higher seed on February 26 for girls and the 27th for boys.

Anderson County is in the Wellsville Regional and Central Heights is in the Pleasanton Regional.

The AC boys will open up on the road as they will be a 5 or 6 seed.

The Lady Bulldogs will host a home game on Monday, February 26 but the opponent has yet to be determined.

Central Heights boys have an opportunity to play a home game to open up play as they are teetering between a 4 or 5 seed. Their opponent is set though as they will play Maranatha Christian Academy.

Like the AC girls, Central Heights girls will play next Monday, February 26. They will be the #8 seed and travel to either Jayhawk-Linn or Eureka.

For more information and to see the seedings check with kshsaa.org.

The Crest Lancers took control early, jumping out to a 25-7 after the first quarter en route to a 39-15 lead at intermission after outscoring Yates Center 14-8 in the second quarter.

It was much of the same in the third quarter for the Lancers. Yates Center mustered just 6 points in the period as the Lancers tallied 21 points in the third for a lopsided 60-21 lead heading into the fourth.

Lady Vikings win 3 of last 4

RICHMOND - After opening the season with 15 straight losses, the Central Heights Vikings have something to build on as of late as they have won 3 of their last 4 games after a thrilling 40-36 win at home over Council Grove on Monday, February 12.

The Vikings took advantage of a solid opening quarter in which they doubled up their opponents for an early 14-7 lead after the first.

The Vikings were able to tack one more onto the lead over the next 8 minutes, outscoring Council Grove 9-8 for a 23-15 halftime lead.

That lead quickly vanished following halftime as the Vikings went on a quarter long drought, mustering just 4 points in the quarter while the visitors answered with 11 points of their own to cut the lead down to 27-26 heading into the fourth.

The Lady Vikings tallied 13 points in the fourth, outscoring Council Grove by 3 to hang on for the win.

Central Heights won the game at the free throw line connecting on 6 free throws down the stretch, keeping Council Grove off the charity stripe completely.

Addison Ouellette led the Vikings with 12 points, Macy Cubit added 10 and Sydney Evans chipped in with 9 points.

Cubit also added 7 rebounds and 4 steals, leading the Vikings in both categories.

Other scorers were Ashley Harkins with 5 and Arabella Dunbar and Melaney Chrisjohn each with 2 points on the night.

Owen Thompson (126) and Zach Schaffer (138) both won 4 of 5 and finished in 2nd place to qualify for State.

Thompson's only loss was in the semifinal round to Keith Sanders of Independence before rallying to win his final two matches, including his 3rd place match over Gavin Miles of Fort Scott by decision (Dec 8-2).

Z. Schaffer had an identical path. Schaffer lost his semifinal match to Cash Wilderman of Frontenac by decision (8-6) before he had to win his final two matches. Schaffer downed Aden McManus of Burlington in the 3rd place match by major decision (MD 14-4).

A.J. Schaffer (150) nearly matched Thompson and Z. Schaffer with third place finishes but after losing his semifinal match, A.J. Schaffer came up short in the 3rd place match losing to Brennen Westervelt of Coffeyville-Field Kinley by decision (Dec 13-6).

Connor Prothe (144) lost in the opening round, making the route to qualify tough. Prothe did win the next two rounds before dropping his consolation round 3 match to Elijah Younger of Paola by fall (1:58).

Colten Wittman (165) won 3 of 5 matches, coming up short of qualifying. Wittman opened with a first round win but lost in the quarterfinals to Gannon
