Country Mart store staffer charged with stealing $37,000

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - The bookkeeper at Garnett's Country Mart grocery store faces 17 counts of felony theft in connection with the disappearance of more than $37,000 from the local store's coffers.

A source close to the local store told the Review Megan Marshall Wilson, 47 of Garnett, was taken into custody August 6 after an investigation into the missing funds. A hearing was set for tomorrow in the case to consider The Review's request for a probable cause affidavit in Wilson's arrest. As of mid week no court date had been set for Wilson's first appearance after she bond out of jail. The court complaint alleges 17 separate counts of theft, reflecting 17 separate allegations in which funds were taken without authorization. Those amounts ranged in increments as high as $3,800, down to $50, though most were in the $2,000 to $3,500 range.

Pyramid Foods is headquartered in the town of Rogersville in Southwest Missouri and according to its LinkedIn profile operates some 37 stores under multiple banners, primarily Price Cutter. The company is employee-owned through a ESOP (Employee Stock Ownership Plan), a kind of qualified retirement plan that allows employees to own shares of the company that employs them.

Garnett will float 2026 budget with $27 property tax decrease from last year

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT- Garnett city commissioners will submit a 2026 spending plan to city residents at an upcoming public hearing that proposes some $1,500,000 in extra spending for the coming year but manages to hold its mill levy barely below the revenue neutral rate defined by Kansas law.

The budget hearing set for August 26th at 6:00 PM at Garnett City Hall will give the public an opportunity to question commissioners on various elements of the budget and spending plans as so far compiled. A budget summary in preparation for the hearing was published in the Anderson County Review on the public notice pages.

Overall the spending plan for a general spending plan of some $17 million, up from authorized spending of $15.5 in 2025. The new budget plugs an additional $762,000 into the cities general fund for equipment reserve, various insurance and personnel benefits. Still the mainstay of those expenditures is paid by user fees and the cities utility revenues, with local property tax funds amounting to only $1.2 million of the $17 million overall spending proposal. The property tax portion of the 2026 budget actually reflects a $27 reduction

The mysterious lack of Kansas media interest in Porfirio De La Cruz-Cantu

Statewide media can find Garnett for other stories; why not this one?

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - With high profile cases of illegal immigrant crime like the Rachel Morin murder in Maryland still peppering national news reports in the post-Biden border era, the lack of Kansas and metro Kansas City media acknowledgment of assault and attempted rape charges against Porfirio De La Cruz-Cantu in Anderson County has become curiously obvious.

In fact, if not for coverage in this newspaper, a related online news site and an Ottawa radio station, there would have been no coverage at all of the illegal immigrant who a 64 year old victim says knocked her from her bicycle on the Prairie Spirit Trail north of Garnett in October 2024 and attempted to forcibly rape her.

While that blackout on the Cruz-Cantu story continued, regional media reports covering the hardships and challenges faced by illegal immigrants since Trump's stepped-up ICE enforcement began have been numerous:

- On July 30th KCTV 5 in Kansas City covered Homeland Security arrests of at least 11 people in immigration raids at KC area Mexican restaurants, with eyewitness video and follow up on detainees and community reaction.

- On July 28th national public radio affiliate KCUR headline the story "President Donald Trump's immigration crackdown has many recent immigrants terrified," detailing how recent rounds of enforcement have affected immigrant neighborhoods and small businesses in Kansas City KS, along with economic and social consequences.

- In June and July, the Kansas

City Star ran a multi-part series on the labor and industry impacts of local immigration enforcement along with law enforcement cooperation with federal agents, and trends in local arrests and detentions tied to the administration's enforcement push.

- August 12, The Wichita Eagle defined as "Trumpism" a bogus tip from an anonymous member of the public to the FBI alleging Lenexa City Councilwoman Melanie Arroyo was undocumented - an allegation quickly determined as unfounded by authorities. Instead of noting the system's success in confirming Arroyo, the Eagle maligned the resurgent enforcement effort: "The purpose of the Trumpist immigration system? It's to harass people like Melanie Arroyo."

Though there has been no shortage of immigration coverage by media serving Kansas, the story

Garnett to push November sales tax vote for new pool, improvements

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Garnett City Commissioners made their first pitch to voters last week for a voter approved one cent sales tax to be placed on the November election ballot, aimed at bankrolling a new city swimming pool and a number of other city infrastructure projects officials say have been languishing for more than a decade due to lack of funds.

City manager Travis Wilson included a summary of the proposal of the July utility bills recently received in the mail by city utility customers. The new sales tax would primarily function as the funding instrument for a new swimming pool, aimed at replacing the 80 year old pool in Lake Garnett Park which has been the subject of financial and operational concerns for the last several years.

The possibility of a new city sales tax has been discussed by commissioners for more than a year, since the expiration of a county sales tax approved by voters to fund the payoff of the Anderson County jail gave city leaders what they believed to be the flexibility to replace that tax for city projects. State legislators also finished a phase-out of sales tax on groceries, which might provide more leverage for an addition of a higher local tax.

A year ago commissioners paid $7,000 for an engineering study on the swimming pool which revealed the city's inability to meet the low to moderate income population requirements that would most likely prevent it from being awarded much of any grant construction for a new facility. In 2022 a new swimming pool was estimated to cost $2.5 to $3.5 million, prior to spiking inflation since then. If the referendum for the sales tax passes, the swimming pool project would

Colony Christian Church enjoys Melvern Lake campout

Colony Christian Church enjoyed its Annual Church Family Campout at Melvern Lake this past week. The week culminated in a worship service and potluck Saturday evening after a day of fishing, tubing, boating and jet skiing. A friendly game of volleyball ended the evening.

Back in Colony on Sunday morning Petra Billings led worship singing "Good, Good Father," "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and "Come As You Are."

The Communion Meditation given by Howard Reiter was "A Voice to Heed" from John 10:1-6. Sheep follow their shepherd because they know his voice. Christians follow the Good Shepherd because He protects and guides them as they listen to His voice.

Pastor Chase Riebel delivered a sermon titled "Sing" from Ephesians 5:19. Music was originally intended to worship the Lord and bring us closer to Him. Worship is in the form of Psalms, hymns and other spiritual songs. Psalm 147 tells us how good it is to sing praise to our God with Thanksgiving.

of the undocumented Garnett Mexican restaurant worker who worked alongside his wife at a now-closed Garnett eatery remained completely unearthed by those outlets. Public court records, including the probable cause affidavit revealing the specifics of his arrest and an officer's from the alleged victim, are easily available on the Kansas courts website along with dockets that follow Cantu's courtroom journey from first appearance all the way through a scheduled three-day jury trial set to begin September 24. Anderson County Attorney Steve Wilson, who took the county prosecutor post in January of this year, said he's never had a media inquiry on the case other than from the local newspaper.

It took editors and reporters no time to recently determine Shawn Harris, the alleged killer of Wyandotte County Deputy Elijah Ming, had been bounced by the Anderson County Court System previous to Ming's shooting at a WYCO domestic incident. Yet court records and local media stories available on the world wide web and on Facebook and just as easily available never generated any interest. The same publications and television stations joined a frenzy of national reporting on a story from Garnett when this newspaper published an anti-mask editorial cartoon in July 2020 during the height of Covid cancel culture hysteria, but still the Cruz-Cantu rape allegation story from October 2024 was ignored.

In fact, the Review reached out by email to key editors at The Associated Press in Kansas, sister McClatchy-owned publications The Wichita Eagle and the Kansas City Star and two Kansas City television stations for comments on this apparent reporting blackout. We got no responses.

Rebecca Schmoe, a Republican representing the 59th District in the Kansas House, said the dearth of coverage indicates major neglect by those outlets. She said it shouldn't take a social media outcry as in the case of Lake Riley to spotlight such crimes.

"Victims deserve justice," Schmoe said. "Communities across the state and nation rely on clear, timely reporting to stay safe. Transparent reporting is vital to protect communities and prevent future violence."

"Corporate media often chase sensationalism or political narratives, sidelining local tragedies such as this," Schmoe said.

Cruz-Cantu is subject to a hold by ICE, which means the federal agency will be notified in the event he would be released from the Anderson County Jail for any reason, at which time he'll be taken into federal custody. For now the Mexican national waits for his next day in court; a Kansas element in a historic national immigration story that's been all but hidden from the media spotlight.

Paul found the best way and took it

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

Philippians is one of Paul's prison epistles written about A. D. 60 or 61. The apostle is writing to all the saints in Christ Jesus at Philippi. In Chapter 3 Paul lists all the reasons he previously had for putting all his confidence in the flesh. It is quite an impressive list. However after his conversion on the road to Damascus he considers his self-confidence as loss not profit. In Philippians 3:13-14 he summarizes his goal in life as follows: "But one thing I do: Forgetting what is behind and straining toward what is ahead, I press on toward the goal to win the prize for which God has called me heavenward in Christ Jesus." Paul says he had to forget what is behind. Not in the sense he cannot remember it but not to allow his past to control his future. Satan loves to use our past to cripple us. However a study of scripture will show us God forgives our sins. In Isaiah 1:18 God is speaking to the prophet concerning what he is to tell the nation concerning their sins. "Come now let us reason together" says the LORD. "Though your sins are like scarlet they shall be white as snow; though they are red as crimson, they shall be like wool." Don't allow the weight of your sins or current situation to dictate your life's path. If you are faithful and just to confess your sins God is willing to forgive them. Paul says we should be straining toward what lays ahead. Straining implies difficulty. One of the things that makes going along with the world attractive is it's very easy. Instead of going in the narrow gate and staying on the straight path as a Christian should we enter the wide gate and use the broad road going and doing as we please. The difficulty is in taking the path less traveled. The world will not release its grip on you without a struggle. Paul says we are going to have to press on. Again implies difficulty. But when we reach this point the goal is in site. We are saved by grace alone, thru faith alone, in Christ alone. Paul came to recognize this and accept it. Doesn't it make sense for you and I?

Hyatt Club met July 16

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! President Sherry Benjamin called Hyatt Club to order on July 16, 2025. This month's meeting was hosted by Diane Hastert and Becky King. It was held in the Archer room at the library.

Seventeen members attended and we gained a new member Dawn Hatfield. Mary Ann Umbarger gave the blessing, while our heads were bowed, we took advantage of the sound of silence and began our delicious meal.

The mystery gift was passed around several times, and I forgot who guessed it. It was a basket with ChapStick and Kleenex. Birthday gifts were brought for Kay Wisdom, Linda Miller and Becky King, from their secret pals.

Roll Call, was your favorite ice cream. Mary Ann won the hostess gift, A lamp with an embroidered lamp shade and a white crock pitcher with lavender and succulents. Diane read the minutes of the last meeting. We all had a good chuckle on the headline, "Bedlam breaks out at Hyatt Club" Diane gave the treasurer's report.

We got down to business and played BINGO and had recycle prizes. Diane shared that her daughter Meagan Ingold wrote a book "Mommy has breast cancer" if you are interested you can buy it from Amazon. The next meeting will be held August 20, 2025 at the home of Donna Benjamin at 5 p.m. Sandra Hamilton will be a hostess as well.

The month of August is upon us, hook up your sprinkler on those hot days and run or walk through it, while singing "Summer in the City" by the Lovin' Spoonful.

Secretary, Becky King

Girls, get yourselves a military man

These days lots of women are asking a burning if not hyper-subjective question: Where are all the good men?

Not just rich guys, the girls say. The lament goes deeper than a bank account but comes up just as empty.

They want a guy that can work — not just hold down a job and be a provider for a family, but a guy who can fix a toilet or install a garbage disposal. A guy with at least a rudimentary knowledge of the car his girl drives and knows what a tire pressure gauge is for. A guy who can lead and organize and show some independence and some ability and knows how and when to run a vacuum cleaner. A guy who doesn't mind cooking.

Girls say they're not finding these guys. Girls say most guys in their 20s and 30s (and God forbid, some even in their 40s) have spent too much time being catered to by their own helicopter moms while they're holed up in their parents' basement eating Ramen and playing Fortnite.

I have an idea. Girls, start by looking for guys who've spent a little time in a military uniform. Not an avatar in a uniform, but the real thing with brass that he shined himself and a pressed edge that passed inspection.

Because regardless of the drastically declining level of participation from American young men, the military services still offer a ton of value not just in job training and experience but also in advancing maturity and life skills — essentially, though it's a "boomer" term... becoming a man.

But still, those pickings are slim.

After the draft ended, the all-volunteer force was smaller relative to the U.S. population. In the 1970s-1980s the Council on Foreign Relations says the active force represented roughly ~1% of the U.S. population; today the active force is closer to about 0.4-0.5% of the population. In 1980 roughly 18% of U.S. adults were veterans; by 2022 that share had fallen to about 6%.

REVIEW COMMENTARY

DANE HICKS, Publisher

Nowadays military recruits still skew young, but the pool is smaller. Most new enlisted are still age 17-24 and maybe not in the marital pipeline yet, according to the Department of Defense. Also the number of enlistments and the size of the entry-level workforce are down from past decades, and military recruitment targets have increasingly been missed in recent years.

So girls, part of your problem in finding a real man more like your dad and your grandpa comes down to simple math. A much smaller fraction of men aged 18-30 serve in the military now than, say, in the Vietnam/Cold War-era or even the 1970s-80s. Fewer serving means fewer learning the lessons that only military experience can deliver — lots of them the same things you're looking for in a man.

What's worse, larger shares of youth today fail to meet physical, medical, or educational standards for military service. The DOD has repeatedly reported high ineligibility rates. That means even if Junior wants to cut mom's apron strings, there's a good chance he can't cut it in boot camp. Too many years of inactivity and potato chips.

But don't be despondent girls. Just add "prior military service a plus" to your online profile. ###

Trump should propose breathing oxygen just to watch Democrats hold their breath.

Hello Anderson County folks, I need help understanding. How can a person that has no experience, no qualifications and no intentions of being educated, that his only affiliation with the Knights of Columbus and a commissioner is the reason he was appointed to the post to begin with, whose biggest struggle was to see which shined the brightest — his ego, his incompetence or his unwillingness to work with others — could expect us to pay him for being fired from a position he couldn't perform? Why don't Anderson County residents deserve competence, intelligence and teamwork? Guess we'll see if our new county attorney has the testicular fortitude to fight for the residents or settle out of court. Thank you.

So according to KSBE almost 400 kids in Anderson County are functionally illiterate. And what is our school board worried about? Making it even harder to get to school, charging families extra just to ride the bus. What a joke.

It's so funny these Democrats protesting Trump trying to bring law and order back to Washington, D.C. Imagine protesting the doctor who's trying to cure your cancer. I hope all you voters who were on the fence during the last election are paying attention. Thank you.

Sydney Sweeney: America's most dangerous blonde

In a culture notorious for rewarding victimization, Sydney Sweeney is going viral for symbolizing something we've all been missing: sanity.

She's not loud or radical, and she's not trying to make a statement. But somehow, just by acting normal, she's become one.

All she had to do was dress in head-to-toe denim and lean over a car to make the internet go absolutely bananas.

The campaign in question is a new ad for American Eagle, and anyone who spends any time on social media has certainly seen reactions to it over the past few weeks. The ad is washed in soft nostalgia, with a vibe including a gas station stop, American denim, and a once-ubiquitous girl-next-door look.

Sweeney's ad is like a love letter to everything American culture supposedly outgrew. And that's why people can't stop talking about it.

The ad racked up millions of views in days. It's the most viral moment of Sweeney's career, even more than her Emmy-nominated turn on the popular HBO drama "Euphoria."

In one of the ads, Sweeney says, "Genes are passed down from parents to offspring, often determining traits like hair color, personality, and even eye color. My jeans are blue."

This messaging has led to absolute meltdowns by mainstream media and leftist social media influencers, who insist the Sweeney ads are nothing but "Nazi propaganda." Backlash got so bad that American Eagle responded, but instead of apologizing, they surprisingly doubled down.

"Sydney Sweeney Has Great Jeans" is and always was about the jeans. Her jeans. Her story," the company posted on their Instagram.

"We'll continue to celebrate how everyone wears their AE jeans with confidence, their way," the statement continued. "Great jeans look good on everyone."

The reaction has been telling. Fans are celebrating the campaign as a breath of fresh air — it's not just a fashion ad, it's a vibe shift. In an industry that runs on provocation, Sweeney is quietly proving you don't have to reject femininity, tradition, or wholesomeness to be relevant. You just have to stop pretending you're above it.

That shouldn't be controversial. But in Hollywood today, it absolutely is.

Sweeney grew up far from the glitz of Los Angeles. She was born and raised in Spokane, a small city in eastern Washington, and comes from what the media might call a "conservative" family — though Sweeney has never commented on politics.

But she has alluded to them. Leftists were furious in 2022 when she posted photos from her mother's 60th birthday party. The pictures, which included a relative wearing a "Blue Lives Matter" shirt and a MAGA-style hat, sparked immediate outrage.

Sweeney didn't take the same path as many before her by issuing a groveling apology. Instead, she posted a follow-up post on X saying, "You guys, this is wild. An innocent celebration for my mom's milestone 60th birthday has turned into an absurd political statement... Please stop making assumptions."

That act of defiance, refusing to apologize, was rare enough. But it's what she hasn't done since that's even more interesting. She hasn't become a political mouthpiece. She hasn't branded herself as "anti-woke." She's just stayed normal. And for some reason, that drives people crazy.

It's rare to see a Hollywood star so universally embraced without selling a political message, trauma story, or carefully calculated ideology. But maybe that's the point.

Conservative commentator Megyn Kelly summed up what many have been saying on a recent episode of her podcast.

Democrats: "Gerrymander for me, but not for thee"

Let's take a tour of the 13th congressional district in Illinois. It starts in East St. Louis and then moves steadily north. By the time it gets to Springfield, home of Abraham Lincoln, about 90 miles away, it takes a sharp turn to the east, reaching Decatur and finally Champaign, itself about 80 miles away from Springfield.

It's a jagged, narrow strip of territory with no obvious rhyme or reason as it traverses six counties. It's less a congressional district than a road trip, and bears a resemblance to the original gerrymander, a long, salamander-like state senate district in Massachusetts in 1812.

The only point of the new 13th district lines, fashioned with the redistricting after the 2020 census, was to gather together far-flung Democrats to create another Democratic congressional district. Mission accomplished. The 13th district went from being a competitive district long held by a Republican to flipping to the Democrats in 2022.

Overall, Illinois lost one district after the 2020 census and managed to draw lines that changed the congressional ratio from a 13-5 Democratic advantage to a 14-3 Democratic advantage. The political analysis website 538 called the new map "the worst gerrymander in the country drawn by Democrats."

This makes it especially inapt that a contingent of Texas Democrats fleeing the Lone Star State to try to stop what they consider unfair new congressional boundaries found a safe harbor in Illinois. Next time, their travel agent should do a hypocrisy check before booking a destination.

Illinois Gov. JB Pritzker welcomed the self-exiling Democrats and hailed their courage. He told them that he and other top Democrats in the state were pleased "to stand in solidarity with you and send a clear message to all Americans." His conscience showed no sign of being pricked by the fact that he signed off on the redistricting that saw Republicans in 2022 win nearly 44% of the popular vote in Illinois congressional races and only about 17% of the congressional seats.

A special session of the Texas legislature is considering new lines that could net Republicans another five seats. Texas Gov. Greg Abbott has cited a Department of Justice letter saying that some of the current districts need to be redrawn because they represent unconstitutional racial gerrymandering (the Biden Justice Department had been fighting Texas because, in its view, the current lines didn't reflect enough racial gerrymandering).

The Supreme Court is taking up a Louisiana case that should clarify the extent to which states can consider race in drawing so-called majority-minority districts. In the meantime, the partisan effect of the new Texas lines before the 2026 midterms is unmistakable. If Republicans were likely to lose five seats from the redistricting, there's no doubt that the state's Republican governor and Republican legislature wouldn't be undertaking it.

Drawing district lines is an inherently political enterprise, and parties tend to give themselves the best of it. When Democrats controlled the Texas legislature, they maintained congressional lines in their favor. It wasn't until Republicans won the state house for the first time since Reconstruction in 2002 that the GOP could redraw the congressional map and republicans subsequently won a majority of Texas congressional seats in 2004, also for the first time since Reconstruction.

Since Democrats gerrymander too, they have limited options for retaliating

Dig around old stone house unearths numerous rocks

I sure hope you enjoyed the heat wave more than I did. For a full week I sat in my recliner with my eyes closed, dreaming about digging.

Actually I did excavate a couple of times and I will share photos of a few things I found. I wish I had found as many artifacts as I did rocks. I guess that no one's to blame, but myself for choosing to dig around an old stone house.

#1 - An adjustment pin from a vintage spring operated window.

#2 - Remember these old porcelain knobs on furniture etc.

#3 - Four hole blue glass button.

#4 - This is actually a miniature corker bottle. Perhaps some type of medicine.

#5 - This is the same little bottle. This photo makes it look a lot taller than it really is. In fact it's just a fraction over one inch tall. It has an applied top and bottom. Three piece mold.

140 years ago.... Skaters dazzle a large crowd at the rink

THAT WAS THEN

PAULA SCOTT - REVIEW HISTORY COLUMNIST

Historical gleanings from past newspapers.

1885 - 140 years ago

August 14 - A large crowd was present at the rink, Saturday night, to witness the performance of Prof. Kit McCullough, of Ottawa. Some of his feats, especially that of jumping over five chairs, were greeted with loud applause. He was followed by Prof. Kellogg, the Ft. Scott champion, whose grace and skill was heartily applauded.

August 14 - Since last week's paper appeared, two more cases of child beating have been brought to our notice; one east of the railroad and the other in the western part of the city. In one instance the neighbors threaten if it continues much longer to call in the proper authorities and have the cruelty stopped once and for all. There are also vague hints of a liberal application of tar, with a feather or two to make it harmonize.

1895 - 130 years ago

August 15 - Don't forget that the ladies of the Congregational church will serve meals during the Old Soldiers Reunion at regular meal hours. They solicit your patronage.

1905 - 120 years ago

August 17 - Marshall Keeney yesterday morning arrested one of the men who works on the pipeline for being drunk. Last evening he was fined $5 and costs and upon paying the fine was turned loose. It seems he was not through yet for this afternoon the Marshal found him drunk and took him to jail once more.

August 18 - There is a case or two of typhoid fever in town. This August 18 - L. D. Pilkington has some mighty fine tomatoes in his garden this summer. One of them is on exhibition in the window at A. P. Farris' cigar store that would take a blue ribbon at any fair. It weighs exactly three pounds.

1925 - 100 years ago

August 20 - Monday evening, the Hamilton Electric Incubator Company began erection of a large hatchery, 22x60 feet, near the present hatchery and electric incubator factory on East Second. The new hatchery will have a capacity of 100,000 eggs. The building will be of hollow tile and cement, stuccoed. This is one of the rapidly growing industrial institutions of Garnett and it has a great future. Four new men were added to the force last week, and others will be added as soon as room for more is provided.

August 20 - Monday night, Lane's drug store was visited by a thief, who entered by breaking two rear windows. Judging from the size of one of the windowpanes, he must have been a small chap. The thief took a lot of pennies in the cash register but found no more money. He also took an Ingersol watch, some small cigar and other minor articles. He went to the fountain and made himself a couple of sundaes. Judging from his visit to the prescription case, he was looking for "dope."

August 16 - Garnett City Commissioners broke with tradition Tuesday night when they approved a temporary beer sales permit for the Anderson County Corn Festival - the first ever such permit to be approved by the governing body. The commission's action was a departure from previous policy, most notably a firestorm that pitted local ministers against the Garnett Jaycees in 1989 when the civic club asked for a temporary permit to sell beer at the 1989 Liberty Festival.

August 18 - Water access at Crystal Lake in south Garnett will remain closed indefinitely, after state health officials confirmed what city authorities suspected. Dangerous blue-green algae has bloomed in the lake. The algae does not affect the city's drinking water, which is piped directly out of the Cedar Valley Reservoir and bypasses Crystal Lake (commonly referred to as South Lake.) Humans and pets, though, will need to avoid exposure

Historical Society seeking identification

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 08-14-2025 / SUBMITTED

The Anderson County Historical Society is seeking any information regarding the above photo as they are hoping to get the man identified. It was donated to the museum and believed to be a local man in the photo. If someone knows who it is or might be they can email the historical society at information@historyandersoncoks.org or text 785-448-0301.

HARDING...

"She's all woman," Kelly said of Sweeney. "She has a great pair on her that would be the envy of virtually every woman, and they're obviously natural... and so she's in some ways, the opposite of a Kardashians," she added. "She's petite ... she's buxom, but they're natural, and her face is not overly prodded or manipulated. She looks normal. She looks like just a pretty American girl."

Hollywood doesn't know what to do with someone like Sweeney because she's not trying to be anyone else. She's not reinventing herself for every season. She's not jumping on trends to stay relevant.

It all speaks to a growing hunger for authenticity. It's not the kind of curated authenticity influencers serve up with a wink and a sponsorship deal. People want real. They're over the Botox looks that have dominated for years.

That's the sweet spot Sydney Sweeney has managed to occupy.

Her critics don't know how to handle it. She's a reminder that the pendulum is swinging in the hearts of viewers who are tired of being lectured. Sweeney isn't fighting that culture war directly, but she's proving that jeans, normalcy, and charm still resonate with most of America.

ing against Texas. Pritzker says he may redraw his state's lines, but this would require gerrymandering on top of his current gerrymander. California Gov. Gavin Newsom is making similar noises, but the California map is already tilted toward Democrats. Republicans won nearly 40% of the congressional vote in the Golden State in 2024, but only about 17% of the seats.

If the Texas plan goes through and all else remains equal, the Lone Star State will have about the same partisan skew as California.

Less gerrymandering would be better rather than more, but Democrats like Gov. Pritzker, who blessed his state's meandering 13th district, have no standing to make the case.

Generosity and Possibilities Celebrated at "Generations of Giving" Event

On August 2, the Garnett Community Foundation proudly hosted its Generations of Giving celebration, honoring the generosity that shapes our community today while inspiring investments for its future strength. The event, which took place at Troyer's Prairie Gold, buzzed with energy, inspiration, and a deep sense of community. Board President Bonnie Deiter opened the evening with a warm welcome, followed by a delicious dinner and compelling insights from featured speaker, Steve Alley, who offered a fresh perspective on the transformative power of philanthropy. Central to the evening was a bold vision: a community empowered to secure its future by investing in itself and building lasting resources. The messages marked a significant step toward realizing this vision, to ensure our community has what it needs to respond, grow, and lead for generations to come. A key highlight was the announcement of the Foundation's upcoming Generations of Giving Matching Gift Campaign, which launches September 1. The campaign will amplify gifts that establish permanent charitable funds—creating lasting resources to support our people, places, and priorities county-wide and foster a more self-reliant, resilient community. The celebration continued with guests dancing the night away to live music by Scipio Bottoms Band. The Foundation extends its sincere gratitude to event sponsors WINGS, GSSB Bank, East Kansas Agri Energy, Kansas Health Foundation, and Nick and Audrey Bray, as well as to all guests who attended. For more information about the matching gift campaign, please visit www.garnettcommunityfoundation.org.

Duncan tops Senior pitch

August 7th found 17 pitch players ready, willing and able to play 10 games of 13-point pitch. It was a fun evening with storytelling, lots of laughs and a little card playing. Results are as follows: Jessie Duncan took top honor winning 6 of ten games; Glenda Stanley won the 50/50, Karen Register had the most perfect hands of 13 with three and Dorothy Spencer won the least number of games. We all had a great time and enjoyed the treats furnished by the players. Come join us promptly at six o'clock at the Garnett Senior Center for 10 games of 13-point pitch. Always room for one more.

GARNETT In a historic back-to-back feat, Garnett Post 48's Junior and Senior American Legion baseball teams both brought home Kansas State Championships this summer, dominating their tournaments and putting Garnett baseball in the spotlight.

Junior Muddogs dominate Topeka, go 4-0 at State

The Post 48 Junior team delivered one of the most dominate state tournament performances in recent memory. Competing in Topeka, they posted a perfect 4-0 record while outscoring their opponents by a jaw-dropping 52-6 combined run differential.

Their title run was capped with a 6-0 shutout of Pittsburg Post 64 in the championship game — a masterclass in both pitching and offensive execution. The Muddogs ended their summer with an impressive 20-6 overall record, showcasing elite depth, team chemistry, and consistent production on both sides of the ball.

Notable Summer Stats:

Senior squad follows suit - Another 4-0 State run

Not to be outdone, the very next weekend, the Senior team went on an undefeated 4-0 run of their own, capturing a second State Championship for the Garnett American Legion. The road to the title wasn't easy — the Seniors had to go through #1 seed Marysville Post 163, not once but twice. In Game 2, they topped Marysville (3-2) to advance to the semi-finals, then returned to face them again in the championship — winning decisively by a score of 12-4. The victory capped a 17-5 overall season, built on teamwork, grit, and big-game execution.

Notable Summer Stats:

For a small-town program to sweep both the Junior and Senior state titles in the same summer is a remarkable accomplishment — a testament to Garnett's growing baseball culture, strong community support, and the tireless work of players, coaches, and parents.

Post 48's back-to-back weekends of state dominance will be remembered for years to come — not just for the trophies, but for the pride it brought to Garnett and Anderson County.

This year's Garnett Post 48 squad was led by - Head Coaches: Travis Persinger and Tanner Spencer, Assistant Coaches: Derek Rockers and Preston Kueser, & Team Managers: Amy and Maddux Persinger.

begin in the fall of 2026 with the goal of opening for the 2027 summer season.

Other items included in the sales tax proposal are enhancements to city sports complexes to improve drainage and the addition of high performance turf to reduce rain outs and extend field life. Funds would also be used to modernize restrooms at Crystal Lake and lake Garnett locations, and add new playground equipment, new electric camping facilities to boost park usage, LED lighting to encourage evening events at the city's Go Kart Sprint track and other park improvements in picnic area's pathway repairs and outdoor facilities.

If approved the move would boost the tax on retail sales in Garnett from 8% to 9%, with the most impact felt on higher ticket items like furniture, major appliances and automobiles. Farm equipment and pharmacy prescriptions are exempt from sales tax. Wilson said the city commission had not yet determined if the tax would "sunset" or expire after a certain number of years, or continue indefinitely.

over taxes set to be used in 2025 - $1,209,217 compared to $1,209,190 in the coming year.

The budget shows cuts in the 2026 allotment compared to 2025 for Parkside Place apartment buildings #1 and #2 after maintenance investments made this year, and an increase of some $440,000 at the Park Plaza North complex.

The cities assessed property valuation increased to 34.9 million from 33.4 million, reflecting the continued increase in values primarily among residential properties subject to recent year's real estate market increases. That assessed value increase in the 2026 budget will allow a tax levy cut to 34.646 mills, down from 36.173 in 2025. The city's revenue neutral rate was established as 34.647 for this year.
