LGPR adds new traditions for 2025 event

Kids' Choice, movie night to expand event's educational appeal

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - The Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival returns for its 12th year this weekend, bringing a weekend of vintage race cars, classic sports cars, and modern performance machines back to the historic 2.8-mile Lake Garnett Raceway course.

The event has grown to be one of Garnett's premiere annual attractions, transforming Lake Garnett Park and downtown Garnett into a hub for car enthusiasts, drivers, and families eager to celebrate the golden era of sports car racing where legends once raced during the 1960s heyday of the Lake Garnett Sports Car races.

Spectators can expect a full slate of high-performance driving exhibitions, the EKAE Autocross at the Garnett Municipal Airport, the Gateway Classic Cars of KC Car Show on the downtown Garnett square, and the popular Sifer's VALOMILK Charity Rides, where for a small charitable donation, visitors can experience a lap around the course in one of more than 40 high-perfor-

Patriots Bank hits $20,000 mark with WINGS fundraiser

BY TIFFANY LUKK SPECIAL TO THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Breast cancer awareness is a cause that's close to the hearts of current and former staff at Patriots Bank.

After several staff members received breast cancer diagnoses, Michelle Hermreck, a former teller who spent 18 years at Patriots Bank, cofounded the Women In Need Gaining Strength (WINGS) Foundation in 2008. The foundation, long supported by Patriots Bank, is dedicated to supporting women who are fighting breast cancer.

"My sister had breast cancer, and then I had breast cancer," says Hermreck. "It was her great idea to start an organization to try to help and give back. We're still going strong."

The WINGS Foundation, formed on the premise that women shouldn't have to battle cancer on their own, aims to provide both financial and emotional support. Through fundraisers, partnerships and more, the foundation helps cover the cost of mammograms, office visits, gas cards and other essentials.

Former commissioner: City sales tax numbers just don't add up

Sheahan says tax won't pay for city's extensive wish list

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - Former Garnett city commissioner Jason Sheahan says the numbers in the proposed city 1% sales tax vote coming up November 4 don't add up to enough money to cover the projects city commissioners are pitching to the public, and he says the math is pretty easy to follow.

Sheahan submitted the breakdown of costs on the major ticket items city officials say they want to pay for with the approval of the added sales tax to the Review this week, and the Review presented them to city officials for counter analysis.

"You can't do what they say they want to do with the money the sales tax will generate," Sheahan said. "You either have to toss out some of the projects or you have to find money from somewhere else."

In a nutshell, the former commissioner, who during his term struggled with recreation issues and a feud with the then-rec department director over the city pool and other rec issues, says the city needs infrastructure, not recreation facilities.

"My objective is to share information so that voters are informed of the amount

Longtime educator announces as write-in for USD 365 board

BY DANE HICKS THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW

GARNETT - A slate of school board races in USD 365 that initially drew no takers has brought in a fourth write-in declaration, this time from a longtime educator and local civic stalwart.

Former teacher and school administrator Skip Landis announced his candidacy this week, saying his more than 40 years in public education can be of value to the district.

"After watching our schools and districts over the last number of years and their issues, I have decided to run for the school board as a write-in candidate," he said. Landis touted his work experience from the classroom to the superintendency as an advantage for a board mem-

AFTERMATH

"Aftermath" is a traveling memorial sponsored by Kansans For Life in tribute to more than 19,000 babies whose lives were ended by abortion in the state in 2023. Following is a personal impression of the exhibit from one woman, Rebecca Schmoe, Kansas 59th District Republican legislator.

PAOLA - Today in Paola, Kansas, the Aftermath exhibit broke my heart as a mother and grandmother.

Between seeing the approximate size of the child I miscarried so long ago and the harsh reminder that my oldest son could've been just a statistic on a data sheet—instead of the living, breathing, amazing young man he is today—had I allowed the doctor to pressure me into an abortion I didn't want - I was flooded with emotion.

Rows of tiny, lifelike models, each shaped with accurate size and weight for their gestational age, represented lives ended by abortion in Kansas in 2023: 19,467 of debt and how much we would pay in interest for the recreational projects," Sheahan said.

Sheahan said the city sewer project is $17,800,000 by itself. If, as in the past, Garnett uses a State Revolving Fund loan from the State of Kansas and gets a 2.5% interest rate - which he says is doubtful on a 30 year loan - two semi-annual payments at $423,460.76 would be $846,921.52 annually. The total payments over those 60 twice-yearly payments would be some $25.4 million, including total interest at $7.6 million.

But state sales tax figures from 2024 show Garnett only collected $367,050 from its current 1/2 cent sales tax. An additional 1¢ add-on to the city's 2024 retail sales would generate only $734,100 per year - short of the annual requirement to serve the debt.

"That is not enough to cover the sewer project, even by itself," Sheahan said.

Numbers to add the pool exacerbate the math problem, Sheahan said. Bonds available at an estimated 5 percent interest rate for 15 years would require payments of about $219,776 per year for a $2.3 million pool project, and that cost doesn't include bonding fees of 3-7 percent. Using the more conservative $600,000 estimate of annual revenue from the added tax which city officials have used in their calculations (netting out grocery sales tax which no longer applies), the principal and interest payments would comprise about 36 percent of the additional revenue.

The city's wish list however doesn't stop at a major sewer project and a new city pool. Also included are the construction of new boat docks, upgrades at the Garnett Recreation Center, upgrades to camping facility, the addition of pickleball courts restoration of 3 baseball fields, an amphitheater in Lake Garnett park and other ancillary projects. Commissioners opted for a sales tax on the argument that it could be assessed against both city and non city residents, unlike the ever unpopular property tax increase which would solely be levied against city property owners.

Sheahan says the city's emphasis should be on hard assets first.

"As a homeowner, I like to think about our community's spending the same way I think about my own household budget," he said. "If your roof, foundation, sewer line, water line, and power line all needed repairs, would you choose that moment to install a swimming pool and put it on your credit card? Of course not. You would fix what is essential first. The responsible projects are not always the most enjoyable ones, but they are the ones that protect our homes, our safety, and our future."

He said for that reasoning he doesn't support the sales tax proposal in his current form, and might support one that prioritizes addressing foundational issues of the community before adding recreational extras.

City manager Travis Wilson didn't argue the math of Sheahans analysis, but noted his experience with bond payments have been slightly different.

"Jason is very good with calculations and analytics," Wilson said of the figures. "I see where he is getting his math." Wilson said present city bonds repayments have included one of two semi-annual payments as interest only, and the other payment both interest and principal.

Mayor Locke did not reply to an email requesting his take on Sheahan's analysis sent Tuesday night.

WIC families advised to prepare amid federal shutdown uncertainty

Families who rely on the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program are being urged to stay informed and plan ahead as the federal government shutdown continues to create uncertainty about future funding.

According to the SEK Multi-County Health Department, which oversees WIC services in Allen, Anderson, Bourbon and Woodson counties, limited prior-year federal funding may allow some Kansas WIC offices to operate in the short term. However, without congressional action to restore funding, benefits or services could be paused, reduced or stopped altogether.

As of Oct. 6, 2025, WIC food benefits are expected to last through the end of October, though that projection could change if no federal solution is reached.

Participants are encouraged to continue using their WIC benefits and keep in close contact with their local WIC clinics to confirm appointments and service availability. Families should also plan ahead by purchasing shelf-stable healthy foods when possible and identifying local food banks or pantries that could help if WIC services are disrupted.

If a local WIC clinic closes because of a funding lapse, families can contact the Kansas Department of Health and Environment at 785-296-3683 for assistance.

The health department also encourages families to share their experiences with elected officials and emphasize the importance of WIC funding for their households.

"We understand how stressful this uncertainty can be, and we are committed to supporting families as best we can through this period," WIC staff said in a statement.

Updates will be shared as soon as more information becomes available.

SPILLMAN

JUNE 19, 1929 — OCTOBER 2, 2025

Letha Spillman, age 96, of Kincaid, Kansas, passed away at her home on Thursday, October 2, 2025.

Spillman

Letha Nadine Miller was born on June 19, 1929, in Blue Mound, Kansas. Letha was born on the farm that was homesteaded by her grandfather. She was the fourth of five children born to Lester Ray and Stella Mae (Powell) Miller. Letha attended the one-room cemetery country school in rural Blue Mound before graduating from Kincaid High School with the Class of 1947. Following school, Letha worked at the sewing factory in Garnett until she was united in marriage to Dean Spillman on March 3, 1950, in Mapleton, Kansas. This union was blessed with three daughters: Sandra, Marsha, and Deanna.

Letha was a dedicated farm wife, tending to their large garden, canning countless vegetables, dressing many chickens, and milking the cows for many years. She will be greatly missed for her homemade noodles, her signature fried chicken with bread and butter, and her chocolate chip cookies that she always kept stocked in the freezer. Farm help was always treated to a hot noon meal. She attended every family event she could, including other grandchildren's sporting events right up to the week before she passed away when she attended her great-granddaughter's volleyball game and the Kincaid Fair parade. Christmas Eve at Letha's will remain a cherished memory for the family. Letha was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Dean Spillman, on March 10, 2004; her brother, Don Miller; three sisters, Lorene McCollum, Nada Guffey, and Yvonne Underwood; and one great-granddaughter, Aliyah Nicholas.

She is survived by her daughters: Sandra Kaiser and husband Virgil of Blue Mound, Kansas; Marsha Beckmon and husband Randal of Kincaid, Kansas; and Deanna Krull and husband Max of Blue Mound, Kansas. She is also survived by four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, who lovingly named her "Nana Get Out Cat"; two great-great-grandsons, with two more on the way; one brother-in-law, Denny Underwood of Wichita, Kansas; and many nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were October 8, 2025, at Kincaid-Selma Community Church in Kincaid, Kansas. Burial followed in the Kincaid Cemetery. Letha's family greeted friends on Tuesday evening at Feuerborn Family Funeral Service in Garnett. Memorial contributions may be made to Good Shepherd Hospice and left in care of the funeral home.

Minutes from the August meeting were approved as printed and Mary Parrott agreed to review the information on the Treasurer's report.

Mother Teresa stands out as one of the greatest humanitarians of the 20th century and beyond. In spite of all of her vast accomplishments the following quote is attributed to her. "Where is my faith-even deep down in there is nothing, but emptiness and darkness-My God-how painful is this unknown pain-I have no faith-I dare not utter the words and thoughts that crowd in my heart and make me suffer untold agony."

God allows us to go through hard times so that we can learn to truly trust him. You see, when we do choose to trust God-even when there is no concrete evidence of his presence-we demonstrate real faith. And that is a powerful witness to anyone who sees.

In Luke 8:43-48; we read the story of the sick woman and Jesus. This woman had suffered from bleeding for twelve years, and no one could heal her. Jesus was in a crowd of people and we are told the crowds almost crushed him. The woman believing that Jesus could help her came up behind him and touched the edge of his cloak and immediately her bleeding stopped. What we need to note is the response of Jesus. "Who touched me?" Jesus asked. The disciples stating the obvious said, "people are crowding and pressing against you." Jesus response was,

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

BY DAVID BILDERBACK

"someone touched me; I know that power has gone out from me." We are told the woman came and fell at his feet and told Jesus why she had touched him and how she had been healed instantly. Jesus response, "Your faith has healed you. Go in peace."

All of us experience times in our life like Mother Teresa expressed. What we need to understand is our need for healing and push through the clutter and litter in our life and come as the woman did to Jesus. We can rest assured if we feel burdened and weary from life's struggles you and I need to receive the cleansing of the Savior. There are no limits to the power of Jesus except those we place on him by our own failure to place our faith in him. The solution to the problem is to reach for Jesus.

Kansas should lead with ICE Day

Kansas has long stood for law, order, and personal responsibility. We back the men and women who wear the badge, serve the public, and put themselves in harm's way to keep our communities safe.

That's why it's time our state took the lead in recognizing another group of public servants who rarely get credit for the hard work they do: the agents of U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement. Kansas should declare a "We Support ICE" Day.

one. It would be about gratitude—about standing up for the rule of law and an acknowledgement of the Kansans who value it. We already honor our police, firefighters, and soldiers with days of appreciation. ICE deserves no less.

That's of particular importance now, while ICE officers attempting to enforce law and order in various spots across the country are subject to counter-culture violence, threats of "doxxing" - publicizing their identities to make personal targets out of them and their families, and out-and-out threats of murder.

ICE officers aren't politicians. They don't make the immigration laws or set the border policy—they enforce the laws Congress passed. Their daily work in Kansas and across the nation includes investigating human trafficking rings, stopping the smuggling of fentanyl and meth across state lines, and locating dangerous fugitives who exploit our open system. Many of those cases begin right here in the Midwest, where interstate highways make Kansas a crossroads for both commerce and the crime that plagues the nation's larger metropolitan areas; places where local governments and officials now refuse to protect their own citizenry.

These agents face real danger in the field, and they do it without much recognition or thanks. Too often, they've been turned into political scapegoats for enforcing the very laws our representatives enacted. That's not justice—that's hypocrisy - and it's an attack on the precepts of American law and order.

A "We Support ICE" Day wouldn't be about politics or partisanship, although we know who's on the right side of this

The agency was founded in March 2003 in the wake of the 9/11 attacks - a merger of the investigative and interior enforcement elements of the former U.S. Customs Service and the Immigration and Naturalization Service. It now has some 20,000 law enforcement officers and support personnel in 400 offices across the U.S., and it has never been more crucial and under attack from some elements of the "enlightened" public than today.

So a date in March seems appropriate to mark a day of tribute for ICE, but it would be a shame to wait that long.

Here in Kansas, we know that safety starts with accountability. Supporting ICE means supporting legal immigration, border security, and the fair enforcement of our nation's laws. It means standing with the men and women who keep drugs, traffickers, and criminal networks out of our communities.

Kansas should take this step as an example for the rest of the country to follow. Declaring a "We Support ICE" Day would send a simple message that Kansas still believes in law, order, and the people who defend it. ##

Every Saturday before 10 a.m. you can get a laugh seeing a collection of the dingbat Democrat cult crackpots gathered in Ottawa at Second and Main with their stupid signs like for ICE, the target of deadly Democrat mob violence, to be "cushed." How about joining them with honest posters like, "we Democrats support child sexual mutilation, LGBTQ porn in elementary schools, boys in girls' sports and bathrooms, open borders, and releasing violent criminals back out on the streets?" Now, Democrats tend to be literally unstable and violent, so be sure it is filmed in case you are assaulted and must file charges.

It is really weird that older women are acting like children in movies. Yes, let's change this country with the government. I'm looking at this and she's acting like a child in a movie. And I think she's almost my age. It's better than funny.

A penny for your thoughts? Not for long

Gary Walter down at The Bank asked a good question the other day:

"What are we going to do when the supply of pennies is gone?"

Which probably is one most anyone who's in business, or does business with the world, needs to ponder, since that day is coming sooner than you might expect. After years of debate - the government has been losing money on each penny produced for at least 20 years - President Donald Trump ordered the Treasury Department to stop producing pennies earlier this year. The department said it plans to use up the current stock of blanks, which it estimates will last until early 2026.

They cost 3.7 cents each to produce last year.

After production stops, pennies are likely to disappear from circulation. Banks won't be able to get new ones, and the old supply will run out. That could take a little while, since the current supply is estimated at 114 billion one-cent coins. No one knows for sure how long, but one estimate is late 2026.

One problem is that people no longer see much value in a penny. Shoppers often decline to take them in change, instead donating their pennies to a store's change cup or tray. Others take them home and put them in big jars; one estimate puts the average number in a home at 600.

Walter, now board chairman and former president at The Bank, said he thinks banks may try to tempt people to bring those pennies in. Customers would have a choice of getting their $6 or holding onto their jars of copper and copper-plated coins on the chance their value might increase.

That could be a long wait. Nonetheless, banks and businesses eventually will have to learn how to do without them. That could come as early as the end of next year.

While there has been some talk, President Brandon Oien added, "The Bank has not set a policy on how to handle odd-cent transactions. An obvious suggestion is to round transactions up or down to the nearest nickel. At a bank, that would affect only a small percentage of a day's business."

Most transactions are done electronically or by credit card, debit card or check today, Walter noted, and those can continue to be handled as they are. Only when a customer comes in to make a withdrawal or cash a check might a problem have to be solved.

Another employee said The Bank's policy is to cash checks only for customers. If nothing else, they could be given change and a 1- or 2-cent credited to their account.

Many merchants might see the same thing - customers today use bank cards or checks to pay for many purchases, though nearly every store is ready to take cash and make change. Maybe the real question is, for that minority of transactions still done in cash, how will the rounding work.

Round up to the nearest 5 cents? Round down? Round to average, 1 or 2 cents down, 3 or 4 cents up?

The round-to-nearest nickel might be the fairest. By the end of the year, it should come out even for everyone - but would customers go for it?

Surely no one would mind the system that's fair to all concerned?

"Oh, you would be surprised," Walter said, adding that some people are perfectly willing to argue about a penny or two. He said he could see where some businesses might want to round up all change and advertise that to draw in customers. Merchants might like the round-up

Mississippi, not California, is the future of education

A miracle defies the laws of nature. This is why "the Mississippi Miracle," the sobriquet for the extraordinary gains that students in the Gulf state have made in reading in recent years, is a misnomer.

There's nothing miraculous about a state that adopts phonics and that sets high standards for its kids to get better results in reading instruction. This, to the contrary, is a predictable outcome, and a replicable one, as other Southern states that have taken up similar policies have shown.

Mississippi went from 49th in fourth-grade reading results on the National Assessment about a decade ago to 9th in 2024. Its low-income children are ranked first in the nation. It's Black kids are number three in the nation and it's Hispanic kids number one. Overall, when adjusted for socioeconomic and demographics, Mississippi has the best fourth-grade results in the nation.

The derisive cliché was always, "Thank God for Mississippi," since it could be trusted to save other states from coming in 50th in various metrics. Now, the phrase can be used with sincerity and admiration, since the state recognized and did something about its literacy crisis.

In 2011, about four out of five fourth graders in Mississippi weren't proficient in reading. In 2013, the state passed a reform to require teachers to understand the science of reading (basically, phonics), to deploy literacy coaches to schools, to identify students struggling to read early, and to hold back students in third grade who weren't ready to advance.

Alabama, Tennessee and Louisiana have now done much the same, and have also made gains. The original source of all this was a 2002 reading law in Florida that boosted student achievement in the Sunshine State.

In a piece headlined "Illiteracy is a policy choice" at the website The Argument, Kelsey Piper makes the case that it would be irresponsible and wrong to ignore the lesson of Mississippi and the Southern states.

She notes that Mississippi outperforms her native California, even though the Golden State is richer and spends substantially more on education per pupil. More than half of Black fourth graders in Mississippi are at or above basic level, while only 28% of Black fourth graders in California are.

It may be galling for Blue States that have prided themselves on their commitment to education and looked down on the South to have to acknowledge that Mississippi, of all places, has figured out a model for the nation, but it is imperative all the same.

"We have been spending lots of money on schools," Piper writes of Blue States, "but we have not been willing to muster the political will and effort necessary to hold those schools accountable for results and adopt teaching practices that actually work."

The so-called reading wars between the whole-language approach and phonics was won, on the merits, by phonics long ago. Yet, ineffectual methods hung around even though they'd been discredited. This is why it's so important to get teachers to embrace research-based reading instruction.

There must also be high expectations, rigorously enforced. This is what the Mississippi third-grade retention policy is about. If a teacher and a parent know

October 14 - After December 1st of this year, druggists who sell certain patent medicines which have whisky or distilled spirits as the chief ingredient will be obliged to pay a special tax to the government. October 10 - Capacity business at the county jail boosted the cost of boarding prisoners during September to $239.40-a new high. There were twenty-eight inmates at the jail during the month, the bill submitted by Mrs. Frank M. Smith wife of the county sheriff and allowed by the county commissioners Monday revealed. The prisoners are making a start this week on working out a small part of their board bill. When they balked at get-

Foul odor in refrigerator, freezer could be a food safety issue

By Pat Melgares, K-State Extension news service
MANHATTAN - A bad smell in the refrigerator or freezer might be more than just an unpleasant inconvenience for homeowners; it could signal a potential food safety issue, says a Kansas State University food safety specialist.

Karen Blakeslee, coordinator of K-State's Rapid Response Center for food science, said spoiled food can lead to a large amount of bacterial growth, and cooking these foods may not destroy those high levels of bacteria. Food residues, from spills or leaking packages of food, can lead to cross-contamination with other foods.

"Spoiled food can spill or leak into the interior of the appliance and is difficult to impossible to remove," Blakeslee said, adding that it's important to clean thoroughly and remove any questionable food before it poses a health risk.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food Safety and Inspection Service recommends disposing of any spoiled or questionable food. Cleaning should begin by removing all shelves, crispers and trays. Wash them with hot water and detergent, then sanitize with a bleach solution made from 1 teaspoon of bleach per quart of tap water.

Blakeslee said it's also important to clean the inside walls, door, and gasket of the appliance using a mix of hot water and baking soda, followed by a bleach sanitizing rinse. After cleaning, leave the door open to allow the appliance to air out.

If odors linger, Blakeslee suggests the following tips:

- Wipe down interior surfaces with a solution of equal parts water and vinegar.

- Leave the appliance open and let it air out for several days.

- Stuff the interior with crumpled newspaper and close the door for several days; then discard the newspaper and clean with vinegar and water.

- Place fresh coffee grounds or baking soda in a shallow pan inside the appliance to absorb odors.

- Use cotton balls soaked in vanilla extract, sealed in the appliance for 24 hours. Consider commercial products designed to clean and deodorize appliances.

"Keep the rule of 'when in doubt, throw it out' in mind when cleaning out spoiled or questionable food," Blakeslee said. "While it may seem wasteful, it is much safer to toss it than to get sick from unsafe food."

In cases where the appliance itself is no longer functional or the odor cannot be removed, disposal may be necessary. According to the Kansas Department of Health and Environment, "white goods" such as refrigerators and freezers are permitted in Kansas landfills. However, the agency encourages alternative disposal methods such as repair, resale or recycling.

Local landfill departments may have additional guidelines, which can be found online.

Blakeslee said that regular cleaning and timely disposal of spoiled food are essential steps in maintaining food safety and avoiding contamination.

More food safety tips are available online from K-State's Rapid Response Center for Food Science.

PAWSITIVE TAILS pet adoption

THE ANDERSON COUNTY REVIEW 10-09-2025 / SUBMITTED

Who wants an adorable puppy? Jake is a male, 3-month-old Pyrenees mix, cream in color, and will be approx. 60lbs full grown. Found dumped, covered in painful sarcoptic mange, and left to fend for himself, Jake came to us, having very little fur and covered in open wounds. Now healed, happy, and full of love, he's ready to start the next chapter with a family to call his own. Jake has a nose for adventure and a heart of gold. He's curious, brave, and always the first to discover the toy box or a patch of grass to roll in. He's going to make someone's life endlessly entertaining. He's such a lover! To learn more about Jake and other dogs available for adoption, please visit www.PawsitiveTailsKC.org.

that a child is going to be held back, they will do all they can to get that child to basic proficiency. Research in Florida shows that getting held back not only helps the academic performance of the students who are retained, but their younger siblings as well.

With reading scores nationally sliding the wrong way, especially for the bottom 10% of students, Mississippi and the other Southern states offer a beacon of hope. Their example shows that, no, it's not impossible to teach children, and no, it's not very costly. It's a good sign that even California just passed a phonics bill.

It's fully within our power, so long as we insist on the basics, to give kids a skill absolutely essential to their development and their futures. No miracles necessary.

Beef Quality Assurance training set for Oct. 28 in Ottawa

The Kansas Beef Council and Frontier Extension District will be hosting a Beef Quality Assurance Training and Certification, Tuesday, October 28th at the Franklin County Commission Chambers, 1418 S. Main Street in Ottawa. The evening will begin at 6:00 pm with dinner followed by the training that will start at 6:30 pm. An RSVP is required by October 14th. To RSVP contact the Kansas Beef Council at 785.273.5225 or by emailing KBC@KansasBeef.org.

Kansas State Extension, Beef Veterinarian, A.J. Tarpoff will be the presenter for the evening.

In the beginning Beef Quality Assurance Program focused on reducing chemical residues and injection site blemishes in meat products. BQA training taught us to move the location of the vaccinations to the triangular area of the neck, which is defined by the nuchal ligament (top of the neck), the spine (mid-lower neck), and the shoulder blade (side of the animal). This location minimizes damage to valuable meat cuts and avoids vital structures like blood vessels and the windpipe facility management, cattle transportation, good record keeping and protecting herd health, which all result in better outcomes for cattle and producers. Today, having an active BQA certification is more important than ever because the full beef supply chain is leveraging the program to ensure our commitment to food safety, cattle well-being, and beef quality.

Today, BQA programs are much more evolved and include best practices around cattle handling,

Mark your calendars and plan to attend this BQA training. Don't forget to RSVP.

 Onlookers gather around to listen about particular gravestones at the Garnett Cemetery Walk last year. On October 18th, the Garnett Public Library will host another discussion about people of Garnett's past.

“Written in Stone” - 3rd annual Garnett Cemetery Walk 2025

The Garnett Public Library will host a cemetery walk Saturday, October 18th, from 5pm till dusk. Join us for an evening discussion of people in our past, gravestone symbols and history! This is our third year hosting and we will be covering new ground and new headstones! Established in 1859, Garnett Cemetery now consists of the “original cemetery” and four additions. We will focus on graves of interest in the older part of the cemetery, meanings and markings of tombstones and the history surrounding cemeteries. We will also highlight how visitors to the cemetery can use the Find a Grave™ app and other avenues to help others in their quest for genealogy information and history.

This program is geared toward adults but all ages are welcome. Please wear comfortable shoes as the ground is slightly uneven. No public restroom facilities are at the cemetery. Limited seating will be available in areas toured.

This event will be hosted at the Garnett Cemetery located at 27554 NE Neosho Road, Garnett, Kansas just northeast of town. Arrive 10 minutes early to gather near the chapel. There is no charge for this event. We hope to see you there!

and so they bill us directly," Hermreck says. "The patient never, ever gets a bill if it's WINGS."

"[Patriots Bank] could choose someone else, but we're pretty grateful that they have chosen to stick with us and partner with us," she said.

From shirts to cards

Since 2008, Patriots Bank has run a "WINGS Wednesdays" fundraiser every October to mark Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Employees can donate $2 to wear jeans to work—paired with pink or WINGS T-shirts—to raise funds for and awareness of the foundation.

"By caring and showing support to the community for something like that, that shows how we support our employees as well," says Carston D. Cooper, executive vice president of Patriots Bank.

In 2014, the community bank wanted to offer further support for the foundation, so it released a special pink debit card featuring the WINGS branding.

Customers are given the option of choosing the card when they open a new checking account or can convert existing accounts at no additional cost. Every time someone swipes their card, a portion of the revenue goes to the foundation. According to Cooper, there are just over 2,500 WINGS debit cards in circulation.

Patriots Bank also makes an annual donation based on the amount of use the WINGS card gets, with the donation ranging between $1,500 and $2,500 each year. In total, Cooper estimates the bank has donated more than $20,000 through card use alone.

"I know it sounds funny as a bank going, 'Yeah, get more people to transition to something you're giving away money on,' but we like doing it. It's good outreach, and that's what the community is about," Cooper says. "People always like knowing what you're doing in the community and like knowing that you're putting in effort."

Cooper uses his own WINGS card in his daily life and has had multiple people ask what it is and how they can get one. Many people have switched over because they know it's for a good cause, he says. He considers the card a symbol of how easy it can be to help others.

"Our future goals would be to, obviously, grow the program so we can get more to the foundation, because they do a lot," Cooper says, adding that eventually he'd like the bank to donate at least $5,000 or $10,000 per year.

Hermreck says the WINGS Foundation was both surprised and honored when Patriots Bank first proposed the debit card idea. "They could choose someone else," she says, "but we're pretty grateful that they have chosen to stick with us and partner with us."

The founder and former chairman of Patriots Bank, Jim Cooper, who is also Carston D. Cooper's grandfather, was a staunch advocate of the foundation. He was always coming up with ways to increase outreach and proudly presented the bank's donation to the foundation each year. Earlier this year, he faced a breast cancer diagnosis himself and sadly died in June. Even while facing his diagnosis, he was still working with the bank and advocating for the foundation.

"We are truly honored to stand beside the WINGS Foundation and help fund their essential programs through this initiative," Jim Cooper said in a statement before he died. "We also believe we are the only community bank that offers this type of service, and since it is something we consider very near and dear to our hearts, we wanted to share it with all the local communities in hopes that we can get as many people involved to raise awareness as possible."

Carston D. Cooper says Patriots Bank's current goals for the foundation have expanded so they can honor Jim Cooper's legacy. "We continue to hold ... his values," he says. "The golden rule is always treat people how you want to be treated. We always try to treat people with respect and kindness. That's how we treat our employees, and I think that's been the key to our success."

precious beginnings lost amid real-life struggles like economic pressures, health fears, and barriers too many families face alone. My heart ached not just for the babies, but for their mothers and fathers, too. I've advocated for the unborn since holding my own babies close, renewed by each of my precious grandchildren. But today, tears flowed for everyone: the women navigating scary unknowns and carrying silent pain afterward, the partners left out of the conversation, the families forever reshaped. These aren't just numbers—they're human stories demanding compassion, not division. That's why Kansas has stepped up over the past few years with pro-life, pro-birth, pro-foster family, and pro-adoption laws to truly support mothers, babies, and families:

•Criminalizing abortion coercion (2023), shielding women from pressure or manipulation to end their pregnancies.

•Extending Medicaid postpartum coverage to 12 months (2022), ensuring vital health care for new moms.

•Enacting the Foster Care Bill of Rights (2023), codifying protections for foster children and families, including rights to safety, stability, family involvement, and better support access.

•Mandating fetal development education in schools (2025), empowering youth with science based knowledge.

•Acknowledging unborn children as tax dependents for family relief (2025), easing financial burdens from conception.

•Allowing child support from conception (2025), holding fathers accountable to cover pregnancy costs.

•Boosting funding for pregnancy centers, adoption assistance, and maternity homes (2025)—providing counseling, diapers, formula, job training, and more, from pregnancy through a child's first two years.

•Implementing SOUL Family Legal Permanency (2024), allowing foster

Case No. 25 CV 33

PURSUANT TO CHAPTER 60 AND 79 OF KANSAS STATUTES ANNOTATED

COMES NOW the plaintiff, by and through James R. Campbell, Anderson County

Counsel, and for its cause of action against the defendants alleges and states as follows:

1. Plaintiff is a body politic and corporate, and is a duly organized and existing county of the State of Kansas. A resolution, heretofore adopted by plaintiff pursuant to K.S.A. 79-2801, as amended, authorized the institution of this proceeding to foreclose tax liens against real property in Anderson County, Kansas, and attached as Exhibit "A". Said liens and real property are more specifically described in Exhibit "B", which is attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference.

2. All requirements of law pertaining to assessment, levy, taxation, publication and proof thereof, sale and purchase in the name of Anderson County, Kansas, as prescribed by K.S.A. 79-2301 et seq., and every other legal condition precedent to judicial foreclosure of said tax liens, have been performed and satisfied. The taxes have not been paid as required by law, and all the within described real estate is subject to foreclosure and sale for delinquent taxes.

3. The caption of this Petition is incorporated herein and made a part hereof by reference. The persons named as defendants therein are the owners or supposed owners, and persons having or claiming to have an interest in the lands described herein, so far as plaintiff is able to ascertain, but the exact nature of such ownership and interest is unknown to the plaintiff.

4. Plaintiff further alleges that it has diligently inquired as to the residences and whereabouts of the defendants herein and, except as set forth in Exhibit "B" attached hereto, is unable to state the residences and whereabouts of the defendants, and each of them, or whether any of them are dead, other than indicated thereon, and, if they or any of them be dead, plaintiff is unable to ascertain the names, residences, whereabouts and identity of the heirs, executors, administrators, devisees, trustees, conservators and assigns of such defendants other than as indicated on Exhibit "B". Upon diligent inquiry plaintiff is unable to ascertain whether the defendant corporations named herein are domestic or foreign corporations, nor their legal status, nor whether they continue to have legal existence and officers, nor the names and whereabouts of the successors, trustees or assigns, if any, of such corporations as may be dissolved. All of the defendants herein named, and those claiming under or through them, should be required to appear herein, so that all claims, estates, titles and interests may be determined by the decree of this Court and so that the tax lien therein to be foreclosed may be adjudged a good, valid and perfect first and prior lien upon each tract, lot or piece of real estate described herein, for the taxes, together with interest, charges, penalties and costs thereon.

5. Exhibit "B" is a schedule containing information pertinent to this proceeding and is attached hereto, incorporated herein and made a part hereof by reference. Each tract, lot and piece of real estate intended to be included in this foreclosure proceeding is described as a separate item upon Exhibit "B", and that each such tract described upon Exhibit "B" also carries a key number by which it is identified in the files of the Anderson County Treasurer, Anderson County Appraiser and Anderson County Clerk.

6. Said lands described in Exhibit "B" are all in Anderson County, Kansas. All of the descriptions used in Exhibit "B" are intended to indicate with ordinary and reasonable certainty the real estate intended to be included in this foreclosure proceeding.

7. Each item described upon Exhibit "B" is also subject to charges occasioned by this foreclosure proceeding and to an equitable portion of the costs of this proceeding to be fixed and determined by the Court herein.

8. The plaintiff's lien is for unpaid taxes on the real estate in questions and is a first and prior lien to the liens and claims of all of the defendants herein, including the unknown members of the classes set forth in the caption hereof. Plaintiff is unable to allege in greater detail the nature of extent of the claims of any of the defendants, and is unable to allege which, if any, of the defendants may be dead, and which, if any of the corporate defendants may be dissolved, and in the event of such death or dissolution, the plaintiff is unable to allege the names of the heirs, executors, administrators, devisees, trustees, conservators and assigns, if any of the decedent or the successors, trustees, and assigns of any dissolved corporation or the whereabouts of any of said persons, except as alleged herein. Plaintiff respectfully requests that each defendant and those claiming under or through any of the defendants herein, be required to appear in this cause and to assert what interest, if any, they or any of them have or claim to have in and to that of the real estate described herein so that all claims, estates, interest and titles may be determined by the decrees of this Court and so that the plaintiff's tax lien herein may be foreclosed against each parcel listed on Exhibit "B" and adjudged to be a good, valid and perfect first and prior lien upon each parcel.

9. Plaintiff is entitled to a decree of this Court determining the amount of taxes, charges, interest and penalties chargeable to each particular tract, lot and piece of real estate in such amount as the Court shall determine, and to judgment for costs herein equitably apportioned against each tract, lot and piece of real estate and to judgment for charges herein, and for judgment determining the owner or parties having an interest herein, and to a decree adjudging the amount so found to be due to be a first and prior lien upon each item of real estate described in Exhibit "B" and for an order directing that each item of real estate described upon Exhibit "B" be sold at public sale for the satisfaction of each lien and for other necessary relief.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays that the Court determine the amount of taxes, charges, interest and penalties chargeable to each particular tract, lot or piece of real estate described herein; the name of the owner or party having an interest therein and that the Court adjudge and decree the amount due to be a first and prior lien upon the real estate; that each defendant be required to appear and establish their claim, estate, title or interest in said property; and that the same be sold at public sale for the satisfaction of the lien, costs, charges and expenses of the proceedings and sale and for other necessary relief.

New this year for kids

LGPR's Russell Dickey said this year introduces a new tradition designed to spark the next generation's passion for classic cars: the Gen Alpha "Mad Fire" Award — the first-ever Kids' Choice trophy at the Gateway Classic Cars of KC Car Show. It takes place Saturday, October 11th, 2-5 PM, in downtown Garnett, with voting solely by kids ages 14 and under. Dickey said ballots will be available and returned at a designated spot announced at the show.

"Young attendees will get the chance to meet car owners, hear their stories, and vote for their favorite car," Dickey said. "It's an interactive, educational way to let kids' voices be heard — and to encourage the love of cars for the next generation."

Free Saturday Night Outdoor Movie: Ford v. Ferrari

After the car show on Saturday, the Garnett Public Library will present a FREE outdoor showing of Ford v. Ferrari beginning at 7 p.m., with popcorn provided by the library. The bring-your-own-chair-or-blanket event recounts the story of Ken Miles, who won at Lake Garnett in 1963, and Carroll Shelby, who attended that same year's races with the Cobra sports car team and returned as Grand Marshal in 1968.

"The choice of film couldn't be more fitting," Dickey said. "It tells the story of Shelby and Miles' legendary pursuit of Le Mans racing supremacy, making it an unforgettable way to celebrate Lake Garnett's own connection to these motorsport icons.

spectators. With more driving sessions, thrilling exhibitions, a family-friendly car show, charity rides, and the Saturday night movie under the stars. Dickey said the LGGPR continues to be one of the most welcoming and accessible motorsport celebrations in the Midwest.

The Garnett lake road hosted some of the most popular races in the Midwest from 1959-1972. Safety concerns eventually silenced the engines and Lake Garnett became a "ghost track" until some 40-years later, when a small group of sports car enthusiasts from the region banded together to celebrate memories of the legendary road course and the extraordinary automobiles that once raced there.

In 2014, the first Lake Garnett Grand Prix Revival (LGGPR) was held, comprised of a controlled track event, auto-cross, car show, and rides for charity around the 2.8-mile road course. Since then, the LGGPR has become known as one of the most fan-friendly and reasonably priced events of its kind to attend, attracting more than 300 cars as well as thousands of participants and spectators. In addition, more than $90,000 in charitable donations has been for charitable organizations around the area.

Bulldogs win thriller at home over Burlington

GARNETT - The Anderson County Bulldogs edged out Burlington in a tightly contested game on Friday night winning 17-14 at home. The Bulldogs improved to 3-2 on the season with the victory, while the Wildcats dropped to 1-4.

The game remained scoreless through the first quarter as both teams' defenses set the tone early. Anderson County broke the deadlock in the second quarter when Christian Barnett broke free for a 42-yard touchdown run. Aleck Smith added the extra point to put the Bulldogs up 7-0. Burlington responded with a scoring drive of its own, capped by a 3-yard touchdown run from Alex Mautz. Tate Sowder's kick tied the game at 7-7. Before halftime, Anderson County regained the lead as Smith connected on a 27-yard field goal as time expired, sending the Bulldogs into the break with a 10-7 advantage.

The third quarter was a defensive battle, with neither team able to put points on the board. In the fourth quarter, Burlington took its first lead of the night with a 5-yard touchdown run by Shawn Mautz, and Sowder's extra point made it 14-10 in favor of the Wildcats.

Anderson County took over the ball in the waning minutes needing a touchdown to win. It looked like they scored a touchdown with about a minute remaining as they broke free for a 51 yard touchdown that would be called back due to a holding penalty. Quarterback Landon Schillig led a composed drive and found Christian Barnett for a 15-yard touchdown pass with just seconds remaining. Barnett's second score of the night. Smith's extra point gave the Bulldogs a 17-14 lead, which they held onto until the final whistle.

Barnett led the offense with 42 rushing yards and a touchdown on a single carry, along with five receptions for 52 yards and a receiving touchdown.

Landon Schillig had a steady performance at quarterback, completing 15 of 25 passes for 127 yards, one touchdown, and one interception. He spread the ball around to several receivers, including Zach Schaffer with three catches for 47 yards and Aidan Steele with three catches for 15 yards.

Defensively, Steele led all players with 17 tackles and added an interception and fumble recovery. Schaffer contributed with eight tackles, a sack, and two tackles for loss. O. Thompson also picked off a pass, helping Anderson County win the turnover battle.

Vikings dominate home cross country meet

RICHMOND - Hosting a home meet is no small task, but Central Heights made it look easy as they delivered standout performances at every level in front of a spirited home crowd last Thursday, October 2nd. While the October heat pushed temperatures near 90 degrees, it didn't slow down the Vikings, who used the home course advantage and fan energy to post season-best and personal-best times all day long.

The meet kicked off with a statement from Wyatt Moon, who dominated the 7th grade boys race and crossed the finish line in 12:27.52—winning by over 40 seconds. His commanding performance set the tone for the rest of the team, as Rodney Macy (14:37.48) and Jax McRoberts (24:09.55) rounded out the effort from the younger squad. Over in the 7th grade girls race, Emery Hughes ran an outstanding race, taking 2nd with a time of 14:25.49.

In the 8th grade girls division, although a timing issue prevented official results, the effort was unquestionable. Kamden Moon earned a 3rd-place medal, while Elizabeth Meyer, Mackenzie Macy, and Rilya Lickteig ran determined races and showed they were well-prepared for the competition. The JV boys continued their strong season with a dominant team win, scoring just 25 points thanks to a clean 1-2-3 sweep. Aydan Dunbar took 1st with a time of 19:27.70, followed closely by Mathew Dunbar (19:51.18, SB) and Brooks Hamilton (19:54.98). The scoring was completed by Timothy Carmack-Roberts (7th, 20:27.88, PR), Gabriel Carmack-Roberts (13th, 21:08.08, PR), and Tristen McRoberts (18th, 21:44.62). Every JV runner notched either a season-best or personal-best, showing the program's impressive depth and development.

On the varsity girls side, Central Heights was without one of their top runners but still managed a 2nd place team finish, just 12 points shy of first place. Ebony Hughes led the way in 6th place with a season-best 21:04.83. She was closely followed by Mackenzie Moon in 8th (21:13.38) and Katelyn Burkdoll in 13th (21:58.87). Arabella Dunbar (23:34.98) and Caitlynn Detwiler (25:25.91, SB) rounded out the scoring, showing grit and determination against top-tier competition.

The varsity boys also secured a 2nd place team finish, only 12 points behind a very strong Chanute squad ranked #2 in 4A. Former Ottawa University runner Brett Rinehardt has that Chanute team rolling, but Central Heights was right on their heels. Josiah Meyer ran a phenomenal race to place 3rd in 16:42.81, followed by Stetson Miller in 4th (16:45.85). Ben Wuertz earned 10th (17:49.18), with Cash Miller (18:15.39), Aidan Howland (18:20.77), Caleb Detwiler (18:39.80), and Knox Cannady (18:57.44) all contributing strong times. A few small positional shifts could've changed the final score, a testament to just how competitive and deep this boys team is.

Head Coach Troy Prosser was extremely pleased of his team, coaching staff and everyone that helped make the meet a success, "I can't begin to say how proud I am of the discipline and determination our kids showed. The parents and workers who helped with the meet also deserve a shout out and big time credit as well as a fantastic job by Rusty (Cannady) as a huge value on the CH coaching staff," Prosser stated.

Top Dog of the Week!

National Farmers Day

Forget the corporate middle-men and the high-tech jargon and the unending red tape and bureaucracy – in the Midwest we know it's the American Farmer who puts dinner on the table.

One U.S. farm feeds 166 people annually in the U.S. and abroad. The global population is expected to increase by 2.2 billion by 2050.

Thank you for the generations of hard work and stewardship of the land that feeds both our nation and those beyond our shores.
