County aims for new tax sale before office changes hands

Project aims to get tax delinquent properties back on county's paying tax rolls

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Anderson County Commissioners have approved a resolution for an upcoming foreclosure and forced sale of county delinquent property which will hopefully take place before the retiring county treasurer leaves office this coming January.

A resolution setting up the next tax sale was adopted Sept. 3, defining the county's intent to pursue the next phase in the ongoing effort to get delinquent properties back on the county tax rolls by seizing them and selling them off to new owners.

The complicating factor this time around is that presumptive county treasurer Ida McClelland, who won the Republican primary in August and faces no declared opposition in the November general election, hasn't handled a tax sale from the office before. The hope is that outgoing county treasurer Dena McDaniel can provide training for the mechanics of the sale before she leaves office.

Tax sales require an extensive notification and legal filing process to allow the present owner to redeem the property by paying the back taxes and penalties. If the condemnation is pursued and the parcel sold at auction, most of the back taxes are typically lost but the parcel is put back on the tax rolls under different ownership. While new owners can often pick up those properties at a bargain, they're assessed a bloc of fees to cover some of the administrative and publication costs in addition to the bid price.

Over the past decade or so Anderson County has scheduled a delinquent tax sale about every three years. The most recent sale was held in 2022, when 18 parcels totaling some $46,000 in back taxes, interest and fees delinquencies were sold at auction. Condemned properties tend to be those that have been delinquent for a number of years.

In that 2022 sale, county treasurer's office records say the county brought in $56,920.00 all together for those parcels. Associated fees were $6162.91. The county was able to recover and pay off $22,126.63 worth of the delinquent taxes and then had to send out refunds for any over-payment - since state law says counties can't condemn and sell foreclosed properties at a

After 75 years, 4Hers names withheld from county fair coverage

Fair results section delayed after newspaper has to argue for names of 4H exhibitors

BY DAN THALMAN THE KANSAS INFORMER

OTTAWA- Kansas State University Frontier District Extension officials have released a disputed segment of county fair records they denied weeks ago for publication in the Review's annual Anderson County Fair results section - records which until this year had been provided for publication for as much as the past 75 years in order to recognize 4H exhibitors in the county fair.

Attorneys for the Review and for the Frontier Extension District exchanged letters on the Kansas Open Record Act issue after Frontier officials twice denied the Review's request for first and last names of 4H exhibitors age 13 and under, claiming the information was protected under a federal online children's privacy law enacted in 1998. It was the first time in 25 years since the federal law was passed that Extension officials had used it to deny the records. Records were also denied to the Osage County Herald-Chronicle for its fair results section. Osage County is also in the Frontier District.

A limited straw poll of other state newspapers by the Review found all other publications contacted in Kansas received the same records this year they had traditionally obtained from their local extension offices.

Naked church goer released from jail, due in court (clothed) today

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - The man police say a local couple discovered passed out and naked in a Garnett church is free from the Anderson County Jail on a personal recognizance bond after Garnett's city court revised his bond last week. Smith had been held in the county jail on a $300 bond for nearly a week after he was found unclothed and apparently under the influence when a local couple showed up at Holy Angels Catholic Church August 27 on an errand. He was arrested on charge of disorderly conduct, and failed to make the amount of the bond issued from city court.

The incident raised the topic of a general lack of state law in Kansas dealing with public nudity, and the patchwork ordinances in various cities in regard to going bare if not in violation of a defined sex crime. Garnett Police Chief Kurt King said he had asked city attorney Terry Solander to consider a city ordinance for submission to city commissioners.

Newly-appointed Garnett Municipal Court Judge Steve Wilson recently made waves among city court patrons earlier this year after he instituted dress and decorum requirements during city court pro-

Steam-powered tractor to highlight vintage machinery show at Lake Garnett Oct. 4-5

BY SUSAN WETTSTEIN THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - A 1906 16 horsepower Advance steam engine tractor will be on exhibit and demonstration at this year's Anderson County Flywheelers Gas Engine & Tractor Show, to be held on Friday and Saturday, October 4-5 in the City of Garnett's North Lake Park.

Steam engine tractors such as the 1906 Advance would have been used for several important agricultural and industrial tasks in the early 20th century, including threshing, plowing, sawmill operations, road construction and hauling, pulling heavy loads. Considered the "workhorses of the 20th century agriculture and industry," these steam engine tractors performed tasks that would later be taken over by specialized gas and diesel-powered equipment.

In keeping with the event's featured Minneapolis Moline tractors, the Flywheelers have also garnered a 1920's Minneapolis Moline Prairie Tractor. The "Prairie" models of MM tractors were also the workhorses of their day, helping farmers increase productivity from small family farms to large-scale operations breaking new ground on the prairies.

The Flywheelers are ramping up efforts to provide a unique experience for the area youth on Friday, October 4th with Education Day, which invites all high school and elementary classes as well as homeschooled students to engage in hands-on activities, exhibits and demonstrations, such as a cider press, corn shelling and grinding, shingle making, rope making and event photo booth. A highlight of the event is the threshing and baling demonstration held at 9 am and 1:30 pm daily. Listen and learn about how Garnett's North Lake Park was built, a presentation by the Anderson County Historical Society. Teachers and those that homeschool are encouraged to contact Helen Norman, 785-448-8745 in advance, by September 24th, to schedule class tours on Friday which includes free ice cream and more surprises for the kids who attend on Friday.

The event also has small engine demonstrations and over 100 tractors on display. A tractor parade, and two tractor pulls, one a pedal power tractor pull for the kids (prizes), and an antique tractor pull (awards cash prizes) at the pulling arena will take place on Saturday. Enjoy the tractor parade, swap meet, food and craft vendors and more both Friday and Saturday. Event merchandise, including shirts and hats will be for sale.

No admission is charged. There are no vendor fees. Participants of the antique tractor pull pay $15 per Garnett Public Library's book discussion for Wednesday, September 25th at 7pm, is titled, "None of This is True" by Lisa Jewell. "Celebrating her forty-fifth birthday at her local pub, popular podcaster Alix Summer crosses paths with an unassuming woman called Josie Fair. Josie, it turns out, is also celebrating her forty-fifth birthday. They are, in fact, birthday twins. A few days later, Alix and Josie bump into each other again, this time outside Alix's children's school. Josie has been listening to Alix's podcasts and thinks she might be an interesting subject for her series. She is, she tells Alix, on the cusp of great changes in her life. Josie's life appears to be strange and complicated, and although Alix finds her unsettling, she can't quite resist the temptation to keep making the podcast. Slowly she starts to realize that Josie has been hiding some very dark secrets, and before she knows it, Josie has inveigled her way into Alix's life—and into her home. But, as quickly as she arrived, Josie disappears. Only then does Alix discover that Josie has left a terrible and terrifying legacy in her wake, and that Alix has become the subject of her own true crime podcast, with her life and her family's lives under mortal threat. Who is Josie Fair? And what has she done?" (https://www.simonandschuster.com/books/None-of-This-Is-True/Lisa-Jewell/9781982179007).

A few years later the family moved back to Miami Co. KS to her Fischell grandparents farm, east of Paola. In the mid 1940s they moved into Paola. Virginia graduated from Paola High School in 1952 and on Nov. 16, 1952 she was married at the Methodist parsonage in Paola to Gerald Arthur Ellis, son of Loren Claude Ellis and Esther Bratton Ellis. children, to comfort the troubled and to take care of the less fortunate.

Lexy Langworthy led worship accompanied by Ethan and Ben Prasko. Songs were "Sweet By and By," "Goodness of God" and "Graves into Gardens."

God responds to the hearts of the people

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

God responds to the hearts of the people. In Genesis 6 we read, "The LORD saw how great mans wickedness on the earth had become and that every inclination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil all the time." The result of this wickedness, the lack of any inclination in the hearts of the people toward God, was God wiped mankind, whom he had created, from the earth. In Exodus 3 the LORD speaking to Moses says, "I have indeed seen the misery of my people in Egypt. I have heard them crying out because of their slave drivers, and I am concerned about their suffering." God goes on to say, "I have come down to rescue them from the hand of the Egyptians and to bring them up out of that land into a good and spacious land, a land flowing with milk and honey."

In the first instance we see how God responds to the silence of the people toward him. You see no response toward God is the same as a negative response toward God from us. If you sit in the church pew and feel you have fulfilled your required response toward God, never moving forward toward a deeper relationship with Jesus Christ, never seeking forgiveness for your sins then be advised the Bible says the full weight of your total sins will be on you alone. In Romans 3:23-24 Paul clearly points this out to us when he says, "for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified freely by his grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus."

I believe we often set ourselves up as a judge of God. The world has conditioned us to do this, we judge other people all the time. We have even been conditioned to think of God as being like ourselves and as such we can pass judgement on him. The people during Noah's time received God's justice. The Hebrews when they left Egypt received God's mercy. God responds to the heart of his people with either justice or mercy and it is all relative to prayer.

Why does Kansas Farm Bureau want higher production input costs for nation's farmers?

The lobby organization that does the bidding of Kansas Farm Bureau apparently believes high fuel prices, high chemical and other profit killing farm input costs are good for KFB members and for both producers and consumers in the rest of the country in general. Why else would it endorse Biden Administration vote-in-the-bag Sharice Davids for another term in congress?

The basic economics of farming aren't much different than they are for any other business. If costs of production exceed sales of product, you lose. Someone needs to explain that to VOTE FBF - the political action committee of Kansas Farm Bureau.

Imagine a local retailer who purchases inventory from a wholesaler then resells it from his downtown business storefront. Different profit models apply in different industries, but a typical method or price setting is cost of the product plus a multiplier to cover additional non-inventory costs like payroll and taxes and insurance and upkeep of facilities and equipment. Equipment wears out, so a prudent profit model includes a percentage set aside to replace that equipment when it's no longer serviceable. The whole idea is that business operators have more costs than simply the obvious ones in inventory and production, and if you don't cover those costs over the long term, you go out of business. Literally hundreds of businesses outside the farming industry fail every year in Kansas because they don't accommodate these costs and manage themselves accordingly. Staying in business, particularly in a rural state, is a tough job.

Farmers operate under a Catch 22 - they always have a market for their wares, but they have little if any real control over their pricing. Any farmer will tell you that he's felt the squeeze in the last couple of years under the Biden economy - which has been supported and exacerbated at every turn by Sharice Davids near perfect voting record in support of Biden Administration policy. If you've bought groceries or gasoline or car insurance or virtually anything else anytime in the last three years, you know exactly what's going on. Biden's awful, socialist-focused monetary policy of printing borrowed dollars and pumping trillions of them repeatedly into the economy, long after the challenges caused by government shutdown had passed, spawned inflation and high prices not seen in a generation.

Flooding the economy with all that cash is only part of the problem. Sharice Davids supported Biden in his quest to curtail petroleum production in the U.S., causing the massive spike in prices we've all been enduring since 2021. And that cost didn't just impact fuel; it jacked up costs of anything containing petroleum - fertilizers and weed suppressants and insecticides; rubber for tires and hoses and overall costs of shipping not to mention fuel that powers tractors and the combines tilling soil and harvesting crops.

REVIEW COMMENTARY

DANE HICKS, Publisher

Couple those price increases with the disastrous political climate which has been allowed to fester under poor American leadership on the world stage - a war in Europe, another one in the Middle East, OPEC oil production cuts and the resulting fears of geopolitical risk among world markets - and the reduction in commodity prices we've seen obviously follows.

And with every bobble, dropped pass, lost opportunity and incompetent judgment of the Biden Administration, Sharice Davids has been right there to vote in favor of it. Her voting record is clear and recorded in black and white.

Somehow Kansas Farm Bureau PAC thought this disastrous record and Davids' enabling of it justified a vote of confidence. Apparently even with everything she's done to help put Kansas farmers back into debt or out of business completely, KFB thought the time was right to go hat in hand to her just because she holds a seat on the House AG Committee, where a new U.S. Farm Bill always seems to be under discussion no matter when the last one was passed.

Although the majority of the vote in the Third District Congressional race will come from the population masses far removed from agriculture in Johnson and Wyandotte County, farmers across the Sunflower State should demand an explanation of this move by the state's leading farm organization which is so counterproductive to their interests. ###

There has been a big scandal with Amazon Alexa political bias pushing the Harris campaign. But Microsoft Bing Copilot AI is also brazenly providing the Harris campaign with priceless in-kind contributions, bypassing the federal elections commission. Try this yourself: Ask Microsoft Copilot for the viewership of Trump's RNC convention speech, and it will tell you it can't answer political questions. Then ask the exact same for viewership of Harris's DNC convention speech, and it will answer with celebratory detail and glee. You get the same disparity when asking for audiences of any Trump versus Harris event. This needs to be publicized. The fascist Democrat Party has a stranglehold on the flow of information in this country, like the totalitarians they are.

My daughter called and said in her apartment complex in Dallas they're having to staff 24-7 security to keep the gangs out of the vacant apartments in the complex. They break in doors and come in and set up drug hubs and brothels. She said what in the world is happening to this country. I said that's easy honey. Democrats. Please people, pray for our country.

A stunning fact from the Inspector General of the Department of Health and Human Services concluded Kamala Harris has lost 325,000 children brought to this country under her leadership as, yes, the Biden-appointed Border Czar. As if killing babies via late-term abortion isn't heinous enough, the Democrats have no qualms about voting child sex trafficking and labor abuse. If this isn't sick, I don't know what it is.

I was driving down Maple today in Garnett and I think it needs to be restated just how much better the trek through town looks with those two brand new buildings at the corner of Park and 31 and the rebuilt restaurant, the tearing down of that nasty old motel and all the work the state finally did on that road to try to fix the drainage. Just the appearance alone improves the welcome look to outsiders a hundred percent. But it all goes away at the corner of Fourth and Maple where the salvage yard is allowed to continue operating. What a junk pile that place is. All its missing is to line up gazing balls and used car parts by the road to start selling them. Good grief. Thank you.

Actually ABC, abortion survivors are allowed to die... in Minnesota

ABC's debate moderators' performance in Tuesday night's presidential debate made CNN's performance in June look like a master class in fairness, objectivity, and balance.

It was exactly the kind of debate moderation left-wing commentators on X have been demanding for months—years, really.

They don't want anything approaching objectivity. They wanted moderators to "fact-check" former President Donald Trump every step of the way while allowing his opponent to pontificate on questions they think will be beneficial to Democratic Party fortunes.

And that's essentially what happened. ABC News anchors David Muir and Linsey Davis continually "fact-checked" Trump in real time, arguing with him after nearly every answer. That makes for a horrible debate format.

Were the Lincoln-Douglas debates fact-checked by interjecting moderators? Of course not. The debate was between the two men and their ideas.

But in Tuesday night's debate, the moderators didn't even bother to create the mirage of objectivity. They hounded Trump every step of the way while stepping aside to allow Harris to make her points. They weren't fact-checking on behalf of the American people, they were interjecting on behalf of their partisan interest.

The fact-checks weren't even particularly accurate, not that that really seemed to matter to the moderators. For instance, when Trump said that Democrats in some states support afterbirth abortion, Davis interjected that "there is no state in this country where it is legal to kill a baby after birth."

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

As The Daily Signal has reported, there are many states—including Minnesota, the home state of Harris' running mate Gov. Tim Walz—that allow babies who survive abortions to die.

Harris didn't get this treatment at all. Moderators politely allowed Harris to say whatever she wanted.

Even in the most obvious case of Harris going with the tired fabrication about Trump calling white supremacists "very fine people" in Charlottesville, Va.—fact-checked as false by even the reliably left-wing Snopes—Muir and Davis said nothing.

The fix was in.

To a certain extent, left-wing journalists demanding this kind of rigging is understandable. They know that the ABCs and the CNNs of the world are in the tank for their candidates. Why not use their power of control over these debates to direct it in a way that benefits Democrats, who are so clearly on the right side of history?

That mentality won out on Tuesday night and left commentators were giddy on social media.

"I will say it ABC moderators have exceeded expectations. They are fact-checking and confronting, Washington Post columnist Jennifer Rubin posted on X. "Shows how abysmal CNN was."

That mirrors how the Left generally thinks all our society's institutions should work. Alternatives to the narratives the Left peddles should be carefully managed and massaged so the people are led to only one point of view.

That's why the Left had a full-blown meltdown when entrepreneur Elon Musk bought the social media platform formerly known as Twitter. It meant that they would no longer have the power to put the finger on the lever of amplifying the messages they like while suppressing the ones they don't.

But this sort of bias comes at a cost. Institutions that ply on their objectivity as their main selling point risk surrendering the power of that credibility when they blatantly put their finger on the scale for a particular ideology.

The unmitigated, unanswered gall of Hamas killing Americans

Famously, a message from Theodore Roosevelt's secretary of state, John Hay, electrified the 1904 Republican convention: "This Government wants Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead."

Ion Perdicaris, a wealthy Greek-American, had been kidnapped in Morocco by a bandit named Ahmed al-Raisuni. Hay's line served as a U.S. ultimatum to bring the affair, after the deployment of the U.S. Navy to Morocco and drawn-out negotiations, to a conclusion.

We've come a long way from the time when the kidnapping of one American, whose citizenship was actually a little murky, elicited a thunderous reaction as a matter of national principle.

Needless to say, no one is ever going to mistake Joe Biden for TR, one of the most compelling figures in American history, but the president couldn't be a better representative of our attenuated sense of national honor.

A terrorist group killed and kidnapped U.S. citizens and is still holding them in horrific conditions, and the U.S. government has been doing a tap dance between the terrorists and an Israeli government fighting and bleeding to try to save them.

U.S. officials condemn Hamas, yet there is none of the righteous fury one would expect of a government whose citizens have been subjected to such grotesque mistreatment.

When Hamas murdered Hersh Goldberg-Polin in cold blood, President Biden blamed Israeli Prime Minister Bibi Netanyahu for his recalcitrance in negotiations - even though Hamas took the hostages, Hamas has refused to release them, Hamas has a policy of killing them if there is some chance they could get rescued,

NATIONAL COMMENTARY

and Hamas threatens to do the same again.

We've imposed no significant consequences on Iran for its sponsorship of a terror group with American blood on its hands.

We are mealy-mouthed and skittish, a superpower constrained by its unwillingness to fully take its own side in a fight.

We should feel a profound sense of national embarrassment, but Joe Biden doesn't embarrass easily. He left U.S. citizens behind in Afghanistan and has failed to neutralize a ragtag band of rebels who continue to disrupt shipping in the Red Sea despite the presence of the U.S. Navy.

Back in 1904, when Perdicaris was released and saw U.S. vessels in the water outside Tangier, he exulted at "such proof of his country's solicitude for its citizens and for the honor of its flag."

Biden is now falling short not just of the TR standard, but that set by Lord Palmerston, the great British foreign secretary, under much less provocation. In 1850, Palmerston sent the Royal Navy to vindicate the interests of David Pacifico, a British citizen and Jew born in Gibraltar, who was seeking recompense from the Greek government for the destruction of his property.

Responding to his critics, Palmerston delivered a nearly five-hour speech defining the question in the matter as, "whether, as the Roman, in days of old, held himself free from indignity, when he could say Civis Romanus sum [I am a Roman citizen]; so also a British subject, in whatever land he may be, shall feel confident that the watchful eye and the strong arm of England, will protect him against injustice and wrong."

Of course, the sentiments of Hay and Palmerston are from long ago. It is likely that Joe Biden and the people around him feel about those attitudes the way John Kerry felt after Vladimir Putin went into Ukraine the first time in 2014: "You just don't in the 21st century behave in 19th-century fashion."

National honor, in any robust sense, presumably strikes them as atavistic and chauvinistic, too simplistic and unyielding for the demands of our complicated times. Hamas, though, isn't playing by 21st-century rules. It is acting by the same bloody-minded imperatives of barbarians from any time or place. We may think we are responding with great subtlety and sophistication, but we shouldn't be surprised if they consider us weaklings and fools.

Coin shooting for the first time in quite some time

Henry Roeckers
Call (785) 504-4722 for local archeology information.

On August the 22nd I did something I hadn't done in a long time. I went coin shooting. Otherwise, I went metal detecting for coins etc.

I finally got around to paying a visit to one of my favorite parks. I went in the afternoon and it was quite hot, so I only spent 1 1/2 hours searching for those lost coins. As you can see I found 8 quarters and 2 dimes. ($2.20). Of course all of them were modern and mostly of the State series.

I'm trying to figure out why so many quarters are lost. Of course these days you can't buy anything for a penny, nickel or dime. Back when I was young for a quarter, I could go to a movie for $.14, get a bag of popcorn for $.10 and have a penny left for bubble gum. I sure wish I'd kept those baseball player cards that came with the bubble gum. I had Babe Ruth, Mickey Mantle, etc. etc.

I'll sure be glad to get back to my farm site, but for now it's just too dry and hard to do any excavation. For now I guess I'll just have to be satisfied doing a little more coin shooting.

The Review's attorney Max Kautsch, who also serves as the Kansas Press Association's legal counsel on government transparency issues, said the issue illuminated the grassroots importance of open records laws and the importance for government officials at every level to be familiar with records they maintain which are actually owned by and subject to review by the public.

Frontier District Director Rebecca McFarland refused to provide the records first under limited exemptions to the state's open record law. It (the exemption) is applicable only if information in a record meets the definition of "clearly unwarranted invasion of privacy" found in K.S.A. 45-217(d), which means "revealing information" that would be both "highly offensive to a reasonable person" and "not of legitimate concern to the public," Kautsch wrote in a letter to McFarland.

"Simply put, last names do not qualify as 'information highly offensive to a reasonable person.' The law was designed to protect information like social security numbers and birthdates, the disclosure of which would most certainly be "highly offensive." The same cannot be said for information that could be found in a phone-book," he said.

"Moreover," Kautsch wrote, "as the District recognized for decades, and as other Extension Offices still understand, disclosure of the full names is a matter of public concern in a community where the county fair is so important to so many. The District cannot show that disclosing the last names is 'not of legitimate concern to the public.'"

A summary of the federal law, the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act under the administration of the Federal Trade Commission, defines it as imposing "certain requirements on operators of websites or online services directed to children under 13 years of age, and on operators of other websites or online services that have actual knowledge that they are collecting personal information online from a child under 13 years of age." Neither the Review nor the Frontier Extension District fit those qualifiers, Kautsch said. Legal counsel for the Extension District said the district was simply trying to protect children.

"Our client's main concern throughout this discussion has been the safety of the children who participate," wrote Blaine Finch, lawyer for the district, in reply. "We believe your client shares these concerns as well, so we would urge caution as to the use of these minors' personal information within the commercial enterprise operated by your client both in print and in the online platforms without first gaining consent from the guardians of these minors."

Anderson County Review publisher Dane Hicks said the extension district's denial of the information delayed the publication of the newspaper's "Winners Circle" results tabloid from the Anderson County Fair by three weeks. The section was published and is distributed today in this edition of the Review.

"What we were asking for is the same information we've been publishing to recognize those kids for their 4H projects since the early 1900s," Review Publisher Dane Hicks said. "It's this 'abundance of caution' nonsense government used to close everything down and clamp everything shut during Covid, and now it's their knee-jerk reaction to everything," Hicks said. "These bureaucrats have to be reminded from time to time that the law is the law, not a suggestion they can take or leave at their fancy."

McFarland did not respond to an email seeking comment for this story Wednesday.

The public's attitude toward ABC and their cohorts and the media has followed the same course as public health institutions in the wake of the COVID-19 lockdowns. When after months of telling everyone to lock down for everyone else's safety, they largely came out in favor of Black Lives Matter protests because "racism is the real pandemic," they lost an enormous number of American who will never trust them again.

ABC's moderators' performance Tuesday night is a perfect example of why we have "populism."

Did Trump fall into the traps ABC and the Harris campaign set in this 3-on-1 debate? Yes, probably. They will now pat themselves on the back and think of it as a job well done until Election Day.

With some Americans, that's all good and well. Trump is too dangerous to be given a fair shake. With a fair debate, the people may choose poorly.

But the stacked deck highlighted the theme that Trump has always used to great success with his supporters since he became the Republican presidential nominee the first time way back in 2015. The system is rigged against you. The system hates Trump because it hates his supporters.

That message was driven home on Tuesday night. Maybe this was mission accomplished for ABC, but Muir and Davis did a disservice to the American people and certainly discredited themselves.

2024 FALL SPORTS

ACHS football still in search of their first winning season since 2009

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – In 2023, another sub .500 season marked the 14th consecutive year of the Anderson County Bulldogs finishing without a winning record.

It will be the fourth season for the Bulldogs football team under the coaching of Luke Catloth. So far they have had minimal success during his tenure.

Catloth finished his first year with a 2-7 record, was 3-6 in his 2nd year and regressed to 2-7 again last season.

Their only regular season win last year was against Osawatomie before closing out the season with a win against Galena in a consolation game which pits them against another team that didn't make the postseason to conclude their schedule.

Offense was hard to come by last year for the Bulldogs as they were limited to 20 points or less in 6 of their 7 losses.

Lady Bulldog volleyball retooling following a successful 2023 campaign

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – Tarrie Miller led the Anderson County Bulldogs to a solid 26-11 record in her third season at the helm, including finishing 1st in the Pioneer League.

It will be tough to duplicate that success with 7 departing seniors and a schedule that includes many 5A and 6A schools and no returning varsity seniors, so the odds will be stacked against them.

The seven seniors they are trying to replace are Brenna Kohlmeier, Brooke Gale, Rilyn Sommer, Eva Bures, Caitlyn Foltz, Aubrey Thompson and Kailyn Honn.

Trying to lead the rebuilding year will be returning varsity players Rose Katzer, Jordan Miller and Brylie Kholmeier. They are all juniors.

It is a fairly young varsity roster overall as the Bulldogs have 2 seniors, 4 juniors, 3 sophomores and a freshman.

Bulldog cross country looking to rebuild roster

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – Make no mistake about it, the Anderson County Bulldog cross country program has struggled in recent years to live up to their incredible reputation of the past couple of decades.

Within the last decade, the girls program was once shooting for their 10th straight league title. The boys teams were often at or near the top of the league year in and year out as well.

The lack of participants is making it difficult to regain those lofty expectations. “This year, we are at a point where our rebuilding efforts are trying to find their footing,” long time head Coach Mike Sibley stated.

Sibley will be leading the cross country program for his 20th year this season. “We are expecting to have the lowest numbers we have had in the past 20 years of my tenure,” Sibley added.

Not without effort to recruit new runners, Coach Sibley has struggled to build on the core of runners that the team had last year.

Despite the low numbers, the team isn’t without a solid core of runners.

The team is very excited to bring back 3 talented varsity runners in senior Brodie Wiesner, senior Brody Barnes and sophomore Grant Nienstedt.

Wiesner was 1st team all-league last year and both Barnes and Nienstedt were 2nd team all-league in the Pioneer League.

His trio has the potential to lead the team towards a run at the Pioneer League Championship. This will take some other runners stepping up for this to happen.

Sibley stated, “To do so, they will need to help inspire returning senior Zykin Velvick, and sophomore athletes Wesley Mills and Owen Hawkins to pack up with them and run as a team.”

On the Girls side, returning letter winner Hope Hill will be the only female runner at the first meet. Coach Sibley hopes to get Emma Bauman, who was a letter winner last year, healthy and see some newcomers including Rayna Kuhlman and Adriann Fennama come along as the season progresses.

Losing Landon Kraft and Addie Fudge to graduation will hurt not only in performance but leadership as well as they both were 4-time all league runners.

Sibley concluded, “As our recruiting efforts continue, we hope to inspire other athletes to join the team and build on the success that we have had over the past 55 seasons.”

AC girls golf team is inexperienced but driven

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT – Despite only one returning letter winner and an young team, Head Coach Nicole Wiehl is looking forward to coaching her squad as she enters her 16th season.

The only returning letterman is sophomore Rylee Hill.

Coach Wiehl expects Hill to lead on the course as well as off.

“I know Rylee is capable of improving her game as well as helping her teammates have a fun and successful year.”

Newcomer Jady Parks has caught the eye of Wiehl early in this young season.

“Although a freshman, I really think Jady will help this young team with our overall score,” Wiehl said. “She has a natural swing and already knows a lot about golf since playing in junior high under the coaching of Marty Alley.”

Last year the Lady Bulldogs finished first in the Pioneer League and 3rd at the Basehor Invitational behind graduated players Reagan Witherspoon and Lexi Overstreet.

Witherspoon qualified for the state tournament as an individual, which is very tough to do.

Coach Wiehl said of Witherspoon, “She was a very consistent player that will be missed tremendously.”

Wiehl added, “Lexi will not be missed for her golf experience but her team camaraderie.”

Overstreet is playing golf this year at Coffeyville Community College.

Also new to the team this year are senior Ruth Burkdoll and Vicky Vega, sophomores Anna Danner, Rylee Hill, Marlee Hollon and Emily Sobba as well as freshman Jaelyn Leyser.

Coach just thinks early in the season her young team just needs to focus on their fundamentals. Ball striking and consistency need to improve so that the team can compete in the future.

“We have a very young team with little tournament experience,” Wiehl stated. “First we just need to get comfortable playing in a tournament setting.”

The goals of the team have been tempered slightly as the ultimate goal is a state appearance but Coach Wiehl has a more realistic initial goal.

“I would like to see over half the team take 7-10 strokes off their starting scores. They just need to keep going because the next shot is the most important and good golf doesn’t just happen overnight,” Wiehl said.

Despite the inexperience, Coach Wiehl is very enthusiastic with the group she has. They are a competitive bunch that is willing to put in the extra work to improve their game.

Wiehl concluded, “It’s very exciting as a coach to watch young people take an initiative and improve their game on their own time.”

Congratulations to all players, coaches & families!

Lancers football expecting growth after rebuild year

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

COLONY - Last season was a rebuilding year as they had their first losing season following a run of four straight winning seasons.

After having to replace all their starters from the previous season. Despite that, the Lancers began the season 3-1, but lost four of their last five games to finish 4-5.

Key losses to last year's team are Ryan Golden, Logan Kistner and Jerry Rodriguez.

Golden led the defense with 4 interceptions. Rodriguez was second on the team with 227 yards receiving and 4 touch-downs and Kistner was second on the team with 53 tackles on the year.

The top returners are Jensen Barker, Kade Nilges, Gentry McGhee, Denton Ramsey and Drake Weir.

It was a difficult year having to run out new starters at every position on both sides of the ball but the Lancers adjusted pretty well.

"Last year was a growth year," fifth year head coach Nick McAnulty stated.

McAnulty added, "We went through some growing pains along the way, but we saw improvements and I was happy with the growth we showed."

This year the Lancers will be returning half their starters and are adding some experience with the return of Henry White who missed 6 games to injury a year ago.

Coach McAnulty concluded, "We should be a more mature and disciplined team this year."

After a record breaking year, Crest volleyball has a new coach

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

COLONY - It isn't easy on a new head coach trying to instill their nuances and expectations that may be different from the previous coach, but first year Coach Carlyn Crow of the Crest Lancers volleyball team has extra pressure as she is following up back-to-back record breaking winning seasons for the team.

During the 2022 season, the Lancers set a team record with wins going 26-8 only to be one-upped by the 2023 team as they finished the year as sub-state runner-ups with a 28-8 record for the year.

Despite being her first season at the helm, Coach Crow knows exactly what she is getting into as she has coached the junior high squad last year so witnessed it firsthand.

Gone from last year's team are Kayla Hermreck and Brooklyn Jones. Hermreck was First team All-League in the Three Rivers Conference and was on the second team All-State team.

Leading the way for the Lancers will be seniors Karlee Boots, 2nd team all-league last year, and Cursten Allen. They will be joined by juniors Kinley Edgerton and Kaelin Nilges.

Last year's team came close to qualifying for the state tournament, which is what they have their sights set on this year their coach said.

"This year we have a strong group of individuals with varsity experience under their belt. We have a large junior class and many of them play club volleyball together outside of the school season," Coach Crow stated. "This group is a hard-working group and because they've all played together on varsity for multiple years, they have the chemistry that you need to be successful in this sport."

Lancer runners have high hopes heading into the season

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

COLONY - It's not often that the core of a team that has finished in the top 3 state the last 2 seasons returns, but that is exactly the case for the Crest Lady Lancers cross country team.

Not only are they all returning, they are all just juniors this year as the run started with their freshmen campaign.

In 2022 the Lancers finished 3rd in State and in 2023 they finished in 2nd place.

As a freshman, Josie Walter finished in 3rd, followed by Peyton Schmidt in 14th and Aubrey Allen was 24th.

As sophomores, the trio duplicated their success as Walter finished in 5th, Schmidt in 10th and Allen crossed in 31st place.

The fourth runner last year was Kaylee Allen, but she was a senior so the Lancers need someone else to step up so the Lancers can compete as a team.

The addition Kallei Robb, a freshman, is that fourth runner.

"I am looking forward to see what she can do for us this year," head coach Kaitlyn Cummings said.

She added, "Kallei has been working hard all summer putting in the miles."

girls work together very well and have been together since middle school, helping with the team dynamic.

"Individually they are very determined to do their best and work hard," Coach Cummings added.

The 6th year coach is not only looking forward at the chance to coach the girls, but is excited to have enough boys this year to compete as a team as well.

"For the first time in my six years I have a full boys team," Cummings stated.

"I am beyond excited for this," she added. "We have three returning seniors, adding two Freshman Grady Allen and Jimmy Ayers. These boys are just as excited as I am. We are ready to see some competition and see how our work we have put in pay off."

The three returning boys are seniors Gunner Ellington, Elijah Taylor and Ryan West.

Cummings concluded, "We are a close knit group that works as a team. It is a bonus to have parents and a community who support our team endlessly."

Central Heights Vikings cross country loaded with talent and experience

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

RICHMOND – Last year was just another season of success for the Central Heights Vikings cross country program under 9th year head coach Troy Prosser.

The boys won the regional championship and placed fourth in State at the 2A State meet. Each of the boys and girls squads had a pair of finishers in the top 20 in the state competition.

Three players graduated from last season's team. They are Nicholas Schultze, Lillie Johnson and Alexis Davis.

Returning letterwinners from last year's girl's team are Emma Cubit, Melaney Chrisjohn, Sky Fritchman and Arabella Dunbar. Cubit finished 6th at State and Chrisjohn finished just outside the top 10 in 11th place.

Boy returning letter-winners are Alex Skeet, Connor Burkdoll, Cody Hammond, Christian McCord, Owen Miller, Aidan Dunbar, Aidan Howland and Brylan Sommer.

Hammond and Burkdoll finished 7th and 17th respectively at State.

Expectations are high again for the 2023 team. Obviously Coach Prosser wants his athletes to finish at the top but the results come when the preparation is done correctly.

"Stay healthy, being great teammates, representing the school with class and good sportsmanship and improving are always top priority," Prosser stated. "Wins and losses are almost always a result of preparation and focus."

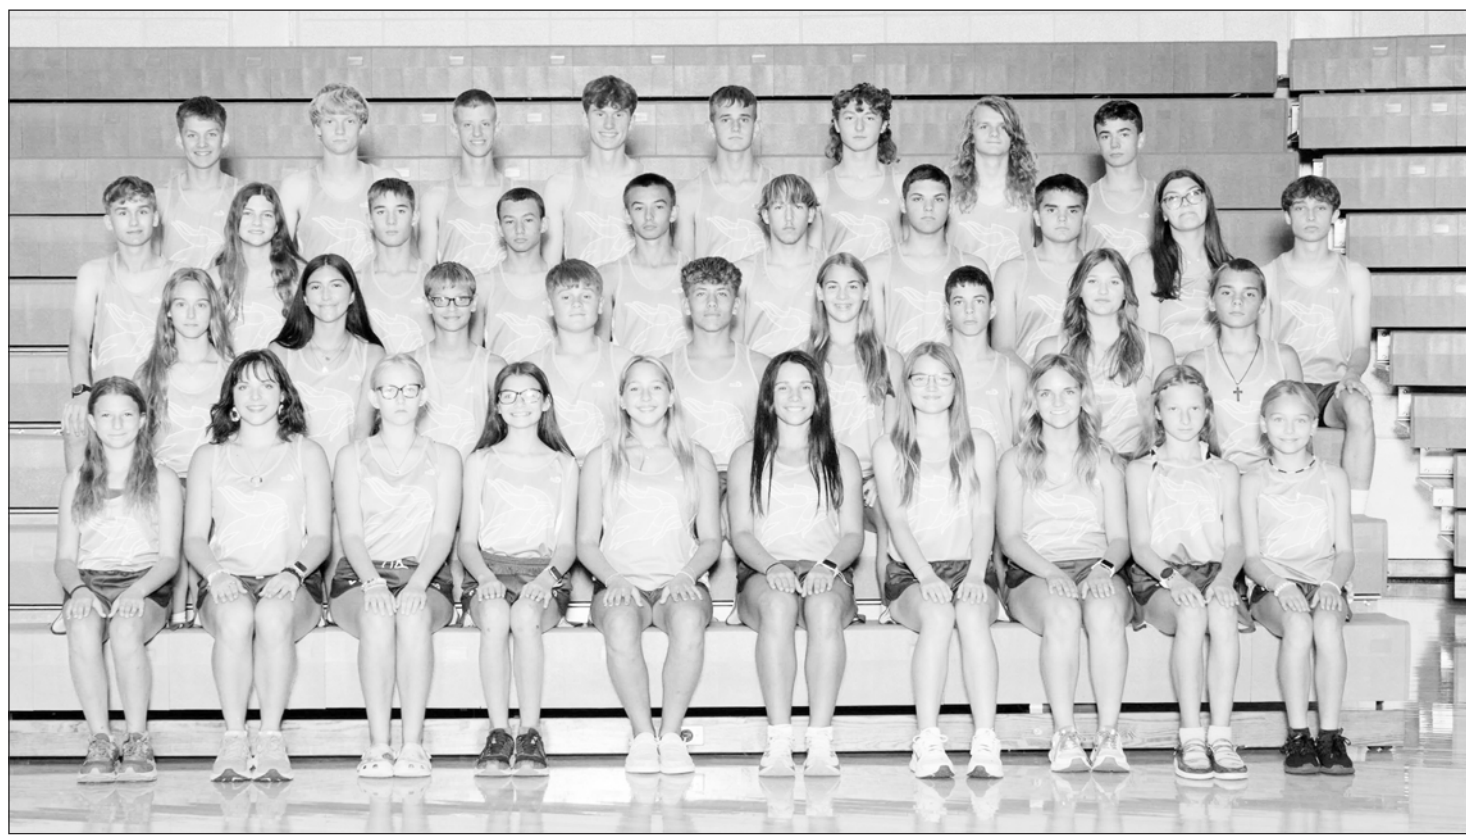

This year's team is loaded with experienced runners who look to win as individuals and teams.

It's not always easy in the Flint Hills League though which has some stellar programs in divisions 1A, 2A and 3A. "There is no lack of challenge at any level," Prosser added.

To accomplish those goals, the teams will rely on their experience and work ethic.

Coach Prosser understands with success comes pressure, "From time to time some of the athletes will put too much pressure on themselves," said Prosser.

"Every single kid in the program is important. They all bring something to the table that the team needs and can learn from each other on a daily basis," concluded Prosser.

Vikings football faced with uncertainty as they head into a new league

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

RICHMOND – The Central Heights Vikings football team won their first playoff game in recent memory as second year coach Sam Oram got his team to buy in to both the playbook and his philosophies but entering a new league brings a new group of teams to play.

In year 2, Coach Oram is hoping his team will now take the next step in the progression. "We want to be competitive in every game," the coach said. "We want to come away with a winning season and try and win two playoff games."

The Vikings finished last season 5-5, so despite winning a playoff game it marked the 16th consecutive year of finishing the season without a winning record.

This year comes with some new teams on the schedule as the Vikings transition to the Three Rivers League.

"I don't know much about a few of the teams we will play, but I think our toughest games will be Jayhawk-Linn, Council Grove and Humboldt."

Some key losses from last year include Colten Caswell, Jose Velez, Brycen Velez, Caden Newell and Baker Moore.

B. Velez rushing for 1078 yards on 139 carries and scored 13 touchdowns. B. Velez added 202 yards receiving on 5 receptions and scored 3 more times through the air.

Caswell led the defense with 7 sacks and finished fourth on the team with 39 tackles.

Moore is a big loss in the defensive backfield as he led the team with 6 interceptions.

"We are going to be a younger team this year and are also thin at the skilled position," Coach Oram said. Coach Oram did say the team does have sound young talent though as well.

Last year's leading tackler junior Max Chrisjohn returns. He finished the season with 53 tackles. Joining him on the defense are seniors Landon Lopez and Brody Roulett who combined for 80 tackles and 7.5 sacks.

Lady Vikings have talent, now they just need to 'Learn to Win'

BY KEVIN GAINES THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

RICHMOND – Sometimes talent and experience isn't enough for a team to turn around a recent rough stretch when it comes to winning, and that is exactly what 3rd year Central Heights Vikings coach Marissa Horstick is looking for her club to overcome.

"A weakness of ours is we are still learning what it takes to win games," Coach Horstick said. A solid group of upperclassmen could be just what it takes to turn things around as the team has 4 seniors and 6 juniors.

Horstick added, "If we can overcome our doubt and learn to win games, we will be very exciting to watch this year."

The team finished 8-23 last year but that wasn't indicative of the growth the team made.

"We went from a team that couldn't handle basic fundamental drills in practice to a team that battled nearly every match," Coach Horstick stated.

Despite being the first year in a new league as the Vikings are joining the Three Rivers League, the Vikings feel like they can make huge strides this season.

Horstick stated she is unsure of what the new competition will look like but does know that Jayhawk-Linn and Crest appear to be the toughest contenders in the league as they are both very strong offensively.

Returning letterwinners include seniors Sydney Evans, Jaley Ferguson, Lyla Hamblin and Addison Ouellette as well as sophomore Kaylor Matile.

Joining them will be a pair of freshmen, Joiey Ferguson and Jayde Ogle, who if they play to their full potential will be huge offensive and defensive assets.

Evans is a senior setter in her 3rd year as the starter. According to her coach she brings a ton of experience, skill and leadership to the team.

Hamblin, a junior, is a middle hitter also in her 3rd year. Coach Horstick will rely on her offensive power and is also one of the better defensive players on the team.

"Our goal is to win. Our team is hungry to see success, and have been working hard the last two years to improve both during season and in the off-season," Coach Horstick concluded.

Richmond gets new fire station, among many other town happenings

by Pat Vining

The town of Richmond is not catching on fire, but you'll certainly see red when you notice the new fire station which is East of Highway 59 Service Station. The 80ft. X 76ft. steel-sided building was designed by Ken Coleman and built by Quality Structures in what seemed like a short amount of time.

"Quality Structures is proud to help serve the city of Richmond and local communities," said Rick Gudenukauf, General Manager. This is only one of numerous projects QSI has helped with or been almost totally responsible for as in the case of the Show Barn for the Richmond Free Fair Assn.

Gudenukauf said many employees assisted with the fire station project from Pat DuPont in the beginning to Ken Coleman in the design dept., to Matt Batchelor who is also on the Fire Dept. board.

"There is also an attached office/training area on the south that is 40ft. X 24 ft.," the QSI manager said. There are four bays for trucks which leaves room for an addition since the department now has three trucks.

Background information was furnished by Lester Wuertz, Richmond Fire Dept. president, who said QSI is in the process of placing water and electricity lines before the concrete floor is poured.

Members of the Fire Dept. board in addition to Wuertz are Aaron Clifton, Charlie Hirt, Matt Bachelor and Donna Fernandez. Bob Cardell is a past board member who also worked on this project.

The department currently has two buildings, one a small, very old one just East of the Community Center which has no heat. It is owned by the city which will make any decisions about it later.

The other, west of the fairgrounds, was built before 1980 on former Robert Gault property and houses two fire trucks with no room to spare. A decision about this building has not yet been made and probably won't be until the fire dept. is completely moved out of it, said Wuertz.

A project of this kind takes vision and perseverance plus a lot of time and patience, and the area's residents are grateful to the Richmond Fire Dept. for the new, handsome building which will make service faster and easier.

The new fire station isn't the only thing going on in Richmond.

If one drives west down Central Ave. in Richmond, toward Beachner's Grain (formerly the Co-op), there are several new or almost new things to see.

First, at the corner, is Mums Company which will be open weekends until all the chrysanthemums are sold. This is the fourth year Rick and Julie Furst have sold mums at that location and this year they added asters. The couple has plans for some creative additions to the property in the future.

Further west, the most noticeable change will be the City Hall sign on the north side of the street, over the former Patriots Bank building. City Hall acquired the building in the spring, made a few changes and was soon enjoying handsome new offices. Faith Sage is city clerk.

Richmond's mayor is Peg Pearson and other city council members are John Overton, Mike Topp, Helen Feuerborn and Adam Horstick.

When City Hall vacated its former location, the stage was set for the adjacent Richmond Public Library to add that space and more than double its size.

"We've needed more space badly," said library director Connie Weber, "and this was perfect for us. There is even a common wall since at one time the library had been part of the café which became City Hall."

That's when a friend of the library, Barbara Lane, stepped up and donated the total amount needed to purchase the former city hall. The timing was perfect, also, since the library's Summer Reading Program was about to start.

"Words can't say how grateful we are to Barbara," said Weber. "This space will take some repairs but will be used as a meeting room for book discussions, crafts, and other purposes."

It was used immediately for the Summer Reading Program which had a total of 48 persons of all ages involved. There were 33 craft or event days with total attendance of 354 persons, said Weber.

Donations will be accepted for repairs, she added.

The city has condemned a few properties and will probably add to that list.

Mike and Lynda Topp purchased a place across the highway from their house and had M&L Mini Storage constructed. (This is back on Highway 59, not on Central Ave.)

Other changes include a new ceiling, the whole place painted, new interior doors, and both bathrooms updated.

Income for the Community Bldg. comes from a monthly breakfast, renting the space, Bingo which is the third Sunday of each month, and the annual Smorgasbord in April.

Officers in addition to McIntosh are Aaron Clifton, president, Christi Mader, Tracy Clifton and Georgia Miller.

The Richmond-Berea Cemetery Assn. has made improvements at both cemeteries the last couple of years.

About $10,000 has been spent to repair some of the oldest stones, or monuments, which were in poor condition. Dunbar added that this work has not increased the cemetery's budget (or mill levy).

Other board members are Rob Cardell, Jerry Horstick, Rhonda Frank, Lester Wuertz, and Tom Horstick.

The Richmond Community Museum invites you to mark your calendar for Sunday, Oct. 27th, for a program by Prof. Emeritus Jim Heiman who will talk about Colorful Kansas City Characters from WWI through the 1930s. The program will start at 2 pm because of an early Chiefs game that day.

And that's a quick trip down Richmond's main street and up to cemetery hill.

Organizers urge: Don't learn safety by accident

COVINGTON, LA – For the 80th year in a row, the United States is celebrating National Farm Safety and Health Week (NFSHW) during the third week of September – this year it takes place September 15-21, 2024. NFSHW is a time to increase awareness of the high injury and fatality risk in agriculture and to improve agricultural health outcomes through outreach and education. Data from the Census of Fatal Occupational Injury shows that in 2022 the agriculture, forestry, and fishing industries had the highest rate of fatal work injuries compared to other occupations, at 23.5 deaths per 100,000 full-time workers – the majority due to incidents with transportation or equipment (U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, 2023). Preventative education is key to reduce the workplaces rates of injuries and fatalities, which is aptly mirrored in the 2024 NFSHW theme chosen by the National Education Center for Agricultural Safety (NECAS), “Don't Learn Safety by Accident.”

AgriSafe is proud to support this cause, hosting 11 free educational webinars for NFSHW from Monday the 16th through Friday the 20th. Each weekday has a specific topic: Monday is Equipment and Rural Roadway Safety; Tuesday is Health and Wellness; Wednesday is Generations of Farming; Thursday is Confined Spaces; and Friday is Reporting Ag Injuries. All webinars will take place on Zoom from 11am-12pm CT and 1-2pm CT and will have live Spanish interpretation (except for the bonus webinar for ag educators which will take place 3-4pm CT on Wednesday). Many topics will be covered during this week, including skid loader safety, farm succession planning, oxygen deficiency in confined spaces, using apps to assess heat stress risks, and more! For more information or to register for these free webinars please visit: <https://www.agrisafe.org/nfshw/>.

If you are interested in promoting National Farm Safety and Health Week, check out AgriSafe's marketing materials for the webinars in our Dropbox, view the NFSHW promotional toolkit from the Upper Midwest Agricultural Safety and Health Center (UMASH) on their website, and access the NFSHW logo from the National Education Center for Agricultural Safety (NECAS) on their website.

AgriSafe is grateful for the sponsors and partners that make National Farm Safety and Health Week successful: the Central States Center for Agricultural Health and Safety (CS-CASH); the Southwest Center for Agricultural Health, Injury Prevention, and Education; the Southeastern Coastal Center for Agricultural Health and Safety; the Agri-Services Agency (ASA); CHS; Pork Checkoff; the National Corn Growers Association; GreenPoint Ag; and Successful Farming.

1 UNDERSTAND LIVESTOCK BEHAVIOUR In some Canadian provinces, over half of all farm-related injuries involve large animals such as cattle and horses. Understanding livestock behaviour can help keep you (and your animals) safer.	2 CHEMICAL SAFETY Farms have a number of chemical risks that are often overlooked. Some of the risks are with methane emissions, silo gas, nitrates, and ammonia, just to name a few. Silo gasses can also be extremely hazardous. Learn to identify chemical hazards and get proper training to protect yourself against them.	3 FIRST AID TRAINING One or more farmers should have up-to-date first aid training in the event that an accident or injury does occur. First aid kits and emergency contact numbers should be easily accessible at all times. As well, everyone should have access to a phone or cell phone.	4 HEARING PROTECTION Loud machinery and equipment is part of the job - but that doesn't mean your ears have to suffer. farmers are often exposed to high levels of noise for long periods of time, so it's important to use proper hearing protection equipment.
5 GENERAL RISKS Farmers also need to be aware of general safety risks, such as slips, falls, working at heights risks, ergonomic risks (strains and muscle pulls), and more. Completing a Farm Safety training course can help you identify risks and learn to mitigate them.	6 FARM RESOURCES Knowing the resources you have available to help keep yourself and other workers safe is important. Put these resources to use! If you find it helpful, keep a folder on your computer with helpful resources saved on it.	7 TRAINING RESOURCES Just like farming resources, training resources are important too. Proper training is one of the best ways to reduce injuries and accidents. Ensure you're in contact with safety trainers - especially if a new farmer joins the team.

Garnett to conduct "Chlorine Burn" starting Oct. 1st

The City of Garnett Water Department will be conducting a free chlorine burn for disinfection of the water distribution system beginning October 1st, 2024. This process will last about three to four weeks. Flushing and chlorine burns are routine distribution system maintenance conducted by utilities with chloramine disinfection. Chlorine burns also reduce the potential future occurrence of coliform or other types of bacteria in the system. During this free chlorine burn, the water disinfection process will be changed from chloramines to free chlorine which is a stronger and faster-acting disinfectant. The fire hydrants will be opened to allow flushing of the system to help remove sediment from the pipes and distribute the change in disinfectant. Customers may notice open fire hydrants throughout the city during this period. At the end of the free burn, the standard chemicals used for disinfections will be reintroduced to the system and be returned to normal operating conditions.

Possible Noticeable Effects
It is important to understand that during this temporary change there may be some discoloration or cloudiness in the water and possibly a chlorine odor or taste. If this is experienced, please run the water through the tap until it clears. Minor pressure fluctuations and small air pockets may also occur. Fire hydrant flushing should remove most of the color and odor, but some may reach customer lines during the process. Discoloration in laundry is also possible during this time. It is recommended that customers check for discolored water before adding clothes to their washing machine. If discolored water appears, customers can set their washing machine to spin cycle to purge the water, and then refill the machine with clear water. In addition, customers may wish to purchase and use a cleaning additive to help prevent or remove any discoloration that may occur.

Is the Water Safe to Drink?
Yes, the water is safe to drink throughout this process and boiling water is not necessary. Customers may notice a change to the taste and smell from the water and may want to let their water tap run for 15 minutes or until the water runs clear. Any odor and color issues will subside as the flushing is completed. Customers who use tap water for kidney dialysis at home should properly monitor their process for complete neutralization of disinfectant residual and should contact their doctor for more information. Customers utilizing the water for aquariums should monitor the chlorine residuals.

Why is this burn out necessary?
The City routinely collects samples and monitors the water quality. The Garnett Water Department is tasked with ensuring that water in all points of the system is acceptable to our customers. Over time minerals and metals, which are naturally present in water sources, can increase and attach to pipes and release when there are changes in pressure, resulting in discoloration, odor or affected taste. Other processes such as nitrification and the growth of biofilm can also occur in water distribution pipes. The biofilm growth can cause a reduction in the effectiveness of residual disinfectants over time. This free chlorine "burn-out" will help cleanse the lines, reduce the occurrence of nitrification and biofilm, and ensure that we provide quality water for the citizens.

If you have questions please contact Garnett City Hall, 785-448-5496, and the Garnett Water Department will return your call.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 09-12-2024 / DANE HICKS

AC's Aleck Smith wraps up the interloper as Wellsville's Matt Newhouse picks off an errant Landon Schillig pass. The AC Bulldogs would trail 28-0 after the first quarter on their way to a 49-7 defeat in their season opener at home last Friday.

Wellsville overwhelms Bulldogs in season opener

GARNETT – The wind was sucked out of the excitement of the season opener at home last Friday night as Wellsville struck early and often jumping out to a 28-0 first quarter lead en route to a 49-7 win.

Wellsville scored in the first quarter on runs of 42, 8 and 1 yard and the fourth touchdown on the period came on a 20 yard pass and catch to finish the first quarter leading 28-0.

Wellsville would continue to pour it on in the second quarter scoring on runs of 15 and 11 yards to open up a 42-0 halftime lead.

The visitors would let off the gas some in the second half scoring a lone touchdown in the third quarter on a 10 yard pass and was held scoreless in the fourth.

The Bulldogs finally got on the board with a 35 yard touchdown pass from Landon Schillig to Christian Barnett in the fourth quarter.

Anderson County was limited to 131 yards on 39 plays, good for just 3.4 yards per play.

Schillig would finish the game connecting on 8 of 16 passes, 74 yards, 1 touchdown but did throw 2 interceptions.

Barnett led the Bulldogs with 2 catches for 46 yards and one touchdown.

Owen Thompson hauled in 2 passes for 15 yards, Aidan Steele had 3 catches for 11 yards and Aleck Smith had 1 reception for 2 yards.

Camryn Wilson was limited to 26 yards rushing on 15 carries coming out of the backfield.

Steele toted the ball 5 times for 15 yards, Schillig had 1 attempt for 9 yards and Barnett had 2 rushes for 7 yards.

Quinton King led the defense with 9 stops. Zach Schaffer was close behind with 7 and then Steele and Thompson each had 4 tackles.

FORT SCOTT – On Wednesday, the Anderson County Lady Bulldogs traveled to Fort Scott to square off against both Fort Scott and Nevada, earning a split for the evening.

had the upper hand winning the hard fought match in 3 sets. AC won the first set 25-19 before dropping the second set 25-22 but rebounded to win the decisive third set 25-23.

Nevada was a different story as they downed the Bulldogs 25-21 in the opening match before controlling the second set to the tune of 25-13 for the win.

UNIONTOWN – After dropping their first two games to Baxter Springs and Yates Center on Saturday, Central Heights picked up a pair of wins by knocking off Pleasanton and Marmaton Valley.

Baxter Springs won their match in 3 sets, dominating the first (25-7) and third (25-11) sets. Sandwiched between them was a hard fought 25-23 win for the Vikings.

Yates Center was somewhat similar as Central Heights dropped the first set (25-17) and third set (25-14) after winning a close second set 25-21.

Sophomore Kaylor Matile led the Vikings in scoring against Yates Center scoring 11 points on 15 serves, including a team high 6 aces.

In the process of picking up their first win of the season, Central Heights downed Pleasanton in 2 sets, 25-18 and 25-15.

The defense of Sydney Evans helped the Vikings control the game as she handled 34 Pleasanton volleys without committing an error and having 7 assists.

The Vikings closed out the day with a 2 set win over Marmaton Valley (25-18, 25-10) to improve their record to 2-4 on the young season.

Ashley Harkins and Jaley Ferguson led the scoring with 8 and 7 points respectively.

Evans continued her solid play with 36 defensive attempts, committed just 1 error while credited with 10 assists.

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 09-12-2024 / SUBMITTED

Central Heights' Connor Burkdoll (183), Cody Hammond (184) and Owen Miller (188) led their team to a perfect score of 15 points at the Burlington Invitational on Thursday.

Viking runners dominate season opener

BURLINGTON – As heat indexes hit nearly 100 degrees last Thursday at the Burlington Invitational, the Central Heights Viking runners reigned supreme both individually and as a team.

The varsity boys and girls both finished in 1st place, as well as the JV boys.

Head coach Troy Prosser couldn't have been happier with how the season began, "After what seemed like a very long summer and first few weeks of practice, we finally got to test ourselves against outside competition."

The boys showed a level of depth that isn't often seen in cross country. The JV boys swept the top 10 medals and put 13 in the top 16 in the first high school race of the day.

Then, the varsity boys knew there would be some competition individually with the defending 1A State Champion and another runner that finished 5th at State last year.

Connor Burkdoll (1st) took the top spot about half way through the race and finished it off with Cody Hammond (2nd) 10 seconds back. Owen Miller (4th) nearly gave the Vikings the top three finishers but came up just 2 seconds shy of third. Stetson Miller finished 6th, the Meyer brothers, Jotham (7th) and Josiah (8th), got to run their first race together and Christian McCord (9th) rounded out our placing all seven boys in the top nine. It was good enough for a perfect team score of 15 points. For the varsity girls, Lily Burkdoll finished in 2nd place in her high school prep debut. Close behind was Ebony Hughes (4th) and Melaney Chrisjohn (5th) who also established themselves near the front pretty early on in a 2 Mile race that was shortened from a 5K due to heat in the absence of a 4K course being available. Caitlynn Detwiler (10th) joined them in the top 10 to give the Vikings four medalists. Arabella Dunbar (20th) finished the scoring as our fifth runner and Maya Acebron (22nd) was poised throughout her first competition. The team finished 1st with 20 points - 16 ahead of the second place team. A pair of JV girls also placed in the top 10 to finish off a solid afternoon.

The middle schoolers also got into the mix with four of the six runners (Makenzie Moon, Kamden Moon, Elizabeth Meyer and Emery Hughes) in the medals while Rodney Macy and Mackenzie Macy set new personal bests.

Prosser said, "One of the most enjoyable parts of coaching this group of kids is how much effort they put forth, not only into their own workouts and races but, in supporting each other; cheering on all of their teammates whether they are middle schoolers, high schoolers, boys or girls."

"Everyone has each other's backs and our successes directly reflect that camaraderie,"

Prosser added.

Lady Vikings swept to open the season

LACYGNE – Central Heights opened the season on the road last Thursday traveling to Prairie View High School to play the host team as well as Osawatomie, dropping both games.

They were dominated in the opener by Prairie View in 2 sets, losing 25-8 and 25-11.

In the second game on the night, Osawatomie was too much for the Vikings as well, dropping them in 2 sets 25-13 and 25-18.

Lyla Hamblin led the way with 9 serves, scoring 6 points on 3 aces.

Lancers win opener that spanned 4 days due to power outage

YATES CENTER – It was certainly an entertaining start to the season for the Crest Lancers football team as they downed Yates Center 46-0 with the game starting Friday night and finishing up Monday afternoon due to a power outage.

Friday night, the Lancers jumped out to a 14-0 lead after the first quarter.

The Lancers really took control in the second quarter and stretched the lead out to 28-0 with 7 ½ minutes left when the lights went out.

Due to the inability to get the problem rectified quickly, the game was postponed until Monday afternoon at 2 p.m.

The odd start time comes from trying to find a time that worked for the referee crew that had another junior varsity game that evening.

Crest picked up right where they left off, scoring 18 more points in the final 7 minutes of the 2nd quarter to end the game at halftime due to the mercy rule.

Yates Center was driving right before halftime to possibly score to extend the game into the second half but in the waning seconds when Denton Ramsey ripped the ball out of a receiver's hands as the Lancers recovered the fumble to seal the victory.

Quarterback Drake Weir connected on 8 of 10 passes for 79 yards and also toted the ball 6 times for 28 yards and a touchdown.

Henry White and Kade Nilges each hauled in 3 passes, for 51 and 16 yards respectively.

Jensen Barker led the Lancers with 42 yards on 8 carries and 2 touchdowns. Ramsey had 4 carries for 41 yards and a score. Gentry McGhee had just 2 carries but 38 yards and a touchdown. Nilges had just 1 carry but it was a 3 yard touchdown run.

On defense Gentry led the team with 8 tackles and a sack. Weir added 6 tackles and Denton chipped in with 4 tackles, 2 forced fumbles and a fumble recovery.
